sold in execution of a decree obtained on the mortgage and a part of it was purchased by the mortgagee and the rest by a stranger who later on sold it to the mortgagee. The mortgagee purchaser was no party to the suit of the 4th zemindar of A who had purchased only the equity of redemption at the sale in execution of his rent decree. Held that the decision in that suit was not res judicata against the mortgagee purchaser who was entitled to show that he held certain portions of the land purchased by him under permanent leases granted to the mortgagor by the proprietors of B on certain terms. That as regards such lands the 4th zemindar title being found to be in the proprietors A res judicata in the present suit in which both the proprietors of B and the mortgagee purchaser are parties the mortgagee purchaser is entitled to hold them under the 4th proprietor of A as to that share on the terms of the permanent leases granted by the proprietors of B. SHRI CHANDRA RAY & HARENDRA LAL RAY (1918)

22 C W N 721

31.—Finding on unnecessary issue.—On the Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11—Finding recorded on an issue which is not necessary in the first suit—Finding does not become res judicata—Finally decided meaning of. In 1903 the plaintiff sued the defendant to recover possession of land and arrears of assessment at an enhanced rate alleging that the defendant was a tenant at will and not a permanent tenant. The Court held in that suit that the defendant was a yearly tenant and though it decreed the claim to recover arrears of assessment at the enhanced rate it dismissed the claim to recover possession on the ground that no notice to quit had not been given by the plaintiff. Ten years later the plaintiff gave to the defendant a legal notice to quit and brought a second suit to recover possession of the land alleging that the defendant was a tenant at will and that he was prevented from continuing otherwise by res judicata. Held by HEARON J that though the issue as to the nature of the tenancy was undoubtedly directly and substantially in issue it could not be said that it was finally decided in the earlier case. Held by FRANK J that the dismissal of the claim for possession prevented the finding that the defendant was not a permanent tenant from operating as res judicata and that the issue as to the character of the tenancy was a matter collateral to the liability to pay enhanced assessment. DAUDHAI ALLIBHAI & DARA RAMA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 563

32.—Adoption suit.—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11—Suit by Hindu widow to set aside adoption made by her as invalid—Suit dismissed on the ground of estoppel and also on the merits—Fresh suit by reversionary heir to declare adoption invalid if maintainable—Hindu widow how far presents estate. A suit by a Hindu widow to set aside an alleged adoption by her of the defendant as the son of her deceased husband was dismissed by the Courts in India on the ground that the plaintiff was by her conduct estopped from denying that the defendant was validly adopted but on appeal to the Privy Council the Judicial Committee did not confine its decision to the question of estoppel only but held as a fact that the plaintiff had authority to adopt the defendant and he was validly adopted.

RES JUDICATA—contd

On the death of the widow an alleged reversionary heir sued the defendant in the previous suit for recovery of the estate on the allegation that the widow had no authority to adopt. Held that the decision in the previous suit was a bar to the maintainability of this suit. That in that suit, the widow notwithstanding the personal estoppel under which she laboured represented the estate on the question of fact as to whether the defendant had or had not been adopted. Where the estate of a deceased Hindu has vested in a female heir a decree fairly and properly obtained against her in regard to the estate is in the absence of fraud or collusion binding on the reversionary heir and a Hindu widow otherwise qualified to represent an estate in litigation does not cease to be so qualified merely owing to personal disability or disadvantage as a litigant although the merits are tried and the trial is fair and honest. RISAL SINGH & BALWANT SINGH (1918)

23 C W N 399

33.—Decision.—Administration suit—Validity of gift—Decision in same suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11 S 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not exhaustive of the circumstances in which an issue is res judicata. A testator by his will and codicils provided that certain annuities should be paid out of a trust fund thereby created and that the residue of the income of the fund should be paid to the deacons of a Baptist church subject to certain conditions with a gift over to another Baptist church if the conditions were not fulfilled. In an administration suit in the High Court during the life of the last surviving annuitant it was held that the conditions had not been fulfilled and that there was not an intestacy as to the surplus income rejecting a contention on behalf of the next of kin that the gift over was invalid as creating a perpetuity. The decree provided for the determination of the destination of the income or corpus of the fund upon the death of the annuitant. It should be deferred until after that event. In further proceedings in the suit after the annuitant's death the next of kin contended that under the reservation in the decree they were entitled again to raise the contention that the gift over was invalid. Held that the validity of the gift over was res judicata. Fam. Appeal & Appeal v. Pappaswami I L R 43 C 33 L P 111 A 37 and Peart v. Merriott 23 Ch D 189 followed. Judgment of the High Court reversed. HOOD & ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL (1911)

I L R 43 Cal 400

25 C W N 915

34.—Rent suit.—Question of title in the civilly raised if res judicata. In a suit by the Plaintiff to recover lands appertaining to a zamindar belonging to his predecessors the defence was that the latter had abandoned the jete. In a previous suit by the Plaintiff against the Defendant for rent on the basis of a kabuliyat the Defendant had averred that the kabuliyat had been obtained by misrepresentation and set up a tenancy under a third party. It had been found in that suit by the first Court that the kabuliyat was not genuine but in the Appellate Court the dismissal of the suit by the first Court was upheld on the finding that the Plaintiff had abandoned the jete. Held—That the decision was not res judicata in the present suit. GOHER SRIKANT & ALBERT SRIKANT 24 W N 717

RES JUDICATA—contd.

35. — Family Custom, Effect of decision as to—Portion of descendants of non-contenting branches of the family Where it is necessary to establish a custom in a family and where pains have been taken to bring upon the record every branch of the family and where that custom has been the subject of content and thoroughly threshed out in the presence of all branches of the family the matter cannot be a sua raised by the descendants of the branches even though certain branches did not take an active part in the content but contented themselves with admitting that the custom existed. MOWAR SHEWBAK SINGH v. MOWAR THAKUR DAVAL SINGH 1 Pat. L. J. 221

36. — Decision incidental to main issue—Halter operate as a judgment—Examining a plea of plea and judgment to a certain what was decided and a substantially in issue In a previous suit by the plaintiff for delivery of a taluk and it was alleged that the rent was Rs. 49 per annum. The court, finding that the rent was less than Rs. 49 per annum, dismissed the suit and in order to decide what was the defendants were entitled to record a finding that the real rent was Rs. 40 per annum. In the present suit the plaintiff sued for rent at the rate of Rs. 40 per annum. Held that the question of the rent payable by the defendants was res judicata. The decision that the rent was Rs. 30 per annum being recorded in reliance for the purpose of arriving at a correct conclusion regarding the cost was only incidental and recorded for a purpose collateral to the main issue. In order to ascertain what matter directly and substantially in issue in the previous suit was heard and finally decided, the pleadings and judgment in that suit may be examined. MITTLE LODDAR v. JADAB CHANDRA CHATTOPADHYAY 2 Pat. L. J. 156

37. — Mortgage suit property wrong ly described—Decree is binding on suit for sale of property actually covered by decree Where the execution of a decree on a mortgage bond failed on the ground that in the plaint in the suit the property was described as being situated in Mouzah L whereas in fact it was situated in Mouzah M. Held that a subsequent suit on the mortgage bond was not barred by the rule of res judicata. Non suit does not operate as res judicata. JAYARDELLAR SARAH MISSE v. AMBICA PRASAD SINGH 2 Pat. L. J. 313

38. — Failure to produce evidence in first suit—Withdrawal will use to bring fresh suit effect If a suit is dismissed on the ground that as constituted it could not succeed the dismissal is not res judicata however erroneous may be the idea that the frame of the suit barred a decision. If however it is dismissed for want of evidence the decision is final. Where the plaintiff's suit was dismissed by the first Court and the plaintiff appealed and applied to the appellate Court for leave to withdraw the appeal on the ground that he had not been able to adduce evidence necessary for the substantiation of his case. Held that the order of the appellate Court granting leave to withdraw amounted to a decision that the evidence on the record was not sufficient to support the plaintiff's case and therefore a subsequent suit between the same parties in which the same matters were substantially in issue was barred by the rule of res judicata. SATTABAD GOLIA v. BEDIADHAP BAN IANPA 3 Pat. L. J. 404

RES JUDICATA—contd.

9. — First suit decreed in the Second Class Subordinate Judge's Court—Subsequent suit in Court of the First Class Subordinate Judge—Held that a suit involving both suits—No bar of res judicata—Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O II = 2—Minor plaintiff not to be prejudiced by misale of his guardian The plaintiff's guardian filed a suit in the Second Class Subordinate Judge's Court to recover possession of property alleging that the plaintiff was the adopted son of one Nathu. The plaintiff's adoption was upheld and suit decreed. The plaintiff subsequently filed a second suit in the First Class Subordinate Judge's Court for the recovery of another portion of family property. The defendant pleaded that the plaintiff was not the adopted son and that the suit was barred by O II = 2 Civil Procedure Code. On plaintiff's behalf it was contended that the defendants were barred by res judicata from disputing plaintiff's adoption. Held that the decree in plaintiff's favour in the previous suit could not be pleaded as res judicata in the subsequent suit as the judge by whom it was made had no jurisdiction to try and decide the subsequent suit in which the issue as to adoption was subsequently raised. Held also that the suit was not barred under O II = 2 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 as the plaintiff was a minor when the first suit was brought and could not be prejudiced by a mistake made by his guardian as his right to sue in his own name came into effect on his attaining majority. Gulab Mander v. Judmanand Singh (1902) 1 I 99 I A 200 referred to YANKAT v. UNKAR NATHU (19 0) 1 L R 45 Bom 805

40. — Where both parties appealed from decree of first Court and Appellate Court disposed of both appeals by one judgment accepting plaintiff's appeal and rejecting that of defendant separate decrees being given—and defendant in his second appeal did not file a copy of the decree passed on his appeal—Civil Procedure Code Act I of 1908 O 42 = 1—Circumstances in which consent as to interest—Whether oral evidence of agreement to pay interest is admissible—Indian Evidence Act I of 1872 s 90 proviso (2) Plaintiff respondent sued for recovery of Rs. 8.5 principal and Rs. 412 8 0 interest on a bahi entry which made no mention of interest. First Court decreed Rs. 325 and interest at Rs. 2 per cent per mensem making a total of Rs. 448 8 0. Both parties appealed and the Lower Appellate Court wrote a judgment in defendant's appeal covering both appeals and accepted plaintiff's appeal allowing Rs. 895 the amount given in the entry and Rs. 264 as interest total 1089 and dismissed defendant's appeal. A short judgment was also written in the plaintiff's appeal referring to the other and separate decrees were given in the two appeals. Defendant then preferred a second appeal to this Court attaching thereto copies of the two judgments and of the decree in plaintiff's appeal but not of the decree passed in his own appeal. Held that as there was no valid appeal before this Court in respect of the decree of the Lower Appellate Court on defendant's appeal the decision relating to the sum of Rs. 448 8 0 was final and the present appeal in respect of this item was barred as res

RES JUDICATA—contd

judicata C v C and B (22 F R 1903) referred to, Jugal Kishore v Chammo (85 F R 1903 F B) distinguished Held also that, having regard to the concluding words of proviso (2) of s 92 of the Evidence Act oral evidence of an agreement to pay interest on the amount shown due in the entry was admissible such entries in balis not being of a formal character Kishore Chand v Guran Ditta Mal (52 F R 1911) distinguished Bura v Maisha Shah (104 F R 1901) and Paghu Mal v Bandu (110 F R 1903) referred to BHAN SINGH v GOKAL CHAND

I L R 1 Lah 83

41 ——— Decision in previous suit whether "res judicata" as between the defendants—necessary essentials—Estoppel—Admission by defendant in a previous suit which did nothing to influence plaintiff's beliefs or actions Held following Ram Chandra Narain v Narain Mahadev (I L R 11 Bom 216) that where an adjudication between the defendants is necessary to give the appropriate relief to the plaintiff the adjudication will be res judicata between the defendants as well as between the plaintiffs and defendants But for this effect to arise there must be a conflict of interests between the defendants and a judgment defining the real rights and obligations of the defendants inter se Without necessity a judgment will not be res judicata amongst defendants nor will it be res judicata amongst them by mere inference from the fact that they have been collectively defeated in resisting a claim to a share made against them as a group Broja Behari v Kedar Nath (I L R 12 Calc 530 F B) and Balambhat v Narayanbhat (I L R 25 Bom 74) approved Held further that as the plaintiff was fully cognizant of his own rights and position the admission of the defendant made in a previous suit between the parties who did nothing to influence either plaintiff's beliefs or actions could not operate as an estoppel in the present suit MPHRA v DEVI DITTA MAL

I L R 1 Lah 88

42 ——— Ex parte decree—Application for rehearing on ground of non service of summons—Application dismissed—Suit to contest decree on the same ground whether maintainable—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O IX r 13 Although a decree can be set aside on ground of fraud yet if question has already been agitated between the same parties and decided by a Court of competent jurisdiction the matter is res judicata JANGAL CHAUDHRY v LALGIT PASTAN

6 Pat L J 1

43 ——— Withdrawal from Suit—Where a defendant has entered appearance and filed a written statement and then withdrawn from the suit he is not entitled to institute a suit to set aside the ex parte decree obtained against him in these circumstances merely on the ground that the plaintiff in a joint suit procured his decree by means of perjured evidence RAM NARAIN LAL SHAW v TOOKI SAO

5 Pat L J 259

44 ——— Suit by public—If barred by the decision in a previous suit between a Manager appointed under the Religious Endowments Act and some claimants as Mohants A Manager was appointed under s 11 of the Religious Endowments Act of 1863 in respect of a temple and thereupon a person claiming to be a Mohant or Dundee of the temple instituted a suit for establishment of his title There were three Defendants in the suit viz the said Manager his successor in office and another rival claimant to the office of Dundee The suit was decreed During the pendency of the suit the public brought the present suit under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code but the District Judge dismissed the suit on the ground that the trial of the question raised in the present suit was barred by the result of the decision in the previous suit which was pending at the date of the institution of the present suit Held—That the decree in the earlier suit though operative against the Manager appointed under s 11 of the Religious Endowments Act as also against the rival claimants could not possibly operate to defeat a suit by members of the public instituted under s 9 C P C s 92 contemplates the administration of a trust created for public purposes Such administration may include the removal of an existing trustee the appointment of a new trustee or both In such a suit it may be held that the endowment was not of such a nature as to attract the operation of the provisions of the Religious Endowments Act 1863 and that the appointment of the Manager under s 5 of the Act was without jurisdiction and so forth SAHAYAM CHAKRABARTY v KHA GENDRANANDA

RES JUDICATA—contd

28 B W N 504

45 ——— Land Acquisition Act—(I of 1894)—Decision under it may be reopened in regular suit—Res judicata general principle of not limited by Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) s 64—Award if includes decision on disputed question as to disposition of compensation money—Gift by Hindu to wife whether limited or absolute—Principle of construction Under a deed of settlement executed by one P one half of certain properties was given to his adopted son and the remaining half was given to his two wives who were to take the same half and half One of these properties having been acquired by Government a question arose in a proceeding under s 32 of Act I of 1894 between the adopted son and one of the wives as to whether the latter was absolutely entitled to her share of the compensation money or whether the same was to be retained by her having no right to alienate her interest in the property under the deed of settlement The High Court when the matter came up before it held that by the deed of settlement the wife was intended to have a widow's estate only in the property devised Subsequently the wife having bequeathed her properties to Respondent by Will, the representatives of the adopted son instituted a suit against the claimants under the Will alleging that she had a limited estate under the deed of settlement and had no power to dispose of the properties by Will Held—That it was not open to the Courts in this suit to review the decision of the High Court In the proceeding under s 32 of Act I of 1894 that the lady had only a limited estate in the property without power of alienation It is not competent for the Court in the case of the same question arising between the parties to review a previous decision no longer open to appeal This principle is of general application and is not limited by the specific words of s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code so that the fact that the decision in question was not claimed in a former suit did not make any difference. The importance of a judicial decision is not to be measured by the pecuniary value of the particular item in dispute and the Defendants in the suit could not be heard to say that in view of the comparatively small value of the property involved in the proceeding under s. 32 of Act I of 1893 it was not thought worth the while to appeal from the decision of the High Court in that proceeding. The award as constituted by the Land Acquisition Act is nothing but an award which states the area of the land the compensation to be allowed and the apportionment amongst persons whose interests are not in dispute. A dispute between interested people as to the extent of their interest forms no part of the award. The determination of such a dispute in the High Court was a decree and appealable as such to the Privy Council. It is not accurate to say that under the Hindu law in the case of a gift of immovable property to a Hindu widow she has no power to alienate unless such power has been given. T B PALACHANDRA PAO v B S PANCHANDRA PAO 20 E W N 715

RES JUDICATA—contd

RESPONDENT

— d at of—

See APPEAL, PARTIES TO AN
I L R 39 Mad. 386

RESTITUTION

See ASSIGNOR OF A MONEY DECREE.
I L R 38 Mad. 36

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188 s. 493
I L R 38 All 163
I L R 32 All 79

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s. 47 AND 144 I L R 44 Bom 702
s. 144

— claim for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1909) s. 144 I L R 43 Bom 492

Application for restitution of property—subsequent application for mesne profits res judicata—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) ss. 141 and 144 and O II r 2—(Act XIX of 1881) s. 58.—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s. 1 Art 181. Where a decree obtained against the defendants was reversed on appeal and they applied for and obtained restitution of the property from the plaintiff held that a subsequent application for mesne profits in respect of the property for the period during which the plaintiffs were in possession was maintainable and that the period of three years provided by Art. 181 of Sch I to the Limitation Act 1908 began to run from the date of the appellate Court's judgment. A proceeding in which relief by way of restitution is claimed is neither a suit nor an execution proceeding but a miscellaneous proceeding to which the rules applicable to execution proceedings in substance apply. The provisions of O II r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code do not apply to such a proceeding. Article 181 of Schedule I to the Limitation Act 1908 does not control the period during which mesne profits shall be allowed to accumulate and whatever the number of years during which the decree holders have been in possession the defendant is entitled to be compensated in respect of the whole of that period provided he applies within three years from the date on which the right to the relief accrued. KRUPASINDHU RAY v MAHANTA BALBHADRA DAS 3 Pat L J 367

RESTITUTION—contd

RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s. 11 I L R 37 Bom 563

O XXXIX r 1 I L R 42 All 134

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870) Sch

II Art 17 (vi) I L R 33 All 767

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) ss. 2 & 4

4 I L R 38 Bom 125

See HUSBAND AND WIFE

I L R 37 Bom 393

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1909) s. 20

I L R 34 All 412

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 35 Bom 386

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—RESTITUTION OF

CONJUGAL RIGHTS

See MARRIAGE I L R 33 All 80

— decree for should not be executed by detention of wife in prison—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI
r 33 I L R 44 Bom 972

— suit for effect of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE
I L R 46 Cal 141

Jurisdiction—valuation of claim—Jurisdiction of Second Class Subordinate Judge to entertain the suit—Bombay Civil Courts Act (XVI of 1869) s. 24—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1857) s. 11. A suit for restitution of conjugal rights wherein the claim was valued by the plaintiff at Rs. 65 was instituted in the Court of the Second Class Subordinate Judge. The First Court decreed the claim and on appeal the decree was confirmed. On second appeal it was contended that the First Court had no jurisdiction to try the suit. Held that the valuation of the claim by the plaintiff must be accepted for the purpose of jurisdiction unless it was shown to have been made either from any improper motive or deliberately for the purpose of giving the Court a jurisdiction which in fact it had not. Jan Mohamed Mandel v Mashar Effendi I L R 34 Cal 22 followed. JATODA v CHHOTU (1909) I L R 34 Bom 236 — Decree against wife—Information against wife's parents—Costs. Plaintiff filed a suit against his wife and her parents to obtain a decree for restitution of conjugal rights against his wife and a personal injunction restraining the parents from obstructing his wife from living with him and from allowing her to live in their house. The lower appellate Court gave the Plaintiff a decree for restitution of conjugal rights and granted an injunction against the parents. On appeal—Held that the order granting the injunction was wrong. Jamunobai v Narayan

RESTITUTION—contd

Moreswar Pendse 1876 1 Bom 165 distinguished Bai JAMANA v DAYALJI MAKANJI (1919)
 I L R 44 Bom 454

RESTORATION OF APPEAL

See APPEAL 6 Pat L J 625

RESTORATION OF SUIT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 O IX
 NR 8 AND 9 S 131

I L R 34 All 426

See SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 950

Decree set aside for fraud—Order of Court of concurrent jurisdiction of effective to restore suit Where a decree obtained in a Court of equal jurisdiction was set aside by another Court which went on to add that the result of the decree being declared fraudulent would be that the original suit would be restored Held that this order of a Court of equal jurisdiction could not operate as a direction to the first Court to restore the suit and that in refusing to restore the suit the Court had committed no error KHETRA MOHAN BARIK v MANGOBINHA PAL (1910)

14 C W N 558

Order dismissing application for restoration—appeal No appeal lies from an order dismissing an application for restoration of a suit JAGDISH NARAIN PRISAD SINGH v HARDANS NARAIN SINGH

2 Pat L J 720

RESTRAINT ON PROCEEDINGS

See INJUNCTION I L F 38 Calc 405

RESTRAINT OF TRADE

See CONTRACT

I L R 48 Calc 1030

See CONTRACT ACT s 27

RESTRAINT ON ALIENATION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s 10

RESTRAINT UPON DRUNKEN AND DISORDERLY PERSON—

See PENAL CODE s 341

I L R 44 Mad 913

RESTRICTION OF HABITUAL OFFENDERS (PUNJAB) ACT 1918—

s 3 and 7—Order of restriction following an order of acquittal for good behaviour—where her legal Held that a restriction order under s 7 of the Restriction of Habitual Offenders (Punjab) Act following an order for security for good behaviour is ultra vires under the provisions of the section and must be set aside HARIN BAKULH v CROW

I L R 1 Lah 100

ss 8 12 and 13—Whether an order of restriction for a period exceeding one year passed by a Magistrate requires confirmation by the Sessions Judge—Criminal Procedure Code Act I of 1898 s 103 Held that an order of restriction for a period exceeding one year passed by a Magistrate under the provisions of the Restriction of Habitual Offenders (Punjab) Act does not require confirmation by the Sessions Judge CROW v SURELA

I L R 1 Lah 614

RESULTING TRUST

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) s 10
 I L R 35 Bom 49

See SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN OF TRUSTS I L R 40 Bom 341

Purchase by husband of land in Pangoon and conveyed to wife—Erection of land of dwelling houses—Suit by husband against wife as a mere benamidar—Parties born of English parents but with permanent residence in India—Law applicable to such a suit—English Law with rebuttable presumption of advancement in wife—Onus of proof The parties in this case were husband and wife born in India of English parents and who had resided in India all their lives except for a visit to England occasionally The appellant had bought land with money of his own or borrowed and had procured it to be conveyed to the respondent by two deeds and had at his own expense erected thereon two dwelling houses In a suit brought by the appellant against his wife for a declaration that the houses were held by her as his benamidar and that he was the true owner of them and for an order that she should convey them to him the respondent while admitting that the sites of the houses had been so purchased and conveyed to her and that the houses had been built upon them as stated alleged that the sites were conveyed and the houses built on them for her as an advancement and that she was consequently entitled to a beneficial interest in them as her own property Held that the principles and rules of law which would be applicable to the case if it were tried in a Chancery Court in England were applicable to it when tried in Pangoon There would be a presumption of an intended advancement which might be rebutted but that the onus of rebutting it rested in the appellant Gopalrao v Gopalrao v Gungapersaud Gopalrao 6 Moo I A 53 and Usher Ali v Ulfat Fahma 13 Moo I A 3 distinction gashed To rebut such a presumption it was not sufficient for the appellant merely to state that he did not intend to confer any beneficial interest on the respondent but he must establish with reasonable clearness that he had other and different motives for the action he took Devoy v Devoy 3 Am & G 403 per 1 C Sir Fane Wood applied in principle Held further that on the evidence the onus had been discharged by the appellant and he was entitled to succeed KERWICK v KERWICK (1920) I L R 40 Calc 960

PRESUMPTION

See ASSESSMENT I L R 43 Calc 913

See CANTONMENT PROPERTY

I L R 38 Bom 1

See CHAUKHATI CHAKFAN LANDS

I L R 42 Calc 710

I L R 45 Calc 685

I L R 37 Calc 51

I L R 44 Calc 841

I L R 45 Calc 765

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1880 s 44
 I L R 35 Bom 382

See FORFEITURE I L R 38 Bom 539

See CRIMINAL I L R 38 Bom 433

I L R 39 Bom 89

RESUMPTION—contd

See JAGIR I L R 39 Calc. 1
I L R 46 Calc. 683

See KAM

See MAPPAH REGULATION (XXX OF 1800)
s 4 I L R 38 M. d. 620

See RESUMPTION BY GOVERNMENT

See RESUMPTION OF SARANJAM

See SHERMAN LANDS

I L R 31 Bom 560

See SHERMAN I L R 31 Bom 403

— distinguished for enfranchisement—

See CHAPITABLE LANDS
I L R 40 Mad. 939

— of grant—

See GRANT OF LAND
I L R 43 Bom 37

— of muaf—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 108 I L R 39 All 689

— of Pargana Inam land—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 102
I L R 45 Bom 884

— of Saranjam—

See SARANJAM I L R 41 Bom. 408

Presumption for public purpose by Government of land granted by East India Company—Scheme to erect dwelling houses at adequate rent for the accommodation of Government Officers in Bombay—Construction of a lease and sanad—Exemption from public purpose as to exemption from public purpose—Notice of resumption addressed to one party and served on another—Held: In these cases the Judicial Committee held affirming the decisions of the Courts in India) that the providing of housing accommodation for Government Officials by the erection of dwelling houses for their private residences at adequate rents was a public purpose within the meaning of a lease of land from the East India Company given in 1801 and a Sanad or Government Permit of land granted in 1803 by the same Company which made such lands (situate on Malabar Hill Bombay) liable to resumption for public purposes upon certain terms as to notice and compensation. The scheme was one which their Lordships agreed with the Courts below would under the circumstances in evidence redound to public benefit by helping the Government to maintain the efficiency of its servants. Held also (agreeing with the Courts below) that the English decisions which construed the words "public purposes" as used in the Statute 43 Eliz c 2 with reference to exemptions from rating afforded no help as to the proper construction to be put on the words in the contracts in suit. The definition of a public purpose that the phrase whatever else it may mean must include a purpose that it is an object or aim in which the general interest of the community as opposed to the particular interest of individuals is directly and vitally concerned approved by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee. A notice which though addressed to one of the defendants (a testator who was dead) was served on one of his executors and trustees also a defendant and accepted and acknowledged by his solicitors who corresponded on the basis of it with the Government as to the resumption was held to be a valid notice the irregularity having been thereby waived. HABIBI FRANKIE v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914) I L R 39 Bom 279

RESUMPTION—contd

*Land held under Sanad from Government—Valuation of land to be determined by a committee appointed by Government—Construction of the word a committee—Valuation fixed by the majority binding on parties to the Sanad—Relation between public purposes and public purpose—Land was held by the plaintiffs under a Sanad from Government which provided the said ground to be at any time resumable by Government for public purposes six months notice being previously given and a just valuation of all buildings or improvements thereon being paid the owner the amount of which a committee appointed by Government in such a case to determine. The land being resumed with due notice given under the above clause the Government appointed a committee of three persons to value the compensation to be paid to the plaintiffs. Two members of the committee valued the land at Rs 10383 the third valuing it at Rs 19744. The Government accepted the report of the majority as the determination by the committee under the terms of the Sanad and the possession of the land after payment of Rs 10383 to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs filed the present suit to recover compensation at the higher valuation or any sum in excess of Rs 10383 which the Court might think just and proper. Held dismissing the suit (i) that it was the understanding and will in the contemplation of all the parties to the Sanad that the determination of the just value of the land to be made by a committee appointed by Government should be accepted if that determination represented the concurrent opinion of a majority of the committee (ii) that the valuation agreed upon by the majority of the committee appointed by Government was the valuation expressed to be determined and so made binding upon the parties to the resumption term in the Sanad. *MATHEWADY ADAM v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

I L R 39 Bom 688

RETAINER

See BAR COUNCIL v OFFICERS OF
I L R 40 Calc 598

RETRACTION OF STATEMENT BY WITNESS

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 37 Calc 618

RE TRIAL

See A C T OF EXAMINATION OF
I L R 40 Calc 163

See ACCUSED'S ACQUIT
I L R 41 Calc 1072

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) 33 1 "

I L R 39 Mad. 527

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) 11
81 I L R 6

See TRIAL BY JURY
I L R

RE-TRIAL—contd

Power of High Court to order after obtaining additional evidence—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act I of 1898) s 428—Government of India Act (5 and 6 Geo 6 c 61) s 107—It is the duty of Court to secure attendance of—Petitions filed by parties duty of Court to pass order on—The High Court has power to direct the Sessions Judge to rehear an appeal after obtaining additional evidence—It is the duty of the Court when processes have once been issued for the attendance of witnesses to exhaust all the powers allowed by law to enforce their attendance unless the party citing such witnesses can be shown to have been guilty of wilful obstruction and delay—Where the accused repeatedly requested that certain persons should be summoned as witnesses and the Court twice issued process without securing their attendance held that the fact that the accused had failed to deposit the travelling and diet expenses of the witnesses did not excuse the Court from its duty to secure their attendance as the accused had never been requested to deposit the sum necessary for the expenses—MAHOMED ZAMIRUDDIN v. KADU ENFERON 3 Pat L J 632

REUNION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILIES
I L R 41 All 361

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 37 Cal 703
I L R 35 Bom 293
I L R 35 All 41

REVENUE

attachment of arrears of—

*See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) ss 69
70 I L R 39 Mad 795*

covenant to pay—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 38 All 230

REVENUE COMMISSIONER

See COMMISSIONER POWER OF
I L R 40 Cal 552

REVENUE COURT

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 105 CLS (b) AND (c)
I L R 25 Bom 642
s 476 4 Pat L J 475

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT
See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) ss 169 ETC
I L R 39 Mad 239

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)
s 4 I L R 36 Mad 559

jurisdiction of—

See CERTIFICATE OF SALE
I L R 37 Cal 107
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905)
I L R 38 Mad 33
I L R 41 Mad 121

proceedings in—

See PARTITION I L R 46 Cal 236

REVENUE COURT—contd

sales by—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)
ART 12A I L R 45 Bom 43

REVENUE-FREE LAND

See UNITED PROV LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 32 (d)
I L R 31 All 931

REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876)

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876)

s 4 (a)—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM III OF 1874) s 11A
I L R 37 Bom 37

See SARANJAM I L R 41 Bom 403

ss. 4 (c) 5 and 6—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bom Act I of 1879) s 140—Finality of land revenue—Attachment of goods of Mamladar—Suit against Mamladar for recovery of damages—No denial of the allegation that the goods belonged to plaintiff—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Delegation of the powers by the Collector for his own district S 4 (c) of the Revenue Jurisdiction Act Bombay (X of 1876) is not a bar to a suit in which there is a claim arising out of the alleged illegality of the proceedings taken for the realization of land revenue—Where the legality of the proceedings initiated by a revenue officer is in question the Court has to inquire under s 6 of the Act whether the act complained of was done bona fide by the officer in pursuance of the provisions of any law—The Mamladar in order to justify his acts under s 140 of the Land Revenue Code (Bom Act I of 1879) must show that the Collector of the District in which he is the Mamladar had delegated his powers—The Mamladar can only exercise delegated powers in the taluka in which the delegation occurred—The delegation by the Collector of any other District would not justify his act.—GANGARAM HATIRAM v. DYERKAR GANESH (1913)
I L R 37 Bom 542

s. 4 sub-s (a)—Act VI of 1859—Land held as Saranjam—Decision of the Inam Commissioner—Finality—Suit for declaration of title and possession—Exclusion of jurisdiction of Civil Courts—In the year 1858 the Inam Commissioner decided that a certain estate was Saranjam of P and not his Sary Inam. On P's death in 1909 the Government resumed the estate on the ground that it was Saranjam and re-granted it to one of P's grandsons. Subsequently the plaintiff another grandson of P brought a suit against the Secretary of State for India and F for declaration of title and possession on the ground that the immovable property in suit was plaintiff's Sary Inam property and could not be taken from his possession by Government or its officers or re-granted to any one else. Held (i) that the decision of the Inam Commissioner was by virtue of the provisions of Rule 1 of Sch A of Act VI of 1859 final as regards the land and interests concerned in the decision (ii) That after such final decision the title and continuance of the estate must be determined under Sch B Rule 10 of the Act under such rules as Government may find it necessary to issue from time to time (iii) That in accordance with these

REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876)

—could

— s 4, sub-1, — could rules the estate was on P's death reserved by Government who granted it to I. Held further that the suit having been against Government relating to land as Sanjayam was excluded from the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts by the provisions of sub s (a) of s 4 of the Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1876). PANRAY GOVINDRAO v SECRETARY OF STATE (1909) I L R. 34 Bom 232

— s 5, cl. (c) —

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX OF 1887) SCH II ART 17
I L R. 39 Bom 131

REVENUE OFFICER

See JURISDICTION I L R. 43 Calc. 136

REVENUE PAYING ESTATE.

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS
I L R. 45 Calc 705

REVENUE RECORDS

— entry in —

See MAHLADARS COURTS ACT (Bom II OF 1906) s 19 23
I L R. 35 Bom 487

— Entry in more than 12 years—whether sufficient for acquisition by adverse possession—

See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION
I L R. 1 Lah 549

REVENUE RECOVERY ACT (MAD II OF 1864)

See MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT

REVENUE REGISTER

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1909) SCH I ART 118 I L R. 37 Bom 513

REVENUE SALE

ACT

See BENGAL LAND REVENUE SALES

See CONTRACT ACT s 59
15 C W N 443

See REVENUE SALE LAW

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 65 (c) I L R. 39 Mad 959

— An incumbrance or under tenure is not ipso facto avoided by the sale of an estate for arrears of revenue and is only liable to be avoided at the option of the purchaser at such sale RAMRATAN KAPALI v ASWINI KUMAR DUTT

I L R. 37 Calc 559

— Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 6 33—Publication of notification sale in the Vernacular Government Gazette if necessary—Omission thereof is an irregularity and not illegality—Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act (Beng VII of 1868) s 8 Where the Subordinate Judge of Cuttack decided that it was absolutely necessary that the notification of a Revenue Sale should be published in the Vernacular Gazette in Urya and that its non publication had made the sale null

REVENUE SALE—could and void apart from any consideration as to its adequacy of price: Held that the publication of a notification of sale in the Calcutta Gazette only was sufficient compliance with a provision of Law (Act XI of 1859 s 3) requiring the publication of such notification in the "Official Gazette" Held further that even if it had been necessary to publish the notification in the Urya Gazette the omission to do so would not have rendered the sale null and void in the absence of any proof of substantial injury by reason of this omission as s 33 of Act XI of 1859 applied to such a case Coliad Lall Poy v Ramyaram Misser I L R. 31 Calc 10

I L R. 1 4 165 followed Lalit Mohan Lal v Secretary of State for India I L R. 11 Calc 200 referred to RADHA CHARAN DAS v SHARFUDDIN HOSSAIN (1913) I L R. 41 Calc 206

— Notification—

Calcutta Gazette—Calcutta Gazette—Government Vernacular Gazette—Bengal Land Revenue Sales Act (XI of 1859) s 33 The Official Gazette in which by s 6 of Act XI of 1859 a notification is to be published of the revenue sales therein referred to is the Calcutta Gazette. A sale is not contrary to the provisions of this Act within s 33 by reason of no notification having been published in a Government Vernacular Gazette circulating in the locality SHARFUDDIN HOSSAIN v RADHA CHARAN DAS (1913) I L R. 45 I A 205

— Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 37 and 4th exception to s 37—Scope of s 37—Benefit of the 4th exception in s 37 when can be claimed s 37 of Act XI of 1859 applies to sale of an entire estate for recovery of arrears due on account of an entire estate as well as to a sale for recovery of arrears due on account of a share only provided the entire estate is sold under the provisions of s 14 of the Act and that so long as it is the entire estate which is sold and the arrears are due on account of the estate itself and not on account of estates other than that which is sold s 37 applies. The benefit of the 4th exception to s 37 is limited only to such portions of land as are covered by buildings tanks etc and cannot be extended to cover those lands included in the lease on which no permanent works have been constructed Najemoddeen Moonsah v Syed Hassan Hyder Chowdhury 9 C W N 852 Wahid Ali v Pahat Ali 12 C W N 1029 Bisweshwar Ghatak v Fattah Hussain 10 C W N XXIVa and Mathura Nath Ghosal v Ratnagar Sen III O 917 referred to Kiron Chunder Poy v Namuddi Talukdar I L R. 30 Calc 498 not followed JOGENDEA NARAIN ROY CHOWDHURY v KIRAN CHANDRA ROY (1918) I L R. 46 Calc 730

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS
I L R. 45 Calc 765

— s 2, 3—

See s 20

s Pat L J 68

— Beng Act I II of 1868 s 30—Panchannagram tenure in if may be sold for arrears of revenue—Default date of fixed by state in or notification thereunder if may be varied by administrative Rules—Rent when becomes arrears and when default in payment takes place Tenures held under Government in Diku Panchannagram in the District of 24 Pargunnas are saleable

RE-TRIAL—contd

Power of High Court to order after obtaining additional evidence—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) s 403—Government of India Act (5 and 6 Geo c c 61) s 107—It is the duty of Court to secure attendance of—Petitions filed by parties duty of Court to pass order on—The High Court has power to direct the Sessions Judge to rehear an appeal after obtaining additional evidence It is the duty of the Court when processes have once been issued for the attendance of witnesses to exhaust all the powers allowed by law to enforce their attendance unless the party citing such witnesses can be shown to have been guilty of wilful obstruction and delay Where the accused repeatedly requested that certain persons should be summoned as witnesses and the Court twice issued process without securing their attendance held that the fact that the accused had failed to deposit the traveling and diet expenses of the witnesses did not excuse the Court from its duty to secure their attendance as the accused had never been requested to deposit the sum necessary for the expenses MAHOMED ZAMRUDDIN v KING EMFEROR 3 Pat L J 632

REUNION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 41 All 361

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 37 Cal 703
I L R 35 Bom 293
I L R 35 All 41

REVENUE

attachment of arrears of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 69
70 I L R 111 Mad 795

covenant to pay—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 33 All 230

REVENUE COMMISSIONER

See COMMISSIONER POWER OF
I L R 40 Cal 552

REVENUE COURT

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 103 CLS (b) AND (c)

I L R 38 Bom 642
s 476 4 Pat L J 475

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss. 169 ETC

I L R 30 Mad 239

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)

s 4 I L R 30 Mad 559

jurisdiction of—

See CERTIFICATE OF SALE

I L R 37 Cal 107

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908)

I L R 38 Mad 33

I L R 41 Mad 121

proceedings in—

See PARTITION I L R 46 Cal 236

REVENUE COURT—contd

sales by—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 180)
ART 12A I L R 45 Bom 43

REVENUE-FREE LAND

See UNITED PROV LAND REVENUE ACT
(III OF 1901) s 32 (d)
I L R 36 All 231

REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1866)

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
(V OF 1866)

s 4 (a)—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM III OF 1874) ss 11 11A
I L R 37 Bom 37

See SARANJAM
I L R 41 Bom 408

ss 4(c) 5 and 6—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1869) s 140—Fetters of land revenue—Attachment of goods by Mamlatdar—Suit against Mamlatdar for recovery of damages—No denial of the allegation that the goods belonged to plaintiff—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Delegation of the powers by the Collector for his own district ss 4 (c) of the Revenue Jurisdiction Act Bombay (V of 1876) is not a bar to a suit in which there is a claim arising out of the alleged illegality of the proceedings taken for the realization of land revenue Where the legality of the proceedings initiated by a revenue officer is in question the Court has to inquire under s 6 of the Act whether the act complained of was done bona fide by the officer in pursuance of the provisions of any law The Mamlatdar in order to justify his acts under s 140 of the Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) must show that the Collector of the District in which he is the Mamlatdar has delegated his powers The Mamlatdar can only exercise delegated powers in the taluka in which the delegation occurred The delegation would not justify his act of any other District would not justify his act GANGARAM HATIRAM v DINKAR GANESH (1913)
I L R 37 Bom 542

s 4, sub s. (a)—Act XI of 1859—Land held as Saranjam—Decision of the Inam Commissioner—Finality—Suit for declaration of title and possession—Exclusion of jurisdiction of Civil Courts In the year 1853 the Inam Commissioner decided that a certain estate was Saranjam of P and not his Sarv Inam On P's death in 1899 of P and not his Sarv Inam On P's death in 1899 Government resumed the estate on the ground that it was Saranjam and re-granted it to V one of P's grandsons Subsequently the plaintiff another grandson of P brought a suit against the Secretary of State for India and V for declaration of title and possession on the ground that the immovable property in suit was plaintiff's Sarv Inam property and could not be taken from his possession by Government or its officers or re-granted to any one else. Held (i) that the decision of the Inam Commissioner was by virtue of the provisions of Rule Sch A of Act XI of 1859 final as regards the land and interests concerned in the decision (ii) That after such final decision the title and continuance of the estate must be determined under Sch B Rule 10 of the Act under such rules as Government may find it necessary to issue from time to time (iii) That in accordance with these

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)—
contd

s 13, 54—contd

in the previous portion of that section. Where a separate account in respect of a share sold share owned by H in a revenue paying estate was entered in the Collector's books as for a share sold share and revenue proportionate to a share sold share was apportioned to it. Held that upon sale of the share under s 13 of Act XI of 1859 the purchaser acquired the share recorded in the Collector's books and not the share actually owned by H. Bal Kishan Das v. P. J. Chavan Ghosal 1 L J 22 Cal 611 Penalata Dass v. Mokmatta Nath Garwani 11 C N 515 in eda Prasad Glose v. Pyjendra Kumar Glose 1 L J 22 Cal 223 s e 6 C N 335 and Gangadhar Misser v. Akroor Mandul 14 B L R 107 held on. KUNESH CHANDRA PAKHIA v. ARDUL HAMID BIKDAR (1914) 19 C W N 782

s 14—Separate account—Separated share not in fact in arrears shown in Collector's books as in arrears—Consensual sale of whole estate if valid—Failure of co-sharers to buy share—Sale of whole estate after closing separate accounts—Up to what date accounts to be closed—Sale as for March list without arrears after estate falls into arrears for June list if valid—Maharaja Pagar extract from evidence Where owing to the revenue payable on account of a share of a revenue paying estate in respect of which a separate account had been opened, being erroneously recorded in the Collector's books as Rs 10116 when the correct amount was Rs 21111 less the share though not in fact in default was shown in those books to be in arrears at the end of the March list of 1904 (29th March 1904) to the extent of Rs 5435 and was put up for sale for that amount on 6th June 1904 but the bids not reaching that amount the Collector gave 15 days time i.e. up to 17th June 1904 to co-sharers to buy up the share by paying the arrears under s 14 of Act XI of 1859 but the latter not doing so the Collector closed the accounts of the whole estate up to 9th March 1904 and found the arrears for the whole estate on that date to be Rs 3 odd but by reason of payments made since 29th March 1904 there were in fact no arrears due for the March list on 17th June 1904 though an arrear of Rs 206 appeared to be due if the June list was included and the whole estate was put up for sale on the 19th September 1904 as for the arrears due up to 29th March 1904. Held (by the High Court) that as in point of fact the share in question was not in arrears on 29th March 1904 the proceeding for the sale of that share was void and consequently the sale of the entire mahal under s 14 was also void. That assuming that the Collector's books were correct the Collector was bound to close all the separate accounts on 17th June 1904 on which date he became entitled to sell the whole estate and as on that date there were no arrears due in respect of the March list a sale of the estate as for arrears due to the March list was ultra vires though the sale might legitimately have been held for the June list. Bal Kishan Das v. Simpson 1 L J 25 Cal 833 2 C N 613 followed. An attested copy of entries in Maharaja Pagar's kept under s 4 of Act VII of 1870 M C showing the revenue assessed on each of two mauzas comprising a revenue paying estate was admissible in evidence. The mere fact that the Revenue Officer's notice of the Government tender of purchase on one corner did not make it a document kept by that officer. The Judicial Committee saw no reason to interfere with the judgment of the High Court. Mitashankar Dixit v. Mahomed Ismael (1914) 19 C W N 764

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)—
contd

s 14—contd

s 14, 33—Sale of share not in fact in arrears but payable as a share in a revenue paying estate—Sale of share not in fact in arrears but payable as a share in a revenue paying estate in respect of which a separate account has been opened 1 year put up for sale the highest offer was not equal to the amount due thereon and the Collector stopped the sale and declared that the entire estate will be put up to sale for arrears unless the offer recorded sharer or sharers or one or more of them shall within 10 days purchase the share in arrears by paying to Government the whole arrear due from the share and more than one such recorded co-sharer separately make the necessary payment within the time specified the Collector must recognize as purchaser the depositor who first pays the whole amount or if there are more depositors than one to recognize as joint purchasers those whose payments first amount to the total arrears due. S 33 of Act XI of 1859 applies to sales under s 14 and when the first payer has been declared by the Collector to be the purchaser a co-sharer who has paid up the arrears subsequently cannot have the sale set aside by suit in the Civil Court except upon proof of the circumstances specified in s 33. Such a sale under s 14 cannot be attacked as a nullity and as such not requiring proof of the circumstances. Chootulbiy Dutt v. Ismael 1 L J 1 Cal 834 Gokindlal Day v. Jamaiam Misser 1 L J 1 Cal 840 followed. Quaere Whether the s 14 of Act XI of 1859 precludes sharers of the share exposed for sale from purchasing the defaulting share. HAMBHO HON. J. MARSHALL PERSHAD (1914) 18 C W N 1071

s 25—

See COMMISSIONER

I L R 40 Cal 552

s 25 2 and 3—Date from which revenue due becomes an arrear—Sale before such date illegal—Power of Commissioner to set aside sales not restricted in case of error of procedure. In a revenue paying estate in which there were three separate accounts and a residuary share one of the separate accounts and the residuary share were in arrears when the March list of 1915 became due to the extent of Rs 3100 and Rs 686 respectively while there was a total excess of Rs 710 in respect of the other two separate accounts. In April Rs 3100 was paid in respect of the separate account in arrears with the permission of the Collector and this account was exempted from sale in May. The residuary share was put up for sale in respect of the arrear of Rs 686 and sold. The Commissioner set aside the sale on the ground that Rs 3100 having been paid the excess payment in respect of the other two separate accounts was sufficient to cover the arrear due on the residuary share. The purchaser sued for a declaration that the residuary share was sold for its own arrear of revenue and that he had acquired a good title. Held (5) that after Rs 3 10 0 had been accepted in respect of the separate account in arrear there was no arrear due on the whole estate and the residuary share was no longer liable to be sold (11) that the default in payment did not become an arrear until the 1st April and the property was not liable to be sold until the date fixed by the Board of Revenue namely the 28th June 5 2a of the Revenue Sales Act 1859 does not restrict the Commissioner's power to set aside a sale to cases in which there has been an irregularity in procedure CHAKRAVARTY SINGH v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 5 Pat L J 66

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

—contd

— ss 25 2 and 3—contd

— ss 29 37—Sale of entire estate for arrears of pro facto annuls incumbrances—Sale voidable at purchaser's option—Option how may be exercised—Annulment by notice—Mesne profits claim for when arises—Compensation for use and occupation The sale of an entire estate for arrears of revenue does not pro facto avoid incumbrances and under tenures but only renders them voidable at the option of the purchaser The purchaser may elect to annul an under tenure not only by institution of a suit or by giving notice to vacate but may indicate it by other means The delivery of possession by the Collector under s 20 of Act X of 1859 does not convert under tenure holders into trespassers The persons whom in terms of that section the Collector may remove in delivering possession must refer to the former proprietors or persons claiming proprietary right through them and do not refer to under tenure holders Mir Waziruddin v Iala Deekinandan 6 C L J 472 referred to The purchaser is not entitled to mesne profits for the period antecedent to the exercise by him of his option of annulment He is only entitled to compensation for use and occupation on the basis of the rent payable by the tenure holder of the first decree Where the under tenure has been annulled by notice the purchaser is entitled to claim mesne profits from the date on which the notice was expressed to expire DURJAN SINGH v BHAWANI KOER (1913)

[17 C W N 984]

— s 31—

See ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 47 Cal 331

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 38 Cal 537

— ss 31 53—Estate left in arrear and purchased by proprietor benami at revenue sale—Incumbrancers if can demand satisfaction from both surplus sale proceeds and the mortgage property—Court's power on appeal to grant relief in favour of party who did not appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 107 151 and O XXI r 33—Settled by conduct in suit—Fraud punishment of During the pendency of a suit by B to enforce a mortgage upon a revenue paying estate the mortgagor deliberately let the property fall into arrear which being sold under Act XI of 1859 was purchased by the mortgagor in the benami of another A suit was then brought by K to enforce a prior mortgage over the property in which (not being presumably aware of the real character of the sale) he claimed a decree for payment of his dues out of the surplus sale proceeds Before this suit was decreed B (whom K had joined as a party in his

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

—contd

— ss 31 53—contd

suit) brought a suit in which he alleged the purchase at the sale for arrears of revenue to have been benami by the proprietor and claimed a decree either for setting aside the sale or for a declaration that his mortgage should remain valid and operative against the estate In view of this suit the Court, whilst decreeing K's suit as prayed further ordered that in the event of the sale being set aside the mortgage monies, interest and costs due to K should be realised by the sale of the mortgaged property B appealed against this decree and his appeal was heard in the High Court along with appeals against B preferred from decrees obtained by him in his suits by one of which his allegations as to the real character of the purchase at the revenue sale had been found proved whilst the other had given him the usual mortgage decree All three appeals were dismissed but at the instance of the mortgagor the High Court varied the decree in K's suit by setting aside the direction that his mortgage monies should be paid out of the surplus monies of the revenue sale Upon further appeals to the Privy Council the mortgagor urged inter alia that B was estopped by his conduct as defendant in K's suit from questioning the sale under Act XI of 1859 and B urged that K not having appealed to the High Court the decree of the lower Court could not be varied in the manner stated and also that K was in spite of what was found as to the real character of the sale entitled to be satisfied out of the proceeds of the sale so that in case K was entirely paid off out of the sale proceeds, B would have more abundant security in the mortgaged property to satisfy his decree Held that s 53 of Act XI of 1859 distinctly contemplates a purchase of property by a recorded proprietor and the only effect of the finding that so far as was benami by the proprietor was that the sale was of the incumbrances were concerned, the direction of the High Court in K's suit was in accordance with the law That the High Court had abundant power to give that direction notwithstanding that K did not appeal under ss 107 and 151 of the Civil Procedure Code and O XXI r 33 thereof the Court having had authority under the first mentioned provision if necessary to take additional evidence That B who had no power of controlling the form of K's suit and did not appear to have taken any step therein irrevocably asserting his intention to stop therein irrevocably asserting the whole proceedings was not estopped from claiming the relief which he prayed for in his suit to set aside the sale That if the sale had in fact been to the incumbrances would have been transferred to the sale proceeds since the purchaser would obtain a title free from incumbrances as not right to punish a man for fraudulent behaviour by making him suffer other penalties than those which are the direct consequence of his fraud TARINI CHARRAN SAKKAR v BI HUN CHAND (1917)

22 C W N 505

— s 33—

See s 14

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

18 C W N 1071

Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) ss 5 23 33—Exemption in respect of land revenue—Sale of property for arrears other than

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (IX OF 1859)

—cor d.

§ 33—contd.

land revenue for which certificate proceedings initiated —For real order of exemption on the sale of—Special notice under s 5 necessary for—Where after an estate has been advertised for sale for arrears of land revenue the Collector upon the defaulter's application for exemption ordered that the arrears may be accepted if paid to day and the plaintiff duly paid the amount and the same was received and acknowledged but nevertheless the property was put up to sale on account of certain arrears of embankment charges the intention to recover which by sale under Act XI of 1859 did not appear to have been conveyed to the defaulter by the Collectorate mohurrar when enquiries were made of him as to the amount to be deposited and which arrears the Collector has already elected to recover by the certificate procedure from the defaulter and a usufructuary mortgagee from him—Held that the Collector was not justified in putting up the property for sale on account of these arrears without serving special notice on the defaulter under s 5 of Act XI of 1859 on the mere ground that no special exemption order had been made There were in the circumstances no arrears for which the property could be sold Gobind Lal Poy v. Pamjanam Misser 1 L R 21 Cal 40 81 Bunwari Lal v. Mahabir Prasad 12 B L P 297 Demondan Singh v. Manabath Singh 1 L P 30 Cal 111 referred to HARI DAS DEB v. DITRAJ CHANDRA BOSE (1910) 15 C W N 38

§ 33 34—Sale for arrears of revenue set aside on appeal by Commissioner—Commissioner's order reversing that order and affirming sale declared by Civil Court to be ultra vires—Application to execute decree—Limitation—Where the Commissioner of Revenue on appeal preferred by the proprietors of a revenue paying estate set aside a sale for arrears of revenue but subsequently in review can be set aside that order and affirmed the sale and the Civil Court in a suit by the proprietors declared the Commissioner's order on review ultra vires and upheld his previous order setting aside the sale and also awarded possession and mesne profits to the plaintiffs—Held that the decree was not one annulling a sale as contemplated by s 34 of Act XI of 1859 as it only held that the Commissioner's order setting aside the sale must stand good That s 34 did not apply to this case as it was not a suit under s 33 of the Act to annul a sale the contention of the plaintiffs being that there was no subsisting sale to be annulled § 31 refers to cases brought under s 33 and the rule of limitation laid down in s 31 (requiring the decree holder to apply for execution within six months of the decree) applies only to suits brought under s 33 BAIJYATH GOZYKA v. BAIJYATH SINGH (1914)

[19 C W N 484

§ 35—Suit against certified purchaser for specific performance of agreement to convey purchased property made before purchase—Vain liability—The plaintiff who wished to purchase a mahal at a revenue sale requested the defendant to watch the sale and to offer bids and the defendant agreed to do so and to convey the property to the plaintiff Defendant bid for the property in plaintiff's absence took one fourth of the purchase money for deposit from the plaintiff and

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

—cor d.

§ 35—contd.

deposited the same but refused to accept the balance of the purchase money from the plaintiff and having procured the same from other sources took out a certificate in his own name—Held that a suit by the plaintiff against the defendant for specific performance of the contract was maintainable and s 36 of Act XI of 1859 was no bar to it MOGHOTHA NATH PAL v. GIRISH CHANDRA RAY (1912) 17 C W N 76

§ 37—

See s 29 17 C W N 984

See HOMESTEAD LAND I L R 42 Cal 638

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING I L R 42 Cal 745

See REVENUE SALE I L R 48 Cal 730

Public documents chatas prepared for distributing public revenue on partition of an estate of—Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 37—Protected interest—Portion of taluk existing at Permanent Settlement but transferred and held under different names if protected—When a portion of a taluk existing from before the time of the Permanent Settlement is transferred and the said portion is subsequently held at a proportionate jama under a name different from the original taluk but the subsequent transfers and descent thereof can be traced from the original taluk the portion so transferred is also protected under s 37 of Act XI of 1859 NOBENDRA KISHORE ROY v. DURGA CHAPAN CHOWDHURY (1910) 15 C W N 515

Purchaser if means

certified purchaser—Person in adverse possession for more than 12 years if may be ejected—Thak map = hence of possession and so of title—Presumption backward when proper—The word purchaser in s 37 of Act XI of 1859 does not mean the certified purchaser only and the certified purchaser is not the only person who can sue an incumbrancer for ejectment under that section An adverse possessor is an incumbrancer within the meaning of that section The Thak map is used primarily as evidence of possession of the party who relies thereon and as soon as it is established from the Thak map that the claimant was in possession at that time such possession may legitimately be attributed to title Where the Thak map however showed the lands as included in the plaintiff's estate but to be in possession of the defendant this principle did not apply Although it cannot be affirmed as a proposition of law that merely because certain specified lands were included in an estate at the time of the Thak survey in 1859 they must have been included within that estate at the time of the Permanent Settlement yet it is open to the Court to draw such inference from all the surrounding circumstances The land in dispute in this case not being chur land and its history not showing that its area or situation had in any way been changed from the time of the Permanent Settlement—Held that the Courts below were justified in inferring from all the circumstances of the case that the land (shown in the Thak map of 1859 as within a certain estate) was included within that estate at

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

—contd

ss 25, 2 and 3—contd

after Rs 3 10 0 had been accepted in respect of the separate account in arrear there was no arrear due on the whole estate and the residuary share was no longer liable to be sold (1) that the default in payment did not become an arrear until the 1st April and the property was not liable to be sold until the date fixed by the Board of Revenue namely the 29th June S 25 of the Revenue Sales Act 1859 does not restrict the Commissioner's power to set aside a sale to cases in which there has been an irregularity in procedure CHHAKOWRI SINGH ■ THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL 5 Pat L J 66

ss 29, 37—Sale of entire estate for arrears if pro facto annuls incumbrances—Sale voidable at purchaser's option—Option how may be exercised—Annulment by notice—Mesne profits claim for when arises—Compensation for use and occupation The sale of an entire estate for arrears of revenue does not pro facto avoid incumbrances and under tenures but only renders them voidable at the option of the purchaser The purchaser may elect to annul an under tenure not only by institution of a suit or by giving notice to vacate but may indicate it by other means The delivery of possession by the Collector under s 20 of Act XI of 1859 does not convert under tenure holders into trespassers The persons whom in terms of that section the Collector may remove in delivering possession must refer to the former proprietors or persons claiming proprietary right through them and does not refer to under tenure holders Mir Waziruddin v Iala Deokinandan 6 C L J 472 referred to The purchaser is not entitled to mesne profits for the period antecedent to the exercise by him of his option of annulment He is only entitled to compensation for use and occupation on the basis of the rent payable by the tenure holder of the first decree Where the under tenure has been annulled by notice the purchaser is entitled to claim mesne profits from the date on which the notice was expressed to expire DURJAN SINGH ■ BHAWANI MOH (1913)

[17 C W N 984]

s 31—

See ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 47 Cal 331

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 38 Cal 537

■ 31 53—Estate left in arrear and purchased by proprietor benami at revenue sale—Incumbrancers if can demand satisfaction from both surplus sale proceeds and the mortgage property—Court's power on appeal to grant relief in favour of party who did not appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 107 151 and O XLI r 33—Estoppel by conduct in suit—From punishment of During the pendency of a suit by B to enforce a mortgage upon a revenue paying estate the mortgagor deliberately let the property fall into arrear which being sold under Act XI of 1859 was purchased by the mortgagor in the benami of another A suit was then brought by K to enforce a prior mortgage over the property in which (not being presumably aware of the real character of the sale) he claimed a decree for payment of his dues out of the surplus sale proceeds Before this suit was decreed, B (whom A had joined as a party in his

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

—contd

■ 31, 53—contd

suit) brought a suit in which he alleged the purchase at the sale for arrears of revenue to have been benami by the proprietor and claimed a decree either for setting aside the sale or for a declaration that his mortgage should remain valid and operative against the estate In view of this suit the Court, whilst decreeing A's suit as prayed further ordered that in the event of the sale being set aside the mortgage monies interest and costs due to A should be realised by the sale of the mortgaged property B appealed against this decree and this appeal was heard in the High Court along with appeals against B preferred from decrees obtained by him in his suits by one of which his allegations as to the real character of the purchase at the revenue sale had been found proved whilst the other had given him the usual mortgage decree All three appeals were dismissed but at the instance of the mortgagor the High Court varied the decree in A's suit by setting aside the direction that his mortgage monies should be paid out of the surplus monies of the revenue sale Upon further appeals to the Privy Council the mortgagor urged inter alia that B was estopped by his conduct as defendant in K's suit from questioning the sale under Act XI of 1859 and B urged that K not having appealed to the High Court the decrees of the lower Court could not be varied in the manner stated and also that K was in spite of what was found as to the real character of the sale entitled to be satisfied out of the proceeds of the sale so that in case K was entirely paid off out of the sale proceeds, B would have a more abundant security in the mortgaged property to satisfy his decree Held that s 53 of Act XI of 1859 distinctly contemplates a purchase of property by a recorded proprietor and the only effect of the finding that the purchase was benami by the proprietor was that so far as the encumbrances were concerned, the sale was of no effect and that therefore the direction of the High Court in K's suit was in accordance with law That the High Court had abundant power to give that direction notwithstanding that K did not appeal under ss 107 and 151 of the Civil Procedure Code and O XLI r 33 thereof the Court having had authority under the first mentioned provision if necessary to take additional evidence That B who had no power of controlling the form of K's suit and did not appear to have taken any step therein irretrievably asserting his intention to rely on the sale and not impeached the sale proceedings was not estopped from claiming the sale which he prayed for in his suit to set aside the decree That if the sale had in fact been transferred to the encumbrancers would have been transferred to the sale proceeds since the purchaser would obtain a title free from encumbrances It is not right to punish a man for fraudulent behaviour by making him suffer other penalties than those which are the direct consequence of his fraud. TARINI CHAND SAKKAR v BISHU CHAND (1917)

22 C W N 505

s 33—

See s 14

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

18 C W N 1071

Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) ss 23 33—Exemption in respect of land revenue—Sale of property for arrears other than

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (IX OF 1859)

—contd.

§ 33—contd.

Land revenue for which a certificate procedure was initiated — Formal order of exemption at once of — Special notice under s 5 necessary for — Where after an estate has been advertised for sale for arrears of land revenue the Collector upon the defaulter's application for exemption ordered that the arrears may be accepted if paid to day and the plaintiff duly paid the amount and the same was received and acknowledged but nevertheless the property was put up to sale on account of certain arrears of embankment charges the intention to recover which by sale under Act XI of 1859 did not appear to have been conveyed to the defaulter by the Collectorate mohurr when enquiries were made of him as to the amount to be deposited and which arrears the Collector has already elected to recover by the certificate procedure from the defaulter and a usufructuary mortgage from him — Held that the Collector was not justified in putting up the property for sale on account of these arrears without serving special notice on the defaulter under s 5 of Act XI of 1859 on the mere ground that no special exemption order had been made There were in the circumstances no arrears for which the property could be sold. Gobind Lal Roy v Ramjanam Misser I L R 21 Calc 70 83 Bunwar Lal v Mahabir Prasad 1st B L P 237 Deomanand Singh v Mandath Singh I L R 3rd Calc 111 referred to HARI DAS DEB v DHIRAJ CHANDRA BOSE (1910) 15 C W N 38

§ 33, 34—Sale for arrears of revenue set aside on appeal by Commissioner—Commissioner's order reviewing that order and affirming sale declared by Civil Court to be ultra vires—Application to execute decree—Limitation—Where the Commissioner of Pervence on appeal preferred by the proprietors of a revenue paying estate set aside a sale for arrears of revenue but subsequently in review can call that order and affirm the sale and the Civil Court in a suit by the proprietors declared the Commissioner's order on review ultra vires and upheld his previous order setting aside the sale and also awarded possession and mesne profits to the plaintiffs — Held that the decree was not one annulling a sale contemplated by s 34 of Act XI of 1859 as it only held that the Commissioner's order setting aside the sale must stand good That s 34 did not apply to this case as it was not a suit under s 33 of the Act to annul a sale the contention of the plaintiffs being that there was no substantiating sale to be annulled S 34 refers to cases brought under s 33 and the rule of limitation laid down in s 34 (requiring the decree holder to apply for execution within six months of the decree) applies only to suits brought under s 33 BALWATH GOVINDA v BALWATH SINGH (1914) 19 C W N 464

§ 36—Suit against certified purchaser for specific performance of agreement to convey purchased property made before purchase — Maintenance of — The plaintiff who wished to purchase a mahal at a revenue sale requested the defendant to watch the sale and to offer bids and the defendant agreed to do so and to convey the property to the plaintiff Defendant bid for the property in plaintiff's absence took one fourth of the purchase money for deposit from the plaintiff and

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)

—contd.

§ 36—contd.

deposited the same but refused to accept the balance of the purchase money from the plaintiff and having procured the same from other sources took out a certificate in his own name — Held that a suit by the plaintiff against the defendant for specific performance of the contract was maintainable and s 36 of Act XI of 1859 was no bar to it MOGHOTHA NATH LAL v GIRISH CHANDRA RAY (1912) 17 C W N 75

§ 37—

See s. 29 17 C W N 984

See HOMESTEAD LAND I L R 42 Calc 638

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING I L R 42 Calc 745

See PREVENCE SALE I L R 46 Calc 730

Public documents that are prepared for distributing public revenue on partition of an estate of — Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 37—Protected interest—Portion of taluk existing at Permanent Settlement but transferred and held under different names if protected When a portion of a taluk existing from before the time of the Permanent Settlement is transferred and the said portion is subsequently held at a proportionate jama under a name different from the original taluk but the subsequent transfers and descent thereof can be traced from the original taluk the portion so transferred is also protected under s 37 of Act XI of 1859 NOBENDRA KISHORE ROY v DURGAS CHAMAN CHOWDHURY (1910) 15 C W N 515

Purchaser if means

certified purchaser — Person in adverse possession for more than 12 years if may be ejected — That map evidence of possession and so of title — Presumption backward when proper The word purchaser in s 37 of Act XI of 1859 does not mean the certified purchaser only and the certified purchaser is not the only person who can sue an incumbrancer for ejectment under that section An adverse possessor is an incumbrancer within the meaning of that section The That map is used primarily as evidence of possession of the party who relies thereon, and as soon as it is established from the That map that the claimant was in possession at that time such possession may legitimately be attributed to title Where the That map however showed the lands as included in the plaintiff's estate but to be in possession of the defendant this principle did not apply Although it cannot be affirmed as a proposition of law that merely because certain specified lands were included in an estate at the time of the That survey in 1859 they must have been included within that estate at the time of the Permanent Settlement yet it is open to the Court to draw such inference from all the surrounding circumstances The land in dispute in this case not being char land and its history not showing that its area or situation had in any way been changed from the time of the Permanent Settlement — Held that the Courts below were justified in inferring from all the circumstances of the case that the land (shown in the That map of 1859 as within a certain estate) was included within that estate at the time

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)— —contd

s 37—contd

of the Permanent Settlement Jagadindra Nath Poy v The Secretary of State I L R 30 Cal 291 s c 7 C W N 193 distinguished MOIZUDDI BISWAS v ISHAN CHANDRA DAS (1910)

15 C W N 708

Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 5—The question of notice if may be raised after confirmation of sale—Laches if can arise without knowledge—Mortgagee in possession a trustee, default in payment of revenue and subsequent purchase of mortgaged property mortgagee if bound to account—Co sharer if may make default and purchase at revenue sale—Trustee for co sharer, position of Although the question as to proper service of notice cannot be raised after confirmation of a sale under Act XI of 1859 that is only so far as setting aside the sale on the ground of irregularity is concerned, but it does not prevent the Court from a certifying for other purposes whether notice was so served as to fix on the party served the knowledge of it Defendant was the mortgagee of a share belonging to some of the plaintiffs out of a revenue paying estate Defendant was bound under the mortgage contract to pay his share of the land revenue for the portion of the estate held by him In one of these kists he made an over payment of Rs 36 as which was credited as an excess in the kistal account On a subsequent occasion the other co sharers took advantage of the excess standing to the credit of the estate and paid only the balance remaining due from them After this the defendant on one occasion paid Rs 11 less than he was bound to pay without however asking to be credited with the excess paid by him previously Some days after this short payment the plaintiffs paid their share of the revenue For the short payment thus made by the defendant the estate was subsequently sold under XI of 1859 and purchased by the defendant Held that in the absence of evidence that they knew of the default the plaintiffs could not be held guilty of laches in not seeing whether there was a deficit as laches signify knowledge or at least such abstinence from legitimate enquiry as to amount to constructive notice That the defendant as mortgagee could not take advantage of his purchase as against his mortgagors A mortgagee in possession is for certain purposes a trustee for his mortgagors and cannot take advantage of that position to the detriment of his mortgagors Nasab Sidhee Nuur Ali Khan v Ojodharam 10 Moo I A 530 referred to Where a co sharer who makes default in paying up his share of the land revenue subsequently purchases the property at a sale for arrears of revenue the purchase entitles to the benefit of all co sharers Carter v Home I Eq Ca Ab 7 Khadim v Sheomung S D N W I 1851 57 164 (1855) referred to A trustee for co sharer cannot derive any benefit for himself at the expense of the co sharers of the cestui que trust by committing a breach of trust JANAKI SINGH v DEBINANDAN PRASAD (1910)

15 C W N 778

Onus of proof—Jakhraj or mal lands In a suit for khas possession free of incumbrance of lands on the ground that they were included within a taluk purchased by the plaintiff at a revenue sale it was found

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)— —contd

s 37—contd

that the defendants held certain rent free tenures within the estate and that these tenures existed from before the Permanent Settlement Held that the onus was on the plaintiff to prove that the lands in suit were included within the taluk lands of the estate HALODHAR CHATTOPADHYA v PABENDRA NARAYAN RAY CHoudhury (1912)

16 C W N 980

Purchaser's suit for recovery of possession—Defendant's plea that land included in houlra which is protected—Onus When a suit for recovery of possession of land by a purchaser of an undivided share in an estate at a revenue sale was resisted by the defendants on the plea that the land in suit was included within the houlra which was a protected interest Held that the onus lay on the defendants to prove the allegation Phudoy Krista v Dobin Chunder I L J 457 Rajendra Kumar v Mohan Chunder 3 C W N 763 explained Sheedens Poy v Chatoorbhuy Roy 12 C L J 476 approved RUTNESSUR SEN v KALI KESAR BUDYABHUSAN (1912)

16 C W N 693

Taluk in existence before permanent settlement—Portion thereof transferred and held under a new name—Such portion if protected when it can be traced to original taluk When a portion of a taluk existing from before the permanent settlement is transferred and that portion is subsequently held in proportionate parts under a name different from the original taluk, but the subsequent transfer and descent thereof can be traced from the original taluk the portion so transferred is also protected under s 37 Act XI of 1859 DOYAMATY CHOWDHURY v NARENDRA KISHORE ROY (1913)

18 C W N 79

Registered pindar par charing estate at revenue sale if may annul the ordinary tenures The plaintiff who was the owner of a punit which was specially registered and so protected at a sale for arrears of revenue purchased the parent estate at a sale for arrears and sought to annul the tenures subordinate to the punit Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to annul the tenures subordinate to the punit to annul the tenures subordinate to the punit PRITANATH BISWAS SATEOWRI CHATTERJEE v PRITANATH BISWAS SATEOWRI CHATTERJEE (1913)

18 C W N 60

s 37 (4)—purchaser at revenue sale if may eject talaharajdar from land which has been mortgaged or built upon—Incumbrance how annulled S 37 of the Revenue Sale Law does not protect land held without payment of rent upon which dwelling houses manufactures or other permanent buildings have been erected or whereon gardens plantations etc have been made The assignee or transferee of the auction purchaser at a Revenue sale is entitled to exercise the rights of a purchaser It is not essential on the part of the auction purchaser or his assignee who seeks to annul an incumbrance to give a formal written notice to avoid it All that is necessary is to notify to the incumbrancer by some unambiguous act the intention to annul KRISHNA KALYANI DASI v R BRAUNFELD (1915)

20 C W N 1008

REVENUE SALE LAW ACT (XI OF 1859)——concl—

s 54—

See s 13.

10 C W N 782

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.

1 L R 43 Calc 48

s 55—

Collector's from starting of bidding according to custom by bidding one rupee—Subsequent bids falling short of arrears—Collector if may legally buy property for the highest bid—Irregularity or illegality—See 6 and "— Notice signed by Sub Deputy Collector of arrears sale. Where a revenue paying estate in arrears having been put up for sale the person a Government official started the bidding according to custom as a matter of form by bidding Re 1 and thereafter other people having bid for the property the highest bid came up to Rs 58 which being less than the amount in arrears the Collector purporting to act under s 58 of Act XI of 1859 purchased the property for the highest amount bid Held (by the majority) that this was a different case from Hallmanns Choudhurs v The Secretary of State for India 1 L R 31 Calc 106 8 C W N 880 and the purchase by the Collector was not in contravention of the letter or the spirit of s 58 of the Revenue Sales Act. The fact that the notices under ss 6 and 7 of the Act were signed not by the Collector or other officer authorised to hold sales but by a Sub Deputy Collector on behalf of the Collector did not vitiate the sale. ABHITA LAL POY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1018) 22 C W N 769

REVERSAL OF JUDGMENT

Effect of on connected and dependent orders—Pstitution of money taken away by decree holder in execution of decree under erroneous decision on question of limitation—Restitution of moneys with interest—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 181 The decree holders made an application for execution of a decree by attachment and sale of moveables which was opposed by the judgment-debtors on the ground of limitation. The objection was treated as a separate case. While this application for execution was pending the decree holders made a fresh application for execution to attach funds in Court standing to the credit of two of the judgment debtors. This application was treated as a separate proceeding. The objection case was decided against the judgment-debtors and the Court thereupon made an order in the second execution case directing the decree holders to take steps. Then on the decree holders' application payment of the fund in deposit in Court was ordered. An appeal was preferred to the High Court in the objection case but none against the payment order. This appeal was decreed and the High Court directed that any sums taken away by the decree holders under the order of the Court below must be refunded at once. The judgment debtors whose deposit had been taken away by the decree holders then applied to the Court below for restitution. Held that it is a general rule that upon the reversal of a judgment order or decree all connected or dependent judgments or orders fall with it specially judgments subsequently entered and dependent thereon although this rule does not operate by implication to set aside a distinct and independent judgment or proceeding though it forms a part of the same litigation. That the payment order was in essence ancillary to the decision in the objection case and the cancellation of the order in the objection case by the High Court in appeal involved by necessary implication a cancellation of the consequential payment order. The judgment-debtors were therefore entitled to restitution even though they did not formally appeal against the payment order. That the only Article of the Limitation Act which may possibly apply to an application by the judgment debtors for restitution is Art 181 and the period of three years provided therein commences from the date when the erroneous order is set aside. That restitution must be made of the sum with drawn together with interest thereon at 6 per cent per annum. ASUTOSH GOSWAMI v UPENDRO PRASAD MITRA (1916) 21 C W N 564

REVERSAL OF JUDGMENT—contd

REVERSAL OF SALE

See PARTIES 1 L R 59 Calc 881

REVERSIONARY HEIR

See CONSENT DECREE

1 L R 38 Calc 639

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SEC 1 ARTS 141 144

1 L R 42 Bom 714

REVERSIONARY INTEREST

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

1 L R 43 Calc 1118

—attachment of—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

1 L R 39 Mad 565

—transfer of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 6 1 L R 41 All 811

Transferability of The interest of a Hindu reversioner is an interest expectant on the death of a gratified owner. It is not a vested interest but a spes successionis or mere chance of succession. It cannot be sold mortgaged assigned or relinquished and is not transferable under a bill of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 but he may estop himself from claiming as Reversioner. AKHADA MOHAN ROY v GOVIND MOHAN MALLIK 25 C W N 498

REVERSIONARY TRUST

See WILL. 1 L R 45 I A 257

REVERSIONER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O XXIII r 1 (3)

1 L R 33 Mad 987

See DECLARATORY DECREE.

1 L R 45 Calc 510

See DECLARATORY DECREE SUIT FOR

1 L R 43 Calc 694

See FRAUD 1 L R 38 Bom 185

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

1 L R 40 Mad. 848

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

1 L R 40 Calc. 721

1 L R 41 Calc 793

1 L R 45 Bom 105

REVERSIONER—contdSee HINDU LAW—GIFT

I L R 37 Calc 1

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 42 Bom. 69

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER*See* HINDU LAW—WIDOW

14 C W N 226

I L R 32 All. 176

16 C W N 106

I L R 34 All. 207

I L R 35 All. 326

I L R 47 Calc 466

I L R 39 All. 1 520

I L R 43 Bom. 249

I L R 43 All. 535

See LIMITATION ACT 1908—

SCH I ART 91

I L R 40 Bom. 51

SCH I ART 125

I L R 41 Mad. 659

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 42 I L R 33 All. 430

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT s 4

15 C W N 1018

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 6 CL. (a)

I L R 32 All. 88

— claim by—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 40 Mad. 654

— consent of—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 42 Calc 878

See HINDU WIDOW

I L R 42 Bom. 719

— redemption by after foreclosure decree—

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Mad. 426

— relinquishment of right of suit by—

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)

s 17 I L R 40 All. 384

— right of—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad. 406

— right of several independent—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 6

SCH I ART 125

I L R 38 Mad. 570

— suit by—

See ABATEMENT OF SUIT

I L R 73 Mad. 408

See HINDU LAW I L R 33 Mad. 410*See* LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH

II ART 141 I L R 33 All. 312

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

ART 118 I L R. 41 Bom. 728

ARTS. 140 141 I L R 40 Bom. 239

— title of—

See PRAJUDICATA I L R. 41 Calc. 69REVERSIONER—*contd

— contingent interest of reversioner during widow's lifetime—

See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom. 1187

— Gift by a Hindu widow—Reversioner alone can dispute validity of—

See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom. 103

— deed of gift by widow and next reversioner—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom. 483

— Widow's estate—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom. 253REVIEWSee* APPEAL I L R 43 Calc 13
14 C W N 44*See* APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 41 Calc 734

See ARBITRATION I L R 43 Calc 490*See* ARBITRATION BY COURT

I L R 38 Calc 421

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 2 4 Pat L J 57

ss 14 151 O XLVII s 1

I L R 2 All. 71

s 114

O XLVII

O XLVIII s 1 I L R 33 All. 566

O XLVIII s 9 I L R 38 All. 280

See COMMISSIONER POWER OF

I L R 40 Calc 552

See COSTS. I L R 47 Calc 974*See* COUNTERFEIT COIN

I L R. 41 Calc 477

See CRIMINAL CASES

I L R 46 Calc 60

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

I L R 33 All. 134

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

3 Pat L J 51

See JURISDICTION

I L R. 33 Bom. 418

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 14

I L R 42 Bom. 293

See POSSESSORY SUIT

I L R. 43 Calc 519

See PRACTICE

I L R. 44 Calc 43

See PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF

I L R 39 Calc 505

See REVIEW OF JUDGMENT*See* SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 950

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (VALIDITY)

ACT 1917 s. 3. I L R. 42 All. 430

— application for—

See LIMITATION I L R 44 I A 213

— High Courts power of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 359

I L R. 33 All. 134

REVIEW—contd.

Power of the Small Cause Court to review its judgment—

See PRESIDENTY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1854) CHAF VII s 48

I L R 45 Bom 972

subsequent filing of appeal—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XLVII r 1 I L R 42 All 79

1 ——— Appeal against order granting review of judgment—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XLIII r 1 d (w) and O XLIII r 1 O XLIII r 1 cl (w) must be read with and subject to r " O XLVII An order granting application for review of judgment can only be objected to on grounds specified in r " of O XLVII Jagannath Periad Singh v Ram Aular Singh 111 d No 311 of 1909 (unrep.) Tripathi (haran) Kal v Sora hi Lala C P No 173 of 1913 (unrep.) Eurendra Nath Talukdar v Sita Nath Das Gupta 111 A O 185 of 1910 (unrep.) referred to HARI CHARAN SABA v BAHAN KHAN (1914)

I L R 41 Calc 746

2 ——— New Evidence—Dismissal of application for admission of second appeal—Application for review based on alleged discovery of new and important evidence—High Court Jurisdiction of—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XLII r 11 and O XLIII r 1 The High Court has no authority merely on the ground of alleged discovery of new and important evidence to review an order dismissing an application for the admission of a second appeal under O XLII r 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure Bhuvan Nath Tice v Kally Chunder Choudhry 16 W P 110 followed Herra Lal Ghose v Pam Taruck Dey 23 W P 373 discussed Paru Kuli v Mamod I I 1 18 Mad 480 and In re Nand Kishore I L J 37 All 71 referred to PAJAN KANTA DAS v KALI PRASAD NUKHERJEE (1914)

I L R 41 Calc 809

3 ——— High Court judgment—Application for review presented to Court presided over by Chief Justice under special circumstances—Deputy Registrar certifying application not in order—Application if made is presented within seven days of return of application with such certificate The application for review was properly presented to the Court presided over by the Chief Justice as there was no time after the application was put in order to present it to the Bench which had disposed of the appeal in the first instance one of them having retired from the Court some days before and the other having gone away on furlough two days after that date R 4 of Chap XI of the Appellate Side Rules was intended to apply to the case where the Deputy Registrar gives a certificate that the review application was in order and not to cases where the certificate is to the effect that the proceedings were not in order GANGADHAR KARNHAR v SHEKHAR BASINI DASTA (1916)

20 C W N 967

4 ——— Application for review subsequent to filing of second appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 114 O XLVII r 1 Where an application for review of judgment is filed and later during the pendency of the same an appeal is preferred Held that the Court has power and in fact is bound to proceed with the application for review of judgment notwithstanding the fact that an appeal has been

REVIEW—contd.

subsequently filed But the power exists so long as the appeal is not heard Bharat Chandra Maumdar v Pungunga Sen (1966) B L R (F B) 360 Chenra Peddi v Peddacks Reddi I L R 30 Mad 416 followed Flaccor Prosad v Baluck Pam 12 C L P 64 Sarat Chandra Dhal v Damodar Manna I C M A 885 Varayan Purushottam Gorgate v Laxmibai I L P 38 Bom 416 referred to On the other hand if the application is successful the appeal cannot proceed Kankaya Lal v Baldeo Prasad I L I 98 All 240 referred to PIART MOHAN KHANU v KALU KHAN (1917) I L M 44 Calc 1011

5 ——— Appeals under clause 15 of the Letters Patent—Conditions for review in main tenability of It is competent to the High Court to review judgments in appeals preferred under clause 15 of the Letters Patent VENKATA SUBBARAJADU v SRI RAJAN KRISHNA YACHEY DEVLU VARU BHABHUR (1915)

I L R 40 Mad 851

6 ——— Discovery of new and important matter of evidence—Procedure and Practice—Character of evidence—Trial of issue—Appeal against order granting review—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XLIII r 1 (u) O XLIII r 1 d 7 8 The plaintiff obtained a decree in a suit instituted against the defendant Subsequently the defendant applied for a review of the decree on the ground of the discovery of new and important matter of evidence which was not within his knowledge and could not be produced by him at the trial and obtained a Rule calling upon the plaintiff to show cause why the said decree should not be reviewed and why this suit should not be set down on the peremptory list of suits for hearing Upon the Rule coming on for hearing the Court directed an issue to be tried as to the new and important matter discovered after the judgment in this case This issue having come on for trial the Court decided the issue in favour of the defendant and the Rule was made absolute Held that this application for review was not granted in contravention to s 4 of O XLVII of the Civil Procedure Code and it was not possible for the Court on this appeal to say that the learned Judge ought not to have made an order for review Held also that the additional evidence was of such an unsatisfactory nature and it came into existence in such an unsatisfactory way and the learned Judge was apparently in such doubt as to whether it should be accepted that it ought not to be taken as sufficient to overrule the distinct and clear opinion which he had formed Pr SANDERSON C J It is most important that there should be some finality in the trial of cases and the greatest care ought to be exercised in granting a review when that review is asked for upon the allegation that fresh evidence has been discovered since the judgment was given In an ordinary case where the appeal is on a question of fact where the learned Judge of the Court of first instance has heard and seen the witnesses and has come to a conclusion upon the question of fact upon the evidence on the one side and on the other there is a very great onus upon the shoulders of the appellant when he comes to this Court and asks it to overrule the decision of the learned Judge upon the question of fact Per MOOKERJEE J Under O XLIII r 7 an order granting an application for review may be attacked by way of appeal on the ground that the application has been granted on the ground of discovery of new evidence without strict proof of the applicant that such new evidence was not within his knowledge or could not be adduced by him when the decree was passed. NANDALAL MULLICK v PARSHANAN MUKERJEE (1917) I L R 45 Calc 60

REVIEW—contd

21 C W N 1076

7 ——— Criminal cases—Order summarily rejecting an appeal—Application for review of the order—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 362 The High Court has no power to review an order passed in its Criminal Appellate jurisdiction rejecting an appeal summarily. In the matter of Gibbons I L R 14 Calc 42 followed. Where a case is disposed of merely for default of appearance or an order is passed to the prejudice of the accused and by mistake or inadvertence no opportunity was given him to be heard the High Court may review the same. Bidhu Mohan Roy v Dasmoni Das 7 C W N 1076 Bidhu Mohan Roy v Dasmoni Das 10 C L J 80 and in the matter of an Attorney I L R 41 Calc 734 referred to RAJIB ALI v EMPEROR (1918)
I L R 46 Calc 60

11 ——— Power of Collector to review his own order—The Collector has no power to review his own order refusing to interfere with an order passed by his subordinate confirming a sale for arrears of land revenue DAVID NADAR v MANICKA VACHARA DESIJA GNANA SAMBANDA PANDARA SANNADI (1909) I L R 33 Mad 65

9 ——— Application for leave to appeal to Privy Council—Order rejecting such application if subject of review—Interest subsequent to decree how far can be allowed by the High Court in be calculated—Order rejecting application for review by a Court other than High Court of appealable—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 114 OO XLVII and XLIII = 1 (v) An order rejecting an application for leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council comes within the description of orders contemplated in s 114 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and is subject to review. Lutf Ali Khan v Asgur Reza I L R 17 Calc 456, distinguished. The High Court should not grant leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council in cases in which the specified amount of Rs 10,000 can only be reached by the addition of interest subsequent to the decree. Goorooperad Khoond v Jugguchunder S Moe I A 166 followed. NAND KISHORE SINGH v RAM GULAM SAHU (1912)
I L R 39 Calc 1037

10 ——— Appeal from original decree—Review of judgment—Effect of order on review—The effect of the granting of an application for review is to supersede the decree which is the subject of such application. No appeal can therefore be maintained against the decree anterior to the review but only against the subsequent decree Kuar Sen v Ganga Pam Ali Weekly Notes (1890) 144 and Kanhai Lal v Baldeo Prasad I L R 23 Al 246 followed. Uma Kunwar v Jambhandari I L R 30 Al 479 distinguished. BRINHASI LAL v SALGI RAM (1912)
I L R 34 Al 232

11 ——— Application for review—Sui—Res judicata—Compromise decree An application for review is not a suit within the meaning of s 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1892 and a decision of a question arising in an application for review cannot operate as constructive res judicata. Gulab Koor v Badshah Bahadur 10 C L J 420 referred to. Ram Gopal Maynard v Prasanna Kumar Samad 2 C L J 308 distinguished. SRISHI CHANDRA PAL CHOWDERY v TRIGUNA PRASAD PAL CHOWDERY (1913)

REVIEW—contd

I L R 40 Calc 541

12 ——— Vendor and purchaser—Conditions of sale effect of—Title—Commissioner of Partition sale by not sale by Court—Rules and Orders of the High Court s 496 scope of—Under an order of Court that he "be at liberty to sell a Commissioner of Partition sold certain property by public auction. The conditions of sale set forth stipulated that there were no documents of title except the one mentioned in the abstract of title that the purchaser should not be entitled to call for any other document or to object to the title on the ground of the non production thereof and that no objection to the title should be allowed. The purchasers at the auction subsequently obtained an order of Court directing the Registrar to enquire and report under r 4 b as to the vendor's title. On an application for review of judgment held that the review must be granted on the ground that the sale was not a sale by the Court Gulam Hassan Casim Anji v Fatima Begum 10 C W N 394 and Chandranath Basu v Bisanath Basu 6 B L R 498 followed. The conditions of sale did not preclude the purchasers from raising the question of the vendor's title where it appeared (i) that the abstract of title commenced with a bond of indemnity which was in no sense a root of title and (ii) that the abstract did not expressly disclose the nature of the title or indicate that the property was subject to a permanent lease at a small rent. JOCEMALA DASSEE v ANKOR COOMAR DAS (1911)
I L R 40 Calc 140

13 ——— Criminal cases—Power of a Division Bench of the High Court to review its judgment discharging a Rule before signature—Discharge of the accused in a part heard case for absence of remaining witnesses without consideration of the evidence already on the record—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 331 369—Practice It is competent to a Division Bench of the High Court which has erroneously discharged a rule on a point of law and a misapprehension of the facts in connection therewith to review its judgment before it has been signed. In the matter of the petition of Gibbons I L R 14 Calc 42 Queen Empress v Lalit Tiwari I L R 21 Al 117 referred to. Queen Empress v For I L R 10 Pom 176 distinguished. Where a Magistrate after some of the prosecution witnesses had been heard by another Bench of Magistrates discharged the accused because the other witnesses were not present the High Court set aside the order of discharge and directed him to dispose of the case after argument with reference to the evidence already on the record. AMODINI DASSEE v DARSAN CHOSE (1911) I L R 38 Calc 828

14 ——— Point of law not taken during trial—Whether affords ground for review—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XLIII r 1—other sufficient reasons—occupancy holding—mortgage to proprietors—sale to co-proprietor to satisfy mortgage whether valid The mere fact that a point of law which might have been raised was not raised during the trial is not necessarily in itself sufficient to support an application for review Query—Whether an omission to raise a point of law which, had it been raised might and probably would have brought about a different result, is necessarily a mistake or error apparent on the face of the record for which a review can be claimed. Query—Whether in the case of a mortgage to the landlords of a raiyath holding where the holding is not transferable without the landlords' consent, they are bound to permit the mortgagor to transfer the holding to anybody whom he may choose (in this case a co-proprietor) in order to put himself in funds to pay off the mortgage. HANU PRASAD CHOWDHURY v. LALU BEHARI MANDER.

REVIEW—contd.

5 Pat L J 344

15 ——— Appeal—Revision—Permission of an order rejecting an application for review not maintainable when the original decree has been the subject of appeal. A Munsif decided a suit in favour of the plaintiff. One of the defendants filed an application for review of judgment whilst another of them filed an appeal in the court of the District Judge. The application for review was rejected and the applicant then applied in revision to the High Court against the order of rejection. Before however this application came on for hearing the appeal before the District Judge had been disposed of. Held that although the Munsif might have been wrong in rejecting the application for review the Munsif's decree no longer subsisted and the application for revision could not be heard. PAN PRASAD UPADHYA v. NAGESH PANDY.

I L R. 42 All 317

16 ——— Discovery of new matter or evidence—Appeal—Strict proof. meaning of—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) ss 696 cl (b) 699 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XLVII rr 4 (2) (b) 7 (1) (b). In a 626 of the Code of 1882 strict proof does not mean proof that convinces the Appellate Court but that there must be legal proof adduced before the Court that has to deal originally with the question of granting a review. The whole scheme of the Act recognises that with proper safeguards the Court of first instance is the proper Court to determine whether or not there should be a review but that before a review is granted the safeguards must be observed. Per JENNINGS CJ. Proof ordinarily has one of two meanings either the conviction of the judicial mind on a certain fact or the means which may help towards arriving at that conviction the use of the word strict points to the second of these two meanings and strict proof means anything which may serve directly or indirectly to convince a Court and has been brought before the Court in legal form and in compliance with the requirements of the law of evidence. It is a formality that is prescribed and not the result that is described. Per WOODROFFE J Cl (b) of sub s (2) of r 7 of O XLVII of the new Code does not refer to the weight or sufficiency of the evidence. If the legal formalities are observed it is no objection that the probative force of evidence legally taken appears to be different to the Appellate Court from what it appeared to the Court granting review. Strict proof means proof according to the formalities of law. It does not refer to sufficiency of proof in securing a particular conviction. Whether the proof is according to law or not is within the jurisdiction of the Appellate Court to determine the question of sufficiency of evidence is for the Court admitting the review. Gyanund Asram v. Depin Mohun Sen I L R 2 Cal 734 Bhagub Chunder Surmah Choudhury v. Madhub Chunder Surmah 11 B L J (F B) 473 20 W R 84 Chunder Churn Auggrodany v. Looduram Deb 25 W J 374 Kolemoddeen Mundul v. Heerun Mundul 24 W R 186 referred to ANID KHONDKAR v. MAHENDRA LAL DE (1915) I L R 42 Cal 830

REVIEW—contd.

17 ——— Appeal against order granting review—New and important evidence—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XLVII rr 1 & 4 and 5. An application for review was made by a defendant on the ground that the evidence of B who could not be got at the time the decree was made was very relevant and material and if that could be given at the time of hearing might possibly have altered the judgment. The applicant obtained a rule and that was made absolute without strict proof as to the important nature of the evidence its discovery after the decree or the applicant's inability to produce it at the time the decree was made. Held that the order for review was made in contravention of O XLVII r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code consequently there was a right of appeal. Per MOOKENZEE J. It is the duty of the Court to come to the conclusion before it grants an application for review that the evidence in question is new and important and that it was not within the knowledge of the applicant or could not be produced by him at the time when the decree was passed or order was made. Ahid Khondkhar v. Mahendra Lal De I L R 42 Cal 830 Nanda Lal Mullick v. Panchanan Mukerjee I L R 45 Cal 60 Young v. Kerehaw 81 L T 531 16 T L R 89 and Brown v. Dean [1910] A C 373 referred to CHIRANJIL RAMLAL v. TULSI RAM JANKIDAS (1919) I L R 47 Cal 568

REVISION

See ACQUITTAL I L R 42 Cal 612

See ADMINISTRATION BOND
I L R 39 Cal 563See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
ss 58 167 I L R 41 All 28
ss 167 199 I L R 41 All 226See APPEAL I L R 38 Cal 717
I L R 41 Cal 323See ARBITRATION 4 Pat L J 264
I L R 38 All 354See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
ss 10 AND 115 I L R 42 All 409
ss 105 AND 115 I L R 43 All 305
115O XXI RR 89 AND 115
4 Pat L J 340

O XXI R 95 I L R 40 All 216

O XXI RR 97 103
4 Pat L J 95O XXIII R 1 & 115
I L R 40 All 612

O XXIV R 5 5 Pat L J 342

O XLJ R 10 I L R 42 All 628

O XLIV R 1 I L R 40 All 381

REVISION—contd

SCH II PARAS 15 AND 16

I L R 34 ALL 489

See COMPOSITION OF OFFENCE

I L R 43 Cal 1143

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 107 125 438 I L R 40 ALL 143

s 125 I L R 39 ALL 468

I L R 41 ALL 651

s 145 I L R 39 ALL 612

I L R 40 ALL 384

ss 145 435 I L R 36 ALL 233

ss 145 435 AND 439

I L R 42 ALL 214

I L R 41 ALL 302

ss 145 439 I L R 32 ALL 132

s 195 I L R 35 ALL 90

ss 195 439 I L R 36 ALL 403

s 347 I L R 37 ALL 127

ss 345 438 439 I L R 42 ALL 474

ss 345 (2) AND 439

I L R 32 ALL 153

ss 403 423 439 I L R 36 ALL 4

s 435 I L R 43 Bom 864

ss 435 439 I L R 43 Bom 607

I L R 43 ALL 497

ss 435 439 133

I L R 39 Mad 537

s 438 L L R. 38 Mad 1028

s 439

s 476 I L R 34 ALL 267 393

I L R 38 ALL 695

I L R 39 ALL 91 367

s 477 I L R 41 ALL 197

s 537 I L R 37 ALL 110

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT (XVII OF 1879) ss 3 (v) 10
AND 33 I L R 39 Bom 165See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT
4 Pat L J 277

See HIGH COURT I L R 41 ALL 587

See INSOLVENCY 14 C W N 143

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT
I L R 34 Bom 267See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS
I L R 34 ALL 118See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT
I L R 38 Cal 832See LAND ACQUISITION ACT 1894 s 49
2 Pat L J 204See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII
OF 1879) s 36 I L R 40 ALL 153

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Cal 84

See MAHAYDARS COURTS ACT (BOX II
OF 1906) ss 19 23

I L R 35 Bom 487

See MAFAL CODE s 280

15 C W N 835

See PRACTICE I L R 48 Cal 534

REVISION—*contd*See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III
OF 1907)—

ss 15 to 22 46 52

I L R 38 Mad 15

ss 21 26 I L R 34 ALL 42

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX OF 1887)—

s 25

SCH II ART 31 I L R 40 ALL 659

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT ACT 1886

s 5 I L R 43 ALL 86

See REVIEW OF JUDGMENT

I L R 42 ALL 31

See REVISIONAL JURISDICTION

See REVISION BY SINGLE JUDGE

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 37 Cal 13

I L R 40 Cal 249

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877) s 4

I L R 33 ALL 64

See WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION

I L R 48 Cal 1108

by High Court—

See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

I L R 41 Cal 438

by single Judge—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Cal 816

converted into an appeal on deposit of Court fee—

See SECOND APPEAL I L R 2 Lah 1 execution order of District Judge—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1909,

s 197 I L R 2 Lah 805

grounds for—

See CRIMINAL JURISDICTION

I L R 38 Cal 833

in petition by private parties—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT

OF 1898) s 439 440 497

I L R 39 Mad 505

non maintainability of—

See AWARD I L R 38 Mad 256 power of the High Court to interfere in—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 OF

1909) s 110 I L R 39 Mad 195

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (IX OF 1887) s 25

I L R 45 Bom 86

Want of sanction to prosecute—whether a ground for revision—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 231

I L R 45 Bom 835

application to set aside order of acquittal—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1909

s 211 I Pat L J 264

REVISION—contd

ing— Board of Revenues powers regard

See ESTATES PARTITION ACT 1897 s 11
1 Pat L J 491

— for irregularity of subordinate court— See I RECEIVER 4 Pat L J 20 Interlocutory order—High Courts power to call to record—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 1 L R 44 Bom 619

— Perjury—Contradictory statements made before different Courts—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 231 19 337 (b) 161
1 L R 45 Bom 835

— under Criminal Procedure Code—

See PRACTICE 1 L R 48 Cal 534

— whether application should be made to Sessions Judge or District Magistrate—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss
435 AND 439 1 L R 43 All 497

— Extradition—warrant issued by President in Nepal—Proceedings the on by District Magistrate in British India and order of surrender of fugitive—Lower of High Court to interfere in revision with such order—Nepal whether a Foreign State—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 435 439 491—Extradition Act
(XI of 1904) s 15 Nepal is not a Foreign State within the meaning of the Indian Extradition Act (XI of 1903) Where a warrant has been issued by the Political Agent under s 15 of the Act its execution by the District Magistrate in British India in accordance with the Act is an executive act and the High Court cannot interfere in revision with the proceedings of the Magistrate and the order to surrender the fugitive criminal but if the latter considers him self aggrieved thereby he can invoke the action of the Government under s 15
The power of the High Court however to interfere under s 491 of the Criminal Procedure Code which applies whatever be the occasion of the deprivation of the liberty of the subject remains untouched by the Extradition Act GULLI SARTI v EMPEROR (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 793

— Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 110—Government of India Act of 1915 s 107—Difference of opinion in a Divisional Bench in disposing of a Rule—Appal under s 15 Letters Patent if lies Judgment debtor whose two thirds share of a pattna was sold in execution of his landlord's decree for rent and purchased by the owner of the remaining one third of the pattna applied to have the sale set aside under O XXI r 90 alleging inter alia that the value of the property sold was deliberately underestimated and the property sold at an inadequate value
The Munsif upheld both objections to the sale and set it aside but the District Judge on appeal restored it holding that the value fetched was not seriously inadequate To this conclusion the District Judge was led by a summing that what was sold was only one third and not two thirds of the pattna and that the purchaser was a stranger
On an application for revision the Judges of the Division Bench (N P CHATTERJEE and MULLICK

REVISION—contd

J J) differing in opinion the order of the senior Judge setting aside the order of the District Judge and remanding the case prevailed Held per CURRIAM that a further appeal lay under s 15 of the Letters Patent Held (by the majority TATTON J contra) (affirming MULLICK J) that this was not a case for interference in revision for although the District Judge made a grave mistake of fact the failure of justice was not due to a fault of procedure such as is contemplated by s 115 cl (c) of the Civil Procedure Code nor was it a case for interference under s 107 of the Government of India Act as this mistake could have been corrected by an application for review Per TATTON J (agreeing with N P CHATTERJEE J)
—The District Judge having in this case set himself to value not the property sold but an entirely different property the error was not one of fact only and the High Court should interfere CHANDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHURY v BASARAT ALI CHOWDHURY (1917) 22 C W N 627

— Delay in applying to High Court The Revisional jurisdiction of the High Court is discretionary and the Court will not interfere in revision at the instance of applicants who do not show reasonable diligence in prosecuting their cases ADADI BEHARI MISRA v DWARKA PRASAD SINGH 1 Pat L J 185

— Interference under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code—Difference of opinion —Jurisdiction of High Court—Grounds for exercise of its jurisdiction—Omission to add a party—Material prejudice—Criminal Procedure Code ss 145 435 439—Government of India Act (s 6
(co 1 c 61) s 10—Letters Patent cl 36 S 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not apply to a proceeding under 145 which is outside it. On a difference of opinion on revision of such a proceeding the opinion of the senior Judge prevails under cl 36 of the Letters Patent Laddi Singh v Sukdeo Narain Singh
1 L R 97 Cal 399 and Shaikh Syadaddi Mondal v Corb 92 C W N 499 commented on Emperor v Har Prasad Das 1 L R 40 Cal
477 relied on Mathura Sahu v Damri Parn 16
C L J 337 and Bapu v Popu 1 L R 39
Mad 100 approved Queen Empress v Dada
Aho 1 L R 15 Bom 457 dissented from Semble
If it be held that cl 36 applies only to original or appellate jurisdiction the Court should act in the absence of any provision to the contrary upon the principle underlying the clause The power of the High Court to interfere under s 107 of the Government of India Act in cases under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not confined to questions of jurisdiction alone It may also interfere when the Magistrate has acted with illegality or material irregularity and a party has been prejudiced thereby Sukh Lal Sheikh v Tara Chand Ta 1 L R 33 Cal 68 followed Per NEWBOULD J The omission to add a party in a proceeding under s 145 of the Code is not an error of jurisdiction Krishna Kamini v Abdul Jubbar 1 L R 30 Cal 155 followed There was no irregularity in the present case resulting in such material prejudice as would justify the Court's interference Per SHANKS UL HUDA J Where the refusal of the Magistrate to add a party on his application to the proceedings has resulted in a serious failure of justice the Court will set aside

REVIVAL—contd

this attachment but the High Court refused his application as barred. On appeal to the High Court in its Appellate Jurisdiction reference was made by this Court to a Full Bench. Held that the application of the 1st June 1904 and the order of the 30th June 1904 did not constitute a revival within Art. 183 of the 1st Schedule of the Limitation Act 1904. Per SANDEEPSON C J. The substance and not the form of the matter must be looked at and considered from that point of view the application was for the transmission of a certified copy of a decree together with a certificate of non-sati fact and no more and the order made in substance was that the application should be granted. The notice which was used under s. 248 was inapplicable to the proceedings in question. The question whether a decree was capable of execution would have to be determined by the Court itself under s. 249 of the Civil Procedure Code. The Registrar was not clothed with authority to decide such a question as arises in this case viz., whether the decree was barred by the Statute of Limitation P. 30 in Belchambers Rules and Orders was not consistent with the scheme of the Code of 1882. These rules must be read as modified by the Civil Procedure Code 1882 under which the application in this case was made and the notice issued and the order made did not operate as a revival within the meaning of Article 183 of the Limitation Act Schedule I. The fact that the word revival is used in Art. 183 instead of the different matters specified in Art. 182 being set out again or referred to in Art. 183 as might have been done shows that something different to such matters was intended. Further the conditions dealt with by the two clauses are essentially different and the periods of limitation vary materially. Per WOODROFFE J. An order for transmission as such is not an order on an application for execution though it is an order on an application in execution. It is a proceeding taken with a view to further action by way of execution elsewhere on which action unless previously determined the question of the right to execute the decree is decided. If the Registrar had power to issue as a quasi-judicial act notice under s. 248 he had no power to determine judicially that the decree was alive had the debtor contested the point. The Judge must have done that and the fact that the debtor did not appear on the notice cannot give the order passed that judicial character which is necessary for an order operating as a revival. The last two words of the Order (Let execution issue as prayed) make the order operative as one for transmission of the decree for this was what was asked. Per MOOKJEE J. S. 230 makes it plain that the application for execution must be presented to the Court to which the decree has been transmitted for execution while the explanation to s. 248 shows that the notice required by that section must where the decree has been transmitted be issued by the Court to which the decree has been sent for execution. Consequently the issue of the notice in this case under s. 248 on the basis of the application for transmission of the decree was not in conformity with the Code of 1882 which was in force at the time. Upon the application for transmission of the decree under s. 223 a notice under s. 248 could not properly be issued such notice though issued did not by itself operate as revival of the decree and there was not in act and could not in law be such a determination by the Master under s. 249 as would operate to revive the decree. CITIZENRY SINGH v. SATT SUNDARI MULL (1916) I L R 43 Cal 903

REVIVAL—contd

REVOCAION

See HINDU—LAW—WILL.

I L R 39 Mad. 107

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

I L R 40 Cal 5

See PROBATE

I L R 37 Cal 387

I L R 42 Cal 480

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 40 Cal 423

— of authority—

See GUARDIAN

I L R 38 Mad 807

— of gift—

See MUHAMMADAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 36 All 333

See CONTRACT ACT s. 19

I L R 36 Bom 37

— power of—

See GIFT

I L R 39 Cal 933

— presumption of—

See WILL.

I L R 45 Bom 906

REVOLUTIONARY ACTIVITY

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 46 Cal 215

RHANDERIAS

See MUHAMMADAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 43 Cal 1085

RICE MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION RULES

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS

I L R 34 Bom 13

RIGHT OF APPEAL

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 40 Cal 21

RIGHT OF AUDIENCE

See JURISDICTION

I L R 48 Cal 768

RIGHT OF CROSS EXAMINATION

— continuance of—

See CROSS EXAMINATION

I L R 37 Cal 236

RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Cal 449

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See OCCUPANCY TENANT

— acquisition of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 38 Cal 432

RIGHT OF PRIVATE DEFENCE

- See ASSESSORS EXAMINATION OF
I L R 40 Calc 163
- See PENAL CODE ss 96 to 106
- See PRIVATE DEFENCE
- See RIOTING I L R 39 Calc 896
I L R 41 Calc 43
- See SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT
I L R 36 Calc 304

RIGHT OF RE ENTRY

- See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS ACT II OF 1918) ss 9 AND 12
I L R 45 Bom 535

RIGHT OF REPLY

- See APPEAL I L R 38 Calc 307

Right of reply—Duty of Appellate Court to determine accomplice character of Evidence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893) s 421—Practice The appellant has a right of reply to the Crown on the hearing of an appeal Promoda Bhushan Roy v Emperor 11 C W N 211 followed The Appellate Court is bound to find specifically whether witnesses said to be accomplices are so or not and to weigh their evidence accordingly AMANAT SARDAR v VAGENDRA BISWAS (1910)

I L R 38 Calc 307

Exhibiting documents not part of the record on behalf of the accused during the cross examination of the prosecution witnesses—Doctrine of surprise—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893) ss 289 and 292 S 292 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not to be read independently but in connection with s 289 and gives a right of reply only when the accused or any of them adduces evidence after the case for the prosecution has concluded. The prosecution has no right of reply when the counsel for the accused has during the cross examination of a prosecution witness and before the close of the case for the Crown put certain letters which do not form part of the record to such witness and then tendered and had them admitted in evidence. The question whether the prosecution has been taken by surprise is not the correct test under s 292 of the Code EMPEROR v GREENWATH MAHAPATRA (1910)

I L R 43 Calc 426

RIGHT OF SUIT

- See ALIEN ESTATE
I L R 46 Calc 526
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1903) ss 47 73 101
I L R 39 Mad 570
- See CONTRACT
I L R 33 Mad 788
- See EXECUTION SALE
I L R 39 Mad 803
- See LEASE AND LESSEE
I L R 39 Mad 1042
- See PARTIES
I L R 45 Calc 862
- See RIGHT TO SUE

— destruction of—

- See DEED I L R 38 Mad 46
- See RIGHT TO SUE

RIGHT OF SUIT—contd

1 ——— Non service of Summons—Fraud—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1883) s 102—Ex parte decree A fresh suit would not be to set aside a decree on the mere ground of non service of summons though it would be maintainable on the ground of fraud. Radha Ramas Shaha v Pran Nath Roy I L R 28 Calc 475 and Khagendra Nath Mahata v Pran Nath Roy I L R 29 Calc 395 referred to Puran Chand v Soodat Ras I L R 29 All 212 followed NARSIMHA DAS v RAYIKAN (1909) I L R 37 Calc 197

2 ——— Suit by person not party to an instrument—sustainable when charge created in such person's favour—Decrees for relief not specifically asked for when allowable A plaintiff asking for certain specific reliefs and for such other relief as the Court should deem fit should on being found disentitled to the specific reliefs asked for be given such relief as the circumstances justify. A person who is not party to a document but in whose favour a charge is created by such document is entitled to maintain a suit to enforce its terms either as the actual beneficiary or as the charge holder SATTU AMMAL v SUBRAMANIAM (1903)

I L R 33 Mad 933

3 ——— Election suit—Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1881)—Election as Municipal Councillor—Declaration of its invalidity by Collector under r 36 of Election Rules—Civil Courts no jurisdiction to question in—Appointed by election in a 10—Meaning of election An order of a Collector declaring the invalidity of an election of a candidate to a seat in a Municipal Council passed under r 36 of the Election Rules after enquiry and based on proper grounds (i.e. those set forth in r 35) and otherwise complying with the requirements of the rules framed under s 250 of Madras Act IV of 1881 (District Municipalities Act) cannot be questioned in a civil suit but is conclusive as far as the result of the election is concerned Bhaisankar v The Municipal Corporation of Bombay I L R 31 Bom 604 609 followed Maxwell on Interpretation of Statutes 4th Edition p 197 referred to 1909 Raghu v The Secretary of State for India I L R 34 466 Sabhapati Singh v Abdul Gaffur I L R 34 Calc 107 Lalbahar v The Municipal Commissioner of Bombay I L R 33 Bom 334 distinguished. PER CURIAM The status of a Municipal Councillor is the creation of s 10 of Act IV of 1881 and the creation is subject inter alia to the conditions imposed by the Election Rules framed by the Governor in Council under s 250 of the Act and invested by clause (3) with the force of law. One of these rules in s 36 the election gives the candidate elected no vested status as the election is liable to be declared invalid an invalid election can confer no status whatever. The words "appointed by election" in s 10 refer only to a valid election i.e. one which is not set aside without r 36. Semle II an order is passed on grounds other than those set forth in r 35 a suit would probably lie to set it aside as ultra vires. A suit for damages lies in consequence of an invalid order and a suit for a declaration of the validity of an election and an injunction stand on very different footings than is based on the same facts. The former may be decreed while the latter may not. NARAYANA MUDALIYAR v THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF MAYA VARAM (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 129

RIGHT OF SUIT—contd.

4 ——— Suit for exemption from land revenue—Owner alone can bring suit for land by A and B and not in favour of A—Third party cannot question—Pesjudicata Civil Procedure Code Act 1 of 1908 s 13 not exhaustive A suit for a declaration that the land is not liable to assessment can be instituted only by the person entitled to it as owner. If a suit relating to ownership of the land between two persons has ended in favour of one of them third parties having no interest in the land at the time of the litigation cannot in the absence of any collusion or fraud on them dispute the settlement of the dispute between them as to title even for supposed want of jurisdiction and it is equally true that neither of the parties to the litigation can be permitted to aver as against third persons in the like position that the land belongs to him self and not to his opponent in the litigation. Second Appeal No 4 of 1909 followed Bigelow on Toppel 5th edition, 44 referred to Per Curiam The question does not depend upon the application of the doctrine of res judicata s 13 Civil Procedure Code does not cover all cases of estoppel by judgment. The suit was for a declaration that the defendant the Secretary of State for India was not entitled to levy any assessment on certain lands which the plaintiffs claim as part of their agraraham. In previous suits by B against plaintiffs once for a declaration of title and afterwards for possession of the lands the judgments were in favour of B. Held (i) that the plaintiffs in the present suit cannot be permitted to prove as against the present defendant that they were the owners and (ii) that the suit was not maintainable. Semle Even if the previous litigation had ended in favour of the present plaintiffs the Government though it would not be entitled to question the plaintiffs' title would not be bound to regard the land as exempt from revenue. RAMIA MURTI DHORA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 141

5 ——— Transfer of property in consideration of transferee paying sums to third parties—Failure of transferee to pay in reasonable time—Right of transferor to sue for same sums plus costs of damage II A transfers his property to B in consideration of B agreeing to pay certain sums to third person, A himself entitled to sue B for the recovery of those sums as if they are due to him in case of B's failure to pay the third persons within a reasonable time and A is not in such a case bound to show that he was in any way damaged by B's failure. Dorasinga Tetar v Aruna Lalum Chetty I L R 3 Mad 441 Rengannatham v Appala Naidu [C W J 1 No 119 of 1908 (unc. reported)] and Gopala Aiyar v Pamasuami Sistrupal [S A No 183 of 1907 (unreported)] followed. Sita Subramania Mudaliar v Gnana sambanda Pandara Sannadhi 21 Mad I J 359 Chenchuramaya v Subaranyan 3 Mad L T 79 Dorasinga Tetar v Lalshmanan Chetty 14 Mad L J 284 Thangam v Nalliar v Sibbam Mal 16 Mad L J 90 Putti Narayana Murthy Ayyar v Mariamut Pillai I L R 26 Mad 322 Kumar Nath Bhattacharye v Nabo Kumar Bhattacharye I L R 26 Cal 441 and I atin Hassan Begam v Kunwar Pertab Singh L R 361 A 203 distinguished. Suhas Naidu v Bathula Bee Sahiba 8 Mal L T 188 referred to. PAGHU NATHA v SADAGOPA (1913)

I L R 38 Mad. 348

RIGHT OF SUIT—contd.

6 ——— Acquisition of inam land by Government for municipal purposes—Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) s 29 effect of—Sale by Municipalities—Imposition by Government of ground rent on occupier—Ground rent liability to pay—C O No 20 of 20th February 1889 effect of—Exemption from ground rent to be excepted—Even an inam land which is subject only to a quit rent becomes when acquired by Government under the Land Acquisition Act ordinary Government land liable to assessment in the hands of any person who might afterwards become the occupier whether deriving his title directly from the Government or from a Municipality which after such acquisition by the Government becomes owner under s 10 of the Madras District Municipalities Act (IV of 1884) by payment of the amount settled as compensation. Acquisition is only by the Government and not by the Municipality hence the previous inamdar's right to exemption from assessment does not rest in the Municipality. A transferee from the Municipality of such land cannot therefore claim as against the Government exemption from assessment. A person who claims exemption from the payment of such assessment as the Government may fix must show some grant exempting him from the payment of the ordinary assessment. No exemption can be claimed without a grant or exemption in express words. Effect of C O No 210 dated 20th February 1889 permitting Municipal Councils to transfer lands vested in them by sale mortgage or otherwise was not to exempt the transferees from ordinary assessment that might be imposed but was only to remove all objection to the transfer on the ground that the transferor is a Municipal Council. HANU MAYLU v SECRETARY OF STATE (1913)

I L R 38 Mad. 373

7 ——— Title to property seized—Civil Court—Jurisdiction—Order of forfeiture passed by Magistrate—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1898) s 503 524—Disposal of property—Sale proceeds credited to Government—Suit to recover the amount The plaintiff's house was searched in connection with a dacoity and certain property was attached on suspicion. On a proclamation being issued by the 2nd Class Magistrate under s 53 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 the plaintiff appeared before the Magistrate to establish his claim to the property. The claim was disallowed and an order was passed under s 504 of the Criminal Procedure Code for sale of the property. The sale proceeds having been credited to Government the plaintiff brought a suit for the recovery of the amount. The defendant pleaded that a Civil Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the suit. The Assistant Judge decided the suit in plaintiff's favour. The District Judge on appeal dismissed the suit holding that as under s 524 the property was at the disposal of Government the special provisions relating to investigation of claims to property mentioned in s 523 made the decision of the Magistrate final and deprived the person aggrieved of any right of action. On appeal to the High Court—Held reversing the decree that the order of the Magistrate disposing of the property under s 504 of the Criminal Procedure Code was not final and that it did not deprive the plaintiff of his right to establish his claim in a Civil Court. Queen Empress v Tribho

RIOTING—concl'd

Bengal Excise Act (V of 1909) confers wider powers on excise officers than were given under the former Act. Under s 67 read with r 75 of the Rules framed by the Local Government an excise inspector and sub inspector may enter a house for the purpose of arresting without a warrant a person found in the illicit distillation of liquor. S 67 does not relate to any search and an excise officer not below the rank of a sub inspector entering a house for the purpose mentioned therein is not required to comply with the formalities prescribed in Ch X r (8) of the Instructions of the Board of Revenue unless he finds it necessary further to make a search in the house. Where an excise sub inspector accompanied by a constable and two chowkidars and excise peons went to the house of the accused in order to arrest without warrant persons found in the act of illicit distillation of liquor and were attacked and beaten by them before they had time to enter or search the same. Held that they were acting legally under s 67 of the Bengal Excise Act and that the accused were rightly convicted under ss 147 and 353 of the Penal Code. On a charge of rioting with the common object of assaulting public servants persons shown to have committed a separate offence under s 303 of the Penal Code may be separately sentenced thereunder. Formalities required by law prior to search considered. PROKASH CHANDRA GUPTA v EMPEROR (1914)

I L R 41 Cal 836

Interefois acquit—Common object—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 79, 141, 147 and 342—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1893) s 403. Several police constables were convicted of rioting. Two of them were previously tried and acquitted on a charge of wrongful confinement for having taken into custody some persons in course of such rioting. Held that the second trial was not vitiated by contravention of the rule embodied in s 403 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code. R v Barron [1914] 2 K B 570 followed. Suresh Chandra v Banku 2 C L J 629 distinguished. PAM SAHAY RAM v EMPEROR (1920)

I L R 48 Cal 78

RIPARIAN RIGHTS

See EASEMENT

I L R 37 Mad 304

See FISHERY

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT

I L R 40 Mad 886

See NAVIGABLE RIVER

I L R 46 Cal 390

Nature of—Rights of upper riparian owner—Grant of right for user apart from the tenement validity of—artificial reservoir fed by natural stream, grant by riparian owner of right to take water from validity of—Obstruction to exercise of riparian rights—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) ss 23 and 26. The right of a riparian owner is not an easement but a right based on the principle that all streams are publici juris and all the water flowing down any stream is for the common use of mankind living on the bank of the stream. A riparian owner is entitled to use the water from a stream for all reasonable purposes and may therefore permanently divert water for the purpose of irrigating his tenement. He may also make a grant to another riparian owner to take water by means of a channel running through the grantor's land from an artificial reservoir created by the grantor. The question as to whether such an user would be reasonable would depend upon the proper requirements of all the riparian owners. S 3 of the Limitation Act 1908 has no application to the case of an obstruction to the right to take water from a stream whether such right is founded on riparian ownership or a lost grant. An obstruction to such enjoyment is a continuing wrong within the meaning of s 23. MATHANA KRISHNA DAYAL GIR v MUSAMMAT BHAWANI KOER

RIPARIAN RIGHTS—concl'd

3 Pat L J 51

Natural stream flowing in artificial channel rights of user in. The proper inference for the user of water in a natural stream flowing in an artificial channel is that the same as if the stream had been a natural one that is that the water should come without obstruction. RAM KRIPAL SINGH v HANUMAN SINGH

6 Pat L J 6

RISK NOTE

See CONTRACT I L R 43 Bom 69

See RAILWAYS ACT ss 72 AND 75

See RAILWAY COMPANY

Send s risk note—making Railway administration liable only if complete package lost whether opposed to public policy. The sender's risk note used in the East Indian Railway system under which the Railway Company takes liability only when there is a loss of a complete package due to wilful negligence of their staff or theft by their servants is not opposed to public policy. ALL DAS MULLICK v E I RAILWAY CO (1911)

21 C W N 515

rites and ceremonies

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 38 Cal 700

RIVAL CANDIDATE

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 80 Cal 130

RIVAL DECREE HOLDERS

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 74 Cal 109

RIVER

See GRANT

I L R Mad 840

See FIVER BED

RIVER BED

See GRANT

See PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVER

24 C W N 639

See REGULATION XI OF 1875

See RIPARIAN OWNERS

—sitting up and becoming culturable whether part of public domain when river admitted or grooved non navigable—Resumption that it was part of permanently settled estate—Suit to contest wrongful assessment of such river bed—Limitation—Fug II of 1819 ss 23 and 24—Act IX of 1871—Fug III of 1875 s 10—Act IX of 1871.] As soon as it is shown or admitted that a river within the ambit of the zamindari was never a public navigable river the onus which lies on the zemindar to show that its bed was included within the limits of his permanently settled estate is discharged or allotted. The test for determining whether a river is a public navigable river or not is whether or not the river is navigable for boats at all seasons of the year. The question of size may not be without importance but speaking generally the presumption in the one case is that the bed belongs to the public or is public domain and in the other that the bed belongs to a private proprietor. In the absence of any other evidence than that afforded by a thal or survey map these natural pre-emptions may be sufficient to displace the contrary evidence of the map. Maharaja Jagadindra v Secretary of State L P 30 I A 41 s c I L P 30 Calc 231 7 C W N 193 (1907) Haridas v Secretary of State 6 C L J 90 (P C) (1917) Secretary of State v Bijoy Chandra Mahatab I L P 6 Calc 90 s c 22 C W N 53 (1918) and Secretary of State v Palamudunnisa L P 17 I A 40 s c I L P 1 Calc 590 (1859) referred to. The bed of a river included in a permanently settled estate is in no respect different from other waste lands included in the estate and whatever changes may have occurred from natural or artificial causes and however the land may have improved in value Government is not entitled to additional revenue for such land. Lope v Muddun Mohun 13 M J 46 at p 417 5 B L P 571 11 B P 11 (180) and Bala Surya Prasad v Secretary of State L P 44 I A 166 at p 185 s c I L R 40 Mad 846 21 C W N 1050 (1917) referred to. When the bed of such a river silt up and becomes fit for cultivation neither Peg II of 1819 nor Act IX of 1847 authorises the revenue authorities to assess the lands with revenue. Where nevertheless the revenue authorities have assessed such land with revenue under Act IX of 1847 Quare—Whether upon the enactment of Act IX of 1847 the limitation provided by s 24 of Peg II of 1819 ceased to be applicable to a suit by the owner to contest the validity of the assessment and to recover possession of the land. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v PRATULLA NATH TAGORE

FIVER BED—contd

24 C W N 809

*Suit to contest order of Board of Revenue confirming assessment of land formed by silting up of river bed—Limitation—Peg II of 1819 s 24—Peg III of 1878 s 10—Act IX of 1847 s 6—Bed of public navigable river shown in thal and revenue survey maps as within permanently settled estate—Bed of to be presumed part of estate. The rules contained in s 10 of Peg III of 1828 and s 24 of Peg II of 1819 govern a suit to contest an order of the Board of Revenue under s 6 of Act IX of 1847 confirming an assessment under the Act and to obtain incidental relief such as recovery of possession of lands of which possession has been taken under s 10 of Reg III of 18.8. Fahamudunnisa s case I L P 14 Calc 17 (F B) (1886) on P C L R 17 I A 40 (1889) referred to. An order under s 6 of Act IX of 1847 confirming an assessment of revenue corresponds to a decision of the Board under Peg II of 1819 and unless the suit of the nature indicated by cl (3) of s 10 of Reg III of 18.8 is brought within the time limited by s 24 of Reg II of 1819 the decision of the Board declaring the land liable to assessment becomes final and conclusive for all purposes. Where the Board of Revenue found that a river the channels whereof had not materially changed between 1893 and 1894*

RIVER BED—concl

was a public navigable river but the thal and survey maps of 1861 shewed the whole width of the river as included in the permanently settled estate of the plaintiff the plaintiff offering no other evidence. Held—That the thal and survey maps were not in themselves sufficient to justify the Court in saying that the Board's order was wrong and should be reversed. Maharaja Jagadindra s case L P 30 I A 41 s c I L R 30 Calc 231 7 C W N 193 (1907) referred to. The question whether a river or watercourse is navigable or not does not depend on its name. PRATULLA NATH TAGORE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA 24 C W N 813

RIWAJ I AM

- See CUSTOM L L E 39 All 574
 — evidentiary value of—
 See CUSTOM I L R 44 Calc 749
 — Jhelum District Jats succession to acquired property—
 See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION) I L R 2 Lah. 28
 — Karnal District—Succession by daughter to self acquired property—
 See CUSTOM—SUCCESSION I L R 2 Lah 368
 — Ludhiana District—Adoption by an adopted son—
 See CUSTOM (ADOPTION) I L R 1 Lah 39
 — Jullundur District—Adoption of daughter's son—
 See CUSTOM (ADOPTION) I L R 2 Lah 193
 — Jullundur District—Succession of sister—
 See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION) I L R 1 Lah 1 & 433
 — Jullundur District—Adoption of brother's daughter's son—S c CUSTOM (ADOPTION) I L R 1 Lah 15
 — Jullundur District—Succession—daughter or collaterals—
 See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION) I L R 1 Lah 464
 — Shahpur—Succession—daughter or near collaterals—
 S c CUSTOM (SUCCESSION) I L R 1 Lah 284
 — Tahsil Chakwal District Jhelum—alienation in favour of daughter—See CUSTOM (ALIENATION) I L R 1 Lah 170
- ROAD
 See BHAGDARI VILLAGE I L R 37 Bom 87
 See MUNICIPALITY I L R 43 Calc 130
 — making and maintenance of—
 See FORT I L R 39 Mad 351

ROAD AND PUBLIC-WORKS CESS ACT

See CESS ACT

ROAD CESS

— arrears of—

See PUBLIC DEMANDS PROCEEDINGS ACT s
10 14 C W N 807

— sale for arrears of—

See MUTT, HEAD OF
I L R 38 Mad 356ROAD CESS RETURN

See TRISHUKANA PAPER

[I L R 39 Calc, 995

1 — Evidence—Road cess return filed by a temporary lessee—Bengal Cess Act (IX of 1880) s 95—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 21. The provisions of s 95 of the Bengal Cess Act are not exhaustive. They merely limit the application of s 21 of the Indian Evidence Act and exclude road cess returns when they are sought to be admitted in favour of the person by or on behalf of whom they have been filed. A road cess return filed by a person in his capacity as a temporary lessee of a certain property is admissible in evidence in favour of the superior landlord inasmuch as he could not be regarded as a person by or on behalf of whom the return was filed. BEWDEO NARAIN SINGH v. AJODHYA PRASAD SINGH (1912) I L R 39 Calc 1005

2 — Statements made in road cess returns by Khopa khars or holders of a maintenance grant as to the character of their tenure are good evidence of title against a defendant claiming under them, if not as admissions certainly as positive evidence in support of plaintiff's claim. KALI SANKAR SAHAI v. MAHARAJA INATAP UDAI SAHI DYO (1911) 16 C W N 623

ROAD CESS ACT (BENG IX OF 1880)

ss 8 72 76 80 81—The Royalty or percentage on the products of a mine payable by mine owners to the proprietor of the land is part of the annual net profits of the mine and liable to cess. MAHARAJA MANINDRA CHANDRA NARAY v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE

15 C W N 201

s 20—Rent suit for—Rent claimed at higher rate than amount entered in Road Cess Return. Unless there has been a material alteration of the holding a landlord is not entitled to claim rent at a rate higher than that stated in the Road Cess Return. Mere alteration in area due either to re-measurement or encroachment will not take a case out of s 20 of the Road Cess Act 1880. A suit for an entry in the Record of Rights which only raises a presumption for an entry in a jama would fail which states what the tenant's rent for a particular year was can override the provisions of the Act. PHANTERHARI MANTON v. SAID SEBAZUL HUDA

1 Pat. L J 521

ss 47 and 64 (A and B)—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 65
1 Pat. L J 161ROYAL PROCLAMATION OF AUGUST 1914

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

I L R 44 Bom 631

ROYALTY

See INCOME TAX ACT 1918 s 6

6 Pat. L J 89

See MINES I L R 33 Calc 39

— action for—

See TRADE MARK I L R 42 Calc 289

— arrears of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 30 Calc 810

— payment of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 46 Calc 659

— suit for—

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Calc 759

ROYALTY OR SEIGNIORAGE FEES

— right of Government to buy—

See INAM I L R 40 Mad 259

RULESSee CALCUTTA RENT ACT 1910
25 C W N 661See ULTRA VIRES
I L R 43 Calc 935RULES AND ORDERS OF COURTS

See UNDER VARIOUS HIGH COURTS

RULES OF EVIDENCE

See APPEAL I L R 38 Calc 145

RULING CHIEF

— suit against—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 68
6 Pat. L J 185
I L R 30 Mad. 635RULING OF COURT

— of co-ordinate jurisdiction. A Judge on the Original Side is ordinarily bound to consider with respect to the decision of another Judge on the Original Side produced before him but that if he is convinced that the decision is erroneous he is not under any obligation to follow it against his own judgment. MAHARAJA DASS MOOLJI v. BISSERSWAR TAL HARGOVIND
24 C W N 1039

RYOT

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) s 3 I L R. 30 Mad 1135

RYOTI LANDSee MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) s 3
I L R. 30 Mad 1135
I L R. 40 Mad. 599ss. 9 11 151 157
I L R. 3 Mad. 81

RYOTI RENT

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s. 3. I L R. 111 Mad. 733

RYOTWARI LAND OWNER.

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s. 189 I L R. 111 Mad. 239

RYOTWARI LANDS

acquisition of, by Government—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) ss 6 sub s. (6) 8
I L R. 39 Mad. 944

RYOTWARI TENURE.

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) ss 6 sub s. (6) 8
I L R. 111 Mad. 944

SSACRIFICE OF GOAT

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT s 23 15 C W N 686

SADALWAR AND MATHIRI KASUVU

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s 13 CL. (3)
I L R 39 Mad 84

SALARY

See ATTACHMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 60

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY 25 C W N 534

SALE.

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 418

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKARAN LANDS I L R 45 Calc 765

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 144 151
I L R 43 Bom 235

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS
I L R 42 All 437
I L R 33 All 337 585
I L R 41 Bom. 5

See CONTRACT I L R 110 All 166

See CONTRACT ACT (IY OF 1872)—

s 11 I L R 35 All 370

s 70 I L R 40 All 555

s 74 I L R 38 All 52

See COURT SALE

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT 1879 s 10 I L R 45 Bom 87

See ESTOPPEL I L R 48 Calc 591

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 38 Calc 623

See EXECUTION SALE

See EXECUTOR SALE BY
I L R 36 Mad 575

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY I L R 43 Bom 472

SALE—contd

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 38 All 483

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Calc 1016

See JURISDICTION I L R 114 Bom 13

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 74
I L R 41 Bom 170

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)

SCH I—

ART 44 I L R 42 Bom 626

ARTS 62 AND 97

I L R 38 Mad 887

ART 116 I L R 40 All 605

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

I L R 37 All 522

See MORTGAGE I L R 118 Calc 923

I L R 40 Calc 534

I L R 42 Calc 780

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 48 Calc 184

See PRE EMPTION I L R 114 Bom 567

See PRIVATE SALE

I L R 45 Calc 780

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 34 I L R 37 All 452

See PATNI TALUK I L R 48 Calc 454

See RECEIVER 14 C W N 580

I L R 43 Calc 124

See SALE BY GOVERNMENT

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

See SALE OF GOODS

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877) s 27 I L R 38 All 184

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 40 I L R 40 Bom 498

s 54 I L R 34 Bom 129
I L R 37 All 631

s 55 I L R 43 All 314
15 C W N 655

s 55 CL 4 (6) I L R 33 Mad. 446
I L R 111 All 254

ss 55 123 I L R 34 Bom 287

ss 60 67 AND 68

I L R 39 Mad 886

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER

I L R 35 Bom 269

— agreement to recovery—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 54 I L R 39 Bom 472

— application to set aside—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 214
14 C W N 823

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXI s 90 I L R 38 All 358

See DEPOSIT IN COURT

I L R 43 Calc 100

See PAYMENT INTO COURT

I L R 45 Bom 967

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 39 Calc 26

SALE—contd

- by Mahomedan to Hindu
See PRE EMPTION I L R 45 Bom 658
- by mother—
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MIROR
I L R 37 Mad 514
- by prior mortgagee—
See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Cal 702
- by servant or partner—
See ADULTERATION
I L R 39 Cal 682
- Constructive Notice—
See NOTICE I L R 45 Bom 910
- by minor co partner—
See PARTITION SUIT
I L R 45 Bom 983
- by a Municipality—without written contract.
See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (Bom Act III of 1901) ss 96
AND 40 (C) I L R 45 Bom 797
- By natural guardian—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXXII s 7 I L R 44 Bom 574
- Compromise in a suit for land—
whether a sale—
See LUNACY (DISTRICT COURTS) ACT 1858
I L R 1 Lah 109
- consideration—whether par^a co habitation sufficient—
See CONTRACT I L R 44 Bom 542
- claimant paying into Court the decretal amount to set aside sale—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXI R 100 99 (2)
I L R 45 Bom 1094
- Execution proceedings transferred to the Collector—
See HIGH COURT CIVIL CIRCULARS P
100 R. 17 I L R 45 Bom 1132
- Decree against a judgment debtor who dies—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 2 CL (II) O XXI R 22
I L R 45 Bom 1186
- Oral evidence to prove transaction only a mortgage—
See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' REGLES
ACT 1879 s 2 I L R 44 Bom 217
- confirmation of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1892 s 316
I L R 33 All 63
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 63
I L R 41 All 528
- See PRE EMPTION I L R 33 All 45
- See SECOND APPEAL
I L R 39 Cal 687
- contract of—
See CHUKANI RIGHT
I L R 42 Cal 28
- See SELLER AND PURCHASER.
I L R 38 Cal 458

SALE—contd

- Deposit or Earnest money on—
See CONTRACT I L R 41 All 293
- free of incumbrance—
See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III
OF 1907) ss 20 22
I L R 39 Mad. 419
- in execution of a decree—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXI s 90 I L R 38 All 355
- knowledge of—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sec
I ART 120 I L R 38 Mad. 67
- necessity of—
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MIROR
I L R 35 Bom. 717
- of mortgaged property—
See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Cal 257
- of mortgagor's rights—
See BUNDELKHAND ALIENATION ACT (II
OF 1903) s 3 I L R 37 All 457
- of right title and interest of mortgagor—
See TITLE I L R 37 Cal 239
- of trust property—
See TRUSTS I L R 43 Bom 519
- properties advertised for by the Official Receiver as subject to mortgage—
See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 20 AND 22
I L R 38 Mad. 479
- Putni Taluk—
See PATNI REGULATORY 1819 s 14
25 C W N 42
- right of repurchase reserved on—
See CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 244
- stay of—
See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Cal 897
- suit for on a mortgage—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXIV R 4 s 6 AND 10
I L R 40 All 109
- s 6 I L R 40 All 203
- to prior mortgagee after creation of a puisne mortgage—
See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Mad. 18
- validity of—
See CERTIFICATE OF SALE
I L R 37 Cal. 107
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 AND 70
I L R 38 Mad. 108
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (II OF 1882) ss 85 91
I L R 38 Mad. 418
- Order for stay of—Only becomes effective only when communicated to the lower Court. An order by the Appellate Court for stay of sale takes effect only when communicated to the lower Court; and a sale by the lower Court

SALE—contd

after the passing of the order but before the order was communicated is valid. Devewari Chowdhury v. Horromunder Moondar I C N 11 276 followed. Hikim Chard Bui v. Kamalchand Singh I L R 33 Cal 90, not followed. MUTHUKRISHNAN POWTHER MINDA NATANAR v. KUTTESAMI VITANGAR (1909) I L R 11 Mad 74

2 ——— Option of re-purchase.—Suit by vendor's grandson against the vendee's daughter in law—Covenant to repurchase purely personal. A deed of sale with an option of repurchase contained the following clause:—I have given the land into your possession if perhaps at any time I require back the land I will pay you the aforesaid Rs. 600 and any money you may have spent on enlarging the land into good condition and purchase back the land. In a suit brought 30 years after execution of the deed by the grandson of the vendor against the daughter in law of the vendee to exercise the option of repurchase—Held that the covenant to repurchase was purely personal and the suit was not maintainable. GURUNATH BALAJI v. YAMANAYA (1911) I L R 115 Bom 258

3 ——— Sale by Receiver.—Sale by the Court and sale by Receiver under direction of Court distinction—Sale by Receiver if requires confirmation of sale certificate by Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXI rr 9 and 94. A sale by a Receiver under direction of Court is not a sale by Court and in such a sale the Court does not grant a sale certificate nor does it confirm the sale. Vinodchinnisa Bibee v. Khatonissa Bibee I L R 21 Cal 479 explained. GOLAN HUSAIN CASSIM AHMED v. FATIMA BEGUM (1910) 16 C W N 34

4 ——— Covenant for title.—Claim made against purchaser compromised before suit brought—Right of purchaser to claim indemnity from covenantor. The purchaser of immovable property concerning which the seller has covenanted to indemnify the purchaser in the event of the title proving defective is not bound to wait until a suit is brought and he is deprived of the property by reason of a decree passed therein but if a claim which the purchaser has substantial reason to believe to be valid is brought against him he may after notice to the covenantor compromise such claim and sue the covenantor on his covenant to recover the amount paid by him to effect the compromise. Smith v. Compton 3 B & A 407 referred to. DURGAPADAIAH v. KALI CHARAN (1913) I L R 35 All 168

5 ——— Contract for sale.—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s. 54—Pains—Rent liability for—Mere possession without assignment of lease effect of. A contract for sale as defined by s. 54 of the Transfer of Property Act does not of itself create an interest in property and therefore a mere agreement to buy does not create a liability to pay the rent of the tenure the subject-matter of the contract for sale. Cox v. Bishop 8 DeG M & G 815 and Chaturbhuy Morari v. Bennett I L R 29 Bom 323 referred to. Mere possession of a pains will not render a man liable for rent if the lease has not been assigned to him. Clo v. Wilberforce 1 Bea 110. Sanders v. Benson 4 Beav 350. Flight v. Bentley 7 Sim 149 and Walsh v. Lonsdale L R 21 Ch 11 referred to. Prasanna Coomari Paul Chowdhury v. Koylash

SALE—contd

Churder Paul Chowdhury v. S. H. P. 498. Macnaghten v. Bheerappa Singh 2 C I P 393. Ka. v. Kishor Sen v. Satyendra Nath Bhadra 15 C N 191 and Ibidiab Chowdhury v. Eggar I L R 35 Cal 157 distinguished. ANANDA CHANDRA ROY v. ABDULLAH HOSSEIN CHOWDHURY (1913) I L R 41 Cal 148

6 ——— Court sale.—Acceptance of bid—If incomplete without Court's sanction—Court and Nazir's respective functions in regard to bids. PER COX J.—Under the rules it is the Nazir's business to complete the sale though the Court (as well as the Nazir) has a discretion to decline acceptance of the highest bid when the price offered appears so clearly inadequate as to make it advisable to do so. The Court has a quasi-revisional discretion in the matter and is not required itself to knock down the property. If a person goes to bid at a sale and in full knowledge of this condition offers bids for the property and the property is knocked down to him the mere fact that the Court has subsequently the discretion to confirm or annul the Nazir's action does not leave it open to the bidder to withdraw his bid. Quare. Whether a second appeal lies from an order refusing leave to the decree holder to withdraw his bid. RAJENDRA PRASAD JHA v. UPENDRA NATH JHA (1913) 19 C W N 628

7 ——— Execution sale decree reverses d. alter.—Purchases in parts by decree holder by a defendant not a judgment debtor and by a stranger how effected—Mother of infant defendants appointed guardian without express consent—Decree if binds infants—Infants' interest if passes at sale. A Court is not competent to appoint the mother of infant defendants their guardian ad litem without her express consent. Where in a mortgage suit the mother who was proposed by the plaintiff as guardian did not appear or signify her willingness to act as guardian ad litem of the infant defendants but the Court nevertheless appointed her guardian and the suit ended in a decree and a sale of the infants and others' properties. Held that the infants were not properly before the Court and were not bound by the decree and the sale did not pass the right title and interest of the infant. Where a decree is set aside subsequently to a sale in execution of the decree the sale will be cancelled if the purchase has been made by the decree holder but not when the purchaser is a stranger. The sale will also be cancelled when the purchaser though not the decree holder is one who was a party to the proceeding. Though r. 4 of O XXIV of the Civil Procedure Code contemplates a sale of the mortgaged properties the decree must be suitably modified in exceptional circumstances. eg when the mortgaged properties have already been converted into money by operation of law. NARENDRA CHANDRA MANDAL v. JOGENDRA NARAYAN ROY (1914) 19 C W N 537

8 ——— Execution of rent decree.—Encumbrance—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss. 159, 163 to 167—Decree for arrears of rent—Sale under the Bengal Tenancy Act effect of—Purchase by landlord. Where a tenure is sold under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act in execution of a decree for arrears of rent and the procedure presented in the Act has been observed the result therein described as follows namely the purchaser becomes entitled to annul

SALE—contd

all encumbrances other than registered and notified encumbrances the consequence of the sale does not depend upon the amount of the bid offered by the successful purchaser it is independent of the value of the bid. S 165 of the Act was enacted solely for the benefit of the decree holder if the bid is not sufficient to satisfy his decree and courts it entitles him to have the property sold with power to annul all encumbrances but it is not obligatory upon him to adopt this extreme measure and he is not in peril if he decides not to pursue this special remedy. Banbihari Kuper v Akhtra Pal Singh Poo 1 L R 33 Cal 293 not followed. SALIMULLAH v PAKISTAN (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 263

9 ——— District Board, sale by—Immovable property—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 51—Incorporated Company—Suit dismissed—Contract rescission of—Waiver—Ponderit—Cross objection—Civil Procedure Code (Act of 1908) O XII r 22 (3) 33—Corporation d t t of when it receives money under an illegal or ultra vires agreement S 54 of the Transfer of Property Act provides that a sale of tangible immovable property of the value of Rs 100 and upwards can be made only by a registered instrument. Title to land therefore cannot pass by a mere admission when the statute requires a deed. Jada Nath v Poo Lal 1 L R 3 Cal 967. Dharam Chard v Mangoo Sah 16 C L J 436. Narak Lal v Mangoo Lal 22 C L J 380 referred to. Hemendra Nath Mukerjee v Kumar Nath Poo 1 L R 32 Cal 169 distinguished. The effect of rr 93 and 98 of the Statutory Rules made by the Lieutenant Governor on the 10th December 1883 under s 138 (d) of Beng Act III of 1883 is that no immovable property vested in a District Board can be sold except with the previous approval of the Local Government and except by an instrument under the common seal signed by the Chairman and by two members of the Board. It is well settled principle of interpretation that Courts in construing a statute will give much weight to the interpretation put upon it at the time of its enactment and since by those whose duty it has been to construe execute and apply it although such interpretation has not by any means controlling effect upon the Courts and may be disregarded for cogent and persuasive reasons. Balehar v Bhargathi 1 L R 35 Cal 701 referred to. When a public body or a Company is established by statute or is incorporated for special purposes only and is altogether the creature of Statute Law the prescriptions for its acts and contracts are imperative and essential to their validity. Hard v Peck 13 C B (N S) 678. Stapleton v Haymen 2 H & C 918. The Andalusian 1 R 31 D 180. Le Feuvre v Miller 8 E & B 321. Cope v Thames Haven 3 Fzch 841. Duggle v Io don and Jackwell Ry 6 Exch 447. Frend v Dennett 4 C B (N S) 576. Cornwall Mfg Co v Beandt 2 H & C 493. Irish Post Co v Millar 1 H & C 398. Bottomley's Case 16 Ch D 631 and In Pe Gifford and B ry Town Council 20 Q B D 329 referred to. A suit need not be dismissed merely because the authority for its institutions such as a certificate under the Pensions Act 1861 or s 78 of the Land Registration Act or s 60 of the Bengal Tenancy Act or s 4 of the Succession Certificate Act is not produced with the plaint. But this principle has no application to a case where the plaintiff at the date of the institution of the suit had no title at all. Chard v Akhtra Kri. Poo, 1 H C L J 5 referred to. One contract is rescinded by another between the same parties when the latter is inconsistent with and renders impossible the performance of the former but if they differ in terms their legal effect is the same and the second is merely a ratification of the first and the two must be construed together where the second contract is consistent with the continuance of the former one it has no effect unless and until it is performed. Hunt v South Eastern Railway Co 45 L J C P 87. Dodd v Chirion (1857) 1 Q B 562. Patmore v Colburn 1 Cr M & E 65. Tierney v Yeats 3 C B (N S) 831 referred to. E 1 where parties enter into a contract which if valid would have the effect, by implication of rescinding a former contract and it turns out that the second transaction cannot operate as the parties intended it does not have the effect by implication of affecting their rights in respect to the former transaction. Wade v Ward 4 H & C 149. L P 1 Exch 177. Doe dem. Biddis v Post 11 Q B 713 referred to. Where the question is whether the one party is set free by the action of the other the real matter for consideration is whether the acts or conduct of the one do or do not amount to an intimation of an intention to abandon and altogether to refuse performance of the contract. The true question is whether the acts and conduct of the party evince an intention no longer to be bound by the contract. and Mersey Steel and Iron Co v Taylor Ben and Co 9 App Cas 431. General Billposting Co v The Atkinson (1909) A C 113 referred to. The Court requires as clear evidence of the waiver as of the existence of the contract itself and will not act upon less. Carolan v Brabo on 3 J & J 200 referred to. Where a corporation receives money or property under an agreement which turns out to be ultra vires or illegal it is not entitled to retain the money. The obligation to do justice rests upon all persons natural and artificial if one obtains the money or property of others without authority the law independently of express contract will compel restitution or compensation. Chaples v Drury 11 Building Society 6 Q B D 696 referred to. As an ordinary rule a respondent in an appeal is not entitled to urge cross-objections except as against the appellant. But r 2 (3) of O XII of the Code of 1903 has materially altered the pre-existing law by the substitution of the words "party who may be affected by such objection" for the word "appellant" contained in s 51 (3) of the Code of 1883. Further r 33 of O XII has conferred wide discretionary powers on the Court of Appeal to alter the decree of the Court below as the case may require. MATHURA MONA SAHA v PAM KUMAR SAHA (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 260

SALE—contd

10 ——— Benami—Suit by purchaser under registered kholas against defendant's possession—Plaintiff has to prove passing of consideration—Plaintiff in deed admitted receipt of consideration—Second appeal—Onus of proof on plaintiff to prove his title when a defendant in possession pleads he is only a benami holder shows a prima facie title by producing a recital of a conveyance which usually contains a recital of the receipt of consideration. The onus in such a case is on the defendant to show non payment of consideration. The fact that the defendant is in possession is an important element to be taken into consideration in determining whether the transaction is benami. But there is no presumption in favour of benami even where the defendant is in possession. Where the lower Appellate Court held that the plaintiff's purchase was benami being influenced by the erroneous view that the onus was on the plaintiff though it relied also on the fact that the defendant was in possession the finding was reversed in second appeal and the case was sent back for re hearing. A recital in a deed of sale admitting the receipt of consideration is evidence though not conclusive against the vendor. DURG CHARAN CHANDRA v THE HUF DA Co LD (1915) 20 C W N 254

SALE—contd

11 — Sale of Tenancy—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)—Status of the decree holder—Effect of the cessation of interest (partial or entire) of the landlord Where the decree holder continued to be the sole landlord at the date of the application for execution of the decree and in his character as landlord decree holder took the necessary steps for the sale of the under tenure in conformity with the statutory provisions the effect of the execution sale is to pass the under tenure to the purchaser even though the decree holder has lost his interest as landlord before the actual sale. Forbes v Maharaja Bahadur Singh I L R 41 Calc 978 distinguished Hem Chunder Bhunia v Mon Mohini Das 3 C W N 604 Chhatrapati Singh v Gopi Chand Bhatia I L R 26 Calc 720 Srimant Roy v Mahadeo Mahata I L R 31 Calc 550 Khehra Pal Singh v Kriarathamoy Das I L R 33 Calc 566 Profulla v Narabhanes 24 C F J 331 referred to STEDUTTESA KHATY v AMIRUDDI (1917) I L R 45 Calc 294

12 — Date of sale—With the date of confirmation—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 167 162 The words date of sale referred to in s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act mean the date when the sale is confirmed and not the date when the property is actually sold to the purchaser. Matangini Choudhuran v Sreenath Das 7 C W N 559 referred to Banko Behary Das v Krishna Chandra Bhattacharya 13 C W N 49 18 C L J 170 approved Yusuf Gani v Asmat Mollah 17 C W N 440 dissenting from NANDA LAL BANERJEE v UMESH CHANDRA DAS (1917) I L R 45 Calc 151

13 — Application to set aside—Limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 47 O XXI r 90—Application to set aside a sale in execution of a decree on the ground that the property did not belong to the original judgment debtor—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch II Arts 166 181 An application under s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure for setting aside the sale of a property on the ground that it did not belong to the original judgment debtor is governed by Art 166 of the Limitation Act and not Art 185. SATISH CHANDRA KUNZOR v NISHU CHANDRA DUTTA (1919) I L R 46 Calc 975

14 — Application to set aside sale on the ground that application for execution was barred by limitation—grounds for setting aside sale which has been confirmed No application to set aside a sale held in execution of a decree on the ground that the application for attachment and sale was barred by limitation can be made after confirmation of the sale. Lakhu Rai v Maharaja Kesho Prasad Singh Bahadur 2 Pat L J 157

SALE—contd

15 — Application to set aside sale—Fraud involving suppression of processes and submission of false returns its continuing influence—Burden of proving clear and definite knowledge of facts constituting fraud—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115 In a case to set aside sale under O XXI r 90 Civil Procedure Code the applicant must have knowledge not merely of the factum of the sale but a clear and definite knowledge of the facts which constitute the fraud before time can run against him or her. When by a fraud involving suppression of processes and submission of false returns the applicant is kept out of knowledge of the sale of his property such fraud must be held to have a continuing influence. Indeed in such a case it is for the other side to show that the injured party had clear and definite knowledge of the facts which constitute the fraud at a time from which taken as a starting point the suit is barred by limitation. Karayan Sahu v Mohanlal Damodar Das 16 C W N 394 and Rohimbhoy Habibbhoj v Turner I L R 17 Bom 341 referred to. The Court below in shutting out evidence acted with material irregularity in the exercise of its jurisdiction. BRISWAN MANT DAS v PROFULLA KRISTO DES (1920) I L R 48 Calc 119

16 — Notice—In the case of an oral sale with possession and payment followed by a registered sale to another person with notice of first sale it was held that first sale had priority and could claim a registered sale deed. DESAIBHAI JORABHAI v ISHVAR JESHING I L R 44 Bom 586

17 — Sale under mortgage decree—High Court Original Side—Mortgage Decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 89 The provisions of O XXI r 89 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) apply to a sale under a mortgage decree and in the Original side of a Chartered High Court. A Judge on the Original Side is ordinarily bound to consider with respect the decision of another Judge on the Original Side produced before him, but if he is convinced that the decision is erroneous he is not under an obligation to follow it against his own judgment. Surendra Kristo Roy v Guru Pada Ghosh 24 C W N 536 overruled Chaitram Rambhaya v Briddichand Kesrichand I L R 42 Calc 1140 explained VRJIBAN DASS MOOLJI v BISRWAR LAL HARGOVIND (1920) I L R 48 Calc 69

18 — Procured by fraud—Reconveyance—Where a sale under Act XI of 1859 was brought about by deliberate default on the part of the agent of one of the co owners of the estate and the purchase at the sale was effected under a pre arranged plan to which the said agent was a party in the name of a person who under that arrangement was to hold the property for the benefit of himself and the other parties to it. Held—That the sale had no higher effect than a private alienation and the purchaser had taken with notice of or was imp fraud should be made to reconvey the property to the rightful owners KUMAR SATISH KANTO ROY & SATISH CHANDRA CHATTOPADHYA

SALE—condid

24 C W N 662

19 ——— For rent arrears under Bengal Tenancy Act—In Orissa since the extension there to of Ch XIV of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 a sale under Bengal Act VIII of 1865 is liable to be set aside under s 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act upon the Judgment Debtor depositing in Court within 30 days of the sale the amount of the decree LAKSHMIDAR MAHANTI & KATYAKAR MAHAPATRA
I L R 48 Cal 811

SALE ABSOLUTE

See INCUMBRANCE I L R 43 Cal 558

SALE BY GOVERNMENT

See WASTE LANDS ACT 1863 s 18
I L R 44 Cal 328

SALE CERTIFICATE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION
I L R 40 Cal 173

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
s 66 24 C W N 1011

s 115 AND O XXI R 68
2 Pat L J 130

O XXI R 94
S & MORTGAGE

I L R 44 Mad 483
See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE
20 C W N 819

Misdescription of property to be sold—Right of auction purchaser to recover possession of property actually liable to sale
Where a holding is sold in execution of a rent decree the paramount description in the sale certificate is ordinarily the general description of the holding. The plot numbers are a subordinate description RAJENDRA PRASAD SAHU & GANGAN KOER
2 Pat L J 623

SALE-DEED

See AGREEMENT TO SELL
I L R 36 Bom 446

See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED
I L R 39 Bom 119
I L R 40 Bom 74

See DEKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII of 1879) s 3 CL (y) AND 10A
I L R 40 Bom 397
I L R 45 Bom 87

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 92
I L R 34 Bom 59
I L R 35 Bom 93

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ARTS 132 144
I L R 35 Bom 438

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 91
I L R 42 Bom 638

See SUIT FOR CANCELLATION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 38 All 232

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s 54
I L R 40 Bom 313
I L R 41 Bom 500

See TRUST ACT 1850 s 68
I L R 43 Bom 173

SALE-DEED—condid

— for a low value from client—
See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT
I L R 40 Mad 69

— misale in—
See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 91
CL (a) I L R 39 Mad 99

— Minor's suit to set aside—
See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1872 s 41
I L R 34 Bom 15

— Old document—admissibility of—
See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 99
I L R 44 Bom 710

— Price specified in—
See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 99
I L R 38 Mad 314

— Covenant for title breach of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 116—
Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 55 (1)
A suit for compensation for breach of an express or implied covenant for title and quiet enjoyment in respect of a sale deed executed after coming into force of the Transfer of Property Act is governed by Art 116 of the Limitation Act. Case law reviewed Subbarga Reddier v Raja gopala Reddier (1914) Mad W N 516 approved. Covenant for title under s 55 (1) of the Transfer of Property Act is annexed to the contract of sale as well as to the conveyance ARUNACHALA v RAMASAMI (1914)
I L R 38 Mad 1171

— Unregistered agreement to reconvey—Mortgage by conditional sale
The plaintiff purchased the property in suit for defendant in 1895 and at the same time passed an agreement to reconvey the property after 5 years. This document was not registered. Thereafter the plaintiff leased the land to the defendant from time to time and in 1915 sued to recover possession on the strength of the rent notes passed to him by defendant. The Court of first instance allowed the plaintiff's claim holding that s 10A of the Dekhan Agriculturists Relief Act did not apply and that the agreement to reconvey could not be looked into for want of registration. The lower Appellate Court reversed the decree on the ground that the sale deed was obtained by misrepresentation and that the defendant would never have passed the same if the plaintiff had not assured him that his ownership was not lost and that he would be allowed to redeem. The plaintiff appealed to the High Court. Held decreeing the suit (1) that the lower Appellate Court's view that the transaction must be considered a mortgage because there had been a misrepresentation at the time the document was signed could not be upheld (2) that the defendant's case did not proceed upon the footing that the two documents together constituted a mortgage by conditional sale nor was there evidence before the Court to come to that conclusion (3) that the case set up by the defendant was one for specific performance of an agreement to reconvey and that defence could not succeed in law. PER MACLEOD C J—
Where the question is whether a sale-deed and the agreement to reconvey make together a mortgage by conditional sale the Court has strictly speaking to look to the actual contents of the documents and to construe them accordingly. But it may be that there is such extrinsic evidence and circumstances which show the relation of the written language to existing facts that therefore it would be possible to come to the conclusion that the documents which on the face of them constitute a sale and an agreement to receive within a certain period or after a certain period amount to a mortgage. SATTA NET v DHOOPU (190) I L R 41 Bom 901

SALE-DEED—concl

SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 2

I L R 33 Mad 842

See SALE

Purchase of putni—

Opposition to purchaser's possession—Application for proclamation—The District Judge or the Collector the proper authority to issue proclamation—Pent Recovery (Under Tenures) Act (Beng VIII of 1865) s 3—Peeping Act (VII of 1835) s 1—Pegulations VIII of 1819 ss 8 9 15 () 1 of 18 0 and VII of 1835 s 16 Cl () of a 15 of Pegulation VIII of 1819 has not been affected by s 3 of Beng Act VIII of 1865. Proceedings taken to annul the sale of certain putni lands sold for arrears of rent having terminated in favour of the purchaser and the sale having become final and conclusive the purchaser in attempting to realise the rents from the cultivators of the lands comprised in the tenure purchased by him was opposed in his attempt by some of the intermediate holders who claimed interest between the late putni and the cultivators. Thereupon he applied to the District Judge to issue a proclamation under s 15 of the Putni Peg VIII of 1819. The District Judge returned the application and directed that it should be made to the Collector who was the proper authority to issue the proclamation. Held that the view taken by the District Judge was erroneous and that he had failed to exercise the jurisdiction still vested in him by law under cl (2) s 15 of the Putni Reg VIII of 1819. MANMATHA NATH MITTER v DISTRICT JUDGE 24 PARGANAS (1916)

I L R 44 Calc 715

Sale under Ben Act

VIII of 1885—Deposit in Court—Setting aside sale. In Orissa since the extension thereto of Ch XIV of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) a sale under Ben Act VIII of 1885 is liable to be set aside under s 174 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1895 upon the judgment debtor depositing in the Court within 30 days of the sale the amount recoverable under the decree. Judgment of the High Court affirmed. LAKSHMINAR MAHANTI v RATNAKAR MAHAPATRA (1901)

I L R 48 Calc 811

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907 ss 20 AND 22 I L R 39 Mad 479

See REVENUE SALE LAWS

See SALE

Judgment Debtor remaining in Possession—Suit to recover—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 12A I L R 45 Bom 45

1 ——— Irregularity—Substantial Loss—

Sale Notification incorrect entry in—Notice—Beng

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—concl

Act VII of 1865 ss 8 11—See Act VI of 1859 s 23. An incorrect entry in a sale notification resulting in misleading intending bidders is an irregularity such as is contemplated by s 33 of Bengal Act VI of 1859. Dwarkanath Singh v Bankola Singh I L R 37 Calc 111 discussed. Though s 8 of Bengal Act VII of 1865 prevents a plaintiff from proving any irregularity in the service of notice required by s 11 yet it would not prevent him from proving that a notice in contravention of the provisions of that Act was served in a wrong manner which in itself and by its service supported the conclusion that the misstatement in the sale notification constituted a serious irregularity. IAJPAJI DAIF CAWESH PRASAD SRIKHANDAN MAHAPATRA (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 407

2 ——— Incumbrance—Lis pendens if applies to property attached in execution of money decree—Attachment in execution of money decree if creates a charge—Revenue Sale Law (Act VI of 1859) s 5—Attachment of incumbrance—Sale for arrears of revenue if alienation by proprietor. The doctrine of lis pendens is applicable to sales in metum. The doctrine is applicable to proceedings to realise the mortgage money after a decree for sale of the property. But where a property not mortgaged is attached in execution of a money decree the doctrine of lis pendens does not apply to the sale of that property. Where a property was attached in execution of a money decree and in the course of the execution proceedings was sold for arrears of revenue. Held that the attachment did not create any title or charge on the property and did not constitute an incumbrance within the meaning of s 54 of Act VI of 1859. Fredrick Peacock v Madan Gopal I L R 29 Calc 428 s c 6 O B A 577. Moti Lal v Karrebuidin Singh I L R 25 Calc 179 referred to. Parsi Lal Singh v Chand Charan Singh 5 C L J 80 s c 11 C B A 163 distinguished. Held further that a sale for arrears of Government revenue cannot be regarded as an alienation made by the proprietor so as to make the doctrine of lis pendens applicable. MAHENDU SARAN SAHU v THAKUR PRASAD SINGH (1910) 14 C W N 877

3 ——— Incumbrance or under tenure how avoided and when—Meane profits—Liability of several classes of tenure holders—Damages. An incumbrance or under tenure is not ipso facto avoided by the sale of an estate for arrears of revenue and is only liable to be avoided at the option of the purchaser at such sale. Titu Bibi v Mahesh Chunder Bagchi I L R 9 Calc 683 followed. The law does not require any notice as a necessary preliminary to a suit to avoid an under tenure but the option of the purchaser may be exercised by the institution of a suit within the time approved by law. Where such a suit has been instituted the tenure must be regarded annulled from the date of the commencement of the suit. For the period antecedent to a suit for annulment of an incumbrance the possession of the under tenure holder is not wrongful and purchasers at the revenue sale are not entitled to claim by way of damages for use and occupation any sum in excess of what actually represents the rent payable by the tenure holder of the first decree. A decree for rent in such a case can be made only against such of the defendants as held the tenure directly under the defaulting proprietors and not against all of them jointly and severally. In respect of meane profits which accrue during the pendency of a suit for possession the liability of different tenure holders of the same degree and of separate under tenure holders of different degrees should be apportioned according to the share of the profits intercepted by each. Jotindra Mohan Lahiri v Guru Prosunno Lahiri, 1 L R 31 Cal 597 L R 31 I A 94 referred to. A release of one joint wrong doer without any intention to release the other joint tortfeasors, but only as a partial satisfaction discharges the others only pro tanto. Where the plaintiffs released some of the wrong doers from liability the claim against the others have been split up by their own conduct and a joint decree ought not to be passed against all the defendants. Biswanath Tewary v Koylashbany Narain Singh 2 May 1917 followed. PANRATAN KAPARI : ASWINI KUNAR DUTT (1910)

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—contd

I L R 37 Cal 559

4 ——— Liability of auction purchaser in respect of payment of arrears of revenue—Appropriation of payment to particular kist and acceptance and acknowledgment of Treasury Officer—Subsequent appropriation by Treasury Officer to earlier kist—Sale for arrears so created not to set aside—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 59 60. Where the proprietor of an estate made a payment in respect of arrears of revenue and in the document which accompanied the payment to the Government expressly appropriated it to the satisfaction of a particular kist and the money was accepted and acknowledged by the Treasury Officer as paid on that account. Held it was not in the power of one of the parties to the transaction without the assent of the other to vary the effect of transaction by altering the appropriation in which both originally concurred. After a payment had been so specially appropriated and accepted as paid in respect of a kist due in January 1902 the Treasury Officer applied part of it to the satisfaction of an earlier kist due in September 1901 and only paid the remainder towards the January kist with the result that an arrear was created in the January kist to which the payment had been wholly appropriated and a sale took place for such arrear. In a suit to set aside the sale—Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that no arrears in respect of the January kist were really due at the date of the sale which was therefore without jurisdiction and invalid. See ss 59 and 60 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872) relating to the appropriation of payments might have been applicable to the case if the parties to the transaction had not by their own actions placed the matter beyond doubt. MASOUD JAY : GAYO BHAU SINGH (1911)

I L R 38 Cal 537

5 ——— Incumbrance extinguished by sale under mortgage-decree—at the date of sale not of confirmation—Liability of mortgage purchaser for revenue—Act XI of 1859 s 51. The appellant as a purchaser at a revenue sale of the property in suit sued to eject the respondent who claimed title under a certificate dated April 23rd 1900 confirming his purchase thereof on March 19th 1900 under a decree for sale obtained by himself as mortgagee. The revenue became in arrear on March 20th 1900. Held that the respondent's proprietary title was complete on March 19th and that it passed to the appellant by the revenue sale. His mortgagee title could not be kept alive so as to operate on March 29th 1900 as an incumbrance within the meaning of s 54 of Act XI of 1859. BHAWANI KUWAR : MATHURA PRASAD SINGH (1912) L R 39 I A 293

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—contd

6 ——— Common Tenancy—Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) ss 10 11 and 53—Purchase at a revenue sale of an undivided interest of specific mouzas in an estate in respect of which separate accounts were opened effect of—Preference to a third Judge—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1874) s 575—Act V of 1890 s 98 (2). Per MOOKERJEE and VINCENT JJ (BRETT J dissenting) that a proprietor who is not a recorded sharer of a joint estate held in joint tenancy within the meaning of s 10 of the Revenue Sale Law nor a recorded sharer whose share consists of a specific portion of the lands of the estate within the meaning of s 11 but is recorded as proprietor of an undivided interest held in common tenancy of a specific portion of the lands of the estate but not extending over the whole estate within the meaning of s 70 of the Land Registration Act is not entitled to acquire the estate purchased by him at a sale held for arrears of revenue free of encumbrances. The expression estate held in common tenancy in s 10 of the Revenue Sale Law means an estate where all the sharers have a common right and interest in the whole of the estate. Where therefore various co-sharers have certain interest not in the whole estate but only in particular villages of that estate it cannot be said that the estate is held in common tenancy. See Runoo Shah v Pann Perash Varain Singh 21 W P 33 followed. MAHAMMAD MENDI HASSAN KHAN : SHAKSHAN PERSHAD SINGH (1911) I L R 39 Cal 533

7 ——— Government Land—Act XI of 1859 s 2 and 3—Bengal Act VII of 1863—In Government tenure in mahal Panchannagram in the 24 Pergannahs—Kabulyat fixing date for payment of revenue in every year—Sale for arrears when no arrears were due—Cancellation of contract of parties by general considerations or administrative rules not permissible. S 2 of Act XI of 1859 enacts that if the whole or a portion of a mahal or instalment of any month of the era according to which the settlement and kud bandi of any mahal have been regulated be unpaid on the 1st of the following month of such era the sum so remaining unpaid shall be considered as an arrear of revenue. S 3 provides that the Board of Revenue at Calcutta shall determine upon what dates all arrears of revenue shall be paid up in each district under their jurisdiction in default of which payment estates in arrear shall be sold with that section on 6th October 1871 fixed with that section on 23rd June of each respective year as the latest date of payment of the rents of all descriptions of tenures in khas mahal Panchannagram in default of which payment on or previous to that date tenures in arrears in that mahal will be sold. The appellant was the holder of a Government tenure in Dibi Panchannagram to which by virtue of Bengal Act VII of 1863 Act XI of 1859 was applicable; and the law was under which he held stipulated for payment of the whole jumma in the Collectorate within 23rd

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—id.

June every year. The revenue remaining unpaid on 25th Jun 1902 the tenure was, after the preliminary procedure prescribed by the Acts, sold for arrears of revenue on 15th March 1903 and purchased by the respondent H 11 (reversing the decision of the High Court) that on the construction of the Acts and the above provision the revenue was not in arrears until 1st July 1902 and the date fixed as that on which the tenure could be sold in default of payment of the arrears was 25th Jun 1903. There were therefore at the date of the sale no arrears of revenue and in accordance with the decision in Pallister Day v Simpson 1 L. R. 2, Cal. 533 1 P. 2. I A 151 the sale was consequently invalid. No variation of the contract of parties and the statutory provisions applicable thereto is possible by reason of general considerations of administrative rules which have not the sanction of Indian statute.

Haji BUKH ELANI v. DULAY CHANDRA HAN
1 L. R. 39 Cal. 981

8 — Sale within 30 days of service of sale proclamation if nullity—*Peruene Sale Law Act (Act XI of 1859) s. 6 33—Question if one of due service—Beng Act I II of 1863 s. 8—Second appeal—Finding of irregularity and inadequacy of price—Sol. is must be held bad as matter of law The fact that the proclamation of sale was affixed in the Collectorate less than 30 days before the date of sale in contravention of the provisions of s. 6 of Act XI of 1859 does not make the sale a nullity. The sale in such a case is a sale under the provisions of the Act and the restrictions imposed by it on the right of the defaulter to have the sale set aside apply. Lala Moharak Lal v. The Secretary of State 1 L P 11 Cal 200 held not binding by reason of the decision in Tasadduk Pa ul v. Ahmad Hussain 1 I J 21 Cal 66 and Gowind Lal v. Ramyanam 1 L P 21 Cal 70. Where the Court of Appeal below found (i) that the sale proclamation was affixed in the Collectorate within less than 30 days of the sale (ii) and that the price realised at the sale was inadequate (iii) but that there was no evidence to connect the inadequacy of the price with the irregularity and dismissed the suit to set aside the sale. Held that it was not open to the High Court in second appeal to hold as a matter of law that the inadequacy of the price was the consequence of the irregularity and the appeal was concluded by the findings of fact of the lower Appellate Court. *Emble Per Cox v. J—*The question whether notice of the proclamation was served in time is part of the larger question whether it has been duly served within the meaning of s. 8 of Beng Act VII of 1863. Jankhai v. Secretary of State 7 C W N 377. Shesh Mohamed Aga v. Jadunandan 10 C W N 137. Sheo Ratan v. Net Lal 1 L B Cal 1 6 C W N 638 doubted. GANGADHAR DASS v. BHUPATI CHARAN DAS (1911)*

18 C W N 227

9 ————— Suit to recover from person in wrongful possession from before sale—Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 64—Purchaser of share of revenue paying estate—Limitation A purchaser at a revenue sale of a share in a revenue paying estate is not a person claiming from or through the defaulter but rather adversely to him and under a paramount title A person who has not acquired title as against the defaulter

SALE FOR APPEARS OF FIFTY — 12

In address space of the file system, $y = 1$ can't see the purchase of the file system unless a new $y = 1$ is added to the purchase for the state $y = 1$. For $y = 2$ the case of $y = 1$ is $y = 1$ and $y = 2$ follows. In the case of $y = 2$ the case of $y = 1$ is $y = 1$ and $y = 2$ follows.

10 ——— Purchase by mortgage in execution of a mortgage decree of the mortgaged property. — The respondent obtained a mortgage decree of the mortgaged property in 1859 for such arrears as he was entitled to in execution of a decree of Civil Court No. 11, 1859. The decree was for arrears of Rs. 24,000. Act XI of 1859 enacts that when a mortgage is sold, the purchaser shall acquire the estate in the share subject to all incumbrances and shall not acquire any rights which were not possessed by the previous owner. On 21st August 1860 a mortgage was granted in favour of the respondent over a certain share in 4 out of "1" village. On 31st May he obtained a decree on his mortgage which was made absolute on 19th December 1860. He executed his decree and a sale took place on 10th March 1860 at which the respondent himself became the purchaser. On 6th March an instalment of Government revenue on the "1" villages fell into arrear and the whole residuary share of 71 villages including the 4 villages purchased by the respondent was notified for sale. The respondent did not pay the revenue due. On 23rd April he obtained a certificate confirming the sale of 10th March in execution of his decree. On 6th June 1860 the whole of the villages was sold for arrears of revenue and was purchased by the predecessor in title of the appellant. In a suit against the respondent for the share purchased at the execution sale — filed by the Judicial Committee (reversing the execution of the High Court) that the sale in execution of the mortgage decree took effect from the actual date of the sale and not from its confirmation and therefore from 10th March 1860 the respondent by his purchase became the proprietor of the estate sold and not merely the purchaser of such right title and interest in it as the mortgagor might have had. He was therefore notwithstanding the provisions of s. 54 of Act XI of 1859 (which in fact rather confirmed the view taken) not in a position to maintain as against himself or as against third parties unconnected with mortgage transactions upon the property the position that his mortgage still remained an incumbrance thereon. That incumbrance had become extinct by the mortgagee's overriding right when he became complete owner of the lands. To keep it alive as the respondent sought to do would introduce confusion into the mechanism of transfer and insecurity into the rights in immovable property which were not warranted by the Act. BHAWANI KUMAR MATHURA PRASAD SINGH (1912)

227. 11 ———— Share of estate not sold at auction—Payment of arrears by defaulting prior—Subsequent payment by co sharer—I jointly between depositors—Suit to set aside sale—Future Sales Act (XI of 1859) ss 13 14 33 63 In respect of a certain lot, numerous separate accounts had been opened in the Collector's register. The plaintiff had an interest in separate account No 282 the 1st and the 2nd defendant in No 22 several of these accounts fell in arrears and among them was No 222 and a residuary share No 22, which formed the subject-matter of the present suit was among others advertised to be put up for sale on the 29th September 1899 but a notice was received by the Collector under s 14 of Act XI of 1859 declaring that the entire estate would be put up for sale at a future date unless the hereditary share was paid up by the arrears within 10 days. On the 21st and 25th September 1900 the 1st defendant paid into the Treasury the whole of the arrears in respect of all the various accounts including No 22 and the residuary share. On the 31st September 1900 the plaintiff deposited in the Treasury the arrears due on account of the account including No 22 but excluding the residuary share. Subsequently the Collector declared the defendant's purchase of the estates represented by the various separate accounts. On appeal to the Commissioner the decision of the Collector was upheld and the sale confirmed on the 8th February 1910. Thereafter the 1st defendant took possession of the several properties and on the 21st December 1910 he conveyed the same by sale to the 3rd defendant. On the 7th February 1911 the plaintiff presented his plaint for recovery of possession of No 22 and in the alternative for the possession of the half share in it but owing to the plaint being insufficiently stamped time to pay in the proper court fee was granted to the plaintiff with the compliance of the defendants. At the expiry of such time some holidays intervened and it was not till the 2nd March 1911 that the plaint was aually filed. The District Judge having decreed the suit the 3rd defendant alone appealed to the High Court. Held that the question of limitation could not now be raised but it is improper for a Court to extend the period of limitation for the institution of a suit merely for the convenience of the plaintiff. Held further that there could be no doubt that the 2nd defendant was the real purchaser both in the purchase by the 1st defendant in September 1900 and in the sale by the 1st defendant to the 3rd defendant in December 1910. Held further that in s 14 of the Revenue Sales Act 1859 the words "other" or "d" share must mean a recorded share of a share other than the share exposed for sale. Ques. Whether the Legislature intended to exclude a defaulting sharer of a share exposed for sale from pur having such share under s 14. Held further that the estate could only be sold if the whole of it was in arrears and that it could not be said that the plaintiff's deposit was insufficient without proof of that fact. Held further that as soon as the payment was made the purchase was complete and there was nothing left for anyone else to buy and that the Collector was bound to recognize the depositor who first paid the whole amount or if there were more depositors than one to recognize as joint purchasers those whose payments first amounted to the total arrears due. Debi Pershad v. Atho Koer & Co. W. A. 463 r. 1 referred to. Held further that the suit was barred by s 33 of the Revenue Sales Act 1859. Bhawan Chaturbhoy Dutt v. Jethur Mulji & Co. 1 Cal 844 and Gobind Lal Roy v. R. Janim Mitter & Co. 1 P. J. Cal 70 followed. BAHURIA SAMBHO KUMAR v. HARINAR PRASAD (1914). I. L. R. 41 Cal 1092

I L R 40 Calc 89

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—contd.

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—contd.

12. — Setting aside sale—Irregularity—Arrears under Act XI of 1859 paid—Embarkment charge a debt—Sale under Act XI of 1859 as for arrears of revenue and of an account—Plaint—Demands Recovery Act (Beng. Act I of 1859) as amended by Beng. Act I of 1877—Embarkment Act (Beng. Act II of 1852). In this case the High Court set aside a sale for arrears of revenue holding that where the Collector had a knowledge of payment in full of the arrears of land revenue of which the case had been advertised, and had directed to proceed by certificate procedure against an arrear of different character and had already directed a sale under that procedure he could not turn round and treat the arrear under the certificate as an arrear of land revenue without any notice to the parties under s 6 and proceed to sell under the Land Revenue Proclamation on the mere ground that no special exemption had been passed. The embarkment charges awarded to be levied under the Certificate Act (Beng. Act I of 1850) as amended by Beng. Act I of 1877 were taken out of the purview of Act XI of 1859 unless and until fresh notices were issued under s 5 and they could not be treated as arrears of land revenue. The sale therefore not being for an arrear of land revenue was liable to be set aside. An appeal from that decision was dismissed by their Lordships of the Judicial Committee who said they saw no reason to interfere with it. DHIRAJ CHANDRA BOSE v. HAZI DASI DEBI (1914). I. L. R. 42 Cal. 763

13. — *Setting aside sale—Defect in specification of property to be sold—A notification of sale—Sylam share in property where there are many separate accounts opened—Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) s 6 10 11—Inadequacy of price caused by want of proper specification of the property for sale. The proper specification of the property for sale in a mahal in which 149 of Sylam or joint share in a mahal in which 149 of the owners of specific but undivided shares had obtained from the Collector separation of accounts under s 10 and 11 of Act XI of 1859 was put up to sale for arrears of revenue and purchased by the respondent. In the notification under ss 6 and 13 of the Act the specification of the share to be sold was in the following terms—Sylam share which cannot be specified excluding the separate account number—Then followed a list of the 149 separate accounts referred to and at the end it was stated that all other shares besides that specified are excluded from the sale. And the entry in column 5 (the specification column) was—The Sylam share cannot be particularly divided owing to separate accounts having been opened. The shares to be sold are those given in a separate sheet after excluding the shares in respect of which the separate accounts had been opened. In a suit to set aside the sale—Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the notification of sale was invalid and irregular and not in compliance with the requirements of the law. The case must depend on its own particular facts and what had to be considered was whether in all the circumstances the sale was procured to induce like sale. It was not to obtain the price or office of the sale.*

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—contd

tell purchasers what they were invited to bid for. Held also on the evidence that the property had been sold at an inadequate price and that the lowness of the price was due to the defectiveness of the specification of the property to be sold in the notification of sale which was not merely an irregularity but a defect that rendered the sale void. IAVAN PWAR I PA AD SIKH v BALWATH PAM GOENKA (1915)

I L R 42 Calc 59

14. ——— Purchaser of a share.—*Meaning of the words "the purchaser shall not acquire any rights which were not possessed by the previous owner or owners" —Revenue Sale Law (Act VI of 1859) s 51. At a sale under s 13 of Act VI of 1859 it is not the rights of the recorded proprietor that pass, but the share itself. The policy of the revenue law is to protect the revenue and make the share on which the revenue is assessed available for the arrears of revenue due upon it. Dibi Das Chowdhury v Bijoy Charan Ghosal I I P 2 Calc 611 followed. *Janolata Das v Monomtha Nath Goswami II C W N 51 Kumar Kaland Singh v Syed Sarafat Hussain II C W N 578 Palimuddi Munnish v Nalini Kanta Lahari II C W N 40 Dilas Chandra Mukerjee v Alivoy Kumar Das II C W N 57 Bhawanji Koor v Mathura Itraad C L J I Annota Prasad Ghose v Rajendra Kumar Ghose I I P 29 Cal 93 and Gunrajdeo Misser v Kheeroo Mundal II B L R referred to. KHEMESHI CHANDRA PAKSHIT v ABDUL HALIM SIKHAR (1915)

I L P 43 Calc 48

15. ——— Adverse possession.—*Limitation—Incumbrance—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 121 122 144—Assam Land and Revenue Regulation (I of 1856) ss 70 71. In a suit for khas possession and mesne profits in respect of certain lands purchased by the plaintiffs at a sale for arrears of Government revenue the defendants contended that they had been in adverse possession of the said lands for a long time that their occupation was in the nature of an incumbrance and that the plaintiffs were not entitled to avoid the same. Held that the interest which the defendants acquired was an incumbrance within the meaning of Art 191 and the suit was barred by limitation. *Karmi Khan v Brojo Nath Das I L P 22 Calc 214 and Auffer Chandra Pal Choudhury v Rajendra Lal Goswami I L R 25 Calc 167 approved. Kumar Kaland Singh v Syed Sarafat Hossein II C W N 578 and Palimuddi Munnish v Nalini Kanta Lahari II C W N 407 distinguished. PRASAD KUNAR DUTT v NARENDRA KUNAR DUTT (1915)

I L R 43 Calc 79

16. ——— Co owners of a share of estate subject to usufructuary mortgage.—Mortgagee in possession undertaking to pay revenue—Default deliberately made by agents of minor mortgagee—Purchase at sale for arrears by mortgagee agents—Beneficiaries purchase—Fiduciary relation between mortgagee and mortgagors—Suit by co-owners to set aside sale—Terms on recovery of property—Contribution towards expenses properly incurred by mortgagee—Duty of counsel in ex parte case—Irrevocable practice of Of a 12 annas share of revenue paying estate a 3 annas share belonged to the plaintiffs (respondents) subject to a usufructuary mortgage of that share for the benefit of the defendant (appellant) a minor who as mortgagee in possession undertook (as was stipulated in the mortgage deed) to pay the revenue to Government for the mortgaged share. The remaining nine annas belonged to others of the plaintiffs. In June 1904 a sum of Rs 3 annas 6 in excess of the quota payable was paid on the mortgagee's behalf by his agents. In September 1904 only Rs 8 instead of Rs 12 was so paid and that left a balance owing which in due course amounted to an arrear within the meaning of Act VI of 1859 and to recover this arrear the 12 annas rate was sold by the Collector on 20th March 1904 and purchased by the agents (beneficiaries) on behalf of the mortgagee defendant. The High Court reversing the judgment of the subordinate Judge who had dismissed the suit found that the purchase was fraudulent within the Lordships of the Judicial Committee acquitted the minor of any personal misconduct in relation to the default or sale and were of opinion that regarding the position as a whole it led to the conclusion that the revenue was intentionally allowed by the agents to fall into arrear with a view to the property being put up for sale and bought on behalf of the minor. Held that the arrear which occasioned the sale was due to the insufficient payment made in respect of the three annas share and this was none the less the result of the default of the co-interests in that share because an excess payment had been made in June 1903 that had been long overdue and had ceased to be an excess credit in the ledger. However free from personal blame the minor may have been he could not profit by his agents deliberate default committed in breach of the terms of his mortgage. As against his mortgagors therefore the mortgagee could not be allowed to hold for himself any advantage gained by the default for which his agents were responsible nor could he be permitted to hold such advantage to the prejudice of the co-owners. Doorga Singh v Shro Ishad Singh I L P 16 Calc 194 dissented from. Fazir Ismail v Maimuna Khatun II C W N 1233 approved. The mortgagee here through his representatives had a duty to perform which was inconsistent with his becoming a purchaser in the way he did his title therefore could not operate to the exclusion of his co-owners. It was no answer to say that Act VI of 1859 contemplates a purchase by a co-sharer. The sale would stand but under the circumstances the transaction was in effect nothing more than payment of an arrear for the benefit of all. But that gave a right to contribution so that it must be a term of granting the plaintiff's equitable relief that they should contribute to the expenses properly incurred by or for the mortgagee in the purchase of the property. Where an appeal is heard ex parte it is the duty of counsel to bring to the notice of the Board adverse as well as favourable authorities. DEO NANDAN PRASAD v JANKI SINGH (1916)

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—contd

I L R 44 Calc 573

17. ——— Defaulter.—*Defaulter—Assam Land Revenue Regulation (I of 1859) ss 63 67 85—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 191 192. Where persons are in actual possession of a part of the estate sold for arrears of revenue under the Assam Land Revenue Regulation they are deemed to be in possession. *Astaf Ali v Brojendra Choudhury

SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE—concl'd

24 O L J 60 referred to A suit for recovery of possession brought within 12 years from the date on which the Collector gave symbolical possession to the purchasers is within time Mo usser Wahid v Abdus Samad, 6 C L R 539 followed. § 63 cannot be construed as restricted to persons who profess to hold the land as included in the estate sold for arrears of revenue MAHES CHANDRA CHOWDHURY v PIRAPI IAL DAS (1916) I L R 44 Cal 412

18 ——— Notification of Sale—publication of—Act XI of 1859 s 6 and 33—Calcutta Gazette the Official Gazette within the meaning of s 6—Non publication in Urya Vernacular Government Gazette not an illegality in sale proceedings—Grounds for annulling sale under s 33 of Act XI of 1859 The provisions of s 6 of Act XI of 1859 are for the purpose of notifying a sale for arrears of revenue under the Act sufficiently complied with by the publication of the notification of sale in the Calcutta Gazette which is the 'Official Gazette' within the meaning of that section on its proper interpretation Where a sale has been so notified the non publication of the notification of sale in the Urya Vernacular Government Gazette is not an illegality which renders the sale contrary to the provisions of the Act and is therefore not a ground for setting it aside under s 33 SHARFUDDIN HO SAIN v RADHA CHARAN DAS (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 255

19 ——— Act XI of 1859 s 2 and 3—Bengal Act (VII of 1863)—Tenures in Dhi Panchannogram—Board's Notification regarding time for sale effect of—Sale for arrears of revenue when premature and ultra vires—Date of payment of revenue The effect of the Notification of the Board of Revenue dated the 6th October 1871 is that no holding can be sold till after the 28th June next after the first day of the month following the month in which the revenue or rent should have been paid The date on which the revenue is payable depends primarily not on general or administrative considerations such as the course of business in the Collectorate or the mode in which the accounts are kept but on the contract between the parties Where a tenure was held under a kabuliyat dated the 10th November 1862 containing a stipulation to pay rent year by year in Dhi Panchannogram to which by virtue of Bengal Act VII of 1863 Act XI of 1859 was applicable and the tenure was sold for arrears of revenue of 1914 and 1915 on the 17th May 1915 it was held that the sale was premature and ultra vires and conferred no title on the purchaser as the current demand for 1914 1915 was not payable till the 10th November 1914 so that the tenure could not be sold before the 28th June 1915 MAMMOTH NATH MULLICK v MAHAMED SOLEMAN

26 C W N 140

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

I L R 40 Cal 635

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT

I L R 45 Cal 780

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII OF 1855) ss 85 159

I L R 43 Cal 178

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—concl'd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 115 O XXI R 89

I L R 40 Bom 735

O XXI R 89 I L R 40 Bom 557

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

See EXECUTION SALE—

See PARTIES I L R 39 Cal 831

See SALE—

ing— duty of Courts in India in conduct

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908), O XXI s 68

I L R 38 Mad 337

——— incorrect entry in sale notification—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 37 Cal 404

1 ——— Caveat emptor doctrine of—Sale in execution of decree—Refund of purchase money suit for—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 313 315 Under s 313 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) a purchaser can apply to have a sale set aside on the ground that the person whose property purported to be sold had no saleable interest therein The doctrine of caveat emptor has not the same effect under the Code of Civil Procedure of 1882 as under the old Code (VIII of 1859) Dorab Ally Khan v Executors of Khajah Moheemooddeen I L R 3 Cal 806 and Sourdaminnee Chowdhra v Ahsan Ali Khan 806 and Sourdaminnee Chowdhra v Ahsan Ali Khan Poddar 12 W R & F B distinguished Under s 315 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) a suit lies to recover purchase money paid at a Court sale for property to which the judgment debtor had no title or saleable interests Har Doyal Singh Roy v Sheikh Samuddin & Co W N 240 and Ajayanand Roy v Juggat Chandra Ghosh 7 C W N 105 followed. PAN KUMAR SHANU v RAM GUR SHARA (1909) I L R 37 Cal 67

But See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 315 I L R 35 All 419

2 ——— Fresh proclamation—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss 287 291—Execution-sale proclaimed by July 13th and held on July 20th without fresh proclamation—Sale upheld A sale in execution was not in contravention of ss 287 and 291 Civil Procedure Code merely because having been proclaimed to be held at the monthly sale commencing on July 13th it was not held till July 20th and then without a fresh proclamation It appeared that sales were to commence then owing to the presiding officer's absence they did not actually begin till the 17th that on that day a postponement was refused and that the monthly sale was continued on the 20th RANG LAL SINGH v RAVANESHWAR PERSHAD SINGH (1911) L R 38 I A 900

3 ——— Claim or objection—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 47 O XVI s 33 s 115—Claim or objection by purchaser during attachment in execution of money-decree if may be entertained—High Court Revisional jurisdiction exercised on appeal where order was without jurisdiction Where after the attachment of the judgment debtor's property in execution of a money-decree the property was sold in execution of a mortgage-decree and the purchasers applied to the Court for exemption of the property from sale. Held that the purchasers being not entitled to be attached the application could not be treated as a claim or objection under O XXI r 53 of the Civil Procedure Code. That as the purchasers were really setting up an anti-nomistic title based on their purchase they could not be said to be representatives of the judgment-debtors for the purpose of s 4 of the Code. An order exempting the property from sale on the application of the purchasers not being contemplated by any provision in the Code was without jurisdiction and can be set aside by the High Court in revision. MAHADEO LAL v. DARSAN GORE (1910) 15 C W N 512

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—C 3

4 ——— Fraud—Execution sale—Suit to set aside as collusive and fraudulent after application refused under s 31F Civil Procedure Code (Act XIX of 1908)—Benami purchase allegation of—Misrepresentation by judgment-debtor's partner—Auction purchaser if in bono held responsible—Concurrent findings of fraud reversed. In a suit to set aside an auction sale on the ground that it was brought about by the fraud of the decree-holder and the judgment-debtor it being alleged further that the auction purchaser was a benamidar of the judgment-debtor it was found that the debtor and the decree-holder were genuine and that the property was purchased by the auction purchaser who was a man of substance out of his own funds which thereupon went to pay off the judgment-debtor's creditors. Held on the evidence that the allegation of fraud and conspiracy made against the auction purchaser had not been brought home to him and that under all the circumstances there was no sufficient ground for setting aside a sale confirmed by the Court after prompt local enquiry and for inflicting on the auction purchaser a forfeiture of the considerable purchase money paid by him out of his own funds. Held further that if the allegation that the plaintiff's men were dissuaded from bidding at the sale by the pleader for the judgment-debtor falsely assuring them that he had instructions to apply for a postponement was true the auction purchaser could not be held responsible for the misrepresentation. The concurrent judgments of the Courts in India holding the sale to be fraudulent and collusive reversed. BISHUN CHAND BACHHAOT v. BHOOT SINGH DUDHIA (1911) 15 C W N 648

5 ——— Understatement of value of fraud—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 18 Sch I Art 166—Sale before Act new or old Act applicable—General Clauses Act (V of 1897) s 6 Per Cox J (TENNANT J expressing no opinion).—An understatement of value in the sale proclamation cannot by itself justify an inference of fraud on the part of the decree-holder. See s 18 of the Limitation Act does not apply to a case in which the fraud is antecedent to the accrual of the right. Purna Chandra Mandal v. Anukul Biswas I L P 36 Calc 651 Rahimkhoy Hobibkhoy v. C A Turner I L P 17 Bom 311 referred to. Held that s 18 can apply only to such fraud as amounts to concealment and is intended to keep from the injured party the knowledge of the wrong or its remedy. The action therefore can have no application where the fraud alleged by a party applying to set aside an execution sale is understatement of the value of the properties in the sale proclamation. The burden of proving fraud lies on the applicant. See s 166. An application to set aside on the ground of fraud an execution sale held prior to the coming into operation of Act IX of 1908 will be governed by Art 166 of Sch I of that Act if made after that Act came into operation. See s 6 of the General Clauses Act does not preserve the right of applicant held to apply within three years from the date of the sale. PAKISHANK DASIA v. MEHTA v. LAL DUTT (1911) 15 C W N 955

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—C 11

6 ——— Agreement between judgment-debtor and decree-holder before confirmation of sale—Auction purchaser if bona fide—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 18 Sch I Art 166—Where after the sale of a property in execution of a decree but before confirmation thereof the decree-holder consented to the sale being set aside on payment of the decretal amount by the judgment-debtor and the payment was made and certified in Court. Held that this did not preclude the auction purchaser whose right is independent of that of the decree-holder from asking for confirmation of the sale in his own right. He would also if his application were rejected be entitled to appeal from that decision being a party prejudicially affected by that order. Poorna Chandra v. Doorga Prasad 3 Shome 101 commented on. The High Court has no power to extend the time allowed to the judgment-debtor by O 21 r 9 sub r (2) to deposit the decretal amount etc. with a view to setting aside the sale either under s 6 Limitation Act or under s 148 Civil Procedure Code. SHARAFAT v. MAHOMED HABIBUDDIN (1911) 15 C W N 685

7 ——— Application to set aside—Limitation Act IX of 1908 s 18 Sch I Art 166—Fraud employed to bring about sale if may save bar of limitation—Fraudulent concealment what amounts to—Fraud plea of—Proof. When an application to set aside an execution sale was made more than 30 days after the sale but it was urged that s 18 of the Limitation Act applied to the case. Held that the fraud which it is necessary to prove to bring the case within s 18 of the Limitation Act may have occurred prior to the sale—for fraud at any rate of the nature generally employed in bringing about an illegal sale is a continuing influence and until that influence ends it retains its power of mischief. Purna Chandra Mandal v. Anukul Biswas I L P 36 Calc 651 explained. Rahimkhoy Hobibkhoy v. Turner I L P 17 Bom 311 referred to. Fraud is not to be lightly charged or lightly found specially in cases of applications to set aside an execution sale where this reserve is too often neglected. Misstatement of value if it can be described as fraud does not constitute fraudulent concealment and non publication of sale proclamation in the mofussil even if it exposes the sale to attack at the instance of the judgment-debtor would not by itself bring the case under s 18 of the Limitation Act unless it is shown that the judgment-debtor by means of fraud of which the decree-holder was guilty or to which he was necessary being kept from the knowledge of his right. NARAYAN SARTI v. MOHAN DAS (1912) 16 C W N 894

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

8 ——— Deposit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O 111 r 89—Previous purchaser of property not affected by the sale if may apply to make deposit—Conditional deposit if valid—Withdrawal of condition effect of—Deposit not made on the last day owing to absence of Judge—Effect Where on the last day allowed by law to make a deposit under r 89 of O 111 of the Civil Procedure Code for the purpose of setting aside a sale the petitioner owing to the preiding officers having left the Court earlier than usual was unable to make the required deposit. Held that the petition and the deposit were properly received on the next day as no act of the Court itself ought to be allowed to prejudice the position of the petitioner. A conditional deposit is not a good deposit under r 89 O 111 but where the petitioner withdrew the condition the moment the decree holder auction purchaser objected Held that there were no sufficient grounds under the circumstances to treat the deposit as invalid. P 89 O 111 does not confer a right to make deposit to a person who had purchased the property sold so far back from the date of the sale and the execution proceeding that his interest was not affected by the sale. DILIP NATH DAS KOKER v. BANSI DASS SINGH (1911) 16 C W N 904

9 ——— Setting aside Sale—Application to set aside sale by some of the judgment-debtor if whole sale can be set aside—Sale proclamation gross understatement of value by decree holder if by itself vitiates sale—Waiver by judgment debtor of fresh sale proclamation if amounts to waiver of other irregularities Where a decree was obtained jointly against several persons and their respective liabilities were not a certain therein and the decree holder proceeding against jointly had their property sold in execution. Held that upon good cause shown the whole sale should be set aside although only some of the judgment debtors applied within time to set aside the sale. The application of the other judgment debtors though made out of time could very well be treated as applications to be added as parties to the previous application of their co judgment debtors having regard to the fact that all the applications were tried together and were thus virtually consolidated. Where on the date fixed for the sale of immovable property in execution of a decree the judgment debtor applied for a postponement and agreed that if the decree was not paid up by the adjourned date the sale might be held without the issue of further proclamation and the decree not having been paid up the sale took place on the adjourned date. Held that in the absence of evidence to show that they were aware of the contents of the sale proclamation it could not be said that the judgment debtor had waived any irregularities in the sale proclamation which contained a gross understatement of the value of the attached properties. (Jharna Singh v. Hurdoo Narain L P 314 1906 W P 11 Surachalam v. Arunachalam L P 151 1911 I L R 12 Mad 19 ditin gusted) Where with the object of securing a very valuable property for the smallest possible

II 1 EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

price the decree holder grossly understated its value in the sale proclamation with the consequence that he was able to purchase the property without competition at a fraction of its real price. Held that the deliberate misstatement of value in the sale proclamation was by itself a sufficient ground for vacating the sale. Sadat Vard Khan v. Phul Kuar I L R 70 All 41. I K 931 A 146 2 C W N 550 followed Abdul Koshem v. Benode Lal 12 C W N 757 not followed. KADIRAMUND THAKUR v. PARTUL CHAND LAL CHOWDHURY (1911) 16 C W N 904

10 ——— Setting aside sale—Material irregularity allegation of Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1887) s 61—Proclamation of sale—Sale fixed to take place at monthly sales naming day place and hour of commencement of such sales—Absence of presiding officer A sale in execution of a decree was adjourned from 16th May until 13th July and in the fresh proclamation of sale it was notified that in the absence of any order of postponement the sale would be held at monthly sales commencing at 6 o'clock on the morning of 13th July 1903 at Monghyr. Owing to the absence of the presiding officer from the station the monthly sales did not begin until 17th July and in the course of them the sale in question was held on the 17th. On an application under s 311 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1887) to set aside the sale on the ground of material irregularity within the meaning of s 257 and 91 of the Code. Held (affirming the decision of the Courts in India) that in holding the sale on 17th July the Court had not acted in contravention of the provisions of the Code and there had been no material irregularity in publishing or conducting the sale. RINA LAL SINGH v. PARNANSHAN PERSHAD SINGH (1911) I L R 99 Cal 28

11 ——— Description of property in schedule to execution process—Confirmation of sale—Order granting certificate of sale of property sufficient from that described in schedule—Illegible in sale—Order set aside as being void as ultra jurisdiction Certain property to be sold under a decree was described in the schedule to the application for execution and in the proclamation of sale as six anna share of a mahal subject to an existing mortgage and after the sale had been confirmed the auction purchaser applied for a certificate of sale and alleged that a mistake had been made in the schedule by the omission of the word 'no' as led to have the purchase of property declared in the certificate to be a six anna share of the mahal and a claim there by the mortgage. The alleged mistake was stated to have been corrected before the sale by an advertisement in the Calcutta Gazette. The Subordinate Judge granted a certificate of sale in that form, and his order was upheld by the High Court. Held (reversing those decisions) that what is sold at a judicial sale can be nothing but the property attached which in this case was the property described in the schedule in the execution proceedings. It was not a case of misdescription which might have been treated as an irregularity. Identity and not description had here to be dealt with. An execution property was accurately described in the schedule and the order of the Subordinate Judge granted a sale certificate which stated that another and a different property had been purchased at the judicial sale. If it was the wrong property was attached and sold the only course was for the decree holder to commence the execution proceedings over again. The advertisement in the Gazette purporting to correct the alleged mistake could not validate a sale of property which was not that to which the attachment related. The order of the Subordinate Judge was made without jurisdiction as there was no power to sell in the judicial proceedings the property which the certificate of sale declared had been purchased. Their Lordships set aside the order confirming the sale together with the sale certificate granted thereunder. THAKUR BAPUJI v. JIBAN RAM MAHWARI (1913)

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

I L R 41 Cal 590

12 ———— Sale certificate—Purchaser at suit for rent by order of court under Land Registration Act—Decree obtained therein sale in execution of—Purchase by decree holder—Certificate of sale subsequently cancelled—Rent decree and sale if it be reversed—A having purchased property at a sale under the Public Demands Recovery Act on 14th September 1909 sold it to B who duly obtained a sale certificate from the revenue authorities was placed in possession and had his name registered under the Land Registration Act. B then sued the tenant on the property for rent and obtained an ex parte decree in execution whereof the tenure was sold and purchased by the decree holder himself on 20th November 1909. The sale under the Public Demands Recovery Act was cancelled on 29th March 1910 on the ground that no notice had been served under s. 10J of the Act and that the proceedings were invalid and inoperative in consequence. Held that the rent decree and sale thereunder which were duly and regularly had at the instance of a stranger who had no concern with the irregularities in connection with the certificate sale were not affected by the reversal of the certificate sale. NADENDRA NATH BOSE v. PARBATI CHAKRAVARTY (1914)*

20 C W N 819

13 ———— Hold good when ex parte order set aside where property has been assigned by decree holder purchaser to stranger—Decree subsequently passed if validates sale—Court's power to take notice of facts which have occurred since institution of proceedings The assignee from the decree holder who has purchased property in execution of his own decree is in no better position than his assignor and the sale is set aside when the decree is set aside even when the decree holder has sold the property to a stranger. Sahu Chandra v. Ram suary 20 C W N 655 followed. As soon as an ex parte decree is set aside the sale where the decree holder is the purchaser falls through and is not validated by a fresh decree subsequently made. Set Umdmal v. Srinath Iyer I L R 27 Cal 310 see also 4 C W N 692 Harari Mull v. Janki Prasad 6 C L J 90 and Ram Yeoh v. Emdeswar 6 C L J 100 distinguished the decree in those cases though temporarily set aside having been ultimately maintained. It is well settled that the Court may in order to shorten litigation or to do complete justice between the parties take notice of events which have happened since the institution of the proceedings and may afford relief to the parties

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

on the basis of the altered conditions. ABDUL RAHMAN v. SARAFAT ALI (1915)

20 W N 667

14 ———— Sale in execution when set aside when decree set aside—Decree holder purchaser—Purchase by stranger from latter before decree set aside—Equity The Court as a matter of policy has a tender regard for honest purchasers at sales held in execution of its decree though the decree may be subsequently set aside where the purchasers were not parties to the suit and the decree had not been passed without jurisdiction. But the same measure of protection is not extended to purchasers who are themselves the decree holders nor can purchasers from such decree holders claim that the Court owes them any duty or to be within the policy which prompts the extension of protection to strangers since they have bought from one whose title is liable to be defeated. Sheik Ismail Routher v. Inajab Routher I L R 30 Mad 99 dissented from SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH v. RAMESHARI DASGI (1914)

20 C W N 805

15 ———— Void or voidable when decree fraudulent—Suit to set aside decree barred by limitation—Sale if may be vacated A sale in execution of a fraudulent decree is not a void but a voidable sale till vacated by an appropriate proceeding the rights created thereby are effective. Such a sale cannot be set aside without setting aside the decree consequently where the right to have the decree set aside as fraudulent has become barred by limitation no decree can be made setting aside the sale only as made in execution of a fraudulent decree. Ram Narayan v. Sheu Bhunjan I L R 27 Cal 19 distinguished Raj Kumar Sarkel v. Paj Kumar Maiti (1916)

20 C W N 850

16 ———— Sale of putni in execution of decree for arrears of rent—Purchaser if liable for arrears previous to confirmation of sale The plaintiff purchased a putni taluq at a sale held in execution of a decree for arrears of rent due thereon. Some of the putnidars applied to set aside the sale and while the proceedings for setting aside the sale were pending the zemindar brought the suit against the recorded putnidars for arrears of rent subsequent to the period covered by the decree in execution of which the sale was held at which the plaintiffs purchased the taluq. The plaintiffs were made parties to this suit which was decreed and in execution of the decree the putni was put up for sale and the plaintiffs whose purchase at the previous sale had been by that time finally confirmed deposited the decretal amount and saved the putni from sale. Held that in the absence of anything to denote the contrary a sale of a tenure held in execution of a decree for its own arrears of rent passes it free from liability for previous arrears and the plaintiffs were not liable for the arrears of rent for the period to the date of confirmation of sale at which they purchased the putni. MATHURA MOHAN SARKAR v. NAREN CHANDRA DUTT (1916)

20 C W N 749

17 ———— Hindu Joint Family—Decree against father of joint mistakshara family—Suit by sons the other members of the family to have it declared that their shares were not affected by the sale under mortgage decree—Right title and in

SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE—contd

Interest of judgment debtor—Substance and not technicalities of transaction to be regarded in cases of this kind. In execution of a mortgage decree against the father of a joint mutakshara family who was alone was a party to the mortgage the decree and the execution proceedings his two sons the other members of the family objected that only one third of a patni taluk forming the joint family property could be sold on the allegation that the debts in respect of which the decree had been made were contracted for illegal and immoral purposes and the order for sale was amended by adding the words right title and interest of the judgment debtor as indicating what was to be sold which expression the Court said was not calculated to affect the case of either party. The property was sold and purchased by the decree holder. In a suit by the sons to have it declared that only one third of the property passed by the sale both Courts in India found that the debts were for legal and necessary purposes. The Subordinate Judge made a decree in the plaintiffs favour which was reversed by the High Court on appeal Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the proper construction of the order for sale as amended was that if the plaintiffs succeeded in establishing that the debts had been incurred for immoral purposes only one third of the property would be affected by the sale while if they failed in that contention the whole of the property would be held to have passed by the sale. The expression right title and interest did not limit what was to be sold to a one third share. In cases of this kind the substance and not the mere technicalities of the transaction should be regarded. Mahabir Pershad v Mohanwar Nath Sahas I L R 17 Cal 534 L R 17 I A 11, followed. SRI PAT SINGH DUGAR v PRODYOT KUMAR TAGORE (1916) I L R 44 Cal 524

18 ———— Benami purchase—Purchase on behalf of another person—Certified purchaser—Agreement to convey made after sale to carry out agreement made before sale—Civil Procedure Code 1908 s 66 sub s (1) S 80 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 sub s (1) enacts that No suit shall be maintained against any person claiming title under a purchase certified by the Court in such manner as may be prescribed on the ground that the purchase was made on behalf of the plaintiff or on behalf of some one through whom the plaintiff claims. The appellant purchased at an execution sale certain immovable property which he had before the sale agreed with the respondents to convey to them. After the sale agreements were made by which the appellant bound himself to carry out the original agreement with the respondents. In suits by the respondents against the appellant for specific performance the defence was that the suits were barred by s 66 sub s (1) Held that the fresh agreements made after the sale though carrying out those made before the sale were not affected by s 66 and the suits were therefore not barred. Venkatappa v Jalayya (1919) I L R 42 Mad 615 approved. VADIVELU MUDALIYAR v PERIA MANICKA MUDALIYAR (1920)

I L R 43 Mad (PC) 643

SALE OF GOODS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 20

I L R 39 All 368

SALE OF GOODS—contd

See CONTRACT

I L R 43 Cal 77
I L R 47 Cal 458
— I L R 45 Bom 129 1222

See CONTRACT ACT 1872—

ss 5, AND 63 I L P 43 All 257

= 76 to 123

= 103 I L R 40 Bom. 530

——— contract for—Stamp duty on—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 29 C 16 689

——— re sale on purchasers default—

See CONTRACT

I L R 33 Cal 568

——— return of rejected goods

See CONTRACT

I L R 35 All 376

——— Warranty of fitness for purpose for which bought—

See CONTRACT

15 N W N 981

1 ———— Contract for forward monthly deliveries—Construction—Anticipatory breach—Measure of damages. In a contract dated Jan 4th for the purchase of 300 tons of Java sugar it was stipulated that shipments to be made by steamers during July to December 1914. The agreement to be construed as a separate contract in respect of each shipment. Without giving any delivery on the 18th August the sellers repudiated the contract. In an action for breach of contract brought by the buyer on the 26th August claiming damages in respect of the whole contract for 300 tons Held that on the true construction of the contract the buyer had the right to demand delivery of the goods by separate shipments and the true measure of damages was the aggregate of the differences between the contract price and the market price at the appointed times of delivery in each month. Roper v Johnston L R 3 C 1 167. Wertheim v Chicoutimi Pulp Co (1911) A C 301. Frost v Knight L R 7 Ex 111 and Brown v Muller L R 7 Ex 319 referred to. Per MOOREHEAD J—In the circumstances of the case the instalments must be deemed to have been intended to be distributed ratably over the period appointed for the delivery of the whole quantity of the goods. Colman v Davis Iron Co 47 L J Q B 615. Coddington v Paine logo L R 2 Ex 193 referred to. Thornton v Simpson 8 Taunt 558. Tatling v O'Riordan L R Ir 22. Colonial Insurance Co of New Zealand v Adelaide Marine Insurance Co L J 19 A C 128 cited by MOOREHEAD J—It being found that the principle applied by the Court of first instance in assessing damages was erroneous but that on the application of the proper principle the damages to be allowed would be larger on the defendant's appeal the Court declined to disturb the judgment or order a remand. WILLIAM TRANKER v GUBBAY (1915) I L R 43 Cal 303

2 ———— C I F Contract—Insurance of goods against war risk without buyer's instruction—Buyer not obliged to pay for such insurance—Payments against documents—Bill of lading must be tendered—Bill of lading what is a—War—Government proclamations prohibiting trading with the enemy—Effect of proclamations on contract goods shipped in enemy port—Enforcement of contract becomes illegal On the 9th June 1914 the defendants purchased from the plaintiff 5 tons round copper bottoms c i f Mahomera July shipment and agreed to pay for the said copper in Bombay on being tendered the bills of lading and other documents in respect thereof. The copper was shipped on board the S S Tancian on or about the 28th July 1914 the plaintiff obtained relative bills of lading and insured the goods against ordinary marine risks. On the 6th August in consequence of war having broken out between Great Britain and Germany the plaintiff's agent in England although not instructed to do so by the defendants insured the copper against war risks and paid 10 per cent premium. The documents arrived in Bombay on the 17th September where upon the plaintiff tendered them to the defendants and demanded payment of the invoice price of the goods including the above-mentioned extra premium of 10 per cent in respect of insurance against war risks. The defendants refused to pay the amount demanded on the ground that they were not liable to pay the above said extra premium. Held that in the absence of express instructions from the defendants to effect insurance against war risks the defendants were not liable to pay the extra premium. By another contract dated 17th July 1914 the defendants purchased from the plaintiff 500 bags of sugar c i f Mahomera July shipment and agreed to pay for the said sugar in Bombay on being tendered the bills of lading and other documents in respect thereof. The plaintiff got the sugar shipped at Hamburg on the S S Nicomedia on the 26th July 1914 and obtained as he alleged relative bills of lading in respect thereof and he insured the goods. Subsequently after the documents relating to the said sugar had arrived in Bombay the plaintiff presented them to the defendants and demanded payment but the defendants refused to accept the document or to pay the money on the grounds firstly that by reason of the state of war which existed and the Government proclamations prohibiting trade with the enemy performance of the contract would be impossible and secondly that the documents which the plaintiff presented as bills of lading were not bills of lading and were not therefore the proper documents to be tendered in accordance with the terms of a c i f contract. Held that in view of the Government proclamations the tender of the shipping documents was not a valid tender and that acceptance of and payment against the said documents would be a violation of the said proclamation. Duncan Fox & Co v Schrempf and Bonke (1915) A B 365 followed. Held also that a bill of lading as known to merchants is a receipt for goods actually delivered over and shipped on board the ship named therein and signed by the Captain or his representative and that the documents tendered to the defendants as bills of lading were not bills of lading but mere receipts for warehousing or shipment. As such they were no evidence of any shipment and a purchaser under a c i f contract if tendered such a receipt would be entitled to ask for a bill of lading for he is not obliged to pay upon proof merely that the goods

SALE OF GOODS—co id

SALE OF GOODS—co id

had arrived at the port of departure. MISSIN I AG BERNHARD & HAJI SULTANALI SHASTARY AND CO (1915) I L 40 Bom 11

C I F contract—Payment to be made after goods had been landed—Breach of contract—Failure of vendors to deliver bill of lading or goods—Contract of affreightment—Property conveyed in enemy vessel—War declared whilst cargo at sea—Capture of vessel and cargo—Adjudication by Prize Court—Condemnation of vessel—Release of cargo—Effect of war on executory contract—Impossibility of performance—Void contract—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 56 On the 2nd February 1914 the defendant firm agreed to sell to the plaintiffs 10 tons of basic steel bars under a c i f contract free Hooghly. The shipments were to be made in June July and October and delivery to be completed within three days from the date of the landing of the goods. Furthermore it was agreed between the parties that 45 days credit from the date of the delivery of the goods should be allowed to the plaintiffs. In respect of the July shipment the goods which consisted of partly Belgian and partly German manufacture were shipped on the 2nd July 1914 from Antwerp per S S Steinurm a German steamer. On the 4th August 1914 when war was declared between England and Germany the S S Steinurm was at sea. She was subsequently captured with her cargo by a British cruiser and taken to Colombo for adjudication. The Prize Court condemned the vessel but released the cargo which was brought to Calcutta at the expense of Government. The Government thereupon notified the vendors that the goods had arrived and the latter immediately communicated with the purchasers asking them to take delivery of the goods on payment of certain extra charges to Government. The plaintiffs having refused to do so the goods were sold by the defendants on purchasers account and risk. In a suit for breach of contract and for damages Held that the variation of the terms as to the time of payment did not alter the nature of the contract as a c i f contract. Held also that it was an implied part of the contract of the 2nd February 1914 that the defendants should procure a contract of affreightment under which the goods would be delivered in the Hooghly. Held also that the contract between the plaintiffs and the defendants included the performance of an act (viz the procuring of the contract of affreightment under which the goods would be delivered in the Hooghly) which after the contract was made became impossible by reason of the outbreak of war within the meaning of s 56 of the Indian Contract Act and consequently the contract of the 2nd February 1914 was void. MADHOKAM HIRDOO DAS & C SETH (1914) I L 45 Cal 28

4—Contract under C I F terms—Policy of insurance omitted from shipping documents—Payment made under mistake—Bank remitting the money to the drawer—Instructions by drawer to withhold payment after remittance—Liability of the Bank as agent—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 7—Estoppel—Posting of a demand draft whether equivalent to payment In May 1915 the plaintiff entered into two contracts under c i f terms with one P. Vella for supply to him of certain goods. P. Vella drew a demand draft on the plaintiff and endorsed it over for collection to the Anglo Egyptian Bank Ltd Malta who in turn endorsed it to the defendant Bank at Aden. On August 10th 1915 the plaintiff was informed by the defendant Bank that the latter held a demand draft upon him and would deliver shipping documents to him on payment of the draft. On August 12th 1915 the plaintiff paid the amount due on the draft and removed from the Bank certain shipping documents among which on inspection at his office the plaintiff failed to discover the policy of insurance. On discovery of this omission the plaintiff wrote to the defendant Bank on August 13th 1915 stating that the draft had been honoured under a mistake and requested the Bank not to pay the amount of the draft to the drawer of the bill and in case the remittance had already been made to cable at the plaintiff's expense instructions to withhold payment. The defendants having refused to stop payment of the sum paid by the plaintiff the latter filed a suit claiming refund of the money. The defendant Bank replied that they were acting merely as agents for collection on behalf of the Anglo Egyptian Bank at Malta through whom the demand draft was received and that they having given telegraphic intimation of the receipt of money to their principal on the 12th August that is before the receipt of the plaintiff's letter of the 17th idem were unable to do anything further in the matter. The plaintiff's suit was dismissed by the Judge at Aden. He appealed to the President's Court and pending the appeal a reference being made to the High Court Bombay under s 8 of the Aden Act II of 1884 for consideration of questions inter alia (i) whether the money was paid by plaintiff to the defendant Bank under a mistake of fact as to the documents delivered in exchange therefor (ii) whether the defendants could and should have stopped payment of the price as instructed by the plaintiff (iii) whether the defendant Bank acted as principals or agents in collecting the price of goods (iv) whether if defendants acted as agents in collecting the price of the goods they had any better rights than the sellers P Vella (v) whether in the circumstances the plaintiff was entitled to repayment of the price from the defendants under s 72 of the Indian Contract Act 1872. Held (1) that the money was paid by the plaintiff to the defendant Bank under a mistake of fact (2) that although the posting of the draft was neither payment nor an act so prejudicing the defendant Bank that it would be inequitable to require them to refund yet in view of the telegraphic intimation to the defendant's principals at their express request to the effect that money had been paid by the plaintiff he (the plaintiff) was estopped having regard to the peculiar relation of the parties and therefore the defendants could not nor should they have stopped payment of the price as instructed by the plaintiff (3) that the defendant Bank were mere agents (4) that the defendants had higher rights than P Vella in consequence of estoppel arising from plaintiff's conduct (5) that the plaintiff would not be entitled to repayment under s 72 of the Indian Contract Act 1872 as that section should be read subject to the law of estoppel and in view of the fact in the present case there was a clear case of estoppel. Deutch Bank (London Agency) v

SALE OF GOODS—contd

SALE OF GOODS—contd

Barro & Co 73 L T 669 referred to Shen Chaud v The Govt of W P 1 L P 1 AB 9 disented from SOLOMON JACOB & THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA LTD ADEN (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 11

5 ——— Indentor who has accepted the shipping documents and if drafts for the amount due but refused to take delivery on the ground of goods not being in accord with description—Plaintiff's failure of consideration—Warranted title—Contract of sale—Defendant accepted the shipping documents and the drafts for the amount due but refused to take delivery on the ground that the goods were not in accord with the description as entered in the indent. The contract was a sale of goods contract and the indent also expressly showed that the indentors were bound to pay the drafts as matured and if they had any claim in regard to the nature of the goods they would bring it in the manner laid down in the indent. Held that the defendants could not in answer to the claim upon the draft plead failure of consideration because what they contracted for were the shipping documents and not the actual goods. Barro & Co v Nagesh Chand Phil Chaud (S. Indian Cus 644) referred to STELLING MASOV AND CO v JAWALA NATH BAGHWAN DAS

I L F 1 Lab. 99

6 ——— Insolvency of purchaser before delivery—Endorser's right to refuse delivery—Official Assignee duties and rights of election within reasonable time—Tender of cash before delivery—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) as s 62 63—Joint Hindu family, insolvency of member of—Infant partner—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 247 On the insolvency of the karta of a Musalhara Hindu family a suit is not maintainable by the Official Assignee for damages for breach of a contract entered into by the firm which was the joint business of the family. Under a 5- of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act the rights that passed to the Official Assignee were the rights the insolvent had under the contract as a partner; hence it was the duty of the Official Assignee to declare his election to take up the contract within a reasonable time and to tender cash before calling for delivery. Ex parte Chalmers L P 8 CA App 269 and Morgan v Davis L P 20 C P 16 followed. GREY v LAMOND WALKER (1913)

I L P 80 Cal. 593

7 ——— Bought and sold notes—Bought by your order and for your account from our principals—Principal and Agent—Principal's liability of broker—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 30 (2)—Broker an intermediary—Correlation of employment—Award Where a broker engaged and sent to a party a bought note in the following terms: We have this day bought by your order and for your account from our principals 200 bales of jute (name) Brokers and a correspondent, sold note was signed and sent by the broker to another party the names of the principals being disclosed to each other by the broker at a subsequent date. Held in proceedings taken by the latter that the broker was merely an intermediary and not an agent for sale and was not liable under s 240 (2) of the Contract Act. The contract (if any) between the broker and the buyer was a contract of employment the employment being to negotiate and not to sell on behalf of another Sou Lureil v Lorditch L P I C P 311 followed Gulboy v Aitcom I L P I C 449 distinguished. PATIRAM BANERJEE v KANKEABARRA

SALE OF GOODS—contd

 Co. Ltd. (1915) I L R 42 Cal 1030

8. ——— Exception clause excusing delay due to late shipment—Failure of seller to deliver on due date—Tender on a subsequent date—Onus on party relying on exception—Ship ment to be shown to be unavoidably delayed—“Shipments meaning of—Measure of damages
 Defendant contracted with plaintiff to deliver to him in Calcutta 50 tons of Pangoon rice in June 1909 and another 50 tons in July 1909. A clause in the contract provided that no objection was to be raised by the plaintiff in case of the delivery of the goods being delayed by reason of the non arrival in time of the steamer carrying the goods on account of the shallowness of water at Diamond Harbour damages to the steam engine accidents of the sea and other causes not under human control as also owing to late shipment at Pangoon. The June consignment was not tendered by defendant until the 9th of July and the July consignment until the 3rd August. The market rates on both the days were the same as those on 30th June and 31st July respectively. The plaintiff relied on the tenders on both days and sued for damages being the difference between the contract price and the market price on the said two dates. Defendant relying on the clause relative to late shipment pleaded that under the contract there was no particular due date of delivery. Held that the defendant could not rely on that clause unless he was able to prove that the circumstances which led to delay in shipment were not attributable to his negligence. Dunn v Bucknall (1909) 2 K B 614 followed. That the burden of establishing that his case was covered by the exception on which he relied was on the defendant. Sandeman and Sons v Tyack and Branfoot Steamship Co. Ltd (1913) A C 650 followed. The term shipment in the contract included not merely the loading of goods on board the ship but also the starting of the ship. That as soon as the contract had been broken the obligation of the purchaser to take delivery of the goods vanished and he was not bound to accept the goods when they were delivered and that the right measure of damages was the difference between the contract price and the market price on the dates of delivery originally agreed upon by the parties. Grenon v Iachmi Varain I L R 24 Cal 8 relied on. KALI KANTA SHAHA v ISMAIL (1914) 20 C W N 159

SALE OF GOODS ACT (56 & 57 VIC C 71)

—— ss 45 and 47 — S appears in transit—Ultimate destination of goods—Duration of transit—Ledge of bill of lading—Measure of damages—Sale of Goods Act (56 and 57 Vic C 71) ss 45 and 47 The plaintiffs a Bombay firm imported hardware goods from M & Co of Manchester for sale on commission the business being carried on and financed in the following manner M & Co on shipping the goods handed over the complete shipping documents to B and received from him an advance of 60 per cent of the invoice price. B then handed over the shipping documents to the National Bank of India in England and himself received a similar advance by drawing on a credit opened with the Bank by the plaintiffs. The Bank then forwarded the shipping documents to India where they were handed over to the plaintiffs in exchange for true receipt the plaintiffs becoming responsible to the Bank for any short fall in the advances made to B. On 12th February 1907 M & Co contracted to purchase 50 boxes of tin plates delivery to be made at Newport in four or five weeks after date. On 6th February M & Co wrote to L & Co enclosing instructions and marks for shipment of the 50 boxes to Bombay and on 2nd March requested them to forward the goods to W & Co at Newport in time for shipment in S S Clan Macleod for Bombay. On 21st March L & Co enclosed to M & Co an invoice for 200 boxes and on 27th March another invoice for the remaining 50 boxes the material part of the invoice in each case being: No claim concerning these goods can be recognised unless made within fifteen days from delivery to Messrs W & Co Newport for shipment on your account. The 250 boxes were put on board the steamer by W & Co as the agents of L & Co but in obtaining a bill of lading for 500 boxes (including the 250 in question) W & Co acted as the agents of M & Co. The steamer left Newport on 4th April. Following the usual course of business as above described M & Co handed over to B the shipping documents relating to the 500 boxes and obtained an advance of £2500 (being 50 per cent of the invoice value). B on the 6th April obtained a similar advance from the Bank. On the same day M & Co suspended payment and on 9th April L & Co as unpaid vendors of 250 boxes notified the steamship owners the first defendants to stop these goods in transit. The S S Clan Macleod arrived in Bombay on 13th May and the bill of lading which had been duly handed over by the Bank to the plaintiff on 29th April was in due course presented by the latter. They were informed however of the stop put on the 250 boxes and were offered a delivery order for the remaining 250 alone. This they declined refusing to accept anything but the full payment of the advance or the full amount of the goods. On 29th June the plaintiffs repaid the Bank the amount of the advance and the trust receipt of 29th April was duly cancelled. On the plaintiffs subsequently suing the steamship owners and their agents for damages. Held that the transit did not cease at Newport and L & Co were entitled to stop the goods after they had started for Bombay. Ex parte Golding Davis & Co 13 C D 63 followed. Held further that the plaintiffs were after 9th June—on which date they had fulfilled their obligations to the Bank—pledgees for value of the bill of lading if indeed they did not occupy that position from 29th April being transferees of the Bank's rights in respect of the advance as against the defendants. Held further that the plaintiffs were entitled to join both defendants in the suit. The utmost benefit which the defendants were entitled to obtain from the position of L & Co as sureties (See to the plaintiffs for the advance made by the latter to M & Co) was the right to the security of the 250 boxes which they were willing from the outset should be received by the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs by refusing to take delivery of the 250 boxes had omitted to do an act which their duty to the surety required them to do and to the extent to which that omission had resulted in loss the surety was discharged. In re Westinhus & B & Ad 817 discussed. BAFUJI SONABJI v THE CLAY LINE STEAMERS LD (1910) I L N 34 Bom 640

SALE OF GOODS ACT (56 & 57 VIC C 71)

—contd—— ss 45 and 47—contd

SALE OF GOODS ACT (56 & 57 VIC, C 71)

—concl'd

— ss 45 and 47—concl'd

SALE OF LAND

See LIMITATION ACT (IV of 1908) SCH I ARTS 87 62

I L R 37 Bom 538

See MORTGAGE

I L R 47 Cal 377 924

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 55 (d)

I L R 88 Mad 997

— agreement for—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 38 Cal 805

By Municipality without written Contract

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT 1901 s 96 AND 40

I L R 45 Bom 797

Agreement by vendee to pay revenue—Reservation of portion out of property sold—Agreement not binding on transferee. The vendor of a village reserved for her maintenance 108 bighas and the vendee also agreed not to ask for rent of those 108 bighas. Vendee further did not insist upon payment of the proportionate share of Government revenue due from the vendor but paid it himself. Held that any agreement which might have existed as between the vendor and the vendee as regards the payment of Government revenue was a purely personal matter and could not bind the vendee after the death of the vendor when the land was in the possession of her legatee. Sri Thakurji Maharaj v Lachmi Narayan 11 All L J 212 Pam Gobind v Sri Thakurji Maharaj 11 All L J 231 and Ali Hussain v Hakimullah I L R 33 All 230 referred to. LACHMI SINGH v JANGOTI SINGH (1916) I L N 39 All 166

Duty of vendor—Right of vendee to be put in possession. A vendor of land when he holds himself out in that capacity is bound to ascertain whether in fact the subject matter of what he is selling exists and he must be in a position to give possession of the physical thing which he has contracted to sell. The obligation is upon the vendor to give the vendee possession and not upon the latter to get possession for himself especially when any difficulty arises in notifying the particular land sold. DARFAN KURR v HEDAR NATH I Pat L J 140

Contract of re-sale—Time essence of the contract—Doctrine applicable to contracts of sale whether applicable to contracts of re-sale—Rule of English law applicability of to India. The doctrine that time may not be of the essence of the contract which arises on the construction of contracts of sale of immovable property is not applicable to contracts of re-sale of property conveyed. If the transaction is not a mortgage the right to repurchase being an option must be exercised according to the strict terms of the power. Rule of English law followed—Joy v Birch 7 F R 22 Randolph v Mellon 62 E R 627 and Dibbins v Dibbins (1896) 2 Ch 318 referred to. SAMABAYUR CHETTIAR v SUDARSANCHARIAR (1919)

SALE OF LAND—cont'd

I L R 42 Mad 832

—on payment of price—Right of vendee to sue for possession—Decree for possession whether can direct payment of price or be conditional on payment—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 54 and 55. A vendee who has not paid the purchase money of the lands bought by him is entitled to a decree against the vendor for possession of such lands. The Court cannot make the decree conditional on payment of the purchase money nor can it decree payment of the price to defendant in the vendee's suit. KRISHNANATHA v MALI (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 712

Duty of to protect vendee's title—caveat emptor. Where in a suit brought by a third party against a vendor and vendee of immovable property the former admits the claimant's title and the suit is decreed upon that admission he cannot in a subsequent suit for the recovery of the purchase money paid to him by the vendee plead that the former suit was wrongly decided. Per INSTANT J—In vernacular conveying the expression pak aaf means a flawless title. BRATTU PAM v GARGA PRASAD S Pat L J 358

Sale of specific area of land—vendees evicted from part of this area—Vendor's liability—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 55—Measure of damages—Indian Contract Act IX of 1872 s 73. On the 16th September 1907 C D and his son M B the predecessors of defendants 3 to 8 sold to the plaintiff 79 kanals and 4 marlas of land. The property comprised several plots of land which formed part of different khasra numbers specified in the sale deed. The price paid by the vendees was Rs 83,160 and was calculated as expressly stated in the deed at the rate of Rs 1,050 per kanal. The plaintiffs asserted that they got possession of the 79 kanals and 4 marlas but were subsequently evicted by the defendants 1 and 2 from an area measuring 4 kanals 4 marlas. It was found that defendants 1 and 2 were as a matter of fact the owners of the latter area. Held that as under the terms of the deed of conveyance that as the vendors sold 79 kanals and 4 marlas at so much per kanal to the plaintiffs it was the duty of the vendors either to make good the deficiency or to pay damages for the loss caused to the vendees having regard to the admission by the defendants that there was a guarantee of title and to the provisions of s 55 of the Transfer of Property Act. Held further that the measure of damages is the price of the land at the time of eviction—vide s 73 of the Indian Contract Act. Agardas Saubhaggyadas v Ahmed Khan (I L R 21 Bom 175) Parmahod Bhagwan v Manmohan Das (I L R 32 Bom 165) and Nabinchandra Saha v Krishna Barina (I L R 38 Cal 455) followed. JAI KISHAY DAS v ARYA PRITI NIDHI SABAHA I L R 1 Lab 950

SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 527

SALE OR AGREEMENT TO SELL.

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 37 Mad 490

SALE OR EXCHANGE

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 54 118
I L R 37 Mad 423

SALE-PRICE

See PRE EMPTION 14 C W N 295

SALE PROCEEDS

See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST
I L R 41 Calc 844

See LIMITATION I L R 41 Calc 654

— attachment of—

See PAYABLE DISTRIBUTION
I L R 46 Calc 64

— surplus of—

See MORTGAGE I L P 37 Calc 907

— surplus sale-proceeds in the hands of Collector attachment of—

See MORTGAGE 14 C W N 484

SALE-PROCLAMATION

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 38 Calc 482

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) ss 20 22
I L R 39 Mad 479

— decision of question of valuation—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 ss 2 AND 47 5 Pat L J 270

— Position of purchaser with notice of incumbrance—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI R 66 I L R 43 All 489

Valuation of property

To order property which is to be put up for sale in execution of a decree to be valued at twenty times the Government revenue is merely a colourable pretence of making the valuation required by law and such an order cannot be sustained JAGANNATH PERSHAD v CHITRAPUTTA NARAIN SINGH 8 Pat L J 580

Insertion of parties valuation legality of The insertion of any valuation in a sale proclamation other than the valuation fixed by the Court is calculated to mislead intending bidders and is therefore wrong Neither the valuation assessed by the decree-holder nor by the judgment debtor should be inserted RAI BENI PRASAD v EDUL SINGH 4 Pat L J 37

SALE WITH OPTION OF RE PURCHASE

See SALE

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENTS
I L R 40 Bom 378

A deed of sale contained the following decrees I have given the land into your possession If perhaps at any time I require it back I will pay you the aforesaid

SALE WITH OPTION OF RE PURCHASE—contd

Rs 100 and any money you may have spent in bringing the land into good condition and purchase back the land In a suit 3 years later by vendor's grandson against vendee's daughter in law Held the option was personal GUNNATH RALLI v YAMAGURA I L R 35 Bom 259

SALTPETRE

See NIMAK SAKAR MITHAL
I L R 41 Calc 286

SALT WORKS

See ASSESSMENT I L R 42 Bom 692

SALVAGE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 O XXI R 93 2 Pat L J 676
See SHIPPING

SAMBALPUR DISTRICT

See APPEAL I L R 38 Calc 391

See CENTRAL PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT 1981 s 130 1 Pat L J 290

SAME TRANSACTION

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I L R 37 Calc 467

SANAD

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 180 s 1 I L R 44 Bom 110

See PROOF 16 C W N 683

See PRESUMPTION OF LAND
I L R 44 Bom 668

— construction of—

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT, s 2 I L R 44 Bom 323

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876) s 12 I L R 45 Bom 463

See JAIGIR I L R 42 Calc 305

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871) s 9 I L R 32 All 148

See PRESUMPTION I L R 39 Bom 279

Sanad construction of—Grant creating title of Rajah of Deur in 1867 —Meaning of Lands attached to Deur —Whether confined to lands in Salara where Deur is situated or extended to other lands in Bombay Presidency—Use of contemporaneous exposition in interpretation of documents—Jagir nature of tenure—Saranjam—Inam—Jalan—Hakl—Nature of evidence in interpreting documents—Alterations of records The plaintiff and the defendant were brothers descendants of the Bhoir family (Pajabs of Nagpur) whose possessions lapsed to the British Government in 1853 The object of the suit was to have it declared that the whole of the property in dispute (all situated in the Bombay Presidency) belonged to the two brothers in equal shares The elder brother the defendant (appellant) was Rajah of Deur and his defence was that he had succeeded to the property in suit under the law of primogeniture as an appanage to the title of Rajah conferred on him by a Sanad issued by the Governor General Lord Canning in 1862 The question depended mainly on the construction

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—cc 13

by single Judge of Chief Court—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 19. I L P 1 Lab 239

public servants—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 19. I L P 1 Lab 239
I L M 43 Bom 147

refusal by 1st class Magistrate—

Whether Additional Session Judge may on appeal—See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 19. I L P 44 Bom 877

Subordination of Courts—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 19. I L R 2 Lab 57

Pe jury—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) ss 236 19 337 (b) 101
I L M 45 Bom 834

refusal of—

See DEFAMATION I L R 48 Calc 388

1 ——— Contradictory statements—False statement before the Committing Magistrate retracted and true evidence given at the trial—Retraction of witness for contradictory statements—Consolidation of circumstances under which false evidence was given and repudiated—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195. It would be dangerous to hold that the mere fact of contradictory statements having been made by a witness would justify the Court in granting sanction to prosecute him for giving false evidence. It is necessary to consider the circumstances under which they were made and repudiated. Where a witness was arrested and after pointing out the spot where the stolen property was concealed as alleged by one of the accused was released but stayed with the police and was examined the next day in Court before the date fixed for the hearing of the case the question having been put by a police officer in violation of s 495 of the Criminal Procedure Code and the evidence so given was false and was retracted at the trial when he gave true evidence alleging that he had been tortured and threatened by the same officer before his deposition in the lower Court. Held that having regard to the events leading up to the examination before the Committing Magistrate the conditions under which it was conducted and the fact that the witness did not persist in his false statements but gave true evidence at the trial sanction should be granted. DURBOR : TRIPURA SHANKAR SARKAR (1910)

I L P 37 Calc 618

2 ——— Procedure—Criminal Procedure Code s 194—Court is bound to take care. In disposing of the application for sanction to prosecute for bringing a false suit under s 194 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Court has to decide whether the original suit was false and whether if it was false sanction should be granted and must make a full enquiry into the matter even if it involves trying the case de novo. So where there was no evidence in the records of the original case to prove that it was false and the Small Cause Court refused sanction on the ground that it was not found to go beyond the record and the Court ordered the case to be sent back and tried according to law. 1 ANANDI RANJA v SHIVAPAL SINGH (1910) I L R 37 Calc 714

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

14 C W N 806

3 ——— False information to Police—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 194 (b) 476. No sanction should be granted or prosecution directed unless there is a reasonable probability of conviction though the authority granting a sanction under s 194 or taking action under s 476 should not decide the question of guilt or innocence. Great care and caution are required before the Criminal law is set in motion and there must be a reasonable foundation for the charge in respect of which a prosecution is mentioned or directed. Ishar Lallad v Sham Lal I L P 111 S 1 Kals Charan Lal v Basudeo Naresh Singh I L R 2 C W N 3 and Queen v Bairoo Lal I L P 1 Calc 49 referred to. Where there had been prolonged litigation between the petitioner and the opposite party in which the former had been successful so that the case was by no means improbable and two Magistrates had in the course of the judicial investigations preceding the trial accepted the prosecution story as substantially true and the Assessors had only found the case not proved. Held that under the circumstance it was not a proper case for a prosecution under s 476 of the Code. JADU NANDAY SINGH v DURBOR (1909)

I L R 37 Calc 250

4 ——— Disobedience of order—Penal Code s 188—Disobedience of order under s 144 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898)—Sanction to prosecute essentials for granting. A Magistrate should not sanction a prosecution under s 188 Penal Code unless he thinks that all the elements necessary for a conviction are present. Where the order sanctioning a prosecution under s 188 Penal Code for an alleged disobedience of an order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code did not show that the disobedience caused or tended to cause obstruction annoyance or injury or a riot the High Court set it aside in revision. PROJAPAT JHA v THE EMPEROR (1909)

14 C W N 234

5 ——— Forgery—Criminal Procedure Code s 195 (c)—Sanction for prosecution want of effect of. On the prosecution of the accused for an offence under s 467 Indian Penal Code alleged to have been committed in respect of a document which was subsequently produced at the hearing of a suit tried on the Original Side of the High Court in which the accused was a party. Held that the prosecution was incompetent with out the previous sanction of the Court which tried the suit or of the Court to which it was subordinate. That s 463 Indian Penal Code referred to in s 194 (c) of the Criminal Procedure Code covers forgery of the description for which penalty is provided under s 467 Indian Penal Code. TEJI SHAH v BOLANI SHAH (1909)

14 C W N 479

6 ——— Sanction refused by Munsif—Appeal—Sanction granted by Subordinate Judge—Jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195—Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) ss 21 and 22—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 24 (1) (a) and 113. A suit having been

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

Dismissed by the Munsif and on appeal by the Court of Appeal the defendants applied to the Munsif for sanction to prosecute the plaintiffs for offences under ss 468 and 471 of the Indian Penal Code. This application was refused but on appeal the Subordinate Judge granted such sanction. Held that the Court of the District Judge was the only Court to which such an appeal would properly lie. Per N R CHATTERJEE J—For the purposes of s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code a Munsif is not subordinate to a Subordinate Judge. RAM CHARAN CHANDA TALUKDAR v. TARIPULLA (1912) I L R 39 Calc 774

7 ————— Jurisdiction—Application to District Judge under s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898)—Transfer of such application to a Subordinate Judge for disposal—Jurisdiction—Civil Courts (Act XII of 1887) ss 21 (2) (4) and 22 (1)—Appeal—An application made to a District Judge under s 195 sub s (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code against the order of a Munsif cannot be transferred by the District Judge to a Subordinate Judge for disposal. Ram Charan Chanda Talukdar v. Taripulla I L R 39 Calc 774 approved. Semle. An application under s 195 sub s (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code is not an appeal within the meaning of s 22 sub s (1) of the Bengal Civil Courts Act 1887. HARI MANDAL v. KESHAB CHANDRA MANA (1912) I L R 40 Calc 37

8 ————— Appeal—Right of—Grant or refusal of sanction by a lower authority—Application to superior authority which is a matter of appeal or revision—Limitation of the period of such application—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195 (6)—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 151 Sub s (6) of s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not confer a right of appeal to the superior authority but only invests the latter with powers by way of revision. Hardeo Singh v. Hanuman Datt Narain I L R 26 All 244 Mathurams Mandal v. Veenu Chetty I L R 30 Mad 389 discussed and distinguished. Hars Mandal v. Keshab Chandra Manna 16 C W N 903 Mehdi Hasan v. Tata Pam I L R 15 All 61 approved. Ram Charan Talukdar v. Taripulla I L R 39 Calc 774 referred to. Where the question arises with reference to Art 154 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) it has merely to be stated that there is a doubt as to whether an appeal lies or not in such a case in order to give the applicant the benefit of the longer period. The High Court accordingly directed the Sessions Judge to hear an application to revoke a sanction made to him after the expiry of a month from this date. In re North Ex parte Hasluck (1895) 2 Q B 264 Gopal Lal Sahai v. Bahrons 15 C L J 170 followed. POCHAI MEYER v. EMPEROR (1912) I L R 40 Calc 239

9 ————— Jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195—Verbal application—Jurisdiction—Revocation—Power of Court granting sanction—Practice—Where a verbal application was made by counsel for sanction to prosecute under s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code and granted by the Court but no order could be drawn up as the application was not made upon formal petition. Held that upon a formal petition being subsequently presented the Court had jurisdiction to grant such sanction the former sanction being inoperative. Held further that a Judge sitting on the Original Side has no jurisdiction to revoke a sanction previously granted by him and that application for such revocation must be made to a Civil Appellate Bench of the Court. Kali Kankar Sett v. Dinobandhu Auddy I L R 32 Calc 379 discussed. THADDER v. JANAKI NATH SAHA (1912) I L R 40 Calc 493

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

10 ————— Second sanction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195—Subsequent order only a repetition of the first order—Repetition of Proceedings—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 193 471—Limitation—Where there are two orders purporting to grant sanction to the same prosecution the later order will ordinarily be taken to be merely a repetition of the first and the period of limitation will begin to run from the date of the first order. Durbars Mandar v. Jagoa Lal I L R 22 Calc 573 referred to. DURGO PRASAD PATHAK v. LACHMAN BANIA (1913) I L R 40 Calc 584

11 ————— Disobedience of prohibitory order—Necessity of application for sanction—Police report setting forth the facts of disobedience and containing a request for prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195 (1) (a)—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 188—A police report which sets out the facts of disobedience of an order under s 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code prohibiting the slaughter of cows on a certain day and contains a request that the accused should be prosecuted under s 188 of the Penal Code is a sufficient application for sanction within s 195 (1) (a) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Per CHATMAN J—No application for sanction is necessary in cases falling under s 195 (1) (a) of the Code. PANDEY MANDAL v. EMPEROR (1913) I L R 41 Calc 14

12 ————— Discretion—Judicial decisions—application of—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 4 (4) 195 476 490—S 195 scope of and practice under—Public Prosecutor S 195 of the Code of Criminal Procedure vests in the Court an absolute discretion as regards granting sanction to prosecute this discretion cannot be restricted by judicial decisions but must be fairly exercised according to the exigencies of each case. The Court being astute to see that there is no abuse of the administration of criminal justice. Garner v. Jay L R 29 Ck D 50 and Saunders v. Saunders (1897) I S 99 referred to. Under s 195, no notice of the application for sanction need be issued and the accused person need not even be named. The validity of the sanction cannot be questioned in the enquiring or the trying Court. Per STEPHEN J—Proceedings under s 195 should frequently and even usually be ex parte. In re Parree Kun hammed I L R 96 Mad 116 Pam papati Sastri v. Subba Sastri I L R 93 Mad 210 In the matter of Gauri Sahai I C B N 114 Ram Prasad Roy v. Soba Roy I C B N 400 Radha Nauth Banerjee v. Kanglee Mollah 16 J Marsh 407 Queen v. Mahomed Ho sain 16 J W R Cr 37 Sharp v. Wakefield (1891) A C 173 Khepu Nath Sikdar v. Gush Chunder Mukerji I L R 16 Calc 730 Paperam Surma v. Gaurirath Dutt I L R 40 Calc 474 Mahomed Bhakku v. Queen Empress I L R 23 Calc 530 In the matter of Vally Lall Ghose I L R 6 Calc 393 cited and discussed by CHAUDHRY J. An attorney is criminally liable for a false statement in an affidavit made by him in answer to a Pule issued against him under the discretionary jurisdiction of the Court. In re ANATHAN (1913)

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

I L R 41 Calc 448

13 ————— Jurisdiction of High Court and District Court—District Judge—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895) s 193 (1) cl (b) and 4 G—Petition—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 11a Neither the High Court nor the District Judge has power under s 4 G of the Criminal Procedure Code to direct prosecution for an offence committed before a Provincial Small Cause Court. Regu Singh v Emperor I L R 34 Calc 551 referred to. The High Court itself is precluded from granting sanction in such a case under s 193 sub s. (1) cl (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code as a Provincial Small Cause Court is no subordinate to it within subs (c) cl (c) nor can it interfere under subs (6) with an order of a District Judge revoking a sanction granted by such Small Cause Court. Hamayudlin Mondal v Damodar Ghose 10 C W N 106 G Ganga Sankar Roy v Binode Sishik 5 C L J 299 and Muthuramami Madala v Leena Chetti I L R 30 Mad 389 referred to. Where the District Judge revoked a sanction granted by a Subordinate Court to a District Magistrate on the ground that a sanction could not be granted to a third party and initiated proceedings under s 4 G of the Criminal Procedure Code. Held that he acted illegally in the exercise of his jurisdiction, and that the High Court had power to set aside his order under s 11, of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908). Hamayudlin Mondal v Damodar Ghose 10 C W N 106 G distinguished. In re PAM PRASAD MALLA (1909)

I L R 37 Calc 12

14. ————— Jurisdiction—Resistance to attachment—of movables on evidence only of the executing process—Other evidence called for by the Court but not heard when produced notwithstanding previous summonses on witnesses and adjournments for their appearance—Delay in granting sanction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895) s 195 The Court executing a decree has jurisdiction if satisfied on the evidence without cross examination solely of the person who was alleged to have been resisted in the attachment of movable that a prima facie case had been made out to sanction the prosecution of the persons so resisting execution under s 183 of the Penal Code notwithstanding the fact that the Court had previously called for evidence from both parties issued summonses on their witnesses who were produced on the date of the hearing of the application for sanction and adjourned the case several times for their appearance. The High Court deprecated the dilatoriness in disposing of the application by the Court of first instance. MAKHAN LAL SAHA v SAROJENDRA NATH SAHA (1920)

I L R 47 Calc 741

15 ————— Offences committed in the Court of a Deputy Magistrate—Transfer of same from the sub-division—Successor in office—Application for sanction to another Deputy Magistrate subsequently posted to the sub-division—Power of latter to grant sanction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895) s 195 Where there are several Deputy Magistrates at a place and one of them is transferred the Deputy Magistrate who comes to fill the gap is not the successor in office of the Magistrate. Madhachari v Emperor I L R 35 Calc 40 referred to. Where a proceeding under s 10 of the Code during the course of which a forged oath was filed and evidence given in support thereof was disposed of by H K C a Deputy Magistrate who became afterwards the Officer next senior to the Sub-divisional Magistrate and on the transfer of the former two other Deputy Magistrates became successively the next senior officers and ultimately H L M a Deputy Magistrate joined the sub-division as the next senior officer and an application was made to him for sanction to prosecute the petitioners for offences under s 41 and 193 of the Penal Code committed in the Court of H K C. Held that H L M was not the successor in office of H K C and had no power to grant sanction under the circumstance. CIRI N CHANERA JAY v SARAT CHANERA SENON (1914)

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

I L R 42 Calc 667

16 ————— Revisional jurisdiction of High Court over Presidency Small Cause Court—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 115—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 195—Stay in a judicial proceeding until—Oath—Delay—A Judge of the Presidency Small Cause Court Calcutta had dismissed six applications for sanction to prosecute the plaintiffs for having made false claims. On an application to the High Court under s 115 of the Criminal Procedure Code to set aside the orders Held that under s 195 of the Criminal Procedure Code the High Court is the superior Court to the Presidency Small Cause Court and has power to deal with the order which was made by that Court. Held also that an application for leave to sue is a stage in a judicial proceeding where such leave is necessary to give the Court jurisdiction. Held also that the delay in making the application for sanction to prosecute had been satisfactorily explained and was not in the circumstances such as to prejudice the plaintiffs. BUDHU LAL CHATTI GOPE (1916)

I L R 43 Calc 587

17 ————— Information to the police reported false—No subsequent application to the Magistrate—Order of Magistrate calling on informant to prove case and examination of witnesses—Grant of sanction—Necessity of sanction when false charge made to the police but not followed by complaint—Complaint—Power of Magistrate to direct prosecution himself in such case—Judicial proceeding—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895) ss 4 (1) 19 (1) (b) 476 No sanction is necessary under s 195 (1) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code to prosecute an informant under s 11 of the Penal Code when a false charge has been made by him only to the police. Ismail Baksh v King Emperor - Cr L J 66 Bhimnarya Venkateswarulu v Moovun Deputy 13 C L J 450 Emperor v Sheikh Ahmad 13 Cr L J 578 followed. But sanction is requisite under the section when he has subsequently preferred a complaint to the Magistrate praying for judicial investigation. Queen Empress v Sham Lal I L R 14 Calc 707 Jogendra Nath Mookerjee v Emperor I L R 33 Calc 1 Qu en Empress v Sheikh Bazar I L R 10 Mad 232 followed. When a person who has laid an information before the police reported the same as false has not

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—cont'd

subsequently applied to the Magistrate for an investigation or has not impugned the correctness of the police report and prayed for a trial he has not made a 'complaint' within the meaning of s 4 (h) of the Code. An order for prosecution cannot be made under s 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code when the alleged offence under s 211 of the Penal Code has not been committed in Court but in relation to a police investigation only. Dharmadas Awar v King Emperor 7 C L J 373 Jadunandan Singh v King Emperor 10 C L J 561 followed. The procedure of calling on the informant who is reported by the police to have made a false charge before them to prove his case and the examination of witnesses is not contemplated by the Code and the proceeding is not a judicial one within s 476 of the Code. Mouli Durzi v Nawrang Lal 4 C W 301 followed. TATYBULLA v EMPEROR (1916) 1 L R 43 Cal 1152

18 ———— Prefering a false charge—Power to revoke by superior Court—Application to High Court to set aside refusal of Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195 (6) main tenability of—Judges of High Court, jointly divided in opinion—Senior Judge's opinion to prevail under cl 6 Letters Patent—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 429 and 439 inapplicability of to such application—Application to a superior Court under Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 19 to set aside a sanction given by an inferior Court not an appeal within the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 141 held by the Full Bench (i) An order refusing to revoke a sanction granted by a lower Court is one granting sanction from which an appeal lies to a superior Court under s 195 cl (6) Criminal Procedure Code. Muthusami Mudali v Teens Chetti 1 L R 30 Mad 382 followed (ii) When Judges composing a bench of the High Court are equally divided on opinion on hearing an application under s 195 cl (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code against an order of the lower Court in a sanction matter the procedure to be followed is that laid down in cl 36 of the Letters Patent and not the one in s 429 or 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code accordingly the opinion of the senior Judge prevails. Per CURRIE—The power conferred upon the High Court by s 195 (6) Criminal Procedure Code is not a part of the appellate and revisional jurisdiction of the High Court conferred by Chapters 31 and 32 of the Criminal Procedure Code but it is a special power conferred by s 195 (6) of the Code. Held by the Division Bench (SENDAPA AYYAR and SPENCER JJ) that an application to a superior Court under s 195 cl (6) Criminal Procedure Code to revoke a sanction granted by an inferior Court is not an appeal within the meaning of Art 154 of the Limitation Act and hence is not governed by the rule of 60 days allowed by that Art for criminal appeals. Per SPENCER J in the Division Bench—But delay in applying may be a ground for refusing to grant sanction. Baru v Baru (1912) 1 L R 39 Mad 50

19 ———— False information to the police followed by a complaint to the Magistrate—Complaint investigated by the Magistrate—Necessity of sanction to prosecute informant only in respect of the false charge to the police—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195 (1) (b). Where an information to the police is followed by a complaint to the Court and the same allegations and the same charge and such complaint has been investigated by the Court the sanction or complaint of the Court itself is necessary even for a prosecution in the informant under s 211 of the Penal Code in respect of the false charge made to the police. Tatybulla v King Emperor 24 C L J 131 1 L R 43 Cal 1152 approved. Putram Ruidas v Mahomed Kasim 3 C W 33 discussed. Jadu Nandan Singh v Emperor 1 L P 57 Cal 250 distinguished. Emperor v Hardwar Pal 1 L R 11 All 527 referred to. BRONN v ANANDA LAL MULLICK (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 516

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—cont'd

20 ———— Jurisdiction of High Court—Practice—Procedure—Suit in the Presidency Small Cause Court—Statement made in the course of a judicial proceeding—Sanction refused by Presidency Small Cause Court—Revision by single Judge sitting on the Original Side of High Court—Remand—Powers of the Chief Justice to remit case for retrial by Division Bench of High Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195 (6) and (7) (c) 45 and 439—High Court Rule Appellate Side Ch II r 7. This as instance of a Judge of a High Court can in a matter of sanction to prosecute from the Presidency Small Cause Court be invoked only under s 195 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code. Under that provision the only order which such a Judge is competent to pass is to revoke a sanction given or grant a sanction refused by the Subordinate Court. He has no jurisdiction to remand the case to the Small Cause Court for further enquiry. Under the Rules of Court (Ch II r 7) he would have such jurisdiction if this were a matter under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code but as it falls within s 195 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code it can be decided only by a Judge or Judges to whom it may have been allocated by the Chief Justice. The Judge exercising jurisdiction under s 195 (6) of the Criminal Procedure Code is competent to take additional evidence to enable him to decide whether he should confirm or reverse the order of the Subordinate Court. BUDHU LAL v CHATTU GOPE (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 516

21 ———— "Produced" meaning of—Document called for by a party and brought into Court and referred to by his pleader and the Court—Antecedent forgery and use before the Subordinate Court—Dubious production of document in Court—Necessity of sanction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195 (1) (c). Where a document was called for by a party to a proceeding under s 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code brought into Court and referred to by his pleader in argument and by the Magistrate in his judgment though he expressly refrained from any opinion as to its authenticity. Held that the document was produced in the proceeding within the meaning of s 195 (1) (c) of the Code. Guru Charan Shaha v Gurya Sundari Das 1 L P 9 Cal 887 Alid Chandra De v Queen Empress 1 L R 22 Cal 1004 Sew Dholi Singh v Pandita Datta 14 C W 806 and In re Gopal Sudheshwar 9 Bom L P 735 referred to. Where before complaint made a document has been produced in a Court by a party to a proceeding before it the sanction of such Court is necessary for his prosecution in respect of an antecedent forgery and antecedent user before a Sub Registrar. Tera Shah v. Bhabu Shah 11 C B N 19 Emperor v. Bhawanji Da I L R 35 All 169 and Je Iramanram v. Varadram I L R 33 Mad 11 followed. Neer Mahomed Caim v. Kaikhru Manseljee & Bom L R 63 Distorted from VALENT KANTA LAHA v. ANKUL CHANDRA LAHA (1917) I L R 44 Calc 1002

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

22 ———— Procedure—Propriety of proceedings under s 300 Penal Code—Discharge—Acquittal—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 211 300—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 190 Where an offence though described as an offence under s 300 of the Penal Code still remains an offence punishable under s 211 Process should not issue under the former section on the application of a person discharged or acquitted when the Court has refused sanction under the latter section. Per RICHARDSON J—The care taken to protect complainants from being harassed by prosecutions for stating false cases is a clear indication that the Legislature never intended that upon refusal of leave to prosecute under s 211 a person who has been discharged or acquitted or allowed to fall back upon s 300 to return to such a court, to be taken would render entirely nugatory the salutary provisions of s 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. The question moreover does not rest entirely upon inferences in regard to the intention of the Legislature. The offence charged in the present case though it is described as an offence under s 300 is not altered by that description. It still remains an offence punishable under s 211. When the Magistrate had refused leave to prosecute under the latter section he ought not to have issued process under s 300. PRAFULLA KUMAR GHOSH v. HARENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE (1918) I L R 44 Calc 970

23 ———— Court's—Court of Justice—Calcutta Improvement Tribunal whether a Court—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195—Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911) ss 70 71 (a) (c) and 77 as amended by the Calcutta Improvement (Appeals) Act (XVIII of 1911)—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 3 The word Court in s 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code has a wider meaning than Court of Justice under s 20 of the Penal Code and includes a tribunal entitled to deal with a particular matter and authorized to receive evidence bearing thereon in order to enable it to arrive at a determination upon the question. Paglobuna Sahoy v. Kukul Singh I L R 17 Calc 872 and Chandi Charan Giri v. Oodadhar Pradhan 22 C B N 160 referred to. The Tribunal constituted by the Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911) as amended by the Calcutta Improvement (Appeals) Act (XVIII of 1911) is a Court within the meaning of s 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Hars Pandurang v. Secretary of State for India I L R 97 Bom 424 distinguished. NANDA LAL GANGULI v. KUNTRA MOHAN GHOSH (1918) I L R 45 Calc 585

24 ———— Sanction by Deputy Collector in appraisement proceedings—No appeal from orders in such proceeding—Jurisdiction—Subordination of such Deputy Collector to the District

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—contd

Judge or Commissioner of the Division—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 69 and 70—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195 (6) (7) (b) (c) A Collector or a Deputy Collector exercising the powers of a Collector under ss 69 and 70 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) is a Court within s 190 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Paglobuna Sahoy v. Kukul Singh I L R 17 Calc 872 followed. Aldullah Khan v. Emperor I L R 3 Calc 5 referred to. Proceedings under s 69 of the Bengal Tenancy Act are civil in nature and the Court of the Deputy Collector acting thereunder is subordinate to that of the District Judge under s 190 (7) Per CHITTY J—S 190 (7) (c) is intended to apply only where no appeal lies from any decision of a particular Court and not where a particular order is non-appealable. Appeals from the Collector under the Bengal Tenancy Act do not ordinarily lie to the Commissioner of the Division. In some cases they lie to him and in others to the Civil Court. The Collector in proceedings under ss 69 and 70 of the Act by reason of s 190 (7) (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code is subordinate to the Court of the District Judge. Per RICHARDSON J—Cl (c) includes both a particular case or class of cases in which no appeal lies and a Court from which no appeal lies in any case. Asharan Chandra Chakrabarty v. Ashoy Kumar Dasyee 1 C B N 948 referred to. Per CHITTY J—The words Principal Court of Original Jurisdiction do not refer to a Court of any particular class but to a Civil Criminal or Revenue Court according to the nature of the case in which the question of sanction arises. Ayudha Prasad v. Pam Lal I L R 34 All 197 referred to by RICHARDSON J. CHANDI CHAPAN GIRI v. GADADHAR PRADHAN (1917) I L R 45 Calc 336

25 ———— False suit—application for sanction to prosecute plaintiff for bringing a false suit—Revision—Delay A defendant against whom an ex parte decree has been passed is not bound to have that decree set aside before applying for sanction to prosecute the plaintiff for bringing a false suit and such sanction can be given even though the period of limitation for setting aside the ex parte decree has expired. When an offence against public justice has been committed the offenders are liable to punishment irrespective of the state of affairs in the civil Court. Ordinarily delay on the part of a private prosecutor in obtaining sanction in respect of offences against public justice is material as bearing upon the question of bona fides but where the Government is in fact the real prosecutor the question of bona fides does not arise. JIGE BHAR LEPSEAD v. RAJENDR MISSEER 11 F L J 688

26 ———— Delay in applying for sanction—Whether is evidence of mala fides when Government is the applicant—Discussion Generally delay by a private person in applying for sanction to prosecute indicates want of bona fides or culpable negligence or laches. Where however the real applicant for sanction to prosecute for bringing a false suit was the Government and before the application was made the Criminal Investigation Department of Bihar and Oris had to make inquiries from the Criminal Investigation Department of the United Provinces and a reference had also to be made to the Local Remem-

SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION—concl'd

brancer and seven months elapsed between the date of dismissal of the suit and the date of the application held that the delay was not such as to show want of bona fides and did not amount to wilful negligence. THE GOVERNMENT ADVOCATE AND THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR = MAHARAJ SINGH
 Pat L J 692

SANCTION TO SUE

to two persons jointly—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) ss 14 AND 18
 I L R 38 Mad 1190

SANITARY CESS

Owners of private latrines connecting with Municipal sewers—

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT 1901 s 59 I L P 41 Bom 527

SANTAL CIVIL RULES

— s 36—

See DECLARATORY DECREE
 6 Pat L J 85

SANTAL PARGANAS

See DECLARATORY DECREE
 6 Pat L J 95

SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION 1872

— s 6—

See EXECUTION OF DECREES
 4 Pat L J 49

— s 11 24 and 25—Entry in record of rights effect of—Whether suit maintainable to set aside—Fraud effect of Where the record of right has been finally published under s 5 a Civil Court has no jurisdiction to question any decision of the settlement officer made during the settlement Plaintiff's right to a 8 anna share in an estate having been recorded under the Regulation he sued for a partition In the plaint he stated he also claimed the entire estate in another suit and prayed for temporary partition should only be decreed on terms to be annulled if he won his other suit The Court decreed partition without saying whether it was temporary or permanent Held (SULLIVAN J dissenting) (1) that it must be assumed that the Court had granted plaintiff lease under O 11 r 1 to reserve for subsequent decision whether he was entitled to entire estate (2) that plaintiff was not debarred by res judicata from claiming the property not awarded to him by a subsequent suit (3) that the entry in the record of rights barred this suit unless he could prove it was fraudulent
 HARI KRISHNA SETH v UMESH CHANDRA DUTT
 6 Pat L J 373

SANTAN

Santan means is no generally and is not limited to male issue KUNUD KRISHNA MANDAL v JOGENDRAO NATH SARKAR (1917)
 21 C W N 634

SANYASIS

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 80 Bom 169
 14 C W N 191

SAPINDAS

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
 I L R 43 Cal 844
 See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 42 Cal 384

— consent of remotest—
 See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
 I L R 39 Mad 77

27 — Duty of Court in granting—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) ss 195 and 409—Whether Court of Magistrate with first class powers is subordinate to Additional Sessions Judge—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 211 when sanction should be granted An Additional Sessions Judge is competent to grant sanction in a matter arising out of a trial before a Magistrate having first class powers In dealing with an application for sanction the sanctioning Court must proceed with caution and discernment and must be guided by two principles namely (1) whether there is a prima facie case against the person for whose prosecution sanction is asked and (2) whether the real object of the applicant is not to satisfy his private ends or personal spite Before sanctioning a prosecution under s 211 of the Indian Penal Code there must be a reasonable belief in the mind of the Court that there was no foundation for the criminal charge and that in instituting criminal proceedings the complainant acted knowingly without belief in the truth of the allegations made by him or recklessly without caring whether the allegations were true or false KUSOM SAO v JANAK LAL
 4 Pat L J 374

28 — Expiry of sanction before date of complaint—Plea of guilty at trial—Validity of conviction without sanction—Absence of failure of justice—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 537 (b) Section 537 (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code applies equally to the case of an expired sanction as to one of a total want of it A conviction of an offence mentioned in s 195 of the Code cannot be reversed or altered on appeal or revision on the ground that the sanction required by the section had expired when the prosecution was initiated unless it is shown that the absence of sanction has in fact occasioned a failure of justice Where the accused pleaded guilty it was further held that there had been no failure of justice in the case Ray Chunder Mozumdar v Gour Chunder Mozumdar I L R 12 Cal 176 overruled Sunder Das v Sital Mahto I L R 28 Cal 217 approved Perumal Nayudu v Emperor I L R 31 Mad 80 referred to BHETRA MOHAN DAS v EMPEROR (1920) I L R 48 Cal 867

SANCTION OF COURT

— for sale of Immovable property—
 See TRUSTS I L R 43 Bom 519

SANCTION OF GOVERNMENT

See LOTTERY I L R 42 Bom 678

SANCTION TO SELL

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF
 I L R 37 Cal 870

SARANJAM

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT
1874 s 15 I L R 41 Bom 23*

See REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT s 4
SUB (a) I L R 31 Bom 232

See SARANJAM I L R 36 Bom 639

Grant of royal share of revenue—Presumption of Saranjam—Lands can be still held on payment of a cess—Suit to recover possession of land—Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1866) s 4—Pensions Act (XIII of 1871) s 4 It is well established that in the case of Saranjam or Jaghir (the terms being convertible) the grant is ordinarily of the royal share of the revenue and not of the soil and that the burden of proving that in any particular case it is a grant of the soil lies upon the party alleging it. Arishanar Ganesh v Jantrar 4 Bom H C P (A C J) 1 Panchandra v Venkatarao I L R 6 Bom 398 606 and Pamris Inarao v Janarao 6 Bom. L R 933 followed. The right to the possession of the land in the case of the Saranjam grant of the royal share of the land revenue does not form part of the Saranjam and is independent of it. The Government can therefore resume what they granted as Saranjam and the royal share of the land revenue and the right to the occupation of the land subject of course to the payment of the full assessment can and does survive the resumption of the Saranjam. Another s 4 of the Revenue Jurisdiction Act (X of 1866) nor s 4 of the Pensions Act (XIII of 1871) bars a suit to recover possession of land the Saranjam rights in which have been resumed by Government. CHETIAO SHERIVAS v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917) I L R 41 Bom 408

Inam rights—Mira (permanent tenancy)—Denial of Saranjamdar a title—Attornment to succeed in Saranjamdar—Eloppe—Claim to hold as Miras tenant—Limit denied—Adverse possession In an ejectment suit brought by an inamdar against person claiming to hold as miras or permanent tenants it was conceded that the inam rights in the land in suit appertained to a Saranjam holder on political tenure and that the present incumbent of the Saranjam was the plaintiff. The defendants resisted the plaintiff's claim to eject them on the ground that the inam rights were merely the right to receive the royal share of the revenue and that the proprietary rights in the soil were prior to the date of the grant vested in the grantee of the inam had descended to his heirs independently of the inam and furnished the leasehold or miras rights. Held that the defendants' contention involved the denial of the title to the reversionary rights in the lands in the defendants' occupation of the successive Saranjamdars approved by Government. The defendants had however been continuously paying rent for their holding to the successive Saranjamdars including the plaintiff. They were thus estopped by attornment from disputing the plaintiff's title. Janadev Dary v Babaji Rana 8 Bom H C R (A C) 175 and Doctem Marlow v Wiggins 4 Q B 367 referred to. The rights of successive holders of hereditary and impartible estates not governed by the ordinary rules of inheritance but subject to the condition that Government shall approve of the heir may be barred by adverse possession. Telant Ram Chunder Singh v Srimati Madlo Kumari L R 12 I A 197 referred to. Where

SARANJAM—contd.

In an ejectment suit by an inamdar it was shown that the defendants for more than twelve years before the suit openly asserted their claim to hold as permanent miras tenants. Held that the defendants had acquired a title to the limited interest claimed by them and could not be ejected. TRIMBAK RAMCHANDRA v SURESH CULAM ILANI (1909) I L R 34 Bom 329

Succession to Saranjam—Title by inheritance—Saranjam rr 2 and 5 under Act XI of 1854—Suit by previous holder of Saranjam—Subsequent holder filing a suit for the same relief—Pecuniary—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 11—Adverse possession against the previous holder—Rights of successive holder barred by limitation—Loss of right to levy assessment—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 130 The plaintiff was a Saranjamdar of an ancestral and hereditary Saranjam village where the land in suit were situated. The lands were in defendant's possession on tenure in consideration of rendering certain Shetranadi services. The defendants having no longer rendered any service the plaintiff prayed for possession of the lands or in the alternative for a declaration establishing his right to levy assessment. The defendants contended that the suit was barred by limitation and also by res judicata in consequence of a previous decision in a suit (No 48 of 1848) between the plaintiff's brother and the predecessor in title of the defendants for substantially the same reliefs as claimed by the plaintiff. Held that the previous decision operated as res judicata as against the present plaintiff because he was claiming under the previous holder and was litigating under the same title as the previous holder in 1848. Held further that since the decision in suit of 1848 the defendants and their predecessors in title had been holding adversely without payment of assessment and therefore the claim for assessment was barred by limitation inasmuch as neither special mode of devolution nor an incapacity of alienation would prevent limitation operating against an estate. Padalao and Pamelandra Konker v Anantav Diogant Deshpande I L R 9 Bom 149 followed. Per HAZARD J The words between parties under whom they or any of them claim litigating under the same title in s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 are intended to cover and do cover a case where the later litigant occupies by succession the same position as the former litigant. The words of the section are not intended to make any distinction between different forms of succession. MADHAPAO HAKHARPAN v ANUSUNAI (1916) I L R 40 Bom 606

SARANJAM RULES

See SARANJAMDAR

I L R 45 Bom 694

SARANJAMDAR

Grant of sub inam and Miras rights—Enjoyment of sub inam for statutory period—Sub inam binding on succeeding Saranjamdar—Saranjam rr 5—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 28 Art 10 The defendant was the Saranjamdar of the village of Bagn which was devendible by inheritance to the eldest member of his family. An ancestor of his had many years ago granted a sub-inam to an ancestor of the plaintiff since when the plaintiff's family enjoyed the lands rent free. After the introduction of the survey settlement into the village in 1903 the defendant levied assessment for the lands from the plaintiff. The plaintiff having sued to recover the amount of the assessment so levied from him—Held that the grant of a subinam made by the Saranajmdar was binding on his successors inasmuch as the Saranajmdar had, on the date of the subgrant at all interest in the estate. Dalibai v Ishwardas Jagjeeandas (1891) 15 Bom. 222 applied. Held further that a suit to levy assessment on rent free lands being a suit for possession of property under s. 28 of the Indian Limitation Act 1909 the effect of the failure to institute such a suit within the time allowed by Art. 130 of the Act was the extinguishment of the right to levy the assessment. Abhay Churn Pal v Kally Perhad Chatterjee (1890) 5 Calc. 949 followed. SARAHAM GOVIND v TRIMBARAO PANCHANDRABAO (1920)

SARANJAMDAR—concl'd

L. L. P. 45 Bom. 694

SARANJAMI

— meaning of —

See PATRY LEASE.

25 C W N 308

SARBARAKARS

— in Orissa —

See LAND TENURE L. R. 45 L. A. 246
I. L. R. 46 Calc. 378

Sarbarakar in Orissa—status of of that of tenure holder—*Dalibehara jagirs—resumption and settlement of—Effect—Lands reserved to Dalibeharas at resumption tenure in the jagirdars of the military jagirs into which under Native Princes the greater part of Killah Khurdah (in Orissa) was parcelled out (styled Dalibeharas) and native revenue officers known as Pradhans, Bhumsal, Kotekharas, Kowri Bhasmas, when the jagirs were resumed by the British Government engaged with Government under the denomination of sarbarakars for the collection and payment of the revenue assessed by it. Held on the evidence, that although from 1818 onwards the tendency of Government and of the majority of its officers was to regard the sarbarakars as mere office holders, they themselves had never before 1861 distinctly acknowledged that this was their position and on the other hand had asserted their status as tenants and there were circumstances connected with their tenure of the lands which militated against the Government's view of their position as servants and their status under their engagement with Government was something higher than that of servants. That from 1861 to 1896 defendant No. 1 the present sarbarakar and his father before him were regarded and treated as tenants and they have successfully asserted their status and maintained their possession as such. That the defendant No. 1's status is that of a tenure holder. Sarbarakars who were originally Dalibehara jagirdars could not in any case be ejected from lands which were reserved to the Dalibeharas at the general resumption of the jagirs. APRIMA INDHU LOK v PARMANAND DAS (1913) 18 M. W. N. 74*

SARBARAKARI TENURE.

See BENGAL RENT ACT 1865 s. 13.

2 Pat. L. J. 75

SARBARAKARI TENURE—concl'd

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

14 C W N 399

Tenure holder of mouzats in Khurdah in Orissa—Liability of Sarbarakar to dismissal for misconduct—Penalty attached to dismissal as to Fertile or transferable right in office of Sarbarakar In this case which related to the tenure of a Sarbarakar in Orissa, and to the question whether the first defendant was a tenure holder under the plaintiff or merely a Sarbarakar. Held on the evidence (reports and other papers in Selections from the correspondence on the settlement of the Khurdah Estate in the district of Puri, Vol. I and II, published in 1879 and 1881) that Sarbarakars in Khurdah had under the Government no heritable or transferable right in their office of Sarbarakar or in the Sarbarakari jagirs that they were liable to be dismissed for misconduct and that on dismissal they lost all right to occupy any Sarbarakari jagirs and that on the termination of a settlement they were bound to enter into a fresh engagement with the Government if they wished to be continued in the office of Sarbarakar. Saddananda Mahto v Souranalla Mahto 8 B. L. R. 250 16 W. R. 259 disented from. Held there fore (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the first defendant was not a tenure holder that he was liable to be dismissed for misconduct from his office of Sarbarakar that he was not duly dismissed from that office and that on his dismissal he ceased to be entitled to hold the Sarbarakari lands in mouzah Bando and that except as to the Sarbarakari lands in mouzah Panabasta the plaintiffs were entitled to the decree in ejectment and for possession and to the declaration of title which the Subordinate Judge gave to them. PARASWANTHA DAS GOWDARI v KATTA SUNDAR POR (1918) I. L. R. 46 Calc. 378

SARDESHMUKHI HAG

See PENSIONERS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)
s. 4 AND 6 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 196

SARDRAKHTI

See PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT 1913
s. 3 I. L. R. 1 Lah. 567

SARSA WANTA LAND

S. v. GOSWAMY TALUKDARS ACT (BOM. ACT VI OF 1885) s. 31
I. L. R. 35 Bom. 97

SATL

See PENAL CODE s. 306
I. L. R. 80 All. 26

SATISFACTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1859) s. 207A I. L. R. 39 Bom. 219
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXI s. 2.
I. L. R. 40 Bom. 333

SATTA

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s. 30 AND 63
I. L. R. 42 All. 419

SATYAGRAHA MOVEMENT

See HIGH COURT JURY DICTIONARY
I. L. R. 41 Bom. 418

SAYADS

MI Kharkhanda—

See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION)—

I L R 2 Lah 383

SCANDALOUS MATTER

See AFFIDAVIT

14 C W N 153

SCHEDULED DISTRICTS ACT (XIV OF 1874)

— Whether applicable to South Par ganah—

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Calc 116

— s 44—R 44 not ultra vires—Jurisdiction of High Court over conviction and sentences by Mewas Agent in 44 framed by the Government of Bombay under the Scheduled Districts Act 1874 is not ultra vires. The High Court of Bombay may therefore take cognizance of any case decided by the Mewas Agent on the petition of a convicted party and if it thinks fit send for the proceeding and pass a fresh decision. EMPEROR v NAZAR MAHOMED (1917)
I L R 41 Bom 657

— IT 8 18—

See AGENCY RULES OF GODAVARI DIS-TRICT I L R 41 Mad 325

SCHEME

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I L R 43 Calc 493

SCHOLARSHIP

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT s 2 I L R 36 Bom 199

SCHOOLMASTER

— Contract of service—Termination by notice—Reasonable notice what is in case of school master—Custom law proved.
One G H W was appointed a teacher at the Armenian College Calcutta for a period of three years from the 1st March 1912. After the expiry of the period he continued in the employ of the College until July 1916 when he received notice terminating his service as from the 1st August and in lieu of a month's notice was paid a month's salary and a certain sum of money for a month's board and lodging. Held that he was entitled to a reasonable notice and that in such a case in the absence of misconduct either three months notice or a term's notice would be reasonable notice. Toll v Kerich & Erch 151 referred to. Held further that on the evidence adduced no custom had been established by virtue of which the plaintiff's employ at could be terminated by a month's notice. Usage is proved by the oral evidence of persons who become conversant of its existence by reason of their occupation in the particular trade or business and the evidence establishing custom or usage must be clear convincing and consistent and to prove an usage in a particular trade it must be shown that the usage is constant and reasonable and was universally acquiesced in and that everybody acknowledged it in the trade and knew of it or might know of it. H he took the pains to enquire.
WITTEBAKER v J C GALSTAIN AND OTHERS
(1917) I L R 44 Calc 917

SCIENCE—

— Gains of—whether partible property of a joint family—See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PRO-PERTY I L R 2 Lah 40

SCOPE OF AGENCY

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 43 Calc 511

SCREENING OFFENCE

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 213 214 I L R 37 Bom 658

SCRIBE

— attestation by—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 68

I L R 38 All 254

1 Pat L J 129

See MORTGAGE (MISO) 4 Pat L J 511

See MORTGAGE BOND

I L R 46 Calc 522

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 59 I L R 44 Bom 405

SEA CUSTOMS ACT (VIII OF 1878)

— notifications under—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 56
I L R 40 Bom 301

— ss 167 (3) 182 188 191—Attachment of silver ingots by Police—Inquiry by Customs clerk in absence of plaintiff—Sentence of confiscation and fine passed by the Collector of Customs merely on the report of the clerk—Civil suit by the plaintiff to recover value of silver confiscated and amount of fine levied—Jurisdiction of Civil Court to try the suit. A Sub Inspector of Police while conducting a search of the plaintiff's house for a criminal offence found no incriminating articles but came across silver ingots which he attached and sent over to a clerk in the Customs Department. The clerk suspected that the silver was imported into British India without payment of duty made an inquiry in plaintiff's absence and submitted a report to the Collector of Customs.
The Collector without taking any evidence himself and without hearing the plaintiff passed an order confiscating the silver under the provision of s 187 and fining the plaintiff in a sum of Rs 1,000 under s 167 (3) of the Sea Customs Act 1878. The plaintiff sued to recover the value of the silver confiscated and the amount of the fine levied but the trial Court rejected the claim on the ground that it had no jurisdiction to hear the suit as the Collector's decision was final under the provisions of s 182 of the Act. The plaintiff having appealed—Held that the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to hear the suit was not ousted if it appeared that there had been no legal adjudication of the matter by the Collector in accordance with the provisions of the Sea Customs Act 1878. GANESH MAHADEV v
THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918)
I L R 43 Bom. 221

SEAMAN

See MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT (I OF 1890)
s 43 CL 4 I L R 39 Bom 558

SEARCH

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

89 96-105-

S 103 I L E 42 AN 67

3 165 I L R 38 Ali 14

formalities of—

See RIOTING I L M 41 Calc 836

irregularities in—

See Dacott I L R 41 Calc 350

Search by Police officers

Power to search the house of an accused for specific documents and things—Resisting such search—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 94 165—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 353 Ss 94 and 165 of the Criminal Procedure Code extend to accused persons. The latter section authorizes a search of the house of the accused for specific documents and things necessary to the conduct of an investigation into an offence. Mahomed Jackiriah & Co v Ahmed Mahomed I L R 15 Cal 109 followed. Nizam of Hyderabad v Jacob I L R 19 Cal 52 referred to. Bajrangi Gope v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 304 and Frankhang v King Emperor 16 C W N 1078 commented on and explained. Ishwar Chandra Ghoshal v Emperor 12 C W N 1016 distinguished. Where information was laid at the throne of criminal breach of trust by a servant of a particular sum of money and he was arrested and thereafter the sub-inspector of Police proceeded with the informant and searched a house in the joint possession of the suspect and his brothers whereupon they and others resisted the search and assaulted the sub-inspector and confined and assaulted the informant. Held that the search was lawful under s 165 of the Criminal Procedure Code and that the conviction therefor must be upheld. BEJABAR VISSER v EMPEROR (1013)

SEARCH FOR ARMS

Sec TRESPASS I L R 30 Calc 953

Right of Magistrate to search for arms—Arms Act (XI of 1879) s 25 Judicial functions—Trespass—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 36 96 105—Act XI III of 1850 In a writ for trespass against the District Magistrate instituted by one of the zamindars whose cutcherry had been searched and no arms of any kind found Hell (reversing the decision of the first Court and of the majority of the Appellate Court and upholding the decision of Burr J) that the search was warranted by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) A serious offence had been committed against the public tranquillity into which it was the duty of the District Magistrate to enquire and by virtue of his superior rank he was at Jamalore the proper person to conduct the enquiry By s 36 Sch III and s 96 of the Code the power of issuing a search warrant was among his ordinary powers and therefore under s 10 he had power to direct a search to be made in his presence if he thought it advisable to do so That being so it was unnecessary to decide on the other defences set up but a mfe (agreeing with the majority of the Court of Appeal) that the District Magistrate not having complied with the preliminary condition prescribed by s 20 of the Arms

SEARCH FOR ARMS—concl'd

Act (XI of 1878) could not defend his action under that statute. Also (agreeing with Begg J) that the District Magistrate in directing a general search of the plaintiff's cutcherry in view of an enquiry under the Criminal Procedure Code was acting in the discharge of his judicial functions and had it been necessary might have appealed for protection to Act XVIII of 1850.

CLARKE v BRAJENDRA KISHORE POY CHOWDERY
(1912) I L R 39 Cal 553

SEARCH FOR EXPLOSIVES

See MAGISTRATE I L N 39 Calc 119

SEARCH WARRANT

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF
1 L E 89 Cal 403

See PENAL CODE ACT (V.L.V. of 1900)
65 332 323 I L R 37 All 353

56 PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III of 186)
S 5 I L R 34 ALL 59

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (II
OF 1910)—

GO I L R 35 All 5.5
I L R 35 All 858

— Endorsement of warrant by officer form is used—to whom is due—

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT 1987 ss 34
5 10 AND 11 J L R 42 AIL 395

issue of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 22 C W N 19 production of a person confined—Form of a warrant —Use of warrant prescribed in Form VIII Sch V—Equality of warrant—Criminal Procedure Code (1st V of 1898) 100 It is immaterial what form is used for a search warrant under a 100 of the Criminal Procedure Code provided that the substance of it complies with the requirements of the section A search warrant intended to be issued under a 100 of the Criminal Procedure Code and drawn up in accordance with Form VIII Sch V relating to search warrants under 96 but with alterations adapted to meet the requirements of the former section is legal.

Gurameah v Feroz Emperor 16 C N 48 approved Bism Haller v Emperor 11 C N 4
836 distinguished LEGAL PRINCIPLES v
MOZAN MOZLA (1818) I L R 45 Cal 905

to issue same—Condition of jurisdiction—Existence of enquiry trial or other proceeding—Existence of materials on which he can form an independent opinion as to the necessity of granting it—Opinion of police officer as to such necessity—Insufficiency of Criminal Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1895) s 96 (1) A Magistrate must under s 96 (2) paragraph (3) of the Criminal Procedure Code apply his mind to the question whether the purposes of an enquiry trial or other proceeding under the Code will be served by a general search and unless there are materials before him connecting the person again to whom the warrant is applied for with the offences alleged upon which he can come to an independent decision on the point he has no power to issue a search warrant. He cannot grant such warrant simply because a police officer informs him that it is necessary and asks him to do so. Per Chaudhury J A Magistrate has no power to issue a search warrant under paragraph (3) when there is no enquiry trial or other proceeding under the Code pending before him but there is only some investigation into alleged offences being made by the police. Clarke v Brojendra Kishore Poo Chowdhury I L R 39 Cal 533 distinguished. T R Thatt v Emperor (19-0) I L R 47 Cal 597

SEARCH WARRANT—contd

Purposes of enquiry trial or other proceeding—Legality of warrant for production of infringing books, plate letters and orders relating thereto to be dealt with under s 10 of the Copyright Act—Order staying execution of warrant on the passing of a bond for the production of infringing book etc in Court—Legality of such order—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 99—Indian Copyright Act (III of 1914) ss 7-10 The Magistrate has power under s 95 of the Criminal Procedure Code to issue a search warrant for the production of copies of the infringing books, proof plates printed and set up matter together with letters and orders with reference to the book for the purpose of making an order under s 10 of the Indian Copyright Act (III of 1914). Where the person against whom such search warrant was issued prays for the stay thereof and offers and undertaking not to sell copies of the infringing books but to produce them before the Court whenever required the Magistrate has jurisdiction to stay execution of the warrant conditionally on the execution of a bond to produce the copies in Court. Purna Chandra Bando v. Iyaya v Sasi Bhushan Mullick "C N A 5" distinguished. Kishore Mohan Bagchi v. Hapi Das Bysack (1910) I L R 47 Cal 184

SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT—

Power of the police to search the house of an absconding offender generally for stolen property on information of dacoity against him—Legality of search—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 51 and 165—Proviso—Common object to resist such search—Right of private defence—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 99-111 s 303 s 165 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not authorize a general search for stolen property in the house of the absconding offender against whom an information has been laid of having committed a dacoity. It refers only to specific documents or things which may be the subject of a summons or order under s 94 of the Code and the latter does not extend to stolen articles or any incriminating document or thing in the possession of the accused. Ishwar Chandra Ghosal v. Emperor 12 C W N 1016 referred to. Where a Sub-Inspector on receiving information of the commission of a dacoity searched the house of one of the alleged offenders accompanied by the complainant and the village officer but without a search warrant whereupon they were beaten by the petitioners who were charged with and convicted of rioting with the common object of resisting the search, assault and causing hurt under ss 147, 303 and 353 of the Penal Code—Held that the search was illegal and that the common object having failed the conviction under s 147 was bad. BAJRAJ GOFER v. EMPEROR (1910) I L R 58 Cal 304

SEAWORTHINESS

See BILL OF LADING

I L R 38 Mad 941

SEBAIL

See BUSTER LAND I L R 41 Cal 104

See LIMITATION L R 41 I A 267

See SHERAIT

—indemnity to estate of—

See PARTIES I L R 37 Cal 229

SECOND APPEAL

See APPEAL I L R 38 Cal 391

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 384-385 I L R 34 All 579

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

ss 14, 151 O XIIII r 1 I L R 32 All 71

ss 100 to 104 and O XLII

s 110 O XLV r 5 I L R 42 Bom 609

O XLII rr 1 and 3, I L R 43 All 660

O XLII r 23 and 25 4 Pat L J 645

See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 17 I L R 36 Bom 628

See CUSTOM OR USAGE

I L R 45 Cal 285

See FASEMENT I L R 1 Lab 206

See ESTOPPEL L R 44 I A 213

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872—

s 3, 3 Pat L J 306

s 3, 3 I L R 39 All 426

See EXECUTION OF DECREE I L R 40 Cal 45

See HOME LEAD I L R 42 Cal 638

See JUDGMENT 2 Pat L J 8

See JURISDICTION L R 46 I A 140

See LIMITATION ACT (I of 1908) s 5 I L R 38 Bom 613

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1908) s 192 I L R 38 Mad 655

See OPISSE TENANCY ACT 1913 s 31 3 Pat L J 351

See POSSE ORY SUIT I L R 45 Cal 519

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 37 All 524

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (I of 1887) SCH II ARTS 3 AND 25 I L R 37 Mad 533 538

ART 25 I L R 41 Bom 367

ART 13 I L R 39 Bom 131

See PERNAND I L R 43 Cal 1104 I L R 42 Cal 888

See PENT I L R 38 Cal 278

See PREVIEW I L R 41 Cal 609 I L R 44 Cal 1011

SECOND APPEAL—contd

by both parties to be false. Held on second appeal that the High Court should proceed not on the pleadings but on the facts found. RAM NARESH OJHA v GOURI SHANKAR (1917)

22 C W N 149

14 Remand—whether court will remand in second appeal for admission of Record of Rights which was not in existence at the time of trial. The court will not remand a case for a fresh hearing in order that a Record of Rights which was published after the decision of the first Court might be taken into consideration. IMTIAZ HUSSAIN KHAN v BENGALI NONTA 3 Pat L J 564

15 Decree—Execution of decree—order setting aside sale on ground of fraud whether second appeal lies from—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) ss 2 47 O XXI r 90 and O XLIII. It is not open to a party to impeach a sale under s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 on the ground of fraud in conducting the sale. If a Court professing to act under s 47 sets aside a sale on the objection of the judgment debtor the order setting aside the sale is not a decree. O XLIII provides for an appeal from an order setting aside a sale on the ground of irregularity or fraud in publishing or conducting the sale but no second appeal lies from such an order. O XXI r 90 covers a case of fraud committed after the publication of the sale proclamation. Where the decree holder agreed not to hold the sale if payment was made within a certain time and he then fraudulently proceeded to sell the property in contravention of this arrangement. Held that this amounted to fraud in the matter of the conduct of the sale. SHEIKH MAULA BUX v RAGHU DAL GANJHU 3 Pat L J 645

16 Findings on facts of lower Appellate Court should be clear for the High Court in second appeal cannot go behind them. HARIPADA MUKHERJEE v PADMA BULLAY PAL (1919) 23 C W N 1048

17 Filed originally as a revision and allowed by admitting Judge to be converted into an appeal on deposit of Court fees—whether the order is open to objection at the hearing—Limitation—date on which appeal must be held to have been presented—sufficient cause for extending period—Ind an Limitation Act IX of 1908 s 6 A c a was decided by the Lower Appellate Court on the 2nd of March 1915 and an application for revision was filed in the Chief Court on the 4th of June 1915 i.e. within ninety days. When it was pointed out to counsel who filed the revision that an appeal lay he merely stated that he had filed the revision instead of an appeal because he relied mostly on facts and not on law. The application coming on for preliminary hearing before a Judge in chambers he held that no revision lay as the defendant could file a second appeal and directed notice to issue to the opposite party. After hearing respondent a counsel the Judge by his order dated the 7th of February 1916 allowed the petition for revision to be treated as a second appeal subject to the payment of the necessary Court fee within one week. The Court fee was accordingly paid on the 11th of February 1916. The appeal coming on for hearing before a Division Bench it was contended on behalf of the respondent that it was time barred. Held that the appeal was one which under the rules of the Court had to be heard by a Division Bench, and that the order of the single Judge who admitted it was subject to all just exceptions and to any thing which might be urged at the hearing. The appeal could not be considered to have been presented till the date on which the memorandum of appeal was properly stamped and as there was no sufficient cause for extending the time under s 11 of the Limitation Act the appeal was barred by time. Ram Tahal Singh v Dhan Pas (I L R 28 All 310) and Resal Singh v Shadi (95 P R 1917) followed. Per Scott Smith J. It was argued here that the Judge in Chambers who allowed the petition for revision to be treated as an appeal in reality extended the time for payment of the Court fee within the meaning of s 149, Civil Procedure Code. The appeal however was one which under the rules of the Court has to be heard by a Division Bench and we are of opinion that the Judge who admitted it did not intend to decide any question of limitation. He could not admit the appeal at all until it was properly stamped and his order of admission was of course subject to all just exceptions and to anything which might be urged at the hearing. UMED ALI v MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE JEANU VAGHIANA I L R 2 Lah 1

SECOND APPEAL—contd

18 Power of Judicial Commissioner on second appeal to interfere with concurrent findings of fact of the lower Courts—Omission to decide real question in case or frame issue on it—Wrong decision on evidence—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 100. In this case the Judicial Commissioner in a second appeal set aside the concurrent findings of fact of the Courts below in favour of the appellants on the grounds that the real question in the case had not been considered nor had an issue been framed on it and that those Courts had wrongly decided on it and that on the evidence there was fraud on the part of the respondent. The Judicial Commissioner found that there was no evidence to support the finding of fraud and that the real question in the case should on the evidence have been found in favour of the respondent and made a decree in his favour. Held that under the circumstances in the case the Judicial Commissioner had on the terms of s 100 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 power to act as he had done and to decide what was the real question in the case notwithstanding that an issue had not been framed on it. DANUSA v ABDUL SAMAD (1919) I L R 47 Cal 107

19 Court order—Application to recover deficiency of price from a defaulting purchaser—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 71—Claim for rupees less than five hundred—Application must be treated as one made in execution of a Small Cause Court decree—No Second Appeal lies. The plaintiff decree-holder applied under O XXI r 71 Civil Procedure Code 1908 to recover deficiency of price from a defaulting purchaser. The claim was made for rupees three hundred and sixty. Both the lower Courts disallowed plaintiff's claim. On appeal to the High Court a preliminary objection was raised that no second appeal lay. It was upheld the objection that the application made by the plaintiff must be treated as one made in execution of a Small Cause Court decree.

SECOND APPEAL—contd

and there was no second appeal from such an application. RAJACHARIA v CHAKRAVARTY (19-0)
I L R 45 Bom 223

20 Held that a memorandum of second appeal to the High Court must be accompanied by a copy of the judgment of the Court of first instance and if the latter is not presented till after the period of limitation has expired, the appeal should ordinarily be rejected as barred by limitation. Dhanpal Mal v Uda Mal (6 P R 191) followed MOLU VAL v SRI PAM I L R 2 Lah 227

20 (a) Misconstruction of a document does not always confer a right of second appeal. It must be shown that there is a question of the legal effect of a document of title or a contract. KULDEB NARAIAN PAI v BANWARI RAI 5 Pat L J 251

20 (b) Held that where the question of burden of proof involves a question of custom no second appeal is competent without a certificate. MUKHI v MAST PUNJI I L R 2 Lah 348

21 Held that although the High Court in second appeal is bound by the findings of the lower Court such findings cannot stand when they have been arrived at on a consideration of the documentary evidence alone and without taking into consideration the oral evidence in the case. BANKARI RAI v KESHORI NANDIL 6 Pat L J 72

22 *Findings of fact when can be challenged in—*In a suit for khas possession the defendants pleaded that they held under a lease. The Court of Appeal below found that the lease required to be proved that there was no document evidencing settlement nor in fact any evidence in settlement at all and that though there were two rent receipts they were not properly proved. In the Court of first instance the said rent receipts were admitted in evidence without objection by the plaintiffs. Further as a matter of fact there was evidence both oral and documentary about the settlement. Held that the rent receipts having been admitted in evidence without objection in the Court of first instance no objection could be taken in the appellate Court that they were not properly proved. Held further that when there was evidence of the settlement in question the finding of fact arrived at by the lower appellate Court on the point could be successfully challenged in second appeal.
25 C W N 881

23 Finding of fact arrived at on consideration of evidence not admissible. The Lower Appellate Court in considering the question whether plaintiff had proved that he was a minor when he executed a certain mortgage referred to a judgment which was not admissible in evidence but which he considered could not be wholly ignored in a subsequent case in which plaintiff's age was in issue. Held that a finding of fact arrived at on consideration of evidence which is inadmissible and which proceeds partly on such evidence can be assailed in second appeal. Musammal Sumitra Kuer v Ram Kaur (17 Indian cases 561) followed BALWANT SINGH v BALDEV SINGH I L R 2 Lah 271

SECOND APPEAL—contd

21 Onus probandi—mortgage—admission by mortgagors before Sub Registrar of receipt of full consideration—onus on them to prove non receipt. R and others the defendants executed a mortgage in favour of G R the plaintiff for Rs 4580 made up of sums due to previous mortgagee previous debts due on bahi account price of buffaloes and payment of debts due to other persons. Before the Sub Registrar the executants admitted receipt of full consideration but at mutation they stated that the whole of the consideration had not been received. Mutation was therefore refused and C R was forced to bring the present suit for possession as mortgagee. The first Court dismissed the suit holding that plaintiff had failed to prove that consideration had passed and the District Judge on appeal confirmed the dismissal. Held that the question of onus probandi arising in this case was a question of law rendering a second appeal competent. Held also that the admission before the Sub Registrar that full consideration had been received was a clear one and the onus to show that consideration had not passed in full was therefore upon the defendants who had made the admission. Kishen Chand v Sohan Lal (20 Indian cases 913) followed GANGA PAM v RULIA I L R 2 Lah 249

SECOND MARRIAGE

See MAROMEDA v LAW—BIGAMY
I L R 50 Calo 409

SECOND MORTGAGE

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Calo 702

SECOND MORTGAGEE.

— claim of—
— See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calo 907
— Sale by—
— See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Calo 662
— suit by for surplus proceeds—— See LIMITATION I L R 41 Calo 654

SECOND PROBATE

— duty on—
See PROBATE I L R 43 Calo 625

SECOND SALE

See PATNI SALE I L R 47 Calo 780

SECOND SANCTION

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 40 Calo 564

SECOND TRIAL

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT
I L R 41 Calo 1072

SECONDARY EVIDENCE

See EVIDENCE I L R 38 All. 494
See EVIDENCE ACT
— of Parsi marriage—
See Parsi MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE ACT
(XX of 1860) ss. 3, 5, 8 and 9 to 14
I L R 45 Bom. 146

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 38 Calc 797

See COSTS

I L R 40 Bom 588

See CROWN

See EAST INDIA COMPANY

— delegation of Authority—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 754

— if necessary party—

See PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT
(BEN I OF 1895) 14 M W N 606

— liability of for Costs—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE = 524

5 Pat L J 321

— non liability of for acts done in exercise of Sovereign powers—

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 351

— mortgage by—

See BOMBAY CITY LAND REVENUE ACT
(BOM II OF 1876) ss 30 35 39 40

I L R 39 Bom 664

— notice of suit against—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 80 I L R 37 Mad 113

— status of—

See PARLIAMENT MEMBER OF—

17 C W N 753

— suit against—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 424
I L R 35 Bom 362

See JURISDICTION I L R 40 Calc 308
391

See NOTICE I L R 40 Calc 503

See PUNITIVE POLICE

I L R 40 Calc 452

— suit by—

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (BOM III OF 1901) s 42

I L R 40 Bom 166

See PENALTY I L R 43 Calc 230

1 ——— Pay and Pension

— Cause of action—Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871)

s 1 The plaintiff who was in the Educational Department drawing a salary of Rs 150 a month was in 1881 employed by the Government on special duty under an agreement one of the terms being from the 1st September 1881 his pay will be raised during good behaviour to Rs 300 a month. It was assumed that this meant for the term of his natural life. The special duty was completed but the plaintiff in spite of his protests was retained on deputation till 1907 when he was made to revert to the Educational Department and was retired in 1904. Since or from shortly before his retirement he was paid only Rs 150 a month. In an action instituted by the plaintiff against the Secretary of State for a declaration that he was entitled to be paid Rs 300 a month for his natural life and for arrears on the basis of that figure—Held that the plaintiff must be taken to have treated the whole of his service under Government as one service and that anything payable to him after the termination of that service was in the nature of a pension within the meaning of s 4 of the Pensions Act of

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA—contd

1871 and hence the suit was not maintainable SARAT CHANDRA DAS v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910) I L R 38 Calc 38

2 ——— Suit against in respect of illegal order of District Magistrate under Assam Labour Emigration Act (VI of 1901) s 91 and also for alleged defamation in a Government order—Damage remoteness of—Liability of defendant under the Government of India Act 1858 not liable here on the ground that the order was made in the course of employment nor for acts done by Government servants in exercise of statutory powers—Alleged ratification by the Local Government—Government order—Absolute privilege Suit by the plaintiff who represented the Assam Labour Supply Association in Ganjam and other districts against the Secretary of State for India in Council for damages in respect of two orders of the District Magistrate of Ganjam suspending and dismissing one T S the local agent of the Association in Ganjam and closing his depot for recruiting under the Assam Labour and Emigration Act (VI of 1901) whereby the plaintiff was prevented from earning from the members of the Association his commission of seven rupees for each labourer sent to Assam and for an alleged libel on the plaintiff in an order passed by the Governor in Council on appeals by the plaintiff and other against the aforesaid orders in which it was stated that the plaintiff's own conduct was not altogether above suspicion under the Notification issued pursuant to s 91 of the aforesaid Act as amended relaxing the provisions of the Act in favour of the Association, the District Magistrate had power to dismiss the local agent but not to suspend him or to close his depot to recruiting under the Act independently of the Notification. Semble That the damage to the plaintiff by reason of the loss of his commission was too remote. The defendant's liability to suit is the same as that of the East India Company before the passing of the Government of India Act 1858 it can only be altered by Civil Procedure Code and is not affected by s 19 Civil Procedure Code in Extent of such liability in respect of acts done in the exercise of sovereign powers not being acts of State discussed. It was not sufficient to render the Company liable that an act of this nature had been done by its servant in the course of employment but without previous order or sanction ratification. Ratification must have been by the Company and must now be by the Secretary of State. Essentials of ratification discussed. In the present case the defendant was not liable for the act of the District Magistrate on the further ground that it was done by him in the exercise of statutory authority and not as an agent of Government.
Further as to the alleged defamation having been public the Government of Madras having been public in the execution of its duty and without exceeding it was absolutely privileged and in any case there was no evidence of malice. *Dhakeshwar Das v The East India Company - Mor D J 397 11 Indiar and Orient Steam Navigation Company v The Secretary of State 5 Bom H C 2 11 Indiar
Phany v The Secretary of State for India 1 L R 4 Val 344 Shrinipayan v The Secretary of State for India 1 L R 93 Bom 314 referred to 1 L R
Pijay v The Secretary of State for India 1 L R
7 Val 466 questioned 105 s 37 Mad 85*
STATE FOR INDIA (1913) I L R 37 Mad 85

3 ——— Held by the Court on appeal (affirming the judgment in 1 L R 37

SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA—concl'd

Mad. 55 above) that (i) as the action of the Collector and District Magistrate who was found to have acted without any malice was not directed against the plaintiff but only against others and as the injury to the plaintiff if any was not the direct consequence of the Collector's act but was only very remotely connected with it the plaintiff had no cause of action and (ii) the Governor in Council was not liable for the publication of the defamation and the same was done on a privileged occasion i.e. in the course of its official duties. Held further by SADASIVA AYYAR J (a) Even the Collector and District Magistrate was not personally liable as he only did his duty imposed on him by the statute (s 22 Cl (a) of A am Labour and Emigration Act (VI of 1901) and (b) as in doing so he was not the agent of the Government and as the act was not done on Government's behalf the Government could not ratify the same nor can Government be liable even if it had ratified the same. Held further by BAKERWELL J that so far as the plaintiff was concerned as he was neither an employer nor his agent he was, according to the Act, carrying on an illegal business and his suit was liable to be dismissed also on this ground. For THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) I L R 39 Mad 781

SECRET SOCIETY

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY
I L P 37 Calc 487

SECURITIES ACT (XIII of 1886)

See GOVERNMENT SECURITIES

ss 3 sub s (2) 6 sub s (1) cl (f)—

See RECEIVER I L R 37 Calc 754

SECURITY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V 1908)

O XXXVIII r 5
I L P 39 Mad 903

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

S 123 I L P 35 Bom 271

Ss 39, 1 I L P 37 Bom 178

See EXECUTION 24 M W N 285

See FORFEITURE I L R 47 Calc 190

See JUTE I L P 44 Calc 98

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 388

See PRESS ACT (I of 1910) ss 3 (1) 4 (1)

17 10 20 AND 27
I L P 39 Mad 1085

See PRIVY COUNCIL 14 C W N 420

See RECEIVER I L R 46 Calc 70

See SURETY 24 C W N 879

See STAY OF EXECUTION I L R 41 Calc 160

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE (VII of 1889) ss 7 AND 9

I L R 40 All 81

demand of, by Magistrate—

See PRESS ACT (I of 1910) s 3 (1) 4 (1)

17 10 20 AND 27
I L R 39 Mad 1085

deposit of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XLI r 10 AND 12

I L R 37 Bom 572

See LIMITATION ACT 1909 SCH I ART 161

15 C W N 102

SECURITY—concl'd

for production of insolvent debtor—

See FORFEITURE I L R 39 Calc 104

Investing on unauthorized—

See PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT (VI OF 1870) ss 36 37

I L R 30 Mad 101

See TRUSTEE I L R 38 Mad 71

mode of enforcement of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 14

O XXXVIII r 14

I L P 39 All 327

scope of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Calc 895

SECURITY BOND—

See EXECUTION OF DECREES

I L R 38 Calc 704

I L R 42 All 158

by the Secretary of State for India—

See EXECUTION OF DECREES

I L R 38 Calc 754

for decree holder—

See PROCEDURE I L R 46 I A 228

Discretion of Court—

See CONTRACT ACT (I of 1872) s 74

I L R 45 Bom 1213

SECURITY FOR COSTS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

ss 109 110 O XLI r 10

I L R 38 All 325

O XXXVIII r 1 I L R 35 Bom 421

I L R 36 Bom 415

O XLI r 10

See COSTS I L R 46 Calc 156

See IN SOLVENCY I L R 43 Calc 243

See LIMITATION ACT 1909 ss 10 AND 15

M Pat L J 132

See PROCEDURE I L R 48 Calc 481

Failure to comply with order for—

See PROCEDURE

I L R 48 Calc 481

Infant plaintiff—Civil

Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) Sch I O XLV

r 1—Practice It is not desirable to run any risk of stopping a suit filed on behalf of an infant which may be a proper suit to bring merely because of some inability on the part of the next friend to give security for costs BHAISSANAP AMBASHAN

KER v. ULJI A HARAN (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 339

12 real in formd pau

peris—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)

O XLI r 10 not applicable to pauper appeals—

Security should not be demanded The plaintiff having obtained a decree in the lower Court the defendant appealed and applied for leave to appeal in formd pauperis The application was granted

The defendant appellant however resided out of British India and was not possessed of sufficient immovable property in British India. The plaintiff respondent having demanded security for costs incurred in the lower Court and costs of the appeal

SECURITY FOR COSTS—contd

under O XLI r 10 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 Held that the general provisions relating to appeals in O XII r 10 Civil Procedure Code 1908 did not apply to pauper appeals so as to impose upon the Court the duty of demanding security from a pauper appellant who having been found to be a pauper ex hypothesi could not give security Wille v St John [1910] 1 Ch 701 followed Kienray Shrinivasadas v Kisan Lalajmal [1917] I L R 42 Bom 5

In an appeal the Lower Appellate Court called upon the appellant to furnish security for costs under O XLI R 10 and the order not being complied with dismissed the appeal. Against this order an appeal was preferred to the High Court Held it was not appealable either as a decree or an order Romes Chandra Das v Monindra Lal Das

EU O W N 1020

SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898—

Ss 108 AND 109

S 110

Ss 118 123 I L R 36 All 495

Ss 119 200 437

I L R 35 Bom 401

Ss 110 437 I L R 36 All 147

S 123 1 Pa' L J 212

S 478 I L R 43 All 180

See PENAL CODE s 225B

I L R 43 All 185

1 ——— Joint inquiry against members of a gang—Admissibility of evidence of association with a gang and of acts by the members thereof—Inquiry into the fitness of Sureties—Rejection on the report of a subordinate Magistrate or police officer—Order of Judge on reference contents of—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 117 (4) 122 123 (3) 367 421—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 11 An order under s 123 (3) of the Criminal Procedure Code should show on the face of it that the Sessions Judge has considered the case of each accused on its own merits and separately from that of the others even if such order need not contain all the details required by s 367 Jamail Mullick v Emperor I L R 35 Cal 133 referred to A joint inquiry under s 117 of the Criminal Procedure Code against the members of a gang formed for the purpose of habitually cheating in concert is not illegal under sub s (4) though they were not all concerned together in each of the various acts alleged against them. When the question is whether a person is a habitual cheat the fact that he belonged to an organization formed for the purpose of habitually cheating in concert is relevant under s 11 of the Evidence Act and it is open to the prosecution to prove against each person that the members of the gang do cheat. A surety cannot be called upon to state in writing what influence he has over the accused nor can a Magistrate refuse to accept him on his failure to do so Per Paves J (Coxe J contra) Under s 122 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate passing an order for security should himself hold the inquiry into the fitness of the proposed sureties and he can not decide the matter merely on the report of a subordinate Magistrate or of a police officer which is not legal evidence Queen Empress v Prithi Pal Singh (1893) All W N 154 Emperor v Tola I L R 2, All 272 Emperor v Balwant I L R 27 All 293 Re Abdul Khan 10 C W A 1027 and Suresh Chandra Basu v Emperor 3 C L J 375 followed KALU MIRZA v EMPEROR (1909)

SECURITY FOR COSTS—contd

I L R 37 Cal 21

2 ——— Evidence of acts committed several years before the proceedings—Offences involving breach of the peace.—Acts of highhandedness not accompanied with actual breaches of the peace—Liability of zemindar for acts of his naib and lathwals committed in his interest—Abetment of offences involving a breach of the peace—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 110 (e) Evidence of acts falling within the scope of s 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code but committed several years before the date of the institution of the proceedings thereunder is admissible Wahid Ali Khan v Emperor 11 C W A 789 followed. To bring a case within the section a person must be found to have habitually committed attempted to commit or abetted the commission of offences of which a breach of the peace is an ingredient Arun Samanta v Emperor I L R 30 Cal 186 followed. Where the only conviction against a zemindar was one under s 180 of the Penal Code and there was evidence that he with his lathwals (or his servants acting under his orders) took articles of food from bazar vendors that he assembled lathwals to enforce the performance of purva by his own purohit threatened a witness with violence for deposing against him and with his lathwal uprooted some trees cut the crops of his opponent's molested rival fisherman in boats and attempted to stop a marriage procession but no breach of the peace was committed or complaint made by the opposite party. Held that such acts did not involve a breach of the peace so as to support a charge of habitually committing offences within claus (e). But where the zemindar and had been several riots in his master's interest and had been convicted in several such cases and there was evidence that certain lathwals were always employed to help his cause Held that he had habitually abetted the commission of offences mentioned in that claus Kari Sunder Roy v Emperor I L R 33 Cal 419 followed. A Magistrate should be careful to see that s 110 is not employed by mistake as per ons to wreck vengeance under the provisions of Crown prosecution HALL PRASAD Doss v EMPEROR (1910) 2 I L R 38 Cal 158

3 ——— Ostensible means of subterfuge—Return of absconding suspect home on writ of habeas corpus and residence in his father's house without taking steps to conceal himself to commit an offence—Relevancy of evidence of previous connection with a criminal conspiracy or concealment outside the trying Magistrate's jurisdiction—Support by father possessing a balance—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to require a person to give an account of his presence while in another jurisdiction—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 109—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 109 (a) (b) Cl (a) of s 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code should be read in its entirety. The section should be read in its entirety. Where a person view to committing some offence. Where a person against whom a warrant had been issued, absconded from home for two years but returned thereto after its withdrawal and was found living in his father's house without having taken any particular steps to conceal him self for the purpose of committing any offence thereafter the fact of previous connection with a criminal conspiracy or of previous correspondence with criminals out side the Magistrate's jurisdiction, is not relevant under s 109 though it might form basis of a substantive proceeding under s 110. A person cannot be called on to furnish security under s 109 in respect of an alleged temporary concealment in his father's house unconnected with any intent to commit an offence nor with any previous concealment out side the Magistrate's jurisdiction. As long as a young man out of employment is staying in the house of his father who is a man of substance and able if necessary to support him he cannot be held to be without a tenable means of subsistence. Where the account a person gives of his presence within the limits of a Magistrate's jurisdiction is satisfactory e.g. that he has returned to and is living in his father's house in strict seclusion on the withdrawal of a warrant against him he cannot be called upon by such Magistrate to give an account of his presence in any other jurisdiction. SATI H CHANDRA SARKAR v EMPEROR (1912)

SECURITY FOR COSTS—contd

I L R 39 Calc 456

4 — Fair Trial—Proceedings taken and enquiry completed in one day—Introduction of party called upon for security under arrest before the Magistrate in Camp—Right of party to examine his own defence witnesses—Right of opportunity to examine or summon witnesses selected by such party—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 110 (d) 110 117—Practice. Under s 117 (2) of the Criminal Procedure Code a person called upon to furnish security for good behaviour must be given time as in warrant cases to bring his witnesses and have their evidence recorded. Where a person was produced in custody before a Magistrate in camp while on tour when only a single mukhtar was available and a proceeding under s 110 (d) was drawn up immediately read and explained to him after which prosecution witnesses were examined and cross examined and he was called upon for his defence and some of the spectators who happened to be present were examined on his behalf and the enquiry was completed and the order for security passed on the same day. Held that the order was bad as the person directed to execute a bond had not been given the opportunity of selecting his own witnesses and of producing them or having them summoned and that he did not therefore have a fair trial. KERAM UDDIN SARKAR v EMPEROR (1914)

I L R 41 Calc 806

5 — Dissemination of matter likely to promote enmity or hatred—between classes—Necessity of intention—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 108 (b) Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 153 A. To justify an order under s 108 (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code it is sufficient that the words used are likely to promote feelings of enmity or hatred between different classes and it is not necessary to establish an intention to promote such feelings as it would be on a trial for the offence under s 153A of the Penal Code. Dharmaloka v Emperor I L R L J 948 cited from Joy Chander Sarkar v Emperor I L R 38 Calc 913 Jaavant Das v Ahilavale 5 Cr L J 439 10 Punj Rec referred to. SITAL PRASAD v EMPEROR (1915)

I L R 43 Calc 591

SECURITY FOR COSTS—contd

6 — Jurisdiction—Person within the local limits of the Magistrate's jurisdiction—Presence—Commission of acts complained of within such local limits—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 110. S 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not require residence within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Magistrate who institutes proceedings thereunder. Where the habits of the persons called upon to furnish security for good behaviour were practised and their evil reputation acquired within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Presidency Magistrate of the Northern Division of the town of Calcutta though they might be occasionally residing elsewhere. Held that the Magistrate was competent to take proceedings against such parties under s 110 of the Code. Aclabos v Queen Empress I L R 27 Calc 993 distinguished. EMPEROR v DURGA HALWAI (1915)

I L R 43 Calc 153

7 — Previous convictions proof of—Central Bureau register of thumb impressions evidentiary value of—Extract from jail register with out proof of identity—Locus parentalis—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 110. Whenever proof of previous convictions is required whether under s 75 of the Penal Code or Chapter VIII of the Criminal Procedure Code such previous convictions must be proved strictly and in accordance with law and unless so proved no Court can take them into consideration. A register produced from the Central Bureau purporting to contain the thumb impression of the accused that his descriptive roll with a list of his previous convictions when there was no evidence how it came to be made and lodged in the Central Bureau nor from what particulars the previous convictions were recorded and certified was held in sufficient proof of such convictions. An extract from the jail register showing previous convictions of a certain person with aliases and certified copies of previous conviction of the same in the absence of evidence of identity with the present accused held insufficient to prove previous convictions of the latter. A person who has served the period of his imprisonment should be given a chance of reformation and should not be proceeded with under s 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code soon after his emergence from jail. Junab Ali v Emperor I L R 37 Calc 783 referred to. Although general statement of witnesses e.g. that the accused are all pick pockets and that every one is afraid of them may not be wholly inadmissible in evidence no Court should act on a body of such evidence without testing the statements of the witnesses and obtaining from them some particulars of the facts in which their general statements are made. The case of each accused should be differentiated in the evidence and the order of the Court. EMPEROR v SURESH ANAND (1916)

I L R 43 Calc 1128

8 — Menace—Any person within the local limits—Intention to do so on the date of the initiation of proceeding—Disperse and dangerous—Menace to person and property—Association to spread of loyal doctrines—Revolutionary activities and recruitment of members thereof—Connect on of Association with an organization to commit dacoity—Executive security—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 108 110 111—Admission of evidence of finding of sedition cases and literature in the possession of one conspiracy or against the rest to ascertain the object of the association—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 10 Cl (f) of s 110 of the Criminal Procedure Code is not limited to the case of menace to property but applies also where the security of the person is jeopardized Ryendra Nara n Singh v Emperor 17 C W N 238 explained and distinguished. A man of desperate and dangerous character means one who has a reckless disregard of the safety of the person or the property of his neighbours. Wahid Ali Khan v Emperor 11 C W N 789 approved. Where it was found that the petitioners were associated for the purpose of spreading disloyal doctrines among school boys and were conspiring to commit an offence under s 124A of the Penal Code that they were engaged in inculcating ideas of armed revolution in the minds of such persons and were collecting recruits and subjecting them to a course of self discipline and further that they were connected with an organization the object of which was the collection of money by dacoity. Held that such facts involved a menace not only to the person but also to the property of the community and brought the case within s 110 cl (f) of the Code though the time for the occurrence of the proposed revolution and dacoities had not been proved. The mere fact that s. 103 of the Code may be applicable to the findings does not necessarily make s 110 applicable. Where the Sessions Judge used the finding of certain seditious literature and essays in the possession of one of the petitioners as evidence against the others under s 10 of the Evidence Act to prove the object of the association and it was contended that he had done so wrongly thereunder as such literature might have been obtained and the essays written before the association was formed. Held that the fact of the literature having been bought and the essays written before the formation of the association would not preclude the Court from considering the possession of them as one of the facts in the case independently of s. 10 of the Evidence Act in order to ascertain the object of the association. The words any person within the local limits in s 110 of the Code do not imply residence but extend to the case of a person who has left the territorial jurisdiction of the Magistrate and has been brought back within the same in police custody and is in jail under the Defence of India Act on the date of the institution of the proceedings. S 114 of the Code is not limited to arrest within the jurisdiction. Held also that under the circumstances the amount of the security was not excessive. MAHENDRA MOHAN SANYAL v EMPEROR (1918) I L R 48 Cal 215

SECURITY FOR COSTS—concl'd

SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898 —

Ss 106 AND 107

See 123

I L R 33 All 624

I L R 35 All 103

I L R 37 Mad 125

I L R 39 All 466

I L R 41 All 651

See 20 10 11 119

I L R 32 All 642

See LETTERS PATENT (21 & 22 VICT C 104) cl 1a. I L R 39 Mad 539

SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE—concl'd

proceedings for—

See TRANSFER I L R 41 Cal 719

1 ———— Conviction under s 113 of the Penal Code—Absence of finding of acts involving breach of the peace or evident intention of committing the same—Legality of order for security—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 106 To bring a case within the terms of a 106 of the Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate should expressly find that the acts of the accused involved a breach of the peace or were done with the evident intention of committing the same or at all events the evidence must be so clear that without an express finding a superior Court is satisfied that such was the case. Jib Lal Gur v Jagmohan Gur I L R 26 Cal 576 followed. A finding that the common object of the unlawful assembly was by means of criminal force or show thereof to take possession of land cultivated by tenant of the rival land lord and that but for the direction of the latter to the tenants to retire which was carried out there might have been a serious riot and insufficient to bring the case within the purview of s. 106 of the Code. ABDUL ALI CHOWDHURY v EMPEROR (1915) I L R 43 Cal 61

2 ———— Criminal Procedure Code s 107—Nature and quantum of evidence necessary before passing order for security—There must be definite evidence in the case of any and every person charged under s 107 of the Code of Criminal Procedure that there is danger of a breach of the peace by him. It is clearly insufficient against a collective body of persons to suggest that there are indulging in feelings of hostility towards another body of persons. Queen Empress v Abdul Kader I L R 9 All 450 referred in EMPEROR v SHAMBHU NATH (1916) I L R 38 All 468

SEDITION

See FORFEITURE I L R 47 Cal 180

See HIGH COURT I L R 34 Bom 378

See PENAL CODE—

Ss 107 124A. I L R 34 Bom 394

Ss 124A, 511 I L R 34 Bom 378

See PRESS ACT

See PRINTING PRESSES AND NEWSPAPER ACT

1 ———— Attempt to publish seditious—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 511 514 Under the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) all that is necessary to constitute an attempt to commit an offence is some external act something tangible and ostensible of which the law can take hold as an act showing progress towards the actual commission of the offence. It does not matter that the progress was interrupted. An attempt to publish seditious is complete as soon as the accused knowingly sells a copy containing the seditious article. It is none the less an attempt because something external to himself happens which prevents a perusal of the article by the buyers or any other member of the public. In cases of sedition the question of intention is one of fact. EMPEROR v GANESH BALFANT MONK (1909) I L R 34 Bom 378

2. ———— Wholesale imputation of bribery against ministerial and police officers and of neglect on the part of Government

SEDITION—concl'd

cation of seditious matter transmitted through the post office on a charge under s 124 A of the Penal Code to prove the actual posting nor that it was printed and published under the directions of the accused. If the seditious writing is shown to be in the handwriting of the accused and it is further proved that the contents were in fact printed and published there is sufficient evidence of publication by him. Regina v Lovett 9 C & P 462 followed. The sending through the post of a packet containing a manuscript copy of a seditious publication with a covering letter requesting the addressee to circulate it among others when the same was intercepted by another person and never reached the addressee constitutes an attempt within the purview of s 124 A of the Penal Code. SURENDRA NARAYAN ADHICARY v EMPEROR (1911)

I L R 30 Calc 522

6 ——— Handwriting proof of—Admissibility and value of expert opinion not based on comparison made in Court with admitted or proved handwriting of the person alleged—Penal Code (Act XIV of 1860) s 124 A—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 45. On a charge under s 124 A of the Penal Code the sending of a pamphlet by post addressed to a private individual not by name but by designation as the representative of a large body of students amounts to publication. It is necessary for the admission of the evidence of a hand writing expert under s 45 of the Evidence Act that the writing with which the comparison is made should be admitted or proved beyond doubt to be that of the person alleged and that the comparison should be made in open Court in the presence of such person. Cresswell v Jackson 2 F & F 24 Cobbet v Kilmister 11 F & F 490 and Phoodsee Bibes v Gound Chander Poy 22 W R 272 referred to. SURESH CHANDRA SANYAL v EMPEROR (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 608

SEDITIONOUS LIBEL

See FORFEITURE I L R 30 Calc 190

SEIGNIORAGE FEES OR ROYALTY

——— right of Government to levy—

See INAM I L R 40 Mad 268

SEIZURE IN CUSTOM HOUSE

See COCAINE IMPORTATION OF
I L R 41 Calc 545

SELF ACQUIRED PROPERTY

See CUSTOM I L R 2 Lah 366

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 32 All 415

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 34 Bom 106

See HINDU LAW—SELF ACQUISITION
I L R 32 All 394

——— blending of—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 45 Calc 733

——— Meaning of—

See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION)
I L R 1 Lah 365

SELF-ACQUISITION

See ALIYASANTANA LAW

I L R 39 Mad 17

See MALABAR LAW I L R 35 Mad 43

SELLER

——— duty of—

See CHUKANI RIGHT
I L R 42 Calc 23

SENATE AND SYNDICATE

——— respective powers of—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1871)
s 45 I L F 40 Mad 123

SENTENCE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898—

s 35 s Pat L J 135

s 106 (3) I L R 33 All 48

s 235 s Pat L J 433

ss 397 123 I L R 37 Bom 178

ss 408 415 I L R 37 All 510

s 423 I L R 38 All 485

s 439 I L R 39 All 549

See MURDER I L R 44 Mad 443

See OFFENCE COMMITTED ON THE HIGH

SEAS I L R 38 Calc 484

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 62 I L R 36 All 345

See PRACTICE I L R 35 Bom 418

I L R 39 Bom 36

——— Alteration of—whether amounting to enhancement—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 423

I L R 36 All 485

——— enhancement of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 443

I L R 36 All 318

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Calc 249

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 405

25 C W N 210

——— Exceeding Legal Maximum—

See CRIMINAL LAW

I L R 31 Mad 287

——— Conviction and sentence for rioting and for being member of unlawful assembly causing grievous hurt validity of—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 71 147 149 and 395—Correction for rioting and causing grievous hurt validity of—Where the accused were charged with offences under ss 147 and 395 read with 149 of the Indian Penal Code and were convicted and sentenced on both charges held that the lower appellate Court could not substitute for the convictions under s 395 s 325 read with s 149 convictions under s 303 and that the High Court in revision would not convict the accused of this offence in the absence of any opportunity to plead to a charge in respect of it held that it is illegal to record separate convictions for offences under s 147 and s 303 read with s 149 and that therefore separate sentences in respect of the two offences are also illegal. An accused cannot in addition to being

SENTENCE—confd

convicted under s 147 be also convicted under s 323 although it be shown that he him self cau ed grievous hurt to the opposite party. PALU SINGH v KING EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 641

SEPARATE CONVICTIONS

See PENAL CODE ACT (XIV OF 1860)
■ 71 147 323 I L R 39 All 623

SEPARATE OFFENCES

See CHARGE I L R 41 Calc 66
See POLICE ACT 1861 29
I L R 42 All 22

SEPARATE SENTENCES

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 230 3 Pat L J 433
See CUMULATIVE SENTENCES.
I L R 40 Calc 511
See MISJOINDER I L R 38 Calc 453

SEPARATE TRIAL

See EVIDENCE I L R 47 Calc 671

SEPARATION

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 35 All 80
I L R 43 Calc 1031

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 39 Mad 159

— evidence of—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 42 Calc 1179

SERVAINTS QUARTERS

— acquisition of—

See LAND ACQUISITION
I L R 43 Calc 665

SERVICE INAM

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 44 Mad 179

See MADRAS PROPRIETARY ESTATES VIL
LAGE SERVICE ACT (II OF 1894) s
5 10 CL (2) I L R 39 Mad 930

— resumption of—Resumption not a fresh grant and does not put an end to prior encumbrances—Foght on—V I of 1831 s 2—Emoluments granted for gadaba service not within regulation Resumption con-lis s in putting an end to the grant remitting the services and requiring the grantee to pay the full assessment It has not the effect of putting an end to prior encumbrances Gadaba or bearer service is of a personal nature and an inam for such service does not fall within Regulation VI of 1831 where the grantee of an inam for gadaba service mortgages the inam and the inam is afterwards resumed by Government such resumption does not extinguish the mortgages. SREEYADU YERRANA v DONKIRA KANKAMMA (1912) I L R 35 Mad 704

SERVICE OF NOTICE

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT
I L R 37 Mad 163

See NOTICE TO QUIT
I L R 46 Calc 458

SERVICE OF NOTICE—confd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1889
s 106

— effect of omission of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) ss 439 422 423
I L R 39 Mad 505

— onus of—

See PUBLIC DEMANDS
I L R 38 Calc 496

SERVICE OF SUIT

— on principals out lde jurisdiction—

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT
I L R 37 Mad 163

SERVICE OF SUMMONS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O 5
See SUMMONS I L R 42 Calc 67
See SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS
I L R 47 Calc 647

SERVICE TENURE

See GRANT I L R 39 Bom 68
See GRANT OF LAND I L R 43 Bom 37
See MADRAS REGULATION (XIV OF 1802)
s 4 I L R 38 Mad 620

SERVIENT ESTATE

See EASEMENT
— forfeiture of—
See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS
L R 46 I A 302

SESSIONS JUDGE

— powers of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 330
I L P M All 331

— power of to grant bail—

See BAIL I L R 37 Calc 439

SESSIONS TRIAL

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 339
I L R 37 All 331

See CROSS EXAMINATION
I L R 41 Calc 209

— Refusal to enforce at tendance of defence witness es—Trial if vitiated thereby Where in a Sessions case the Judge refused to enforce the attendance of some defence witnesses who had been summoned by the Committng Magistrate but who did not appear on the ground that the application should have been made at an earlier date the High Court in appeal set aside the conviction and sentence holding that the trial was vitiated FOZUDDIN v KING EMPEROR 24 C W N 527

SET BACK

See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1888) ss 297 301
I L R 43 Bom 181

SET FORWARD

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM.
ACT III OF 1888) ss 297 301
I L R 42 Bom 181

SET-OFF

S. ATTORNEY

I. L. R. 43 Cal. 972

S. CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 120 III

14 C. W. 170 789

S. CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (A. V. 07 1905) s. 70 O XXI R. -

I. L. R. 42 Bom. 621

O VIII R. 6

O XXI R. 19 I. L. R. 35 All. 663

O XXI R. 19 20

I. L. R. 33 All. 249

O XXI R. 19 I. L. R. 40 Bom. 60

S. HANDNOTE 2 Pat. L. J. 451

See INSOLVENCY ACT s. 39

I. L. R. 33 Mad. 53 & 45

decree-holder allowed to bid—

Power of Court to allow set-off—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1904 O

XXI R. - I. L. R. 44 Bom. 346 equitable—

See MORTGAGE I. L. R. 40 Mad. 633

1. ——— Equitable set-off when to be allowed—Court may impose terms on defendants—Borrowed debt claim of set-off in respect of The right of set-off exists not only in cases of mutual debts and credits but also where cross-demands arise out of the same transaction or are so connected in their nature and circumstances as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover and the defendant be driven to a cross-suit. Clark v. Rahnarval 2 Mad. H. C. R. 296 followed. As the inquiry into the cross-demand made in this case by the defendant would involve gross delay the High Court allowed the inquiry to be made in this suit on certain terms imposed on the defendants. RANDHARI SINGH v. PERMANUD SINGH (1913) 19 C. W. N. 1183

2. ——— Limited Company

—Right of shareholder to appropriate paid-up calls towards debt due from him to Company—Joint Stock Companies Friendly Societies and Building Societies—Distinction between as to rule of set-off A shareholder in a Permanent Benefit Fund with limited liability who obtained a loan on execution, a mortgage, to the Fund which subsequently went into liquidation is not entitled to appropriate by way of set-off his paid-up calls towards the mortgage debt but is bound to pay the entire mortgage-debt before he can redeem the property. Principle of set-off in Court laid down in English decisions in the case of Joint Stock Companies and Friendly Societies as distinguished from Building Societies applied. In re Oriental Gas & Ice Co. (Liquidator) I. L. R. 1 C. 4 App. 6-9 In re Parima & Steam Transport Company I. L. R. 3 C. 4 App. 54 and In re Hiram Miller & Lamp Company [1907] 1 C. 70 followed. Brookline v. Russell 9 L. C. 45 and Joshi v. North British Building Society 11 L. C. 459 distinguished. The OVERLAND PERMANENT BENEFIT FUND LTD. v. AGROOLSWAMI PHILLAR (1914) I. L. R. 40 Mad. 1004

3. ——— A barred defence cannot on equitable grounds be set-off against a defence under section 109 of the Civil Procedure Code. Chandrasekhar Das (1917) 21 C. W. N. 114

SET OFF—contd.

4. ——— S. 109 of Civil Procedure Code on joint promissory note—Loan is set off against debt—Indian Commerce Act (VII of 1912) s. 2—Provisional Liquidators Act (VIII of 1907) s. 11—Mutual Debt Act (IX of 1907) s. 11—One of two defendants sued on a joint promissory note by the Liquidators of a bank sought to set off an amount which was due to him from the bank or his own separate deposit account. H. M. that under the Indian Commerce Act (VII of 1912) s. 2 the provisions of the Provisional Liquidators Act (VIII of 1907) s. 11 applied, and the fact in question not being "mutual dealings" was the measure of the set-off, the amount claimed could not be set off. As to the fact of a C. of the Indian Commerce Act Per Macdonald C.J. "I do not think that the mere fact that a suit could be against one of two joint promissors crucial or the fact that the original Liquidators of defendant No. 2 was interested, nor on his own account only but jointly with another arises from the nature of the set-off which is a whole being set off." GOSWAMI v. RANCHHURA THAKUR (1921) I. L. R. 43 Bom. 1079

SETTING ASIDE

S. AWARD I. L. R. 4 Cal. 836

See EXCHANGE DECREE 14 C. W. N. 126

See LIMITATION ACT, 1909 ART. 91

See SALE I. L. R. 43 Cal. 811

See SALE FOR LIABILITIES OF DEBTOR I. L. R. 42 Cal. 76

Court Sale —

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1909 O XXI, RR. 90 TO 92

SETTLEMENT

See ASIAN LAND AND REVENUE REGULATORY s. 6 14 C. W. N. 990

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION I. L. R. 5 Bom. 251

See KROJA JAMUNADAY I. L. R. 38 Bom. 214

See OCCUPANT RENT I. L. R. 40 Cal. 180

See TRANSFER ACT 1901 s. 2 (21) SEC. I. ART. 1 I. L. R. 35 Bom. 444

s. 4 I. L. R. 37 All. 157 25

S. SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT ACT I. L. R. 38 Bom. 220

entry at last Settlement—

See JAMA TRUST ACT 1901 s. 9 I. L. R. 43 All. 615 of family property—

See RESTRAINT I. L. R. 5 All. 105

—construction of—Settlement of malikana or Ikharat payable to maintain in person Allowance as compensation for portions of and taken by Government for the term of an estate of—Set for sums referred to a settlement and account of 1865—Long account in sum filed in 1870 This was a suit in the respondent the Malakara of Darf and the

SETTLEMENT—contd

to be paid an annual sum of Rs 48⁰ odd by the Government of India as da iurat or malikana an allowance by way of compensation to the proprietors for the loss of their proprietary rights in portions of their land taken by the Government for the creation of jagirs (or revenue free holding) and which until re-emption by Government was payable by the jagirdar but for the payment of which on resuming them the Government themselves became liable. The claim was based upon an order of 10th May 1865 by which the appellant alleged that the annual malikana payable to him in respect of land called Mauzah Sahu was permanently fixed at P 48. 03. The defence was that the malikana payable in respect of a jagir known as Meherullah Khan of which Mauzah Sahu formed part was settled in 1740 at Rs 796 2 9 and nothing further was recoverable and that the order made in 1865 did not give the right claimed. The sum of Rs 496. 9 had admittedly been paid to the predecessors in title of the appellant since 1780 and was still being paid to the appellant himself but he claimed to be paid the sum of P 48⁰ odd in addition. His contention was that the fixing of the malikana in 1780 was not a final ascertaining of the rights of his predecessors in title in respect of it but was merely a temporary fixing of the percentage by which the amount should be ascertained from time to time as it varied together with the variation of the amount of the proceeds of the land. Both Courts in India held that the appellant was entitled to nothing more than the Rs 796 2 9 already paid to him. Held (affirming the decisions) that what was done in 1780 amounted to a final settlement of the owner's rights in respect of the malikana the payment of which was to be made regularly every year from 1780 no term being fixed. That it was regarded as final by the parties concerned was clear from the fact that the payment was made thenceforward for a century without any suggestion that it was in any way wrong or was subject to revision. The settlement of 1865 only dealt with the method of payment of the malikana. It provided neither for any alteration nor for any addition to the malikana already fixed in 1780. The account attached to the settlement was made for the purposes of the settlement only and the reference in it to malikana was made merely because the malikana was an item to be taken into account in fixing the annual jama to be paid by the person in whose favour the settlement was made in respect of the mouzahs comprised in the settlement. That this was the right view to take of the settlement of 1865 and the account annexed to it was confirmed by the fact that no claim was ever made by the appellant for payment of the malikana until 1897 27 years after the date of the permanent settlement and that no such payment had ever been made to him. RAMESHWAR SINGH v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1911) I L R 39 Cal 1

SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN ON TRUSTS

The Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882) s 83—Trusts failing after settlor's death—Resulting trust in favour of settlor's heirs at the time of her death—The Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) s 191 effect of—The Probate and Administration Act (V of 1833) s 4 effect of—Where by a deed of settlement a Hindu woman conveyed an immoveable property to trustees on certain trust some of which failed after her death (as being in favour of persons unborn at the date of the settlement) Held (i) that there was a resulting trust in favour of the settlor (ii) that the persons entitled to the property on the failure of the trusts were the heirs of the settlor to be determined at the time of her death. Where a person dies intestate and no administration is granted to his estate the term legal representative in s 83 of the Trusts Act must include the person or persons beneficially entitled who represent the interests of the deceased by virtue of inheritance. The representative by inheritance is to be found according to law at the moment of the death of the deceased the maxim being Solus deus habet dem facere potest non homo. DWARAKADAS DAMODAR v DWARAKADAS SHAMJI (1915) I L R 40 Bom 341

SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN ON TRUSTS—contd

SETTLEMENT COURT

order of relating to attached lands—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND I L R 37 Cal 331

SETTLEMENT OFFICER

enquiry by—

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING I L R 37 Cal 52

order of—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF I L R 40 Cal 477

See SECOND APPEAL I L R 43 Cal 603

power of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII OF 1885) s 102 I L R 43 Cal 547

SETTLEMENT OF ACCOUNTS

See MITROR I L R 43 Mad 429

SETTLEMENT OF RENT

See RECORD OF RENT I L R 47 Cal 1006

SETTLEMENT REPORTS

See ITMAN I L R 47 Cal 979

SETTLEMENT OF REVENUE

Temporary Settlement—Effect on permanent interest—Entry in settlement records effect of—Certain lands were held under the Government under a temporary settlement during the currency of which the holders granted a permanent sublease to the plaintiffs who before the expiration of the lease granted by Government granted a permanent lease to one of the grantors. Ever since then the sublessee and his successors in interest were in occupation of the land the settlement being from time to time renewed by Government in favour of the original settlement holders or their representatives but in the course of the last settlement the under tenures were not mentioned in the settlement records. Held (in a suit for rent by the plaintiffs) that the mere omission of the settlement authorities to make an entry in the settlement records in respect of the tenures and under tenures cannot affect the rights of the parties and the effect of the resettlement by the Government with the original settlement holders was to keep alive the contractual obligation of the subordinate holders among themselves. The rights and obligations of the parties were mutual the plaintiffs being bound to make good the title of the defendants as soon as by virtue of the resettlement they were placed in a position to continue the lease in favour of the defendants and the defendants being under an obligation to continue as tenants under the plaintiffs on the basis of the lease and to pay rent accordingly. MOHENDRA NATH BISWAS v. SHYAM LAL BANERJEE (1912)

SETTLEMENT OF REVENUE—contd

18 C W N 997

SETTLEMENT PROCEEDINGSSee WAJIB UL ARZ

I L R 45 Calc 793

SEWER PIPE

See DOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (Bols Act III of 1893) ss 30 and 3 (a) (x) and (y) I L P 43 Bom 122

SHAFI

— right of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION
I L R 41 Calc 943

SHAFEE MAHOMEDANSSee WAKF I L P 37 Bom 417SHAFI KHALITSee PRE EMPTION 4 Pat L J 420SHAH JOG HUNDI

See HUNDI SHAH JOG
I L R 39 Bom 513

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT 1881
s 118 I L R 1 Lah 429

SHARE

— suit by a Mahomedan for a definite share of estate of an intestate—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Sec I, Arts 123 and 141 I L R 45 Bom 519

SHARE CAPITAL

See PROVIDENT INSURANCE
I L R 42 Calc 300

SHARE CERTIFICATESSee SHARES I L R 46 Calc 331 342SHAREHOLDERSee COMPANIES ACT 1882—

ss 23 45 61 I L R 56 Bom 557

s 40 58 I L R 42 Bom 595

s COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 284

s COSTS I L R 39 Bom 383

See PREEMPTION SHAREHOLDERS

— petition by—

See COMPANY I L R 39 Bom 16SHARE OF ESTATE

See SALE FOR AFRAYS OF FRANCE
I L P 41 Calc 1072

SHARESSee EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT
25 C W N 845See IMPERFECT GIFT
I L R 48 Calc 298See PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT (XI of 1860)
s 23 I L R 45 Bom 133

— allotment of—

See COMPANY I L R 36 All 412

— pledge of—

See ADMINISTRATION
I L R 45 Calc 600See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 159

— purchaser of at a Court Sale—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913) s 38
I L P 41 Bom 16

— registration of—

See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913) s 32
I L R 41 All 619

— sale of—

See COMPANY I L R 36 All 365See DAMAGES I L R 43 Calc 483

1 ———— Transfer by a person in possession—Judicial possession—Possession for a particular purpose—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 108—Bond fide purchaser for value—Share certificate with blank transfer deeds whether negotiable—Usage The defendant Bank bought 100 shares for one of their constituents which consisted of the share certificate and a blank transfer deed signed by the registered holder and a blank transfer deed over by the officer in charge of their Safe Custody Department to the Head Clerk of that Department in usual course. The clerk fraudulently disposed of them to Sham Das Sil who again sold them to other persons. The plaintiff firm bought them from the defendant firm of Bajrath Champalall. Both the plaintiff firm and the defendant firm were bond fide purchasers for value. Held that the Head Clerk was not in possession of the shares within the meaning of s 108 of the Contract Act and that the plaintiffs acquired no title in them. Held also that the share certificates with blank transfer deeds signed by the registered holder were not negotiable instruments. ROOP CHAND JANKINRAM v. THE NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA LTD (1918)
I L R 45 Calc 342
22 C W N 1049

2 ———— Transfer by a person in possession—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 108—Obtaining possession by fraud—Transfer to a bond fide purchaser for value—Negotiability by custom—Share certificate with blank transfers whether negotiable—Negotiability by estoppel—Goods meaning of—Remedy of the bond fide purchaser for value—Costs. Share certificates accompanied by transfer deeds endorsed in blank by the registered holder are not negotiable. Before an instrument can be considered negotiable it must be in a form which renders it capable of being sued on by the holder of it pro tempore in his own name and it must be by the custom of trade transferable like cash by delivery. The right principle to adopt with reference to such blank transfers duly signed by the registered holder of the shares is to hold that each prior holder confers upon the bond fide holder for value of the certificate for the time being an authority to fill in the name of the transferee and is estopped from denying such authority and to this extent and in this manner but no further he is estopped from denying the title of such holder for the time being. The plaintiff firm claimed to be the owners of 500 shares which they purchased from the defendant L on the 7th May 1917 and got their names registered in the books of the Company. At the time of the sale the plaintiff obtained possession of the certificate for the said shares and a blank transfer deed signed by the registered holder. The defendant L bought the said shares from one U who fraudulently obtained possession of them from the defendant S who was the owner of the said shares. It was not clear what was the nature of the transaction between the defendants L and U. The purchase by the plaintiff was bona fide and for value. Held that the plaintiff did not acquire any title to the said shares and were entitled to the value they paid for them from the defendant L with interest. HAZARI MAL SHOKANLAL v SATIS CHANDRA (MORARJI) (1918)

SHARES—con d

I L R 46 Calc 331
22 C W N 1038

' SHAWLS MEANING OF

Meaning of parcel—Railway Administration Act (IX of 1900) s 75 and Sch II (m)—Value of contents of parcel if to be declared—Shewn—Dmng—suit or—Costs
The term shawls in S b III cl (m) of the Railways Act refers to Indian shawls of special value and cannot be taken to apply to articles of inferior value such as shawls. SARAT CHANDRA BOSE v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1919)

I L R 39 Calc 1029

SHERAIT

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 39 Calc 298
I L R 42 Calc 440

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

See HINDU LAW—SHERAIT

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 39 Calc 33

See LIMITATION I L R 42 Calc 244

See PARTIES I L R 46 Calc 877

See SHERAIT

appointment of—

See RELIGIOUS TRUST

I L R 40 Calc 251

It may be permitted to reside in house provided for idol—

14 C W N 1026

power of—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 38 Calc 526

power of to grant permanent lease

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 40 Mad 709

Removal of—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I L R 48 Calc 1019

title of—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT s. 23 15 C W N 666

SHERAIT—contd

1 Suit on security bond executed in favour of sherait of idol if maintainable by succeeding sherait—Limitation Act (IX of 1877) Art 132 The Plaintiff as sherait sued the Defendant who was tehsildar of the debutter estate for accounts on a security bond executed by the Defendant in favour of the former sherait. Held that the contract entered into between the Defendant and the former sherait did not terminate on the death of the latter but could be sued upon by the present sherait. DASARATHI CHATTERJI v ASIT MOHAN GHOSH SAULJK 24 C W N 879

2 Successor of a sherait when bound by a decree passed against the sherait—Limitation Act (X of 1877) Sch II Art 124—Hereditary office of a sherait—Adverse possession of the office The widow of a sherait of a certain temple who succeeded her deceased husband in that office mortgaged some land as also her interest in the temple income to one J who obtained a decree on his mortgage on the 24th of September 1880. In execution thereof he put up the temple income for sale purchased it himself and obtained delivery of possession in 1892. The widow and the next reversioner then brought a suit to set aside the sale on the ground that the property sold was not saleable. That suit was withdrawn with liberty to bring a fresh suit. The widow alone then brought another suit which was dismissed on the ground that it was barred by s 214 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882). She having died the reversioner brought a suit against the said J on the 3rd of January 1910 for a declaration that he was entitled to the temple income inasmuch as it was not saleable. On objections taken by the defendant that the suit in so far as it related to the temple income was barred by the rule of res judicata and by limitation. Held that inasmuch as there was no collusion or dishonesty about the former suits and as in one of them the plaintiff himself was a party the decree passed in the suit against the sherait (widow) would bind her successor (the plaintiff) and that therefore the present suit was barred by the rule of res judicata. Held, further that Art 124 of Sch II of the Limitation Act applied to the case and that as the suit was brought more than twelve years after the date when the defendant obtained possession of the hereditary office by receipt of the temple income it was barred by limitation. JHARULA DAS v JALANDHAR TRAKET (1911) I L R 39 Calc 837

3 Alienation power of—Dedicated property acquisition of—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) s 31 cl (2)—Compensation by withdrawal of—The position of a sherait is analogous to that of the manager of an infant. He is entitled to possess and to manage the dedicated property but he has no power of alienation in the general character of his rights. s 31 cl (2) of the Land Acquisition Act applies to a sherait since he is not competent to alienate the land. KAMINI DEBI v PROMOTHA NATH MOOKERJEE 13 C L J 597 followed RAMPRASANK NANDI CHOWDHURY v SECRETARY OF STATE OF INDIA (1913) I L R 40 Calc 895

4 Lease by a previous sherait in excess of his authority suit for cancellation of by succeeding sherait—New cause of action if accrues to each succeeding sherait—Adverse possession when commences and if interrupted by death of original shebait—Limitation The effect of a lease granted by a shebait in excess of his authority is not to give each succeeding shebait a new cause of action for setting aside the alienation and adverse possession commences from the date of the original disposition of the property and is not interrupted by the death of the original shebait and the succession of the new shebait. Each succeeding shebait does not get a new start for the purpose of limitation. Damodar v Lakhon L R 37 I A 147 I L R 37 Cal 855 followed. Where the plaintiff as shebait of a Thakur to which office he succeeded in 1903 sued for declaration of title to land for recovery of possession and for cancellation of a pulni lease granted on the 9th September 1848 by a previous shebait who died in 1890 on the ground that the alienation was without legal necessity and in no way beneficial to the endowment and therefore not binding upon the endowed property in his hand. Held that the suit was barred by limitation the title to annul the pulni was extinguished in 1867 at the latest. No substantial distinction in principle can be recognised between a pulni and a sale. Madhu Sudan Mandal v Radhika Prasanno Das (1912)

SHEBAIT—contd

17 C W N 873

■ Purchasing debutter property at Court sale in the denami of his son for adequate price—If can keep his purchase—Fiduciary relationship purchase by person standing in valid if full disclosure made to cestui que trust—Secret purchase in another's name invalid The grounds for removing a shebait from his office may not be identical with those upon which a trustee would be removed in England. The close intermingling of duties and personal interest which together make up the office of shebait may well prevent the closeness of the analogy but as part of the office it is indisputable that there are duties which must be performed that the estate does need to be safeguarded and kept in proper custody and if it be found that a man in the exercise of his duties has put himself in a position in which the Court thinks that the obligation of his office can no longer be faithfully discharged that is sufficient ground for his removal. A trustee who is not a trustee for sale may acquire from beneficiaries who are sui juris an estate in which they are interested but he can only do this if he has made the fullest disclosure to them of all the relevant and material facts within his knowledge affecting or that might affect the value and condition of the estate and the parties are at arm's length the cestui que trust knowing that he is dealing with the trustee. Otherwise the purchase is bad and it is bad because any person who occupies a fiduciary relationship may liable to acquire information about the trust estate which he is not permitted to use for his own benefit. Raja Peara Mohan Mukherji v Monohar Mukherji

26 C W N 133

6 — Rights of a shebait of an idol to impose restrictions on the powers of subsequent shebaits—Acceptance of benefits conferred by a gift by the shebait—Effect of such acceptance on the restrictions imposed by the gift A Hindu governed by the Dayabhaga School established certain family deities but imposed no condition as to their location. His son acquired a piece of land and erected thereon

SHEBAIT—concll

a separate Thakurbari for one of the deities. By a declaration of trust he declared that he his heirs executors representatives and administrators should for ever hold the land to and for the use of the deity that the Thakur should be located and worshipped in the premises and that the Thakur should not on any account be removed therefrom unless and until a similar or better Thakurbari was built. The grandsons of the founder separated and the palas of worship were divided. One of the said grandsons not having got any part of the family house removed elsewhere and built himself a separate residence, where he wanted to remove and worship the Thakur during his turn of worship but was prevented by his co-sharers on the strength of the above declaration. Held that the founder of the idols having imposed no condition as to their location it was not open to any subsequent shebait to impose restrictions which would better those who subsequently were heirs of the founder became shebaits. The said grandson is therefore entitled to remove the Thakur from the Thakurbari of his own house during his term of worship. Promotho Nath Mullick v Pradyumna Kumar Mullick 26 C W N 909

SHEBAITI RIGHTS

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

3 P.L. L J 307

SHEIKH ANSARIS TRIBE OF

a Custom

I L R 99 Cal 418

SHERIFF'S RIGHT TO POUNDAGE

See POUNDAGE I L R 37 Cal 649

Sheriff's Poundage when payable—Whether it is payable when claim is paid up upon compromise after an attachment before judgment—High Court Rules Ch XLI before judgment—High Court Rules Ch XLII meaning of r 77-28 E.L. Ch 4 Levy meaning of A filed a suit against B for about 8½ lacs and subsequently applied for attachment before judgment of certain moneys belonging to B lying with the Bank of Bengal and got an order for the interim attachment which was effected by the Sheriff. Thereafter a settlement was arrived at and the order was discharged and the interim attachment was by consent withdrawn each party paying his own costs. The present suit was filed by the Sheriff of Calcutta claiming Rs 21,000 as poundage due to him as Sheriff of Calcutta by reason of the interim attachment before judgment under the High Court Rules Ch XLII. Held that the Sheriff was not entitled to any poundage under the said rule. A claim to poundage by a Sheriff must be under the express terms of a Statute or Order. He has no common law right to reward for executing a writ. A D Pichard v R B Janaki Nath Roy 26 C W N 613

SHETSANADI LANDS

Rules framed under Act XI of 1872 (Bombay)—Government continuing the shetsanadi lands to the family of the shetsanadi who is discharged by Government without any fault on his part—Continuance on condition of paying full survey assessment on the lands—Subsequent resumption of the lands by Government On the death in 1865 of the then shetsanadi, one B Government appointed one I as the new shetsanadi but under the rules framed under Bombay Act XI of 1802 Government continued the shetsanadi lands to the family of B on condition of their paying full survey assessment on the lands. The remuneration of I was made payable out of the extra assessment recovered in 1900. Government resumed the lands and handed them over to I for his services. Held that both the order passed in 1860 and the action taken under the rule framed under Bombay Act XI of 1802 had in law the effect of converting the land from a Shetsanadi raita into a rayasdari holding and investing the holder of the land with the rights of an ordinary occupant entitled to III so long as he paid the survey assessment. Held also that the proceedings of 1900 were on the supposition that what was done in 1860 on B's death had the effect of continuing the lands in dispute as one reserved for shetsanadi service but that was not its effect and the proceedings in question were ultra vires. YELLAPPA v. MARLING GADPA (1910) I L R 44 Bom 580

SHETSANADI LANDS—con d

SHIAS

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT
I L R 36 All 289
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAF
I L R 38 All 431
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GUARDIAN
I L R 36 All 466

SHIP

See ARREST OF SHIP
I L R 42 Calc 85
See CONFISCATION I L R 44 Calc 334
See PRIZE COURT I L R 44 Bom 61

SHIPOWNER

—— liability of—

See CHARTER PARTY
I L R 41 Bom 119

SHIPPING

See ARREST OF SHIP
See CONFISCATION
See MARINE INSURANCE
See MERCHANT SEAMAN ACT (I of 1839)
s 11 CL (d) I L R 40 Bom 558 See PRIZE
See SALE OF GOODS
I L R 45 Calc 28
See CONTRACT I L R 41 Calc 670

SHIPPING DOCUMENTS

See C I F CONTRACTS
I L R 42 Bom 473

SHIPPING ORDERS

See CONTRACT ACT (I of 1872) ss 56
GJ I L R 40 Bom 529

SHIVARPANA

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188 s 539
I L R 36 Bom 29

SHORT DELIVERY

See CARRIERS I L R 40 Calc 311
See RAILWAYS ACT s 140
14 C W N 863

SHROTRIEMDAR

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) s 8 EXCEP
I L R 38 Mad 843

SHUDRAS

See HINDU LAW—SUDRAS
See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 44 Bom 321, 553
See HINDU LAW—LEGITIMACY
—— Adoption by widow though unchaste valid in Bombay—
See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom 459
—— Succession of illegitimate daughter to her mother in the absence of any nearer heir—
See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom 557

SICCA RUPEES

See SUIT FOR RENT
I L R 48 Calc 347

SIGNATURE

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 59 I L R 41 Bom 384
—— genuineness of—
See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L R 38 Calc 805

SIKKIM

—— Court of the Political Agent of—See POLITICAL AGENT SIKKIM
I L R 38 Calc 859
15 C W N 992

SIMANADARS

—— Chaukidari Chakaran Land Act (Beng VI of 1870) s 1 whether applicable—Bengal District Gazette reference in by High Court The High Court is entitled to use the Bengal District Gazetteer as a book of reference.
The Chaukidari Chakaran Land Act applies to simanadars as the Gazetteer for Bankura shows that in thana Indas (where the lands in suit are situate) the simanadars perform those duties which are described in s 1 of the Act. LALU DOMP v. BEJOY CHAND MAHATAP (1915)
I L R 43 Calc 227

SIMILARITY OF NAMES

See TRADE NAME I L R 40 Calc 570

SIMPLE INTEREST

See PERCENT I L R 42 Calc 546

SIMPLE MORTGAGE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION
I L R 39 Mad 811
I L R 44 Calc 425

SIMULTANEOUS ADOPTION

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 38 Calc 694
I L R 39 Calc 582

SINGLE JUDGE

See HIGH COURTS ACT (21 of 1851) s 104 ss 29 AND 30
I L R 39 Bom 604
—— judgment of—
See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL
I L R 43 Calc 90

SINGLE JUDGE—contd

order by—

See APPEAL I L R 42 Calc 735
I L R 44 Calc 804

revision by—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Calc 818

ruling of—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 17
I L R 1 Lah 25

SIR LAND

See AOTA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)—

SS 19 AND 20 I L R 32 ALL 383
S 164 I L R 36 ALL 223

See GROVE LAND I L R 42 ALL 483

mortgage of—

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT
(XI OF 1898) s 45 SUB S (1) (6)
I L R 45 I A 179

See ESTOPPEL I L R 48 Calc 591

See MORTGAGE I L R 33 ALL 434

Mortgage by proprietor having such land and sale in execution of mortgage decree—A person whose proprietary rights in land comprised Sir land mortgaged his entire interest therein including the right in the Sir land. In the decree for sale instead of including the cultivating rights in Sir should comprise the property with all actual and reputed rights as detailed in the mortgage. Held that in the face of the decree it was not open to the mortgagor to urge that the rights of the mortgagee to sell the Sir lands were taken away by the decree. GULAB SINGH v. DILWAI BHADUR BALLABH DAS
25 C W N 839

SISTER

See BURNESSE LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 41 Calc 887

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 39 Calc 319

Succession to self acquired property—

See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION)
I L R 1 Lah 433
I L R 2 Lah 98

Succession of Muhammadan Rajput Jullundar—

See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION)
I L R 1 Lah 1

Whether an heir—

See HINDU LAW (SUCCESSION)
I L R 1 Lah 588 608

SISTER'S SON

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 30 Calc 319

SLANDER

See DEFAMATION

SLANG TERMS

See MISDICTION I L R 45 Calc 557

SLAUGHTERING FEES

See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT 1884 s 191
I L R 38 Mad. 113

SLAVERY BOND

See BOND I L R 42 Calc. 12

SMALL CAUSE CASE

See APPEAL I L R 40 Calc. 537

SMALL CAUSE COURT

See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS
I L R 40 AD 51

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1903) s 24 I L R 38 Mad. 95

See COMPENSATION I L R 44 Calc. 87

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT 1897 s 3 (25) I L R 33 ALL 155

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT 1897

See VATAN I L R 37 Bom. 100 appeal from order of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898 s 195 4 Pat L J 609

Decree of—amendment—after ratification to High Court rejected—

See AMENDMENT OF DECREE
I L R. 1 Lah 340

Error by—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R 38 Calc 13

jurisdiction of—

See BHADAB 23 C W N 814

new trial—

See PRESIDENT'S SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1889) s 39
I L R 38 Bom 59

Suit by Zamindar to recover part of price of trets sold by tenant—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT 1897 SCR II Art 13
I L R 42 ALL 448

suit not cognizable by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1903) O XXI P 91
I L R 35 Bom. 99

1. Suit by mortgagor against mortgagee for mere profits. A suit by a mortgagor against the mortgagee for the profits for the period during which he held wrongfully possession of the property is maintainable in a Small Cause Court. Art 31 of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act is no bar to a suit being instituted in a Small Cause Court. BHARI DUTT v. SHRIHAI AINUDDY (1910) 14 C W N 1001

2. Provincial Small Cause Court if may decide title. Procedure—Mortgagee of recoverable usufruct profits of mortgagor. What must be proved—Petty case. Pecuniary relief not an unfailing test. In a Small Cause Court the Judge is no doubt competent to decide the question of title upon which the claim depends but if he does so it is incumbent on him to decide the question correctly and according to law. The maxim de minimis non curat lex should not be applied to Small Cause Court suits for damages in respect of immovable property for the importance of the case to the parties is not to be measured by the pecuniary limit of their claim. Panna

SMALL CAUSE COURT—contd

City & Parnit I L R 21 Bom 250 referred to ELABI BUKH MANDAL & RAM NARAYAN CHOUE
 (1911) 16 C W N 283

8 ————— Jurisdiction of
to try suit for specific sum of money involving possible examination of account—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) rr 6 & 7 O XLVI—Circumstances necessitating action under The plaintiff sued to recover from the defendant a certain aggregate amount made up by sums due on account of salary and house rent as also money borrowed by the defendant. The plaintiff stated that if the correctness of the amounts was questioned the amount due may be determined on examination of the accounts. The suit was filed in the Court of the Munsif who returned the plaint for presentation to the Court of Small Causes where on being presented the plaint was returned on the ground that Court had no jurisdiction. The plaint on being again presented before the Munsif was returned a second time.
Held that a suit for the recovery of a specific sum of money does not assume the character of a suit for accounts merely because in the determination of the question in controversy accounts may have to be examined and the present was not a suit for accounts and was cognizable by the Court of Small Causes. That the Small Cause Court Judge instead of returning the plaint should have taken action under r 6 or r 7 O XLVI and submitted the record to the High Court with a statement of his reasons for the doubt as to the nature of the suit. KSHETRA NATH BACHERJI & KALIDAS DASI
 (1916) 21 C W N 784

SMALL CAUSE COURT DECREE

S & CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 151
I L R 34 Bom 135

See FRATD I L R 48 Calc 298

S & PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT 1892—

s 43 I L R 45 Bom 1048

s 48 I L R 47 Bom 972

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT 188 s 1 I L R 44 All 438

S & SECOND APPEAL

I L R 45 Bom 223

SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 24 I L R 39 All 214

I L R 40 All 525

s 110 I L R 39 All 101

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX OF 1887)—

SEC II ART 8 I L R 41 Bom 367

SEC II ART 131

I L R 40 All 142

SS 23 AND 27 I L R 38 Bom 190

S 20 I L R 41 All 42

Dismissed for default—
Application for restoration of suit—Circuit—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O IX rr 4 & 9
O XLVII r 1—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) s 1. Where a Small Cause Court suit is dismissed for the plaintiff's default in SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT—contd

the presence of the defendant and an application made under O IX rr 4 and 9 for the restoration of that suit is also dismissed for the plaintiff's default in the presence of the defendant's pleader and where again an application is made under O IX r 9 for the rehearing of the case and an other application for treating it as an application for review. Held that an application under O IX r 9 lay. O XLVII r 1 applied to all orders of the Court which may be reviewed under certain circumstances. Held further that the provisions of s 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act did not apply to miscellaneous applications.
Dejyan Vichha Bibee & Hemant Kumar Ray 19
C W N 753 followed. BIRIN BEHARI SHARMA &
ABDUL BAKIR (1916) I L R 44 Calc 950

SOCIETY

See PROFIT & PREYDRE
2 Pat L J 323

SOHAG GRANT

See BABUANA GRANT
See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM

SOLDIER

—decree against a—See ARMY ACT (44 & 45 Vic c 58)
ss 145 190 I L R 43 Bom 368

SOLEHNAMA

See LEASE I L R 37 Calc 803
 —construction of—
See LIMITATION I L R 48 Calc 870

SOLICITOR

—duty of—
See GIFT I L R 39 Calc 933

Professional misconduct—Proceeding to strike off from Rolls—Contempt of Court pursuing remedy in Criminal Court when Supreme Court refused civil remedy having disbelieved information of amounts to Forgery striking out names of witnesses named by solicitor after informing responsible officer—Intent to defraud if any—Bad faith—Right to be heard on matters relating to professional misconduct Where a plaintiff who has been refused a warrant for the detention of the defendant by a Civil Court straightway starts a criminal process on the same subject matter and by means of allegations to which the Civil Court attached no credit obtains his warrant from a different Court almost as a matter of course he undoubtedly runs several risks of a serious character. He is not however restricted by law to a single form of remedy. He may pursue all the legal remedies appropriate to his grievance and his conduct does not necessarily involve any punishable contempt of the Civil Court whatever may be its other consequences. Where in such a case the arrest by warrant of the Criminal Court was obtained without getting the necessary order of Government and it was executed but the prisoner was then discharged on the ground that the warrant was in excess of the Magistrate's jurisdiction and it appeared that the Magistrate was not misled into issuing the warrant by any concealment or deceit on the part of the applicant but that it might have been due to the Magistrate's own in-

SOLICITOR—contd

advertence and there was no evidence to show that the applicant did not believe in the justice of his claim and did not so instruct the solicitor who acted for him in the matter. Held that the conduct of the solicitor though it might from other points of view be shown to be open to strong animadversion could not in the absence of proof that the proceedings were tainted by his fraud be held to constitute contempt of Court nor did it show bad faith on the part of the solicitor. Where two persons on being served with subpoenas taken out by the solicitor on behalf of certain accused persons stated that they knew nothing of the case and thereupon the solicitor took back the subpoenas and mentioned to a responsible Court officer that he wanted the names of witnesses to be substituted and on his making no objection struck out their names and substituted those of two other persons in their place. Held that there being no thing to show that the intent of the solicitor in so doing was to defraud the facts did not establish the charge of forgery brought against him who at most had committed an irregularity and for which adequate punishment. That an order striking the solicitor's name from off the Rolls on account of the said two alleged offences of contempt and for forgery could not in the circumstances be maintained. References in the order to the solicitor's conduct in other professional matters when no such matters were specified in the information before the Court and upon which the solicitor had not been heard could not be relied on against him. In the matter of TAYLOR 18 C W N 386

SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS

See COSTS

I L R 43 Cal 678
I L R 46 Cal 1070

Practice—Dissolution of partnership—Assess in hands of receiver—Judgment creditor—Charging order—Solicitor's lien for costs. The rule at common law that a solicitor is entitled to a lien for his costs on property recovered or preserved by his exertions has always been followed by this Court and where there are suits in a partnership in the hands of a receiver appointed in a partnership suit the solicitors engaged in that suit are entitled to ask for a charge on those assets in priority to the creditors of the partnership. Rida v Thorne [1902] 2 Ch 344 followed. Where a plaintiff has obtained a decree against a partnership firm the available assets of which are in the hands of a receiver appointed in a previous partition against those assets but to ask the Court for a charging order and to undertake to deal with the charge according to the order of the Court. Kewney v Attrill (1 Ch D 345) followed. A HAJI ISMAIL AND CO v RABABAT (1909) I L R 34 Bom 484

Charge of Solicitor—Inspection of documents—Administration suit. The right to be exercised by a Solicitor claiming a lien largely depends upon the circumstances under which he had ceased to act for his client the test being whether the Solicitor has discharged himself or has been discharged by the client. The obligation on the Solicitor to give inspection of and to produce documents in his possession over which he has a lien in an administration action is confined to those cases where they are essential to the determination of those questions which arise in the normal administration proceedings when the estate is being actually administered. Boughton v Boughton 23 Ch D 169 and In re Capital Fire Insurance Association 24 Ch D 408 considered. AISHABIRI v AHMED BIN ESSI (1910) I L R 35 Bom 352

SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS—contd

SOLVENT COMPANY—

See COMPANY (IN LIQUIDATION)

I L R 1 Lab 368

SON

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 42 Bom 547

after birth—Effect of—

See HINDU LAW I L R 1 Lab 108

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 8

I L R 1 Lab 558

birth of subsequent to the execution of the will—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 38 Mad 369

death of, before the testator—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 38 Mad 369

liability of—

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

I L R 39 Cal 802

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—SURETY

I L R 39 Cal 843

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 38 Mad 527

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Cal 342

Locus standi of in deceased father's insolvency proceedings—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 38 Cal 87 of a co-obligor (status of)—

See MAHOMEDAL LAW—LEGITIMACY

I L R 48 Cal 259

Succession by—to office and property of granthi Golden Temple, Amritsar—

See CUSTOM (RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS) I L R 1 Lab 511 540

SONTAL PARGANAS

See PRADHAN

5 Pat L J 656

See SONTAL PARGANAS ACT

1

High Court Jurisdiction of—Suits exceeding Rs 1000 in value—Sontal Parganas Civil Rules 1905 r 29—Sontal Parganas Act (XVII of 1855) s 1 c (1) and 2—Sontal Parganas Settlement Regulations (III of 1872) s 27—Sontal Parganas Justice Regulation (I of 1893) s 6—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 115—The Charter Act (4 & 25 Vic c 104) s 15. In a suit in which the matter in dispute exceeds Rs 1000 the High Court is not debarred by anything in the local Acts and Regulations of the Sontal Parganas from revising the proceedings of the Subordinate Judge who is subject to the powers of superintendence over the subordinate Courts as contained in the Charter and an order by the Subordinate Judge adjoining a mortgage sale pending an enquiry directed to be made by the Deputy Commissioner may be revised by the High Court. The High Court however cannot interfere with an order of the Deputy Commissioner directing an enquiry or with an enquiry by the Sub-divisional Officer. Dungaram Marwary v Paykashore Deo 1 L R 18 Cal 133 followed Taj Ram v Harshulal 1 L R 1 All 101 referred to SARDHARI SAR v HUKTM CHAND SAR (1914)

SONTHAL PARGANAS—contd

1 L R 41 Cal 876

2 ———— Mortgage of land in not completely settled—Suit in Civil Court at Bhagalpur on mortgage of land—Limits of Civil Court's Jurisdiction—Exclusive jurisdiction of special officers appointed by Lieutenant Governor—Stipulation in bond that suit might be instituted at Bhagalpur—Court having jurisdiction in Sonthal Parganas if includes Civil Courts at Bhagalpur—Sonthal Parganas Regulation III of 1870 (read with Act XXXVII of 1885 and Act V of 1887) ss 5-6—Interest—usury rules enforceable by all Courts Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation (3 of 1893) s 9—Civil Procedure Codes (Act VIII of 1859 Act XIII of 1861 Act V of 1877 Act XIV of 1887) how far applicable in Sonthal Parganas—Civil Courts Acts (Act VI of 1871 and Act VII of 1887) how far apply in Sonthal Parganas—Schedule Districts Act (XII of 1874) if applied to Sonthal Parganas—Jurisdiction objection to taken at a late stage when entertainable Held that on 20th June 1904 the date on which the present suit was instituted in the Subordinate Judge's Court at Bhagalpur to enforce a mortgage of properties two thirds of which was in the Sonthal Parganas no suit could lie in any Court established under the Civil Courts Act of 1871 or 1887 in regard to any land or interest in or arising out of any land or for the rents or profits of any land but such suits must have been brought under s 5 of Sonthal Parganas Regulation of 1872 before the Settlement Officers or Courts of officers appointed by the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal under s 2 of the Sonthal Parganas Act 1870 and the Sonthal Parganas Justice Regulation of 1893 Part II so long as the land had not been settled and the settlement declared by a notification in the Calcutta Gazette to have been completed and concluded. That as it appeared that portions only of the mortgaged land had been settled and notification made prior to the institution of the suit of the completion of the settlement in respect of such portions only the suit came within s 5 of the Sonthal Parganas Regulation of 1872 and the Subordinate Judge of Bhagalpur had no jurisdiction to entertain it. The provision in s 6 of that Regulation which places all contractual stipulation as to compound interest in a position of non enforceability and limits statutorily the total interest which can be decreed on any loan or debt is not one of procedure but of substance and applies to all Courts having jurisdiction in the Sonthal Parganas and acting under and by virtue of such jurisdiction. All Courts having jurisdiction in the Sonthal Parganas in s 11 do not refer only to Courts locally situated in the Sonthal Parganas and dealing with matter purely local. A stipulation in the mortgage bond that the mortgagees might enforce it in the Court at Bhagalpur was inoperative as the parties could not by consent give the Court jurisdiction thereby nullifying the express prohibition of s 5 of the Regulation of 1872. The Civil Procedure Codes of

SONTHAL PARGANAS—contd

1861 1877 and 1882 applied to suits cognizable in the ordinary Civil Courts and these since the enactment of s 9 of Reg V of 1893 were suits of which the value exceeded Rs 1000 and which were not excluded from their cognizance by amongst others the provisions of s 5 of the Regulation of 1872. Quare Whether the Civil Procedure Code was intended by the Notification of 19th August 1867 to apply to Courts held by officers appointed by the Lieutenant Governor of Bengal in those suits in which they were not required to try and determine the case according to the several laws and regulations prevailing in Bengal. Scoble The true interpretation of (1) of the Act XXXVII of 1885 (before its operation was modified by subsequent enactments and notifications) was that even suits on which the matter in dispute exceeded Rs 1000 in value were to be tried by the special officers appointed by the Lieutenant Governor but in trying and determining them they were to observe the general laws and regulations obtaining in Bengal. Sorboji Roy v Ganesh Prasad Misser 1 L R 10 Cal 761 doubted MAHA PRASAD SINGH v RAMANI MOHAN SINGH (1914)

L R 41 I A 197

1 L R 42 Cal 116

15 C W N 994

SONTHAL PARGANAS ACT (XXXVII OF 1885)

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877

Pat L J 379

— s 1—

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 41 Cal 915

See SONTHAL PARGANAS

1 L R 41 Cal 876

— s 2—

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 42 Cal 116

SONTHAL PARGANAS JUSTICE REGULATION (V OF 1893)

— part II s 10—

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 41 Cal 116

SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION (III OF 1872)

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 41 Cal 915

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877

Pat L J 379

See SONTHAL PARGANAS

1 L R 41 Cal 876

— s 5-6—

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 42 Cal 116

— s 6—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

4 Pat L J 49

— ss 10-11—Sonthal Parganas Settlement Rules No 21—Succession in joint held by Hindu goola—Local Custom if applies to Hindu immigrants—Point incidentally decided in settlement proceeding of res judicata A finding of the Settlement Officer in a proceeding under the Sonthal Parganas Regulation III of 1872 which was not necessary for the purpose of the proceeding and was arrived at only incidentally does not operate as res judicata. R 27 of the Sonthal Parganas Settlement Rules under which resident relatives who have taken part in the management of the family joint are to be given preference as heirs is only applicable to

SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION (III OF 1872)—contd

ss 10 11—contd

suits before Settlement Officers The Pals was intended to meet the peculiar customs of the Sonthals and aborigines in the locality and does not apply to persons governed by the Hindu Law who have settled in the Sonthal Parganas BASKI MANRIK : SUPHAL MAJHI (1913)

18 C W N 333

ss 11 14, 25 25A—

1 Record of rights effect of—Suit challenging record maintainability of—Special limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 29 how far affects Regulation III of 1872—Minors how affected by the Regulation The plaintiffs some of whom were minors sued the defendants for partition of lands held in common but not as joint family property In the record of rights prepared under Reg III of 1872 the defendants had been recorded as proprietor and mokur aridar in respect of the lands The suit was brought after three years from the date of the publication of the record. Held, that the policy of Regulation III of 1872 was to have a complete record of rights and interests in land in the Sonthal Parganas and to exclude the jurisdiction of Civil Courts except in certain matters provided for in the Regulation That the suit so far as it regarded the proprietary rights in the land was barred by limitation under s 25A of the Regulation That the Limitation Act is applicable to the Sonthal Parganas but s 23 of Act IX of 1908 saves all provisions of local laws as to limitation and does not therefore affect the three years rule under s 25A of the Regulation That the Regulation does not make any exception in favour of minors and the minority provisions of the general Limitation Act has reference to the periods of limitation prescribed in that Act That the notice provided by s 14 is to the people of the village irrespective of age or intelligence and as the law makes the record of rights conclusive proof of the rights and interests therein recorded the defendants could not be called upon to prove the service of the required notices JANUKI PRASAD JHA v BABU LAL JHA (1914)

19 W N 499

Effect of the Regulation on the jurisdiction of Civil Courts—Elements necessary for suit to come within s 25A—Sikma ghatwals khorposh grant share in of a right of a zamindar or other proprietor The plaintiff brought a suit for declaration of his title to a share in a certain mauza in the Sonthal Parganas which form d the subject of a sikma ghatwals khorposh grant and for registration of his name in the settlement records in respect thereof It appeared that rent was payable to the ghatwals and no land revenue was payable direct to the Government in respect of the land which was not free from Government revenue Held that the effect of ss 11 14 and 25 of Reg III of 1872 was that the jurisdiction of the Civil Courts was absolutely excluded except in cases specially provided for in s 23 That in order that the plaintiff's case should fall within the provisions of s 25A it was essential for the plaintiff to show that he was a zamindar or other proprietor and the interest in land like that claimed by the plaintiff did not come within the description of a right of a zamindar or other proprietor That the only remedy the plaintiff had was to apply to the Government under s 25 of the Regulation to direct the revision of the record of rights ANNO DEO v PARBATI KUMARI (1914)

SONTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION (III OF 1872)—contd

ss 11 14—

19 C W N 549

ss 11 25 25A—Entry in record of rights operating as decree—Claim not expressly regulated by Settlement Court if open to investigation in Civil Court—Entry in record set up as plea in bar—What must be proved for entry to operate as res judicata—Proof that entry obtained by fraud Where in a suit for rent instituted by the plaintiff in part as remundar and in part as mokur aridar, the defendants objected to the recovery of the rent alleged to be due to the plaintiff as mokur aridar on the ground that in the record of rights prepared and finally published under the Sonthal Parganas Regulation III of 1872 the defendants were recorded as putndars only Held that under s 11 of the Regulation the entry operated as a decree of a Civil Court That it was not open to the plaintiff to urge that as there was no express decision of the Settlement Court upon the question of the dar mokur ar status of the defendants the matter was open for investigation in a Civil suit inasmuch as it must be held that there was such a decision by implication Held however that it was for the defendant who pleaded the entry as a bar to establish the circumstances in which the decree was made and to prove conclusively that the decree does operate as res judicata That the defendants must prove that in the preparation and final publication of the record of rights the requirements of the statute had been fulfilled and it was open to the plaintiff to urge and prove that the entry which was to operate as a decree was obtained by fraud. Ram Arjun Singh v Ram Runjan Chaudherbatty I L R 13 Calc 245 Nadar Chandkerbatty I L R 13 Calc 245 Singh v Chandra Sitor Sadhu I L R 15 Calc 765 Rajib v Lohani I L R 27 Calc 11 14 765 Rajib v Lohani I L R 30 Calc 369 relid tarini v Nundalal I L R 30 Calc 369 relid on Mozaffar Ali v Kali Prasad Saha (1913)

13 C W N 271

s 27—

See SONTHAL PARGANAS I L R 41 Calc 578

SOVEREIGN PRINCE

suit against—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1909) s 60 I L R 88 Mad 635

SOVEREIGN RIGHTS

See ACT OF STATE I L R 30 Calc 615

See ASSUMPTION I L R 43 Calc 973

SPECIAL APPEAL

See SECOND APPEAL

Civil Judge of Ranchur—Appeal to High Court—Regulation IV of 1872 s 99—Regulation XIII of 1830 s 5—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909) ss 4 and 100 A special appeal on the grounds mentioned in s 100 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909) lies to the High Court from the decision of the Civil Judge at Ranchur RAMCHANDRA ANANDRAO v PATIL (1913)

I L R 38 Bom. 340

Second Appeal in cases under Madras Rent Recovery Act VIII of 1865 s 69—Civil Procedure Code (Act VIII of 1859) s 39—

SPECIAL APPEAL—contd

Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1857) s 554—Concurrent findings of fact—High Court ignoring con current findings and deciding contrary to them on second appeal Although § 59 of the Madras Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865) only provides for a regular appeal (on law and fact) and there is no further appeal to the High Court from the decision of the District Judge on appeal from the Collector given by the terms of the Act itself yet under s 372 of Act VIII of 1859 which was the Civil Procedure Code in force when Madras Act VIII of 1865 was passed and which regulated the procedure of the Civil Courts in India outside the Presidency towns a special appeal lay to the Sudder Court from all decisions passed in regular appeal by the Courts subordinate to the Sudder Court and when the District Court was substituted for the Zillah Court and the High Court for the Sudder Court a special appeal lay from the District Court to the High Court. The terms of the latter Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1857) which was the Code in force when the suits out of which the present appeals arose were instituted are clear on the point that on appeal lies from the order of the District Judge to the High Court unless that right is taken away by express legislation or some express provision of law. And a second or special appeal to the High Court in cases arising under Madras Act VIII of 1865 has been held to lie in Veeraswami v. Manager Pitapur Estate 1 L R 45 Mad 518. The practice has been ever since the passing of the Act for such appeals to be preferred to the High Court and their Lordships would not be disposed to interfere with such a long standing practice even if they thought there was an implied rule against second appeals lying from the decisions of the District Judge with respect to adjudications under the Act by the Collector. Section 54 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 distinctly prohibits second appeals on questions of fact and confines the competency of the High Court to deal with law and procedure. Where therefore in a suit by landlord under s 9 of the Madras Act VIII of 1865 to enforce acceptance of a patta by his tenants and the sole question was whether on the evidence an arrangement which had been previously come to between the parties was permanent and the Collector and the District Judge concurrently found in the defendant's favour that it was permanent but the High Court on second appeal ignored that finding and held that the landlord was entitled to revert to a system of rates which had existed prior to such arrangement. Held that the High Court had acted in inadvertence of s 54 of the Code and had thereby assumed a jurisdiction which it did not possess and its decision was set aside and the case remitted to India. Durga Choudhury v. Jewahar Singh Choudhury 1 L R 18 Cal 23 s c L R 1 I 4 127 followed. PANJ VEERATAGHAYLU v. VENKATA NARASIMHA NAIDU BAHADUR (1911) 1 L R 37 Mad 443.

Second appeal in suit under Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 106 109 4(3)—Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1857) s 554—High Court entertaining second appeals where no ground existed within s 554—Reversing evidence and deciding contrary to decision of Special Judge on facts—Disturbing findings of facts—Questions of law and fact S 100A (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act makes applicable to an appeal to the High Court from the decision of a Special Judge the provisions of Chapter VIII of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 and the right of appeal is therefore limited by the provisions regulating the right of appeal to the High Court from a subordinate Court contained in s 584 of that Code. The power as to the regulation of rents being dependent and consequent upon the alteration of the judgment on specified ground and only such grounds are permissible. Where therefore it was found that such an appeal to the High Court was not within any of the grounds in s 581 but that nevertheless the High Court had entertained the appeal reversed the decree of the Special Judge on questions of fact making suggestions of prejudice and unreasonable assumptions on his part for which there was no justification and so reversing the evidence with which it was not competent to deal. Held that the High Court had exceeded its jurisdiction by exercising functions completely circumscribed by the provisions of a statute passed for the express purpose of securing some measure of finality in cases where the balance of evidence verbal and documentary arose for decision and its decree and judgment so made were set aside. Questions of law and of fact are sometimes difficult to disentangle. The proper legal effect of a proved fact is essentially a question of law so also is the question of admissibility of evidence and the question of whether any evidence has been offered on one side or the other but the question whether the fact has been proved when evidence for and against has been properly admitted is necessarily a pure question of fact. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURY v. SURESH SINGH (1919) 1 L R 46 Cal 189.

SPECIAL APPEAL—contd

SPECIAL BENCH

—power of—

See PARDON 1 L R 37 Cal 845SPECIAL CITATIONSee LETTER OF ADMINISTRATION

1 L R 47 Cal 838

SPECIAL CONSTABLES

Dispute regarding ferry—Proceeding for security to keep the peace drawn up against one party—Appointment of members thereof as special constables—Refusal to act as such—Legality of appointment and of prosecution for such refusal—Police Act (V of 1861) ss 17 19 The only legitimate object of appointing special constables under s 17 of the Police Act (V of 1861) is to strengthen the ordinary police force by the addition of suitable persons. When the appointments are not made with such an object a prosecution under s 19 of the Act for refusal to act as such will not be permitted. When the members of one party to a ferry dispute were appointed as special constables and the circumstances showed that it was never really intended to utilize them as police officers, the High Court quashed the order of the District Magistrate directing their prosecution under s 19 of the Act and the issue of warrants against them. LAKSHY SINGH v. FARRER (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 277.

SPECIAL COURT

When excludes jurisdiction of ordinary Courts Before the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts of the country can be excluded by a Special Court there must be clear words in the statute excluding such jurisdiction
SASHI BHUSAN HAZRA & SURESH ESHAPAR ALI NAZIR (1915) 19 C W N 636

SPECIAL DAMAGE

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898
 See TORT I L R 33 All 237

SPECIAL JUDGE

decision of—
 See SECOND APPEAL I L R 46 Calc 189
 order of—
 See APPEAL I L R 45 Calc 638

SPECIAL LEAVE TO APPEAL

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF I L R 41 Calc 568

SPECIAL PROCEDURE

See BAIL I L R 37 Calc 439

SPECIAL TRIBUNAL

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III of 1904) s 287 I L R 38 Mad 41
 See RECORDS POWER TO CALL FOR I L R 43 Calc 239

SPECIFIC AREA

See LEASE I L R 37 Calc 293

SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 11—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XLI r 31—Pleadings—Suit against a carrier—Non delivery of goods—Compensation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 31 49 and 115—Maxim generalia specialibus non derogant application of In order to entitle a plaintiff to obtain delivery of specific moveable property by suit and to enforce the decree so obtained by the stringent methods provided in O XLI r 31 of the Code of Civil Procedure it is necessary that he should allege and prove facts which entitle him to compel the delivery of specific moveable under the provisions of s 11 of the Specific Relief Act Where in a suit against a carrier the plaintiff asked for the recovery of one plank of wood that was not delivered to the consignee and also for Rs 21 12 0 being the loss of interest but contained no allegation that the defendant was in possession of the plank in question and it was obvious from the correspondence that he was not in possession of the same Held that in as far as the suit could be regarded as a suit for the return of the specific plank the case did not come within s 11 of the Specific Relief Act and the suit must be dismissed that if the suit was regarded as one for compensation for failure to deliver the plank in breach of the contract under the bill of lading it was governed by Art 31 and not by Art 49 or 115 of the Limitation Act By the amendment in 1899 of Art 71 of the Limitation Act the Legislature clearly indicated its intention that the Article should apply to a claim against a carrier for compensation for non delivery of goods irrespective of the ques-

SPECIFIC MOVEABLE PROPERTY—contd
 tion whether the suit was laid in contract or in tort Art 49 is inapplicable to such a case even if it were applicable its operation would be excluded by the special Art 31 as amended on the principle generalia specialibus non derogant The British India Steam Navigation Co v Hajee Mahomed Faach & Co I L R 3 Mad 107 Danmull v British India Steam Navigation Co I L R 17 Calc 477 and Great Indian Peninsula Railway Co v Russell Chandmull I L R 19 Bom 165 referred to VENKATASUBBA RAO : THE ASIATIC STEAM NAVIGATION CO CALCUTTA (1915) I L R 35 Mad 1

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

See AGREEMENT TO LEASE I L R 47 Calc 485
 See BENGAL, AGRA AND ASSAM CIVIL COURT ACT 1887 s 18 4 Pat L J 447
 See CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATE ACT 1876 s 17 4 Pat L J 680
 See CHOWKIDARI CHAKARAN LANDS I L R 37 Calc 57
 I L R 46 Calc 173
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O II r 2 I L R 28 Mad 698
 See CONTRACT I L R 46 Calc 771
 I L R 45 Bom 110
 See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 53 I L R 40 Bom 289
 See GUARDIAN AND MINOR I L R 38 All 433
 See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY) 2 Pat L J 513
 See JURISDICTION I L R 48 Calc 652
 I L R 39 Calc 683
 See LEASE I L R 39 Calc 683
 See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 and 40 I L R 45 Bom 8
 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 30 I L R 34 All 43
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1907) s 54 I L R 41 Bom 438

agreement whether complete and enforceable—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 and 40 I L R 45 Bom 8

of contract to sell—
 See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1880) s 7 CLS (1) and (2) I L R 33 All 290 partition and possession suit for—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O I R 3 I L R 40 Mad 385
 suit for—

See EXPECTANCIES I L R 32 Mad 554
 See HINDU LAW—ALLEGATION I L R 38 Mad 118
 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877) s 27 I L R 39 All 154

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

unstamped agreement for sale partly performed—

See CONTRACT I L R 55 Bom 1170

1 ——— Agreement to lease—Specific performance suit for—Registration of necessary—Indian Registration Act (111 of 1881) s 37 (d) and 49—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1885) s 31—Present demise—Interest in land—Unilateral agreement to lease certain premises operate as present demise if it does not of itself create any interest in or charge on the property agreed to be demised and can therefore be given in evidence for the purpose of enforcing specific performance of it without its having been registered under the provisions of the Indian Registration Act Purmananday v Dharey I L R 10 Bom 101 not followed Konduri Srinivasa v Gollumullala Venkatasaya 17 Mad J 238 followed. An unregistered agreement to lease provided for the grant of lease for a period of five years commencing from the day following the day on which the agreement was entered into and also provided that the proposed lessee would get a proper kabuliyat granted to him to be registered at his own cost. Held that on the day the agreement was come to there was no present demise and therefore the agreement could be adduced in evidence for the enforcement of specific performance thereof SATYENDRA NATH BOSE v ANIL CHANDRA CHOI (1908) 14 C W N 65

2 ——— Sale of immovable property—Marketable title to the satisfaction of the purchaser's solicitors—When a vendor of immovable property desires to enforce a contract for sale with a condition that the title adduced should be to the satisfaction of the purchaser's solicitors he must prove either that the solicitors did approve of the title or that there was such a title tendered as made it unreasonable to approve of it Clack v Hood 9 Q B D 276 followed TREACHER & Co v MAHOMEDALLY ADAMJI PIERBHOY (1910) I L R 35 Bom 110

3 ——— Denial of execution of agreement by defendant—Conflicting evidence as to genuineness of signature—Consideration as to which story best agrees with admitted facts—Defendant in pecuniary difficulties—Plaintiff in a position to dominate his will—Bargain onerous but not unconscionable—Absence of fraud or misrepresentation by plaintiff—Discretion in granting or refusing specific performance—In a suit to enforce specific performance of an agreement dated 4th April 1906 for the sale of land in which the defendant (appellant) denied that he ever signed the agreement the evidence on that point was conflicting though otherwise there was much unanimity on the general facts. The two lower Courts (of the Chief Court of Lower Burma) differed. The Original Court holding that the defendant's signature was a forgery and the Appellate Court reversing that decision and making a decree for specific performance. Held by the Judicial Committee that the proper courts was to examine the admitted facts and circumstances as furnishing the safest guide to a correct conclusion. On this point their Lordships were of opinion that the plaintiff's (respondents) account of the transaction best fitted in with the admitted facts and that the defendant's was untrue. The defendant when he acquired the land in 1901 was admittedly in pecuniary difficulties and had bought it with money raised by mortgaging it. In

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

1901, his mortgage was pressing for payment and another creditor had taken out execution. The arrangement he was obliged to make with the plaintiff was therefore necessarily of a somewhat onerous nature. Held that in the absence of any evidence of fraud or misrepresentation on the part of the plaintiff which induced the defendant to enter into the contract or that the plaintiff under the circumstances took an improper advantage of his position or the difficulties of the defendant and having regard to the character of the agreement which in their opinion though onerous was not unconscionable their Lordships saw no reason in the exercise of their discretion for refusing to grant specific performance. The decree of the Appellate Court was therefore upheld DAVIS v MALING SWE CO (1911) I L R 33 Cal 805

4 ——— Minor—Right to specific performance of contract entered into on his behalf by his guardian and manager of his estate—Contract for purchase of immovable property and sale of it to minor—Power of guardian and manager—Want of mutuality. In a suit for specific performance by a minor of an agreement for the purchase and sale to him of certain immovable property entered into by the manager of the minor's estate and his guardian on his behalf. Held by the Judicial Committee that it was not within the competence either of the manager of the minor's estate or of the guardian of the minor to bind the minor or the minor's estate by a contract for the purchase of immovable property that as the minor was not bound by the contract there was no mutuality and that consequently the minor could not obtain specific performance of the contract. MIR SARWARJAN v TAKHTUDDIN MAHOMED CHOWDHURY (1911) I L R 39 Cal 232

5 ——— Contract executed in exercise of power given by will—If all found false—Enforcement against executant as heir—Delay in suing not amounting to waiver or acquiescence—If bar to relief. The widow of the deceased owner jointly with another who as executor had obtained probate of a will alleged to have been left by the deceased executed an agreement for sale of land the widow purporting thereby to exercise a power given by the will to assent to conveyances executed by the executor. The probate subsequently having been revoked. Held that the contract was specifically enforceable against the widow to the extent of her interest. HORROCKS v RIGBY 9 CA D 149 relied on. Delay which did not amount to waiver abandonment or acquiescence and in no way altered the position of the defendant did not disentitle the plaintiff to sue for specific performance. Kissen Gopal Salaney v Kals Prasanna Sett I L R 33 Cal 633 followed Mohani Lal v Chotaly Lal I L R 10 Cal 1061 referred to. In the special circumstances of the case specific performance of the contract was refused. KFIR NATH SAMANTA v MANU BIBI (1911) 15 C W N 247

6 ——— Agreement to renew a lease—When specifically enforceable against a subsequent lessee for value—Duty of subsequent lessee to enquire of terms of previous lease—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877) s 27. An agreement to renew a lease under certain conditions on the determination of the term of the lease can be specifically enforced against a subsequent lessee for value who has omitted to make an enquiry of the tenant in possession about the terms of the lease under which he was holding it. The occupation of property by a tenant ordinarily affects one who would take a transfer of that property with notice of that tenant's rights and if he chooses to make no enquiry of the tenant he cannot claim to be a transferee without notice. MAHURAM BAO v. MADHAN CHANDRA POLAY (1913)

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

I L R 40 Cal 565

7 ——— Purchase with notice of prior contract—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 22 sub s (2)—Compensation for money spent on improvements refused to subsequent purchaser with notice of prior contract—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 55 sub s (1) cl (b). On the 22nd April 1910 the first defendant entered into an agreement with the plaintiff to transfer to him a certain house and received Rs 510 as earnest money the transaction to be completed within 3 months. The first defendant also undertook to satisfy the purchaser that she had a valid saleable interest in the property by showing the will of her mother and other papers relating to the property. On 15th July 1910 plaintiff called upon the first defendant to send him the title deeds etc. and on the 21st July (i.e. the day previous to the latest day) plaintiff notified the first defendant that he was ready with the purchase money. A draft will and some of the title deeds only were produced. On the 30th August 1910 the second defendant (who had notice of this prior contract) purchased the property in suit from the first defendant in the name of his wife the third defendant. The Civil Courts were closed from the 2nd October to 3rd November. On the 5th November 1910 plaintiff commenced this action for specific performance after the second defendant had spent nearly Rs 600 on repairs. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to have the contract specifically enforced not only against that vendor but also against the transferee who was not a bona fide purchaser for value with out notice. Held also that there was no precedent for a delay of one month in the institution of a suit being sufficient to justify a refusal of relief by way of specific performance. Chowbrook v. Richardson 23 H P (Eng) 51 approved. Held also that sub s (2) of s 22 of the Specific Relief Act clearly contemplated a case in which the vendor had entered into a contract without full knowledge of the circumstances. But where the hardship had been brought upon the subsequent purchaser by himself the Court would not consider that as a circumstance in favour of the refusal of specific performance. Kandarpa Nath Ghosh v. Jogindra Nath Ghosh 12 C L J 391 approved. Held also that the defendant had not established any right to be reimbursed for the improvement made on the property. Clare Hall v. Harding 6 Hare 273. Monroe v. Taylor & Hare 51 referred to. Held also that a copy of a compromise petition between the parties to probate proceedings cannot be accepted in lieu of a certified copy of the will (the contract being to allow the will to the purchaser). Oxford v. Lord and I R 2 P O 135. Lamare v. Dixon L R 6 H L 411 distinguished. Hanabhan Debbarh v. Bhagabati Dasi (1914)

I L R 41 Cal 552

8 ——— Fraud—Effect of—Specific performance suit—A declaration that certain proceedings in Court filed at plaintiff's instance were fictitious and of no effect—Circumstances entitling plaintiff to protection in Court of equity—

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

Circumstances entitling fraudulent confederate to retain property transferred to him in order to effect a fraud—Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1859) s 317 if applies where suit fictitious—Agreement by fictitious decree holder purchaser to restore land—Suit for specific performance—Limitation. The plaintiff as tenant held some lands under one K who in 1804 unavowedly sued to eject him as a trespasser. In this litigation the plaintiff was assisted by one J in who a favour he executed a fictitious conveyance in 1808. In 1809 finding that J was unfaithful plaintiff induced K to institute a fictitious suit for rent which was decreed on the 7th November 1809. K took out execution of this decree and at the sale which followed purchased the holding on the 19th March 1800. According to plaintiff's sale a K had agreed to execute a release of the holding in his favour and although possession was formally delivered to K on 5th June 1800 plaintiff continued in occupation of the land. In November 1806 K with the help of the Police took away the crops raised by the plaintiff and on the 15th March 1807 plaintiff brought a suit for declaration that the entire proceedings in the rent suit of 1809 were fictitious and also for confirmation of his possession of the land. Held that the suit was not one for specific performance of a contract and was not barred by limitation. That the case fell within the principle of the decision of the High Court in Jadu Nath Poddar v. Puri Lal Poddar 1 L J 33 Cal 967 and of the Judicial Committee in Prithvi Chetty v. Munandy Serran 1 L J 5 Cal 501 namely that to enable a fraudulent confederate to retain property transferred to him in order to effect a fraud the contemplated fraud must be effected when and where alone does the fraudulent grantor or giver is at the right to claim the aid of the law to recover the property he has parted with and the plaintiff was not entitled to protection in a Court of equity. That s 317 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1857 did not apply to the Civil Procedure Code of 1857. Civil Procedure Code the present case s 317 Civil Procedure Code contemplates a real sale in execution of a real decree in a real suit. ARUN TROPHAN v. MATHA NATH KAN (1913)

9 ——— Agreement to sell decree and rights appertaining thereto and to transfer it—defendant—Limitation and Purchase—Decree becoming barred by limitation before a transfer—Cancellation to keep decree on record—Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1859) s 317—Transfer of decree. The plaintiffs (respondents) brought a suit for specific performance of an agreement made between them and the defendant (appellant) by which the latter contracted to purchase a mortgage decree and all rights appertaining thereto which decree was to be duly transferred to the defendant which is provision of s 232 of the Civil Procedure Code 1857 could only be done by an assignment in writing. The decree however before a signment became barred by limitation and the refusal to take it Held (reversing the decision of the Appellate High Court) that what the plaintiffs had agreed to assign to the defendant was a decree capable of execution that until an agreement there was an obligation on the plaintiff as vendors to keep the decree alive and that therefore when the decree became barred by limitation the plaintiffs were asking for specific performance of a defendant of an agreement which they had themselves made to perform at 108 C 100

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

could be granted. Henderson v. A. D. W. 16
Pulley v. L. and A. W. P. 16
Eg 433; Lord Siller v. M. 16
NATH B. v. L. EYER D. 16

I L R 43 Cal. 993

10 ——— Contract to lend or borrow money—Suit for balance of money
Damir—Procedural Small Cause
(11 of 188) Sch 11 cl 1 16 17 18
Col (1st) of 1884 213 11 11 11 for specific performance of a contract to lend or borrow money is not maintainable.
12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19
20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27
The South African Territories v. Hall 1899
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 the balance of the money lent on a note the recitation of the instrument be maintainable by a Court of Small Cause. (11 cl 1, 1891)
Sch 11 Procedural Small Cause Courts Act 1887
 But a suit for damages for breach of contract is cognizable by a Court of Small Cause if the amount is within its pecuniary jurisdiction.
SURESH GALLIN v. SADARJAN BIRI (1912)

I L R 43 Cal. 59

11 ——— Contract modified—Specific performance of a contract of sale—S. (6) Sp. Rel. Act (1 of 1877)—Contract varied—Vendors asked to take out letters of administration and leave to sell—Effect of variation—Contingent contract—Order for sale—Title of purchasers and order of Court—Whether such purchasers are affected with notice of previous agreement—Dealings with purchaser inadvisable—Independent legal advice—Costs—Discretion of the Appeal Court in modifying order for costs made by the Court of first instance—Two widows defendants Nos 1 and 2 entered into an agreement on the 23rd January 1910 for sale of certain properties for legal necessity with the plaintiffs at Rs 8000 per cotah. The agreement contained the following covenant on the part of the vendors:—We shall at our own expenses do everything which your attorney shall consider necessary for rectifying and clearing the title deeds. The idea of applying for Letters of Administration was not present in the mind of any of the parties at the time of the agreement. Subsequently in order to obviate any objection of the respondents on the score of legal necessity the plaintiffs asked the widows to apply for Letters of Administration with leave to sell to the plaintiffs. The widows obtained Letters of Administration and one of them actually obtained leave to sell to the plaintiffs. Subsequently the widows applied and obtained leave to sell to the defendants Nos 3, 4 and 5 (described as the Nandi defendants) who offered a higher price and the property was conveyed to them. The Nandi defendants had notice of the agreement for sale to the plaintiffs at the time when they took the conveyance. In a suit by the plaintiffs for specific performance of the agreement of sale against all the defendants and in the alternative for damages against the defendants Nos 1 and 2 for breach of contract. Held that the contract was varied by mutual consent became a contingent one and as the contingency had not happened (i.e. leave of the Court had not been obtained in their favour) the plaintiffs were not entitled to claim performance of the contract. NARA PILLAI v. LUKHOO NARAIN MANNA I L R 12 Cal. 157 and Sardar Chandra v. Akhetra I L

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100

12 ——— Agreement to sell or lease
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 76 77 78 79 80 81 82 83 84 85 86 87 88 89 90 91 92 93 94 95 96 97 98 99 100
 into writing. Contract 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28 29 30 31 32 33 34 35 36 37 38 39 40 41 42 43 44 45 46 47 48 49 50 51 52 53 54 55 56 57 58 59 60 61 62 63 64 65 66 67 68 69 70 71 72 73 74 75 7

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

question of fact which arises on the documents and oral evidence tendered in support of it. An Appeal Court is not bound to accept the first Court's appreciation of the facts of the case. Both the facts and law are open to the Court of Appeal. But appellant should satisfy the Appeal Court that the judgment appealed against is erroneous. The mere reference to a formal agreement will not prevent a binding bargain. The fact that the parties refer to the preparation of an agreement by which the terms agreed upon are to be put into more formal shape does not prevent the existence of a binding contract. The payment of earnest money is itself evidence of a concluded contract. Per MOOREHEAD J.—It is well settled that the fact that the parties intended to embody the terms of the contract in a formal written agreement is strong evidence that the negotiations prior to the drawing of such writing are merely preliminary and not intended or understood to be binding. If it is definitely expressed and understood that there is to be no contract until the formal writing is executed there is plainly no binding agreement formed until this provision is complied with. It is also true that if all terms of the agreement have not been settled and it is understood that these unsettled terms are to be determined by the formal contract there is no binding obligation until the writing is executed. But if the oral agreement or written memorandum is complete in itself and embodies all the terms to be inserted in the intended formal writing a binding obligation is fixed on the parties unless it is understood and intended that such contract shall not become operative until reduced to writing. The question is merely one of intention. If the written draft is viewed by the parties merely as a convenient memorial of record of their previous contract its absence does not affect the binding force of the contract. If however it is viewed as the consummation of the negotiations there is no contract until the written draft is finally signed. To determine which view is entertained in any particular case several circumstances may be helpful as for example whether the contract is of that class which are usually found to be in writing whether it is of such a nature as to need a formal writing for its full expression, whether it has few or many details, whether the amount involved is large or small, whether it is a common or usual contract, whether the negotiation itself indicates that a written draft is contemplated as a final conclusion of the negotiation. If a written draft is proposed, suggested or tried during the negotiations it is some evidence that the parties intended it to be the final closing of the contract. The Court should refuse specific performance where there is substantial variance between the pleading and proof. The draft agreement containing terms which were never settled before between the parties, the legitimate inference to be drawn is that the parties intended the written draft to be the consummation of their negotiations which were to be treated as concluded only upon the final execution of the written agreement. Where many terms still remained undetermined it is a sure and true that the contract has not yet been concluded. Where there is ambiguity in any of the conditions of sale in restriction of the rights of the purchaser the condition should be construed more strictly against the vendor. HALL & M. L. GORDON (1911) 20 C W N 66

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

13 ——— Unregistered agreement to mortgage on which an advance has been paid—Whether enforceable?—Swamibhogam v. Venkateswara Rao. The plaintiff sued for specific performance of an agreement in writing but not registered by which the first defendant agreed to execute a deed of swamibhogam in respect of the suit lands to be enjoyed by the plaintiff for twenty years for a consideration of Rs 5,000 which could however be repaid at defendants' option after eight years from its date. The plaintiff had advanced about Rs 4,000 and not having obtained possession or a mortgage-deed sued for specific performance. The first defendant pleaded that the agreement was one to execute a lease and as such required registration and not being registered could not form the basis of a suit for specific performance. He further contended that even if the agreement were one to execute a mortgage no suit for specific performance to enforce an agreement to grant a mortgage was sustainable. Held that the agreement was one to grant a mortgage and as such did not require registration and that a Court will not specifically enforce an agreement to lend or borrow money whether on security or not but where money has been advanced either wholly or in part if the debtor is prepared to pay off the advance at once the Court will not decree specific performance but if the borrower is not prepared to pay off the advance the Court would decree specific performance. South African Temperance & Wine Co. v. Wallington [1895] A.C. 309 referred to. Ashton v. Corrigan L.P. 13 Eq. 76 and Perkins v. Hodges L.R. 16 Eq. 18 followed. MERRILL SHIVENDARA MEDALIAH v. RAYKHA AMI PHILLAI (1918) I L.R. 41 Mad. 859

14 ——— Oral agreement to grant a lease—Time for payment of premium left open—Whether delay is bar in the suit—Time of the commencement of the lease not specified—Whether the agreement is complete—Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s. 9 whether a bar to proof of the time of the commencement of the lease—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s. 110. The plaintiffs brought a suit for specific performance of an agreement to grant a permanent lease made orally on the 30th December 1903. The period within which the premium was payable was left open. The premium of Rs. 400 was paid on the day following the agreement but though subsequently the plaintiff tendered the balance the defendant declined to execute the lease. It was contended that the agreement was not complete as the time of the commencement of the lease was not specified and that delay in the payment of the premium was a bar to the suit. Held that in view of s. 110 of the Transfer of Property Act the agreement was complete although the time of the commencement of the lease was not specified. Held that the although delay on the part of a plaintiff in the performance of his part of the contract would be a bar to his claim for specific performance provided that time was originally of the essence of the contract or had been made so by subsequent notice or that the delay had been so great as to be evidence of abandonment of the contract. In the present case was not covered by either of the first two alternatives nor had the delay been so great as to be evidence of abandonment of the contract. The plaintiffs were entitled to succeed on proof that they indicated their willingness to perform the condition precedent with a reasonable time. Where there is an oral agreement to grant a lease = 92 of the Indian Evidence Act does not stand in the way of proof that there has been an agreement by implication or inferable from the circumstances as to the time of the commencement of the lease. The Statute of Frauds has no application to this country. JAI LASH CHANDRA BHOWMIK v. BEJOY KANTO LAHRI (1915) 23 C W N 190

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

15 — Agreement to sell in favour of a member (since deceased) of a joint Hindu family personally.—Death of plaintiff—Applied to by widow to be substituted for her deceased husband—Legal representative of deceased Hindu wife (in the absence of male heirs) represents him in a suit for specific performance of a personal contract made with him notwithstanding the fact that the deceased was a member of a joint Hindu family. JAI BALI v. BALDEO SINGH (1919) I L R 41 All 515

16 — Claim for possession.—In a suit for specific performance of a contract for the sale of land it is open to the plaintiff to join with his prayer for specific performance a claim for delivery of possession unless the contract expressly disempowers him to such relief. The cause of action for delivery of possession may arise both upon the contract and the completed conveyance. If the plaintiff in such a suit omitted to ask for delivery of possession a subsequent suit to obtain delivery of possession might be barred under the provisions of O 11 r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. But the Court will decree a claim for a conveyance only in cases where it embodies the substantial part of the agreement and where the Court can direct its execution without regard to the question whether or not its provisions can be specifically enforced. DEONANDAN PRASAD SINGH v. JANKI SINGH 5 Pat L J 314

17 — Unregistered Sale deed whether can be regarded as an agreement to sell.—Suit by wife for specific performance, whether maintainable. Where a sale deed purporting to be a conveyance of some lands was executed and delivered to the vendee but was not registered and the omission was not due to act of God or fraud on the part of the executant it is not open to the vendor to treat the unregistered document as an agreement to sell and to use for specific performance of such agreement. Venkatasami v. Krs. Sanyal (1893) I L R 18 Mad 311 followed. Surendra Nath Tag Chowdhury v. Gopal Chander Ghosh (1910) 12 C L J 464 distinguished from THAYARANATH v. LAKSHMINATHAL (1900) I L R 43 Mad 822

18 — Agreement by which defendant has benefited. It was not defence to a suit for specific performance of an agreement under which the defendant took benefit to say that the plaintiff had failed to perform an undertaking given by him in reference to the agreement. RAVI HAMANTO KUMARI v. THE MIDHAPUR ZEMINDARY CO. 24 C W N 177

19 — Unregistered bairagatras for grant of lease.—Registration Act. An unregistered bairagatra for grant of a patta lease acknowledged receipt of part of the consideration money and contained a promise to grant a patta lease again from the date of the bairagatra and to Exchange patta and Khabulyat before the 30th

SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE—contd

Aghran. Held that the bairagatra did not affect a present demise and should be regarded as an agreement creating a right to obtain a patta lease on the performance of certain conditions on or before the 30th Aghran. The document was not an agreement to lease and therefore did not require registration and so was admissible in evidence. HARIYATH BAIKOPADHYAYA v. PRO. MOTHO NATH ROY CHOWDHURY 25 C W N 551

20 — of agreement to grant a lease. Specific performance of an agreement to grant a lease cannot be decreed unless that agreement either expressly or impliedly fixes the date from which the terms is to run. SRIMATI GIRIBALLA DAS v. KALIDAS BHUNJA 25 C W N 320

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

See INCOME TAX ACT (VII OF 1918)

s 51 I L R 44 Mad 718

See NOTICE I L R 40 Bom 401

Applicability of to Sonthal Pargana. The Sonthal Parganas Settlement Regulation 1872 read with the Sonthal Parganas Act 1855 merely means that in suits exceeding Rs 1000 in value those laws will apply to the Sonthal Parganas which are proprio vigore in force in the whole of India. The Specific Relief Act 1877 is not proprio vigore in force in the whole of India and therefore it does not apply to the Scheduled Districts by virtue of s 11 of the Sonthal Parganas Regulation 1872. Declaratory reliefs cannot be granted in a suit instituted in a Court in the Sonthal Parganas. KUMAR SATYA NARAYAN CHAKRAVARTY v. DWARKA NATH SADRU 2 Pat L J 379

Suit to recover possession of land previously dealt with under a 145 Criminal Procedure Code. Per RICHARDSON J.—When a Magistrate's order is attacked in a collateral proceeding as ultra vires it should be shown to have been without jurisdiction in the strict sense of the term and not in the loose sense in which that term is sometimes used in proceedings for the revision of orders under a 145 Criminal Procedure Code under the High Court's powers of superintendence under s 15 of the Charter Act (now s 107 of the Government of India Act of 1915). When an enquiry has been properly entered upon it is not every error which makes the result invalid. Before want of jurisdiction can be established in such a case a vice must be clearly established which infects the whole proceeding. EM. MAHAMUD SHAH v. HEYAT MAHAMUD SHAH (1917) 22 C W N 342

s 2—

See COURT FEE I L R 39 Calc 704

s 3—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 40

I L R 40 Bom 498

s 11 illus (g) 12 27—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 61

I L R 41 Bom 438

s 8 9—Suit for ejectment based on title.—Court not competent in such a suit to grant a decree on the basis merely of previous title and fails to establish his title

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd

ss 8 9—contd

granted a decree for possession under the first paragraph of s 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Ram Harakh Rai v Sheodihal Joti 1 L R 15 All 384 and Mousi v Kashi All Weekly Notes (1897) 115 overruled. Ramasami Chetti v Paraman Chetti 1 L R 25 Mad 448 followed. Wayid Ali v Ram Saran All Weekly Notes (1884) 39 and Chuthan Rai v Sheo Ghulam Rai All Weekly Notes (1889) 89 referred to. LACHMAN v SHAMBIH NARAIN (1910) 1 L R 33 All 174

■ 9—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE—

■ 11 1 L R 39 All 717
O L I R 23 2 Pat L J 61

See POSSESSORY SUIT

1 L R 45 Cal 519

1 — Decree against landlord for khas possession—Ouster of tenants in execution—Tenant's remedy—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1882) s 332 Where in execution of a decree for khas possession obtained against the landlord the plaintiffs who were tenants were dispossessed Held that the plaintiffs were not dispossessed otherwise than in due course of law within the meaning of s 9 of the Specific Relief Act. KAMINI SUNDARI DASSIA v SAREE SREIKH (1900) 14 C W N 403

2 — Possessory suits dismissed—Application by plaintiff for revision rejected When the plaintiff's suit under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 was dismissed the High Court declined to interfere in revision upon the ground that it was open to the plaintiff to take another remedy and bring a regular suit on title. Juala v Ganga Prasad 1 L R 30 All 331 followed. RAM KISHEN DAS v JAI KISHEN DAS (1911) 1 L R 33 All 647

3 — Tenants dis possession of v dispossession of landlord—Physical possession if must be proved Tenants settled by the plaintiff being dispossessed by the defendant relinquished the land to the plaintiff Held that the plaintiff was in the circumstances entitled to sue under s 9 Specific Relief Act. Bindubashini v Jahnavi 13 C W N 303 Jagannatha v Rama 1 L R 28 Mad 238 relied on. Tarini Mohun v Gunga Prasad 1 L R 14 Cal 649 Sonolan Shome v Sheikh Helim 6 C W N 616 distinguished. NOBIN DAS v KAILASH CHANDRA DEX (1910) 15 C W N 294

4 — Dispossession in execution of decree obtained against third party in due course of law Where the burgadars of a tenant were dispossessed from their land in execution of a decree against the tenant to which the burgadars were not parties and which was obtained upon a false admission by the tenant himself Held that the dispossession was in due course of law within the meaning of s 9 of the Specific Relief Act. HARIY CHANDRA PAJ v MADAN MOHAN BANJ KHVA (1911) 15 C W N 958

5 — Dis possession—Ouster of tenant if dispossession of landlord The ouster of a tenant is an ouster of the landlord for which the landlord can sue under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Bindubashini Chaudhuran v Jahnavi 13 C W N 303 Bindubashini Chaudhuran v Janaki Chaudhuran 1 C W N 307

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd

s 9—contd

Janaki Nath Roy v Dinamon Chaudhuran 13 C W N 305 Shyama Churn v Mahomed Ali 13 C W N 835 Abin Chunder Das v Koylakh Chunder Das 12 C L J 483 followed. Sonolan Shome v Sheikh Helim 6 C W N 616 not followed. AKHIL CHANDRA DEX v AKHIL CHANDRA BISWAS (1911) 15 C W N 715

6 — Thicca tenant's ejectment of—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 115—Jurisdiction—Error of law Where in a suit brought within 6 months from the date of dis possession under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act to recover lands from which the plaintiff was dis possessed by the end 1318 B S the Munsif found that the plaintiff was in possession of the lands for the year 1318 B S, as thicca tenant or tenant at will but holding that the said thicca right ceased after 1318 dismissed the plaintiff's suit Held that the tenant was entitled to a decree for possession of those lands Held also that the Munsif's decision was a refusal to exercise jurisdiction vested in him and the High Court could interfere under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. RAMROYAL SHAMANTA v UPENDRANATH SHAMANTA (1914) 17 C W N 501

7 — Decree stayed pending suit for confirmation of possession—Once as in suit for ejectment Where a decree in a suit under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act is stayed pending a suit by the defendant for declaration of his title and confirmation of possession Held that the plaintiff in the latter suit must affirmatively prove his right to present possession. MONOHAR PAL v ANANTA MOYEE DASSIA (1913) 17 C W N 802

8 — Possessory title—Suit for recovery of possession—Plaintiff in actual possession without title ousted by defendant having no title at all Held that the purchasers of a house and site in a village who had actually held possession for some years but who had otherwise no title were entitled to succeed in a suit for recovery of possession as against persons who had in fact ousted them but could show no title at all to the possession of the house or site. Wah Ahmad Khan v Ayudhia Kundu 1 L R 13 All 537 and Lachman v Shambhu Narain 1 L R 33 All 274 referred to. UNRAO SINGH v PAMJI DAS (1913) 1 L R 38 All 51

9 — Adhar status of—If tenant or labourer—Possession as adhar if protected under s 9—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 115 Very largely on proof that an adhar in that part of the country was a labourer the decision of the lower Court protecting his possession under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act was not one which the High Court would reverse under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. DEX NATH DAS BARNAGI v PAM SUNDAR BARNAGI (1915) 19 C W N 1205

10 — Partition of joint possession—Suit by co-sharer The rule of joint possession—Suit by co-sharer The words of s 9 of the Specific Relief Act refer to exclusive possession and the Court in a suit under that section has no jurisdiction to grant joint possession to the plaintiff No order under this section can be made in favour of the plaintiff who claims an undivided share in the property from which he and his co-sharers have been ousted HABI NAMA DASS v SHEIKH NAJU (1912)

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s. 9—contd

19 C W N 120

11 — Joint ownership

— Co-owner dispossessed by other co-owners if may sue Where a co-owner in physical possession of property jointly with other co-owners is dispossessed by the latter he can institute a suit for recovery under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act
Hari Varan Das v Elemen Bibi 19 C L J 117
 s.c. 19 C W N 190 distinguished ATIMAN BIRI v SHEIKH REASUR (1915) 19 C W N 1117

12 — Suit for recovery of possession of immovable property—Construction of plaintiff—Suit framed as a suit on title but also referring to s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act 1877—Profruct In a suit for recovery of possession of immovable property from which the plaintiff alleged that his sub-tenants had been ejected by the defendants the plaintiff claimed (i) a declaration of his title to and possession of the land in suit (ii) damages for disposssession and (iii) costs. In the body of the plaint it was mentioned that the suit was under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 and therefore the full Court fees had not been paid. At the hearing the plaint was amended by striking out the claim for a declaration of title but the claim for damages was retained. Held on a construction of the plaint that the suit was in substance a suit for possession based on title and should have been tried as such notwithstanding the reference in the plaint to s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Azir Ahmed v Abid Ali 8 A L J 210 referred to NARAIN DAS v HET SINGH (1918)

I L R 40 All 637

13 — Suit of lien after property attached under Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893) s. 146 Where following upon the dispossession by defendant of the plaintiff an order for attachment was made under s. 146 Criminal Procedure Code in a proceeding in respect of the same property under s. 145 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that the plaintiff after this has no right to relief under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. AZIMUDDIN AHMED v ALAUDDIN BEHNA (1917) 22 C W N 931

14 — Possessory suit—

Decree given for land and crops thereon—Crops removed before execution—Subsequent suit for price of crops—Defendants not competent to raise question of plaintiff's title to the land The plaintiff brought a suit under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act for the possession of certain land with crops standing thereon and obtained a decree. Before however he could obtain possession of the land the defendants cut and removed the crops. The plaintiff then brought the present suit for recovery of the value of the crops. The defendants denied his title to the land. Held that the defendants could not by cutting and removing the crops annul the effect of the possessory decree and have the question of the plaintiff's title to the land decided in that suit. MUNYA SINGH v ACHAN SINGH (1918) I L R 41 All 108

s. 9 42—Temple lands possession of—Trustee of temple—Wrongful dismiseal and dispossession by co-trustees—Suit for declaration invalidity of dismiseal and injunction—Consequential relief—No claim to recover possession—Suit

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*ss 9 42—contd

so framed not maintainable—Landlord—Possession by receipt of rent—Dispossession—Interest capable of delivery and possession When A the trustee of a temple who had been ousted from possession by his co-trustees sued for a declaration that his dismiseal from the trusteeship was invalid and for an injunction restraining his co-trustees and the temple committee from interfering with the exercise of his rights as trustee there being no prayer for consequential relief in the nature of possession against his co-trustees. Held that the suit was not maintainable. That the suit was brought by a trustee is no answer to the objection. That possession should have been sued for and not a mere declaration. An injunction is a discretionary relief and cannot be claimed by a plaintiff out of possession when he does not ask for possession against defendants who are actually in possession. Kunj Bihari v Keshavlal Hirralal I L R 23 Bom 567 dissented from Jagadindra Nath Poy v Hemanta Kumari Deb I L R 32 Cal 129 referred to. Held further that notwithstanding the lands belonging to the temple were in the physical possession of tenants yet the plaintiff's right to receive rents was capable of possession which if disturbed entitled him to bring a suit for possession under s. 9. Specific Relief Act. Jagan Nath Chetty v Pama Rayer I L R 28 Mad 238 followed. Abdul Kadir v Mahomed I L R 15 Mad 10 followed. Narayana v Shankunni I L R 15 Mad 255 followed. RATHNABABA PATEL PHILLAI RAMASAMI AITAN (1910) I L R 33 Mad 452

s. 11—

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY

I L R 39 Mad 1

s. 12—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s. 54

I L R 41 Bom 438

— Suit for delivery of cattle

— Specific performance of the contract or compensation—Alternative reliefs—Non maintainability of the suit—Art 15 second schedule Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887)—Substantial justice—S. 25 Provincial Small Cause Courts Act The mortgagors entered into a contract with their mortgagees whereby in consideration of the latter making an endorsement on the back of the mortgage bond crediting Rs. 215 to the mortgagor's account the mortgagors agreed to deliver to the mortgagees certain heads of cattle. The mortgagees performed their part of the contract and then sued the mortgagors in the Small Cause Court for delivery of the cattle promised and in the alternative for damages. The Court having dismissed the suit as being a suit for specific performance of a contract and thus beyond its competence as a Small Cause Court. Held that under s. 12 of the Specific Relief Act no suit for specific performance would lie as unless there was something remarkable about the cattle it was obvious that adequate compensation for the breach of the contract could be given in money. Substantial justice was done by the High Court in the exercise of the powers under s. 25 Provincial Small Cause Courts Act by directing that the plaint be amended by striking out the clause demanding specific performance and the suit dealt with solely as a suit for damages occasioned by a breach of the contract. SHARAT MAHTO v AIR (1913) C W N 1020

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 12—contd

Mortgage decree satisfied by judgment debtor—subsequent attachment of decree—Objection by another party to the attachment—Objection rejected—Suit by objector for a declaration judgment-debtor was his beneficiary and that the attachment was invalid—Code of Civil Procedure (1st of 1908) O 111 rr 58 and 63 The judgment debtor satisfied a mortgage decree which had been obtained against him. Subsequently in a money suit against the same judgment debtor, another party attached the decree before judgment. The present plaintiff thereupon objected to the attachment under O 111 s 59 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. The objection was disallowed and the objector instituted the present suit for a declaration that the judgment debtor was his beneficiary and that he was the real beneficiary entitled to the money deposited in court. He also prayed for a declaration that the attachment was invalid. Held that the suit did not offend against the terms of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 and the mere fact that the plaintiff did not ask for recovery of the money was no bar to his obtaining the relief sought. Subsequent to the attachment above referred to the decree was also attached by another party in execution of a money decree against the same judgment debtor. That party was made defendant in the present suit. Held that no claim with regard to this second attachment having been filed under r 58 the present suit under r 63 was not maintainable against the second attaching decree holder. MARI LAL SARDI v THE RANCHI MINISTERIAL OFFICERS URBAN CO-OPERATIVE CREDIT SOCIETY 3 Pat L J 182

■ 14 to 17—Contract entered into by person on his behalf and on behalf of minors—Form of decree in suit for specific performance of such contract when contract found not to be binding on minors Where a contract of sale entered into by a person on his own behalf and on behalf of minors is found not binding on the minors no decree for specific performance can be passed against the interest of such minors in the properties. ■ 14 to 16 of the Specific Relief Act do not enable such contract to be separated as regards the adult person who entered into the contract and s 17 of the Act precludes the passing of a decree against the share of such party alone or a decree for the whole against such person. The purchaser in such a case will be entitled on offering to pay the whole purchase money to a decree directing the adult party to convey all his interest in the properties. PORAKA SUBBARANI REDDY v VADLAMUDI SESHACHALAM CHETTY (1909) I L R 33 Mad 359

s 15—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 33 Mad 1187

Contract by managing member of joint Hindu family under circumstances not binding on the other members—Right to specific performance—Hindu Law Where the managing member of a joint Hindu family consisting of himself and his sons some of whom were minors entered into a contract to sell family lands to the plaintiff under such circumstances that the contract was held not binding on the sons. Held in a suit for specific performance against both the father and the sons composing the joint family that under s 15 of the Specific Relief Act the plaintiff was not entitled to a decree even against the father. ■ 15 applies to a case where a member of an undivided family agrees to sell part of the joint property in which he has only a share and the circumstance that an undivided father has an interest in every portion of the undivided property does not take the case out of the operation of the section. Kosuri Ramaraju v Ivalury Ramalingam I L R 36 Mad 74 and Srinivas Reddi v Suvarama Reddi I L R 32 Mad 370 not followed. Poraka Subbarani Reddy v Vadlamudi Seshachalam Chetty I L R 33 Mad 359. Corinda Vaschen v Apathahaya Iyer Mad W 181 and Barrett v Ling 2 Sm d Giff 43 s.c. 60 L R 291 referred to. MAJIAN v KATARAMA SASTRULU (1912) I L R 37 Mad 357

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 15—contd

■ 15 and 17—

Sale by managing member—Sale of family property not for necessity—Suit for specific performance—Specific performance of entire contract whether can be granted—Option of purchase for specific performance as regards share of vendor on date of contract on payment of full consideration—Such share to be specified in decree The managing member of a joint Hindu family who for purposes not binding upon the other coparceners and without their concurrence agrees to convey a specific item of joint family property cannot perform his contract in its entirety and the case falls within the provisions of s 16 of the Specific Relief Act. The purchaser in such a case cannot enforce specific performance of the entire contract. But Courts will grant specific performance by a conveyance of the share which the vendor had in the property at the date of the contract if the purchaser elects to pay the entire consideration and the share should be specified in the decree. Kosuri Ramaraju v Ivalury Ramalingam (1903) I L R 26 Mad 74 and Ramalingam (1903) I L R 26 Mad 74 and Srinivas Reddi v Suvarama Reddi (1909) I L R 32 Mad 370 dissented from. Poraka Subbarani Reddy v Vadlamudi Seshachalam Chetty (1910) I L R 33 Mad 359 and Agathi Venkataratnam Sastrulu (1913) I L R 37 Mad 387 approved. BALUSWAMI AITAN v LAKSHMINA AITAN (1911) I L R 44 Mad (FB) 605

Contract by one co-owner to sell property belonging to him in common with another—Not enforceable—Delay effect of Where one of two divided brothers of a Hindu family agreed to sell immovable property held by them in common and a suit was brought for specific performance of the contract by compelling the vendor to execute a deed of sale in respect of the whole of the property agreed to be sold. Held that nonspecific performance could be granted. ■ the execution of a sale deed by the defendant would be ineffectual in respect of the moiety not belonging to him. The Court would not lend its sanction to a transaction devoid of legal effect and improper in itself as calculated to throw a cloud on the title of a third person which would give him a cause of action for a declaratory suit. Poraka Subbarani Reddy v Vadlamudi Seshachalam Chetty I L R 33 Mad 359 referred to. Kosuri Ramaraju v Ivalury Ramalingam I L R 26 Mad 74. Srinivas Reddi v Suvarama Reddi I L R 32 Mad 370 and Barrett v Ling 2 Sm

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd

ss. 15 and 17—contd

§ C 43 sc 65 L P 294 distinguished ■
 17 of the Specific Relief Act prohibits the Court from directing specific performance of a part of a contract except in accordance with the preceding sections. Even in a case falling within s 15 the relief by way of a decree for part performance is discretionary and will not be granted where there has been great delay and a consequent change of circumstances. GOVINDA NAICKER v APATSAHAYA IYER (1912)

I L R 37 Mad 403

s 18—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s
 3254 I L R 36 Bom 510

21—

See ARBITRATION
 I L R 46 Cal 1041

See COMPROMISE DECREE

14 C W N 451

Arbitration—Reference to arbitration pleaded in bar of suit—Effect of reference having become unenforceable before suit. Held that an agreement to refer to arbitration which has not been acted upon and which has become from lapse of time unenforceable cannot be set up as a bar to a suit respecting matters which had been included in the agreement. Atma Ras v Sheobaran Ras All Weekly Notes (1887) 53. Tahal v Bishehar I L R 8 All 67 and Adhibas v Gureandas Nathu I L R 11 Bom 199. RAM KUMAR SINGH v JAG MOHAN SINGH (1910)

I L R 33 All 815

Partners agreement
 amongst to refer disputes to arbitration—Withdrawal of one without cause from arbitration—Suit to recover a share in debt realised by the other partner of his. Where a person has agreed with another that all matters in controversy between them should be referred to arbitration it is not open to that person to renege from the agreement unless for good and sufficient cause. A dispute between partners whose business has come to an end regarding the division of assets can only be finally settled in a proper suit for dissolution of partnership and for adjustment of accounts and it is not proper that each of the parties should proceed by separate suits in order to recover from the other any sums due to the partnership business which he alone may have realised. Where on the termination of a partnership business the partners agreed to refer all matters in dispute between them relating to the partnership to arbitration and then one of the partners withdrew from the arbitration without sufficient cause and instituted a suit in the Small Cause Court to recover a half share of a partnership debt realised by the other partner. Held that the debt in suit being one of the matters which the plaintiff had contracted to refer to arbitration s 21 Specific Relief Act was a bar to the continuance of the suit. That the suit was not maintainable at all. RAM CHANDRA PAI v KRISHNA LAL PAI (1912)

17 C W N 351

Agreement to arbitrate—
 Suit when demand and refusal not proved of by itself a refusal to arbitrate—Implied refusal. Where two days after concluding an agreement to refer their disputes to arbitration one of the parties instituted a suit and it was urged in defence that

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd

s 21—contd

the suit was barred by s 21 of the Specific Relief Act but there was no allegation in the written statement that the plaintiff refused to perform the contract to refer to arbitration nor was any evidence given to prove such a refusal. Held per FLITCHER J—That the filing of the suit was not a refusal within the meaning of s 21 of the Specific Relief Act. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J—Neither demand nor refusal need be express and both may be implied. That the institution of the suit in circumstances which showed that plaintiff was determined not to go to arbitration amounted to a refusal to perform the contract to arbitrate. DINABADHU JANA v DURGA PRASAD JANA (1918)

22 C W N 362

s 21 (b) 54

See TRUST I L N 41 Cal 19

s 22—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

I L R 41 Cal 852

Contract for sale of land in lieu of hushing up of departmental enquiry against a public servant if enforceable—Court of equity jurisdiction of to refuse specific performance of contract not void or void under the Indian Contract Act. In a suit for specific performance of a contract for sale of land it appeared that in consequence of a charge being laid at the instance of the plaintiffs against one of the defendants who was the record keeper of the Court of the District Judge a departmental enquiry into the matter by a Subordinate Judge was ordered and while this was in progress the two defendants who were father and son were approached by the plaintiffs who promised to hush up the said enquiry if the defendants would execute a conveyance in their favour in respect of certain land and the result was the contract in suit. Held that the contract was one of which specific performance ought not to be ordered. That there may be cases which cannot be brought within the four corners of any of the provisions of the Indian Contract Act as to the invalidity or voidability of agreements but in which nevertheless a Court of equity may properly refuse to exercise its jurisdiction under the Specific Relief Act. GORINDA CHANDRA CHACKERBUTTY v NANDA KUMAR DAS (1914)

18 C W N 689

Specific performance
 suit for—Sale not completed in time through vendor's non-performance of essential term within time assigned—Vendor if may sell property to another after expiry of time—Delay—Hardship brought on by vendor—Subsequent purchaser with notice making improvement of entitled to compensation. Where a vendor agreed to satisfy the purchaser within a specified time that she had a valid saleable interest in the property by showing a copy of the order of the Collector about the registration or her name in respect of the property the will of her mother and other papers relating thereto but neither the will (which had been filed in Court for probate) nor a certified copy thereof was shown but the vendor produced a compromise petition between the parties to the probate proceeding. Held in the circumstances of the case that it was impossible to hold that the production of the will was a non-essential term of the agreement and non-completion of the sale was not due to the default of the purchaser who had refused

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd

s 22—contd

accept the compromise petition in lieu of the will or a certified copy thereof Where property which had been agreed to be sold to plaintiff was sold to defendant on 30th August the conveyance being registered on the following day and the plaintiff sued for specific performance on the 5th November on the re opening of the Civil Courts which was closed for the Pujya holidays from 2nd October to 3rd November Held, there was not such a delay in instituting the suit as would justify the Court in refusing specific performance Specific performance will be refused against a vendor on the ground of hardship as contemplated in s 22 (?) of the Specific Relief Act where the vendor has entered into the contract without full knowledge of the circumstances Where a transferee of property buys with notice of a prior agreement to sell it to another and makes improvements in the property without inquiry of the latter Held that in a suit by the latter for specific performance he was not entitled to be reimbursed for the costs of the improvements HARADHON DEDYATH v BHAGABATI DASI (1014) 19 C W N 89

s 23—

See CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 344
I L R 38 Mad 753

s 24—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L R 43 Cal 990

s 27—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) O I R 3

I L R 40 Mad 365

See HINDU LAW JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY
I L R 44 Bom 967

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L R 40 Cal 565

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (I OF 1882) s 54 I L R 39 Mad 462

Sale by unregistered deed

—Subsequent sale by registered deed—Suit by first vendee for registration of deed and for declaration that the subsequent transaction was void The first defendant sold the property in suit to the plaintiff by an unregistered sale deed and subsequently sold the same property to the second defendant by a registered sale deed plaintiff sued both the defendants The reliefs claimed were (1) that the first defendant should be directed to register the first sale deed and (2), that the transaction between the first and second defendants should be declared null and void and possession of the property given to the plaintiff During the pendency of the suit the plaintiff and the first defendant entered into a compromise as a result of which a fresh deed of sale was executed by the first defendant in favour of the plaintiff and registered The suit was contested by the second defendant and was eventually dismissed by the lower Courts Held that the suit as framed was a suit for specific performance of the contract Held further that the first sale to the plaintiff was a transaction affecting property and that therefore the unregistered sale deed was not admissible in evidence MADHUR BAH v THAG SAH 1 Pat L J 455

Transferee for value from lessor with constructive notice of agreement for renewal

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd

s 27—contd

in favour of lessee—Constructive notice—Possession of tenant notice of covenants—Specific performance Occupation of property by a tenant ordinarily affects one who would take a transfer of that property with notice of that tenant's rights and if he chooses to make no enquiry of the tenant he cannot claim to be transferee without notice Where on 17 06 during the currency of a jalkar lease for seven years executed by the owners in favour of the defendants on 23 11 01 the plaintiffs took a settlement of the jalkar from the lessor for a term of seven years from 1 08 on payment of a sum of Rs 600 and on the expiry of the defendants term sued them for recovery of possession of the jalkar Held that an agreement for renewal of their lease upon certain conditions made between the defendants and their lessors on 13 01 was specifically enforceable by them against the plaintiffs who claimed title under the lessors and were affected with notice of the agreement of 1 01 That plaintiffs could not consequently recover BABURAM BAO v MOHADEB CHANDRA PALLAY (1013) 18 C W N 341

Sale—Suit for specific performance of a contract to sell defendants being vendees under a registered sale deed—Priority—Registration Act (VII of 1908) s 50 The owners of a village which had already been sold at an auction sale in execution of a decree agreed to sell it to the plaintiff provided that the auction sale should be set aside The auction sale was set aside but subsequently the village was sold by means of a registered sale deed to a third party Held on a suit by the plaintiff for specific performance of the contract to sell to him that the defendants vendees registered sale deed did not take priority over the contract in his favour and that it lay on the defendants to rebut the evidence given by the plaintiff that their purchase were the defendants at the time of the contract in favour of the plaintiff NAUBAT RAI v DHANUVAL SINGH (1010) I L R 38 All 184

s 29—Agreement of sale—Specific performance—Alternative relief—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O III r 7

Where in an agreement of sale it was stipulated that if the transaction fell through for default of the vendors (defendants) the vendees (plaintiffs) would be free to enforce specific performance at law and would be entitled to be credited with interest on his deposit from the date on which it was made but if it fell through owing to the vendors default then the latter would be entitled to the refund of the bare deposit without interest and the vendors would be at liberty to dispose of the property in any other way they might choose and the Court below refused a decree for the refund of the deposit and gave a decree for the refund of the deposit with interest though the plaintiff (vendee) did not ask for any such alternative relief Held that the Court below was in the main right as it did not necessarily follow from the dismissal of a suit for specific performance that an order for the refund of any part payment of the purchase money should also be denied Ibrahimbhai v Fletcher I L R 21 Bom 827 Alokesh Das v Hara Chand Dast I L R 24 Cal 897 Arima Bibi v Udit Narain Misra I L R 31 All 68 Hou v Smith v, CA D 89 referred to The vendee could notwith

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s. 29—contd

standing that his suit for specific performance has been dismissed and no matter on what ground it failed have brought a suit for the recovery of his deposit Parangodan Vair v Perumodula Illot Chata I L R 97 Mad 380 referred to Held further that the Subordinate Judge was right in refusing to relegate the parties to fresh litigation as there could have been but one result of another suit on the contract Hove v Smith 9, Ch D 89 referred to RAGHU NATH SAHAI v CHANDRA PRATAP SINGH (1912) 17 C W N 100

s. 30—Specific performance—Award—

Suit to recover money payable under an award—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 113 116 120—Limitation By the terms of an award it was provided inter alia that the defendants should pay to the plaintiff the sum of Rs 30 on or before the 27th of June 1901 and in default of such payment the plaintiff could recover from the defendants Rs 30 with interest at 12 per cent per annum Held that a suit to recover on default of payment by the stipulated date the sum abovesaid with interest was not a suit for specific performance of a contract and as such governed by Art 113 of the First Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 but was governed by either Art 116 or Art 190 Sulho Bibi v Ram Sukh Das I L R 5 All 263 Raghubar Dyal v Madan Mohan Lal I L R 16 All 3 Sheo Narain v Beni Madho I L R 21 All 235 Sornarolls Ammal v Muthayya Sastirgal I L R 93 Mad 553 Talewar Singh v Bahori Singh I L R 96 All 497 and Bijahari Saha Banilya v Behary Lal Basal I L R 33 Cal 881 KULDEB DUBEY v MANABU DUBE (1911) I L R 34 All 43

s. 31—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 90

I L R 39 Mad 792

In order to justify rectification of a contract or other instrument in writing there must be proof of a common intention different from the expressed intention and a common mistaken supposition that the intention was rightly expressed in the instrument. It matters not by whom the actual error was made. Notice to a purchaser by his title papers in a transaction will not be notice to him in an independent subsequent transaction in which the instruments containing the recitals are not necessary to his title BIRJA KRISHNA ROY v PRIYA PRATA BOSE 26 C W N 38 ss 34 and 41—Minors mortgage in favour of—Whether minor entitled to compensation—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 41 and 47—Suit for sale of riyat holding maintaining ability of—Res judicata—Dictum in previous suit effect of A mortgage executed in favour of a minor who has advanced the whole of the loan to secure which the mortgage was executed is not void and can be enforced against the mortgagor. But even assuming it to be void s 41 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 could be applied so as to grant compensation to the minor Held in a suit on a mortgage of a riyat holding in Manbhumi that the plaintiff was entitled to a mortgage decree and that the lower Courts were wrong in holding that the provisions of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act 1908 which was not extended to Manbhumi until 1909 operated before that date to prevent the plaintiff

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*ss 34 and 41—contd

from obtaining anything but a money decree D the mortgagee a agent received from the mortgagor the interest due on the bond for 1912 and refused to deliver to the mortgagee either the bond or the interest received by him. The plaintiff thereupon instituted a suit against D and the mortgagee claiming from D the interest received by him and delivery of the bond with an alternative prayer that if it should be found that D and the mortgagor were colluding then the whole amount covered by the bond should be adjudged to the plaintiffs. The first Court passed a money decree against both defendants. In an appeal by D the High Court dealt only with the first part of the plaintiff's claim and made a decree for the delivery up of the bond by D and payment by him of the interest received. With reference to the alternative claim the High Court observed that after obtaining possession of the bond it would be open to the plaintiffs to proceed against the mortgagor for enforcing their security but in the judgment there was a dictum to the effect that as the plaintiffs were minors the mortgage would be void. In a subsequent suit on the bond by the plaintiffs the mortgagor pleaded that the dictum of the High Court operated as res judicata. Held that the dictum did not operate as res judicata MATHAB KOERI v BAIKUNTHA HARMARUP

4 Pat L J 682

s. 35—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 42 B & D 243

s. 36—

See BRIGADARI AND HARWADARI TENURE ACT (BOV V OF 1802) s 3

I L R 39 Bom 358

s. 39—

See COMPROMISE

1 Pat L J 48

Court fees—Suit for avoidance of registered deed of gift—Court fees Act (I of 1870) 7 (4) (c)—Consequential relief In a suit for avoidance of a registered deed of gift the Court is bound if the suit is decided in plaintiff's favour to send a copy of its decree to the officer in whose office the instrument has been registered. The forwarding of the decree is a consequential relief upon which the plaintiff must pay an ad valorem court fee MUSSAMMAT MOOWOODAR OJAIB v SHIDHAR JHA 3 Pat L J 184

Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 57—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 100 O 11 r 6—Suit to set aside a sale-deed—Specific allegations of coercion made in the plaint—Allegations disbelieved—Different kind of coercion held probable on other circumstances and doubts—Finding not seen adum allegata et probata—Substantial error in procedure—Ground for setting aside a sale might otherwise be a conclusion of fact. Plaintiff sued the defendant to set aside a sale-deed on the ground of coercion of a particular kind under s 39 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877). Both the lower Courts disbelieved the allegations of coercion made in the plaint but granted relief to the plaintiff on the ground that on a consideration of other circumstances the plaintiff must have been deceitfully decoyed into going quietly and privately to the defendant's wardap (open shed) and there through fear of possible violence made to sign the document. On second appeal by the defendant

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 39—contd

Held reversing the decree and dismissing the suit that a suspicion of some kind or other undue coercion was not sufficient to support the plea of coercion the plea being not causum allegata et probata Volte Lal Opudhya v Jaggurnath Gurg & B I P C 2a Leshenchun der Singh v Shamachurn Bhutto 11 Moo 1 A 7 and Balaji v Gangadhar 1 L I 32 Bom 255 referred to Per HAYWARD J—Where fraud or coercion are alleged detailed particulars must be given in the pleadings and parties must be strictly confined to that state of facts. Where particulars of coercion alleged are wholly rejected and evidence disbelieved and a vague and different kind of coercion is held to have been probable on other circumstances and doubts there is a substantial error in procedure resulting in a finding not secundum allegata et probata and not sustainable in law Per BEAMAN J—A plaintiff who comes to Court alleging fraud or coercion in respect of which the law requires him to give particulars and he being disbelieved upon every material one of them cannot be given relief. When a finding is absolutely unsupported by any evidence at all that is a ground for setting aside what might otherwise be a conclusion of fact. When the Court has found a case required to be made by the plaintiff not proved and has found another case unsupported in its most essential point by any evidence at all proved and so substituted the latter for the former, there is a substantial error in procedure under s 100 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) PURUSHOTAM DASI v PANDURAY CHINTAMAN (1914) 1 L R 39 Bom 149

Conveyance executed by accused in consideration of complainant withdrawing prosecution for non-compoundable offence—Suit to set aside such sale deed if lies—Arises in pari delicto if entitled to declaratory relief—Court's discretion under s 39 The rule of law in England with regard to illegal contracts is that a Court of Law will not aid persons in enforcing the performance of an illegal contract or assist them to recover back property which they have given away under such an illegal contract when the persons and parties to the contract are themselves pari delicto in procuring this illegality. The Courts of equity in England have always refused to afford equitable relief in enforcing a contract void in law or restoring property which is based on an illegal contract where the illegality is apparent on the face of the document itself. The principle on which Courts of law and equity have refused to restore property given away under an illegal agreement is equally applicable when the relief prayed for is by way of a declaration after the party seeking such relief has secured to himself the benefit of the agreement. S 39 of the Specific Relief Act in allowing relief to be granted in a proper and fit case even when a contract out of which the right springs is void leaves it entirely in the discretion of the Court to exercise the jurisdiction so conferred upon it. Where L B's agent having purchased property B alleged that it was purchased by L as B's trustee whilst L claimed to have purchased it in his own right and the dispute culminated in civil actions brought by the parties against each other and in B instituting criminal proceedings against L under ss 408-477 of the Indian Penal Code but at the instance of arbitrators appointed by mutual consent the disputes were settled and B withdrew the criminal and other proceedings against L and in consideration thereof I inter alia executed a sale deed of the property purchased by him. Held in a suit by L to have the conveyance declared void and the sale set aside and cancelled that the whole of the contract was illegal as it was not possible to sever the legal from the illegal part. That there being no evidence that there was any undue influence, fraud or duress or that the plaintiff took a more innocent part in the illegal compromise than the defendant the Court would not grant relief under s 39 of the Specific Relief Act. BYNDESHARI PRASAD v LEXKHAR SANKU (1916)

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 39—contd

20 C W N 780

Mortgage-deed executed and registered—Suit by mortgagor for cancellation on the sole ground of non-payment of consideration—Suit whether maintainable—Contract and deed & conveyance distinction between—Mortgage whether void or voidable Where a mortgage-deed has been executed and registered a suit by the mortgagor for the cancellation of the deed on the mere ground that the consideration for the mortgage has not been paid is not maintainable. When the matter has passed from the state of contract to that of an executed conveyance mere non-payment of consideration will not render the transaction void or voidable within the terms of s 39 of the Specific Relief Act. Basa Lingappa v Virupannappa 5 Bom L R 39 and Rashik Lal v Puri Narain 1 L R 34 All 0 v referred to ABDUL HASHEM SANKU v KHADIR BATCHA SANKU (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 20

39 40 43—Suit for declaration that an endorsement on a document was fraudulently obtained—Consequential relief not asked for—Held that a suit for the cancellation of an endorsement fraudulently obtained on a mortgage deed is maintainable inasmuch as it is a suit of the nature indicated by s 39 of the Specific Relief Act. The endorsement fraudulently obtained is by itself a document and is similar to the several parts of a document indicated in s 40 of the said Act. To such a suit s 42 of the Act does not apply. RAM CHANDAR v GANQA SARIN (1916) 1 L R 111 All 103

ss 39 42—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XLI p 2. 1 L R 34 All 140

s 41—

See s 34

4 Pat L J 682

Minor—Representation made as major—Estoppel—Sale-deed suit set aside—Restoration of consideration money The plaintiff sued to obtain a declaration that the sale-deed passed by her to her deceased husband's brother was not valid as having been executed during her minority and to recover possession of the property. The defendant contended that the plaintiff was estopped because she represented herself as being a major when she must have known that she was a minor. On these pleadings question that she was a minor (1) whether the plaintiff was estopped arising (2) whether the representation made by her on account of the representation made by her and (2) whether under s 41 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 the Court should have directed the plaintiff to restore the consideration money. Held that the plaintiff was not estopped there being evidence that the defendant was not deceived by what she told him inasmuch as he had made enquiries about plaintiff's age from the plaintiff's father and from other sources and beyond that was himself the brother of her deceased husband and therefore a fair presumption arose that he must have known what the plaintiff's age was (?) that there was no equity in favour of the defendant to direct the plaintiff to restore the consideration money. GERUSHIDSWAMI v PARANA (1919) I L W 44 Bom 175

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd— s 41—contd

— s 42—

See s 12 3 Pat L J 182

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 9

I L R 37 All 313

1 Pat L J 381

O II R 2 I L R 118 Mad 1162

O VI R 22 I L R 34 All 140

See COURT FEE I L R 39 Calc 704

I L R 40 Calc 245

I L R 44 Calc 352

See DECLARATORY DECREE SUIT FOR

I L R 43 Calc 694

I L R 45 Calc 510

See ELECTION I L R 41 Calc 384

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

2 Pat L J 481

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 43 Mad 4

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 41 All 492

See MADRAS VILLAGE COURT ACT (I OF

1889) s 24 I L R 39 Mad 808

See MINOR I L R 35 All 487

See MUNICIPAL LAW

L R 43 I A 243

See PEVAL ASSESSMENT

I L R 37 Mad 298

See PROFIT A PRENDRE

2 Pat L J 323

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

3 Pat L J 71

Brother of a lunatic suing in respect of property purchased with income of lunatic's property—

See ADMISSION I L R 1 Lah 137

Illustration (c)—

See DECLARATORY DECREE

I L R 45 Calc 510

1 ————— Mahomedan Law—Waqf

—Right of Mahomedans entitled to use such property to sue for a declaration that property is waqf. The plaintiffs Mahomedan residents in the city of Kanauj sued for a declaration that a certain edgah and the land adjoining it situated in a village in pargana Kanauj was waqf property. Held that as Mahomedans who had a right to use the edgah they were entitled to use and that no special permission was required to enable them to do so. Zafaryab Ali v Bakhtwar Singh I L R 5 All 497 and Jawahra v Akbar Husain I L R 7 All 173 followed. Wajid Ali Shah v Dhanatullah Beg I L R 8 All 31 distinguished. MUHAMMAD ALAM v AKBAR HUSAIN (1910) I L R 32 All 631

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd— s 42—contd

2 ————— Civil Procedure

Code (Act III of 1859) s 10—15 and 16 Vic c 36 s 50—Sue by plaintiff for mere declaration that the minor defendant was not his son—Investigation of claim without delay. A Talukdar plaintiff brought a suit for a declaration that defendant 2 a minor was not his son and that he was not born to the plaintiff's wife defendant 1 and for an injunction restraining defendant 1 from proclaiming to the world that defendant 2 was plaintiff's son and from claiming maintenance for him as such son. The defendants contended that the suit was not maintainable under the provisions of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) and that it was premature. Held that the suit was maintainable it being within the provisions of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877). Held further that in the interests of justice it was of the highest importance that such claims should be investigated and decided without unnecessary delay and when the controversy had on been brought to trial the decision should ordinarily follow the usual course. 100 v. Ewing Jr Rep I Ch 434 distinguished. BAI SHRI VAKTUBA v THAKOR AGAR KOTHI RAI SINGHJI (1910) I L R 24 Bom 678

3 ————— Rent decrees ob tained by defendant against plaintiffs tenants if amounts to dispossession—Throwing cloud on title—Declaratory suit proper remedy. Where the plaintiff sued for declaration of title to certain lands alleging that the same were in possession of his tenant but that the defendant had thrown a cloud of his title by recovering rent decrees against some of the tenants. Held that the plaintiff could not in this suit ask for any further relief than a mere declaration of title and was proceeding in the right manner in suing for declaration of the title only. Loke Nath Surma v Keshab Pam Doss I L R 13 Calc 147. Chinnammal v Paradravulu I L R 16 Mad 307. Armal Chandra v Mahomed Ali I L R 6 Calc 11 relied on. SATISH CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA v SATYA CHANDRA BHATTACHARYA (1910) 14 C W N 526

4 ————— Suit for enforcement of abstract right—Cause of action. Yashwanthi of 1839 (Succession Certificate Act) s 2. A Hindu widow applied for a succession certificate to enable her to collect the debts of her deceased husband consisting mainly of a sum of Rs 1000 fixed deposit with a bank. Held that the certificate was refused by the bank on the ground that the applicant was not the legal heir of the deceased. Held that the applicant was entitled to the certificate and that the bank was liable to pay the sum of Rs 1000. Held that the suit was maintainable. Yashwanthi v Bank of India (1910) 14 C W N 526

5 ————— Declaration will be given. In Yashwanthi v Bank of India (1910) 14 C W N 526

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 42—contd

maintainable by reason of the proviso to s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) it must be shown that the defendant was in possession and that as against him the plaintiff could have obtained an order for delivery of possession. VALATHALA PILLAI v PERUMAL PILLAI (1913) 1 L R 36 Mad 62

6

Hindu

Law

Reversioner—Suit for declaration of title—Cause of action—Will made by Hindu widow in possession—Limitation D a separated Hindu and his son A died in 1891 on the same day the father dying first & son S A died a week later leaving his mother H and his grandmother M. The property was then recorded in the names of M and H but M got possession and in 1904 executed a will in favour of her daughter S. The reversioners of D brought a suit in 1908 for a declaration that the will would have no effect on their reversionary right & set up her right to the property ignoring that of H. Held that even during the lifetime of H the plaintiffs were entitled to institute a suit for a declaration only under the provisions of s 42 Specific Relief Act. Held further that the suit was not barred by limitation. Mutation of names in M's favour was more or less an equivocal act and might possibly have given a cause of action but when in 1908 M specifically declared that the heir to the property was S and S herself asserted her title the plaintiffs acquired a cause of action sufficient to entitle them to sue. SHYRABAI v JANIAS PANDR (1911) 1 L R 33 All 430

7

Declaratory decree

when should be made and when refused—Consequential relief injunctions s 42 of the Specific Act does not sanction every form of declaration but only declaration that the plaintiff is entitled to any legal character or to any right as to any property. Courts in this country should see that plaintiffs which pray for declaratory decrees only conform to the terms of s 42 Specific Relief Act. An injunction is a consequential relief. The limit imposed by s 42 of the Specific Relief Act is on decrees which are merely declaratory and does not expressly extend to decrees in which relief is administered and declarations are embodied as introductory to that relief. For such declarations legislative sanction is not required as they rest on long established practice. But for all that the Court should be circumspect and even chary as to the declarations it makes. It is ordinarily enough that relief should be granted without the declaration. DPOKALI KOER v KEDAR NATH (1912) 1 L R 39 Cal 704

16 C W N 538

8

Fabrication of authority to adopt by widow does not justify suit by reversioner for declaring the authority not genuine. The mere fabrication of an authority to adopt by the widow will not entitle the reversioner to claim a declaration under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act that the authority is not genuine. SREEPADA VENKATARAMANNA v SREEPADA PANALAPPA MAMMA (1912) 1 L R 35 Mad 592

9

Joint Hindu family

—Widow alleged to be in possession of part of the joint property under a family agreement—Suit for declaration of rights of other members of the family. Under a deed of compromise the name of the widow of a member of a joint Hindu family was entered in the place of that of her husband and she was put in possession of the property that stood in his name. On an application being made for partition of one of the villas the widow also applied for partition of the share which stood in her name. The plaintiffs objected on the ground that she was not entitled to partition and they were referred to the Civil Court to have their rights established. They then sued for a declaration that the deceased died while living jointly with them else that the widow was not in possession as the heir of the deceased and that she was not entitled to obtain partition. S 42 of the Specific Relief Act was set up in defence. Held that in as much as the possession of the defendant was clearly admitted and the real dispute between the parties was one of the nature of the possession of the widow. s 42 of the Specific Relief Act did not lay a suit for declaration of title. PANMADEATH SINGH v DILSAJI KHANWAR (1913) 1 L R 36 All 196

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 42—contd

10

Suit for declaration of title—Waste land—Plaintiff out of possession. Held that the fact that land was waste land and therefore of no immediate practical use was no bar to the application of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act where the plaintiff being admittedly out of possession, claimed only a declaration of his title. Pamanuja v Devarayala 1 L R 8 Mad 361 distinguished. IHWARI SINGH v NARAYAN DAT (1914) 1 L R 36 All 312

11

Assent from tenant if may we landlord for recognition of his tenant rights and declaration of incidents of tenancy—Landlord and tenant. The Court has power to pass a declaratory decree in a suit by a signee of a lease against the landlord to have it declared that the lease is a permanent heritable and transferable one that the rent was fixed in perpetuity and that the landlord was bound to recognize the plaintiff as tenant of the leasehold. The law laid down in earlier rulings to the contrary has been modified by s 42 of the Specific Relief Act. MOHAMMAD GHOSR v EQUITABLE COAL COMPANY LTD (1913) 18 C W N 596

12

Declaratory suit

under if maintainable where property not in possession of defendants and plaintiff cannot ask for ejectment. Where the property is not in possession of the defendants and the plaintiff cannot ask for ejectment as against them a declaratory suit is maintainable under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act. Subramanyam v Paramanathan 1 L R 11 Mad 116 and Malayappa v Perumal 21 Mad 1 J 1022 followed. PANESWAR MOXDAL v PROVABATI DEBI (1914) 19 C W N 313

13

Suit for declaration of title—Property involved in possession of Court of Wards for person entitled thereto—Parties to suit. On the death of a maharaja the right of succession to whose estate was disputed the Court of Wards took possession of the estate and declined to hand it over until some one should establish his right to the maharajahship. Held in a suit for a declaration of his title to the maharajahship brought by a claimant thereto (i) that the Court of Wards was not a necessary party and (ii) that this did not offend against the provisions of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act. Goswami Ranchor

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 42—contd

*Loh v Sri Chandrasekhar I I P 40 All 10 distinguished JACANNATH CIR v TIPONNA NAD
(1911) I L R 37 All 185*

14 ———— *Declaration suit for—Legal character or right to property meaning of —Facts under a contract declaration as to if main-tainable—S 42 not exhaustive—Ordinary rule—Exception—Kuri subscriber to—Ignorance from subscriber—Right of if continue payment—Suit for declaration by if maintainable S 42 of the Specific Relief Act does not contemplate a suit for a declaration that a valid personal contract subsists between the plaintiff and the defendant as it is not a suit for a declaration of title to a legal character on a right to property S 42 of the Specific Relief Act is not intended to be exhaustive as regards the circumstances under which declaratory suits can be maintained *Robert Fischer v The Secretary of State for India I L R
27 Mad 210* referred to *Aristaya v Kasiyati
I L R 29 Mad 55* referred to But a declaratory relief will not be given in respect of rights arising out of a contract which would affect only the pecuniary relationship between the parties to the contract unless there are exceptional circumstances in a case to take it out of the ordinary rule Where the plaintiff who was the purchaser of the rights of the second defendant who was a subscriber to a half ticket in a kurn started by the first defendant as its proprietor sued the latter for a declaration that he was not a defaulter and was entitled to continue to pay the subscriptions to the kurn Held that the suit for declaration was not maintainable *RAMAKRISHNA v NARAYANA
(1914) I L R 39 Mad 80

11 ———— *Right to play music in public street—Whether the declaration of right can be claimed as a right—Civil Court The plaintiffs trustees of a Hindu temple brought a suit for a declaration under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 that they were entitled to play music while going in procession past a Mahomedan mosque situated in a public street Held that the plaintiffs were not entitled to have the right to play music in a public street claimed and declared as a right Per HEATON J—The right to use a street as a thoroughfare is a right which a Court might properly declare but the right to pass along a street playing music is not a right which the Courts ought to recognise in that sense *PER KATESU APPASHEE v ABDUL KADIR (1918)
I L R 42 Bom 438

10 ———— *Declaratory decree —Trespasser in possession of property which a Hindu widow was entitled—Execution of will by trespasser—Suit by reversionary heirs for declaration of their rights and to set aside will On the death of the widow of a separated Hindu in possession as such widow of her husband a property the daughter of one of her sons who had both predeceased the husband took possession of the property to the exclusion of her two daughters While so in possession of the property the sons daughter executed a will bequeathing the property as if it were her own Held on suit by persons alleging themselves to be the reversionary heirs for a declaration that the sons daughter had acquired no adverse or proprietary right to the property and had no right to make a will in*

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 42—contd

respect thereof that no such declaration could be granted *Umrao Kunwar v Badri I L R 37
All 4 and Jaspal Kunwar v Indir Bahadur Singh I I P 46 All 1938* referred to GANGA v KANHAI LAL (1918) I L R 41 All 154

17 ———— *Hindu Law—S 42 by a Hindu for a declaration that a will alleged to have been executed by another member of the family giving his widow power to adopt is forged—Maintainability of A member of a Hindu family can maintain a suit under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act for a declaration that a will alleged to have been executed by another member of the family giving his widow power to adopt is a forgery
Bobba Palmanabhadra v Bobba Buelamma 35 M L J 141 followed *Sreepadam Venkatarammanna
v Sreepadam Ramalakshammamma I L R 35 Mad 559* not followed *SURAYYA v ANAPURNAMMA
(1910) I L R 42 Mad 699

18 ———— *Suit by a reversioner of Hindu for a declaration that another is not reversioner maintainability of—Order striking out defendant as party under O 1 r 10 (2) Civil Procedure Code and dismissing suit—Appeal from order maintainability of Though under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act a Court can in its discretion grant relief by way of declaration it is a settled rule of practice not to grant such relief where the only question for decision is which of two persons (plaintiff or defendant) is the nearest reversioner or whether the defendant is a reversioner at all to the estate of a deceased Hindu Saudagar Singh v Pardip Narayan Singh I L R 45 Cal 510 referred to An order in a suit striking out from the array of parties a defendant as an unnecessary party and dismissing the suit against him is in effect a decree and is appealable as such *PAMA RAO v THE RAJA OF PITTAPUR
(1918) I L R 42 Mad. 219

19 ———— *Person entitled to a legal character divorced wife if—Mother if can sue for declaration of legitimacy of child The plaintiff sued her late husband for a declaration under s 42 Specific Relief Act for a declaration as to her marriage and the legitimacy of four children The lower Court found that the plantiff had been divorced some 20 years ago and refused the declaration about marriage but decreed it as to the legitimacy of the eldest of the children who it was found was born shortly after the divorce Held that the plaintiff who ceased to have the legal character of a wife 20 years ago was not entitled to ask the Court to make a declaration as to her marriage for there was no legal character in having been a wife and then divorced That the decree of the lower Court as to the legitimacy of one of the children could not stand for the mother of a child cannot be said to have a legal character as to whether her child who is not a party to the suit is or is not legitimate *LATIFAH MEAN v MOORTI JAYONA (1918)
23 C W N 171

20 ———— *Trespasser suit for declaration by The essence of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 is a title vesting in the plaintiff No suit will lie at the instance of a trespasser for a declaration that he is a trespasser
*SESS LAL SINGH v HALDHAR NARAYAN
1 Pat L J 95

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 42—contd

21 ————— Where through clumsy blundering the plaintiff who have asked for a decree for pre-emption prayed only for a declaration of their right to pre-empt the suit as so framed was not maintainable under s 42 of the Act but the lower Court was right in permitting the plaintiff in the suit to be amended although a fresh suit on the same cause of action would at the time have been barred by limitation the plaintiff's object having undoubtedly been to pre-empt the land so that the cause of action was one and the same whether they sued for possession or not CHANDAN DAS v AMIN KHAN (1920 P C)

25 C W N 269

22 ————— Suit for declaration of right to a certain share of joint family property maintainability of A joint Hindu family of which the parties to the suit were members owned undivided shares in several villages in which there were many co-sharers not connected with the family. The plaintiffs severed themselves from the joint family and a dispute arose as to the extent of their share in the family property. Held that under the circumstances the plaintiffs were entitled to a declaration as to the extent of their share in the family property the provisions of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act notwithstanding ASMAK SINGH v TOLST SINGH

2 Pat L J 221

23 ————— Temple property—Permanent lease—Invalidity of lease—Suit for declaration by worshippers—Maintainability of suit Worshippers of a temple can maintain a suit for a declaration that a permanent lease of temple property granted to the defendants in possession is invalid VEERAMACHANENI RAMASWAMY v SOMA PITCHAYYA (1920) I L R 43 Mad 410

24 ————— Suit for declaration of title to property after it was attached under s 146 Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1903)—Effect of Magistrate's attachment on the question of possession—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 23 and Arts 120 and 142 period of limitation applicable to the case Plaintiff was dispossessed from some lands by the defendant in April 1904 and in June 1904 the lands were attached under s 146 Cr P Code owing to disputes between the parties Plaintiff brought the present suit for recovery of possession in May 1916 The lower Courts held that plaintiff had title but that the suit was barred by limitation Held that the suit though framed as a suit for possession cannot be treated as such because the possession was not with the defendant but with the Magistrate who was not and could not be a party to the suit The article therefore applicable to the suit was Art 120 of the Limitation Act and not Art 142 The position of the Magistrate was that of a stakeholder and during the continuance of the attachment the property was in legal custody which must be held to be for the benefit of the true owner i.e. the plaintiff And the possession of the Magistrate being in law the possession of the true owner the defendant's possession was determined upon the Magistrate's taking possession under the attachment in other words the plaintiff must be taken to have been restored to possession constructively on the date of the attachment He therefore got a fresh starting point for purposes of limitation and the case can be treated as one of continuing wrong within the meaning of s 23 of the Limitation Act The suit was therefore not barred by limitation LATTA LAL BISWAS v PANCHU RUI DA

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s 42—concld

26 C W N 432

25 ————— Held that although the words legal character in s 42 of the Specific Relief Act have been held to be wide enough to include the right of franchise and also a right of being elected as a Municipal Commissioner it was doubtful whether regard being had to the form of the suit and the declaration asked for in this case the case came within the words of the section CHANDAN MUNICIPALITY v KORTUCC v BISSESWAR GHOSH

26 C W N 91

26 ————— Declaratory suit by a mortgagee for declaration of the right of mortgagee I died leaving a widow and two sons and a will by which he appointed his widow as his executrix The two sons mortgaged the property to S and the widow the executrix sold the property under mortgage to P P brought a suit for construction of G's will and for a declaration that the rights of the sons had not been affected by the will and that the widow had no right of property Held that the plaintiff must first of all establish his right as mortgagee and until that is done he has no cause of action for maintaining a suit for a declaration of the title of his mortgagors The plaintiff should not at the appellate stage be allowed to amend the plaint to raise the question of his right as mortgagee as that would involve taking of fresh evidence and a trial de novo SRISH CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v SH GOLAP MOH DAST

25 C W N 552

ss 42 and 54—

See MAHABRAHMAN I L R 43 All 150

s 43—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 11 I L R 44 Mad 778

s 45—

See DESIGN I L R 45 Cal 606

See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 48 Cal 916

See MUNICIPAL CORPORATION I L R 40 Cal 636

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION I L R 39 Cal 593 754

I L R 45 Cal 950

I L P 48 Cal 119

See UNIVERSITY LECTURESHIP I L R 41 Cal 516

ence—High Courts power of interference

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (X OF 1919)—

ss 3 15 SCH I I L R 45 Bom 1064

ss 6 (I) (a) and (b) SCH II CL I I L R 45 Bom 891

1 ————— General principle under lying interference by High Court—Municipal election petition—Jurisdiction and discretion of

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s. 45—contd

Chief Judge of Small Causes Court—City of Bombay Municipal Act (Act III of 1888 as amended by Bom Act I of 1905) s. 33 (1) & 31. A Municipal election petition having been lodged with the Chief Judge of the Small Causes Court the latter rejected two of the successful candidates and found cause of objection against the candidate in whose favour were recorded the next highest number of valid votes after those returned as elected. He declined to inquire further into the claims of any other candidate or to declare any other candidate elected as on his interpretation of s. 33 (2) of the Bombay Municipal Act (Bom Act III of 1888 as amended by Bom Act V of 1905) he was not able to do so. The two highest of the other unsuccessful candidates thereupon obtained rules against the Chief Judge under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) to show cause why he should not proceed to declare them elected under s. 30 (2) above mentioned. Held that the case fell within the general principle referred to in Ex parte Milner (1851) 15 Jur 1037 that where an inferior tribunal improperly refused to enter upon a complaint a mandamus would issue. S 33 having been held to empower the Chief Judge to set aside the election of any number of candidates returned as elected there was nothing repugnant in construing the section as empowering the Chief Judge to fill up any number of vacancies so created from the list of unsuccessful candidates subject to the provisions of the section. It was clearly incumbent on the Chief Judge to deal with the question of filling up both the vacancies. He should accordingly proceed to place the unsuccessful candidates in order of valid votes. The two with the highest number of valid votes against whom no cause of objection was found should be declared to be deemed to be elected. If only one qualified or none qualified proceedings for filling the vacancy or vacancies would have to be taken under s. 34. An application under s. 33 (1) should name the persons whose election is objected to. In the matter of the SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT and In the matter of SARAFALLY MAHOOMI and JAFFER JUSUB (1910)

I L R 31 Bom 659

2 —Where the Magistrate had refused to furnish such copies to a party the High Court under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act ordered the records of the case to be brought up to High Court and kept with the Registrar and allowed liberty to the party to take copies. BEH L MAHOMI BAKSHJI; SAILVEDRA NATH MUKHERJEE (1911) 15 C W N 770

3 —University of Madras—Senate and the Syndicate respective powers of—Regulation 64 of the Madras University Regulations providing for protests to Government ultra vires—Refusal of Syndicate to send protest to Government—Application for an order against Syndicate—Syndicate a public officer—protestor an injured person and by law a law for the time being within s. 45—Other specific and adequate remedy in s. 45 meaning of—Substance and not form of protest and resolution to be looked at. In granting an application for an order under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act filed by a Fellow of the Madras University against the Syndicate thereof for the purpose of compelling the Syndicate to forward to the Government a protest of his under Regulation 64 of the

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—*contd*s. 45—contd

University Regulations against a resolution of the Senate. Held under the Madras University Act of 1857 and the Indian Universities Act of 1904 that the Senate of the Madras University is the legislative and the Syndicate the executive government of the University. The scheme of the Acts in that general rules (called regulations) framed as to matters within the competence of the University are to be made by the Senate in some cases with the sanction of the Government and that the Syndicate's powers are purely executive and limited to the application of those rules to the facts and exigencies of particular cases as they arise. No sanction of Government is required for the Syndicate's application of the general rules made by the Senate and the Syndicate is entitled to make its own standing orders and subject to the Regulations of the University to regulate its business without the sanction of the Senate. The Syndicate can bring forward regulations for adoption by the Senate. Such being the relative powers of these two bodies a power given to the University by s. 3 of the Universities Act VIII of 1904 to appoint University Professors and Lecturers and a specific power given by s. 20 of the Act to the Senate of the University to make regulation subject to the sanction of the Government for the appointment and duties of the University Professors and Lecturers are exercisable only by the Senate and not by the Syndicate. Such a power cannot be included within the administrative or ministerial powers of the Syndicate which it is competent to exercise without the approval of the Senate. A regulation or a proposal brought forward by the Syndicate in respect of such a matter for the approval of the Senate becomes on adoption by the Senate a regulation or a resolution of the Senate itself and as such liable to be submitted for the approval of the Government. Being entitled to make regulations consistent with the Act the Senate has power to make a regulation providing for a protest to Government by a Fellow of the University against any resolution of the Senate in such a matter and if under such a regulation the Syndicate is liable eventually to submit the protest for the consideration and orders of the Government the Syndicate has no power or discretion to refuse to send the protest and the person protesting is on any such refusal entitled to obtain from the High Court an order in the nature of a mandamus compelling the Syndicate to submit the protest to the Government. Held further that the Syndicate of the Madras University is a statutory body of persons holding a public office within the meaning of s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act though no emoluments are attached to that office. Where a statute appoints a body of persons to carry out purposes of public benefit the persons constituting such a body ipso facto become holders of a public office. The person protesting is entitled to the relief sought for as an injured person within the meaning of s. 45 (a) even though there may be others equally entitled to protest in the same matter. The regulation of the Senate providing for the protest being made under the powers given by the statute has the force of law and it is a law for the time being within s. 45 (b). A regulation of the Senate providing for protests to Government in respect of all its resolutions will be ultra vires in respect of those which do not under the Act require the sanction for the Government.

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd— 45—concl

What in fact and substance is a resolution of the Senate amounting to a regulation passed after due notice must be deemed to be so however differently it may have been described. A document which in form and substance is a protest against a resolution is none the less a protest because it contains arguments against the validity of certain incidental matters leading to the passing of the resolution. The word resolution in Regulation 21 means only regulation. Per KUMARASWAMI SASTRI J. The proper course in applying for a mandamus against a statutory body is to take proceedings against the body as such in its official designation and not against each of the individuals composing the body. The fact that an applicant for a mandamus has other remedies is no bar to its issue unless they amount to other specific and adequate remedy which means equally convenient speedy beneficial and effectual remedy.

Other specific and adequate remedy in s. 45 (d) relate to a remedium juris and not a remedy by the act of party. In re G. A. VATESA AND K. N. RAMANATHAN (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 125

— ss 45 46—

See MANDAMUS 1 L R 38 Cal 553

See PLEADERSHIP EXAMINATION

1 L R 40 Cal 588

The petitioner having obtained a decree in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Shahabad for recovery of possession against an infant whose estate was with the Court of Wards applied pending defendant's appeal to the High Court for an order under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act calling upon the Members of the Board to release the estate. Held that the failure to implead the infant whose interest would be affected was fatal to the application. In the matter of KESHO PRASAD SINGH

16 C W N 503

— ss 52 to 56—

See INJUNCTION 1 L R 47 Cal 733

— s 54—

See GAYAWAL 2 Pat L J 705

See MAHA BRAHMANS

1 L R 43 All 159

See TRUST 1 L R 41 Cal 19

— ss 54 to 57 (Chap X)—

See FOOTINGS 1 L P NE Cal 687

— ss 54 56 (e)—

See INJUNCTION 1 L R 37 Cal 731

— s 55—Injunction—Suit by Muham

madans to prevent the Hindu defendants from interfering with the calling of the azan at a mosque by blowing conches etc.—Nuisance explained. In a village occupied by about 600 Hindus and a little over 100 Muhammadans there are 2 mosques one just outside the abadi unconnected with the present case and one inside the abadi erected about 200 years ago. This had fallen out of repair and was repaired within recent years and was then used as a school and for other semi-religious purposes but more recently was used for prayers. The Hindus objected to the calling out of the azan and when it was called out and at the time of subsequent prayer the Hindus blew conches beat drums and created noises and disturbances. The Muham

SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)—contd— 55—concl

madans then brought the present suit for an injunction to restrain the Hindus from interfering with the calling out of the azan and praying in the mosque. It was found as a fact that the object of the defendants in blowing conches was to stop the calling of the azan. Held that the Muham madans had an inherent right to call out the azan from the mosque. Held also that the noises made by the defendants collectively and continuously at the time of calling out the azan for the sole purpose of frustrating the object of the call constituted a nuisance and it was no answer to the suit that the little noise made by each of the defendants personally did not amount to a nuisance. Lambton v Mellish (3 Ch 163) referred to also. Herr on Injunction p 158 and 213. Held further that plaintiffs were entitled to the injunction prayed for because the nuisance caused by the defendants was not a reasonable exercise of their rights and was an infringement of the rule of give and take live and let live. Broder v Sailford (2 Ch D 692) and Christie v Davey (L R 1 Ch 316) referred to. JAWAYD SINGH v MUHAMMAD DAI 1 L R 1 Lah 140

— s 56 (E)—

See INJUNCTION 1 L R 37 Cal 731

— s 56 III (1)—Suit for injunction, if lies against trespasser. A plaintiff who is out of possession should not be allowed to sue the defendant who is alleged to be in possession as a trespasser for an injunction. He ought to sue for recovery of the land. JAHAR LAL BANDHUI v NANDA LAL CHAUDHURI (1913)

18 C W N 545

SPECULATIVE PURCHASER

See CERTIFICATE OF SALE
1 L R 37 Cal 107

SPES SUCCESSIONIS

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
1 L R 10 Bom 224

— transfer of—

See KHOSAS 1 L R 38 Bom 449

SPIRITUAL WELFARE

See HINDU LAW—ALLEGATION
1 L R 43 Cal 574

SPIRITUOUS AND FERMENTED LIQUORS

See EXCISEABLE ARTICLES
1 L R 39 Cal 1053

SPY OR DETECTIVE

See ACCOMPLICE 1 L R 53 Cal 111

SRADH

— offerings to the dead at—

See HINDU LAW—GIFT
14 C W N 1005

STABLES

See NUISANCE 1 L R 40 Bom 401

STAKEHOLDER

— Deposit of money—Valid assignment by depositor to his creditor—Neglect of the creditor to recover—Creditor chargeable with the amount Where money deposited with a

STAKEHOLDER—contd

stakeholder was validly assigned by the depositor to his creditor in satisfaction of his debt and the creditor being able to recover the amount so assigned neglected to do so he was chargeable with the amount. (ANPATRAO BALKRISHNA BHIDE v THE MAHARAJA MADHARAO SINDE (1910) I L R 35 Bom 1)

STAMP

See BENDELKHAND ALIENATION ACT (II OF 1903) I L R 38 All 351

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) —

s 9 I L R 40 Bom 541

* 107 149 O II R 11 CL (c) I L R 38 Bom 41

See EVIDENCE I L R 38 All 494

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) —

Agreement of sale executed on an unstamped paper—Secondary evidence not permissible

See CONTRACT I L R 45 Bom 1170

on a promissory note executed in Hyderabad—

See PROMISSORY NOTE I L R 42 Bom 522

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)

s 2 (5) — Attestation what is—A document written by person other than executant is attested by the writer who did not sign as attesting witness. The attestation referred to in s 2 sub s (a) cl (6) of the Indian Stamp Act means attestation on the face of the instrument. BIDHU PANJAN MAJUMDAR v MANOY SARKAR

26 M W N 585

s 2 (a) arts 15 and 40 of Schedule I Court Fees Act (IV of 1870) Schedule II art 6—Security bond by receiver binding himself and his properties—Proper stamp—Whether liable under Stamp Act and Court Fees Act. A security bond in favour of a Court executed by a receiver binding himself and his properties for the due discharge of his duties must be stamped both under the Court Fees Act and under art 40 of Schedule I of the Stamp Act. Kulwant v Mahabir Prasad (1889) I L R 11 All 16 (F B) and Referred Case No 10 of 1911 followed. AMRITHAMMAL v PAMALINGA GOUNDAY (1900) I L R 43 Mad (F B) 363

s 2 cl (a) (b) s 35 (a)—Shahajogs lands insufficiently stamped and negotiable in evidence—Payment of penalty. The plaintiff sued for recovery of money due on five instruments described as hundis. The documents bore an impressed stamp of 4 annas each were each of them attested by a witness and the money secured thereby was made payable to the respectable holder. Held that the documents in question were neither bills of exchange nor promissory notes but bonds within the meaning of s 2 cl (5) (b) of the Indian Stamp Act and were admissible in evidence on payment of duty and penalty under s 35 (a) of the Indian Stamp Act. KESHAV CHAND SURAYA v ASHARAM MAHATO (1915) 19 C W N 1323

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

s 11 (10) Sch I Art 5 cl (c)—

See HIRE PURCHASE AGREEMENT

I L R 44 Cal 72

s 2 (14) Sch I Art 5—In instrument—Entry in register as to hiring certain machinery attested by thumb marks of hirers—Memorandum of agreement—Stamp. In a book kept by the owner of certain machinery for the manufacture of sugar which purported to be a register of sums payable with respect to the letting out of wooden machines (charhis) and rollers for pressing sugar cane and iron pans for boiling sugarcane juice was an entry to the following effect—Harkesh son of Kunwar and two others residents of mauza Saleem pur hired a sugarcane pressing machine in consideration of a rent of Rs 15 from the plaintiff through his karni (a named) that they would pay the hire in Cash and in default would pay interest at 2 per cent per mensem. Below this entry were the thumbmarks of the persons who hired the machine. Held that this entry amounted to an instrument as defined in s 2 sub s (14) of the Indian Stamp Act 1899 and was a memorandum of agreement within the terms of article 5 (b) of the first schedule to that Act. Mulchand Lala v Anshidull v Bucas I L R 35 Cal 121 referred to. MUKTASADDI LAL v HARKESH (1913) I L R 40 All 11

s 2 (15) Sch I Art 45—

*Final decree effecting partition what is—To make an order chargeable with stamp duty under s 2 (15) of the Stamp Act of 1899 it must effect an actual division of the property. An order declaring the rights of the parties and directing further proceedings for the ascertainment of the specific shares is not such an order. Courts ought not to pass interim orders and direct proceedings in execution for the ascertainment of the specific shares. The final order should be passed after the specific shares have been ascertained. A decree reciting a ra namah made by consent of parties allotting specific properties to the several parties and directing other parties to deliver possession is chargeable with stamp duty under Art 45 of Sch I as a final order effecting partition within s 2 (15). Being made by consent of parties it is also an instrument whereby co owners have agreed to divide property in severalty and falls within the first part of s 2 (15). THIRUVENKATATHANIAN v MUGOLAI (1911) I L R 35 M d 29*

Stamp—Partition—

Final order for effecting a partition. Held that the words "final order" in s 2 cl (15) and Article 45 (c) of sch I to the Indian Stamp Act 1899 referred to the final order of the lowest Court of original jurisdiction empowered to give an order for effecting a partition at the time it is passed. STAMP REFERENCE BY BOARD OF REVENUE (1914) I L R 36 All 137

s 2 (16)—

See s 23 I L R 41 Mad 466

s 2 (17) and Arts 40 and 64—Mortgage deed—Hypothecation letter of accompaniment a bill of exchange. Where a document ran as follows—The executant being desirous of carrying on her deceased husband's business of which she is now the owner declares a trust in favour of the Bank of Madras in respect of machinery plant fixture and furniture and stock in trade in con

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—*contd*s 2 (17) and Arts 40 and 64—contd consideration of advances of money to be made by the Bank from time to time not exceeding in all Rs 450,000 for the purpose of financing the business. All such advances carry interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The trustee has got full power to use, employ, sell or exchange or otherwise deal with the trust property in the ordinary course of business but should make good the property that may be sold with other goods of a similar nature and value. Any goods so substituted shall be included in the security. The trustee may retain in his hands the sum of Rs 20,000 annually in trust to pay and apply the same in payment of sums advanced by the Bank. Held that the document created a trust in express language in respect of the machinery etc. in or upon the business premises of the firm and that the object of the instrument was to give the Bank some rights by way of security and it was a mortgage deed for the purpose of the Stamp Act. Reference under Stamp Act s 46 I L R 11 Mad 216 referred to. Semble. The document is not a letter of hypothecation within the meaning of the exemption in art 40. Obiter. A fiscal enactment should be construed strictly and in favour of the subject. THE SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT ABBARI AND SEPARATE REVENUE PETTY BOARD MADRAS 1352 ONE (1913) I L R 38 Mad 646

s 2 (21) 60 Sch I Art 43 (g)—Stamp—Power of attorney—Document authorizing holder to appear and do all acts necessary for execution of decree. Held that a document purporting to authorize the person in whose favour it was executed who was not a certificated mukhtar or pleader to appear and do all acts necessary for the execution of a decree of a foreign court which had been transferred to a court in the United Provinces for execution required to be stamped as a power of attorney with a one rupee stamp and not as a vakalatnamah or mukhtarnamah. PANDEY AND v SAT PRASAD (1911) I L R 99 All 487

s 2 (23)—32 63 Sirikat—Memorandum of account—Receipt—Several items of over Rs 20 each—Each item to be stamped. Held that a memorandum of account between debtor and creditor which was left in the possession of the debtor and consisted of items entered from time to time of money advanced and repaid was a document which required a separate receipt stamp in respect of each item of over Rs 20. EXPRESS v TULSHI RAM (1913) I L R 35 All 290

s 2 (23) Sch I Art 53

See STAMP DUTY

I L R 37 Cal 629 631

s 2 (24) Sch I Art 7—Instrument declaring trust—Fund composed of two parts—Absence of previous disposition in one part—Settlement—Disposition for charity of the other part—Appointment—Stamp duty. An instrument was required for the purpose of declaring trusts of certain funds devoted to charity. The funds amounted to about Rs 3,00,000 and came to the hands of the trustees from two sources. About Rs 1,00,000 was the result of appeals to various persons and the rest was provided by the executors of the will of one A. H. The instrument declaring the trusts was engrossed on a stamp paper of Rs 15 and a question having arisen as to whether the instrument was properly stamped. Held that so far as the fund of Rs 1,00,000 was concerned there being no previous disposition in writing of any part of it though some of the contributions were accompanied by letters from the donors expressing their wishes with respect to the funds contributed the instrument was a settlement according to the definition in s 2 (4) of the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899) and was chargeable with duty on Rs 1,03,500 at the rate of 5 annas per cent. Held also that so far as the fund of Rs 90,000 was concerned the provisions of the will of A. B. amounted to a disposition for a charitable purpose and the instrument was an appointment chargeable with a duty of Rs 15 under Sch I Art 7 of the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899). In re ABDULLA HAZI DAWOOD BOWLA ORFANAGE (1911) I L R 35 Bom 444

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—*contd*s 2 (24) Sch I Art 7—contd

s 3—

See BUNDKHAND ALLOCATION OF LAND

ACT (II of 1903) s 17

I L R 33 All 351

s 4—

s 4—Settlement of family property effected by two deeds—one modifying the other—Full duty paid on the first. Two brothers having come to an agreement as to the settlement of their joint property embodied this agreement in a deed which was duly stamped according to the value of the property dealt with thereby. Subsequently the parties to this deed executed a second deed of settlement which modified provisions of the first in a certain direction but dealt with no property which was not covered by that deed. Both deeds were contingent on the happening of events which at the time of the execution of the second deed were still future events. Held that the transaction effected by two deeds fell within the purview of s 4 of the Indian Stamp Act 1899 and the full duty having been paid on the first deed the second required a stamp of one rupee only. STAMP REFERENCE at the Board of REVENUE (1914) I L R 37 All 159

2

Stamp—Settlement—Gift of property made by one deed—Agreement to secure expenses of donor entered into by another. Two brothers executed deeds each in favour of the other. One was a deed of gift of all the property of the executant and it was stamped to its full value. The other was a deed coming within no known category but is provided for the expenses during the life time of the executant of the deed of gift and hypothecated certain property to secure the payment thereof. Only a portion of the property thus hypothecated however was included in the deed of gift. The second document bore a stamp of Rs 10. Held that the two documents were part of the same transaction and amounted to a settlement within the meaning of s 4 of the Stamp Act and the stamp duty paid was sufficient. STAMP REFERENCE at the Board of REVENUE (1915) I L R 37 All 264

s 5—

Stamp duty—Lease—Multifarious document—One lease with several parties concurring in it—Stamp Act (II of 1899),

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—*contd*s. 5—contd

ss 5 23 (3) 35 57 (1) The concurrence of several parties to one and the same lease does not make it a multifarious document within the meaning of s 5 of the Stamp Act. The stamp-duty on such a lease is the same as on a conveyance for a consideration equal to the amount or value of the fine or premium for which the lease is granted. In re PARASZA COLLIERTIES LTD (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 629

— Sale—Mortgage for due performance of covenants—Distinct matters meaning of—Stamp payable A sale deed in which the vendor mortgages lands not included in the sale as security for the due performance of his covenants need not be stamped both as a sale and a mortgage. Govindan Vambidiri v Moidin (1918) I L R 41 Mad 469 (F B) overruled. SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT ABRARI AND SEPARATE REVENUE MADRAS (REFERRING OFFICES) (1920) I L R 43 Mad (F B) 365

ss 5 6 36 Sch I Arts 5 43—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 37 Cal 629

— s 12 Sch I Arts 1 5—Stamp—Acknowledgment of a debt—Sarkhat—Stipulation for payment of interest—Agreement—Cancellation of adhesive stamp In support of a claim to recover money lent with interest an acknowledgment or sarkhat was produced which was in the following terms—Sarkhat executed in favour of Shrotri Ram Teh. by Mahadeo Pam borrowed Rs 200 interest rate Re 1 80 per cent per mensem date Baisakh Sudhi 1st Sawwat 1971. At the top of the document was affixed a one anna stamp on which there was only one horizontal line drawn across it. Held that the sarkhat was not merely an acknowledgment of a debt but contained a stipulation to pay interest within the meaning of art 1 of the first schedule to the Indian Stamp Act 1899 and therefore required to be stamped as an agreement under art 5 (c) of the same schedule. Udit Upadhyay v Bhaurani Din I L R 27 All 84 and Dulmha Kunwar v Lakshmi Prasad I L R 28 All 436 distinguished. Laxmibai v Ganesh Rao unath I I L R 5 Bom 373 and Mulchand Lala v Hashibullav Biswas I L R 33 Cal 111 referred to. Held also that a stamp may be effectually cancelled by merely drawing a line across it. S 12 of the Act does not mean that it is necessary to cancel a stamp in such a manner as to make it physically impossible for any dishonest person to make hereafter a fraudulent use of the stamp. Mohammad Amir Mir a Beg v Babu Kedar Nath 15 Oudh Cases 58 referred to. MAHADEO KORI v SHROTRI RAM TEH (1918) I L R 41 All 169

— s 25—Marupat—Counterpart of lease

—Document giving a charge on improvements for arrears of rent—Stamp duty whether payable both as counterpart and as mortgage Where a tenant executed a marupat in favour of a landlord agreeing therein that the arrears of rent if any should be a charge on the improvements that might be made by him. Held that a marupat is the counterpart of a lease or a deed executed by a tenant promising to pay a certain rent and that the document in question must be stamped both as a counterpart and as a mortgage. GOVINDAN NAMBUDIRI v MOIDIN (1917) I L R 41 Mad 469

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd— s 25—contd

— ss 30 and 35—Mining lease—claim for royalty in excess of amount covered by stamp main tenability of The provisions of s 28 of the Stamp Act 1899 are governed by s 35 and therefore a lessee under a mining lease is entitled upon payment of the penalty under the latter section to recover the royalty provided for in the lease even though the amount claimed is in excess of the amount covered by the stamp used in the lease. KUMAR BRAJ MOHAN SINGH v LACHMI NARAIN AGARWALA 5 Pat 11 J 660

— ss 27 III (a)—Execution of document—Not containing statement of facts affecting duty—Stamp Certain property was sold for Rs 20 000 to one R who paid Rs 1 000 in cash and agreed to give the vendors credit for Rs 19 000 to be drawn against as required. Shortly afterwards the parties agreed to rescind the contract and R resold the property to his vendors giving them a conveyance in which the consideration was stated to be Rs 1 000 in cash no mention being made of the extinction of his liability to pay the remaining Rs 19 000. Held on these facts that R had committed an offence within the purview of s 64 (a) of the Indian Stamp Act 1899. EXPERON v RAMESH DAS (1910) I L R 32 All 171

— s 28 (3)—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 37 Cal 629

— s 33 (1)—Impounding of document insufficiently stamped—Conditions necessary for the application of section—Suit for money on hachittas produced in Court in bound volume containing other hachittas—Juri dictio of Court to impound those other hachittas In a suit for recovery of money on a hachittas the plaintiff filed along with the plaint the hachittas which was in a bound volume which contained a large number of hachittas executed by other persons in favour of the plaintiffs. The hachittas on which the suit was brought being found to be insufficiently stamped the Munsif examined the other hachittas and impounded them under s 33 of the Stamp Act finding them to be insufficiently stamped. Held that under s 33 the Munsif had no jurisdiction to impound the hachittas other than the one which formed the basis of the suit. Before action can be taken under sub s 1 of s 33 it must be established that the instrument in question was produced or came before the officer mentioned therein in the performance of his functions and having regard to the stage at which the Munsif took action it could not be said that the hachittas were produced or came before the Munsif in the performance of his functions. SASHI MOHAN SHANAH v KUMUD KUMAR BISWAS (1916) 21 C W N 246

— s 35—

See s 5

I L R 37 Cal 629

See s 26

5 Pat 11 J 660

— Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 91—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 19 cl (3)—Court sale—Discovery that the judgment debtor had no saleable interest—Failure of consideration—Suit by auction-purchaser for possession or return of purchase money—Potions of the judgment-creditor and auction-purchaser—Suit not cognate by Small Causes Court—Unstamped document regarded as non-existent

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

s 35—contd

A Court sale purchaser having discovered that the judgment debtors had no saleable interest in the property sold brought a suit against the judgment creditor for recovery of possession of the property or in the alternative return of the purchase money on the footing of total failure of consideration. A question having arisen as to whether the suit was maintainable Held that the suit was maintainable inasmuch as under the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) there was an implied warranty of some saleable interest when the right title and interest of the judgment debtor was put up for sale and the purchaser's right based on such implied warranty to a return under certain conditions of the purchase money which had been received by the judgment creditor was recognized. The relations of the parties namely the judgment creditor and the Court sale purchaser were also in the nature of contract. Held further that such a suit though the subject matter was less than Rs 100 was not cognizable by a Court of Small Causes there being a prayer for possession of immovable property. An unstamped document being inadmissible in evidence must be taken as non-existent. REXTONJI ARDESHIR IRANI v VINAYAR GANADHAR BHAT (1910) I L R 35 Bom 29 ss 35 36—Sch. I Art 40 Exempt (2)—Bill of exchange written on several pieces of stamp paper if properly stamped—Hypothecation letter of not stamped but registered if admissible in evidence—Power of Appellate Court to question admissibility on the ground of insufficiency of stamp—Document not duly stamped improperly registered if to be therefore rejected—Registration Act (XII of 1908) s 87. A document which was in fact a bill of exchange though it was loosely described as a hundis was properly stamped under r 6 of the Rules of the Governor General in Council when a portion of it appeared to have been written on each of three sheets of stamp paper of the aggregate value required by law. Where a registering officer having examined a document presented to him for registration came rightly or wrongly to the conclusion that being a letter of hypothecation accompanying a bill of exchange it was exempt from duty under Art 40 Exempt (2) of Sch. I of the Stamp Act and accordingly certified on the bill of exchange that it was properly stamped and registered the letter of hypothecation without requiring any further duty to be paid in respect of it. Held that an improper registration in view of s 87 of the Registration Act could not possibly affect the validity of the document. That the Court of first instance having admitted the letter of hypothecation in evidence the High Court was precluded from taking exception to it on the ground of its having been insufficiently stamped by s 36 of the Stamp Act. That it did not lie in the mouth of the representatives of the executant of the letter who was responsible for the proper stamping of the document to plead in a suit to enforce it that the contract was not binding upon him because he had succeeded in defrauding the Revenue authorities. SARADA NATH BHATTACHARJEE v GOVINDA CHANDRA DAS (1919) 13 C W N 534

s 36—

See SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865) s 190
I L R 38 Bom 618

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

s 36—contd

See STAMP DUTY I L R 39 Calc 669

Unstamped acknowledgment accepted as evidence by trial Court if may be rejected on appeal. A statement to the effect as follows Rs 211—balance due followed by the date and the debtor's signature is an acknowledgment and should be stamped as such. But under s 36 of the Stamp Act if such a statement though unstamped has been admitted in evidence by the Court of first instance it cannot be rejected by the Appellate Court. SITARAM v PANA PROSAD RAM (1913) 18 C W N 697

40 5—Instrument certified by Collector to have been duly stamped—Preference by Chief Controlling Revenue Authority to High Court questioning correctness of Collector's decision—Jurisdiction. Held that if a Collector has taken action under s 40 sub s (1) (b) of the Indian Stamp Act 1899 and having received the deficient duty and the penalty imposed has certified under sub s (1) (a) that the instrument before him is duly stamped the effect of sub s (2) is that the jurisdiction of the Chief Controlling Revenue Authority to refer to the High Court under s 57 of the Act the question whether such instrument is in fact sufficiently stamped or not is ousted. Reference under Stamp Act s 57 I L R 95 Mad 5 followed. STAMP PREFERENCE BY BOARD OF REVENUE (1917) I L R 40 All 129

s 52—Partition decree—Court fee stamp erroneously used for non judicial stamp or appeal—decree by filing of non judicial stamp or appeal—The Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 157. The plaintiff in a suit for partition by mistake filed a Court fee instead of a non judicial stamp in order that a decree might be drawn up thereon in accordance with Art 45 of Sch. I of the Stamp Act and the mistake was not discovered till after some of the defendants had preferred an appeal against the decree so drawn up and others had filed cross objections when the plaintiff having applied for execution of the decree the Subordinate Judge dismissed the application holding that there was no valid decree capable of execution. Held on plaintiff's application in the appeal that the High Court could in the exercise of its powers under s 151 of the Civil Procedure Code direct the plaintiff to file a non judicial stamp of the requisite value in the appeal so as to validate the decree with retrospective effect from the date when it was drawn up. Chhayemannassa Bibi v Baisrar Rahaman I L R 37 Calc 399 s c 11 C L J 95 referred to. The High Court in such a case cannot direct the refund by the revenue authorities of the value of the Court fee stamp thus erroneously used. s 5 of the Indian Stamp Act does not cover a case in which Court fee stamp has been erroneously used where non judicial stamp ought to have been used under the provisions of the Act. Preference under s 57 of Act II of 1899 I L R 93 All 213 referred to. SHAIKH FAKRUDDIN v LATIF AHMAD (1910) 14 C W N 1101

s 57—

I L R 37 Calc 699

See s 5
See s 40

I L R 40 All 193

Preference under Act 5
Sch. I—Agreement or memorandum of agreement meaning of—Proposal or offer in writing—Parol

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—*contd*s. 57—contd

acc plance—Whether proposal or offer in writing requires to be stamped—Advance of loan or written declaration by a party as to his property—Entry in register of the declaration—Whether stamp necessary—Where it appeared on the evidence as to course of business of a bank that the bank advanced loans on promissory notes payable on demand or otherwise but before advancing money it required the borrower to make a declaration in the confidential register in the form thereto annexed as to the property in his possession and to sign the same—Held that the entry of the declaration in the register was not an agreement or a memorandum of an agreement which required to be stamped under Art 5 of the sch I of the Indian Stamp Act (II of 1899) Assuming that on the signing of the declaration there was a proposal or an offer a written proposal or a written offer does not become subject to stamp duty by reason of subsequent acceptance which is not in writing Carroll v The Carbolic Smoke Ball Company [189] 2 Q B 488 Clapham v Clarke 3 Ex Rep 403 and Clay v Crofts 9 L J C L 361 followed Quere Whether the entry in the register amounted to a proposal or offer in writing SECRETARY TO THE COMMISSIONER OF SALT AND SEPARATE REVENUE v THE SOUTH INDIAN BANK LD TRINIVELLY (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 349

Reference by Board of Revenue—Document to which reference relates not in existence Held that ss 6 and 7 of the Indian Stamp Act empower the High Court to decide questions relating to instrument already in existence and which have been made the subject of action by the Collector acting under ss 31 40 and 41 of the Act They do not empower the Court to give an opinion upon a deed which may or may not come into existence hereafter STAMP REFERENCE BY THE BOARD OF REVENUE (1914)

I L R 37 All 125

s. 59—Undivided brothers—Instruments whereby co owners divide property in severalty—Release—Partition—Stamp Instruments whereby co owners of any property divide or agree to divide it in severalty are instruments of partition One of three undivided brothers agreed to take from eldest brother the manager of the family as his share in the family property moveable and immoveable a certain cash and bonds for debts due to the family and passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release Subsequently one of the two brothers passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release whereby he and the eldest brother divided the remaining family property by the latter handing over to the former securities for money A question having arisen as to whether for the purpose of stamp duty the said two documents were to be treated as releases or instruments of partition Held that the documents were instruments of partition In re GOVIND PANDURANGA KAMAT (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 75

s. 59 Sch I Art 35 cl (a) sub cl. (iii)—Lease—Lessee agreeing to pay annual rent plus Government a cessment—Whether rent include assessment for purposes of stamp duty A piece of land was leased for five years whereby the lessee agreed to pay to the lessor Rs 100 as rent

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

s. 59 Sch I Art 35 cl (a) Sub-cl

(iii)—contd

plus Rs 16 8 0 on account of Government assessment The question being referred whether the stamp duty should be levied on Rs 100 or Rs 116 8 0 the total amount of rent and Government assessment Held that the Government assessment did not form part of the profit and therefore the stamp duty was leviable only on Rs 100 the annual rent under Sch I Art 35 cl (a) sub cl (iii) of Stamp Act GANGARAM KARAIANDAS TELI In re (1910)

I L R 39 Bom 434

s. 60—

See s. 2

I L R 39 All 487

In order to determine whether a document is attested by a witness within the meaning of the Stamp Act it is permissible to look only at the document itself Other evidence can not be referred to MD SADIK v AMIYA NATH DUTT

2 Pat L J 688

s. 61 (1) Sch I Arts 15 15 (a)

(1)—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 46 Calc 804

s. 61 (b) (c)—Proposal for loan in prescribed form of Bank and approval thereof by Manager if constitutes an agreement which should bear eight annas stamp—Intent to defraud Government A certain local Bank received an application for a loan of Rs 80 in its prescribed form This application contained in the usual column of the form a sort of guarantee of payment by person other than the applicant recommending the granting of the loan on a bond and the Manager of the Bank approved the proposal or the loan and recommended it at a certain rate of interest as to which the Applicant and the guarantor were silent Both the Manager and the Secretary of the Bank were prosecuted and the Manager was convicted under s. 62 (b) and the Secretary under s. 61 (c) of the Stamp Act Held that the statements in the proposal made by the Applicant himself and by the Manager did not represent a completed agreement more particularly with regard to the rate of interest At most they represented merely negotiations intended to lead up to the execution of a bond and the payment thereon of the amount of the loan and the conviction of the Manager under s. 62 (b) of the Stamp Act could not be maintained That the conviction of the Secretary under s. 61 (c) was also not sustainable as no intention to defraud Government was made out RAJESHWAR BAGCHI v KING EMPEROR (1917)

21 W W N 758

Stamp—Award—

Unstamped award signed by parties to submission—Party signing otherwise than as a witness Where certain parties to an arbitration, who had signed the submission to arbitration, also signed the award not as witnesses but under the heading signature of the heirs and the award was not stamped Held that such parties did not fall within the purview of s. 62 cl (1) (b) of the Indian Stamp Act 1899 as persons executing or signing otherwise than as witnesses EMPEROR v BELI PAL SARAN (1910)

I L R 32 All.

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

ss 62 and 63—

See s 2 (23) I L R 35 All 290

s 62, Sch I Art 5—Stamp—Petition to Court intimating compromise of suit—Agreement The parties to a suit came to terms out of Court and presented a joint petition to the Court stating the terms of compromise arrived at and asking that a consent decree might be given in accordance therewith Held that such petition was to be stamped merely as a petition to the Court and did not require to be engrossed on a general stamp EMPEROR v RAM SARAY LAL (1917) I L P 40 All 19

s 62 (b) and Sch I Art 35—Agreement to lease—no rent reserved—whether stamp necessary An agreement for a lease where by no rent is reserved and no premium is paid or money advanced is not included in the schedule to the Stamp Act 1899 and does not require a stamp SUNDER HATER v ARIO EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 366

s 64—

See s 27 I L R 32 All 171

ss 64 (c) 65—

See STAMP DUTY L R 44 Calc 321

s 65—Receipt—Money remitted by postal money order and receipt signed on post office form—Further receipt not exigible from payee Where money is remitted by postal money order and the payee has signed the receipt in duplicate on the post office form he cannot legally be compelled to give a further receipt to the payer and his refusal to do so will not render him liable under s 65 of the Indian Stamp Act 1899 EMPEROR v BALNAKAUND (1911) I L R 34 All 102

Sch I Art 1—

See ACKNOWLEDGMENT I L R 80 Calc 789

Sch I Arts 1 and 5—

See s 12 I L R 41 All 169

Sch I Art 5—

See s 57 I L R 36 Mad 349

See s 62 I L R 40 All 19

See HIRE PURCHASE AGREEMENT I L R 44 Calc 72

Agreement to hire with option of purchase stamp duty on An instrument was executed between the Linotype and Machinery Ltd and the Wind or Press whereby a machine was hired by the latter for a period on condition that the hirer would pay a fixed amount on execution of the deed and another fixed amount by equal monthly instalment with interest and that on payment of the full sum with interest the machine would become the property of the hirer but that until such payment was made the machinery would continue to be on hire Held (on a reference by the Board of Revenue under s 57 of the Stamp Act) that the document in question was an agreement within the meaning of Art 5 cl (c) of Sch I to the Indian Stamp Act and was therefore liable to a stamp duty of eight annas In the matter of LINOTYPE AND MACHINERY LTD (1916) E C W N 1252

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

Sch I Arts 5 and III

See STAMP DUTY I L P 39 Calc 669

Submission to arbitration stamp upon Where certain contract notes in addition to the intimation by the broker of the purchase or sale of the goods contained submissions in writing by the buyer and seller to refer disputes to arbitration signed by the broker as the authorized agent of the parties and, being stamped with a one anna stamp according to a practice recognised by the Court for a long series of years, was held by the Trial Judge to be inadmissible in evidence on the ground that the submission to arbitration was chargeable with an eight anna stamp under Sch I Art 3 of the Indian Stamp Act as an agreement not otherwise provided for the Court of Appeal held that the Court was not prepared to question the practice on the materials before it and that the submission should be treated as duly stamped In the matter of s 11 sub s (2) of the Indian Arbitration Act of 1866 and in the matter of a Petition to Arbitration BAIYNATH v AHMED MUHAMMAD SALEEM (1917) 17 C W N 395

Sch I Art 7—

See s 2 (24) I L R 35 Bom 444

Sch I Art 15

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) s 209 I L R 37 Mad 17

See STAMP DUTY I L R 46 Calc 804

Sch I Art 22, Registration Act (III of 1881) s 17 cl (e)—Trusts Act (II of 1852) s 5—

Composition deed—Compounding of debts and Transfer of immovable property—Registration not necessary With the consent of creditors to the extent of Rs 122,000 out of the total number of creditors claiming Rs 1,61,800 of the family firm represented by one B the latter executed a deed making over all the specified assets of the family to certain nominated trustees The creditors agreed that after all the goods and the properties had been made over to the trustees no other claim whatever with regard to the amounts due to them should remain outstanding against B and the minor members of the family but the whole claim should be understood to be written off against them and B and the minors were to make use of the deed as a release passed on their behalf The deed also provided that the trustees were to manage the properties for the benefit of the creditors interested and the monies realized from time to time were to be distributed among such creditors in proportion to their claims The properties comprised in the deed moveable as well as immovable were transferred to the trustees in due course The deed was unregistered Subsequently in a suit brought by the trustees to recover possession of a house comprised in the deed a question having arisen whether the deed was a composition deed Held that the definition of the term composition deed as given in Art 22 Sch I of the Stamp Act (II of 1899) meant the same thing as the term composition deed in s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) that the term so defined covered three classes of instruments (1) An assignment for the benefit of creditors (2) an agreement whereby payment of a composition or dividend was secured to the creditors and (3) an inspectorship deed for

STAMP ACT (II OF 1899)—contd

Sch I, Art 22—contd
 the purpose of working the debtor's business for the benefit of his creditors—that the inclusion of the term composition deed in s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) showed that it was intended to apply to a transfer of immovable property and not to a mere agreement to take fractional payment of money in settlement of claim—that the effect of a composition deed was that there ought to be a compounding of debts due and that such a deed fell under cl (e) of s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) and did not require registration under that Act nor under the provisions of s 5 of the Transfer Act (II of 1880). Held accordingly that the deed in question was a composition deed within the meaning of s 17 cl 2 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) and did not require registration. CHANDRA HANAR v BAI MAGA (1914)
 I L R 38 Bom 576

Sch I, Art 35—

See s 59 I L R 39 Bom 434

See s 11 1 Pat L J 366

See STAMP DUTY I L R 46 Calc 864

*Immaterial whether it requires stamp—Conviction under s 62 (b) if maintainable—Schedule of Stamp Act is exhaustive. The schedule attached to the Stamp Act must be treated as exhaustive. An agreement for a lease whereby no rent is reserved and no premium paid or money advanced is not included in the schedule and does not require a stamp. Held on a conviction of omission which was for a term of seven years but wherein no rent was fixed that the document did not require stamp and on the conviction of executant of the document under s 62 (b) of the Stamp Act was not aside. SUNDER HUEB v KING EMPEROR (1916)
 20 C W N 923*

Sch I Art 40—

See s 2 (17) I L R 38 Mad 646

See s 50 23 C W V 534

Sch I Art 45—

See 2 (1v) I L R 33 All 137

I L R 35 Mad 26

Sch I Art 48—

See POWER OF ATTORNEY I L R 36 Mad 124

See s 2 (21) I L R 33 All 487

Sch I Art 53—

See STAMP DUTY I L R 37 Calc 629 634

Sch I Art 55—Stamp—Release Partition deed Two persons each of whom claimed the sole right to the property of a deceased relation arrived at a compromise of their respective claims and gave effect thereto by means of two deeds of even date by which deeds each relinquished in favour of the other his (or her) claim to a portion of the estate of the deceased. Held that these deeds were releasees as they were stamp duty under Art 55 of the first schedule to the Indian Stamp Act 1899. Finath S Gowde v Jagannath S Gowde 1 L P 3 Bom 417 and Reference under Stamp Act s 46 I L R 18 Mad 233 referred to. Reference under Stamp Act s 46 I L R 12 Mad 193 distinguished. JIRAN KUTWAR v GOBIND DAS (1915)
 I L R 53 All 56

STAMP DUTYSee ACKNOWLEDGMENT

I L R 39 Calc 789

See ARBITRATION I L R 40 Calc 219

See HIRE PURCHASE AGREEMENT I L R 44 Calc 72

See POWER OF ATTORNEY I L R 33 All 487

See STAMP ACT 1899

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) s 62 (1) (b) I L R 32 All 198

on a proper plaint—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXXIII BR 10 11

I L R 38 All 469

1 — Acknowledgment—Money received by servant of a firm and handed over to fellow servant—Consideration—Acknowledgment of receipt by fellow servant of a sum larger than Rs 10 is liable to stamp duty—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 2 (3) Sch I Art 43 Where a sum exceeding Rs 20 was received by an assistant in a mercantile firm from the cashier of the firm as advance made on the firm's behalf and to be expended on the firm's behalf and previous to disbursement of the sum in question a pay order was made out by the Accounts Department of the firm and was sent to the cashier who had paid the sum to the assistant and the assistant at the same time acknowledged receipt by signing his name or initials on the pay order. Held that the acknowledgment did not require a receipt stamp by reason of the assistant's signature on the pay order. Attorney General v Carlton Bank [1899] 2 Q B 158 distinguished. JARE BERN & Co (1910) I L R 37 Calc 634

2 — Lease—Multifarious Document—One lease with several parties concurring to it—Stamp Act (II of 1899) ss 5 78 (3) 35 57 (1) The concurrence of several parties to one and the same lease does not make it a multifarious document with the meaning of s 5 of the Stamp Act. The stamp duty on such a lease is the same as on a conveyance for consideration equal to the amount or value of the fine or premium for which the lease is granted. In re PARASIA COLLIERIES LTD (1910) I L R 37 Calc 829

3 — Bought and sold notes—Stamp Act (II of 1899) ss 5 6 and 36 Sch I Arts 5 and 43—Arbitration—Admission by arbitrators of document not duly stamped effect of—Bengal Chamber of Commerce Arbitration by—Rules relating to—Umpire omission to nominate effect of—Dis closure of names of arbitrators if contemplated by the rules—Reference provision for appearance of parties on a contract for or relating to the sale of goods comprised in bought and sold note which contain a provision to refer disputes to arbitration is chargeable with a stamp duty of two annas on each broker's note under Art 43 of the Stamp Act and not with a duty of eight annas. An agreement Kyd v Mahomed I L R 15 Mad 150 followed. If a document which is not duly stamped were admitted in evidence by arbitrators on a reference the provisions of s 35 of the Stamp Act would prevent such admission being called into question at any stage of the same suit or proceeding except as provided in s 61 and an application to file the award of the arbitrators would be a stay.

STAMP DUTY—con d

of the same proceeding. The arbitration rules of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce grammatically speaking require an umpire to be nominated before the arbitrators enter upon the reference but the omission to so nominate an umpire would not be a ground for setting aside or varying the award having regard to the provisions of rule VI (c). The arbitration rules of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce (rule V) contemplate that the names of the arbitrators shall not be disclosed to the parties. Chooni Tal v. Madhoram I I 1 36 Calc 355 13 C H A 29, and Hurtwary Mill v. Ahmed Musaji Selaji 13 C H A 63 decided from Rule VI (g) provides that the parties shall not without the express permission of the arbitrator be entitled to appear. The parties have no right to appear or even to ask for such permission. BOMBAY COMPANY LTD v. THE NATIONAL JUTE MILLS CO LTD (1912) 1 L R 39 Calc 669

4 ———— Offences regarding—Mere fact of putting a stamp not of proper value whether an offence—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 64 cl (c) 65—Intention to defraud. In construing cl (c) of s 64 of the Indian Stamp Act the words any other act must be taken to mean an act of a like nature to those which are specified in cl (a) and (b) and the mere fact that a person puts a stamp on a document which he knows to be not of proper value would not come within cl (c) of s 64 unless there is an intention to defraud the Government. Queen Empress v. Somasundaram Chetti 1 L R 23 Mad 15; referred to CHITARNAL CHOPRA v. EMPEROR (1916) 1 L R 44 Calc 321

5 ———— Lease—Monthly tenancy—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 61 (1) and Sch I Arts 15 35 (a) (1). By a letter the defendant agreed to pay Rs 60 per month as rent of certain premises and to pay the said rent at Rs 2 per day to the plaintiff. Held that the tenancy was a monthly tenancy and came within Art 35 cl (a) sub cl (1) of the first Schedule of the Indian Stamp Act and the proper stamp duty was the same duty as for a bond referred to in Art 15 viz eight annas. AMOLIA v. IBRAHIM ISHAQ 1 L R 46 Calc 804

STANDARD OF PROOF

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

1 L R 45 Calc 169

See LIMITATION 1 L R 40 Calc 898

——— Civil and criminal trials—Presumption—English rules. On the question of the standard of proof there is but one rule of evidence which in India applies to both civil and criminal trials and that is contained in the definition of proved and disproved in s 3 of the Evidence Act. The test in each case is would a prudent man after considering the matters before him (which vary with each case) deem the fact in issue proved or disproved? The Court can never be bound by any rule but that which coming from itself dictates a conscientious and prudent exercise of its judgment. (There is a presumption against crime and misconduct and the more heinous and improbable a crime is the greater is the force of the evidence required to overcome such presumption. The English rule in these matters does not as such apply in India. Jarat Kumari Dass v. Biswasur Dutt 1 L P 39 Calc 245 explained WESTON AND OTHERS v. PEARY MOHAN DASS (1912) 1 L R 40 Calc 898

STANDARD RENT

——— Additional charge for supplying light—

See RENT (WAR RESTRICTION NO 2) ACT (BOM ACT VII OF 1918) s 7 (1)
1 L R 45 Bom 188

STANDING COMMITTEE

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III OF 1901) 1 L R 38 Mad 41

STANI

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sch I Art 124 1 L R 41 Mad 4

——— Karnavan becoming a—

See MALABAR TAPWAD 1 L R 39 Mad 918

STAPLE FOOD PRICE OF

——— how ascertained—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT 1 L R 37 Calc 742

STARE DECISIS

——— Principle of —

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879 s 216 1 L R 45 Bom 1960

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING 1 L R 48 Calc 164
24 C W N 816

STATEMENT

——— from a complainant not a confession—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 164 1 L R 39 Mad 97

STATEMENT IN WRITING BY ACCUSED

——— admissibility of—

See CONFESSION 1 L R 37 Calc 795

STATEMENT ON INFORMATION AND BELIEF

See CONTEMPT OF COURT 1 L R 41 Calc 173

See POLICE DIARIES AND REPORTS

STATUS OF TENANT

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 5 102B
1 L R 45 Calc 805

STATUTE LAW IN ENGLAND

——— apportionment under—

See LESSOR AND LESSOR 1 L R 38 Mad 86

STATUTES

——— II Geo IV and I Will IV c 68—

See COMMON CARRIERS 1 L R 33 Calc 28
15 C W N 226

——— I & II Geo V cap LXI—

——— s 107—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 115
1 L R 39 All 254

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1879) s 36 1 L R 40 All 153

STATUTES—contd

11 & 12 Vict c 21—

See INDIAN INDEMNITY ACT

21 & 22 Vict c 106 ss 39 40

41 42

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 754

15 C W N 475

24 & 25 Vict c 104—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT 11

I L R 38 Calc 230

15 C W N 87

Power of Crown to appoint a sixth Puisne Judge—Criminal Procedure Code s 41—Appeal from acquittal—Procedure Held on a construction of ss 1 and 2 of Letters Patent of the High Court for the North Western Provinces that it was competent to the Crown to appoint by means of its Letters Patent a sixth Puisne Judge to the said High Court Held also following the decision of Queen Empress v Prag Dal I L R 90 All 45, that in the Code of Criminal Procedure there is no apparent distinction between the right of appeal against an acquittal and the right of appeal against a conviction Queen Empress v Robinson I L R 16 All 212 referred to Emperor v Grupe (1914) I L R 38 All 168

44 & 45 Vict c LVIII s 138—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 60

I L R 33 All 529

55 & 56 Vict c V s 4—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 60

I L R 33 All 529

STATUTE CONSTRUCTION OF

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOMBAY ACT III of 1883) s 50

I L R 34 Bom 593

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 48

I L R 32 All 499

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 111 s 93

I L R 40 Mad 1009

See CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES

See INTERPRETATION OF STATUTES

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Art 134

I L R 36 Bom 146

See MADRAS HEREDITARY VILLAGE OFFICES ACT (III of 1895)

I L R 37 Mad 548

See SALE

I L R 43 Calc 790

Contradictory Sections—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 18

25 C W N 9

Represents previous Statute—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT ss 52

25 C W N 230

1 ——— Not declaratory but amending—No retrospective operation Statutes which are properly of a declaratory character have a retrospective effect But the nature of the statute must be determined from its provisions and the mere fact that the expression 'it is do

STATUTE CONSTRUCTION OF—contd

clared has been used is by no means conclusive as to the true character of the legislation Joti Ram Khan v Jonaki Nath Ghose (1914)

20 C W N 258

2 ———

Dombay Land Revenue Code (Bom Act I of 1879) s 48 The Dombay Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) is a taxing enactment and must be construed strictly in favour of the subject SECRETARY OF STATE v LALDAS (1909) I L R 34 Bom 239

3 ———

Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1857) s 207A—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) repealing s 257A—Effect of the repeal on s 13 cl (c) of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XIII of 1879) s 13 cl (c) of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XIII of 1879) not having been expressly repealed is not affected by the repeal of s 207A of the Civil Procedure Code 188 by the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 TRINBAK KASHIRAM v ABASI (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 307

4 ———

Statute—Construction Where a statute creates a right not existing at common law and prescribes a particular remedy for its enforcement then that remedy alone must be followed CHUNIL VIRCHAND v AHMEDABAD MUNICIPALITY (1911)

I L R 38 Bom 47

5 ———

Where a later Act of Legislature does not purport or affect to supersede an earlier Act the Court will endeavour to read the two enactments together and to avoid conflict if possible PANGACHARIA v DASACHARYA (1912)

I L R 37 Bom 231

6 ———

Change in language if necessarily imports a change of law A change in the wording of a section of an enactment does not necessarily involve a change in the law SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v PURVENDU NARAIN FOY (1917)

17 C W N 1151

7 ———

The express words of an Indian Statute are not to be overridden by reference to equitable principles which may have been adopted in the English Courts Kurri Jeerareddi v Kurri Bopareddi I L R 99 Mad 336 followed TINANGOWDA v BEAVER GOWDA (1915)

I L R 39 Bom 472

8 ———

Whether a statute codifies or amends the law if its provisions are expressed in clear and unambiguous terms resort should not be had to the pre-existing law although such reference may be useful and legitimate where the provisions are of doubtful import or are couched in language which had previously acquired a technical meaning NILMANI KAR v RAJA SATI PRASAD GARGA BANADUR

6 Pat L J 230

STATUTORY OBLIGATION

See MADRAS LOCAL BOARD ACT 1881

S 95 I L R 42 Mad 331

breach of—

See CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE

I L R 34 Bom 427

I L R 37 Bom 575

STATUTORY PRESUMPTION

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 46 Calc 160

STATUTORY RIGHT

See BENGAL TENANCY

I L R 48 Calc 473

STAY OF CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS

Stay of criminal proceedings pending appeal in matter out of which they arise—Application for succession certificate—Allegations false—Enquiry under s 476, Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898)—Order for prosecution under ss 193 and 209 Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860)—Appeal pending in High Court—Stay of criminal proceedings In the course of a proceeding upon an application for revocation of the grant of a succession certificate the District Judge found that D the applicant for the certificate was not as he alleged related to the deceased in any way and ordered his prosecution under ss 193 and 209 Indian Penal Code D then filed an appeal to the High Court and asked for stay of criminal proceedings pending the hearing of the appeal Held that to make a declaration in the rule for stay of proceedings as to the correctness or otherwise of the order of the District Judge would be to prejudice an issue which is likely to come before the Bench who will hear the appeal The proceedings against the appellant under ss 193 and 209 Indian Penal Code were stayed pending the hearing of the appeal DEBI MAHTO v KING EMPEROR (1916) 20 C W N 1116

STAY OF EXECUTION

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 160See ARBITRATION ACT s 2

I L R 45 Bom 1

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT 1909 s 215 4 Pat L J 371See COMPANIES ACT (VII of 1913) s 207 I L P 38 All 407See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 12 4 Pat L J 417See *EXECUTION*See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 754

I L R 35 All 119

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

I L R 40 Calc 955

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

I L R 42 Calc 739

Order not appealable

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s 47 I L R 45 Bom 241

Pending appeal—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O XII P 5

I L R 2 Lah 61

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

I L R 38 Calc 335

Refused by single Judge whether open to appeal under Letters Patent—

See LETTERS PATENT APPEAL

I L R 1 Lah 348

Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XLV r 14—Court—Appeal to Privy Council from Decree of High Court—Stay

STAY OF EXECUTION—contd

of execution pending disposal of appeal whether Subordinate Court may grant A Subordinate Court has no power to stay the execution of a decree passed by the High Court pending the disposal of an appeal to the Privy Council The Court referred to in the first paragraph of O XLV, r 13 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is the High Court RAM BANADUP v THAKUR SRI SAI RADHA KRISHN CHANDERJI 3 Pat L J 40

Practice—High Court, Original Side—Judge sitting in Chambers—Court which passed the decree—Delay—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XII r 5 An application for stay of execution on the Original Side of the High Court pending an intended appeal must ordinarily be made to the Judge who tried the case and must be made without unreasonable delay CHATURBHUJ CHANDANVILL v RADEO DAS DAGA (1921) I L P 48 Calc 798

STAY OF PROCEEDINGS

See ARBITRATION

I L R 47 Calc 611 and 1070

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O XLIII r 3 Sch II cls 116 2 L N 38 Bom 687

See RECEIVER SUIT AGAINST 15 C W N 54

See STAY OF SUIT I L R 43 Calc 144

against an insolvent—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1909) s 18 (3) I L R 41 Bom 319 appeal of preliminary decree—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—O XLV r 13 I L P 42 All 170

STAY OF SUIT

See ARBITRATION I L R 47 Calc 849

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

See HIGH COURT ACT (24 and 25 Act of 1904) s 29 and 13 I L R 39 Bom 604

See STAY OF PROCEEDINGS

Reference to arbitration—Arbitration unwilling to act—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O XVII r 3 Sch II cls 18 and 22 I L R 45 Bom 1181

Submission by three persons to refer—Suit filed by one—

See ARBITRATION ACT (IX of 1899) s 25 s 8 s 15 and 19 I L R 35 Bom 1

Jurisdiction—O s 11 Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 10—Stay of proceedings in one of two suits in respect of same subject matter in different Courts A who carried on business at Karachi and employed B as his commission agent at Calcutta instituted on 16th February 1915 in the Court of the Judicial Commissioner of Sind at Karachi a suit against B, for an account and the recovery of whatever sum should be found due on the taking of such account On

STAY OF SUIT—contd

10th March 1915 B instituted in the High Court at Calcutta the present suit against A for the recovery of Rs 20,663 or in the alternative an account. Thereupon A applied to have the present suit stayed pending the determination for his suit in the Karachi Court.—Held that the only question that required consideration was whether the Karachi Court has jurisdiction to grant the reliefs claimed. The plaint in the Karachi suit sets out allegations that clearly give jurisdiction to that Court to try the case. The present suit must therefore be stayed till the determination of the suit at Karachi. PADAMSEE NABAINJEE v. LAKHAMSEE RAISEE (1915)

I L R 43 Calc 144

STEAMSHIP COMPANY

See CARRIERS I L R 40 Calc 716

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 47 Calc 6

STEP BROTHER

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 37 Calc 803

STEP IN AID OF EXECUTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1852 s 240

14 C W N 481

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

4 Pat L J 35

See LIMITATION ACT 17 Sec II Art

170 I L R 34 Bom 68

14 C W N 486

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1909)—

s 19 Sec I Art 182 Cl 5

I L R 38 Bom 47

See LIMITATION ACT 170 I L R 38 Mad 695

See LIMITATION ACT 182

Proof of service of affidavit—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O XXI r 21 The filing of an affidavit in proof of service of a notice of attachment under O XXI r 21 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is a step in aid of execution. THAKUR SINGH v. SHRO BHARAT SINGH 4 Pat L J 521

STEP IN THE PROCEEDINGS

See ARBITRATION I L R 47 Calc 611

STEP MOTHER

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 37 Calc 214

I L R 37 Mad 286

STEP SISTER'S SON

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

16 C W N 1094

STILL HEAD DUTY

See ADMINISTRATION

I L R 45 Calc 653

STIPEND

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT II

I L R 36 Bom 189

STOCK EXCHANGE

Member—Expulsion validity of—Interference by the Court The rules

STOCK EXCHANGE—contd

applicable to cases of expulsion of a member of the Stock Exchange are based on the principle that the committee empowered to expel a member must make a fair enquiry into the truth of the alleged fact after giving notice to the member concerned that his conduct is about to be enquired into and giving him an opportunity of stating his case to them. Labouchere v. Earl of Marncliffe 13 Ch D 346. Russell v. Russell 14 Cl D 411. Dawkins v. Intobus 1 Cl D 615 and Carcl v. Inglis [1916] 2 Ch 212 referred to. In order to determine whether a tribunal in the exercise of quasi-judicial powers has given a decision which cannot be successfully challenged the Court has to investigate whether they have observed the rules of natural justice and also the particular statutory or other rule if any prescribed for their guidance. Anonore v. Mitchell [1905] A C 78 referred to. The rules of natural justice demand that a man is not to be removed from office or membership or otherwise dealt with to his disadvantage without having a fair and sufficient notice of what is alleged against him and an opportunity of making his defence and that the decision whatever it must be arrived at in good faith with a view to the common interest of the society or institution concerned. If these conditions are satisfied a Court of Justice will not interfere with the decision. A broker and member of the Calcutta Stock Exchange Association failed to deliver certain shares within a specified time to the purchaser thereof. The Committee of the Association to whom the conduct of the broker was reported decided after hearing both parties at a meeting held for the purpose of dealing with the case that the broker should deliver to the purchasers the shares within a period of time specified by the committee. Upon the broker failing to deliver the said shares the committee to whom the matter was again reported further decided that the membership of the broker had ceased and he was warned not to enter the rooms of the Association.—Held that the action of the committee could not be impugned on the ground that the committee really made a new contract between the parties and that the broker was expelled from the Association not because of his failure to carry out the original contract but because of his failure to carry out the order of the committee. MARONID KALINIDIN v. A B STEWART (1920) I L R 47 Calc 623

STOLEN PROPERTY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 520

I L R 45 Bom 253

See SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT

I L R 38 Calc 304

STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT

See CONTRACT I L R 46 Calc 831

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 18 2)—

ss 4 61 103 I L R 28 Bom 255

s 103 I L R 40 Bom 630

Ultimate destination of goods—Duration of transit—Pledgee of bill of lading—Measure of damages—Sale of Goods Act (56 and 57 Vic c 71) ss 45 and 47 The plaintiff a Bombay firm imported hardware goods from M & Co of Manchester for sale on commission the business being carried on and financed in the following

STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT—contd

manner M & Co on shipping the goods handed over the complete shipping documents to B and received from him an advance of 60 per cent of the invoice price B then handed over the shipping documents to the National Bank of India in England and himself received a similar advance by drawing on a credit opened with the Bank by the plaintiffs. The Bank then forwarded the shipping documents to India where they were handed over to the plaintiffs in exchange for a trust receipt the plaintiffs becoming responsible to the Bank for any short fall in the advances made to B. On 12th February 1907 M & Co contracted to purchase from L & Co 200 boxes of tin plates delivery to be F O B Newport in four or five weeks after date. On 26th February M & Co wrote to L & Co enclosing instructions and marks for shipment of the 200 boxes to Bombay and on 2nd March requested them to forward the goods to W & Co at Newport in time for shipment in S S Clan Macleod for Bombay. On 21st March L & Co enclosed to M & Co an invoice for 200 boxes and on 27th March another invoice for the remaining 50 boxes the material part of the invoice in each case being: No claim concerning these goods can be recognized unless made within fifteen days from delivery to Messrs W & Co. Newport for shipment on your account. The 200 boxes were put on board the steamer by W & Co as the agents of L & Co but in obtaining a bill of lading for 500 boxes (including the 200 in question) W & Co acted as the agents of M & Co. The steamer left Newport on 4th April. Following the usual course of business as above described M & Co handed over to B the shipping documents relating to the 500 boxes and obtained an advance of £200 + 2 (being 60 per cent of the invoice value). B on the 6th April obtained a similar advance from the Bank. On the same day M & Co suspended payment and on 9th April L & Co as unpaid vendors of 200 boxes notified the steamship owners the first defendants to stop these goods in transit. The S S Clan Macleod arrived in Bombay on 13th May and the bill of lading which had been duly handed over by the Bank to the plaintiff on 20th April was in due course presented by the latter. They were informed however of the stop put on the 200 boxes and were offered a delivery order for the remaining 250 alone. This they declined refusing to accept anything but the full payment of the advance or the full amount of the goods. On 29th June the plaintiffs repaid the Bank the amount of the advance and the trust receipt of 29th April was duly cancelled. On the plaintiffs subsequently suing the steamship owners and their agents for damages Held that the transit did not cease at Newport and L & Co were entitled to stop the goods after they had started for Bombay. Ex parte Golding Davis & Co 13 Ch D 623 followed. Held further that the plaintiffs were after 29th June—On which date they had fulfilled their obligations to the Bank—pledgees for value of the bill of lading if indeed they did not occupy that position from 29th April being transferees of the Bank's rights in respect of the advance as against the defendants. Held further that the plaintiffs were entitled to join both defendants in the suit. The utmost benefit which the defendants were entitled to obtain from the position of L & Co as sureties (as to the plaintiffs for the advance made by the latter to M & Co) was the right to the security of the 200 boxes which they were willing

STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT—concld

from the outset should be received by the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs by refusing to take delivery of the 250 boxes had omitted to do an act which their duty to the surety required them to do and to the extent to which that omission had resulted in loss the surety was discharged. In re West & thus 5 B & L 817 discussed. BARTON SORABJI & THE CLAN LINE STEAMERS LIMITED (1910) I L R 34 Bom 640

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS BANKRUPTCY ORDINANCE

See BANKRUPTCY I L R 40 Mad 581

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS ORDINANCE (III OF 1893)

See EVIDENCE L R 43 I A 256

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS ORDINANCE (VI OF 1896)

ss 17 22—

See LIMITATION L R 43 I A 113

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS ORDINANCE (XXI OF 1907)

ss 133 186—

See LIMITATION L R 43 I A 113

STRANGER

purchase by—

See COURT SALE I L R 36 Mad 194

See PATENT SALE I L R 47 Mad 337

STREET

See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT—

ss 290 291 I L R 36 Bom 403

I L R 42 Bom 462

ss 297 301 I L R 42 Bom 181

See HIGHWAY

See LAND ACQUISITION I L R 47 Calc 500 604

right of municipality to—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL I L R 38 Mad 6

vesting of—

See MUNICIPALITY I L R 44 Calc 669

STRIDHAN

See DAUGHTERS I L R 34 Bom 510

See HINDU LAW—HUSBAND AND WIFE I L R 38 Mad 1036

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE I L R 34 All 234

I L R 38 Mad 116

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION I L R 34 Bom 385

15 C W N 393 1036

I L R 37 Calc 883

I L R 38 Calc 493

I L R 39 Calc 319

non-technical—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN I L R 41 Bom 615

STRIDHAN—cont'd

ch at On the failure of her husband's heirs the Stridhan of a widow would go to her blood relations in preference to the Crown. GANPAT JAMA & SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1900)
I L R 45 Bom 1106

— Preferential heir—Hus
and a younger brother or son adopted by father after mother's death and after marrying a second wife. GUNAMANT DAS & DEVI PRASAD ROY
(1919) 23 C W N 1038

STRUCTURE (TEMPORARY)

See EASEMENT I L R 37 Mad 527

STUDENT

— disqualified for cheating at examination—

See UNIVERSITY ACT 1904
I L R 2 Lah 197

SUB-DIVISIONAL MAGISTRATE

— powers of—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 106
AND 32, I L R 37 All 230

— subordination of—
See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF
I L R 39 Cal 1041

SUB LEASE

See BUSTEE LAND I L R 41 Cal 164

See NOTICE TO QUIT
I L R 46 Cal 766

— by a fazendar—
See FAZENDARI TENURE
I L R 39 Bom 316

— Permanent lease by a rasyat not holding at a fixed rate—Ejectment—Estoppel—Bengal Tenancy Act (1111 of 1885) ss 49 (b) & 50. Where a lease purporting to be of a permanent character is granted on the face of the document by a rasyat (not being a rasyat holding at fixed rate) to an under rasyat the lease is not operative as a permanent lease between the rasyat and the under rasyat. Such a lease is terminable in the manner provided by s 49 (b) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Where a lease purporting to be of permanent character is granted by a person who on the face of the document professes to have a higher status than that of a rasyat (for example that of a tenure holder or a rasyat holding at a fixed rate) the grantee when his title as a permanent lessee is challenged by his grantor may invoke the aid of the doctrine of estoppel and plead that the grantor cannot be permitted to prove the falsity of the recitals in the document (on the faith of which he took the lease) so as to enable him to derogate from his grant. Bamandas Bhattacharjee v Vishmadhab Saha I L R 44 Cal 711 referred to CHANDRA KANTA NATH & ANJALI ALI HAJI (1900)
I L R 48 Cal 783

SUBMISSION

See ARBITRATION
I L R 47 Cal 1020

See ARBITRATION ACT 1899
s 4 I L R 42 All 525

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, SCH II

SUBMISSION—cont'd

— by three persons to refer dispute to three arbitrators—

See ARBITRATION ACT (1899)
ss 2 & 89 AND 10
I L R 45 Bom 1

SUB MORTGAGE

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) s 20
I L R 35 All 405

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 90 I L R 34 All 55

— by sureties—
See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Cal 702

— suit by Sub mortgagee—
See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 770

— Sub mortgage by deposit
by mortgagee of mortgage deed—Discharge of mortgage by mortgagee—Indemnity deed of by mortgagee to mortgagor—Preliminary decree on sub mortgage appealed to Privy Council—Appeal dismissed for non prosecution—Application for order absolute when barred—Limitation Act (18 of 1877) Sch II Art 179—Payment of decree more than three years after it covered by deed of indemnity. The mortgagee of certain properties after having created an equitable sub mortgage by depositing the mortgage deeds with a firm E. K. C. accepted payment of his mortgage dues and by a deed dated 23rd April 1894 relea-ed the mortgaged properties from all claims under the mortgage and covenanted to indemnify the mortgagor from all losses damages actions claim etc in respect of the mortgage deeds or any money owing or due thereunder or other wise howsoever or for any act done by him the mortgagor in respect of the mortgage deeds.
The firm of E. K. C. covered a preliminary mortgage decree inter alia against the mortgagor on their sub mortgage on 6th August 1900 against which the mortgagor appealed to the Privy Council. But before the appeal was ready for hearing the mortgagor on 2nd February 1910 made payments to an assignee of the decree who having acknowledged satisfaction the appeal to the Privy Council was not further prosecuted and the appeal was dismissed for want of prosecution on 18th April 1910. The mortgagor on 9th September 1912 sued the mortgagee to recover the amount paid to the assignee of the decree on the basis of the deed of indemnity.
Held that the decree of 6th August 1900 became unenforceable under Art 179 of Sch II of the Limitation Act of 1877 by proceedings commeneed after 26th August 1908 and time did not run either from the date when the appeal to the Privy Council was dismissed for default or from the expiry of the six months given for redemption in the decree of 6th August 1900 but from 26th August 1900 the date of the decree. That the payment of the decree on 2nd February 1910 was voluntary in the sense that the mortgagor could not have been compelled by any proceeding founded upon the decree to make the payment.
That in view of the wide terms of the deed of indemnity the fact that the payment was voluntary did not preclude the mortgagor from demanding payment from the mortgagee of the amount which they paid to the decree holder in order to rid the property of the incumbrance which had

SUB MORTGAGE—contd

been created by the mortgages depositing the title deeds with the firm of S K C SACHINDRA NATH ROY & MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH (P.C.)
26 C W N 858

SUBSEQUENTLY ACQUIRED PROPERTY

See UNDISCHARGED BANKRUPT

I L R 47 Calc 861

SUB-TENANCY

annulment of—

See NOTICE TO QUIT

I L R 46 Calc 786

SUB TENANT

claim by—

See POSSESSION I L R 47 Calc 907

SUBORDINATE COURT

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1870) s. 14 I L R 39 Mad. 1045

jurisdiction of—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s. 69 AND 70 I L R 39 Mad. 795

SUBORDINATE JUDGE

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873) s. 17

I L R. 38 Mad 531

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 39 Calc 774

jurisdiction of—

See WAKF I L R 43 Calc 467

SUBORDINATE OFFICERS

acts of how far binding on Government—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1880) s. 1 I L R 38 Mad 997

SUBROGATION

See COMMON CARRIER LIABILITIES OF

I L R 38 Calc 28

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s. 70

I L R 40 Bom 646

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) Sch

I Art 120 I L R 45 Bom 597

See MORTGAGE—REDEMPTION

I L R 36 Mad 426

See MORTGAGE—SUBROGATION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s. 92

15 C W N 261

Prior mortgage—

Fraudulent suppression of by vendor If A purchases a property subject to three successive charges X Y and Z with full knowledge of their existence and retains a portion of the purchase money in his hands with a view to satisfy the mortgages Y and Z but subsequently discharges the mortgage X he cannot on satisfaction of the mortgage X use it as a shield against the mortgage Y Biswas v Prasad v Lala Sarnam Singh 6 C L J 131 and Hiam v Vogel 69 Missouri 679 followed But where the purchaser found on enquiry that there were only two sub existing charges Y and Z to be satisfied but discovered

SUBROGATION—contd

after his purchase that there was a prior charge X which was falsely described as satisfied in the mortgage instrument of Y (in a suit upon bond X) Held that from whatever point of view the case may be considered the purchaser was entitled to priority in respect of the payment made by him to satisfy the first mortgage X Mohesh Lal v Mohant Bawan Das I I R 9 Calc 961 L F 10 I A 69, followed Held also that the purchaser was not entitled to priority on the basis of the payment made by him to satisfy the second mortgage Y HAR SHYAM CHOWDHURY v SHYAM LAL SARKU (1915) I L R 43 Calc. 88

SUBSEQUENT MORTGAGE

See MORTGAGE I L R 85 Calc 80

SUBSEQUENT PROSECUTION AFTER ACQUITTAL

See ACQUITTAL I L R 37 Calc 604

SUB-SOIL RIGHTS

See LEASE CONSTRUCTION OF I L R 43 Calc 87

SUBSTANTIAL LOSS

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT I L R 37 Calc 40

SUBSTANTIAL QUESTION OF LAW

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s. 109 I L R 42 ALL 16

s. 110 I L R 40 ALL 513

SUBSTITUTED SERVICE

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF I L R 43 Calc. 437

Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O V r 17 O IX r 13—Ex parte decree—Original Court jurisdiction of to set aside an ex parte decree while an appeal is pending—Reside meaning of—Limitation Acts (Act I of 1877) Sch II Art 164 and Act IX of 1908 s. 4 I Art 64—Knowledge of the decree The term residence is not identical with owner's residence In O V r 9 and 17 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 it means the place where a person eats drinks and sleeps or where his family or servants eat drink and sleep Under O V r 1, a substituted service can be justified only when it is shown that proper efforts were made to find the defendant Where a defendant was not found in his ancestral family house and there was no one present upon whom a summons could be served (in fact he was working in a different district and living there for some years) a substituted service by affixing a copy of the summons at the outer door of the family house was not justified under the law An Original Court can entertain an application to set aside an ex parte decree though an appeal by the contesting defendants is pending in the Appellate Court Sarat Chandra Dhal v Damodar Manna 12 C W N 535 followed The period of limitation under Art 164 of Sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) runs from the date when the defendant has knowledge of the particular decree which is sought to be set aside AMRUP NATH ROY CHOWDHURY v JOTINDRA NATH CHOWDHURY (1911) I L R 38 Calc 504

SUBSTITUTION

See COURT FEE STAMP

I L R 47 Cal 71

See PARTIES I L R 45 Cal 862

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad 403

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

r. 16

6 Pat L J 358

O XII r. 4 I L R 39 All 551

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

6 Pat L J 314

Of Parties.—Execution of decree—Claim against decedent's executor against alleged adopted son represented by decedent's widow as guardian—Adoption set aside before execution—Execution may be had against widow A who had a claim against B on B's death sued C an infant alleged to be the adopted son of B B's widow D being appointed guardian of him of C and of tainted a decree Before execution was taken out it was declared in a separate suit that C had not been validly adopted I then applied for substitution of D in the place of C and for execution against D Held that D was not bound by the decree and it was not competent to execute the decree against D ASHI BHUSAN DAS v. PELAPAM MONDOL (1913) 18 C W N 173

Patna High Court Rules Chapter VI r. 5.—Partition suit against benamidar—appeal against preliminary decree whether beneficiaries entitled to prefer An ex parte preliminary decree having been obtained in a partition suit the defendant during the proceedings taken by the plaintiff to obtain a final decree filed a petition stating that he was only a benamidar for certain beneficial owners The names of the alleged beneficial owners were substituted for the name of the benamidar and the latter presented a memorandum of appeal against the preliminary decree The plaintiff objected on the ground that the alleged beneficiaries were not parties to the decree and that the benamidar was not a trustee within the meaning of Chapter VI r. 5 of the Patna High Court Rules Held that the benamidar had not been sued in his capacity of trustee within the meaning of r. 5 and that therefore the alleged beneficial owners were not entitled to prefer the appeal GOBIND PAM v. BADRI NARAIN 6 Pat L J 908

Of heirs.—Application for after preliminary decree in mortgage suit made after 6 months of mortgage or a death—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) Or XII r. 3 death of sole defendant after passing of preliminary decree in a mortgage suit—Application for Substitution of heirs—Appeal from order dismissing application for substitution made after 6 months of the Defendant's death whether to be treated as an appeal from an order or from a decree—Second appeal of heirs—Or XII r. 17 application for substitution after the passing of the preliminary decree it belongs to the category of proceedings in execution of a decree D obtained a preliminary decree in a mortgage suit against T and applied subsequently more than six months after the death of T for order absolute and for substitution of the heirs of T which having been refused an appeal was preferred The appeal was dismissed and a second appeal was preferred to the High Court Held that the appeal to the lower Appellate Court was not an appeal from an order The order again in which the appeal was preferred was an order rejecting the application to make the mortgage decree absolute That order had the effect of finally dismissing the mortgage suit and was a decree and hence a second appeal lay to the High Court Held further that the suit had abated as the application for bringing the heirs of the deceased defendant on the record had not been made within six months from the date of his death Mohar Bibi v. Lakub Ali 11 C W N 156 (1906) and Atariddin v. Ikhra Bism San 1 L J 40 All 213 (1913) referred to An application following on a preliminary decree for sale is not an application for execution Until the final decree is made the proceedings following the preliminary decree in a mortgage suit must be looked on as a proceeding in a pending suit Amlool Chind Parreck v. Sarat Chunder Mukherjee 1 L P 38 Cal 913 (1911) and Munna Lal Parreck v. Sarat Chunder Mukherjee 1 L J 1 J Cal 6 s c 19 C W N 561 (P C) (1914) followed BIJUNATH JANA v. TARA CHAND JANA 25 B W N 695

SUBSTITUTION—contd

Of Property.—Right of purchaser in court auction to substituted properties—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 2(d) 8 36 44 and 50—Contract to the contrary in s 30 of the Transfer of Property Act After a decree for sale on a mortgage the mortgagor who was in possession gave a lease of his properties to the first defendant for one year from July 1907 till July 1908 with a covenant for payment of the rent on 10th January 1908 In ignorance of this lease and the reversion of a rent the mortgage properties and the crops were brought to sale in November 1907 and plaintiff purchased the land together with the crops thereon and the sale was confirmed in December 1907 The crops were harvested in January 1908 by the lessee In a suit by the purchaser for the rent of the whole year from the mortgagor and his lessee Held (a) that the purchase of the right title and interest of the mortgagor to the lands and of the standing crops thereon entitled the purchaser to receive the whole rent reserved which was the thing substituted by the mortgagor for the crop (b) that ss 36 and 30 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) were inapplicable as the purchase was in Court auction (c) that a stipulation to pay rent of a year's lease at particular date is a contract to the contrary within the meaning of s 30 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) which enacts that the right to rent as between the transferor and the transferee ordinarily accrues from day to day and (d) that the creation of a lease for one year after a suit and decree on mortgage is not affected by the doctrine of lis pendens enunciated in s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) as such a lease is an ordinary incident of the beneficial enjoyment of a mortgagor allowed to remain in possession SUBBARAJU v. SEETHAPANARAJU (1914) 1 L R 39 Mad 282

SUCCESSION

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)—

2.

I L R 32 All 314

I L R 33 All 419 658

I L R 37 All 65

I L R 38 All 187 325

I L R 41 All 6 9

SUCCESSION—contd

- § 9, 167 I L R 36 All 4
S. PARANA CRANT I L R 42 Calc 582
S. BURNES LAW—SISTERS I L R 41 Calc 887
See CUSTOM I L R 39 All 574
 I L R 2 Lah 98 284
S. GHATWALI TENURE
 L R 45 I A 251
 I L R 46 Calc 362
See HINDU LAW—ASTUTIKA STRIDHAN
 I L R 37 Calc 863
See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
 I L R 35 All 283
See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE
 I L R 38 All 590
See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 34 Bom 321 533
 I L R 37 All 604
 I L R 40 All 470
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
 I L R 32 All 253
See HINDU LAW—LEITIMACY
 I L R 45 Bom 557
S. HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
 I L R 39 Calc 319
 I L R 38 Bom 339
 I L R 43 Calc 944
 I L R 41 Bom 618
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
 I L R 39 All 1
 I L R 43 All 463
See HINDU WIDOWS—PEHARIAGE
 Act 1901, ss 2 and 5
 I L R 45 Bom 1247
See KUNJPERA STATE OF
 I L R 39 Calc 711
See MAHOMEDAN LAW
See MAHANT I L R 43 Calc 707
See MATADARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1857)
 ss 9 and 10 I L R 29 Bom 478
See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)
 ss 9 and 10 I L R 38 All 552
 ss 6 and 2, str 3 (11)
 I L R 32 All 599
See SARANJAM I L R 40 Bom 606
See SUCCESSION ACT
See TRENDS ACT (II OF 1841) ss 9
 I L R 43 Bom 173
 ——— attempt to alter mode of—
See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 38 Calc 603
 ——— custom of in Chota Nagpur—
See JAIGIR I L R 46 Calc. 683
 ——— in direct male line—
See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 35 Calc 603
 ——— Hindu convert to christianity—
See SUCCESSION ACT 1865 ss 2 & 331
 I L R 43 All 525

SUCCESSION—contd

- First cousins of the propositus take per capita—
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 45 Bom 296
 ——— Mitakshara—Bandhus—Mother's sister's son in preference to a brother's daughter—
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 45 Bom 253
 ——— Mitakshara—Impartible Estate—
See OUDH ESTATES ACT ss 14
 I L R 43 All 245
 ——— Murder as a disqualification—
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 45 Bom. 753
 ——— Oudh Taluqdar holding under a primogeniture Sansad—See OUDH ESTATES ACT 1869 ss 14 15
 and 22 I L R 43 All 245
 ——— order of according to Mitakshara—
See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
 I L R 37 Mad. 293
 ——— Murder as a disqualification to inherit—Succession among Bandhus—
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 45 Bom. 763
 ——— Sudras—Illegitimate son—
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 44 Bom 163
 ——— Sudras—Illegitimate daughter—
See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
 I L R 45 Bom 557
 ——— Memons—Hindus converted to Mahomedanism—Hindu Law of Succession retained—Migration to Momba—Change of custom—Onus of proof—Evidence Memons are a sect of Mahomedans who were converted from Hindu in some four centuries ago but retained their Hindu Law of Succession and are throughout India governed by that law save where a local custom to the contrary is proved. Where however Memons migrate from India and settle among Mahomedans the presumption that they have adopted the Mahomedan custom of succession should be much more readily made. The analogy in the latter case is rather a proof of a change of domicile than a change of custom. A change of domicile than a change of custom. A Memon who a father some fifty years before he had migrated from India and settled with his family among Mahomedans at Momba a lived at that place and died there intestate. Held upon evidence as to the practice among Memons at Momba a and applying the above principle that the succession to the estate of the deceased Memon was governed by Mahomedan and not by Hindu Law. INDRANATH HAJI IMAI V. HAJI HAJI I L R 43 I A 35 ——— Succession Act (I of 1865) ss 331—Precedence and Administration Act (I of 1865) ss 331—Special Marriage Act (III of 1852) ss 331—Whether necessary ceases to be a Hindu—Migration under Act III of 1850 whether upon an alijuration of Hinduism for all purposes—Different sections of the Brahma Community—Practice A Hindu by becoming a Brahmo does not need only cease to be a Hindu. Something further than the mere becoming a Brahmo is necessary for a man to cut himself off from Hinduism. A declaration under the Special Marriage Act 187 cannot be taken as an alijuration for all purposes of Hinduism but merely a statement for the purposes of the Act itself. In re the goods of JAYENDRA NATH ROY.

SUCCESSION—continued

28 C W N 800

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1885)

See WILL

I L R 35 All 211

Legacy given if a specific uncertain event at all happen no time being mentioned in the will for occurrence of that event—Construction of wills made in India by natives of India A testator made certain legacies in his will in favour of his son and directed that in the event of his dying after the death of the testator without marrying or if married without issue his share should revert equally to his surviving sisters or their heirs. The testator died and claimed to be entitled to the legacies absolutely. Held that the restriction sought to be placed on the inheritance by the said provision of the will was nugatory and that he took an absolute interest in all property bequeathed to him under the will. In constructing a will made in India by a native of India it must be kept in mind that such a will cannot be construed by reference to cases on wills contained in the English Law Reports. Narendra Nath Sircar v Kamal Basini Dassi I L P 23 Cal 63 L R 33 I A 18 '96 referred to. NOWROJI PUDUMJI (SIR) v PUTTLIBAI (1912) I L R 37 Bom 644

—§ 2—Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) as to 331—Hindu means if—Hindu convert to Christianity the law applicable to estate of on art estate—Plea—Issue no session not set up in plaint if may be relied on Where a Hindu was converted to Christianity and died as a Christian the law applicable to his estate is that laid down by the Indian Succession Act. Under s 2 the Act is of universal application and a party who claims to be exempt from its operation must show that he is specifically exempted. Degree v Pacotti I L P 19 Bom 783. De Souza v Secretary of State 19 B L P 493 followed. To come under the exception in s 331 it is not enough to show that the deceased was born a Hindu but that at the date when the question in issue arises he professed any faith of Brahminical religion or of the religion of the Puranas. Degree v Pacotti I L R 19 Bom 783. Jayendra Chandra Bose v Bhagwan Coomarr I Punjab Law Report 51. Bhagwan Koer v J C Bos I L P 31 Cal 11. Abraham v Abraham 9 Moo I A 199. In re Vathiar 7 Mad H C R 11. Ponnusami v Dorasami I L P 2 Mad 709. Alimnator General v Anandachari I L I 1. Mal 466. Tellis v Saklani I L R 10 Mad 69. Bis Baiji v Bas Santik I L R 70 Bom 53. Hastings v Gonsalves I L P 73 Bom 539 referred to. Francis Gopal v Gabri Ghosal I L P 31 Bom 25. Edith Mukerji v George Alfred 52 P II R 1907 distinguished. NEPEEN BALA DEBI v SITI KANTA BANNERJEE (1910) 15 C W N 158

—§ 2 and 331—Hindu convert to Christianity—Law governing succession—Absence of power to elect—Pardanshin—Undue influence

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1885)—continued

Succession to the estate of a Hindu convert to Christianity who dies a Christian and intestate is governed by the Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) since the passing of that Act a person ceasing to be a Hindu cannot elect to continue to be governed by Hindu Law in matters of succession. Abraham v Abraham 9 Moo I A 195 distinguished. Deceased executed by a parda ni hindu lady relinquishing substantially without consideration her right of succession to a share in the estate of a deceased person in favour of one who or whose representative had submitted the prepared document to her and obtained her signature held to be invalid. In such circumstances the onus on those relying on the deed is to prove by the strongest and most satisfactory evidence that the transaction was a real and bona fide one and fully understood by the executant. Sajjad Hussain v Haider Ali Khan I L P 31 All 45 L I 531 A 156 applied. Judgment of the High Court reversed. KAMAWATI v DIGBHAJI SINGH I L R 43 All 525

—§ 3—

See HINDU LAW—WILL—

I L R 2 Lah 175

See WILL

I L R 38 Cal 327

—§ 7 9 10—Domicile—Domicile of origin—Domicile of choice—Domicile of origin acquired from parents at birth—Domicile of choice acquired from residence and intention that residence should be permanent—Change of residence for an indefinite period does not effect domicile of choice—Domicile of choice discarded by intention to abandon accompanied by actual abandonment—Declarations of a party abandoning domicile how far relevant—Domicile of origin retaining proprio vigore on abandonment of domicile of choice—Onus of proof One I P A Native Christian was born in Goa of parents domiciled in Goa in Portuguese Territory. In 1863 at the age of fourteen he came out to Bombay and lived there uninterruptedly with the exception of brief visits to Goa till his death in June 1915 when he was seventy one years old. In 1871 he married his first wife the mother of the defendants Nos 1 to 3 and on her death in 1901 married the plaintiff in 1903. During the whole of his mature life in Bombay he carried on a flourishing coach building business providing himself with a house near his factory. From his conduct and declarations from time to time it appeared that he had settled in Bombay meaning it to be his fixed habitation. It also appeared that sometime after 1913 and shortly before his death he formed an intention of returning to Goa and end his days there. On the 26th July 1909 he made a will in Bombay whereby he gave a legacy of Rs 7 a month to the plaintiff if she chose to live separate from the defendant No 1 a legacy of Rs 500 to the defendant No 3 and the coach building factory to the defendant No 4 the minor son of defendant No 1. He appointed defendant No 1 the sole executor and residuary legatee. The entire movable property belonging to him in his own right was valued by the plaintiff for Rs 1000 and by the defendant No 1 for Rs 19000. The plaintiff disputed the will of her husband and contended that the deceased had Portuguese domicile at the time of his marriage with her in 1903 as well as at his death and that under the Portuguese law she was entitled to a moiety of the estate left by the deceased. The defendant No 1 who supported the plaintiff contended that in 1871 when the deceased

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)—*contd*ss 7 & 10—contd

married his mother the decedent had a Portuguese domicile and that he too became entitled to a share in the estate of the deceased under the Portuguese law. Held (i) that at any time between 1865 when the deceased had attained majority and 1913 the deceased had acquired a domicile of choice in Bombay in substitution for the domicile of his origin in Goa (ii) that in spite of the intention of the deceased to return to the domicile of his origin the domicile of choice continued in law to exist at his death as the intention was not accompanied by the actual abandonment of the domicile of choice (iii) that the making of the will and all other matters governed by the Indian law of succession must be determined as though the deceased had all along from the year 1865 to the time of his death been a British subject domiciled in Bombay (iv) that the claim put forward by the plaintiff or the defendant No. 3 was not maintainable as the devolution of the estate of the deceased was not governed by the law of Portugal. The domicile of origin is that which a person acquires at his birth from his parents and follows the domicile of his parents. It is not necessarily in itself local that is to say merely the place of birth. The domicile of origin once ascertained in law clings and adheres to the person until he chooses to divest himself of it by substituting a domicile of choice for the domicile of origin. The domicile of choice is acquired by a combination of fact with intention. The fact is residence and the intention is that the residence should be permanent. The domicile of choice can be discarded as easily as it can be acquired by a fact and an intention namely the fact of abandoning the residence accompanied by the intention that that abandonment shall be final and that upon any such mere abandonment of one domicile of choice without the acquisition of another the domicile of origin revives proprio vigore and without the need of any further act or intention on the part of the person. The law leans very strongly in favour of the retention of the domicile of origin. Where there are no declarations of intention either way the Courts would be slow to infer from the mere fact of residence however protracted that residence may be the intention requisite to complete the substitution of domicile of choice for that of origin. The onus being upon the person alleging that a man has acquired a domicile of choice he must prove to the Court that that man had that intention. A man having acquired a domicile of choice may after many years decide to abandon his domicile of choice and again accept his domicile of origin. But if with that intention clear in his mind he should fail actually to abandon his domicile of choice and die before thus far giving effect to his intention the result would be that the domicile of choice would persist and the distribution of his estate would be governed by it. The law of domicile in the Courts of England from the case of Bruce v Bruce 11 Bo & P 229 footnote to that of Huntly v Gaskell [1906] A C 56 considered Santos v Pinto (1916) I L R 41 Bom 687

ss 46 48 50—

See PROBATE I L R 39 Calc 249

s 50—

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)—*contd*s 50—contd

testator Probate granted of a will signed by some other person than the testator in his presence and by his direction Per Macleod C J—It does not matter whether there are other words written by that person so long as those words do not destroy the effect of the signature so as to make it appear that the name of the person signing is not to be taken as a signature intended to give effect to the writing as a will. There is FRANCIS MESQUITA (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 949

Attestation of will
as to same fact e.g. execution or attestation—Execution—Guiding the hand of the testator in fixing mark It is not necessary that each of the attesting witnesses to a will should prove the same facts. One witness who saw the testator sign the will and another before whom the execution of the will was only acknowledged by the testator may both be good attesting witnesses to the same will. Where on the evidence it appeared that a will had been drawn up in accordance with the wishes of the testatrix as expressed during her lifetime before a reliable witness that it was read over to her when she was in possession of her senses and then being asked by one S whether he would sign the will for her he nodded her assent whereupon S guided her finger to make the mark and then put down the testatrix's name under the mark by his own pen. Held that the will was executed by the testatrix as required by s 50 of the Succession Act. That as the execution of the will was complete at the moment the mark was made S became an attesting witness when he wrote his own name after the testatrix. MUKTAVATH ROY CHOR DAVRY & JIREVDA NATH POX SNOWDEN (1915) 19 C W N 1295

Execution of will as proper—Attestation—Indian mode of signature —Presence of the witnesses at the same time and attestation of identical state of things if necessary
 s 50 of the Indian Succession Act differing from s 3 of the English Act expressly provides that it is not necessary for both attesting witnesses to be present at the same time. The English system of executing the document at the foot does not usually obtain amongst Indians. Their custom is to execute the document at the top. Ordinarily the signature of the executant appears at the top right hand corner and when he executes the document himself and not by an attorney he is accustomed to write by my own pen. Where in a will written on four sheets of paper the signature of the executant appeared at the top left hand corner of the first page as being made by his own pen but his signature only on the next two pages and his signature with date on the last page and the signatures of all four attesting witnesses appeared alongside the signature of the executant on the first page and on each of the other three pages appeared the signatures of two of these four persons. Held that the operative signature was the one on the first page and as on the evidence it appeared that at least two of the witnesses whose names appeared on that page subscribed their names animus attestandi the will was properly executed as required by s 50 of the Succession Act. Where the testator after having executed

Will signed by some other person in the presence and by the direction of the

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)—contd— s 50—contd

the will in the presence of one attesting witness took it successively to the houses of two other attesting witnesses who on his acknowledgment of his signature attested the document. Held that there was valid attestation by all three witnesses within s. 50 of the Succession Act. SABITTI THAKURAN v. F. A. SARI (1915).

19 C W N 1297

Will of a mark man—

Mark not affixed by the testator or him self but by another not a due execution—thence of two attesting witnesses besides the person affixing the mark not a due attestation. Where with a view to execute a will the testator who was a mark man touched the pen and gave it to another who affixed to the will a mark and wrote against it the testator's name and added beneath it his own name as the person who affixed the mark and the will did not contain attestation of two other persons besides that of the person so affixing the mark. Held that the will was invalid as not complying with the provisions of s. 50 of the Indian Succession Act. Is a marked will it was invalid as the mark was not affixed by the testator himself as required by the section. Considered as a signed will as it might be it was equally invalid as the testator's signature was put by another and there were not two other attesting besides the one so signing. RADHAKRISHNA v. SUBBAYA (1915).

I L R 40 Mad 550

— s 57—See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 38 Mad 369

Will revocation of—

Tearing. When a testator sent for his will wrote the word 'cancelled' thereon and signed in and according to his attorney's direction tore it partially. Held that this showed the intention of the testator to revoke the will and the partial tearing constituted a sufficient revocation of the will within the meaning of s. 57 of the Indian Succession Act. Elms v. Elms 1 Sw & Tr 165 distinguished. Bibb v. Thomas 2 N R 1043 referred to. JORUR LAL DEY v. DHIRENDRA NATH DEY (1915).

20 C W N 304

— ss 62 67 68 69—See WILL.

I L R 40 Bom 1

— ss 82 187—Will—Bequest to widow how to be construed—S 187 of the Succession Act does not debar a defendant from relying on a will in respect of which no Probate or Letters of Administration have been taken out as he is not seeking to establish a right as executor or legatee. In a case to which the Hindu Wills Act applied a testator made a bequest to his widow in the following terms:—I give all the remaining properties of every sort which fell to my share to my wife Andalu. Therefore the aforesaid Andalu herself should enjoy all the remaining properties.—Held on the construction of the will that the widow took only a limited estate. The operation of the ordinary rule of Hindu Law that a bequest to a wife without words creating an absolute estate conferred only a limited interest was excluded by s. 8. of the Succession Act. The fact that the donee was a widow the absence of words of inheritance and of words conferring powers of alienation were not sufficient to show that she took only a restrict

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)—contd— ss 82 187—contd

Interest. These circumstances however coupled with the recital in the will that she should enjoy the estate indicated the intention of the testator that she should have no powers of alienation. CARALAPATHI CHUNNA CUNNIAH v. COTA NAMMALWARIAH (1909).

I L R 33 Mad 91

— s 84—See WILL.

I L R 35 All 211

— ss 88 98 100 to 102—See HINDU LAW—WILL—

I L R 38 Calc 168

— s 91—

See INDIAN SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865) s 187. I L R 38 Mad 474

— ss 98 100 to 102—See HINDU LAW—WILL—

I L R 38 Calc 168

— s 99—See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 38 Calc 87

— s 101—

See HINDU LAW—WILL 23 C W N 828

— ss 101 102 111 and 126—See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 44 Mad 446

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 48 Calc 465

— ss 105 159—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— s 107 Part XV—See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 41 Calc 642

— ss 107 111—See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 43 Calc 432

— s 111—See HINDU LAW—STIPEND.

23 C W N 1038

— ss 101 107—See HINDU LAW—WILL.

I L R 2 Lah 175

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 274

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 39 Bom 296

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 38 Calc 327

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 44 Calc 181

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 45 Bom 1038

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

— ss 101 107—See WILL.

I L R 40 Calc 192

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1885)—*contd*ss 160 130 134—contd

to make an annuity perpetual. The Will may indicate an intention in other ways that the sum payable is really not an annuity or at any rate is intended to be perpetual. Where the Will made a sum payable to one of the sons of the testator out of the profits of immovable property allotted to another with a view to equalising their shares. Held—That the amount was not intended to be an annuity and was not limited to the life of the legatees but formed part of the properties allotted to him and was absolute and perpetual. Where on the death of the legatee the payment of the amount was stopped in a suit by his heirs for recovery of arrears thereof interest at 12 per cent was properly awarded by the Court ss 130 to 134 of the Succession Act which relate to interest on annuities or legacies payable by the executor not applying to the case. LAUNCHU GOPAL MUKERJEE : KALIDAS MUKERJEE 21 C W N 592

■ 184—

See DOCTRINE OF SATISFACTION

I L R 37 Bom 211

■ 187—

See s 11 I L R 33 Mad 91

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL

I L R 37 Cal 539

See WILL I L R 38 Cal 327

1

Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) ss 2 and 5—Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) s 187—Administrator General's Act (II of 1874) s 36—Will made in Bombay—Property worth less than Rs 1000—Probate—Administrator General's certificate A will made in Bombay is subject to the provisions of the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) and a person claiming as a legatee under the will is not entitled to sue without taking out probate as he would be bound by s 187 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) which is incorporated in the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870). The provision of the Administrator General's Act (II of 1874) is not affected by the incorporation in the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1870) of s 187 of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1885). NARAYAN SURIDHAR : PANDURANG BAPUJI (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 508

2

Scope of—Es

establishment without probate of legatees right—s 91—Legacy vesting of—Executor's assent—Acceptance by legatee necessity of—Disclaimer by legatee. Where on appeal in a partition suit it was contended by the first defendant that the first plaintiff had no title to sue in ejectment as under a will of her mother which was not proved up to the date of the trial such property vested in the second and third plaintiffs. Held that s 187 not only affects the establishment of the right to a legacy by legatee himself or some person claiming under him but also debars a person who desires to establish the legatee's right merely as a jus tertii for the purpose of his defence. The estate vested in a legatee under s 91 of the Act is not full or absolute but it refers only to an interest in the legacy and not the legacy itself. Until the executor has given his assent to the legacy the legatee has only an inchoate right to it. Backman v Backman I L R ■ All 553 and Doe v Goss 3 East 170 s c. 162 E R

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1885)—contd■ 187—contd

513 followed. A legacy vested in the legatee under s 91 of the Act is divested by his disclaimer. The rule of English law that no legacy can vest in the legatee against his will may legitimately be adopted in deciding questions under the Indian law. In re Hotoley Freke v Calarady 30 C 428 referred to. LAKSHTAMMA : RATNAMMA (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 44

3

Conditional order of Judge for grant of Probate—Non issue of Probate owing to non payment of Court fees—Heir of legatee same as legatee—Probate or Letters of Administration alone evidence of right under s 187. A Hindu executing a will in the town of Madras made a bequest in favour of his son. After the death of the father the son died leaving his mother the plaintiff as his heir. On the application of the executor (defendant) for a Probate the fiat of the Judge was obtained but there was no actual order for the issue of the Probate and the Probate was not issued owing to the failure of the executor to pay the requisite court fees for the same. In a suit by the testator's widow as mother of his deceased son for an order of the Court directing the defendant to apply for probate of the will and for of the estate. Held (a) for the purpose of s 187 of the Indian Succession Act which governed the case the plaintiff though only an heir of a legatee was in the position of a legatee (b) that the fiat of the Judge for grant of Probate was only conditional and was not equivalent to an actual grant of the Probate within the meaning of s 187 (c) that in the absence of a grant of Probate or Letters of Administration which was the only proof of right allowed by the section the plaintiff was debarred from claiming any rights flowing from the will and (d) that the mere production and exhibition of the will as an ordinary proof and exhibit in the case were not equivalent to proof of the right by the production of the Probate or the Letters of Administration as required by the section. Lakshamma v Patnamma I L R 38 Mad 474 followed. Manguram Marwa : Guraiah and I L R 17 Cal 347 distinguished. ALLAELAMMAL : SRIYAPRAKASARAO (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 688

■ 190

See RECEIVER

I L R 37 Cal 754

Letters of administration obtained by plaintiff after suit filed but before hearing and decree—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 130—Order to banker to pay money held to the credit of customer effect of when acted on—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 6—Resulting trust. One W had a deposit of Rs 10,000 in a bank under a deposit receipt which fell due on the 7th of August 1912. W had a grand nephew H to whom he wished to transfer the money meaning that H should have the benefit of the money but not intending that he should be able to make away with the money in H's life time or to draw the interest without making due provision for H's maintenance. On the 8th of August 1912 W handed to H his deposit receipt duly endorsed and a letter to the following effect—'I hereby state that I have found my Bank Receipt. Herewith I am forwarding the same for the interest now due. I wish it to be handed over to my nephew. I also wish you to hand over the amount of Rs 10,000 which is in fixed deposit to my nephew. Hilmet Khan

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)—*contd*s. 193—contd

Harrison to his account. H took the documents to the bank and obtained a new deposit receipt for Rs. 10,000 the balance of Rs. 500 in cash and Rs. 420 in cash by way of interest. On the 18th of October 1912 H died. On the 5th of August 1913 A, a grand niece of H filed a suit against H as administratrix of the estate of H claiming that the sum deposited with the bank in the plaint stated to be Rs. 10,000 formed part of the estate of H and that the plaintiff as administratrix of his estate was entitled to the same. At the date of the filing of the suit A had not obtained Letters of Administration to H's estate but did obtain them before the hearing of the suit. Held that the plaint was defective in that it did not show that the plaintiff had obtained Letters of Administration and should on that account have been rejected on presentation but that as the plaintiff had obtained Letters of Administration before the hearing and the hearing had been allowed to proceed a decree passed in favour of the plaintiff was not contrary to s. 190 of the Indian Succession Act. Held further that where money mentioned in a deposit receipt was immediately payable and the receipt was presented duly endorsed together with an order to pay a given individual that individual became the owner of the money upon payment by the banker or upon his promise to hold the money at the disposal of the payee that an order on a banker to pay money which he held to the credit of a customer was not an assignment of a debt but an authority to deliver property which if acted on was equivalent to delivery by the customer and that the letter of the 8th of August 1912 was such an order and had been acted on and though had an objection been taken at the hearing before the lower Court it might have been rejected for want of a stamp that such an objection could not be taken on appeal the letter being on record. Held further that the intention of the donor H to benefit negated the idea of any resulting trust in his favour. DEVIKA v. HENNINGWAY (1914) I L R 86 Bom 618 ss 190 191 and 239—Act VII of 1901—Grant of letters does not vest property of deceased in the administrator as from the date of death—Heirs of intestate Native Christian entitled to deal with their shares until grant of letters. The effect of s. 191 of the Indian Succession Act is not to vest the property of the deceased in the administrator as from the date of death. Subsequent to the passing of Act VII of 1901 which made ss 190 and 239 of the Succession Act inapplicable to Native Christians the heirs of intestate Native Christians have the power to deal with their shares in the property of the deceased until the grant of administration and their transactions in respect of such shares will not be made invalid by the subsequent grant. The property of the deceased vests in the administrator only at the time of the grant though for certain purposes the grant may relate back to the death of the deceased. ANTONY CRUZ GONZOLVES v. MARIS BOOPALAKAYAN (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 395

s. 191—

See SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN BY TRUSTS I L R 40 Bom 341

s. 244—Civil Procedure Code 1908

s. 2—Will—Probate—Application for probate dismissed—Decree—Order—Appeal Held

SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)—*concl'd*s. 244—contd

that the order of the District Judge granting or refusing probate of a will on an application made under the provisions of s. 244 of the Indian Succession Act 1865 is a decree within the meaning of s. 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and appealable as such. Held also that the court fee payable on such an appeal is Rs. 10 under Art. 17 Cl. (vi) of the second schedule to the Court Fees Act 1870. Umrco Chand v. Bindrahan Chand I L R 17 All 475. Esoof Hashim Dooply v. Fatima Bibi I L R 24 Cal 30 and Sheikh A. M. v. Chandra Nath Vamdas S C W A 748 MOUNT STEPHENS v. GARNETT ORME (1913)

I L R 35 All 448

s. 250—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s. 31—Will—Probate—Caveator—Interest possessed by the caveator. The provisions of s. 31 of the Probate and Administration Act 1881 (which correspond with those of s. 250 of the Indian Succession Act 1865) enact that the interest which entitles a person to put in a caveat must be an interest in the estate of the deceased person that is there should be no dispute whatever as to the title of the deceased to the estate but that the person who wishes to come in as the caveator must show some interest in the estate derived from the deceased by inheritance or otherwise. Abhram Dass v. Gopal Dass I L R 17 Cal 48 followed. KROSHIAN BHUKAJI v. PESTONJI MERVANJI (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 459

ss 264B and 339—Administrator—Directions—District Court cannot but High Court can give directions. A District Court has no power to give directions to an administrator in regard to the estate when Letters of Administration have already been granted. The power vests in the High Court by virtue of s. 264B of the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865). WILSON v. WILSON (1910)

I L R 44 Bom 652

ss 311 312—

See WILL

I L R 43 Cal 201

s. 331—

See s. 2

I L R 43 All 525

See SUCCESSION

26 C W N 800

s. 332—Aboriginal tribes in Chota Nagpur—Inheritance—Law applicable—Special notification under s. 332 issued at the appellate stage whether has retrospective effect. Notification dated 2nd May 1913 issued by the Government of India under s. 332 of the Indian Succession Act at the appellate stage of a case did not apply where there had already been a decision of a competent court regarding the rights of parties. In the case of codified law the ordinary practice of the legislature is to make special provision when it thinks fit to do so for the saving of custom, usage and ordinary rights. There is no authority that after customary law has been stereotyped in the form of a statute which contains no provision saving custom it is open to a Court to give effect to custom much less to a custom inconsistent with the statute. As the Indian Succession Act contains no clause saving custom the Courts are not competent to accept custom as a reason for deviating from the provisions of the Act. TUJI ORAIN v. LEDA ORAIN (1916)

20 W W N 1082

1 Pat. L J 225

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908),
SCH I ART 62 I L R 37 All 434
See RECEIVER I L R 37 Cal 754
See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)

as lignee suing on an assignment
by heir of debt due to deceased—

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1839
SS 4 AND 6 I L R 42 All 549 certificate granted ex parte without service of notice on opposite party—

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT 1889
s 19 I L R 42 All 512

1 Assignee of deceased's representative whether certificate may be granted to—
A succession certificate may be granted to the assignee of the representative of a deceased person RAMCHARITER SARU : RAM NARAYAN
SARU R Pat L J 350

2 Possession of property by Receiver without Succession Certificate—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) s 4 8 cl (c)—Indian Securities Act (VIII of 1886) s 3 sub s (2) s 6 sub s (1) In the absence of any provision in the Hindu Wills Act (XVI of 1870) and in the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) that no right to the property of an intestate can be established unless administration had been previously granted by a competent Court the Receiver appointed by Court is competent to take possession of the securities and moneys without a certificate under s 4 of the Succession Certificate Act but regard being had to the provisions of the Indian Securities Act 1886 and s 3 subs (2) s 6 subs (1) cl (f) and s 8 cl (c) of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) a Succession Certificate would be needed if a suit was brought to establish a title to such funds by right of inheritance HARIHAR MUKERJI v HARENDRA NATH MUKERJI (1910)
I L R 37 Cal 754

3 Mitaksha a Low—Impartible
Estate—Arrears of rent converted to a bond—Debt due to last holder of impartible estate if effects of the deceased in the hands of the successor—Suc- cession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) s 4 Wherein lieu of arrears of rent a bond was given to the holder of an impartible estate Held that the debt due was not in the hands of the successor to the estate a part of the effects of the deceased within the meaning of s 4 of the Succession Certificate Act but in its nature a family debt accruing to him by right of survivorship Jagmohandas Kilaghai v Allu Maria Dushal I L R 19 Bom
338 Beeraj v Bhyroperaud I L R 23 Cal 912
Bissen Chand Dudhuria Bahadur v Chatrapati Sing
I O W N 32 Katama Naichar v The Rajah of Shivagunga 9 Moo I A 537 2 W P C 31
Siree Rajah Yanumula Venkayamah v Siree Rajah Yanumula Boochia Venkondora 13 Moo I A 333 referred to GUR PERSHAD SINGH v DHANI RAI
(1910) I L R 38 Cal 182

4 Debt—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) s 4—Debt meaning of—Part of debt if certificate can be granted in respect of—Appeal A certificate under the Succession Certificate Act can be granted in respect

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE—contd of a part only of a debt due to the deceased The word debt is a comprehensive term which should receive a liberal construction. Re Ghan- sham Das, (1893) All W N 84 and Mahomed

Abdul Hossain v Sarifan 16 O W N 231 approved and followed. Albar Khan v Bill- kisara Begam (1901) All W N 125 considered Bibee Boodhun v Jan Khan 13 W R 260 Afham- med Ali Khan v Paltan Bibi I L R 19 All 129 Bismilla Begam v Tawassul Husain I L R
32 All 335 and Chafur Khan v Kalandari Begam
I L R 33 All 327 not followed ANNAPURNA
DAS v NALINI MOHAN DAS (1914)
I L R 42 Cal 10

5 Suit dismissed for non production of the certificate—Certificate if may be filed in Appellate Court See MOOFLALDAH ROY CHOWDHURY v MOHINI MOHAN KAR (1915)
19 O W N 794

6 Certificate refused —Matters to be proved to entitle applicant to a certificate A Government promissory note payable to one Madho Sahai was assigned by a registered deed by the legal representative of Madho Sahai to one Radhika Prasad Upon the assignee applying for a certificate of succession in respect of this note it was refused on this ground that it was not established that the assignor had himself a good and subsisting title to the note Held that whether the assignor of the applicant had a valid title or not or whether the assignment conveyed any title to the applicant or whether the debt secured by the promissory note was recoverable or not were not matters which the court had to determine upon an application for a certificate
The only question which the court had to decide was whether the applicant was the representative of the person to whom the debt was alleged to have been due RADHIKA PRASAD BAFUDI v
SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)
I L R 38 All 438

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
ART 182 CL (5)
I L R 37 Bom 559

Preference as regards the granting of a certificate—Childless widowed daughter—Sons of a deceased daughter The parties were governed by the Hindu law of the Dayabhaga School and the question was whether preference was to be given as regards the granting of a certificate for the collection of certain debts due to the father to a widowed childless daughter or to the sons of a deceased daughter Held that the latter were to be preferred According to the Dayabhaga a widowed childless daughter would be no heir to her father Sreemutty Bimola v Dangoo Kansaree 19 W R C F 189 not followed
Benode Koomaree Dubee v Purnan Gopal Sahre
2 W P C R 176 Padma Kushen Manjaree v
Pajah Ram Mundal W R C F 11 and Mokunda Lal Chakravarti v Monmohini Devi 19 C W N 412 referred to SRINATHI
PRAVILA DEVI v CHANDRA SUREKHAR CHATTERJI
I L R 43 All 450

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—contd

4—contd

for a portion, if may be granted—Heirs & claims of joint or several—Severance of debt Where one of several heirs of a deceased Mahomedan lady sued her husband for a portion of the share of the deferred dower due by the defendant to the deceased relinquishing the balance Held that an application by the plaintiff for succession certificate in respect of the amount claimed by her in the suit was properly granted E 4 of the Succession Certificate Act does not require that the certificate should cover the whole of the debt if the heirs do not so to realise the whole Ghufur Khan v Kalandars Begum I L R 33 All 327 dissented from In respect of deferred dower each of the heirs of the deceased has a distinct right enforceable by himself though all may jointly sue and it is open to each to relinquish a portion of the claim The defendant husband being moreover one of the heirs the debt assuming it to be joint is severed and a certificate cannot in consequence be granted for the whole debt ABDUL HOSSAIN v SARIFAN (1911) 16 C W N 231

6 — Assignment—Succession certificate—Assignment of debt covered by certificate—Certificate also made over to assignees—Rights of assignees The widow of a separated Hindu obtained a certificate of succession for the collection of a debt due to her deceased husband She assigned the debt and also handed over the succession certificate to the assignees Held that the assignees were competent to sue and get a decree for the debt The widow could undoubtedly assign the debt and it was not necessary even if it were possible for the assignees to obtain cancellation of the certificate granted to the widow and the issue of a fresh certificate in their favour Karup pasami v Pitchay, I L R 15 Mad 419 distinguished Allahdad Khan v Sant Ram I L R 36 All 74 not followed Durga Kunwar v Matu Mal I L R 35 All 311 referred to RAO LAL v ANNU LAL (1913) I L R 36 All 21

7 — Joint interest—Application for certificate—Applicant alleging himself to be joint with deceased and entitled to his estate by survivorship Where an applicant for a succession certificate stated in his application that he was a member of a joint Hindu family with the deceased to whose estate he had succeeded by survivorship Held that a succession certificate was unnecessary and the application must fail MATHURA PRASAD v DURGAWATI (1914) I L R 36 All 283

8 — Debt part of certificate in respect of if may be granted—Multiplicity of suits A certificate under Act VII of 1889 (Succession Certificate Act) can be granted in respect of a portion of a debt The principle of law which prohibits multiplicity of suits in no way affected by the grant of certificates in respect of fractional shares of a debt Bibee Boodhun v Jan Khan 13 II J 665 Mulammad Ali Khan v Puttan Bibi I L R 19 All 199 Bismilla Begum v Tawassul Hussain I L R 32 All 330 Ghufur Khan v Kalandars Begum I L R 33 All 307 Aldar Khan v Bulki ara Begum All W N for 1901 125 In the matter of the petition of Ghansham Das All W N for 1893 81 Mohamed Abdul Hossain v Sarifan 16 C II N 231 referred to ANNAFFEEY DASSY v NALINI MOHAN DAS (1914) 18 C W N 836

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—contd

4—concld

9 — Letters of administration—Assignment of debt by holder of letters of administration of debt covered by certificate—Rights of assignee A decree for possession of certain property and for mesne profits was passed in favour of A and his wife The wife died after the date of the decree A obtained letters of administration in respect of the estate of his wife and then transferred his own rights under the decree as also those of his wife to H H applied for execution of the decree The judgment debtors objected inter alia that the decree could not be executed without letters of administration or a succession certificate being obtained by transferee Held that H could execute the decree without taking out fresh letters of administration Per WAZIR I A person claiming as assignee of a debt which was due to the estate of a deceased person is not claiming the effect of the deceased From the date of assignment the debt due to the deceased ceases to be part of the deceased's effect The claim contemplated by sub (1) of s 4 of the Succession Certificate Act is a claim made by a person in the capacity of and as personal representative of a deceased person GOSWAMI SRI RAMAN LAL v HARI DAS (1916) I L R 38 All 414

10 — Preference—Childless widow's daughter—Sons of a deceased daughter The parties were governed by the Hindu Law of the Dayabhaga school and the question was to be given as regards the granting of a certificate for the collection of certain debts due to the father to a widowed childless daughter for to the sons of a deceased daughter Held that the latter were to be preferred According to the Dayabhaga a widowed childless daughter would be no heir to her father SRIJATI PRASITA DEVI v CHANDRA SHEKHAR CHATTERJEE I L R 38 All 450

11 — Certificate not to be granted for collection of part only of a debt—Debt in part irrecoverable or extinguished—Muhammadan Law—Dower On the death of a Muhammadan lady to whom her dower was due the heirs were her husband her brother and three daughters The brother applied for a succession certificate in respect only of the share of the dower debt to which he was entitled as an heir On the objection being raised by the daughters that a certificate could not be granted for part only of the debt the District Judge finding that a portion of the debt was satisfied by reason of the husband inheriting it as an heir and that the recovery of one of the daughters' shares was time barred gave the applicant a certificate in respect of the remainder Held that on the reasoning upon which the Full Bench decision in Ghufur Khan v Kalandars Begum I L R 33 All 307 was founded it was not competent to the District Judge to grant a certificate except for the whole of the dower debt Mohamed Aldul Hossain v Sarifan 16 C II N 123 and Srinmully Annappurana Das v Anilini Molon Das dissented from SUGHRA BEGAM v MUHAMMAD MIR KHAN I L R 43 All 341

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—contd

ss 4 and 6—Assignment by heir of a debt due to a deceased person—Suit by assignee to recover debt.—Certificate necessary before assignee can obtain a decree. If the heir of the deceased person to whom at his death money was due assigns the debt to a third person the assignee cannot realize the debt without obtaining a succession certificate under Act No VII of 1889. A debt due to a deceased person does not cease to be part of the effects of the deceased by reason of such an assignment. Cesumami Sri Paman Lalji v Hari Das I L R 38 All 414 not followed. Allah Dad Khan v Santam I L R 35 All 74 Pang Lal v Annu Lal I L R 36 All 21 and Padhika Praised Bapudi v The Secretary of State for India in Council I L R 38 All 438 referred to. Karuppasami v Pichu I L R 15 Mad 419 and Vancharam Pranjivan v Bai Malati I L R 18 Bom 316 followed. GRISHAM ALI v ZAKIR ALI I L R 42 All 549 ss 4 7—Certificate not to be given for collection of part only of a debt.—Mahomedan Law.—Dower. Hild that no certificate could be granted to one of the heirs of a Mahomedan lady who had died leaving a dower debt unrealized for collection merely of a part of the dower debt of the deceased. Muhammad Ali Khan v Puttan Bibi I L R 19 All 199 followed. Albar Khan v Bilkisra Begum Ali W (1911) 125 referred to. BISILTA BEGAM v TAWASSUL HUSAIN (1910) I L R 32 All 335

ss 4 8 cl (c)—

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE—
I L R 37 Cal 764

ss 4 18—Succession certificate.—Holder of certificate not entitled to transfer his rights thereunder. Hild that the rights conferred by the grant of a succession certificate under the Succession Certificate Act 1889 are personal to the grantee and cannot be assigned. Allah Dad Khan v Santam (1912) I L R 35 All 74

ss 4 (1) 18—Assignment of a debt.—Certificate obtained by assignor after assignment.—Suit by assignee without a certificate in his own name.—Decree whether can be passed. An assignee of a debt from a person to whom succession certificate was granted subsequent to the assignment is entitled to a decree for the debt without obtaining a succession certificate in his own name. Paman Lalji v Hari Das I L R 38 All 414 followed. Allah Dad Khan v Santam I L R 35 All 74 dissented from. ARUNACHALAM v MARHU (1918) I L R 42 Mad 130 ss 7 9—Certificate of succession.—Security.—Application by widow of separated Hindu. Where under s 9 of the Succession Certificate Act 1889 the requiring of security is optional security should not be taken from the widow of a separated Hindu asking for a certificate to enable her to collect debts due to her husband in the absence of special circumstances rendering the taking of security necessary. NARAIN DEVI v PARVESHWARI (1917) I L R 40 All 81

s 8—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)
s 42 I L R 53 All 316

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—contd

9—

1—Certificate in favour of Hindu widow to realize interests only.—Certificate ultra vires. Hild that where a certificate was granted to a Hindu widow for collection of debts due to her late husband it was not competent to the Court in lieu of requiring security from the grantee to give a certificate for realization of interests only without disturbing capital. Shib Deo v Ajudhia Prasad F A J O No 108 of 1910 decided on the 13th of February 1911 referred to. JAI DEVI BANWARI LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 249

2—Certificate to a minor can be granted.—s 9 no bar. A succession certificate can be granted to a minor. PERCURIAM s 9 of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) presents no difficulty to the grant in such a case. Kals Coomer Chatterjee v Tara Prossunno Vookerjee 5 C L P 51 and Ram Kuar v Sardar Singh I L R 20 All 32 followed. Ex parte Mahadeo Ganghadhar I L R 98 Bom 311 and Gulabchand v Moiti I L R 25 Bom 593 considered. KRISHNAMA CHARLU v VENKANNAT (1913) I L R 100 Mad 214 ss 9 25 28—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 96—Succession Certificate.—Condition of Security.—Appal. An order granting a succession certificate accompanied by a condition that security should be given is appealable. An order directing that a certificate should not be granted unless security is furnished is not appealable. Bai Dextore v Lalchand Jandas I L R 19 Bom 790 explained. BAI NANDKORE v SNA MAGANTAL VARAJBHUKHANDAS (1911) I L R 38 Bom 272

ss 16 and 17—

See PRESIDENT OF BANKS ACT (VI of 1876)
s 93 I L R 45 Bom 138

ss 16 18—Certificate of succession.—Suit to set aside certificate and decree passed in favour of holder. A succession certificate granted under the provisions of the Succession Certificate Act 1889 is conclusive as against the debtor under s 16 of the Act and it can be revoked by the District Judge only under s 18 of the Act. No suit will lie to have a succession certificate and a decree obtained by the holder thereof set aside on the mere ground that the certificate was obtained by the use of false evidence. RUFAN BHAI v BHAGET LAL (1914) I L R 36 All 423

s 18—

See s 4 I L R 42 Mad 130

18 and 19—Certificate of succession granted to one creditor for the whole of a debt due to him self and other.—Decree obtained by certificate holder for his share only of the debt.—Remedy open to the other creditors in respect of the proportionate share. Upon the death of a Muhammadan lady her claim for dower devolved upon (1) her husband to the extent of one fourth (2) her brother to the extent of one fourth and (3) her daughter to the extent of one half. The brother applied for a certificate of succession in respect of the whole of the dower debt and this was granted to him. At the time of this application the daughter was a minor and

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—contd

s 18—contd

notice of the application was served for her on her father, notwithstanding that he was the person who himself was liable for the payment of the dower debt. On obtaining the certificate the brother sued for and obtained a decree for his one quarter share. Thereupon the daughter applied to the court asking either that the certificate granted in favour of the brother should be revoked and a fresh certificate made out in her name or in the alternative that her name should be associated with that of the brother in the same certificate to the extent of the half share claimed by her. The court rejected this application in toto. Held on appeal from this order (1) that the appeal lay the order being in effect one refusing to grant a certificate to the applicant and (2) that in the circumstances of the case the proper order to pass was one revoking the certificate already granted to the extent of one half and granting a certificate for one half of the dower debt in favour of the applicant. Ghaffur Khan v Kalandari Begam I L R 33 All 327 discussed. SHARIF UN NISA BIBI v MASUM ALI I L R 42 All 347

s 18 27—Certificate granted by specially empowered Subordinate Judge if may be revoked by District Judge otherwise than in appeal.—Reg V of 1799 jurisdiction under nature of. The fact that no appeal has been preferred against an order of a Subordinate Judge (who has been invested with the powers of a District Court under the Succession Certificate Act) granting a certificate is no bar to its revocation at any time when the circumstances enumerated in s 18 of the Act are proved. The revocation must in such a case be ordinarily made by the Subordinate Judge when he is still exercising that jurisdiction in the district. The District Judge has in such circumstances no jurisdiction to make the revocation except where the case having been instituted and being pending before the Subordinate Judge has been withdrawn by the District Judge. The jurisdiction of the District Judge under Reg V of 1799 is more administrative than judicial. He can act thereunder only when there is no claimant and acting under that Regulation he is bound to respect the order granting a certificate until the same was revoked by a competent authority. SURHA BEWA : SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1914)

19 C W N 551

s 19—Certificate granted ex parte without notice having been served on the opposite party.—Remedy available to the opposite party.—Appeal.—Proof of service of notice. The widow of a Hindu applied for a succession certificate for the collection of certain debts due to her deceased husband. She named amongst others as a party likely to be interested in the proceedings one Radhe Lal a brother of the deceased. Attempts were made to serve notice of the application on Radhe Lal but apparently without success and ultimately the application was heard ex parte and a certificate granted to the widow. Radhe Lal then appeared and filed an appeal against the grant alleging that he had in fact received no notice of the application and that he had a good objection to the granting of a certificate to the widow inasmuch as the deceased and himself were members of a joint Hindu family. Held

SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE ACT (VII OF 1889)—concld

s 19—concld

that the appellant was entitled to come to court by way of appeal and was not bound to file an application to revoke the certificate. Held also that the fact that a registered notice is returned endorsed 'refused' is not by itself evidence that it was tendered to the person to whom it was addressed. BINDO v RADHE LAL

I L R 42 All 512

s 19 26—Munsif invested with functions of District Court—Appeal—Jurisdiction. Held that an appeal from an order of a Munsif invested under s 26 of the Succession Certificate Act 1889 with the functions of a District Court lies to the District Judge and cannot be transferred for disposal to any other Court such as the Subordinate Judge or Judge of the Small Cause Court not empowered under s 56. HUFAN BIR v HIRGAN BIBI (1911) I L R 34 All 149

s 25 and 26—

Ser s 9 I L R 35 Bom 22

SUCCESSION (PROPERTY PROTECTION) ACT (XIX OF 1841)

See CUPAT PACT 1841

See RECEIVER I L R 37 Cal 754

SUCCESSION DUTY

See PROBATE I L R 43 Cal 695

SUCCESSIVE ADOPTION

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION I L R 39 Cal 552

SUCCESSOR

Final order by—

See COURT MEANING OF I L R 37 Cal 642

SUDDER DEWANY ADALAT

See CONTEMPT OF COURT I L R 41 Cal 13

SUDDER NIZAMUT ADALAT

See CONTEMPT OF COURT I L R 41 Cal 173

SUDRAS

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE I L R 34 Bom 321 553

I L R 40 Cal 543

See YATI I L R 40 Mad 846

Illegitimate sons of—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE I L R 40 Bom 369

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION I L R 39 Mad 136

I L R 44 Bom 183

Leva Kunbis of Changdev in the East Khandesh District—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION I L R 44 Bom 166

SUFFICIENT CAUSE

- For allowing appeal out of time
See LIMITATION
 L R 44 I A 218
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
 ART 15 I L R 43 Bom 376

SUICIDE

- abatement of—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
 s 306 I L R 35 All 25
 — by prison r on bail—
See BAIL BOND 16 C W N 550
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
 OF 1898) s 114 (5)
 I L R 37 Mad 153

SUIT

- See* ABATEMENT OF SUIT
See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 188
 I L R 38 Calc 270
See FRAUD I L R 37 All 535
See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII
 OF 1890) ss 12 24 25
 I L R 37 All 515
See INDEMNITY BOND
 I L R 41 All 395
See NOTICE I L R 48 Calc 45
See PARTITION I L R 45 Calc 873
See PRE EMPTION I L R 37 All 529
See RECEIVER I L R 46 Calc 70 352
See RES JUDICATA I L R 37 All 485
See REVIEW APPLICATION FOR
 I L R 40 Calc 541
See SUIT FOR CANCELLATION OF DOCUMENT
 — abatement of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
 O XXII R 4 I L R 41 All 283
See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT s 16
 I L R 43 Mad 342
See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
 I L R 33 Mad 162
 — above Rs 5000—
See JURISDICTION I L R 33 Calc 926
 — Arrears claimed paid subsequent to suit to co-Lessor
See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 198
 I L R 3 All 448
 — by heir for recovery of her share—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)
 SCH I ART 6 I L R 37 All 434
 — by a Hindu widow competency of transferee to continue—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)
 SCH I ARTS 13 75
 I L R 39 Mad 951

SUIT—contd

- by minor for possession—
See MINOR I L R 38 All 154
 — by reversioner—
See HINDU LAW—WILL
 I L R 37 All 422
 — by reversioner to set aside adoption—
See ADOPTION I L R 37 All 498
 — by zemindar to recover hadd cess etc—
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
 ACT 1887 SCH II ART 13
 I L R 40 All 663
 — Against Railway Company for loss or damage to goods—
See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ART 31
 I L R 42 All 890
See RAILWAY COMPANY
 I L R 42 All 655
 — by Rent free grantee to recover
 possession—
See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS I L R 42 All 412
 — dismissal of for Plaintiff's non appearance—Inherent power of Court to restorer—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1908—
 O IV R 8 I L R 44 Bom 88
 O XVII R 1 I L R 44 Bom 787
 — dismissal of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—
 O V R 3 O IX R 12
 I L R 39 All 476
 O IX R 2 I L R 38 All 357
 O IX RR 3 AND 6
 I L R 40 All 590
 O IX RR 8 AND 9
 I L R 34 All 428
 O IX RR 8 9 O XVII RR 3 9
 I L R 35 All 331
 O XI R 21 I L R 38 All 5
 O XVII R 3 O IX R 4
 I L R 34 All 123
 — for account—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
 ART 116 I L R 39 All 355
 — for dissolution of partnership—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
 XVII R 4 I L R 39 All 551
 — for joint possession—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
 ARTS 138 144 I L R 39 All 460
 — for judicial separation—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 83
 I L R 39 All 377

SUIT—contd

for declaration of title—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)
s 42 I L R 37 All 185

for ejectment—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
ss 38 177 (c) I L R 38 All 465

for money had and received—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)
ARTS 29 36 120 I L R 39 All 322
ART 62 I L R 37 All 40 233
I L R 38 All 676

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (VI of 1907) s 16 (1) I L R 41 Mad 923

for possession and mesne profits—

See LIMITATION ACT 1903 SCH. ART 109
I L R 39 All 200

for possession of land—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 28
ART 47 I L R 38 Mad 432

for profits—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
XXVI RR 9 16 17 18
I L R 39 All 694

See LAMB REAR AND CO SHARER
I L R 41 All 316

for redemption of mortgage—

See COURT FEE I L R 39 All 452
See MORTGAGE I L R 38 All 148

for refund of purchase money—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
XXI RR 92 93
I L R 39 All 114

for rent under registered agreement—

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 101

for damages for ejectment—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
25 E W N 930

for malicious prosecution—

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION for money paid by mistake under coercion—

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 72
I L R 43 All 272

for money due under an award—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES ACT
1897 SCH II ART 24
I L R 42 All 169

for profits—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 164
I L R 42 All 414
I L R 43 All 29 177

for possession—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
s 47 I L R 43 All 170

SUIT—contd

for refund of price on account of short delivery—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 0
I L R 42 All 480

for return of moveable property deposited for safe custody—

See LIMITATION ACT 1903 SCH I ART 49
I L R 42 All 48

for a sum payable periodically—

See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 7 (ii)
SCH II ART 17 (iii)
I L R 42 All 353

in forma pauperis—

See PAUPER SUIT I L R 46 Cal 651

institution of in wrong Court—

See LIMITATION I L R 47 Cal 300

maintainability of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 9
I L R 37 All 313

on a foreign judgment—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
s 13 I L R 41 All 421

on lost bond—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 All 475

place to institution—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 20
I L R 39 All 365

subject matter of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT 1 of 1908) O XXIII RR 1 2 AND 6
I L R 34 Bom 638

to enforce payment of money charged upon immovable property—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 11
I ART 132 I L R 37 All 400

to recover money deposited with Bank—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 11
I ART 60 I L R 37 All 172

to recover property held—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 11
I ARTS 49 60 AND 145
I L R 42 All 843

to obtain refund of octroi duty—

See U P MUNICIPALITIES ACT 1910
s 376 I L R 42 All 207

to recover revenue paid on an order revised on appeal—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 11 ART
61 I L R 42 All 61

to enforce an award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s
49 AND 101 (1) (5) SCH II PART
20 AND 21 I L R 43 All 103

SUIT—contd

to establish right of worship and procession in street—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 9
I L R 44 Bom 410

to set aside adoption—

See ADOPTION I L R 37 Cal 860 to set aside decree against minor—

See MINOR I L R 23 All 452

to set aside decree on the ground of fraud—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 30 (c)
I L R 39 All 607

transfer of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 24
I L R 41 All 381

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (IX of 1887) s 17
I L R 23 All 425

valuation of—

See BENGAL N W P AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT (XII of 1887) s 21
I L R 32 All 222

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—
O XXI R 63 I L R 38 All 72

R 60 I L R 40 All 505

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 115
I L R 39 All 723

withdrawal of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
O XXIII R 11 I L R 37 All 328

I L R 42 Bom 155

R 1 s 110 I L R 40 All 612

See PARTITION I L R 37 All 155

1 Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 30 (b) 37 105 107 109—
Whether an application under s 105 of the Act a suit—Withdrawal of an application under that section effect of—Subsequent suit for enhancement of rent under s 30 (b) whether maintainable. An application under s 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act cannot be regarded as a suit. Upadhyaya Thakur v Perandh Singh I L R 23 Cal 723 referred to. Therefore although an application under s 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was previously withdrawn without liberty to make a fresh application a subsequent suit for enhancement of rent under s 30 (b) of the Act is maintainable. The provisions of either s 37 or 109 of the Act are not applicable to such a case. Choudhury v Tulsi Singh (1917) I L R 40 Cal 428

2 Limitation—
Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 104H sub s (2) 181 185—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 9 15 applicability of—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 80 A instituted a suit under s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act against the Secretary of State for India in Council on the 10th December 1910 in respect of a village the Record of Rights of which was finally published on the 2nd June 1910. A took exception to the latter. Prior to the institution of the suit A served a notice on the defendant as required by s 80 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held that the suit was barred by limitation. Held also that s 15 sub s

SUIT—contd

() of the Limitation Act which was made applicable to suits appeals and applications mentioned in Sch III annexed to the Bengal Tenancy Act by virtue of s 180 sub s (2) could not possibly apply to suits instituted under s 104H which were not mentioned in Sch III. On a plain reading of the provisions of s 185 of the Bengal Tenancy Act along with s 16 sub s (2) of the Limitation Act the latter could not be applied to extend the period of six months provided for the institution of suits under s 104H of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Radha shyam Kar v Dinabandhu Biswas 18 C N N 31 18 C L J 533 Sharoop Dass Mondal v Jogesur Roy Chowdhry I L R 36 Cal 664 Dulhin Mathura Das Koer v Banendhar Singh 16 C N N 204 Srinivasa Ayyangar v The Secretary of State for India I L R 38 Mad 99 referred to. Dropadi v Hira Lal I L R 34 All 496 distinguished. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v GARGADHAR NANDA (1917) I L R 45 Cal 934

SUIT FOR CANCELLATION OF DOCUMENT

Sale deed—Alleged illegality of transaction—Sale by one deed of fixed rate and occupancy holdings The plaintiff by one and the same sale deed purported to transfer (i) a fixed rate holding and (ii) part of an occupancy holding. Held that he was not entitled to a decree setting aside the sale deed merely because part of the property covered by it was by law not transferable. BAJRANGI LAL v GHURA RAI (1916) I L R 38 All 232

SUIT FOR DECLARATION OF RIGHT

See HIGHWAY I L R 43 All 692

SUIT FOR LAND

See POSSESSION

See SUIT

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Cal 942

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

I L R 39 Cal 739

for recovery of possession and mesne profits—Litigation prolonged by defendant in prosecution appeal and mesne profits swelling to amount exceeding pecuniary jurisdiction of Original Court and = filing of plaint in another Court—Proceedings in latter Court if continuation of original suit—Limitation. Where a person sues for recovery of possession he can in the same suit recover mesne profits which have accrued before the suit and those accruing pending the litigation. The fact that owing to the prosecution of appeal in higher Courts by the Defendant the mesne profits swell up to an amount beyond the limits of the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court which tried the suit originally thereby necessitating the transfer of the proceedings in the suit to a Court of higher jurisdiction does not amount to an interruption so as to make the subsequent proceeding in the higher Court a different suit. BAI KUNTHA NATH KUNDU v MOHANAN DO BORAT MODUK 24 C W N 342

SUIT FOR PROFIT

See AGRICULTURE ACT 1901

s 701 I L R 43 All 697

s 161 I L R 43 All 29 177

SUIT FOR RENT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 196
I L R 43 ALL 448

Rent reserved—Com

pany's Sica rupees ambiguity of expression—Sikka or Sica Rupee and Company's Rupee meaning and history of and difference between In a kabulyat dated the 8th July 1850 the annual rent reserved was stated to be Company's sica rupees 96 Held that the expression Com pany's sica rupees mentioned in that document meant rupees in current coin and not sica rupee Per CURRIE The course of conduct the date of the document the stamp duty and the refer ence to current coin in the sentence referring to the Stamp Act lead us to the conclusion that in this case the rent annually payable is not the equivalent of 96 sica rupees but is 96 rupees in current coin Ram Saran Singh v Gyan Singh 6 C L J 637 Ram Khetum Singh v Kumar Pas 6 C L J 667 Rameswar Koer v Gorderhan Lal 7 C L J 202 Mr Tapurah Hossein v Gopi Narayan 7 C L J 261 and Raja Kamaleswari Pershad Singh v Ramhari Singh 19 C L J 348 referred to MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v JADAB CHANDRA GHOSH HAZRA (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 347

Suit for rent—Claim

for abatement of rent on the ground of eviction from a portion of the land by a person not having a title paramount—Eviction by title paramount mean ing of—Physical dispossession of necessary to amount to eviction—Suit by stranger against tenant and allotment by latter to former in respect of a portion of the tenure under Court's decree—Onus to prove eviction by title paramount is on landlord An execution purchaser of some decretal lands obtained delivery of khas possession of the lands through Court and let out a portion thereof to B Subsequently the Government settled with a third party some lands including a portion of the lands let out by the said execution purcha ser The Government lessee on the strength of the settlement sued B alone for recovery of the said lands and got a decree which provided that being a bona fide tenant B should not be ejected but should pay rent to the Government lessee in respect of the lands of which he was in pos ses sion Subsequently the aforesaid execution purchaser brought a suit for rent against B who claimed proportionate abatement of rent in respect of the said portion Held that in order to be entitled to proportionate abatement of rent forcible expulsion is not necessary nor is it neces sary that the tenant should actually go out of possession and if upon a claim being made by a person with a title paramount he consents by an attornment to such person to change the title under which he holds or enters into a new arrangement for holding under him this will be equivalent to an eviction and a fresh taking But an eviction whether actual or constructive must be by a party with a title paramount The Government lessee had no doubt obtained a decree against B but that was not sufficient to show that he had a title superior to that of the execution purchaser Nor was the onus to prove that the Government lessee had no title shifted on the execution purchaser in consequence of such a decree BANKU BEHARI GHOSH v MADAN MONOH ROY

26 C W N 143

SUIT IN FORMA PAUPERIS

See PAUPER SUIT

SUIT TO SET ASIDE A DECREE

Fraud—Personal serv

—conduct of Plaintiff The mere fact that personal service of a summons has not been effected on a defendant will not render the proceedings against him absolutely abortive But where the non service is due to the fraudulent conduct of the plaintiff in the suit and others acting with him and a decree is thereby obtained such decree may be set aside as fraudulent TIKA PAM v DALPAT RAM I L R 111 ALL 145

Fraud—What consti tutes fraud—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1880) s 90—Application for a decree under s 90 without informing Court of previous refusal to grant such a decree Certain mortgagees instituted a suit for sale on a mortgage and also asked in their plaint for a personal decree against the mortgagors under s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act 1880 The Court in that suit granted the plaintiffs decree for sale but refused them the decree asked for under s 90 Some years afterwards the plaintiffs again applied for a decree under s 90 Notice of this application was duly served upon all the judgment debtors They did not appear and the Court granted a decree but limited it to the assets of the deceased mortgagor The judgment debtors then filed a suit to have this decree set aside on the ground of fraud the fraud alleged being mainly that the decree holders had not brought to the notice of the Court the fact that they had once before applied for and been refused a decree under s 90 Held that the neglect to inform the Court of the fact that there had been a previous attempt at another stage of the litigation to get a personal decree even assuming that the neglect was wilful could not amount to fraud which would entitle the plaintiffs to set aside the decree which was obtained by the defendants under s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act PAM RATAN LAL v BIRJI BEGAM I L R 38 ALL 7

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887)—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873) ss 12 13
I L R 39 Mad 447

s 3—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT 18 3
s 14 I L R 41 Mad 721

s 4—

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1860) Sec II ART 17 I L R 39 Mad 611

s 8—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT
I L R 44 Calc 890

See COURT FEE
I L R 40 Calc 215 615

See COURT FEES ACT 18 0 s 7
I L R 44 Bom 331
I L R 45 Bom 567

See JURISDICTION
I L R 38 Mad 795
15 C W N 523

I L R 34 Bom 267
See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887)—*contd*s 8—contd

See LIMITATION ACT SCH I ART 152

I L R 43 Bom 378

See SECOND APPEAL 15 C W N 454

See VALUATION OF SUIT

I L R 43 Bom 507

Court Fees Act (VII of 1887) s 7 sub s X cl (c)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s 8—Court fees payable on suit for specific performance of contract of lease A suit for specific performance of a contract to grant a lease was valued at Rs 100 for determining jurisdiction of the Court and at Rs 32 for purpose of payment of Court fees this being the amount of rent annually payable under the contract of tenancy sought to be enforced. A second appeal arising out of the suit was filed in the High Court and valued at Rs 32 only. On a reference under sec 5 of the Court Fees Act Held that the court fees paid were sufficient. The value for the payment of Court fees was correctly assessed at Rs 32 under sec 7 of the Court Fees Act and the value for the purpose of jurisdiction was consequently only Rs 32 under sec 8 of the Suits Valuation Act. The right construction of sec 8 of the Suits Valuation Act is that the valuation for the purpose of jurisdiction should in the cases mentioned there follow and be the same as valuation for Court fees. The procedure to be adopted in cases of this character is to value the suit first for payment of Court fees in accordance with the rule embodied in sec 7 sub sec (X) cl (c) of the Court Fees Act and then to adopt the value so determined for the computation of Court fees as the value for purposes of jurisdiction. SAILENDRA NATH MITRA v. PAM CHANDRA PAL

25 C W N 768

s 11—

See BYGONE AGRA AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT 1887 4 Pat L J 447

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 104

O XLIII R 10 (a)

I L R 36 All 58

See PRESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

I L R 34 Bom 236

See VALUATION OF SUIT

5 Pat L J 397

SUMMARY CESS

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART 144

I L R 36 Bom 174

SUMMARY DISMISSAL

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XLI R 11

I L R 36 Bom 116

SUMMARY EVICTION

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT I OF 1879) s 79A

I L R 25 Bom 72

SUMMARY JURISDICTION

II

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) s 72

I L R 35 All 173

SUMMARY PROCEDURE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE ss 200 to 265

On negotiable instruments—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

O XXXIII

See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT

I L R 40 Calc 249

SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS

See CONTENT OF COURT

I L R 41 Calc 173

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

I L R 41 Calc 113

SUMMARY RELIEF

See COMPANY I L R 47 Calc 901

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT

See INAM LANDS I L R 35 Bom 22

See KADIM INAMDAR

I L R 42 Bom 112

Inam Dharmadaya—Sanads—
Bombay—See POMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
(X OF 1866) s 12

I L R 45 Bom 463

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT VII OF 1863)

See REGULATION XXI OF 1861

I L R 38 Bom 272

Land granted to a mosque—At summary settlement land continued to the mosque on payment of annual quit rent—Alienation of land by mutawals of the mosque—Full assessment cannot be demanded by Government from the alienee At the time of the summary settlement held in 1879 the land in dispute which had been granted to a mosque was continued on payment to Government of an annual quit rent under the Sanad which ran as follows—By Act VII of 1863 of the Bombay Legislative Council it hereby declared that the said land subject to the payment to Government of an annual quit rent of Rs 17 8 0 seven teen and annas eight only shall be continued forever by the British Government as the endowment property of the Jumma Masjid without increase of the said quit rent but on the condition that managers thereof shall continue loyal and faithful subjects of the British Government. Nearly sixty years before suit the then manager of the mosque alienated it was assumed that the alienation was unlawful the land to a stranger. From 1912 onwards the Government levied full assessment on the land in the hands of the alienee. A suit having been brought to recover the extra assessment so levied Held by SHAH and HAYWARD JJ (HATTON J dissenting) that the provisions of the Summary Settlement Act 1863 and the terms of the Sanad pointed to the conclusion that the condition that the land must continue to be the property of the mosque in order that the holder for the time being may have the benefit of the exemption from settlement allowed by the Sanad could not be implied and that the Government did not get any right

SUIT FOR RENT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901, s 198
I L R 43 All 448

Rent reserved—Com

pany's Sica rupees—ambiguity of expression—Sikka or Sica Rupee and Company's Rupee, meaning and history of and difference between. In a kabuliyat dated the 8th July 1850 the annual rent reserved was stated to be Company's sica rupees 96. Held that the expression Company's sica rupees mentioned in that document meant rupees in current coin and not sica rupees. PER CURIAM. The course of conduct the date of the document the stamp duty and the reference to current coin in the sentence referring to the Stamp Act lead us to the conclusion that in this case the rent annually payable is not the equivalent of 96 sica rupees but is 96 rupees in current coin. Ram Saran Singh v Gyan Singh 1 O I J 637. Ram Ahluwam Singh v Kumar Rai 6 C L J 667. Rameswar Aker v Gobar Khan Lal 7 C L J 202. Mir Tapurah Hossein v Gopi Narayan 7 C L J 251 and Raja Kamaleswari Pershad Singh v Ramhari Singh 19 C L J 348 referred to. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v JADAB CHANDRA GHOSH HAZRA (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 347

Suit for rent—Claim for abatement of rent on the ground of eviction from a portion of the land by a person not having a title paramount—Eviction by title paramount meaning of—Physical dispossession if necessary to amount to eviction—Suit by stranger against tenant and allotment by latter to former in respect of a portion of the tenure under Court's decree—Onus to prove eviction by title paramount if on landlord. An execution purchaser of some decretal lands obtained delivery of khas possession of the lands through Court and let out a portion thereof to B. Subsequently the Government settled with a third party some lands including a portion of the lands let out by the said execution purchaser. The Government lessee on the strength of the settlement sued B alone for recovery of the said lands and got a decree which provided that being a bond fide tenant B should not be ejected but should pay rent to the Government lessee in respect of the lands of which he was in possession. Subsequently the aforeaid execution purchaser brought a suit for rent against B who claimed proportionate abatement of rent in respect of the said portion. Held that in order to be entitled to proportionate abatement of rent forcible expulsion is not necessary nor is it necessary that the tenant should actually go out of possession and if upon a claim being made by a person with a title paramount he consents by an attornment to such person to change the title under which he holds or enters into a new arrangement for holding under him this will be equivalent to an eviction and a fresh taking. But an eviction whether actual or constructive must be by a party with a title paramount. The Government lessee had no doubt obtained a decree against B but that was not sufficient to show that he had a title superior to that of the execution purchaser. Nor was the onus to prove that the Government lessee had no title shifted on the execution purchaser in consequence of such a decree. BANKU BEHARI GHOSH v MADAN MONOH ROY

26 C W N 143

SUIT IN FORMA PAUPERIS

See PAUPER SUIT

SUIT TO SET ASIDE A DECREE

Fraud—Personal service

—conduct of Plaintiff. The mere fact that personal service of a summons has not been effected on a defendant will not render the proceedings against him absolutely abortive. But where the personal service is due to the fraudulent conduct of the plaintiff in the suit and others acting with him and a decree is thereby obtained such decree may be set aside as fraudulent. TIKA RAM v DAULAT RAM
I L R 111 All 145

Fraud—What constitutes fraud—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1880)

s 90—Application for a decree under s 90 without informing Court of previous refusal to grant such a decree. Certain mortgagees instituted a suit for sale on a mortgage and also asked in their plaint for a personal decree against the mortgagors under s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act 1880. The Court in that suit granted the plaintiffs decree for sale but refused them the decree asked for under s 90. Some years afterwards the plaintiffs again applied for a decree under s 90. Notice of this application was duly served upon all the judgment debtors. They did not appear and the Court granted a decree but limited it to the assets of the deceased mortgagor. The judgment debtors then filed a suit to have this decree set aside on the ground of fraud. The fraud alleged was being mainly that the decree holders had not brought to the notice of the Court the fact that they had once before applied for and been refused a decree under s 90. Held that the neglect to inform the Court of the fact that there had been a previous attempt at another stage of the litigation to get a personal decree even assuming that the neglect was wilful could not amount to fraud which would entitle the plaintiffs to set aside the decree which was obtained by the defendants under s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act. PANU RATAN LAL v BHURI BEGUM (1915)

I L R 38 All 7

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887)—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III of 1873) ss 12 13
I L R 39 Mad 447

s 3—

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT s 14
I L R 41 Mad 721

s 4—

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 180) FCN II ART 17
I L R 39 Mad 612

s 8—

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT
I L R 44 Cal 690

See COURT FEE
I L R 40 Cal 245 615

See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 7
I L R 41 Bom 331
I L R 45 Bom 567

See JURISDICTION
I L R 38 Mad 795
15 C W N 523
I L R 38 Bom 267

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS

SUITS VALUATION ACT (VII OF 1887)—

contd

s. 8—contd.

See LIMITATION ACT SCH I ART 152

I L R 43 Bom 376

See SECOND APPEAL 15 C W N 454

See VALUATION OF SUIT

I L R 43 Bom 507

Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s. 7 sub s. X cl (c)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s. 8—Court fees payable in suit for specific performance of contract of lease A suit for specific performance of a contract to grant a lease was valued at Rs 1 00 for determining jurisdiction of the Court and at Rs 32 for purpose of payment of Court fees this being the amount of rent annually payable under the contract of tenancy sought to be enforced. A second appeal arising out of the suit was filed in the High Court and valued at Rs 32 only. On a reference under sec 5 of the Court Fees Act Held that the court fees paid were sufficient. The value for the payment of Court fees was correctly as set at Rs 32 under sec 7 of the Court Fees Act and the value for the purpose of jurisdiction was consequently only Rs 32 under sec 8 of the Suits Valuation Act. The right construction of sec 8 of the Suits Valuation Act is that the valuation for the purpose of jurisdiction should in the cases mentioned there follow and be the same as valuation for Court fees. The procedure to be adopted in cases of this character is to value the suit first for payment of Court fees in accordance with the rule embodied in sec 7 sub sec (X) cl (c) of the Court Fees Act and then to adopt the value so determined for the computation of Court fees as the value for purposes of jurisdiction. SAILENDRA NATH MITRA v. PAM CHANDRA PAL

25 C W N 768

s. 11—

See BYGONE AGRA AND ASSAM CIVIL COURTS ACT 1887 4 Pat. L J 447

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 104

O XLIII R 10 (a)

I L R 36 All 58

See RESTITUTION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS

I L R 34 Bom 236

See VALUATION OF SUIT

II Pat. L J 397

SUMMARY CESS

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART 144

I L R 36 Bom 174

SUMMARY DISMISSAL

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XLII R 11

I L R 36 Bom 118

SUMMARY EVICTION

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s. 79A

I L R 35 Bom 72

SUMMARY JURISDICTION

II

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) s. 72

I L R 35 All 173

SUMMARY PROCEDURE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE ss 200 to 265

On negotiable instruments—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

O XXXVII

See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT

I L R 46 Calc 249

SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS

See CONTENT OF COURT

I L R 41 Calc 173

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

I L R 41 Calc 118

SUMMARY RELIEF

See COMPANY

I L R 47 Calc 601

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT

See INAM LANDS I L P III Bom 272

See KADIM INAVDAR

I L R 42 Bom 112

Inam

Dharmadja—Sanads—

Bombay—

See LOMBARD REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876) s. 12

I L R 45 Bom 463

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT VII OF 1863)

See PECULATION XXI OF 1871

I L R 38 Bom 272

Land granted to a mosque—At summary settlement land continued to the mosque on payment of annual quit rent. Alienation of land by mutawals of the mosque. Full assessment cannot be demanded by Government from the alienee. At the time of the summary settlement held in 1879 the land in dispute which had been granted to a mosque was continued on payment to Government of an annual quit rent under the Sanad which ran as follows — By Act VII of 1863 of the Bombay Legislative Council it hereby declared that the said land subject to the payment to Government of an annual quit rent of Rs 1780 seven teen and annas eight only shall be continued forever by the British Government as the endowment property of the Jumma Masjid without increase of the said quit rent but on the condition that managers thereof shall continue loyal and faithful subjects of the British Government. Nearly sixty years before suit the then manager of the mosque alienated (it was assumed that the alienation was unlawful) the land to a stranger. From 1912 onwards the Government levied full assessment on the land in the hands of the alienee. A suit having been brought to recover the extra assessment so levied Held by SHAH and HAYWARD JJ (HEATON J dissenting) that the provisions of the Summary Settlement Act 1863 and the terms of the Sanad pointed to the conclusion that the condition that the land must continue to be the property of the mosque in order that the holder for the time being may have the benefit of the exemption from settlement allowed by the Sanad could not be implied and that the Government did not get any right

SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT VII OF 1863)—contd

under the Sanad to levy the full assessment even when the property ceased to be the endowment property otherwise than by a lawful alienation
SHANKAPAL TAPIDAS : THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918) I L R 43 Bom 583

SUMMARY TRIAL

See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT 1859 ■ 2 I L R 43 All 281

— outside British India—

See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT
 I L R 39 Mad 942

1 ————— Recording of evidence in non appealable cases—Destruction by Magistrate of his notes of the evidence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 263 and 355 ss 263 and 355 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be read together. If the Magistrate is unable at the commencement of the trial to determine whether the proper sentence to be passed should be an appealable one or not, he must make a memorandum of the substance of the evidence of each witness as his examination proceeds. But if he can at this stage determine that the sentence will be in any event non appealable, he need not record the evidence. If however he actually does so, the notes of the evidence form part of the record of the case and cannot be destroyed by him. Where the Magistrate had destroyed such record the High Court was unable to form an opinion on the propriety of the conviction and set it aside Jagdish Prasad Lal v Emperor 21 Cr L J 229 approved SATISH CHANDRA MITRA v MAN MATHA NATH MITRA (1920)
 I L R 48 Calc 280

2 ————— Charge if should be drawn up in
 Although in a summary trial the Magistrate need not frame a formal charge, still he must specify the offence charged in such a way as will give sufficient notice to the accused—
JHARU SINGH v KING EMPEROR (1912)
 16 Q W N 696

3 ————— Warrant Case—Omission to examine the accused—Charge—Accusation of house breaking by night to commit theft—Fixing of different intent—Necessity of charge specifying the same—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 263 342 ss 263 of the Criminal Procedure Code is governed by s 342 and there must therefore be an examination of the accused in all warrant cases, the words "if any" in cl (g) of the former section not being applicable to such cases. Where the case against the accused is one of theft or house breaking to commit theft and the Magistrate finds that it has broken down but that there is another object apparent on the evidence, it is his duty to give the accused notice of that by drawing up a charge clearly stating what it is that he is accused of doing—
MAHAMED HOSSEIN v EMPEROR (1914)
 I L R 41 Calc 743

SUMMONS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

O v R L. I L R 35 All 538
 I L R 33 All 649

SUMMONS—contd

See PEVAL CODE (Act V of 1860)
 ■ 173 I L R 40 All 577

See THIRD PARTY NOTICE.
 I L R 45 Bom 111

— non service of—

See RIGHT OF SUIT
 I L R 37 Calc 197

— service of—

See FRAUD I L R 33 All 145

See PRACTICE I L R 35 Bom 213

— to accused to produce document in thing

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1898) ■ I L R 37 Mad 119

— Service of summons—Indian Marine Service—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O v R 15 17 and 27—Ex parte decree—Officer or mechanic in the employ of the Indian Marine Under the Civil Procedure Code an officer or mechanic in the employ of the Indian Marine is subject to exactly the same rules as any other person in regards service of summons. They come within the operation of rules 15 and 17 of O v of the Code of Civil Procedure INTU MEAN MISTRY v DARBESH BHUTAN (1914) I L R 42 Calc 67

SUMMONS CASE

— Magistrate bound to examine accused before convicting him—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1898) ■ 342 I L R 45 Bom 6,2 — procedure that of warrant case—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1898) ■ 256
 I L R 39 Mad 503

SUMMONS SERVICE OF

— Substituted service—Due and reasonable diligence—Practice—Appel from order refusing to set aside ex parte decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O v R 19
 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O v R 19
 17 O IX ■ 13—Costs For substituted service of summons to be effective it is essential that the requirements of the rules of the Code should be strictly observed. Knowledge of the institution of the suit derived by the defendant alone is not sufficient in the absence of proper service of the summons. Where the serving officer on three separate occasions went to the place of business of the defendant a firm under the erroneous belief that it was his ordinary place of residence and asked for the defendant and on not finding him posted a copy of the writ of summons on the outer door of the premises. Held that this was not sufficient service. Proper enquiries and real and substantial effort should be made to find out when and where the defendant is likely to be found. Cohen v Nursing Dass Auddy I L R 19 Calc 201 followed KASSIM ELMARH SALEHI v JOHNMULL AHMEDIA (1915)
 I L R 43 Calc 417

— Under the Civil Procedure Code an officer or mechanic in the employ

SUMMONS SERVICE OF—contd

of the Indian Marine is subject to the same rules as regards service of summons. They come within rr 16 and 17 of O V Intu Vazha Mistry. ■ DARDLE H BRIDMAN

I L R 42 Calc 67

SUMMONS TO PRODUCE DOCUMENTS

Books of a firm—Materials on which such order may be made—Complaint and subsequent application for summons and examinations of complainant thereon—Improprity of service—Directions to Magistrate to decide what books were necessary for the purpose of the enquiry—Directions as to mode of inspection—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) s 94 Where a complaint was made against a certain person before the Chief Presidency Magistrate who examined the complainant and directed a local investigation and an application was made thereafter by the complainant for summons under s 94 of the Criminal Procedure Code and granted after his further examination thereon—Held that there were sufficient materials on which an order under s 94 could properly be made and that it was so made. Where in obedience to a previous order of the High Court the Magistrate a head clerk delivered certain books to M who gave a receipt for them as the agent of the petitioner but the latter further appointed Q without the knowledge of the Magistrate to take them over immediately from M—Held that the summons under s 94 was properly served on M and even if it was not so that the High Court would not order the return of the books to the petitioner but would direct the issue of an amended summons to be served on him. The High Court directed the Magistrate to inquire and determine in the presence of the petitioner how many and which of the books were necessary for the purposes of the complaint before him taking into consideration any under taking given by the petitioner for production of the books as required but which he now ordered to be returned. The Magistrate was further directed to give definite instructions as to when and where and by which officer the inspection was to be held. The inspection was also directed to be made in the presence of the petitioner. T R PRATT v EXEMOR (1920)

I L R 47 Calc 647

SUNDARBANS

See BENGAL TENANCY

I L R 48 Calc 473

Lessee from Government of lands in—Permanent tenure granted by lessee—Condition that rent will not abate in case of diluvion if valid—Onus of proof—Reg III of 1828 s 13 Where tenants took a permanent lease of lands in the Sundarbans stipulating that we shall not object to the payment of rent on the ground of drought inundation death desertion overflow of salt water diluviation by river etc. Held that it was for the tenants if they impeached this stipulation as being inconsistent with the provisions of s 52 of the Bengal Tenancy Act to establish that the tenure was not situated in a permanently settled area ■ 13 of Reg III of 1828 does not ignore or invalidate any permanent settlements made by Government before 1828.

SUNDARBANS—contd

It also authorises similar settlements subsequently made by Government. It is therefore erroneous to hold that there could not be a permanent tenure in the Sundarbans. That the stipulation barred not only a plea of reduction of rent in defence but also a suit for abatement of rent. KUTTRANAYI DASI v JIBAN KRISHNA HUNDU (1914) 19 C W N 546

SUNNIS

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE

I L R 38 All 458

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 41 All 562

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 34 All 478

SUPERFLUOUS MATTER

See COSTS I L R 47 Calc 415

SUPERINTENDENCE

See CROSS EXAMINATION

5 Pat L J 545

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT 1915

3 Pat L J 581

See DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT

4 Pat L J 277

See JURISDICTION

4 Pat L J 154

See RECEIVER

4 Pat L J 20

High Court Powers of—

See GOVERNMENT OF INDIA ACT 1915
s 107 1 Pat L J 38 465 and 576

Interlocutory order—Interference with—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ■ 32
■ Pat L J 550

SUPERINTENDENT

See TRUST I L R 41 Calc 19

SUPERSTITIOUS BELIEF

See PENAL CODE ■ 304
25 C W N 676

SUPPLEMENTARY AFFIDAVIT

See CONTENT OF COURT
I L R 41 Calc 173

SUPPORT

right of, for a building—

See EASEMENT I L R 37 Mad. 527

SUPREME COURT

See CONTENT OF COURT
I L R. 41 Calc 173

SURAT DISTRICT

See DESAIGIRY ALLOWANCE

I L R 45 Bom 948

SURETY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908
ss 55 AND 145 5 Pat L J 417■ XXVIII R 5 ss 115 145
I L R 41 Bom 402

See CONTRACT ACT 1872—

■ 126 140 I L R 42 All 70

ss to 128 147

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (V OF 1893) s 122 14 C W N 709

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

2 Pat L J 197

See FITNESS OF SURETY GROUNDS OF

I L R 44 Calc 737

See HINDU LAW (MITAKSHARA)

3 Pat L J 396

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Calc 702

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 38 Mad. 680

— attachment of property —

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1903) s 145 O XXII R 6

I L R 41 Mad 40

— discharge of —

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s
134 137 I L R 39 Bom 52

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 41 Calc 50

— fitness of —

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss
110 120

25 C W N 140

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I L R 37 Calc 91 446

— for insolvent's debt whether

"creditor"—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 37 I L R 40 Mad. 783

— liability of —

See HINDU LAW—SURETY

I L R 38 Mad 1120

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, 1898
s 514 I L R 2 Lah 294

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

I L R 44 Calc 978

— rights of, against principal debtor—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT
(XXVI OF 1881) ss 30 47 59 74 94

I L R 39 Mad. 865

SURETY—contd

— application to enforce liability against—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, s 145.
I L R 44 Bom. 54— security for good behaviour—order rejecting sureties—See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 110 AND 122 I L R 44 Bom. 355— Written agreement by surety that he would not claim his legal rights—See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 133.
I L R 45 Bom 151

1 ——— Surety to Administration Bond—Right of surety to apply for cancellation of bond on administration being completed A surety to an administration bond cannot when the administration is complete and the bond becomes void and ineffective apply to the Court to have the bond vacated and to be discharged from his suretyship There is nothing in the Indian Succession Act or in the Rules of Practice to authorise such an application In the matter of ARBUTHNOT GERALD DORTON KNIGHT (1909)
I L R 33 Mad. 213

2 ——— Father's liability as surety—Hindu Law—Whether son is liable to pay debt incurred by father as surety Under the Hindu Law a son is liable for a debt incurred by his father as a surety Tukarambhai v Gangaram Mulchand Gujar I L R 20 Bom 451 and Maharaja of Benares v Pankumar Misar I L R 6 All 611 referred to BASTI LAL MANDAL v SINGHESWAR RAI (1912)
I L R 39 Calc 843

3 ——— Promissory note executed by agent after settlement of accounts—Representatives in interests of and surety for deceased agent by principal—Surety if entitled to go behind promissory note and have account taken in his presence—Set off if can be pleaded—Interest when to run from The plaintiffs sued for the recovery of money due on a promissory note executed by their deceased agent S in their favour after settlement of accounts for the sum due to them. The defendants who were the brothers of S were sued both in their character as representatives in interests of S and as sureties for him under a surety bond executed by them in favour of the plaintiffs. The defendants disputed the amount due and claimed as set off the amount payable by the plaintiffs to their brother on account of salary The Court after taking account made a decree in favour of the plaintiffs for a smaller sum than that mentioned in the promissory note Held that the principle that as between a principal and an agent settled accounts will not be reopened unless fraud or undue influence is established is limited in its application only as between a principal and an agent and as the defendants were sued not only as representatives in interest of the deceased agent but also as sureties they were entitled to go behind the promissory note and to have the accounts examined in their presence The defendants were also competent to plead a set off S 111 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1902) does not take away from parties any right to set off whether legal or equitable which they would have independently of that Code and such right exists not only in cases of mutual debts and credits but also when cross demands arise out of the same transaction or are so connected in their nature and circumstances as to make it inequitable that the plaintiff should recover and the defendant should be driven to a cross suit. Held further that the plaintiffs were entitled to interest by way of damages from the date of the institution of the suit and not merely from the date of the decree of the Court of first instance. KALAYUND SIKOH v GUN PROSAD DAS (1913) 17 C W N 1060

SURETY—contd

4 ——— Surety bond for judgment-debtor's appearance in Court—Death of judgment debtor before time of appearance—Liability of surety Where the decree holder applied to enforce the condition of an undertaking given as surety that the judgment debtor would apply in insolvency within a specified time and that he would appear in Court whenever he was required to do so and the judgment debtor died before the time of appearance had arrived. Held that the decree holder lost his remedy against the surety. The event which occurred was not in contemplation of either party and therefore put an end to the obligation that there was under the contract. NABIN CHANDRA HAZARI v MRITUNJOY BARRIK (1913) 17 C W N 1241

5 ——— Fitness—Grounds of rejection of sureties—Reasonableness of grounds—Petitionary fitness—Want of control over principal—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 122 The grounds on which a Magistrate has power to refuse to accept a security under s 122 of the Criminal Procedure Code must be such as are valid and reasonable in the circumstances of each case as it arises. In re Soobodddhee 22 W P Cr 27 followed. Pam Pershad v King Emperor 6 C W N 593 and Adam Sheikh v Emperor 1 C W N 55. Cale 400 commented on. Jahil v Emperor 13 C W N 80. Jafar Ali Panjani v Emperor 13 C W N 37. Cale 416 referred to. Where the Magistrate found that the sureties who were the brothers of a person bound down under s 110 of the Code were peculiarly fit but that the latter was a notorious dacoit and that there was a consensus of opinion in the neighbourhood that they would not be able to keep him in control. Held that the ground of their rejection was not unreasonable in the circumstances. EMPEROR v ASIRADDI MANDAL (1914) 1 C W N 41. Cale 764

6 ——— Surety for an administrator of estate may be discharged or substituted—Surety creating charge on his immovable property, release of charge—Surety bond discharge of and substitution—Administration account if may be examined by Court Letters of Administration were granted to the estate of the deceased K a Hindu governed by the Dayabhaga law to R one of his first cousins who for purposes of such administration was also appointed guardian of deceased's infant son and J's two brothers stood surety for the administrator. The estate being a very large one the Court required the sureties to charge their immovable properties in the surety bond besides making them personally liable. The infant having died without issue and intestate his paternal grand mother succeeded to the estate as his heir. R there upon applied to Court stating that he had tendered an account of the estate as administered by him to the lady and that she had the same examined by her constituted attorneys and that they were satisfied with the account and that the residue of the estate had been made over to her and prayed that the sureties be discharged and the charge on their immovable property be also discharged. The Court ordered that on the lady's constituted attorneys filing a verified certificate together with the account or abstract thereof stating that they had examined and found it correct and on the administrator filing the receipts for the debts paid to the satisfaction of the Registrar the surety bond creating a charge on the immovable properties of the sureties would be discharged conditional upon the sureties executing a fresh security bond making themselves personally liable for the administration of the estate by the petitioner. Raj Narain Mukerjee v Ful Kumari Devi 1 C W N 29. Cale 68 referred to. The account of the administrator need not be investigated by the Court there being no procedure or practice for doing so. KANAI LAL KHAN In the goods of (1913)

SURETY—contd

18 C W N 320

7 ——— Rejection of—only on Police report—without judicial enquiry into their fitness Inquiry to be held by the Magistrate passing the order for security—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 118 122 Sureties tendered by a party bound down under s 118 of the Criminal Procedure Code should not be rejected on a police report as to their fitness but only after a judicial inquiry under s 122 and by the Magistrate who has passed the order for security. AKBAR ALI MAHOMED v EMPEROR (1914) 1 C W N 42. Cale 706

8 ——— Bail bond—Forfeiture on failure of accused to appear—Suit by surety against third person upon promise to indemnify—Contract legality of A bail bond having been forfeited owing to the failure of the accused to appear the surety sued a third person who had agreed to indemnify the surety for recovery of the amount forfeited. Held that the contract to indemnify was illegal and could not be enforced. PRASAD KUMAR CHUCKERBUTTY v PROKASH CH DUTT (1914) 19 C W N 329

9 ——— Duty of Magistrate to enquire into fitness of—each surety on evidence taken by him—Delegation of enquiry to the police or others—Rejection of sureties on a police report—Ground of rejection—Want of control—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 120 Under s 122 of the Criminal Procedure Code a Magistrate must personally hold a separate inquiry as to the fitness of each surety and decide the matter on evidence taken for the purpose and he cannot delegate to a police officer or other person the function entrusted by law to him alone. Suresh Chandra Ba v Emperor 3 C L J 575. In re Abdul Khan 10 C W N 1097. Albar Ali Mahomed v Emperor 1 C W N 42. Cale 706 and Kaini Mirza v Emperor 1 C W N 3. Cale 91 followed. Queen Empress v Perthi Pal Singh (1898) All W N 154. Emperor v Tola 1 C L J 35. Ali 2 v Emperor v Ghulam Mustafa 1 C L J 36. Ali 371 Emperor v Balkant 1 C L J 27. Ali 293 Bhawan Singh v King Emperor 12 C L J 1004. Ali 459 Emperor v Parmeshwar 1 C L J 459. Ramanand Singh v King Emperor 8 C L J 344. Jai Gobind v Emperor 13 C L J 760. King Emperor v Kaim

SURETY—conold

Khan, (1906) Punj Rec 18 Emperor v Mahro
10 Cr L J 225 Emperor v Kamal 10 Cr L J
230 Emperor v Allahdino 12 Cr L J 410
Emperor v Haji Usman 11 Cr L J 497 Prsu
Abdulla v Emperor 15 Cr L J 378 Muhammad
Ibrahim v Emperor 16 Cr L J 100 approved Want of sufficient control over the person bound down is not a valid ground for the rejection of a surety Kalu Mir a v Emperor I L R 37
Calc 91 Siva Natha v Emperor 16 Bom L R
138 Queen Empress v Rahim Baksh I L R
20 All 206 and Sheikh Zikri v Emperor 12 All
L J 785 referred to RAYAN KHAN v EMPEROR
 (1916) I L R 43 Calc 1024

10(a) ——— Money paid by for non-production of judgment debtor —f to be credit ed against decree—Judgment debtor arrested in execution of money decree and released on furnis ing security bond—Money paid by surety for non production of judgment debtor u ther to be credit ed against decree A judgment debtor arrested and imprisoned in execution of a money decree was released on furnishing security for a sum of Rs 500 the surety undertaking to produce the judgment debtor in Court in the event of his not applying to be adjudicated in insolvent within a month The judgment debtor failed to apply for adjudication as an insolvent and the surety to produce him Held that the payment of Rs 500 made by the surety was to be credited against the decree and was not to be made avail able to the decree holder orer and above his decretal amount Koylash Chandra v Christo phoridi I L R 15 Calc 171 1837 referred to SURENDRA NATH GHOSH v KESAB LAL GHOSH
 25 C W N 36

10 ——— Grounds of fitness—Pecuniary sufficiency—Inability of control—Discretionary power of the Court on the facts of each case—Propriety of the order—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 122 The question as to the fitness of a surety is one of discretion in each case and the High Court has only to consider whether the order of the Magistrate is reasonable and proper in the circumstances of the particular case Jali v Emperor 13 C W N 80 Jafar Ali Panjalia v Emperor I L R 37 Calc 446 and Emperor v Asiruddi Mandal I L R 41 Calc 764 approved Ram Pershad v King Emperor 6
C W N 593 Adam Sheikh v Emperor I L R
35 Calc 400 and Rayan Khan v Emperor I L R
43 Calc 1024 not followed ABDUL KARIM v
EMPEROR (1916) I L R 44 Calc 737

SURETY BOND

See DECREE I L R 36 Bom. 42

See SURETY

——— forfeiture of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 514
 516 14 C W N 259

——— Executed in favour of Court if pretis alienation of hypothecated pro perty—Surety bond how enforceable—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1881) ss 6, 53—Alienation for consideration on by vendor known to be indebted is bat as being in fraud of creditors—Participation is intent on necessary The execution of a security bond in favour of a Court has not the effect of

SURETY BOND—conid

avoiding all subsequent alienations The execu tant of the bond has a right to transfer the pro perties hypothecated in the surety bond subject to the lien created by him in favour of the Court
 When property is given in security and the security is sought to be enforced that should be done by bringing a suit under s 67 of the Tranfer of Property Act and it makes no difference whether the security bond is in favour of a Court or a party to a suit The mere fact that a purchase of property which has the effect of defrauding or delaying the vendor's creditors was for good con sideration is not enough to protect the purchaer
 It must also be shown that he acted in good faith
 But the mere fact of the indebtedness of the vendor or knowledge on the part of the purchaser that the sale may defeat or delay the creditors is not sufficient to negative the bona fides of the purchaser If there was good consideration and the intention to part with the whole interest is proved and it is not shown that the transfer was a mere cloak for retaining a benefit to the vendor it is valid against the creditors But if the object of the transfer is to defeat or delay his creditors and that object is known to the transferee and he aids and assists in its execution then the transfer is not in good faith KAMINI KUMAR POT v
HIRA LAL PAL CHOWDHURY (1919)
 23 C W N 789

SURETY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

——— Fitness of surety—
Pecuniary qualification but not power of control—
Grounds of rejection—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 122 In determining the fine s of a surety under a 102 of the Criminal Procedure Code the first matter to be inquired into is his ability to pay the amount of the bond in case of default by the principal but there may be other matters also to be considered as grounds of objec tion which must be dealt with in each case as it arises Where a surety is competent in a pecu niary sense the fact that he is not in a position to exercise control over the person bound down so as to ensure his good behaviour in future is not a sufficient ground for his rejection Ram Pershad
v King Emperor 6 C W N 593 Adam Sheikh v
Emperor I L R 35 Calc 400 and Jali v Emperor 13 C W N 80 referred to JAFAR ALI PANJALIA
v EMPEROR (1910) I L R 37 Calc 446

SURVEY SETTLEMENT

See LAND REVENUE CODE (Bom Act V of 1879) s 3 CL. (70) AND s 77
I L R 43 Bom 77

SURFACE WATER

See PRESCRIPTION 14 C W N 825

SURPLUS COLLECTIONS

——— suit for—
See MORTGAGE I L R 33 All 241

SURPLUS SALE PROCEEDS

See ARREARS OF REVENUE
I L R 47 Calc 331
See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 31
I L R 44 Mad. 823

SURPRISE

— doctrine of—

See RIGHT OF RETAIL

I L R 38 Calc 426

SURRENDER

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT
1898 s 35 S Pat L J 88

See EXTRADITION I L R 47 Calc 37

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 48 Calc 100

I L R 40 Mad 1035

See PAYATI HOLDINGS

I L R 47 Calc 129

— Occupancy tenancy transfer of part of—Subsequent surrender of whole or part of tenancy An occupancy raiyat who has transferred part of his non transferable holding is not competent to surrender to his landlord the portion so transferred either by surrender of that portion alone or by surrender of the whole inclusive of such portion SYED MOHSE-UDDIN & BHAGO BAY CHANDRA SUTRADHAR (1920)

I L R 48 Calc 605

SURRENDER OR ABANDONMENT

— of holding—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1908) s 80 ETC

I L R 38 Mad 608

SURVEY ACT

See BENGAL SURVEY ACT

See BOMBAY SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT
ACT

See MADRAS SURVEY AND BOUNDARIES ACT

SURVEY MAP

See FOOTINGS I L R 38 Calc 687

See WASTE LANDS ACT

L R 43 I A 303

SURVEY SETTLEMENT

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT 4 OF 1879) ss 3 (11) AND 217

I L R 34 Bom 686

— Growth of sandalwood trees on occupancy lands subsequent to—

See FOREST ACT (VII OF 1878) s 70
CL (c) R ~ I L R 45 Bom 110

— right of Inamdar to enhance assessment at end of period of settlement—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT 1879
s 217 I L R 44 Bom 110

I L R 45 Bom 61

SURVIVING MEMBER OF A COMMITTEE

— suit by—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I L R 39 Calc 304

SURVIVORSHIP

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O
XXVIII R 5

I L R 38 Bom 105

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 37 Calc 703

See MARUMAKATAYAM LAW

I L R 40 Mad 387

SUSPENSE ACCOUNT

See INSOLVENCY I L R 34 Mad 125

SUSPENSION

See LEGAL PRACTITIONER

13 C W N 521

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT s 14

13 C W N 415

15 C W N 269

— of Business—

See COMPANY I L R 47 Calc 654

— of period—

See LIMITATION I L R 48 Calc 65

SUSPENSION OF RENT

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

14 C W N 446

SUSPENDED POLICE OFFICER

See WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT

I L R 47 Calc 618

SUSPICION

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 46 Calc 427

SYMBOLICAL POSSESSION

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Bom 373

See POSSESSION I L R 43 Bom 559

See PLOTTING I L R 39 Calc 896

— Effect as between parties
— Presumption of continuance of possession if conclusive Delivery of symbolical possession is conclusive evidence as between the parties that possession was delivered but is not in the least conclusive evidence that the possession so delivered continued There may be a presumption that such possession would continue until the contrary was proved but that is all Where it was found that the plaintiff to whom symbolical possession was delivered never got actual possession the finding can only mean that the possession delivered did not continue at all so that Art 14^o and not Art 144 of the Limitation Act applied to the case Where it appeared that the plaintiff had recovered rent decrees from raiyats within 12 years of the suit and the decrees were not open to question as collusive and fraudulent the plaintiff's possession of the lands held by the raiyats through them within the statutory period of limitation was established DEOHANDAN PRASAD & UDIT NARAYAN SINGH (1914) 15 C W N 940

SYNDICATE AND SENATE

— respective powers of—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)
s. 45 I L R 40 Mad. 125

T

TACKING OF POSSESSION

Adverse possession—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 107
I L R 37 Mad 440

One trespasser cannot tack his wrongful possession to that of another—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ARTS
142 AND 144 I L R 45 Bom 570

TAGAVI ADVANCE

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT (XVII OF 1879)
I L R 40 Bom 483

TALABI BRAHMOTTAR

See GRANT I L R 44 Calc 585

TALAB-I ISHHAD

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION
I L R 41 Bom 636

TALAB I MAWASIBAT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION
I L R 41 Bom 636
See PRE EMPTION I L R 34 All 1

TALAK

See ITNAM I L R 47 Calc 979
See PARTITION I L R 46 Calc 236
See PUTNI REGULATION

delegation of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE
I L R 46 Calc 141

power of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE
I L R 46 Calc 141

TALAKNAMA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DIVORCE
I L R 44 Bom 44

TALUKDAR

See BOMBAY COURT OF WARDS (BOM ACT VI OF 1888) s 31
I L R 44 Bom 832See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1888) s 29E
I L R 43 Bom 44See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V
OF 1870) ss 144 160
I L R 43 Bom 6See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)
I L R 33 All 344
ss 8 10 I L R 38 All 552ss 8 AND 22 SUBS (II)
I L R 32 All 599

See TALUKDARS (GUJARATH) ACT

mortgage by—

See BROACH AND KAIRA INCUMBERED ESTATES ACT (XXI OF 1881) s 28
I L R 41 Bom 546

TALUKDAR—contd

transfer by—

See OUDH ESTATES ACT 1869 ss 2 AND
16 I L R 42 All 492

1 ——— Rights of Talukdar—Payment by relative s of talukdar holding sub proprietary rights on his estates—Rules framed by British Indian Association of Oudh for maintenance of such relatives—Basis of calculation of such payments in second and third generations—Jurisdiction of Rent Court. The question between the parties to this appeal was as to the true construction of certain rules framed in 1867 by the British Indian Association of Oudh and agreed to by the talukdars making provision inter alia for maintenance for the relatives of the latter holding sub proprietary rights on their estates. The portion of the rules applicable was as follows—This clause will remain in possession of what they actually had at annexation rent free during their lifetime but subject to the payment in the second generation of 25 per cent to the talukdar and in the third 50 per cent and will not have transferable rights. If such persons pay the Government revenue plus 10 per cent to the talukdar they will have heritable rights in addition. Held (affirming the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that the bulk sum on which the percentages were to be calculated was the assumed rental which formed the basis for the ascertainment of the Government revenue payable by the Talukdar (the Government revenue being half the assumed rental). This construction had the advantage of giving a fixed basis for calculation which was greatly in the interests of the talukdars with reference to the charges on the property and enabled all parties concerned to understand year after year and to forecast their exact financial position. Payments of 25 and 50 per cent respectively on the gross rental demandable in each particular year together with 10 per cent in the case of the talukdar (as contended for by the appellant) was much besides being made on a varying basis but exceeded not only the Government revenue but the entire receipt of rental actually obtained for particular years reducing greatly the rights of the relatives in possession a sub proprietors for maintenance. A procacious their provision for maintenance construction which would bring about such results was not warranted on a sound reading of the terms of the maintenance provisions. The additional sum of 10 per cent payable to the talukdar (at any rate by the third generation) for the provision for maintenance of a heritable character might under the circumstances that the payments to the talukdar might not be regular and that in any view the talukdar's responsibility to the Government for the revenue was full and direct whether he received such payments or not be considered as a reasonable commission or insurance and had accordingly been sanctioned in the rules under construction as well as by the rules regarding sub settlement and other subordinate rights of property in Oudh settled in Act XXVI of 1866. The Court of Wards who represented the appellant during his minority made on account of maintenance certain payments to the respondent to which the appellant objected. The Court of the Judicial Commissioner declined to open up that matter in the present suit holding that it is not within the province of a Rent Court to determine whether the maintenance was or was not payable and their Lordships of the Judicial

TALUKDAR—contd

Committee were of opinion that that was a right decision NAWAB ALI KHAN v WAHID ALI (1909)
I L R 32 ALL 92

2 ———— Settlement of Oudh—Talukdar settled with on terms as to which no evidence could be given—Second summary settlement—Villages included in talukdar's estate and not recovered by payment of money due on account of them—Trustee or lien holder—Redemption barred by Act No 1 of 1869 s 6—Adverse possession This affair related to certain villages in Oudh which belonged prior to the annexation of that Province to the widow of the predecessor in title of the appellants and were under some arrangement of the exact nature of which there was no evidence included in the estate of the ancestor of the respondent a talukdar in whose possession they were found at the settlement in 1859. The widow at that time applied as owner for the settlement of the villages. Her claim was resisted by the agent of the talukdar on the ground that he was entitled to possession until sums paid by him on account of the villages were paid off and the settlement was made in accordance with possession the widow being directed by the settlement officer to proceed by separate application to get the villages released by payment of the money due by her but she took no steps to get the property released and when in 1867 she applied for regular settlement of the villages her claim was dismissed on 31st October 1868 on the ground that they were included in the sanad granted by Government to the talukdar. In a suit brought in 1903 by representatives of the widow for possession of a share of the property on the ground that the settlement proceedings in 1859 constituted the talukdar either a mortgagee or a trustee on behalf of the widow it was admitted that the claim for redemption was barred by s 6 of Act No 1 of 1869. Held (upholding the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that there was no warrant for the contention that the correlative obligation that lay on the talukdar to release the villages on payment of the money due on account of them created a trust or constituted him a trustee for the widow who took no steps to comply with the directions of the settlement officer and allowed the talukdar to remain in possession and set up a distinctly adverse title in 1867 when she applied for regular settlement. Hasan Jafar v Muhammad Askari I L R 26 Calc 879 L R 26 I A 299 distinguished. From the date of the dismissal of her application in 1868 possession was adverse to her and the suit not having been brought until 1903 was clearly barred by lapse of time. MUMHAMMAD BAKAR v MUHAMMAD BAKAR ALI KHAN (1910) I L R 33 ALL 125

3 ———— Will of Talukdar—Oudh Estates Act (I of 1869)—Sanad executed by talukdar through the medium of family friends—Whether document was testamentary or non testamentary—Registration of document—Indian Registration Act III of 1877 ss 17 and 49—Instrument affecting immovable property—Ground not specially taken in argument in courts below—Costs A talukdar in 1867 in compliance with the directions issued by the Government made a declaration that I wish to file this application that after my death Umrao Singh the eldest son (sic) my estate should continue in my family undivided in accordance with the custom of the rajpaddi and that the younger brothers shall be entitled to get maintenance from the gaddi nashin. Held (affirming the decision of the Courts in India) that it was a valid testamentary deposition by the talukdar of his estate in favour of his eldest son. The said talukdar having three sons with one of whom he was on bad terms executed in 1864 the following document which he called a sanad —

TALUKDAR—concld

For Prithpal Singh who is my son I fix Rs 300 annually so that he may maintain himself. Besides this whatever I may give I will give equally to the three sons except provisions which they may take from my Godown (lofkar). The marriage and gawna expenses of the sons and daughters shall be borne by me. After me the three sons are to divide the property moveable and immovable. This has been settled through the mediation of Thakur Jote Singh of Bihar and Thakur Ratan Singh of Rojsh. Held (reversing the decision of the Judicial Commissioner's Court) that it was a non testamentary instrument. It was a family arrangement arrived at by the mediation or arbitration of two gentlemen friends of the family and interested in its honour and it was plainly intended to be operative immediately and to be final and irrevocable. Held also that it required to be registered under s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) in order to make it effective as regards immovable property and being unregistered was so far void. On an objection that it was not open to the appellants to contend that the document was not a will the fact that they had throughout the proceedings in the Courts below taken conflicting views as to the nature of the document was held not to preclude their Lordships from considering and determining the real question in the case and that they were bound to give effect to the real character of the document. Neither party had pursued a consistent course in the matter. Their Lordships permitted the appellants therefore to raise that contention but in allowing the appeal on that ground they did so without costs to the appellants on this appeal or in the Courts below. UMRAO SINGH v LACHMAN SINGH (1911)

I L R 33 ALL 344

TALUQA

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 40 ALL 470

See OUDH ESTATES ACT 1869 s 14

I L R 43 ALL 245

See TALAK

TALUQDARI PROPERTY

See COMPROMISE I L R 47 Calc 932

See OUDH ESTATE ACT 1869 s 14

I L R 43 ALL 245

————— Incumbrance by Talukdar and his son—

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI of 1868) s 31

I L R 44 Bom. 832

————— Primogeniture sanad—Construction—Successors A sanad granted in 1862 to a Muhammadan lady conferred a talukdari estate in Oudh upon her and her heirs for ever subject to the payment of revenue it provided in the event of your dying intestate or any of

TALUQDARI PROPERTY—contd

your successors dying intestate the estate shall descend to the nearest male heir according to the rule of primogeniture but you and all your successors shall have full power to alienate the estate. The sanad further made it a condition that the grantee should promote the agricultural prosperity of the estate and maintain all subordinate rights and concluded as long as the above obligations are observed by you and your heirs in good faith so long will the British Government maintain you and your heirs as proprietors. Held that the word 'successors' in the sanad meant those designated parties who would succeed under the sanad upon an intestacy and that the estate having passed by demise out of the line of succession designated its further devolution was according to Muhammadan law. GHULAM ABBAS KHAN v ANAT UL FATIMA I L R 43 All 297

TALUQDARI SETTLEMENT OFFICER

See GUJARAT TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1888 AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT II OF 1905) ss 20 29B (1) (2) (3) AND 29F I L R 38 Bom 604

TALUQDARI VILLAGE

Power of district Magistrate to appoint inferior village police—

See BOMBAY VILLAGE POLICE ACT VIII OF 1867 s 9 I L R 44 Bom 377

TANK

See LSTOPFEL I L R 39 Calc 439

TANKHAS

Tankhas granted by the Maharaja of Burdwan are heritable allowances in the nature of property and therefore assignable. LALA MUKTI PROKASH NAYDE v SRIMATI ISWARI DEVI DEBI 24 C W N 938

TARWAD

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 36 Mad 591
I L R 40 Mad 317

Presumption as to ownership of property acquired in the name of junior member of tarwad—Presumption of fact and not of law. No presumption of law can be raised as to whether properties acquired in the name of a junior member of a tarwad belong to him or to his tarwad. Any presumption to be raised is one of fact. GOVINDA PANIKKER v NANI (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 304

TAULIATNAMAH

testamentary character of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 46 Calc 13

TAX.

See ADEY SETTLEMENT REGULATION (VII OF 1900) s 13 I L R 40 Bom 446

See ASSESSMENT I L R 42 Bom 682

See CANTONMENTS ACT 1850 s 22

I L R 38 Bom 293

TAX—contd

See COSTS

I L R 39 Bom 383

I L R 40 Bom 533

to recover money levied as—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 Sec II Arts

2 61 62 120 I L R 32 All 491

TAXATION OF COSTS

See BOMBAY REGULATION II OF 1897 s 52 I L R 37 Bom 303

See COSTS I L R 40 Bom 533

I L R 45 Bom 1234

Power of High Court to give direction as to how costs should be taxed—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X OF 1876) s 12

I L R 45 Bom 1177

TAXING JUDGE

reference by—

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1850) ss 5 AND 7 I L R 33 All 99

TAXING OFFICER

See APPEAL VALUATION OF

I L R 37 Calc 614

See COURT FEES 3 Pat L J 443

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1850) ss 5 AND 12 I L R 33 All 99

TEA

Tea or tea dust which is an article of food or drink. Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) s 495 Tea or tea dust is an article of human food or drink within the meaning of s 495 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899). Hinde v Allmond 5 J P 161 explained and distinguished Definition of food in the Sale of Food and Drugs Act (33 & 39 Vic c 63) s 2 as amended by 62 & 63 Vic s 51 s 26 adopted Corporation of Calcutta v PAOLI (1919) I L R 47 Calc 53

TEA GARDEN

See INCOME TAX I L R 48 Calc 161

TEISHKHANA PAPER

Evidence—Official record—Road-cens returns—Bengal Cess Act (IX of 1850) s 95—Road cens return filed by a co-sharer landlord and assessment made on the basis of it—Whether such return is admissible in evidence against the other co-sharers. Teishkhana paper is a register kept for the information of the Collector but it is in no sense an official record therefore before it is a teishkhana paper could be used in evidence it must be proved that it had been kept in due course by the registered patwari. Fajnaath Singh v Sukhu Mahton I L R 18 Calc 331 and Samor Dasguthy v Juggul Ashokor Singh I L R 23 Calc 366 distinguished. Persons interested to the extent of a one fourth share of the superior interest filed a road cens return under the provisions of the Bengal Cess Act and they stated therein as they were bound to do under the law the names of the tenants in occupation of specific lands. The statement which they made was against the interest. No similar return was filed by them.

TEISHKHANA PAPER—contd

persons who represented the remaining three fourths share of the superior interest and the Revenue authorities assessed the road cess as they were entitled to do upon the return filed by the one fourth shareholders Held that the return filed by the one fourth shareholders is admissible in evidence as against the remaining shareholders of the superior interest Ausseerwa v Gouree Sunkur Singh 13 W R 199 distinguished E 95 of the Bengal Cess Act (IX of 1880) is not exhaustive It was intended to restrict the operation of s 21 of the Evidence Act and a road cess return may be admissible in evidence as against persons other than the one who has made the return CHALHO SINGH v JHARO SINGH (1911) 1 L R 80 Calc 995

"TEJI MANDI" TRANSACTIONS

See WAGERING 1 L R 37 Bom 264

TELEGRAM FROM COUNSEL

See BAIL 1 L R 38 Calc 293

TEMPLE

See IDOL 1 L R 86 Bom 135

See OFFERINGS TO A TEMPLE

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) s 3 1 L R 38 Mad 1176

See TEMPLE COMMITTEE

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE

— dispute concerning—

See OFFERINGS TO DEITY 1 L R 38 Calc 387

— Election of Mahant—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT 1 L R 37 All 298

— Manager of—right to remove idol—

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE 1 L R 44 Bom 466

— right to worship in and to carry procession into street—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 9 1 L R 44 Bom 410

— right to perform festival in a—

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM 1 L R 40 Mad 1108

— right of management of—

See PARTITION 1 L R 50 All 651

— Suit by pujaris against guravs to recover offerings made at—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 9 AND 92 1 L R 45 Bom 683

TEMPLE COMMITTEE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 1 L R 40 Mad 212

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) s 10 1 L R 38 Mad 594

— powers of—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) s 3 1 L R 38 Mad 1176 1 L R 39 Mad 700

TEMPLE COMMITTEE—contd

— vacancy in—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) s 10 1 L R 40 Mad 793

TEMPLE PROPERTY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 1 L R 42 Bom 742

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 1111

See INJUNCTION 19 C W N 442

— Conditions of grant of temporary injunction—Co owners—Building by co owner—Indue advantage—Pension by High Court—Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict s 101) s 15 Where plaintiffs who were joint owners with defendants in respect of the property in suit sued them for declaration of title thereto and applied for an injunction to restrain the defendants from building on the land and the lower Appellate Court set aside the temporary injunction granted by the Court of first instance Held that sold occupation by one co sharer did not necessarily constitute ouster of the other co owners But a co owner who was with the tacit or express consent of his co sharer in sole occupation of a portion of joint property was not entitled to change the nature of that possession or to use the property in a mode different from that in which it had previously been used Dusseendra Narain Poy v Purnendu Narain Roy 11 C L J 189 followed Held further that in granting an interim injunction what the Court had to determine was whether there was a fair and substantial question to be decided as to what the rights of the parties were Moran v Pate Steam Navigation Co 14 B L R 357 followed The real point was not how these questions ought to be decided at the hearing of the cause but whether the nature and difficulty of the questions was such that it was proper that the injunction should be granted until the time for deciding them should arrive Walker v Jones L R 1 P C 50 followed Held also that under circumstances like the above the matter for consideration at that stage was where did the balance of convenience lie was it desirable that the status quo should be maintained or was it right that defendants should be allowed to continue to alter the character of the land Jones v Paganu Rubber and Produce Company Ltd [1911] 1 K B 455 Aynsley v Glover L R 18 Eq 511 Currier v Company v Corbett Drury & Son 35 Jenson v Pender 7 Ch D 4 referred to Held further that in a case of this description (where a substantial portion of the building had been erected after the defendants had become aware of the institution of the suit and of the application for temporary injunction) the Court would if necessary proceed not only to grant a temporary injunction restraining the further erection of the building but also to direct that the building already erected be taken down Daniel v Ferguson [1891] 2 Ch 2 Von Joel v Harris [1893] 2 Ch 714 referred to Held that the High Court was competent to interfere under s 10 of the Charter Act (24 & 25 Vict c 104) in view of the conduct of the defendants which amounted to a defiance of the authority of the Court I ELL v SHAMBERG PARMAN (1913) 1 L R 41 Calc 476

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION—contd

Temporary injunction subsequently dissolved—Order to be obeyed while it lasts—Order binding on party though it prohibits receiving payment from Government and Government authorised to pay by statute—Order operates in personam—Government's duty to ascertain and obey law—Question of construction question for Courts Where in a suit for dissolution of partnership and accounts a Receiver of the partnership assets was appointed and a temporary injunction was granted restraining the defendants inter alia from receiving certain payments from Government and the Government which was no party to the suit made payments to one of the defendants in alleged exercise of power reserved to it by statute and subsequently the injunction was dissolved the plaintiff's case having failed. Held that an injunction although subsequently discharged because the plaintiff's case failed must be obeyed while it lasts. That although the injunction could not bind the Government not to pay or make the Government responsible for that obedience to the law which the Court was entitled to expect the man who received it breach of the order was guilty of a contempt in no way cured by the payment by Government. The non existence of any right to bring the Crown into Court such as exists in England by petition of right and in many of the Colonies by the appointment of an officer to sue and be sued on behalf of the Crown does not give the Crown immunity from all law or authorise the interference by the Crown with private rights at its own mere will. There is a well established practice in England in certain cases where no petition of right will lie under which the Crown can be sued by the Attorney General. Dyson v Attorney General [1911] 1 A. B. 410 and Burghes v Attorney General [1912] 1 Ch. 173 referred to. It is the duty of the Crown and of every branch of the Executive to abide by and obey the law. If there is any difficulty in ascertaining it the Courts are open to the Crown to sue and it is the duty of the Executive in cases of doubt to ascertain the law in order to obey it not to disregard it. The Government in this case having made the payment with notice of the Court's order. Held that although with regard to the payments made under statutory powers the action of the Executive might be justifiable the question whether any particular sum mentioned in the contract in suit was payable as for labour and supply (so as to be within the Government's power to pay under the statute) was a question of construction and therefore of law for the Courts. That the proper course in the present case for the Executive would have been either to apply to the Court to determine the question of construction of the contract and to pay accordingly or to pay the whole amount over to the Receiver and to obtain an order from the Court on the Receiver to pay the sums properly payable according to the true construction of the contract. EASTERN TRUST COMPANY v MACKENZIE MANN & Co Ltd (1916) 20 C. W. N. 457

3 ————— When may it be granted—Balance of convenience to be considered—Irreparable injury—Claim of right Upon an application for a term injunction it is sufficient if the plaintiff makes out a prima facie case in support of the title asserted by him. Where a plaintiff who is out of possession claims possession the Court will not grant injunction against a defendant in possession under a claim of right unless the threatened injury would be irreparable. It is only in cases where property which it is essential should be kept in its existing condition during the pendency of the suit is in danger of being wasted damaged or alienated that the Court ought to interfere. The plaintiff must show that the interference of the Court is necessary to protect him from irreparable or at least serious injury before the legal right can be established at the trial. By the term irreparable injury however it is not meant that there must be no physical possibility of repairing the injury all that is meant is that the injury would be a material one and one not adequately repairable by damages. Money compensation may not be an appropriate and adequate remedy in every case of injury relating to immovable property and the question of irreparable injury depends upon the circumstances of each case. Leander v Belle L J 33 Ch. 451 Kesho Prasad Singh v Srinibash Prasad Singh 1 L. P. 38 Cal. 191 The Mogul Steamship Co v M. Gregor Gow & Co 15 Q. B. D. 476 Hilton v The Earl of Granville 1 Cr. & Ph. 253 Baddam v Dhunput Singh 1 C. W. N. 429 Krehl v Burrell 1 L. P. 7 C. D. 851 Hemanta Kumar Roy v Baranagore Jute Factory Co 19 C. W. N. 442 and Israel v S. M. Rahman 1 L. R. 41 Cal. 136 referred to. BEGO DUNLOP & Co v SATISH CHANDRA CHATTERJEE (1919) 1 L. R. 46 Cal. 1001

TEMPORARY INJUNCTION—contd

TENANCY

See RENT 1 L. R. 41 Cal. 347
See SALE 1 L. R. 45 Cal. 294 determination of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 710

division of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT 14 C. W. N. 335

————— From year to year—Determination of annual tenancy—Notice to quit Ordinarily unless there is an express agreement for the expiry of a tenancy on a certain day a tenancy from year to year is only determined by a notice to quit. SITARAM DEBBIJAI v SADHU (1913) 1 L. R. 88 Bom. 240

————— Tenancy created by lease—Right of person not party to contract holding under lease to show that purpose of tenancy was different Held per D. R. CHATTERJEE J.—That although where it is shown by a lease unambiguous in its terms that the land was originally acquired by the tenant for cultivating it by himself or by hired servants or by members of his family the character of the tenancy is not altered by the fact that the land was subsequently let out to tenants and although in such a case the land may as between the lessor and the lessee be taken to have been acquired for the purpose as stated in the lease itself it is certainly open to a person who is no party to the contract to show that the real purpose for which the land was acquired by the lessee was other than what was stated in the lease. PAJANI KANTHA D. TELUKU v YETTY ALI (1916) 21 C. W. N. 185

TENANCY AT WILL

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 36 Mad 557

Lease whether by registered instrument only—

Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 107
Section 107 of the Transfer of Property Act does not lay down that a lease of immoveable property can be made only by a registered instrument but it can be made only by a registered instrument in three cases, viz (i) a lease from year to year (ii) a lease for any term exceeding one year and (iii) a lease reserving a yearly rent. The fact that the rent is reserved at so much a year does not conclusively show that the tenancy is from year to year. The terms of a tenancy which does not come within s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act can be proved by oral evidence—Lala Surabhi Harain Lal v Catherine Sophia I C W N 948
Fazil Sheikh v Keramuddi Sheikh 6 C W N 956
Sita Nath Pal v Kartick Ghosh 8 C W N 434 and Venkatagiri Zamindar v Raghava I L R 9 Mad 149 referred to SARAT CHANDRA DUTT v JADAB CHANDRA GOSWAMI (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 214

TENANT—could liability of to pay compensation for loss of crops—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (MAD ACT I OF 1908) ss 4 27 73 AND 143

I L R 40 Mad 640

right of—

See IRRIGATION CHANNEL

I L R 40 Mad 640

See MALABAR TENANTS IMPROVEMENTS ACT (MADRAS I OF 1900) ss 11 12

I L R 38 Mad 954

status of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 ss 5 103B

I L R 45 Cal 805

suit to recover immoveable property from—

See COUPY FEES ACT (VII OF 1870) s 7
CL (5) SUB CL (2) (cc)

I L R 111 Mad 873

Suit for ejectment of non occupancy tenant—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 ss 19 AND 53

I L R 43 All 38

surrender by of waste lands—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 11

I L R 38 Mad 891

status of—Consolidation of rayati holdings if makes it a tenure—Permanency claimed by tenant—Onus to explain variation of rent extent thereof—Habit on land of tenancy if raises presumption of permanency—Landlord's abstention from enhancing rent or making land khas if ground for inferring permanent grant—Abstention explained—Pucca tenant in 24 Ferganas meaning of—Masfatar rent receipts grant of if recognition of tenant—Transferability—Onus in case of agricultural and homestead lands respectively—Decree for rent plus drainage charges if rent decree—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 1 (5) and Bengal Drainage Act (VI B C of 1880) s 42 (a)—Decree holder expressing intention to buy tenure by rent sale at a given price and buying it at said price without fraud if makes sale a private sale—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 167—Adverse possession commencing before creation of tenure if incumbrance—Adverse possession commencing after if in incumbrance and must be annulled—Incumbrance created by sub tenant if to be annulled—Arrest of adverse possession on rent sale—The mere fact of consolidation of a number of separate rayati holdings cannot alter the nature of the tenancies and convert them into a tenure unless the landlord and the tenant agreed at the time that the holdings should thenceforth be a tenure. It is for the tenant defendant who alleges the Court to presume that the tenancy is permanent to explain apparent variations in the rent since the date of the permanent settlement not merely by showing that there was variation in the area but also by showing that the additional rent was assessed at some rates of rent fixed according to the class and quality of the land. The existence of khatn lands the subject of a tenancy does not raise any presumption of permanency. The mere fact that rent has been changed for a long time by itself is not sufficient to show that the original contract was

TENANCY BY SUFFERANCE

See CRANT

I L R 37 Cal 674

TENANCY IN COMMON

See JOINT ESTATE

I L R 45 Cal 163

See TENANT IN COMMON

See WILL

I L R 43 All 600

A tenant in common is entitled to sue for his share of the property demised when a forfeiture has been incurred under the terms of the lease. Forfeiture cannot or hardly be relieved against in the case of a mining lease.
SYED AHMAD SABID BRUTTANI v MACQUESSIE SYNDICATE LIMITED I L R 60 Mad 1049

TENANT

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT ss 379 379A

I L R 36 Bom 81

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 8
SCH I ART 47 I L R 111 Mad 432

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 EXCEP

I L R 38 Mad 843

See MADRAS RENT RECOVERY ACT

I L R 34 Mad 179

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
ss 105 to 117

holding over suit to eject—

See JURISDICTION

I L R 38 Mad 795

interested in subject of dispute—

See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND

I L R 37 Cal 285

liability of—

See DRAINS

I L R 38 Cal 268

TENANT—conold

payment of rent by the tenant at a fixed rent for ever. In this case the fact that the landlord did not for a long period make any attempt to enhance the rents of the holdings or turn them lhas was held to be sufficiently explained by the fact that the yield of the land to the tenant was until recently quite small. The word lhas tenant as used in relation to the tenancies in dispute though they are situated in the 24 Per ganas means interests which are not permanent. Where rent receipts asked for in the name of the purchaser of a holding were expressly refused by the landlord who granted receipts in the name of the old tenant the purchaser being described merely as marjadar. Held that there was no recognition of the purchaser as a tenant. It is for the tenant defendant who claims his holding of agricultural land to be transferable to prove it. There is no onus of proving non transferability of the tenure upon the landlord. In the absence of a custom to the contrary the incident of non transferability is common to tenancies from year to year of homestead lands created before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act s 108 cl (j) of the Act not being applicable to them. Where a decree for rent included certain drainage charges it was a rent decree within the meaning of Ch XIV of the Bengal Tenancy Act drainage charges payable under s 42 (a) of the Bengal Drainage Act being money recoverable as rent as defined in s 1 cl (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Where before the sale of a holding in execution of a rent decree the judgment debtor being anxious to procure good prices for the holding at the sale approached the decree holder and the latter expressed his intention to bid up to a certain amount and at the sale the property was knocked down to the decree holder for that amount. Held that in the absence of fraud this circumstance would not deprive the purchaser of the benefit attaching to a sale under the Bengal Tenancy Act or render it a private sale. Quære Whether the purchaser of a pattai is bound to annul incumbrances created not by the pattidar but by the dorpatidar. Quære Whether the person who may have acquired a statutory title by adverse possession for 12 years against the pattidar does not stand in the same position as an unrecorded co sharer of the pattidar and whether such right does not pass at the rent sale without the necessity of annulling it as an incumbrance under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. MANNOTH NATH MITTAR v ANATH BANDHU PAL (1916) 23 C W N 201

TENANT IN-COMMON

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188^o ss 18
462 I L R 36 Bom 53

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 38 Mad 684

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 175
I L R 35 Bom 371
L R 46 I A 272

See PARTIAL JOINDER OF
I L R 42 Bom 87

See JOINT TENANT I L R 37 All 203

See TENANCY IN COMMON

TENANT IN COMMON—contd

Hindu Law—Mukh shara—Daughters inheriting property from their father—Shares separate and absolute. When the property so inherited is not physically divided it is held by the daughters as tenants in common and not as joint tenants and there is no survivorship between them. VITHAPPA v SAVITRI (1916) I L R 34 Bom 510

Co lessors—Lease by Mahomedan co heirs—Mining lease—Forfeiture clauses—Lease determined by one lessor—Suit by one tenant in common in ejectment maintainability of—Suit for whole or for share maintainability of—Penal provisions strict construction of—Relief against forfeiture—Contract in a mining lease—Exception to rule—English and American law rules of A tenant in common is entitled to sue for his share of the property demised where a forfeiture has been incurred under the terms of the lease. Sri Rajah Simhadri Appa Peo v Prathipati Ramayya I L R 29 Mad 99 Koragala v Narayana 25 Mad L J 315 and Ebrahim Pir Mahomed v Cureetji Sorabji Dastur I L R 11 Bom 644 followed Gopal Ram Mahurji v Dhaleswar Pershad Narain Singh I L R 35 Cal 807 dis sented from. Though the aim of law generally is in favour of giving relief against forfeiture in the case of leases in the case of mining leases a provision for re entry should be strictly construed and forfeiture cannot ordinarily be relieved against. English and American law considered. Doe v Church Warden of Rugby 6 Q B 107 and Doe d Lyod v Inghly 15 M d W 465 153 E R 953 followed. Balamkhat v Venayal Gangai Pal I L R 35 Bom 239 referred to. Syed Ahmad v Macgregor STEINDL CATE LTD (1916) I L R 38 Pad 1049

TENDER

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 38
See INTEREST I L R 34 Mad 320

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS
I L R 34 Bom 18

See MORTGAGE I L R 42 All 420

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1880
s 60 I L R 43 All 95 & 633

s 84 I L R 33 Mad 160
I L R 36 All 139

by debtor—
See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 374

essentials of a valid—
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) ss 51 and 78 CL (9)

I L R 33 Mad 699

methods of—
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1909) ss 51 and 78 CL (9)

I L R 33 Mad 699

TENEMENTS

sovereignty of—
See EASEMENT I L R 38 Mad 149

TENURE

See BOMBAY CITY LAND REVENUE ACT
(Bom II of 1870) ss 30 31 32 40

I L R 39 Bom 664

See JAGHIR I L R 42 Cal 305

TENURE—contd

1. ————— whether permanent or temporary—Tenancy held by original grantee or his successor in interest for "0 years under four doul kabuliats for terms—Sara ara whether applies to rent only or tenure itself—Fact or law question of—Construction In a suit by the land lord, under s 106 Bengal Tenancy Act for correction of an entry that the tenancy of the defendants was a permanent tenure for doul kabuliats were relied upon to prove the contract of tenancy bearing dates 1250 1^o 7 1285 and 1^o 9 B S All these were for terms of years and they did not contain the words from generation to generation. But the successive settlements were either with the original tenant or his heir the oral evidence being to the effect that the dead man's heir was recognised as having a moral claim to succeed to his rights All the kabuliats bound the tenant to keep the trees intact and restrained him from making transfer of the land the last three adding that he must not partition the land and providing for the landlord's right of re entry in the event of the tenant not entering into a fresh arrangement They also spoke of the tenancy as sarasars (temporary) The lower Appellate Court upon the materials held that the tenure was considered by the landlord to be heritable that it was permanent but not transferable and that the rent was liable to enhancement Held on second appeal that the question whether the tenure was permanent or not was not merely one of fact That at any rate it depended to a large extent on the construction of the kabuliats the question for instance whether the word sarasars referred to the variability of the rent or the nature of the tenancy being one of construction That the tenure was neither permanent nor heritable Per WALKSLEY J—The tenant who claims a hereditary right under a document which does not contain the words from generation to generation has a heavy onus to discharge That the temporary character of the tenancy was not limited only to the amount of rent That repeated renewals of an agreement do not change its character and regard should be had to the later rather than the earlier kabuliats and the fact that during a period of 70 years only four kabuliats were passed and the settlement made again and again with the same man or his successor in interest did not alter the nature of the agreement PROBYOT KUMAR TAGORE v SARAT CHANDRA DAS (1917) 21 C W N 809

2. ————— Decree for rent of a tenure against the recorded tenants who are some of the several tenants of the tenure effect of—Unrecorded tenant not a party is bound by rent sale Where a landlord obtained a decree for arrears of rent of a tenure against all the tenants who were the recorded tenants except one who after acquiring title by purchase never got his name registered in the landlord's shersha Held that the entire tenure and not merely the interest of the recorded tenants passed by the sale in execution of such a decree and it was not open to the unrecorded tenant though he was not a party to the rent suit to sue for a declaration of his right on the ground that his share in the tenure did not pass by the sale PROFULLA KUMAR SEN v SALINULLA BANADER (1918) 23 C W N 590

3. ————— Uniform payment of rent for less than 20 years before final publication of record of rights but for an aggregate period of over 20 years—Presumption of permanency if arises under Bengal Tenancy Act (111 of 1885) as 35 50 115—Natural presumption—Court when may refuse to enhance rent as inequitable Where it appeared that a raiyat had been holding land as tenant on payment of a uniform rent for over 20 years before the institution of the suit but that there having been a record of rights in respect of the holding the period during which before the final publication of the record of rights the rent had been so paid fell short of 20 years Held that the presumption of fixity of tenure under s 50 of the Bengal Tenancy Act did not arise Where a tenancy appeared to have been created only 40 years ago Held that uniform payment of rent during this period did not raise a natural presumption that the tenancy was a permanent one GURU CHARAN NANDI v SARAB ALI (1919) 23 C W N 1041

TENURE—concld

TENURE HOLDERS

———— liability of—
See REVENUE SALE I L R 37 Calc 559

TERMINATION OF SERVICE

See SCHOOL MASTER I L R 44 Calc 917

TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION

See DIVORCE I L R 40 Calc 215

TESTAMENTARY AND INTESTATE JURISDICTION

See PROBATE I L R 37 Calc 387

TESTAMENTARY CAPACITY

See PROBATE I L R 99 Calc 245
See WILL I L R 47 Calc 1043

TESTATOR

———— capacity to execute will—See WILL I L R 88 Calc 855
———— domiciled abroad—
See LIMITATION L R 43 I A 113
20 C W N 833
———— money belonging to but not known to him—
See WILL I L R 38 Mad 109

THAK MAPS

———— Evidentiary value of—
See PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVER 24 C W N 639
See REVENUE SALE LAW S. 37 15 C W N 706
See LAKHESAJ LANDS I L R 45 Calc 574

———— Jungles possession of presumption as to—Ex parte entry in thakbuts records without enquiry value of Certain plots of land were entered in the thakbuts maps as belonging to a certain Pergunnah in which the plaintiff claimed them to be and no question of the do

THAK MAPS—contd

markation of boundary of these lands was raised in any of the many disputes which arose between the parties during the survey proceedings. It was further found that the title to those lands was with the plaintiffs. Held that having regard to the nature of the property which was jungle land possession must be presumed to have been all along with the plaintiff. A mouzah appertaining to Pergunnah Pukhuma had not been separately measured or thaked in the course of the survey proceedings. On a statement being called for from the person in possession of the mouzah for its non appearance on the thak map his agent appeared and stated that the mouzah was wholly covered with jungle that it being situated by the side of Garhgohali which was defendant's property had been measured along with it and that 10 gundas share of Garhgohali should be taken for that mouzah. Proceeding on these allegations the Deputy Collector made an entry to that effect. A petition made by the defendant's Mukhtar denying the allegations of the plaintiff's agent was rejected as the matter had been disposed of. With the help of this disputed entry the Subordinate Judge proceeded to mark off a certain area as belonging to the plaintiff as part of the said mouzah. The High Court set aside that decision. Held that as the decision of the Subordinate Judge was based on the entry made ex parte and without enquiry and on an allegation of the zemindar's agent which was immediately contradicted the decision of the High Court was correct. JAGDINDRA NATH ROY v. HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI (1911) 15 C W N 887

Value of as evidence of title and possession. Thak and survey maps may be presumed to have correctly delineated the boundaries of villages and thus to furnish valuable evidence of possession at the time they were made and consequently also of title. But such presumption fails where the maps were promptly challenged and found inaccurate. MOHENDRA NATH BISWAS v. SHAMSUNNESSA KHATUN (1914) 19 C W N 1280

Thakbust maps value of as evidence—Condition of land how far affects value of thak maps.—Map prepared by Government on behalf of private proprietor how proved.—What circumstances must be established before using such map against a party.—Indian Evidence Act (1 of 1872) ss 74 83 90.—Applicability to private maps made at the instance of Collector.—Ss 12 13.—Admissibility to prove ascertainment of title. S 90 of the Indian Evidence Act only shows that a document was prepared at the time at which it purports to have been made by the officer whose signature it bears but it does not establish the accuracy of the document. The question whether a map is a public document within the meaning of s 74 of the Evidence Act is prima facie a question of fact and the fact that a map was treated as a public document in a previous suit to which the plaintiff was not a party would not make it binding as such on the plaintiff. A map prepared at the instance of the Collector when in charge of a private estate is a private document and s 83 of the Evidence Act has an application to such map. So before such a map can be used against a party not only must its accuracy be strictly proved but other circumstances which may affect its evidentiary value such as the purpose for which the map was prepared must be duly considered for a map prepared for one purpose cannot be used for a totally different purpose and in considering the value of such maps the Courts must consider how far the boundaries now in dispute had been in contemplation when the map was prepared. Such a map unless proved to have been prepared with the assent or at any rate the knowledge of a party is of very little value as evidence against such party and in the absence of signature of the parties on the map the mere recital on the map that other persons had notice of the proceedings would not be conclusive. Although the evidentiary value of a thak map would be affected by the condition of the lands at the time of the survey the map cannot be ignored merely on a general allegation that the lands were jungle at the time without considering whether it was still capable of being surveyed. Possession of jungle lands is prima facie with the person whose title is established. PRIYA NATH MAJUMDAR v. MAHENDRA KUMAR MITRA (1911) 16 C W N 817

THAK MAPS—contd

Value of as evidence.—Thak maps of 1852 if to be presumed as unreliable. Thak maps have always been considered by Courts as good evidence and although the value of a Thak map depends upon its accuracy there is no presumption that Thak maps must be inaccurate. Opinion of Captain Hirst in his Notes on the old Revenue Surveys and Jana dindra Nath Roy v. Secretary of State for India L R 30 I A 44 s c I L R 30 Cal 491 7 C W N 193 referred to. KRI HNA HALYATI DAS v. R. BRAUNFELD (1915) 20 C W N 1028

If evidence of conditions at Permanent Settlement—Second appeal. Chitta of lands escheated to Government if public document. It cannot be laid down broadly that a thakbust map prepared in 1865 is no evidence of the state of things at the Permanent Settlement. Where in deciding whether certain lands in dispute were included within one estate or another at the time of the Permanent Settlement the lower Appellate Court relied on the thakbust map. Held that the finding could not be questioned in second appeal. A chitta prepared by Government of lands which had escheated to it stands on the same footing as a chitta prepared in respect of lands in which Government is interested as a proprietor. Such a chitta is not a public document. RAJINI v. NARENDRA KRI HNA POY (1915) 17 C W N 151

THAK SURVEY

Decision of Survey authorities arrived at in the presence of parties concerned value of as evidence when acquiesced in by parties and made basis of important transactions. Such decision if estoppel. Where the question whether certain lands were included within a makhat was in 1849 in the course of a Thak survey determined by the Survey authorities in a proceeding in which opportunity had been given to all parties interested of making their claims raising their objections and producing their evidence. Held that though the parties were not estopped by the decisions arrived at there were obviously of high authority and when acquiesced in by all the parties interested for a length of time and made the basis of important transactions should not be disturbed unless upon the clearest proof that they were erroneous. SURJA KANTA ACHARYA v SARAT CHANDRA ROY CROWDERY (1914)

THAE SURVEY—contd.

18 C W N 1281

THEATRES

See BYE LAWS I L R 47 Calc 547

THEATRICAL PERFORMANCE.

Keeping open a theatre after prescribed hour—Joint proprietors liability of—Penalty for offence or on offender—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) s 559 (5a) 561—Bye laws 53 and 55—Liability of bye law 55 Bye law 55 framed under s 559 (5) of the Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) is not ultra vires by reason of s 561 thereof and each of the joint proprietors of a theatre is liable to a fine to the extent of Rs 20 for keeping it open after 1 a.m. in contravention of bye law 55. Amrita Lal Bose v Corporation of Calcutta 21 C W N 1009 overruled Peg v Shourdar Ghosar 7 Bom. H C P 99 distinguished Rex v Clark 2 Crisp 610 Queen v Littlechild L R 6 Q B 293 referred to Per MOOKERJEE J—As a general principle of criminal law all who participate in the commission of an offence are severally responsible as though the offence had been committed by each of them acting alone; consequently each must be separately punished. AMRITA LAL BOSE v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1917)
I L R 44 Calc 1025

THEFT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 124 I L R 38 All 40

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT

I L R 45 Calc 727

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) ss 39¹ 123

I L R 37 Bom 178

See CONVICTION 3 Pat L J 354

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS
I L R 44 Calc 358

See PENAL CODE ss 378 to 382

Penal Code s 379

1 —Theft—Claim of title by the accused—Conviction for theft illegal unless the Court finds the claim to be a pretence. In a case of alleged theft of fish from a tank which the accused claimed to have been in their possession and not in the complainant's. Held that if the accused asserts a claim to the thing alleged to have been stolen by him he should not be convicted unless the Court is in a position to say that the claim is a mere pretence. DHIRENDRA MOHAN GOSSAIN v EMPEROR (1909)
14 C W N 408

Penal Code s 379

2 —Dishonest intention—Retaining passenger's umbrella to make him pay fare. The accused an employee under a Steamer Company who's business it was to check the tickets of passengers asked to see the complainant's tickets but the complainant not having got one the accused took possession of his umbrella as security that he might be compelled to pay his fare. Held that there being no suggestion that the accused intended either to get any wrongful gain to himself by compelling payment of the fare or to cause any wrongful loss to the complainant who was bound to pay his fare a conviction for theft was wrong. MATABBAR SHEIKH v EMPEROR (1910)

THEFT—contd

14 W N 936

3. —Thrift of fish in irrigation tank—Fish offence of theft of—Dependent upon power of fish to leave the tank. Although the capture of fish in an ordinary irrigation tank will not of itself amount to theft yet if the water in the tank becomes so low as to permit the fish leaving the tank the offence may be committed. Subba Peddai v Munoor Ali Sahib I L P 24 Mad 81 explained Per SUBBIAH SERRAI (1913)
I L R 36 Mad 472

4. —Penal Code (Act XL of 1860) s 370—Custom plea of—Conviction under s 379 unsustainable without the finding that the accused had no right to the subject matter of the theft. Where the accused is charged with theft he cannot be convicted of the offence of theft or of causing wrongful gain or wrongful loss without a clear finding that he had no right to the subject matter of the theft. HARENDRA NARAYAN DAS v RAMJAN KHAN (1913)
I L R 41 Calc 433

5. —Dishonest intention—Bond fide claim of right to property or mere pretence—Proper question for consideration by the Criminal Courts—Criminal trespass—Evidence of complainant's possession illusory—Penal Code (Act XL of 1860) ss 379 447. The removal of property in the assertion of a bond fide claim of right though unfounded in law and fact does not constitute theft. But a mere colourable pretence to obtain or keep possession of property does not avail as a defence. Whether the claim is bond fide or not must be determined upon all the circumstances of the case and a Court ought not to convict unless it holds that the claim is a mere pretence. Pex v Hall 3 O & P 409 Rex v Wade 11 Cox 549 Pex v Jenner L J M C (O S) 79 Peg v Leppard 4 F & F 51 Nassib Choudhry v Hannoo Choudhry 15 W P Cr 47 Ruanoo Singh v Kali Churn Misser 16 W R Cr 18 Mahomed Jan v Khadi Sheikh 16 W R Cr 75 Khetter Nath Dut v Indro Jaha 16 W R Cr 78 Emress v Budh Singh 1 L P 2 All 101 In re Madhab Hari I L R 15 Calc 390a Pandita v Pakimulla Akundo I L R 27 Calc 501 Emperor v Sabalsang 4 Bom J R 936 Algarva saumi Teran v Emperor I L R 28 Mad 304 Hari Bhurmal Emperor 9 C W N 974 followed. Held upon the facts that even if the accused had failed to establish his title and possession to the land it was a case of a bond fide dispute and that the conviction of theft was bad. ARFAN ALI v EMPEROR (1916)
I L R 44 Calc 66

THEKADAR

See OUDH RENT ACT (XXII OF 1886)
s 3(10) AND CH VIIA
I L R 40 All 541

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE
I L R 40 All 429

THIRD JUDGE

—duty of—

See PRINTING PRESS FORFEITURE OF
I L R 38 Calc 202

THIRD PARTY

appearance of—

See Costs

I L R 48 Cal 352

Practice—Third party procedure—Directions refusal to give—Discretion
 The general principle on which a Court will issue third party directions is—(i) That there must be a clear case of contributions or indemnity from the third party (ii) that all the disputes arising out of a transaction as between the plaintiff and the defendant and between the defendant and a third party can be tried and settled in one suit and (iii) that in cases of contract and sub contract it must appear that the contract between the plaintiff and the defendant has been imported into the contract between the defendant and the third party Under the rules now in force the third party cannot be cited so as to be bound by the trial of one particular question which is identical as between the plaintiff and the defendant and as between the defendant and the third party Baxter v France (No 2) [1895] 1 Q B 591 followed W & A GRAHAM & Co v CHUNILAL HARILAL & Co (1909) I L R 34 Bom 423

THIRD PARTY NOTICE

See LETTERS PATENT 1865 CL 15

I L R 45 Bom 428

High Court Rules Original side Chapter VIII Rules 127 to 133—Defendant claiming to be indemnified by third party—Third party residing out of the Original Jurisdiction of the High Court—Notice served on third party by registered post—Chamber Judge issuing a summons for directions after the issue of third party notice—Summons made absolute and order for directions given—Leave of the Court not obtained—Letters Patent cl 12—Res judicata—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11 Ex 11—Practice and procedure In a suit filed by the plaintiffs for recovering money due in respect of certain cotton contracts the defendant pleaded that he was entitled to be indemnified by one K. E. S. against the claim made by the plaintiffs The defendant thereupon obtained an order from the Chamber Judge for the issue of third party notice to be served on K. F. S. by registered post to his address at Peshawar Subsequently a Chamber Summons was issued for an order for third party directions K. E. S. put in an affidavit stating that the High Court had no jurisdiction to try the question between him and the defendant The Chamber Judge made the summons absolute and ordered that the third party should file his written statement and the question of liability of the third party to indemnify the defendant should be tried at the trial of the action but subsequent thereto The third party thereafter put in a written statement containing inter alia that the High Court had no jurisdiction as between him and the defendant inasmuch as the whole cause of action had arisen outside its jurisdiction and that if part of the cause of action be held to have arisen within its jurisdiction leave to sue under cl 12 of the Letters Patent had not been obtained The trial Court held that it must be assumed from the order made on the summons for directions that the Chamber Judge decided the point of jurisdiction against the third party and that the question was therefore res judicata On merits the Court passed a decree against the third party holding that the defendant was entitled to succeed on the contract of indemnity The third party appealed—Held reversing the decree of the trial Court (1) that the question of jurisdiction was not res judicata inasmuch as the Chamber Judge never in fact decided that the Court had jurisdiction to deal with the third party and that accordingly the question remained to be decided at the hearing of the action (2) that the effect of the order on the summons for directions was that the third party came into the suit as if he was an added party defendant and that it was open to him at the trial to raise any issues which an added defendant was entitled to raise one of which being whether leave ought not to have been given under cl 12 of the Letters Patent as he was residing outside the jurisdiction (3) that it could not be assumed that leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent was given merely because the order for the issue of third party notice directed that the notice should be served by registered post to the address of the third party at Peshawar (4) that it must be proved that an application was made to the Judge under cl 12 of the Letters Patent and that if the Judge made the order it should appear clearly on the face of it that he was giving leave under cl 12 of the Letters Patent Per MACLEOD C J—When a defendant asks the Court to issue a third party notice in a case in which leave has to be obtained under cl 12 of the Letters Patent then an application should be made to the Judge for such leave to be endorsed on the notice in the same way as it is endorsed in a plaint HARISH ELANI SETHI v SHREE ANAND (1920) I L R 45 Bom 24

THIRD PARTY NOTICE—contd

THREATENING LETTER TO COURT

See UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

I L R 43 Cal 685

THUMB IMPRESSIONS

evidentiary value of—

See SECRETS FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 43 Cal 1193

Evidence—Taking of thumb impression out of Court without objection made—Admissibility of such impression in a subsequent trial for giving false evidence—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 132 and proviso—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 193 Where a Magistrate believing that the complainant had given false evidence in the course of a trial by denying the fact of a previous conviction had his thumb impression taken out of Court for the purpose of identification in a future prosecution under s 132 of the Penal Code and there was nothing to show that the latter had objected to the taking of it Held that the thumb impression was admissible in a subsequent trial for giving false evidence and that the proviso to s 132 of the Evidence Act was not applicable inasmuch as (i) the taking of such an impression was not equivalent to asking a question and receiving an answer (ii) no effect was made to the taking of it and (iii) it was not taken in the course of a trial Queen v Cephal Doss I L R 3 Mad 273 and Shree Krishna v Queen Mary I L R 71 Cal 3 referred to TRIVEDI v JAYARAM (1911) I L R 38 Cal 418

TICCA TE, AYT

See TENANT 23 C W N 201

TIDAL RIVER

See FISHERY I L R 42 Calc 459

TIMBER

— appropriation by tenant—

See CUSTOM 10 C W N 1188

— computation for a land acquisition How divisible and whether it comprises bamboos—

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT 1894
6 Pat L J 127

TIME

See ARBITRATION I L R 46 Calc 1059

— computation of—

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 42 Calc 35

— essence of contract—

See CONTRACT (IX OF 1872) s 5
I L R 38 Bom 77

— extension of, for paying mortgage amount

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXIV Pt 3 8
I L R 39 Mad 882

— when of the essence of a contract—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 55
I L R 40 Bom 289

TIME BARRED DEBT

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 126
128 I L R 42 Bom 444

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 41 Bom 347

TITLE

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT ACT
1898 I L R 36 Bom 203

See CHAUDHARI CHAKRABARTI LANDS
I L R 44 Calc 841

See FRAUD I L R 37 Bom 217

See GUJARAT TALUKDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1888) s 31
I L R 37 Bom 380

See INSTRUMENT OF TITLE
I L R 40 Bom 630

See LAND ACQUISITION
20 C W N 1028

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 45 Calc 756

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 231

See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENTS ACT
(III OF 1905) I L R 38 Mad 674

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES COURTS
ACT (IX OF 1887) s 10 33
I L R 37 Bom 675

See PUBLIC DRAIN
I L R 44 Calc 669

See REVIEW I L R 40 Calc 140

TITLE—contd

See SMALL CAUSE COURT
10 C W N 288

See TRADE MARK I L R 42 Calc 262

— covenant for—

See SALE DEED I L R 38 Mad 1171

— evidence of—

See REGISTRATION ACT (XXI OF 1908)
s 49 I L R 30 All 728

— impeachment of—

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT I
OF 1840) s 10
I L R 38 Bom 700

— priority of—

See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 334

— proof of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 14
I L R 34 Mad 138

See FISHERY I L R 42 Calc 489

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 41 Bom 300

— question of—

See LIMITATION ACT (V OF 1877) ss 5
AND 7 I L R 34 Bom 589

See PUBLIC NUISANCE
I L R 42 Calc 158

— suit for—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1877) s 49
I L R 41 All 154

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)
SCH I Art 190 I L R 41 All 509

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)
s 42 I L R 38 All 312

— to Subsequently Acquired Pro perty—

See UNDISCHARGED BANKRUPT
I L R 47 Calc 961

1 ——— Priority of Title—Mortgagor and Mortgagee—Deposit of Title Deeds—Right to decree for Foreclosure—Equity of Redemption—Sale of right title and interest of Mortgagor at Court sale in execution of decree. This was a case of con tested title to two plots of land near Moulmein.
The title of the plaintiff (appellant) was that by deed of 26th July 1890 (Ex B) the property was mortgaged to a firm who by deed of transfer dated 8th November 1894 (Ex A) assigned the mortgage debt and transferred the security for it to one A P and he in October 1895 deposited the title deeds with the plaintiff by way of equitable mortgage. In 1901 the plaintiff enforced the mort gage by suit against A R and on 31st December of that year obtained a decree for sale in default of payment in pursuance of which the right title and interest of A R in the property comprised in the above title deeds were sold by auction and the plaintiff who had by leave of the Court become the purchaser a certificate to that effect under the hand and seal of the Court being endorsed on Ex A.
The other title was set up by a person who was not one of the original defendants (the mortgagor of 1890) but a person added as a party defendant by consent subsequently to the filing of the suit. He stated that after the assignment to A P of the 7443

[illegible]

I have been thinking about you a great deal lately and wondering how you are getting on. I hope you are well and happy. I am still the same old man, but I feel much better now than I did some time back. I have been able to get out more often and enjoy the fresh air. I wish you could see me now. I would like to tell you all the news. I am sure you would be interested. I will write again soon.
 Your affectionate friend,
 John Smith

1753-

[illegible]

[The page contains extremely faint, illegible handwriting, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.]

TITLE—contd

have been dismissed on his admission CHANDRIKA BAKSHI SINGH v. INDAR BIKRAI SINGH (1916) I L R 35 All 440

4 ———— E stoppel—Grantor and Grantee—E ngal Tenancy Act (1111 of 1855) s 55 sub s (1) construction of—Contravention of the section effect of—E stoppel its application The title of a grantee who can fall back upon prior possession a tenant or otherwise cannot be defeated by mere proof of contravention of s 53 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and as between grantor and grantee the rule of estoppel applies when the elements essential to attract its operation are proved to exist. The creation of complete relation of landlord and tenant in law estops the tenant from denying the validity of the title which he has admitted to exist in the landlord. The estoppel arises not by reason of some fact agreed or assumed to be true but as the legal effect of carrying the contract into execution of the tenant taking possession of the property from the hand of the lessor Bhavantha Deva v. Himmata Bidjalar followed 24 C L J 103. It is no more open to the defendant than to the plaintiff to prove facts contrary to the allegations which formed the basis of the contract after the contract has been carried into execution and the contracting parties have enjoyed benefits thereunder Madan v. Jai, G C W 377 Gopal Mondal v. Eshun Chund v. Banjee, I L P 99 Calc 143 Tamiyudu v. Angar Houddar I L R 36 Calc 256 Janaki Nath v. Prabhasini 22 C L J 99 Lani v. Muhamad M C W 948 Gonesh v. Thanda 94 C L J 539 referred to DAMAYDAS BHATTACHARJEE v. VILMAHADAB SARA (1916)

I L R 44 Calc 771

5 ———— Benami purchase—Purchase giving right to get a title but not giving actual title—Transfer by true owner—Action of father making transfer creating estoppel binding son—Conduct causing change of position in transaction—Onus of proof on person asserting minority of transferor The plaintiff (respondent) purchased the village of Badam in the zamindari of the late Raja of Deo from R a dancing girl the natural daughter of the Raja, who was the father of the defendant (appellant). In 1896 the Raja's estate being heavily involved in debt the provisions of the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act (VI of 1876 as amended by V of 1881) were extended to Deo by a special Act and a manager was appointed who acting under the powers given him by the Act sold the village by public auction and it was purchased by K who it afterwards appeared was a benamidar for the Raja who provided the purchase money. No conveyance of the village was ever made by the manager to K. When the management came to an end in 1896 and the estate was restored to the Raja he caused L the son of A (who had died) to execute a conveyance of Badam in favour of P in order to benefit her and M her mother L merely acting on the command of the Raja. R being then a minor put in through M a petition for registration and mutation of names and the Raja himself assisted her asking that her petition might be granted and her name be inserted on the register and stating that he had no objection whatever to that being done and R's name was accordingly entered on the register as proprietor of the village. In October 1898 the Raja died and his son being a minor the estate came under the Court of Wards whose manager in 1899 summarily ejected I who was in possession and conveyed the village to the surviving widow of the deceased Raja as being pur property and descendible from Rani to Pami. An application by her for mutation of names was opposed by R and rejected. The Rani thereupon filed a suit against A and the appellant basing her case on the allegation that A was benamidar for her. But the Subordinate Judge held that he was a benamidar of the late Raja and dismissed the suit a decision which was affirmed by the District Judge. In 1903 P executed the conveyance in favour of the plaintiff who brought the present suit against R and the appellant for declaration of title and for possession. The defence was a denial of R's title to convey and a denial of her power to do so as being a minor. The Subordinate Judge upheld both defences and dismissed the suit. The High Court reversed that decision and gave the plaintiff a decree. Held (affirming that decision) that the onus of proving R's minority was on the appellant and he had not established his assertion. Held also that the sale by auction though it gave K a right to get a title did not give him an actual title. Both Courts found that K had failed to prove he was a true purchaser for value. When therefore L executed the conveyance in favour of R the late Raja was the true owner. A was a trustee for him and the trusteeship was all that L succeeded to. The late Raja too was proprietor of the estate of which Badam was a part so that if by renunciation or limitation the right of K to get a conveyance became extinct the full right and title were in the late Raja; and not only did he cause I to execute the conveyance but he actually assisted R to get registration of her name as owner. By so doing he caused her to change her position for by such registration she became bound to the Government for all the liabilities attaching to the registered holders of immovable property. If the late Raja had lived and attempted to regain the property that conduct would have estopped him from doing so. The appellant was his son and succeeded by gratuitous title and he could not therefore do what his father would have been unable to do. RAJA OF DEO v. ABDULLAH (1918)

TITLE—contd

I L R 45 All 909

6 ———— Possession inference from as regards title Where plaintiff proves that he is in possession for a number of years and has been paying rent to the admitted landlord the legal inference is that the plaintiff is in possession by virtue of a title derived from the landlord although the plaintiff may have failed to prove the specific title on which he bases his claim. The plaintiff is entitled in such a case to a decree as against a defendant who has no title to possession. ADHAR CHANDRA PAL v. DIBAKAR BHUIAN (1913)

I L P 41 C.L. 394

7 ———— Suit for declaration of title—Benami purchase at an execution sale—Asigne of purchaser—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 66 317 In a suit for declaration of title against a purchaser at an execution sale and his assignee where the sale took place and was confirmed before 1st January 1909 but the sale certificate was issued later. Held that the suit against the assignee was good and the provision of s 317 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 185) and not of s 66 of the Civil

TITLE—contd

Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) would apply Tanwarbars v Sankar Lal 7 C L J 351 Brojo Nath v Jageswar 9 C L J 316 Dullada Sundari v Srimanto Joardar 1 L P 561 95 Theyyare Iyer v Kochan 1 L P 21 Mad 7 Si v Kankun v Bhagat 1 L P 21 411 196 refused to. In the absence of clear words a statute will not be construed so as to take away a vested right of action acquired before it was passed Manjhoori v Alal 17 C L J 316 Buddha Koir v Hafila 10 C L J 213 Gopwar v Jagan Chandra 1 L P 41 Cale 11 5 1909 referred to PROBODHA NATH PAL CHOWDHURI v MONI MOHAI PAL CHOWDHURI (19-0)

1 L R 47 Cale. 1108

8 ——— *Jur Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 66—Bani purchase at auction—Old Code (Act XIV of 1859) s 317—A statute whether prima facie prospective. On the 4th or 11th August 1903 the property in suit was purchased in the name of defendant No 1 the plaintiff's son at an auction sale held in execution of a money decree. The sale was confirmed on the 30th July 1906 and a sale certificate issued to defendant No 1 on the 23rd April 1909. In March 1911 defendant No 1 agreed to sell the property to defendant No 2 who commenced a suit for specific performance of the contract on the 9th August 1912 as a result of which defendant No 2 conveyed the property to defendant No 2 in September 1st. The plaintiff brought the present suit for declaration of his title to the property. Both the courts held that the suit was barred by s 66 of Civil Procedure Code. *Held per CREAVES J—If the plaintiff's right of action had accrued prior to the coming into force of the present Code on the 1st January 1909 then having regard to s 6 of the General Clauses Act his right would not have been affected by the wider phraseology of s 66 as compared with s 317 of the old Code. A statute is prima facie prospective and does not interfere with existing rights unless it contains clear words to that effect or unless having regard to its object it necessarily does so. But no right of action accrued prior to March 1911. It is one thing to say that legislation unless expressly made retrospective shall not affect an existing vested right be it of suit or of some other right but it is quite another thing to say that the same principle applies to a possible right of suit which may arise in future which is not a vested right. Held per TREVOR J—If defendant No 2 took with notice of plaintiff's claim the delay made by defendant No 1 in taking up his sale certificate cannot place defendant No 2 in a better or more advantageous position than he would have occupied under the Code of 1859. PRAMATHA NATH PAL CHOWDHURI v SATEENATH CHATTERJEE (1919)

23 C V 4 604

TITLE—contd

The defendant however failed to prove that he had been in adverse possession of the land for more than twelve years. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed simply on the strength of the prima facie title as zamindar. It was not necessary for him to go further and prove that he had been in actual possession at some period within twelve years previous to the commencement of the suit. In cases to which art 144 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 applies, the defence being a title acquired by adverse possession for more than twelve years it is not necessary for the plaintiff as in cases falling under art 142 to prove that he has been in possession at a period within twelve years from the commencement of the suit. It is sufficient if he establish a prima facie title and it is then for the defendant to make good his plea of adverse possession. Secretary of State for India v Chaitani Pama Pao 1 L R 39 Mad 81 followed. Inayat Hussain v Ali Hussain 1 L P 20 47 250 distinguished from JAS CHAND BARADAR v GURWAR SINGH (1919)

1 L R 41 ALL 699TITLE DEEDSSee LETTERS PATENT (FO-BAY) 1 L R 37 Bom 421See MORTGAGE 1 L R 43 Cale 1052

—— deposit of—

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 43 Cale 895See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (17 OF 1902) s 59 1 L R 28 Bom 372TITLE OF DONEE.See CONTRACT ACT s 19 1 L R 25 Bom 37TITLE PARAMOUNT

—— ademption by—

See RESTITUTION 1 L R 43 Cale 454TODA GIRAS ALLOWANCE.See PERSONS ACT 1871 ss 6 & 11 1 L R 34 Bom 154TOPTSee CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE 1 L R 54 Bom 429

See EASEMENT 1 L R 53 47 519

See FIDELITY

See LIMITATION 1 L P 40 Cale 109See MARRIAGE CONTRACT OF 1 L P 29 Bom 622See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT 1 L R 43 Cale 511

—— conspiracy to break a contract

See DAMAGE 1 L R 41 Bom 157

1 ——— Public nuisance—Care of public to do it properly—Special damage—That a clogging a highway and thereby rendering it necessary for a person to make a detour is such a special damage as would justify a person in bringing a suit for removal of the obstruction. Hart v Dyett 13 Jones 7 parts 1 C and 1 supra

TORT—contd

v The Bristol Water Works Company Ltd & 569 referred to PAN CHANDRA v JOTI PARSAD (1910) I L R 53 All 287

—Overflow of water into plaintiff's land—from tank—Belonging to stranger caused by defendant lowering level of his own land to make it culturable—Plaintiff's right to injunction and damages—Where the defendants with a view to make their land culturable lowered its level with the consequence that water in a tank belonging to a third party passed to that land and subsequently overflowed into lands belonging to the plaintiff Held that notwithstanding the plaintiff had been infringed by the act and the plaintiff was not entitled to a mandatory injunction to compel the defendant to raise an embankment in order to prevent this overflow or to damages for harm caused by such overflow Rylands v Fletcher L R 3 H L 330 distinguished Smith v Kenrick 7 Q B 515 Yld v London and W Ry Co L R 10 Ex 4 referred to Where the owner of land without wilfulness or negligence uses his land in the ordinary manner though mischief thereby accrues to his neighbour he is not liable for damages but if with a view to use the land in an unusual manner he brings upon the land water which would not naturally have come upon it he will be liable for damages for the escape of the water into the land of his neighbour Hodgson v Mayor etc of York 28 L T 836 Chesmore v Richards 7 H L Cas 349 relied on KENABAM ARUNIL v SRINIDHAR CHATTERJEE (1912) 18 C W L 875

3 —Negligence of servants of the Public Works Department—Suit against the Secretary of State for India in Council for damages if maintainable—Stacking of gravel on a military road—Making and maintenance of roads—Governmental or Sovereign function—nature of—Non liability of East India Company and Secretary of State for acts done in exercise of Sovereign powers—Exemptions—English and American Law Plaintiff sued the Secretary of State for India in Council for damages in respect of injuries sustained by him in a carriage accident which was alleged to have been due to the negligent stacking of gravel on a road which was stated in the plaint to be a military road maintained by the Public Works Department of the Government The defendant pleaded a general denial of liability Held that the plaintiff had in law no cause of action against the Secretary of State for India in Council Per WALLIS C J—In respect of acts done by the East India Company in the exercise of its sovereign powers it could not have been made liable for the negligence of its servants in the course of their employment The provision and maintenance of roads especially a military road is one of the functions of Government carried on in the exercise of its sovereign powers and is not an undertaking which might have been carried on by private persons The liability of the Secretary of State for India in Council is similar to that of the East India Company P & O Co v Secretary of State for India 5 Bom H C R App 1 followed Secretary of State for India v Momen 40 I A 48 referred to and Vijaya Raghava v Secretary of State for India I L R 7 Mad 466 doubted Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—The analogy of the Crown in England has no application to the Secretary of State for India in Council The principle that the Crown can be sued only for remedies contemplated by the Petition of Right is confined in its operation to the United Kingdom and a general liability for torts is dependent upon the law of the particular dominion wherein the action is instituted Under 21 and 22 Vict cap 106 the Secretary of State for India in Council is under the same liability as the East India Company was subject to The East India Company had two distinctive functions which are even to day exercised by the Government of India namely (i) the exercise of sovereign rights and (ii) the carrying on of transactions which could have been carried on by private individuals or trading corporations In the former case the East India Company was generally exempt from liability The distinction between sovereign power and powers exercisable by private individuals is that in the former case no question of consideration comes in whereas the essence of the latter is that some profit is secured or some special injury is inflicted in the exercise of the individual rights The making and maintenance of roads is a Government or sovereign function English and American Law on subject considered THE SECRETARY OF STATE v COCKEPAFT (1914) I L R 89 Mad 351

TORT—contd

4 —Defamation—Suit for damages—Defamatory statement made and published outside British India—Defendant resident in British India—Suit in British India if maintainable—Order of excommunication from caste passed by Raja of Cochin—Communication of to the Karastia of a Temple in British India—Transmission by Karastia to Patamalai—Publication meaning of—Justification A Court in British India has jurisdiction to entertain a suit for damages for a personal tort committed by a person beyond the limits of British India if he resides within the local limits of its jurisdiction at the time of the suit This rule is in accordance with the principles of Private International Law recognized in England and the Code of Civil Procedure (Act 5 of 1908) indicates that the same rule is to be followed by the Courts in British India When the cause of action alleged in a plaint is a personal tort committed outside the local limits of the jurisdiction of the Courts of British India unless the act is wrongful according to the law both of British India and of the place where the act is committed the suit will not be sustainable The M Mozam (1876) P D 107 The Halley L R 2 P C 193 Phillips v Eyre L R 6 Q B 1 and Carr v Francis Davies & Co [1902] A C 116 followed. Publication in regard to libel and slander does not require communication to more persons than one there need not be anything like publication in the common acceptance of the term King v Burdett 4 B & Ald 95 and Pullman v Hill and Co [1891] 1 Q B 524 referred to Where a subordinate officer received from his superior in the course of his official duty a copy of an order alleged to contain defamatory statements regarding the plaintiff and transmitted the same in his turn (as he was bound to do) to his official subordinate Held that he was not liable in damages for defamation against the plaintiff as his action was justified in law GOVINDAN NAIR v ACHUTHA MENON (1915) I L R 39 Mad 433

5 —Negligence—Municipal liability of—Repair of road—Independent contractor—Heaping of gravel on road without light—Injury to plaintiff—Dart v. Innes—Statutory bodies liability of—District Municipalities Act (11 of 1881) ss 172 and 173—Madras Motor Vehicles Act (1 of 1907)—Absence of licence effect of—The plaintiff sued the Municipality of Vizagapatam to recover compensation for injuries sustained by him owing to the negligent stacking of gravel in a municipal road which was being repaired by a contractor employed by the municipality. The defendant pleaded non liability under the general law and also on the ground that it had employed an independent contractor for the repair of the road. Held that the municipality was liable to pay damages to the plaintiff for the injuries sustained by him. Per SESAIAH AYYAR J.—In laying and maintaining a road municipalities in this country are not exercising purely sovereign functions and consequently they are liable for malfeasance. The Secretary of State v. Cockcroft 1 L R 39 Mad 321 distinguished. The absence of a provision for payment of damages in the District Municipalities Act which directs the application of the Municipal fund in a particular manner does not affect the right of a person against whom a wrong has been committed by the statutory body to recover compensation for such injury. The fact that the plaintiff did not obtain a licence under the Madras Motor Vehicles Act at the time of the accident did not disentitle him to damages. Although an employer is not ordinarily liable for illegality or neglect on the part of a contractor employed by him there are certain recognized exceptions to the rule namely—(i) Where the employer is aware that the doing of a contract work involved a public danger he ought to see that the contractor so discharges his duty as to avoid such a danger. The Corporation of the Town of Calcutta v. Inneson 1 L R 10 Cal 445 referred to. (ii) Where statutory bodies are entrusted with the performance of a public duty their liability can be shifted to a contractor. Hardakar v. The District Council [1896] 1 Q R 355 referred to. Per Vajpey J.—(i) A statutory body like a municipal council cannot be said to be either the servant or the agent of the Crown unless it is so constituted by the provisions of the Act. (ii) With regard to statutory bodies the liability does not depend on their levying tolls or taxes on account of the work undertaken by them. (iii) S 173 of the District Municipalities Act does not control the provisions of s 172 of the same Act. (iv) Where a statutory authority has power to do something to a road which will make it dangerous while it is being done it is liable for any negligence in the doing of that which has to be done whether the action be that of its own servant or of an independent contractor. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF VIZAGAPATAM v. FOSTER (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad 529

TORT—cont'd

6 ———— Trespass—Tree overhanging of a kind—Right to cut off overhanging branches—Injunction to remove overhanging branches an absence of damage. A person is entitled to cut off the portions of the trees which overhang his land. He can obtain an injunction to remove the overhanging portion though he may not be able to prove any damage. See THE LANCET 14 SEPTEMBER 1916

Y. L. N. 43 Bom 164 Wrongful assault—Master and of a Factory Company for committing it by assault—

TORT—cont'd

The Railway Company not liable for acts of the servants which the Company itself is not authorised to do—The Indian Railways Act (IX of 1859) ss 108 121 128 131 132—Arrest of a passenger for pulling the communication chain not authorised by the Indian Railways Act The plaintiff and his wife were third class passengers in one of the defendant Company's trains The plaintiff's compartment which was intended to hold ten passengers became greatly overcrowded at a particular station to the inconvenience and discomfort of the occupants numbering about twenty first After ineffectual efforts to obtain assistance from the guard and the station master at the station the plaintiff stopped the train by pulling the communication chain being afraid that he would be molested by other passengers in the compartment No step was taken to relieve the overcrowdedness of the compartment and the train was re-started When the train had gone some little distance further on its journey the plaintiff again stopped it by pulling the communication chain Thereupon the driver and the guard got down from the train and the driver pulling the plaintiff out of the compartment cuffed and slapped him the guard assisting in the assault The plaintiff was arrested by the driver and the guard at a subsequent station where he was handed over to a station master and after his statement was recorded by the police he was released and allowed to travel to his destination The plaintiff sued the defendant Company in the sum of Rs 3000 as damages for the wilful assault committed by the engine driver and the guard The plaintiff complained that the assault was aggravated having taken place in a public place in the presence of his wife and other passengers in the train in consequence whereof he had to suffer a good deal of public humiliation and mental agony Held (1) that inasmuch as the assault was an incident of the arrest and the defendant Company had no authority under s 109 of the Indian Railways Act to arrest the plaintiff for pulling the communication chain the defendant Company was not liable for asaults committed by its servants (2) that the special provision of s 109 of the Indian Railways Act which expressly provided for a particular kind of obstruction could not be controlled by the more general language of the wider s 121 and 128 of the Act Foulton v London and South Western Railway Co [1892] 2 Q B 531 followed Foyl v Great Northern & Sheffield and Lancashire Railway Co [1893] 1 Q B 415 and Goff v The Great Northern Railway Co [1893] 1 Q B 148 distinguished Farley v Fyfe [1893] 1 Q B 748 referred to The master is liable where the servant acting in a matter which is within the scope of his authority commits a wrong in the course of his employment committed in a wrongful exercise of the authority vested in him The act itself which constitutes the wrong may be and usually is in excess of the servant's authority but if in that transaction the servant is doing in the master's interests one of the class of acts which the master has authorised him to do then the master is liable Cresswell v Manchester, Bury, Newton & Oldham Railway Co [1907] 1 L R 43 Powell v

7 a _____ Damage in the property of another caused by the cutting of a hand—

TORT—contd.

tion Where there is a natural outlet for a natural stream no one has power for the safety of his own property to divert or to interfere with its flow and if he does so he is ordinarily liable to pay damages to any one who is injured by his act. The right of a person to protect his land from extraordinary floods extends to the doing of anything which is reasonably necessary to save his property but he cannot actively adopt such a course as might have the effect of diverting the mischief from his own land to the land of another person which would otherwise have been protected. Defendant through fear lest in a season of heavy rainfall the normal outlets to a certain tank on which his land abutted would be insufficient to carry off the surplus water and with the object of saving his own land from possible inundation cut a bund to the maintenance of which the plaintiff had a pre-emptive right and thereby caused certain lands belonging to the plaintiff to be flooded and the crops thereon destroyed. Held that the plaintiff had a good cause of action in damages against the defendant. Malley v Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway 13 Q B D 131 and Fam Lal Singh v Jull Dharj Malton I L R 3 Cal 76 referred to. SANTILLAN v MAESTRO LAL
I L R 43 All 688

8 ——— Defamation—Bond fide suspicion by defendant of poisoning—Communication by defendant to his subordinates for inquiry—Privilege absolute or qualified—Absence of actual malice—Liability of defendant Where the defendant who was the general manager of the estates of the plaintiff's firm under a bond fide impression that he had been poisoned at the instigation of the plaintiff expressed his suspicion to two of his subordinates with a view to their making inquiries into the matter. Held that the communication was privileged and there being no proof of actual malice the defendant was not liable for defamation in a suit for damages for defamation. Toogood v Spyring I C M & R 181 followed. Statements made to protect the interest of the speaker and statements made to protect a common interest form distinct heads of privilege. LESLIE POOTERS v HAJEE FAKIR MOHAMED SAIT (1918)
I L R 42 Mad 132

9 ——— Legal Act cannot be—contribution as between joint tortfeasors—False defence whether a tort An act which is not legally wrongful cannot be treated as a tort. Although the rule of non-contribution between joint tortfeasors exists in India it ought only to apply in cases where the parties are wrongdoers in the sense that they know or ought to have known that they were doing an illegal or wrongful act. The only cases in which it will be enforced are those in which liability arises out of a joint wrong or where the equities of the case demand that the plaintiff shall not recover as where the party sued was merely a formal defendant in the previous suit and not personally interested in the suit. In appropriate cases the liability may be apportioned in unequal shares. There is nothing wrong in a defendant putting the plaintiff to proof of the facts necessary to prove his claim by denying in the written statement the existence of such facts even if such facts are capable of proof to the knowledge of the defendant and the defendant a motive in denying them is malicious. There is a right of contribution between joint defendants in respect to the costs awarded against them and paid by one of them in such a case. MAHABIR IRASAD v DARBHANGI THAKUR 4 Pat L J 426

TORT—contd.

TOUT

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT s 30
15 C W N 1000
I L R 40 All 153

TOWN NUISANCES

See MADRAS TOWN NUISANCES ACT 1859

TRADE

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 37 Bom 340

See HINDU LAW—MISOP
I L R 34 Bom 72

——— when carried on so as to be a Nuisance—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 133
I L R 1 Lah 163

TRADE LICENSE

See LICENSE I L R 47 Cal 809

TRADE MARK

See COUNTERFEITING TRADE MARK
See INJUNCTION 24 C W N 155
——— meaning of—
See PEVAL CODE s 478

1 ——— Infringement of Trade mark—Essentials necessary to maintain action for It is a settled law that a dealer in or a manufacturer of a particular article who adopts a name for that article whether the name be a purely fancy name or a descriptive name cannot restrain another dealer from using the same name simply upon and the ground that the article so named has acquired a reputation even though it may be that the public have grown accustomed to buy the article in question only relying on the name and without examining the quality of the article. For a man to be entitled to restrain another from using a particular name with reference to a commodity he must show that the public have grown to associate that particular name with him or as the manufacturer of or dealer in the article. Barlow v Gobindram I L R 21 Cal 361 referred to. MOHAMED ESTUR v RAJARATNAM PILLAI (1909)
I L R 33 Mad 402

2 ——— Infringement of Trade mark—Registration effect of—Vendor's mark—Passing off action—Injunction variation of An action for the infringement of a trade mark is maintainable even though the plaintiff be not the manufacturer or selector of the goods but merely a vendor of them. There is no system of registration of trade marks in India which gives a statutory title. In a suit for the infringement of a trade mark the plaintiff claimed the right to be the exclusive user of a flower of a particular design but his evidence was directed to establish that his goods were recognised by the general design of a flower (ghal warka) —

TORT—contd

light—Injury to plaintiff—Damages—Statutory bodies liability of—District Municipalities Act (I of 1881) ss 172 and 173—Madras Motor Vehicles Act (I of 1937)—Breach of license effect of The plaintiff sued the Municipality of Vizagapatam to recover compensation for injuries sustained by him owing to the negligent stacking of gravel in a municipal road which was being repaired by a contractor employed by the municipality. The defendant pleaded non liability under the general law and also on the ground that it had employed an independent contractor for the repair of the road. Held that the municipality was liable to pay damages to the plaintiff for the injuries sustained by him. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J.—In laying and maintaining a road municipalities in this country are not exercising purely sovereign functions and consequently they are liable for misfeasance. The Secretary of State v. Cockerill [1911] 39 Mad 351 distinguished. The absence of a provision for payment of damages in the District Municipalities Act which directs the application of the Municipal fund in a particular manner does not affect the right of a person against whom a wrong has been committed by the statutory body to recover compensation for such injury. The fact that the plaintiff did not obtain a licence under the Madras Motor Vehicles Act at the time of the accident did not entitle him to damages. Although an employer is not ordinarily liable for illegality or neglect on the part of a contractor employed by him there are certain recognized exceptions to the rule namely—(i) Where the employer is aware that the doing of a contract work involved a public danger he ought to see that the contractor so discharges his duty as to avoid such a danger. The Corporation of the Town of Glasgow v. Inneson [1910] 10 Cale 445 referred to. (ii) Where statutory bodies are entrusted with the performance of a public duty their liability cannot be shifted to a contractor. Hardaker v. Idle District Council [1890] 1 Q B 33 referred to. Per Napier J.—(i) A statutory body like a municipal council cannot be said to be either the servant or the agent of the Crown unless it is so constituted by the provisions of the Act. (ii) With regard to statutory bodies the liability does not depend on their levying tolls or taxes on account of the work undertaken by them. (iii) S 173 of the District Municipalities Act does not control the provisions of s 172 of the same Act. (iv) Where a statutory authority has power to do something to a road which will make it dangerous while it is being done it is liable for any negligence in the doing of that which has to be done whether the action be that of its own servant or of an independent contractor. MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF VIZAGAPATAM v. FOSTER (1917) I L R 41 Mad 538

■ Trespass—Trees overhanging one's land—Right to cut off overhanging branches—Injunction to remove overhanging branches in absence of damage A person is entitled to cut off those portions of the trees which overhang his land. He can obtain an injunction to remove the overhanging portion though he may not be able to prove any damage. VISHNU JAGANNATH v. VASUDEO RAGHUNATH (1918) I L R 43 Bom 164

7 Wrongful assault—Master and servant—Liability of a Railway Company for wrongful assaults committed by its servants—

TORT—contd

The Railway Company not liable for acts of the servants which the Company itself is not authorised to do—The Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) ss 108 111 118 131 13—Arrest of a passenger for pulling the communication chain not authorised by the Indian Railways Act The plaintiff and his wife were third class passengers in one of the defendant Company's trains. The plaintiff's compartment which was intended to hold ten passengers became greatly overcrowded at a particular station to the inconvenience and discomfort of the occupants numbering about twenty-five. After ineffectual efforts to obtain assistance from the guard and the station master at the station the plaintiff stopped the train by pulling the communication chain being afraid that he would be molested by other passengers in the compartment. No step was taken to relieve the overcrowding of the compartment and the train was re-started. When the train had gone some little distance further on its journey the plaintiff again stopped it by pulling the communication chain. Thereupon the driver and the guard got down from the train and the driver pulling the plaintiff out of the compartment cuffed and slapped him. The guard assisting in the assault. The plaintiff was arrested by the driver and the guard at a subsequent station where he was handed over to a station master and after his statement was recorded by the police he was released and was allowed to travel to his destination. The plaintiff sued the defendant Company in the sum of Rs. 3,000 as damages for the assault committed by the engine driver and the guard. The plaintiff complained that the assault was a wrongful act having taken place in a public place in the presence of his wife and other passengers in the train in consequence whereof he had to suffer a train in consequence whereof he had to suffer a good deal of public humiliation and mental agony. Held (i) that inasmuch as the assault was an incident of the arrest and s 108 of the Indian Railways Act authorised the plaintiff for pulling the communication chain the defendant Company was not liable for as assaults committed by its servants. (ii) that the special provision of s 108 of the Indian Railways Act which expressly provided for a particular kind of obstruct on could not be controlled by the more general language of the Act. Poulton v. London and South Western Railway Co [1892] 2 Q B 531 followed. Boyley v. Manchester Sheffield and Lincolnshire Railway Co [1897] 1 P 415 and Coff v. The Great Northern Railway Co [1898] 1 Q B 118 distinguished. Earle v. Edger [1898] 1 A C 745 referred to. The master is liable where the servant acting in a matter which is within the scope of his authority commits a wrong by exceeding the authority vested in him. The act itself which constitutes the wrong may be and usually is in excess of the servant's authority but if in thus transgressing his authority the servant is doing in the master's interest one of the class of acts which the master has employed him to do then the master is liable. CHITRA SHANKAR DATASHANKAR v. B. B. and C. I. PATIL (1917) I L R 43 Bom 103

7 a Damage to the property of another caused by the cutting of a band—in order to save the tortfeasor from further

TORT—contd

tion Where there is a natural outlet for a natural stream no one has power for the safety of his own property to divert or to interfere with its flow and if he does so he is ordinarily liable to pay damages to any one who is injured by his act. The right of a person to protect his land from extraordinary floods extends to the doing of anything which is reasonably necessary to save his property but he cannot actively adopt such a course as might have the effect of diverting the main chief from his own land to the land of another person which would otherwise have been protected. Defendant through fear lest in a season of heavy rainfall the normal outlets to a certain tank on which his land abutted would be insufficient to carry off the surplus water and with the object of saving his own land from possible inundation cut a bund to the maintenance of which the plaintiff had a prescriptive right and thereby caused certain lands belonging to the plaintiff to be flooded and the crops thereon destroyed. Held that the plaintiff had a good cause of action in damages against the defendant. Willes v Lancashire and Yorkshire Railway 13 Q B D 131 and Pam Lal Singh v Lill Dhary Malton 1 P 3 Cal 76 referred to. ASHFILLER v MARKED LAL 1 L R 43 All 688

8 ——— Defamation—Bond fide suspicion by defendant of poisoning—Communication by defendant to his subordinates for inquiry—Privilege absolute or qualified—Absence of actual malice—Liability of defendant Where the defendant who was the general manager of the estates of the plaintiff's firm under a bond fide impression that he had been poisoned at the instigation of the plaintiff expressed his suspicion to two of his subordinates with a view to their making inquiries into the matter. Held that the communication was privileged and there being no proof of actual malice the defendant was not liable for defamation in a suit for damages for defamation. Toogood v Spyring 1 C M D P 181 followed. Statements made to protect the interest of the speaker and statements made to protect a common interest form distinct heads of privilege. LESLIE ROGERS v HAJEE FAKIR MAHOMED SAIT (1918) 1 L R 42 Mad 132

9 ——— Legal Act cannot be—contribution as between joint tortfeasors—False defence whether a tort An act which is not legally wrongful cannot be treated as a tort. Although the rule of non-contribution between joint tortfeasors exists in India it ought only to apply in cases where the parties are wrongdoers in the sense that they knew or ought to have known that they were doing an illegal or wrongful act. The only cases in which it will be enforced are those in which liability arises out of a joint wrong or where the equities of the case demand that the plaintiff shall not recover as where the party sued was merely a formal defendant in the previous suit and not personally interested in the suit. In appropriate cases the liability may be apportioned in unequal shares. There is nothing wrong in a defendant putting the plaintiff to proof of the facts necessary to prove his claim by denying in the written statement the existence of such fact even if such facts are capable of proof to the knowledge of the defendant and the defendant's motive in denying them is malicious. There is a right of contribution between joint defendants in respect to the costs awarded against them and paid by one of them in such a case. MAHABIR PRASAD v DARBHANGI THAKUR 4 Pat L J 426

TORT—concld

TOUT

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 36
15 C W N 1000
1 L R 40 All 153

TOWN NUISANCES

See MADRAS TOWN NUISANCES ACT 1889

TRADE

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
1 L R 37 Bom 340

See HINDU LAW—MINOR
1 L R 34 Bom 72

——— when carried on so as to be a Nuisance—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 133
1 L R 1 Lah. 163

TRADE LICENSE

See LICENSE 1 L R 47 Cal 809

TRADE MARK

See COUNTERFEITING TRADE MARK
See INJUNCTION 24 C W N 155

——— meaning of—

See PENAL CODE s 479
19 C W N 857

1 ——— Infringement of Trade mark—Facts etc necessary to maintain action for It is an established law that a dealer in the manufacture of a particular article who adopts a name for that article whether the name be a purely fancy name or a descriptive name cannot restrain another dealer from using the same name simply upon and the ground that the article so named has acquired a reputation even though it may be that the public have grown accustomed to buy the article in question only relying on the name and without examining the quality of the article. For a man to be entitled to restrain another from using a particular name with reference to a commodity he must show that the public have grown to associate that particular name with him either as the manufacturer of or dealer in the article. Barlow v Gobindram 1 L R 91 Cal 361 referred to. MAHOMED ESTUF v RAJARATNAM PILLAI (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad. 402

2 ——— Infringement of Trade mark—Registration effect of—Vendor's mark—Passing off action—Injunction variation of An action for the infringement of a trade mark is maintainable even though the plaintiff be not the manufacturer or selector of the goods but merely a vendor of them. There is no system of registration of trade marks in India which gives a statutory title. In a suit for the infringement of a trade mark the plaintiff claimed the right to be the exclusive user of a flower of a particular design but his evidence was directed to establish that his goods were recognised by the general design of a flower (ghul varlo) —

TRADE MARK—contd

Held that in the circumstances of the case an assignment had been established between the plaintiff's particular design and the goods sold thereunder and inasmuch as the defendant had adopted the plaintiff's trade mark for his own purposes the plaintiff was entitled to an injunction. Although no specific objection was taken on appeal to the form of the injunction ordered in the Court of first instance which proceeded on the erroneous assumption that the goods sold by the plaintiff were prepared by him a variation should be introduced into the terms of the injunction so as to fit in with the facts as established. JAMES L. LADD & MURRAY LIL SENOWJEE (1907)

I L R 37 Calc 204

3 ——— Assignment—Trade name—Cigarette—Injunction Where a cigarette manufacturer carrying on only one business and being the proprietor of several trade marks which he sold indiscriminately purported to assign to another person to manufacture all that the trade mark names and label known as the 'St. Dur's' trade mark used upon packets of cigarettes sold and known as 'St. Dur's' cigarettes and the goodwill of his business so far as the same relates thereto and inasmuch as dealing in his cigarettes under the other mark. —Held that the assignment was void and inoperative. For the assignment of a trade mark to be operative in law it is not sufficient that an assignment of goodwill should accompany or follow the transfer of the trade mark or as literally to comply with the rule that a trade mark cannot be transferred in gross but the trade mark must continue to be a representation of the truth as warranting the origin of the goods to which it is attached within the limits of deviation sanctioned by the usage of trade and commerce. Leather Cloth Company v. American Leather Cloth Company 11 H L 523 Hall v. Barrett & De G. J. & D. 100 Singer Manufacturing Company v. Wilson L R 2 Ch D 434 Singer Manufacturing Company v. Long L R 8 A C 15 Pinto v. Padman 4 I P C 181 and Edwards v. Dennis 1 I Ch D 451 referred to. BRITISH AMERICAN TOBACCO CO. LTD. v. MANOOS BUKSH (1910)

I L R 38 Calc 110

4 ——— Imitation—Abandonment—Injunction—Defendants improperly representing that their business to be business carried on by plaintiffs—Injunction—Raising of issues—Practice—Procedure The plaintiffs had since the year 1847 been importing and selling in India watches manufactured at the St. Imier Factory in Switzerland. These watches bore the name 'Berna' on the dial. In 1907 the plaintiffs complained of the watches supplied by the St. Imier Factory and began to import watches largely from other manufacturers while they ceased giving orders to the St. Imier Factory. In the year 1908 the St. Imier Factory was purchased by the defendants and at the time of purchase the defendants asked the plaintiffs whether the defendants could positively count upon the plaintiffs to be their regular customers for the articles previously taken from the St. Imier Factory. The plaintiffs replied that they were willing in principle to reserve a part of their orders for the defendants but that it would first be necessary for the latter to give an idea of what they were going to manufacture and the improvements they were going to make in the quality of the watches.

TRADE-MARK—contd

In one of their catalogues printed in 1900 the plaintiffs announced — We take this opportunity of informing our customers that the name 'Berna' will be changed to 'Service' as soon as our present stock of these watches is sold out. The trade mark will in other respects remain unaltered. The alteration of the name is done to secure a trade mark which cannot be imitated in India or elsewhere. On the 6th of November 1908 the defendants opened a place of business in Bombay and issued a circular dated February 1909 in which on behalf of the defendant Company they referred to the plaintiffs as the defendants' agents who had sold 100,000 watches made at the St. Imier Factory in 1907 years and proclaimed that 'Berna' Company's watches would no longer be sold by their former sole agents importers (meaning the plaintiffs) as the defendants had decided to get rid of any middle man and to deal directly themselves. The plaintiffs thereupon filed a suit on the 2nd April 1909 against the defendants to restrain them from using and imitating various trade symbols alleged to belong to the plaintiffs and from representing that the defendants' business was the business carried on by the plaintiffs. Held that the plaintiffs for the last three years both in their dealings with the supplying factory and with their customers evinced very clear and consequently their intention to abandon the name 'Berna' as a quality mark for their watches and it followed that they could no longer claim any exclusive title to the use of that name either alone or in a trade mark. Held further that the plaintiffs were entitled to an injunction restraining the defendants their servants agents travellers and representatives respectively from in any manner representing that the defendant Company had been or were carrying on the business carried on by the plaintiffs or were the successors in business of the plaintiffs. Per Curiam — The importer who by advertising and putting the sale of goods under a particular mark secures a wide popularity for the mark in relation to the goods sold by him is entitled to the protection of the Court for that mark in the country of importation even against the producer of the goods. Demonstrations v. Hormazas Adani (unreported) Ajmal & Co. v. Hooper 1 I L R 8 Cal 149 referred to. The fact that the user of a word or mark always uses it in conjunction with his own name is not conclusive to show that the word or mark cannot be claimed as a trade mark or that the user has waived his rights in it as a trade mark. The question of abandonment is one of intention to be inferred from the facts of the case. Mousson & Co. v. Boehm 1 I L R 8 Cal D 398 and Lacorne v. Hooper 1 I L R 8 Cal 149 followed. The practice of raising a number of issues which do not state the main questions in the suit but only various subsidiary matters of fact upon which there is no agreement between the parties is very embarrassing. Issues should be confined to questions of law arising on the pleadings and as to questions of fact as it would be necessary for the judge to frame for decision by the jury in a jury trial at most prior to England. West End Watch Company v. Berna Watch Co. (1910) 1 I L R 35 Bom 425

5 ——— Using a false trade mark—Possession of instruments for counterfeiting a trade mark—Selling umbrellas with counterfeit trade mark—Trade name use of by rival manufacturer—Using a false trade description—Penal Code (Act XL of 1860) ss 48, 48A and 48B—Merchandise Marks Act (II of 1859) ss 6 and 7 A trade mark must be some visible and concrete device or design affixed to goods to indicate that they are the manufacture of the person who properly the trade mark is. It must consist of a name impressed in some distinctive way. There is a distinction between a trade mark and a trade name. Singh Manufacturing Co v Loog L P 8 A C 15 referred to. Where a trade man alleged in his complaint to the Magistrate that his trade mark consisted of a particular device with the name Bulto Kri to Pal or Sri Bulto Kri to Pal said to be that of his son but at the trial claimed only the name as the trade mark while one of the partners claimed the device except the name and the former's son claimed the name as representing his own trade mark in a separate business and the rest of the prosecution evidence did not establish the possession or use of any specific trade mark. Held that the complainant had not proved that he had a trade mark for the satisfaction of which a rival trader using a similar device with the same name could be convicted under ss 48, 48A or 48B of the Penal Code and that the case was of a civil nature. When a mark is not an exclusive right to manufacture a certain article or even articles of a particular kind all that he can claim is that no other manufacturer should so mark such articles as to pass them off as his for marks when they are not. Sem. El Trade name use of a trade name may fall under s 5 of the Merchandise Marks Act (IV of 1833) and be punishable under s 6 or s 7 as a false trade description. ANATH NATH DEV v EREKATTA (1912) 1 L P 49 Cal 281

TRADE MARK—contd

6 ——— License Estoppel—Evidence Act (I of 1877) s 117—Licencee's right to question Licensor's title—Public Policy—Assignment of trade mark does not imply standard or quality of manufacture—Inalienability of trade mark—Incoming Partner's liability for obligations of firm—Costs The licensee of a trade mark is estopped as against his licensor from questioning the latter's title to the trade mark. The fact that the licensee has repudiated his contract with his licensor cannot give him the right to question the licensor's title for the latter's concurrence is necessary to rescind the contract. Johnstone v Milling 16 Q B D 489 referred to. Where joint trade marks bearing the name of the original proprietor of those marks have come by usage of trade to indicate not the skill in selecting jute of the original proprietor so as to make those marks personal to him but merely a certain standard, kind quality or mode of manufacture of goods irrespective of the person in whose hands the business might be the assignment of such marks is not a fraud on the public or against public policy. A license for four out of seven trade marks the remaining three having been abandoned is valid. British American Tobacco Co Ltd v Mahboob Bukh 1 L P 38 Cal 110 distinguished. As the right to a trade mark might be acquired so it might be abandoned and no length of time is required for acquiring the right or apart from statutory law to constitute an abandonment. Latourne v Hooper 1 L P 8 Mod 149 approved. An agreement by an incoming partner to make himself liable to creditors of the firm before he joined it may be established by indirect evidence and the Courts lean in favour of such an agreement and are ready to infer it from slight circumstances. Ex parte Jackson 1 Ves Jun 131 Ex parte Peelle 6 Ves Jun 602 and Rolle and the Bank of Australia v Flower Salling & Co L R 1 P C 27 approved. JAGANNATH & Co v CRESSWELL AND OTHERS (1913) 1 L R 40 Cal 814

TRADE MARK—contd

7 ——— Title—Assignment—Trade mark in selection of natural products as indicating quality—Goodwill—Licensee to use trade marks—Action for royalty—Estoppel—Licensee estopped from questioning validity of license—Evidence Act (I of 1877) s 11—Dama's action for In India the law of trade marks is not governed by statute there being no statutory system of registration. Rights and liabilities in connection with trade marks are determined by reference to the principles of the common law of England. British American Tobacco Co Ltd v Mahboob Bukh 1 L P 38 Cal 110 referred to. A trade mark cannot be transferred or descend in gross but only together with the goodwill of the business to which it relates. A trade mark represents the origin of the goods to which it is attached or their trade association the truth of the representation is essential. By usage successors in business may use their predecessors' trade marks where the representation still continues to be substantially true. A selector of natural products like jute may have a trade mark in connection with such selection as indicating good quality. Major Brothers v Franklin & Son (1908) 1 K B 712 followed. Measuring of good will explained. Inland Revenue Commissioners v Muller & Co's Margarine Ltd (1901) 1 C 917 referred to. In a suit for royalty brought by the licensees of certain jute trade marks against the licensee the defence taken was that the plaintiffs had no title to the marks in question and that the license was void. Held that by virtue of s 117 of the Evidence Act the licensees were estopped from questioning their licensors' title or the validity of the license. At any rate s 117 cast on the defendants the burden of proving that the goodwill of the business had not passed to the plaintiffs to support the transfer of the trade marks and the defendants having failed to do so the plaintiffs were entitled to the royalty claimed. Claim to damages by the licensors for depreciation in the value of the trade marks due to the default of the licensees refused on the facts of the case. The Decision of IMAM J in Jagannath & Co v Cresswell 1 L R 40 Cal 814 affirmed. HANNAH v JAGANNATH & Co (1914)

1 L R 42 Cal 262

8 ——— Infringement—Action for—Advertisement and circular—Cause of action—Jurisdiction of Court where advertisement is published A trader is not entitled to pass off his goods as goods of another trader by selling them under a name which is likely to deceive purchasers (whether immediately or ultimately) into the belief that they are buying goods of another trader. The defendant a resident of Caya published advertisements and distributed handbills at Muttra in the Agra Judgeship advertising his medicine known as Ash Sudha Sindhu. The plaintiff alleged that Sudha Sindhu was his registered trade mark and he brought this suit for an injunction and for damages in the Court of the Subordinate Judge of Muttra. Held that a trade mark could be infringed by means of advertisement and as the cause of action arose partly at Muttra the courts there had jurisdiction to entertain the suit. Jay v Lallier L R 49 Ch D 619. Bourne v Swan and Edgar [1896] L R 1 Ch 211. Frank Piddarway v George Banham [1896] L C 199 referred to. KHESHTRA PAL GUHARMA v PANCHAM SINGH VARMA (191)

TRADE MARK—contd

I L P 37 All 446

TRADE-NAME

See INJUNCTION

24 W N 155

See TRADE MARK I L P 38 Calc 110
I L R 40 Calc 281

Similarity of names of Insurance Companies—Oriental—Word known in business—Intention to deceive—Injury to plaintiff—Injunction—Provident Insurance Society—Provident Insurance Societies Act (I of 191) ss 6 and 6—Indian Life Insurance Companies Act (I of 191)—User On an application by the plaintiff company an old large and well known Insurance Company registered in Bombay and having a branch office in Calcutta for a temporary injunction to restrain the defendant company which was incorporated in Calcutta in November 1912 with a small share capital but with the widest powers of doing life and other insurance business though its present rules limited its life insurance business to the issue of policies for sums not exceeding Rs 500 from using or carrying on business under the name it had adopted—Held that inasmuch as the term Oriental had become identified with the plaintiff company an injunction should issue restraining the defendant company from using the term Oriental in its name as such user would be likely to deceive the public and the defendant company would be a source of danger to and would be liable to cause damage to the plaintiff company. Merchant Banking Company of London v Merchants Joint Stock Bank L R 9 Ch D 560. Accident Insurance Company Ltd v Accident Disease and General Insurance Corporation Ltd 51 L J Ch 104. Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Company v Guardian and General Insurance Company Ltd 50 L J Ch 251 referred to. The circumstance that the field of operation of the defendant company was in the Orient did not entitle it to the use of the term Oriental. Hendricks v Montague L R 17 Ch D 638 followed. Rugby Portland Cement Co Ltd v Pughy and Newbold Portland Cement Co Ltd 8 R P C 241 (C A 9 R P C 46 distinguished. Semble An Insurance Company incorporated under the Indian Companies Act is not a Provident Insurance Society within the scope of the Provident Insurance Societies Act of 1912. ORIENTAL GOVERNMENT SECURITY LIFE ASSURANCE CO LD v ORIENTAL ASSURANCE CO LD (1913)

I L R 40 Calc 570

Manufacturers of cloth affixing numbers on pieces sold—Cloth known by the numbers affixed as being of a particular manufacture—Numbers not quality marks—Agents and middlemen ordering out goods by numbers alone—Use of numbers protected when they are parts

TRADE NAME—contd

cular marks of a manufacturer's goods—Numbers when a trade name—Cases of actual deception not necessary The plaintiffs were manufacturers of cloth on a large scale at their Mills in Napore Central Provinces. In the year 1904 they commenced to manufacture a certain quality of black twill and to distinguish this particular cloth from all other cloths of their manufacture stamped on each piece of cloth the No 201 and immediately below that number stamped each piece with the No 10 which denoted the colour and shade of the cloth. There was also on each piece of cloth a woven device of a serpent surrounded by a scroll containing the name of the Empress Mill. This twill had acquired a great reputation in the Indian markets and particularly in Sindh the North West Frontier Province and the Punjab where the plaintiffs had got their selling agents. The dealers Amritsar Peshawar and Karachi. The dealers in these towns and other smaller towns would apply to the selling agents for the plaintiff's cloth and the cloth would be distributed by these dealers to smaller dealers in smaller towns and villages and so on until it ultimately found its way to the consumer. In or about July 1913 the defendants began to manufacture black twill cloth and on every piece of such twill put on the No 101 with the No 10 below in the same position as the No 101 stamped on the plaintiff's cloth. In addition the defendants annexed a label thereto representing an image of the Sun known as the Soraj Chap or Sun label and also a white ticket bearing the defendant company's name and other particulars in English Gujarathi and Urdu languages. The plaintiffs alleged that by the year 1913 their No 201 had become identified with their goods and any black twill cloth stamped with the No 201 would be ordinarily taken by purchasers as being the well known No 201 cloth of the plaintiffs and would be very likely passed off by rivals as being the plaintiffs' goods. The companies as being the plaintiffs' goods. The plaintiffs contended that they were entitled solely to the use of the No 201 stamped on their black twill and the use of that number by the defendant on a similar twill constituted an infringement of their rights. The plaintiffs accordingly sought to restrain the defendants by injunction from selling their black twill cloth with the No 201 stamped on it and for an account of their profits made by the defendants by the sale of their black twill with the No 201 stamped on it. The defendants pleaded that the No 201 was merely a quality mark descriptive of goods and was so adopted by several dealers in black twill. They further relied on the fact that they had taken particular care to distinguish their goods from those of the plaintiffs by using different labels and devices. The trial Court decreed an account on appeal claim for injunction and held (i) that the plaintiffs having established that the particular No 201 was an invariable indication of the cloth being of their manufacture they were entitled to claim an exclusive right to the user of that number in connection with the black twill which they put on the market. Barlow v Govindram I L A C 361 distinguished. Wotherspoon v Currie L R 5 H L 508 and Birmingham & Exeter Brewery Co v Powell [1897] A C 710 followed. (ii) that it was not necessary for the plaintiffs to prove cases of actual deception if the defendants had put into the hands of middlemen a means whereby ultimate purchasers were likely to be

TRADE NAME—continued

defranded, Singer Manufacturing Company v Loog 18 Ch D 395 41° and Liver v Goodwin 36 Ch D 1 followed MADHAVJI DIAPHERSY MANUFACTURING Co v THE CENTRAL INDIA SPINNING WEAVING AND MANUFACTURING Co (1916) 1 L R 41 Bom 49

TRADE USAGE

See JUTE 1 L R 44 Calc 98

TRADING LICENSES

granted to hostile firms—

See CONTRACT WITH ALIEN ENEMY 1 L R 41 Bom 390

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

See BILL OF LACHAR

1 L R 41 Bom 566
1 L R 46 Calc 84

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

See CONTRACT ACT (11 OF 1879) ss 56(2) C 1 L P 40 Bom 570

See SALE OF GOODS

1 L R 40 Bom 11

Acts done and directions given before date of the Ordinance relevancy of—Subsequent ratification—Trading meaning of—Directions to an agent to take delivery of goods lying in London and to sell to German firm against payment—Supply of goods to agent and sale by him to German firm—Destined meaning of—Legal and actual destination—Goods shipped to enemy country before the war but taken up by English firm in London—Exportation of goods to accused agent in Italy refused by such firm because of Royal Proclamation—Abetment of supply to or of trading by the agent—Power of Appellate Court to alter conviction of principal offence to one of abetment—Discretion of Court—Commercial Intercourse with Enemies Ordinance (VI of 1914) s 3—Trading with the Enemy Proclamation No 2 cl 5 (7) (9)—Royal Proclamation of 15th October 1914—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 43 Where a case of mica was shipped by the accused to a German firm before the war but arrived in London after its outbreak and was taken up by an English firm whereupon he wrote before the date of the Ordinance VI of 1914 on 14th October 1914 to a Bank in London to make over the case to the English firm and also to the latter to take it up and send the same to his agent at Genoa on application by such agent which however the English firm refused to do by reason of the prohibition of the export of mica to Italy by Royal Proclamation and further wrote to the agent to apply to the English firm for the mica and to deliver it to a German purchaser against payment and where after the date of the Ordinance the accused again wrote to his agent informing him of his aforesaid letters and instructions to the Bank and the English firm and directing the agent to apply for the case of mica to the latter and to deliver it to the German purchaser against payment which directions were not in fact carried out on account of the refusal by the English firm to export the mica to Italy—Held that as the Ordinance was not retrospective the only acts and directions which the Court could take into consideration to establish the offence of trading with the enemy

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY—continued

were such as were done or given after the date of its enactment unless the previous acts and directions were ratified thereby Quare Whether were directions to an agent to apply for goods in the possession of a third person and to deliver the same to an enemy against payment amount to trading within the meaning of the Trading with the Enemy Proclamation No 2 cl 5 () The word destined when used with the term trading in the same sub clause means intended for and not on the way to Legal destination must not be confused with actual destination The Court must determine whether the goods were actually destined for an enemy and with reference only to acts done and directions given after the date of the Ordinance VI of 1914 If the English firm had really purchased the good outright they were not in existence so far as any disposition of them by the accused was concerned after the date they were taken up and paid for and could not be destined for an enemy But assuming that the said firm had merely taken over the goods on behalf of the accused and subject to his further instructions a direction to the agent to apply for and deliver them to a German purchaser against payment was insufficient to give the goods an enemy destination in fact as such direction had no operation on receipt thereof by reason of the refusal of the English firm to export the goods to the agent at Genoa Held also that as the point was not free from doubt the accused was entitled to the benefit of it It is not a universal rule that in no case can an Appellate Court convict an accused of abetment when he was charged only with the principal offence But it is discretionary with the Appellate Court to allow such fresh charge to be tried on appeal The Court refused under the circumstances of the case to alter the conviction to one of abetment of supply to or of trading by the agent Where the agent of the accused sold and delivered some cases of mica and handed over the shipping documents for certain other cases lying in London to a German firm or its agent in Genoa—Held per BEACHROFF AND GREAVES JJ that the accused was guilty of the offence of supplying goods to the enemy within cl 5 (1) of the Trading with the Enemy Ordinance No 2 INDIAN HANDS ENFORCEMENT (1915)

1 L R 42 Calc 1084

Attempting to trade with enemy—Commercial Intercourse with Enemies Ordinance (VI of 1914) s 3 Obtaining in ss 5 (7) and 5 (9) of the Royal Proclamation meaning of—Penal statutes generally not retrospective The accused a trader in Madras dealing in tobacco cabled on 28th July 1914 to one Puppell, a German residing in Germany for certain sales of tobacco In compliance with this order Puppell sent to certain agents of the accused at Amsterdam some bales of tobacco about the end of September 1914 and these agents again shipped them on 7th October 1914 to Messrs Lancelot and Dent the agents of the accused in London Having received the same before the 14th October 1914 the London agents reshipped them to the accused who received the same in Madras between the 21st and 26th November 1914 War was declared between England and Germany on 4th August 1914 A Royal Proclamation prohibiting trade with the enemy was made on 9th September 1914 and an Ordinance

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY—contd

(Commercial Intercourse with Enemies Ordinance VI of 1914) to the same effect was passed on 11th October 1914 and it came into force on that day. On these facts the accused was charged and convicted by a Magistrate of the offence of trading with the enemy under s. 3 of the Commercial Intercourse with Enemies Ordinance VI of 1914 on the ground that he obtained in Madras between 21st and 26th November 1914 goods from an enemy and from an enemy country. He was also convicted by the Magistrate of the offence of attempting to trade with the enemy under the same section writing two letters on 26th November 1914, one to a neutral subject in Holland and another to an enemy in Germany requesting them to secure for him his merchandise in Germany. Held on the second charge that the accused was guilty of attempt to trade even if the goods in the enemy's country became his own before the outbreak of the war or even if there were no goods of his share at the time he wrote the letters. Reg v King 61 L J (N S) 1106 and Reg v Oppenheimer and Colbcl [1915] 1 K B 750 followed. Held on the first charge that the conviction could not be sustained as the charge was not proved as laid. P v Wallis O J—The charge of trading is bad for two reasons—(i) the ordering or procuring was before the 14th of October 1914 the date when the Ordinance came into force and (ii) even this procuring was in London by the accused's agents an offence which Courts in India have no jurisdiction to try. Semble Trading with the enemy is a Common Law offence in England if not in India also. The Royal Proclamation and the Ordinance have no retrospective effect. The words obtaining goods in their ordinary meaning include procuring or ordering goods as well as taking delivery of them on arrival. Per Courts Trotter J—The offence committed if any was one of obtaining goods by way of transmission under the latter part of s. 5 (7) of the Royal Proclamation an offence with which the accused was not charged. Semble Trading with the enemy is a Common Law offence both in England and in India. Obiter A person may be guilty of illegally obtaining goods twice once through his agents and thereafter by himself. It is no defence to the charge of obtaining goods under the Ordinance that some acts constituting the offence took place before the date of the Ordinance. Reg v Griffiths [1921] 2 Q B 145 referred to. The charge of trading having failed their Lordships refused in the circumstances of the case to amend the charge into one of obtaining goods by way of transmission under the latter portion of s. 5 (7) of the Royal Proclamation. JACOPIUS v KING EMPEROR (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 34

TRADING WITH THE ENEMY PROCLAMATION NO 2

— clis (7) (9)—

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

1 L R 42 Cal 1094

TRAFFICKING IN OFFICES

See CONTRACT 1 L P 43 Cal 115

TRANSFER

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKARAN LANDS

1 L P 45 Cal 765

TRANSFER—contd

See DEKKHA v AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT 1899 s 10 1

1 L R 45 Bom 87

See FRAUDULENT TRANSFER

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

18 C W N 108

See ITIMAN 1 L P 47 Cal 93

See MAHOMEDAN LAW ENDOWMENTS

1 L R 47 Cal 806

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

14 C W N 68

See PRE EMPTION 1 L R 38 All 361

See TRANSFER OF HOLDING

See TRANSFER OF SHARES

See TRUSTS ACT s 5

1 L R 106 Bom 396

— by father effect of—

See TITLE PROOF OF

1 L R 45 Cal 909

— by lessee—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

1 L R 117 Cal 683

— by mortgage—

See MORTGAGE BY MINOR

1 L R 38 Mad 1071

— effect of—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKARAN LANDS

1 L R 45 Cal 515

— fraudulent—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907

s 30 2 Pat L J 101

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1892

s 53 2 Pat L J 546

— of application—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 24

1 L R 34 Bom 411

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

1 L R 40 Cal 37

— of decree—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

5 Pat L J 639

1 L R 87 Cal 574

See HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS

r 161 1 L R 39 Mad 485

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

1 L R 43 Cal 690

— of Civil Case—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 s

22 to 24

— to High Court—

See APPEAL

1 L R 47 Cal 1104

— of Criminal Case—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss

526 to 528

See EXTRADITION

1 L R 46 Cal 11

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

1 L R 44 Cal 595

TRANSFER—*contd*of Criminal Case—contd

See PENAL CODE 225
I L R 39 All 234

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 42 Cal 667

See TRANSFER OF MAGISTRATE
I L R 40 Mad 108

of goods to creditor—Effect of—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT
(III of 1909) s 57
I L R 39 Mad 250

of Magistrate who has written but not a written judgment—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 367
I L R 40 Mad 108

of Management—

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE
I L R 39 Mad 436

of Proceedings—

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869) ss 3
16 37 44 I L R 40 Bom 109

of position of joint—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Cal 687

of shares—

See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 334

of suit—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IV OF 1887) ss 23 27
I L R 38 Bom 190

of tenants rights—

See PARTIES 14 C W N 703

of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 118 to 120 54 AND 55 CL 6
(5) I L R 38 Mad 519

to Bona fide purchaser—

See SHARES I L R 46 Cal 331

to landlord—

See CHAUUKIDARI CHAKARAN LANDS
I L R 45 Cal 685

Transferee taking possession before execution of agreement—

See AGREEMENT TO TRANSFER
24 C W N 463

with consent of reversioner—

See TITLE SUIT FOR DECLARATION OF
I L R 38 All 440

Bona fide transferee for value without notice of mortgage—

See DEKHAM AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT s 10A I L R 45 Bom 87

1 ———— Transfer of share of a claim in respect of property not in possession of valid A transfer by a person of a share of his

TRANSFER—contd

claim with respect to property of which he is not in possession is valid and operative. An agreement between the transferor and the transferee that it shall not be competent for the former to confess judgment in favour of the defendant or to enter into compromise or withdraw the claim in respect of the whole or any part of the subject matter of the suit in titrated for the recovery of the property is valid and should be given effect to. Lal Adal Jam v Ka im Hu sin Khan L R 39 I A 113 see 9 C W N 47 followed. In such a suit if the transferor wants to withdraw he may be permitted to do so but the suit may proceed at the instance of the transferee. RANJHAN PURI v GOSSAIN
DALNIR PURI (1909) 14 C W N 191

2 ———— Transfer of a suit under s 90 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) from the Court of a District Judge to that of the Additional District Judge—Authority of Additional District Judge to try such suit—Civil Courts Act (VII of 1887) s 8 sub (1)—Convenience. An Additional District Judge by virtue of the assignment of all the functions of a District Judge under the provisions of sub s (2) of s 8 of Act VII of 1887 is empowered to exercise the same powers as the District Judge in suits under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code. Semle. Any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government in s 92 of the Code probably refers to Courts such as the Subordinate Judges Courts. Transfer of the suit was ordered in this case on the ground of convenience the opposite party being compensated by payment of his costs. MOHAMMAD RAHMAN v HAZI ABDUR RAHIM
(1910) I L R 46 Cal 43

3 ———— Notification by Local Government empowering a particular Judge to deal with a particular case pending in another Court for legal—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)
s 9—Power of District Judge to transfer a case from his file by virtue of such notification. A notification by the Local Government under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) directed to a particular Judge and purporting to deal with a particular litigation which was already pending in the Court of the District Judge is ultra vires. A District Judge therefore has no power to transfer a case brought under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code which was pending in his Court to the Court of a particular Subordinate Judge who was empowered by Local Government to try it by virtue of such a notification. ABDUL KARIM ABU AHMED KHAN v ABDUS SOBHAN
CROWDERY (1911) I L R 39 Cal 146

4 ———— Appeal—Powers of Court to whom case is transferred for trial—Limitation—Practice. When an appeal has been transferred for trial by a District Judge to a Subordinate Judge the Subordinate Judge has for the purpose of disposing of the appeal under the Bengal North Western Province and Assam Civil Courts Act all the powers which could be exercised by the District Judge. Where therefore an appeal was presented to the District Judge after the period of limitation owing to a mistake of law as regards the appealability of the suit and the District Judge admitted the appeal under s 5 of the Limitation Act and transferred the appeal to the Subordinate Judge for disposal the Subordinate Judge has power to consider whether the appeal was competent or barred by limitation.

TRANSFER—contd

Jhotee Sahoo v Om sh Chunder Sircar 1 I R
Calc 1 not followed VISMADEV DAS v SITA
NATH ROY (1912) 1 I L R 40 Calc 259

■ Application for adjournment to move the High Court for transfer—Criminal case meaning of—Proceedings for security to keep the peace—Criminal Procedure Code (1st of 1898) s 107 576 (b) A proceeding under s 107 of the Criminal Procedure Code is a criminal case and is subject to the application of cl (5) of s 526 WAZED ALI KHAN v EMPEROR
(1913) 1 I L P 41 Calc 719

6 Transfer by District Judge of particular case to Additional Judge—Civil Courts Act (VII of 1884) s 8 sub s (2) 22 sub s (2) Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) s 51 53 It is competent to a District Judge to transfer a particular case to an Additional Judge under the provisions of sub s (2) of s 9 of the Civil Courts Act of 1887 RUP KISHORE LAL
v NEMAN BIRI (1914) 1 I L R 42 Calc 842

7 No notice to parties—dismissal for default—application for re hearing—Code of Civil Procedure (Act 1 of 1908) O LLI v 19 — sufficient cause Where an order of transfer is made notice should be given to the parties or their representatives On the 16th July the hearing of an appeal pending before the District Judge was postponed until the 21st August On the 9th August the appeal was transferred to the Court of the Subordinate Judge and on the 10th August the Subordinate Judge ordered the case to be put up on the 21st The order of transfer was not communicated to the parties On the 21st neither of the parties appeared before the Subordinate Judge and he dismissed the appeal Held that under the circumstances there was sufficient cause for granting re hearing of the appeal RAM SUKHAL PATHAK v MAHARAJA KESHO PRASAD SINGH 3 Pat L J 218

■ Criminal case—Grounds for—Expression of opinion by Judge in counter-case
The basis of all applications for transfer is that the accused must have a reasonable apprehension that he will not receive a fair trial But a Judge is not incompetent to try a case of rioting merely because he has tried and decided a counter case and expressed an opinion therein AMRIT MOYDAL
v KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 399

TRANSFER DEED

See INTEREST GIFT

1 I L R 48 Calc 986

TRANSFER OF APPEAL

When an order of transfer is made notice should be given to the parties or their agent PAN SUKHAL PATHAK
v MAHARAJA KESHO PRASAD SINGH
3 Pat L J 218

TRANSFER OF HOLDING

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 526

1 I L R 33 All 583

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 I L R 49 Calc 870

See PENAL CODE (Act XLV of 1860)
s 182 1 I L P 33 All 163

See TRANSFER

TRANSFER OF HOLDING—contd

Comastha if can bind landlord by recognising transference of jote ■ question of fact—Burden of proof of the gomastha s author v if lies on landlord—Transfer of holding recognition of what constitutes ■ It cannot be laid down as an inflexible rule of law that a landlord is not bound by the act of gomastha in recognising a transference of an occupancy holding The question of the gomastha s power to bind his landlord is one which must be decided on the particular facts of each case The burden of proof is in the first instance upon the landlord to prove the extent of the authority of the gomastha as a matter peculiarly within his knowledge Where therefore a gomastha of the landlords accepted rent from a transference of a jote and the landlords failed to show that the gomastha acted beyond the scope of his authority—Held that the facts constituted sufficient recognition of the transference by the landlord SUDUMAN JAMADAR v BEHARI MANTOV
(1911) 15 C W N 853

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY

See RIGHT OF SUFF

1 I L R 36 Mad 373

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 6 CL (a)

1 I L P 32 All 83

to the jurisdiction of another Court—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of
1908) ss 37 38 and 150

1 I L R 37 Mad 482

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

1 I L R 38 All 627

See MORTGAGE 1 I L R 43 Bom 703
1 I L R 35 All 48

applicability of to Crown lands—
1 I L R 40 Mad 910

See LEASE

Vendee's right to possess ion against unpaid vendor—Vendor only entitled to statutory charge The provisions of the Transfer of Property Act that the vendee after conveyance is entitled to possession and that the vendor has a statutory charge on the property for unpaid purchase money are clear and it is not competent to the Courts in a suit for possession by the vendee to pass a decree for balance of conditional on the vendee paying the balance of the purchase money Bay Vah Singh v Paltu
1 I L R 30 All 125 not followed VELAYUTHA
CHETTY v GOVINDASAWMI NAIR (1910)
1 I L R 31 Mad 543

In the absence of evidence to the contrary homestead land comprised in a tenancy created before the Transfer of Property Act 1882 was passed must be presumed to be non transferable AMERICA PRASAD
SINGH v BALDEO LAL 1 Pat L J 253

Lease created before—Holding over—Presumption of a yearly rent—Least sumption that tenancy one from year to year—Least before Registration Act (VIII of 1871) reserving a yearly rent if required registration. Where it appeared that the tenant took settlement of a

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—could

s 3—could definition of actionable claims can only be transferred together with the security as immovable property and therefore only by a registered instrument. Where however the law still admits of the separate transfer of the mortgage debt as by the endorsement of promissory notes secured by a deposit of title deeds or by attachment and sale in execution of a mortgage debt under the Civil Procedure Code s 8 of the Transfer of Property Act still operates to carry the security with it. Where certain mortgage debts, book debts and promissory notes were transferred by way of gift under an unregistered document the gift of the mortgage debts was invalid under s 123 of the Act but the gift of book debts and promissory notes fell under Chapter VIII of the Act (Transfer of actionable claims) and not under Chapter VII (Gifts) and was valid and took effect. Where there is a gift of immovables and moveables but the former falls owing to want of registration the latter may nevertheless be held good the question to be considered being whether the latter was conditional on the validity of the former. Godman v Godman (1920) I L R 261 followed. Pothu Rajen v Naganna Lawler (1916) 30 M L J 613 distinguished. TERUVAL AMMAL v PERUMAL NAICKER (1921) I L R 44 Mad 196

Bare right to sue assignment of—Claim for una certain damages—Comparison between the English and Indian law. The Defendants entered into a contract with one B undertaking to take delivery of certain goods in accordance with the contract and on their failure to do so the matter was referred to arbitrators who gave an award to the effect that the Defendants were to pay for and take delivery of the goods. B therefore resold the goods which fetched a lower amount than that contracted for. He then brought a suit against the Defendants for the balance and then assigned to the Plaintiff all his claim in and the right to proceed with the suit and all advantages and benefits of all proceedings thereof. Held that the suit was not maintainable inasmuch as the claim was for unascertained damages for breach of contract and the assignment was an assignment of a mere right to sue. Clegg v Bromley (1) referred to. That there were no materials justifying the application of sec 107 of the Contract Act and the resale was not justified by the award so that the claim was one for unascertained damages. That on a true construction of the terms of the assignment the subject matter of the assignment was not property with an incidental right to sue but a mere right to sue for unascertained damages for alleged breach of contract within the meaning of sec 6 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act. JEVAN RAM v PATAN CHAND IISSEN CHAND 26 C W N 285 ss 3 and 41—Doctrine of constructive notice—Court sale in execution—Certified purchaser—Benami—Mortgagee of certified purchaser—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 317 (Act V of 1908) s 68. The mortgagee of the certified purchaser at a Court sale is entitled to rely upon the title of his mortgagee including such immunity from suit as the law provides in support of the statutory title. S 66 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908)—which may be called in aid for

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—could ss 3 and 41—could the purpose of assisting in the construction of s 31 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882)—supra s 23 conclusion. Hari Chand v Ram chandra I L R 31 Bom 61 followed. The doctrine of constructive notice applies in two cases first where the party charged had actual notice that the property in dispute was charged incumbered or in some way affected in which case he is deemed to have notice of the facts and instruments to a knowledge of which he would have been led by an inquiry after the charge or incumbrance of which he actually knew and secondly where the Court has been satisfied from the evidence before it that the party charged had designedly abstained from inquiring for the very purpose of avoiding notice. This does not conflict in any way with the statutory definition of notice in s 3 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). A purchaser of property is under no legal obligation to investigate his vendor's title. But in dealing with real property as in other matters of business regard is had to the usual course of business and a purchaser who wilfully departs from it in order to avoid acquiring a knowledge of his vendor's title is not allowed to derive any advantage from his wilful ignorance of defects which would have come to his knowledge if he had transacted his business in the ordinary way. This is what is meant by reasonable care in s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). Occupation of property which has not come to the knowledge of the party charged is not constructive notice in any interest in the property. MAHAR KANWAR v HOOSBAR (1910) I L R 35 Bom 342

Benami sale—Sale by denamidar—Estoppel—Notice—Wilful abstention from calling for title-deeds and from making enquiry as to title—Infant if may be estopped by his own fraudulent misrepresentations—Acts and admissions of guardian if bind ward. B executed missions of guardian if bind ward. B executed in favour of P a benami sale deed which as well as the property conveyed (a putni tenure) be kept in his own possession. R subsequently purported to transfer the property to the defendant. Held in a suit by the representative of B against the defendant for recovery that if it was found that the latter made no attempt to take the title-deeds of the property including the sale deed of B in R's favour the wilful or negligent abstention on the part of the defendant to call for the title-deeds would deprive him of the protection which a Court of Equity would extend to a bona fide purchaser for value without notice and the defendant would not be allowed to set up the plea of estoppel against the plaintiff. Quære Whether in a case of fraudulent representation an infant may be bound by an estoppel. Held that an infant is not estopped by the acts or admissions of other person in this case his mother and natural guardian. Held further that as the mother of the infant did not place the benamidar of his father P in a position where she knew R would be able to commit a fraud (there being no finding and it being unlikely that she even knew of the existence of the benami conveyance to R) there was no ground for a plea of estoppel as contemplated by s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act. A purchaser is bound to make enquiry into the title and if he does not take reasonable care to do so,

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

— ss 3 and 41—concl'd

he takes the chance of his claim being defeated by the real owner PAM CHARAN DAS & JOY RAM MAJHI (191.) 17 C W N 10

— ss 3—

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Cal 1052

— ss 11 and 136—

See LEGAL PRACTITIONER'S ACT (VIII of 1879) s 13 I L R 37 Mad. 238

— s 4—

See DAMDUTAT RULE OF

I L R 42 Cal 826

See MORTGAGE 2 Pat L J 168

— ss 4 and 54—Unregistered sale deed for land of less than Rs 100 in value invalidity of when no previous oral sale—Evidence inadmissibility of to prove adverse possession—Possession change of in cases of oral sale how to be effected A sale of tangible immovable property of the value of less than Rs 100 effected by an unregistered instrument (without any prior oral sale) followed by delivery of possession is invalid and inoperative to pass the title to the property under s 54 Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). A document which affects immovable property and which is required by law to be registered; if it is not registered inadmissible in evidence to prove the nature of possession of the person claiming under it such as the adverse character of the possession. Per CURTAM If an oral sale is made of immovable property of the value of less than Rs 100 to a person already in possession of the property it is sufficient to pass title if the vendor converts by appropriate declarations or acts the previous possession into a possession as vendee and it is not necessary that to satisfy the section 54 of the Transfer of Property Act the person in possession should give it up formally and take it afterwards as vendee. Sibendrapada Banerjee v Secretary of State for India I L R 35 Cal 407 not followed. MUTHUKARUPPAN & MUTHU (1914) I L R 38 Mad 1158

— ss 4 105 107—

See KABILIVAT I L R 39 Cal 1016

— ss 4 and 107—Indian Registration Act (VIII of 1908) ss 17 and 49—Unregistered lease for six months—Whether admissible to prove tenancy S 49 of the Registration Act applies only to instruments which are required to be registered by s 17 of that Act and is not applicable to instruments which have to be registered under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act. Hence an unregistered lease for a period of less than one year which is required to be registered under s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act but not under s 17 of the Registration Act is admissible in evidence to prove the nature of the possession under the instrument. RAMA SAHU & GOWRO PATHO (1921)

I L R 44 Mad (FE) 55

— ss 5 6 7 and 12—Minor—Validity of transfer in favour of a minor Held that inasmuch as there is nothing in the law to prevent a minor from becoming a transferee of immovable property so a minor in whose favour a valid deed of sale has been executed is competent to

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

— ss 5 6 7 and 127—concl'd

sue for possession of the property conveyed there by Ulfat Bai & Gauri Shankar I L R 33 All 657 and Kaghunath Balch & Hajji Sheskh Mulam mad Balch 13 Oudh Cases 115 referred to Mohori Bibee & Dharmodas Ghose I L R 30 Cal 539 and Varulathi Narayan Chetty & Logalinga Chetty I L R 33 Mad 317 distinguished. MUSTAFA KUTUBWAR & MADAN GOPAL (1915) I L R 38 All 62

— ss 5 54—

See DEPOSIT I L R 35 Bom 403

— s 6—

See s 3 MUO W N 285

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

I L R 36 Bom 129

See EXPECTANCIES

I L R 33 Mad 554

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER

I L R 43 Cal 536

See HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE

I L R 44 Bom 488

See MAHABHADAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 33 All 457

See MAINTENANCE

I L P 33 Cal 13

See OFFERTINGS TO A TEMPLE

I L R 4 Cal 33

See REVERSIONARY INTEREST

25 C W N 496

— Of a contingent right of inheritance

See MAHABHADAN LAW

I L R 41 Mad 365

1 ——— Transfer of expectancy—Compromise between Hindu brothers that property of a brother dying without male issue should be divided amongst survivors—Hindu law—Dayabhaga—Administration—Suit to enforce administration bond—Limitation Held that a provision in a family settlement whereby certain Hindu brothers divided the family property belonging to them amongst themselves and agreed that upon the death of any one of them without male issue his share should pass to the surviving brothers was neither in contravention of Hindu Law nor obnoxious to the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act s 5 (a) as being a transfer of an expectant interest in property. Ram Narayan Singh & Prayag Singh I L R 8 Cal 138 followed. Held also that where the assignee of a bond given by an executor for the due administration of the estate sues to enforce the bond time does not begin to run against him necessarily until the death of the obligor. KANTI CHANDRA MUKHERJI & ALI NAZI (1911) I L R 33 All 414

2 ——— Compromise of claim to possession of property of deceased person—Such compromise not a transfer of reversionary rights B claimed adversely to M the property left by M's deceased father. The claim was compromised, and B for a consideration of Rs 5000 and some immovable property withdrew his claim and recognized the title of M as absolute owner. M died and the property passed to her husband K who sold part of it to S. Held on suit by S to

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—could recover possession of the property so purchased that the compromise by B of his claim against M was not obnoxious to the prohibition contained in s 6 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 as being a sale of reversionary rights Mohammad Hashmat Ali v Kani Fatima 13 All L J 110 referred to BARATI LAL v SALIK RAY (1916)

I L R 38 All 107

3 ——— Compromise of claim to possession of property of deceased person—Such compromise not a transfer of reversionary rights. Of four separated Hindu brothers Hazari the second died first leaving a widow Musammatt Mulo who married the eldest brother Iarmal. Next, another brother Pransukh died without issue leaving a widow Musammatt Indo. A question having arisen as to the legal effect of the remarriage of Musammatt Mulo the two surviving brothers Iarmal and Cokul entered into an arrangement by which in consideration of his being allowed to retain the property of Hazari Iarmal agreed to make no claim against Cokul to the property of Pransukh on the death of his widow Musammatt Indo. Held that this was a valid agreement and did not offend against the provisions of s 6 (a) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 Rani Meera Kuar v Jami Hulas Kuar 1 R 11 1 157 Kanti Chandra Mulraj v Ali Nabi 1 I R 33 All 318 Nasir ul Haq v Fayaz ul Pakman 1 L R 33 All 470 Mohammad Hashmat Ali v Kani Fatima 13 A J 110 and Barali Lal v Sahil Ram 1 L R 38 All 107 followed Olavi Pulliah Chetti v Iara darajulu Chetti 1 L R 31 Mad 474 referred to Bayrang Singh v Bhagwan Balsh Singh 11 Oudh Cases 301 referred to by PICOTT J CHANLU v PARNAL (1910) I L R 41 All 611

4 ——— Release by reversioner of his interest—in certain promissory notes expectant on death of present holder. The reversioner expectant on the death of a Hindu widow executed a document purporting to be a release in favour of the widow of his interest in certain Government promissory notes to which the widow was entitled during her life. Held that this was a transfer of the chance of an heir apparent succeeding to property and therefore void Sham Sunder Lal v Achhan Kunnir 1 L P 21 All 71 referred to MARAWAN MAQAN v BALU NATH DAS (1909)

I L R 32 All 88

5 ——— Hindu temple offerings to—Pujari's right to a share of alienable—Estoppel—Res extra commercium. The chance that future worshippers will give offerings to a temple is a mere possibility within the meaning of s 6 (a) of the Transfer of Property Act and as such cannot be transferred. Such a transfer being prohibited by statute the transferor is not estopped from questioning its validity Per SHARFOODIN J. The right of the pujari of a Hindu temple to take a share of the offerings is a res extra commercium PUNCHA THAKUR v BINDESHRI THAKUR (1915)

19 W N 580

6 ——— Hindu law—Adoption—Postponement of adopted son's estate during the widow's life—Transfer made by adopted son of property forming part of the estate in the widow's life time—Spes successus. An agreement depriving an adopted son of his right to take possession of the property of his adoptive father is not prohibited

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—could

by law Kali Das Bujar v Shankar 1 L R 13 All 391 and Isalalshi Ammal v Sivaraman 1 L P 27 Mad 577 referred to. Where such an agreement has been entered into for example an agreement giving a life estate to the adoptive mother and the remainder to the adopted son, the interest of the son is not merely that of a contingent collateral Hindu reversioner but he has vested interest in the property of his adoptive father which he is competent to deal with subject only to the previous life estate. He is not barred by the provisions of s 6 (a) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 from dealing with the property BALWANT SINGH v JOTI PRA AD (1918)

I L R 40 All 689

7 ——— Maha Brahmin—Mortgage by of right to receive dues of office. There is nothing in the law to prevent a Maha Brahmin mortgaging his right to offerings receivable by him in his professional capacity Pagloo Pandey v Kashi Parey 1 L R 10 Cal 13 referred to SUKH LAL v BISHAMBHAR (1916)

I L R 30 All 198

8 ——— Transfer of lessor's interest—Breach of condition prior to the transfer—Right to enforce forfeiture by the transferee. A mortgagor leaves provided that the lessee was not to alienate the property leased. The lessee committed a breach of the condition by sale of his rights in under the lease to defendant No 2 in 1908. In 1911 the plaintiff purchased the landlord's rights from the lessor who had not given the lessee notice of his intention to enforce the forfeiture before the transfer. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession of the property on breach of the condition defendant No 2 contended that the plaintiff could not take advantage of the breach of condition incurred before the assignment in his favour. Held disallowing the contention that the plaintiff was entitled to recover possession of the property from defendant No 2 VISHVESHWAR v MAHA BLESHWAR (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 28

9 ——— s 6 (a)—Mere right to sue—Assignment of decree for mesne profits. A and B holders of a decree for (a) possession of immovable property and (b) directing an enquiry as to mesne profits obtained possession through the Court and thereafter sold to C and D their right to recover the mesne profits. All four applied to the Court to ascertain the amount of mesne profits and the Court ordered accordingly. Held that the sale was valid the right of A and B under clause (b) of the decree not being a mere right to sue within the meaning of s 6 (a) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. Held further that proceedings under a decree directing an enquiry as to mesne profits are proceedings in the suit. C and D acquired a right to carry on the suit on obtaining the leave of the Court under O XX r 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1903. They should have applied for leave under that rule but their omission to do so under the circumstances of this case was not fatal to their claim. The order of the Court on the petition presented by A B C and D was equivalent to the grant of leave. HARJ PRASAD MISHER v KODU MARYA

1 Pat L J 427

10 ——— Assignment of a decree passed for immovable property and for a certain part of mesne profits—Transferee's right to be

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s. 6 (e)—contd

made a party and to mesne profits Where the right to mesne profits has been declared by a decree but the exact amount has been left to be ascertained at a future stage in the same suit a transfer of such right is not invalid under s. 6 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act as the transfer of a right to sue. VENKATARAMA AYIAR v RAMA SAMI AYIAR (1901) I L R 44 Mad. 539

Right to sue assignm nt of—Tort—Assignm nt of claim founded on validity of—Damages for negligence of agent assignm nt of claim for A mere right to recover damages for the negligence of an agent in suing to collect rents cannot be transferred. Such a right is nothing more than a right to sue within the meaning of s. 6 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). If such a claim is founded on tort it is not assignable. Dawson v Great Northern and City Railway (1905) 1 A. B. 960 and Deft v Mda (1913) 1 Ch. 93 referred to. Held also that the claim is founded on contract was unassignable in law being transferred after breach. Abu Mahomed v S C Chander I L R 35 Cal. 34; applied Shyam Chand Koonoo v The Land Mortgage Bank of India I L R 9 Cal. 695 referred to. Mahodas v Pany; Palak I L R 16 All. 986 distinguished. Dawson v Great Northern and City Railway (1905) 1 K. B. 260 explained. VARAHASWAMI v RAMACHANDRA RAJU (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 138

Transfer of right to past mesne profits illegality of A transfer of a claim for past mesne profits is invalid under clause (e) of s. 6 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). Varahaswami v Ramachandra Raju 2d Mad. L. J. 998 followed. King v Victoria Insurance Company (1896) 4 C. 250 distinguished. SEETANMA v VENKATARAMANAYYA (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 308

Settlement for concubinage—Immoral object carried out—Right to annul the settlement It is a well established rule of equity that a person who has transferred a property to another for an illegal or immoral purpose cannot get it annulled if the intended purpose has been carried out and s. 6 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act has not the effect of modifying it. Ayerst v Jenkins (1873) L. R. 16 Eq. 275 followed. Per OLFIELD J.—It is the sense of the community as a whole that decides whether a certain purpose is immoral the fact that in a certain section of the community concubinage is allowed and it is not regarded as immoral does not make a settlement made by a member of such community in consideration of concubinage any the less immoral. DEIVATATAGA PADAYACHI v MUTRU REDDI (1921) I L R 44 Mad. 329

ss. 6 and 7—

See s. 6 I L R 33 All. 62

s. 7—

See MINOR I L R 40 Mad. 308

s. 8—

See s. 3 I L R 44 Mad. 196

See SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY AND SECURITY I L R 59 Mad. 283

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

9—

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Cal. 743

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss. 17 AND 49

I L R 43 All. 1

s. 10—

See LEASE I L R 45 Cal. 940

Hindu Law—Grant

deed of for maintenance and other expenses—Grant by amindar His wife and minor son—Estate of grantees—Restriction on alienation—Lease for fifteen years by mother as guardian if void or voidable by minor—Repudiation by zamindar as natural guardian mere act of if sufficient—Suit to set aside—Decree in such suit necessary—Suit by guardian—Dismissal for default effect of—Suit by lessee for rent—Objection by tenants as to validity of lease A zamindar made a grant of certain lands to his wife and his minor son for their maintenance clothing and other expenses. The deed of grant contained a provision that the grantees were not to alienate the properties by sale mortgage etc. The mother of the minor son granted a lease of the lands for fifteen years in favour of the plaintiff and died a few months thereafter. The zamindar the father and natural guardian of the minor sued to set aside the lease but the suit was dismissed in consequence of the zamindar's default in obeying an order of the Court to appear in person. The plaintiff as the lessee of the lands sued to recover mesne profits due to him from the defendants who were the ryots but did not join the minor grantee as a party to the suit. The defendants contended that the lease to the plaintiff was not valid and that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover rent from them. Held (on a construction of the deed) that both the mother and the minor son obtained under the grant an estate in the property and were tenants in common during the life time of the mother after which the son was to hold the whole property. The provisions against alienation contained in the deed of grant were absolute restraints on alienation and were void under s. 10 of the Transfer of Property Act and under the Hindu Law. The lease for fifteen years granted to the plaintiff by the mother acting as guardian of her minor son even if it was beyond the powers of a guardian was not void against the minor but only voidable by him. The party who is entitled to avoid a transaction may do so by an unequivocal act repudiating the transaction or by getting a decree of Court setting it aside. When a guardian (natural or appointed) of a minor has given a lease another guardian cannot set it aside by a mere act of repudiation he can do so only by obtaining a decree of Court in a suit which may be instituted on behalf of the minor during his minority but his action in instituting a suit to set it aside (which was dismissed for his default) has no greater effect than his mere act of repudiation. Held consequently that the plaintiff was entitled to recover rent from the defendants under the lease. MUTHUKUMARA CHETTI v ANTHONY UDAYAN (1914) I L R 33 Mad. 867

ss. 10 and 11—

private religious gift to Brahmins—

See HINDU LAW—Gift

I L R 44 Bom. 393

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1880)

—confi

π 41—co std

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT 1879 s 10A

I L R 45 Bom 8.

I L R 48 Calc 359

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 47 Calc 86b

8 14--

See I RASP I L R 44 Mad 230

pp 14 40 and 45—

See CONTRACT I Pat L J 2.8

35-

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 38 Mad 88

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSES COURT
Act 1887 SCH II ART 7

I L II 41 Mad 370

■ 36 44, and 52—

See SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY AND SECURITY I L R 39 Mar 283

ss 38 and 108—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L N 38 Med 88

38-

See HINDI LAW - DEBT

I L N 35 Mar 198

§ 40—Specific Relief Act (1 of 1877)

3-Indian Trusts Act (II of 1923) - Subsequent purchaser a trustee Plaintiff sued for a declaration of title to and for possession of immovable property from the defendant He based his title upon a registered sale deed dated the 5th December 1911 from one A Prior to this date the plaintiff had notice of the execution of a contract of sale of the same property by N to the defendant The defendant relied upon his possession under the contract of sale and contended that he had paid to A portion of the purchase money agreed upon and the balance was to be paid after the sale deed was passed Both the lower Courts allowed the plaintiff's claim for possession though it was found that the plaintiff had notice of the defendant's contract of sale and that nearly half the purchase money was in fact received by A from the defendant under the contract The defendant having appealed Held that the plaintiff having purchased with notice of the defendant's contract his suit for possession must fail He stood in the position of a trustee for the defendant of the land purchased by him and could not profit by his conveyance except to stand in the shoes of his vendor and receive the balance of the purchase money due on payment of which he would have to convey to the defendant Lalchand v Lakshman I L R 28 Bom 466 and Kurri Veerareddi v Kurri Rappareddi I L R 29 Mad 336 doubted GARGAN v LAXMAN GANODA (1916) I L R 40 Bom 498

8 41—

Sec 8 3 I L R 2, Rom 340

17 C W N 10

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 § 47

I E II 45 Nom 812

1 _____ Ostensible owner
—Owners of property minors at date of transfer—

*Owners of property minors at date of transfer-Act (Local) No 11 of 1901 s 201 The owner of certain zamindari property died leaving him surviving a widow and two minor sons. During the minority of the sons their mother not only got herself recorded in respect of one third of the property left by the husband (her proper share being one eighth) and the balance being her sons) but she mortgaged it to one A. V. sold his rights to R who brought a suit for sale on his mortgage and having brought the property to sale purchased it himself. He subsequently transferred it to M.
M brought a suit for profits against the sons and got an ex parte decree. Held on suit by the sons for declaration of title to their share in the property excluding the one eighth belonging to their mother or in the alternative for possession (i) that the suit was not barred by the provisions of s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 and (ii) that the proviso to s 201 of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 protected the present suit. Dattilal v. Gopinath
J L R 26 Bom 43 and Damber Singh v. Sawhney
Kannur J L R 29 All 22, referred to. ADULT LAW KIAN v. MUSAMMAT BUNDI (1911) LAW ALL 80*

UNDI (1911)
T L R 04 All 20

2. Findings as to question of fact—Second appeal Field that the questions whether a person is the apparent possessor of immovable property is the ostensible owner with the consent express or implied of the real owner within the meaning of s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act 1899 and whether a transferee from such a person took the transfer bona fide after taking reasonable care to ascertain the title of his transferor are questions of fact the finding on which by the lower Appellate Court cannot be disturbed in second appeal
JAMNABAI D. S. UMA SANKAR (1914)

ILR 36 All 003

3 _____ Husband & pro perty sold by wife—Bond fde purchaser for value without notice —His rights —Without notice significance of the expression—He had a right to redemption Where during the husband's absence on pilgrimage the wife sold a piece of land which had before the husband's departure been mortgaged by her the purchaser who paid off the mortgage having by proper enquiries satisfied himself that the wife was owner Held that the husband could not recover the land nor was he entitled to be allowed to redeem the mortgage

VINAS PURSE v TETTER LESTER [1915]
D.C. W N 183

(1915) 20 C W N 103

transfer by which binds real owner—Rea judiciala
In a suit by A to recover from B property the title to which was disputed between A and B in whose favour B had on 14th March 1833 executed a usufructuary mortgage—in lieu whereof on 21st January 1834 another mortgage was executed in his favour by B—was made a defendant apparently on the ground of its being a transfer

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 41—contd

and the mortgage of 14th March 1893. The suit was decreed. In a suit by V to enforce his mortgage of 1st January 1893 which the representative in title of A contested the High Court held that the decision in the previous suit was res judicata and also that s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act did not apply to give B a title although B had got his name entered in the Revenue papers as owner because the application for the entry having been opposed by A B could not be said to have been entered as ostensible owner with A's consent and also because if V had made enquiries before he advanced money to B he could have discovered the fact of B's opposition and facts showing B's title. The Judicial Committee on appeal found the judgment of the High Court to be so satisfactory and sufficient that they felt themselves justified in advising the dismissal of the appeal without following the practice of making an elaborate report. AGESHAR PRASAD PANDY v PATESHRI PARTAB AGARAI SINGH (1915)

20 C W N 235

5 ————— Equitable estoppel—Hindu law—Mitakshara—Joint family—Karta's name recorded in survey papers in respect of joint property—Alienation by Karta whether other members of family estopped from challenging—Constructive notice—Suit for partition—Admission of separation by plaintiff effect of. The mere fact that the name of the Karta of a joint family is entered in survey papers as the owner of the family properties is not sufficient to show that a minor member of the family had held the Karta out to be the ostensible owner of the properties within the meaning of s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. A person dealing with the Karta of a Hindu family governed by the Mitakshara must inquire whether and how far the other members of the family are interested in the family property and is not entitled to rely on entries in collectorate registers and survey papers. The presumption is that all the members of the family are interested in the property. If the person dealing with such a Karta has had previous transactions with him and as a neighbour not only is he bound to enquire as to the interests of other members of the family but he is charged with notice and knowledge of the title of such members. The reasonable care referred to in the proviso to s 41 is the care that is expected of an ordinary man of business. Where a Hindu and his nephew were members of a joint family and the uncle executed a mortgage in the presence of the nephew who attested it held that the mere presence of the nephew did not involve any notice or knowledge that his share of the joint family property was being mortgaged and that he was not estopped from subsequently claiming his share unless it was satisfactorily proved that he was aware that the document dealt with his share of the property and that it was intended that his interest should be effected thereby. KANHU LAL MARWARI v PALU SAHU

5 Pat L J 521

6 ————— Ostensible owner—Duty of transferee to inquire into transferor's title—Transferor in possession as sister's son of last full owner—Duty of transferee to ascertain if any collusive sale existed. Defendant took a mortgage

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 41—concld

of a house from a person who was the son of a sister of the last full owner (a Hindu). The house was entered in the municipal register as in the possession of the mortgagor but the mortgagee did not appear to have made any inquiry as to the title although there was reason to suppose that he must have been aware of the existence of collaterals of the last owner. Held on suit by the collateral heirs for recovery of possession of the house that the defendant mortgagee not having made proper inquiries as to his mortgagor's title was not entitled to the protection afforded by s 41 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. BALLU MAL v RAM KISHAN I L R 43 All 263

7 ————— Rights of a mortgage purchaser in execution of a decree upon a mortgage by a widow in whose benami her husband had purchased the property—Rights of a purchaser in execution of a money decree against the husband—such purchaser is estopped from disputing the rights of a mortgagee purchaser—Bona fide transferee for value without notice actual or constructive. A Hindu husband purchased some lands in the name of his wife who after his death mortgaged them and the mortgagee purchased them at a sale held in execution of the decree obtained upon the mortgage. In the meantime the lands had been sold in execution of a money decree against the husband and taken possession of by the decree holder purchaser. The mortgagee purchaser thereupon sued for a declaration that the lands belonged to the wife and for possession. The kabulyats torjus counterfoil rent receipts stood in the name of the wife and the mortgagee had taken the mortgage in good faith after making proper inquiry. Held—That so far as there were occasions for doing so the husband held out his wife as the real owner and therefore the purchaser in execution of the money decree against the husband being the successor in interest of the said husband was estopped from disputing the title of the wife and should not be allowed to defeat the rights of the mortgagee who is a transferee in good faith from the ostensible owner without notice actual or constructive of the husband's title. The mortgagee was not bound to inquire into the financial position of the husband at the time when the purchase was made in the name of the wife. ANYODA MOHAN POY v NEELPHARI LOAN

26 C W N 436

s 43—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 40 Calc 173

See BENAMI TRANSACTION

I L R 46 Calc 566

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT

1893 s 4 4 Pat L J 505

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882

s 317 I L R 33 All 382

s 35A I L R 36 Bom 510

See MADRAS PROPRIETORY ESTATES VIL

LAGE SERVICE ACT 1894 s 4

I L R 39 Mad. 930

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 43—contd

1 ——— Held that a permanent lease by fractional co sharers was binding on them when they subsequently acquired the whole property LULIN MOHAN BANERJEE v RAJ KRISHNA GHOSE 25 ■ W N 420

2 ——— Deshgat Vatan—Mortgage—Subsequent enlargement of the mortgagor's estate—Private property—Mortgagee's claim to hold the property against the mortgagor's heir—Reg VI of 1827 A mortgagee of Deshgat Vatan knew that the property which was mortgaged to him was land appurtenant to an hereditary office and inalienable beyond the life time of the incumbent. Subsequently to the mortgage the estate of the mortgagor was enlarged so as to be alienable in the life time of the holder. After the enlargement the mortgagee having claimed to hold the property against the heir of the mortgagor. Held that the mortgagee took only such estate as the holder of the Vatan property was capable of conveying to the mortgagee at the time of the mortgage and that the mortgagee could not claim to retain the property in virtue of the mortgage after the death of the mortgagor. GANDABAI v BASWANT (1909) I L R 34 Bom 175

3 ——— Benefit of action can be claimed only by person who has acted on the erroneous representation of another The benefit of a 43 of the Transfer of Property Act can be claimed only where the person claiming such benefit has acted on the erroneous representation of the party who subsequently acquired interest he claims. An undivided Hindu father had two sons A and B. A who was entitled only to one third of the family property mortgaged one half of it to C who knew that A was entitled only to one third and did not bargain and pay for a half share. Subsequently A's father died and A having become entitled to a half share C sued on his mortgage seeking to make A's half share liable. Held that he could enforce his mortgage only against the one third share which belonged to A at time of mortgage. PANDRI BANARJAY v KARUNOORY SUNDARAJU (1910) I L R 34 Mad 159

4 ——— Estoppel feeding of by after acquired property when transferor had no title at date of transfer—Principle if applies to Hindu conveyances The observation in Dooly Chand v Brij Dookun Lal Awashty 10 C L R 61 6 C I P 528 that the principle of English law which allows a subsequently acquired interest to feed on estoppel does not apply to Hindu conveyances was treated as obiter and held that when a grantor of a lease by a recital is shown to have stated that he is seized of a specific estate and the Court finds that the parties proceeded upon the assumption that such an estate was passed an estate by estoppel is created between the parties and those claiming under them in respect of any after acquired interest of the grantor the newly acquired title being said to feed the estoppel. The principle is not inapplicable to a case where there was originally no title at all and is not confined in its application to cases where there is an enlargement of an existing interest. KRISHNA CHANDRA GHOSH v RASIK LAL KHAN (1916) 21 C W N 218

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 43—contd

5 ——— Permanent lease by fractional co sharers who subsequently acquire title to the whole property effect of—Permanent lease by widow if operative against her sons the reversionary heirs—Legal necessity—Such lease if void or voidable—if the lease has to be avoided before suit for possession—Tenancies of home land or agricultural lands created before the Transfer of Property Act transferability of—Custom and contract A widowed daughter of a Hindu M and her two male cousins J and S held a property in equal shares. M and S granted a permanent lease of the entire property to the Defendant. Subsequently J died making a testamentary disposition of his properties to M and S in equal shares. On the death of M her sons and J's widow brought a suit to recover the property from the Defendant. Held that the lease was operative in respect of a two third share during the life time of M and S. But the one third share of J having subsequently vested in M and S the provisions of sec 43 of the Transfer of Property Act applied and the share of J became available to perfect their title and consequently the title of the Defendant in the entire property. That the lease did not bind the reversionary heirs of M as she did not execute it for any legal necessity. Abatement by a Hindu widow is not absolutely void but voidable at the election of the reversionary heir. It is not however necessary for him to take steps to avoid the lease before he brings an action for possession. Held further that under the law as it stood before the Transfer of Property Act tenancies whether of homestead or of agricultural lands were not transferable in the absence of a custom to the contrary or of an express contract to that effect. SULIN MOHAN BANERJEE v PAJ KRISHNA GHOSE 25 C W N 420

ss 44 52—

See SUBSTITUTION BY PROPERTY AND SECURITY I L R 39 Mad 233

s 45—

See JOINT TENANCY I L R 34 Mad 80

ss 45 and 55—

See CROSS OBJECTION 5 Pat L J 38

s 46—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT I L R 40 Bom 318

51 54 118—

See ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT I L R 40 Mad 114

s 52—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 47 O VI R 2 I L P 43 Bom 240

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 215

See SUBSTITUTION OF PROBATE AND SECURITY I L R 39 Mad 233

See LIS PENDENS I L R 41 Mad 458

1 ——— The rule of lis pendens will operate in favour of a plaintiff who at the time of the transfer was erroneously prosecuting his suit in a Court which from defect of

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

s 52—contd

jurisdiction was unable to entertain it and in consequence returned it for presentation to the proper Court which Court ultimately decreed the suit on the basis of a lawful compromise. TANGON MAJHI v JALADHAR DEABI (1909) 14 C W N 322

2. — Fresh mortgage pending suit to pay off mesne mortgage—Effect—Subrogation Where during the pendency of a mortgage suit a fresh mortgage was executed with the object of paying off certain mesne mortgages. Held that in so far as the mortgagee under the new mortgage was entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the mesne mortgagees the transfer was not affected by the rule of lis pendens. That in the absence of evidence to show an intention to extinguish the mesne mortgages paid off the presumption was that they were intended to be kept alive. TARA PRASAD MOYDAL v KRISTA PRASAD PANDA (1910) 15 C W N 261

3. — Lis pendens—Suit to enforce simple mortgage ending in compromise—Execution sale pending suit—Purchaser of bound by compromise—Contentious suit—Immovable property suit respecting The mere fact that a suit is terminated by a consent decree does not take the suit out of the operation of the doctrine of lis pendens as enunciated in s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act. A suit to be Contentious within the meaning of s 52 need not be contested in all its stages. A contentious suit is one in which a party having difference with another puts the law in motion as against the other. Akila Chandra v Fuli Chand 8 B L R 474 Jayamunnesu v Vairatna 1 L P 8 Calc 188 distinguished Kustory Mohan v Manafar Hussa 1 L P 18 Calc 79 referred to Fayaz Hussain v Prag Narain L R 34 I A 100 relied on. The doctrine of lis pendens applies to a suit to enforce a simple mortgage. Fayaz Hussain v Prag Narain L P 34 I A 102 referred to. The doctrine applies to a purchaser at an execution sale pending the suit. Radha Madhub v Monohur L P 10 I A 97 Moti v Kurabuddin L P 24 I A 110 Fayaz Hussain v Prag Narain L P 34 I A 100 relied on. TINODHAN CHATTERJEE v TRAI LOBHYA CHAMAN SANYAL (1911) 17 C W N 413

4. — Lis pendens—Partition between defendants enter of the property in dispute—Partition affected by lis pendens—Plaintiff's omission to bring partition to the notice of the Court—Practice—Array of parties—Pleading—Change of parties in pending litigation—Procedure The plaintiff who owned a third share in an equity of redemption obtained a decree to redeem his share of the mortgaged property from his four mortgagees. The plaintiff paid the redemption money in the Court but after the expiry of the period fixed by the Court. The Subordinate Judge held that the payment was validly made and ordered possession of the property to be delivered to the plaintiff. This order was reversed by the District Judge on the 7th January 1907. On the 10th January 1907 the four joint mortgagees effected a partition of the property the subject matter of the suit and the property was divided into four shares and the share of one of them Gopal. The plaintiff

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

s 52—contd

appellate to the High Court from the District Judge's order on the 14th January 1907. The next day that is on the 15th January 1907 Gopal died leaving him surviving a widow Gangabai. In the High Court appeal the fact of partition dated the 10th January 1907 was not mentioned but Gopal's death was brought to the Court's notice but it was held that the right to sue survived against the other defendants. The High Court reversed the order of the District Judge and remanded the suit for extending the time of payment if any good cause were shown for it. In the District Court Gopal's name was removed from the array of parties and time was extended. The plaintiff paid the money within the time so extended and obtained an order to recover possession of the property. Gopal's widow Gangabai intervened on the ground that as she was no party to the District Judge's order she was not bound by it and could not be dispossessed. The Subordinate Judge granted the application. The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit to establish his right to the possession of the property. The Subordinate Judge decreed the plaintiff's claim but on appeal it was dismissed by the District Judge. On appeal to the High Court the decree was confirmed on the ground that the plaintiff's right was affected by his own negligence in omitting to bring upon the record the representatives of Gopal and his right was not affected by the partition of the 10th January 1907 which did not fall within s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. On appeal under the Letters Patent. Held that the plaintiff could not be defeated on the ground that in an other proceeding he did not communicate to the Court the fact of Gopal's death which he did not know. Held further that the partition in question fell within s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 for it was a transfer or at any rate a dealing with the property in suit. PER CURIAM. It is part of any litigant's right so far as the subject matter and conduct of the suit are concerned to know precisely where he stands. He is entitled to know who his opponents are and when that has been definitely and finally ascertained to insist that no dealing on their parts with the property in suit shall compel to go further afield and bring in new parties who but for such dealing could have had no locus standi at all. A complete right needs a person of incidence as well as a person of inherence. No party during the conduct of a suit has any power by dealing with the property to change the person of incidence or inheritance to the detriment of the other. ISHWAR LINGO v DATTU GOPAL (1913) 1 L R 37 Bom 427

5. — Lis pendens—Usance decree—Execution proceedings after a long period—Alienation of property during the period—Act in progress on In 1900 defendant No 1 obtained a usance decree which had clause a charge in her favour on the family property. In 1906 the judgment debtors sold a portion of the property to plaintiff Defendant No 2. In 1907 to execute the decree in the usance proceeding one of the lands of the family was put up to sale and purchased by defendant No 3 in 1910. The plaintiff's application for the sale to him was not successful. The lower Court

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

■ 52—contd

ground that the sale in plaintiff's favour was affected by lis pendens. On appeal Held reversing the decree that the doctrine of lis pendens had no application to the case for the decree was passed four years earlier and no execution proceedings were taken and it could not be said that the purchase by the plaintiff was made during the active prosecution of a contentious suit or proceeding. BIROJE MAHADEV PARAB V GANGA BAI (1913) I L R 37 Bom 621

■ ———— Lis pendens—

Contentious suit meaning of—Friendly suit no contest—Plea of lis pendens not taken in the written statement—Point of Law—Plea permitted after remand. The words contentious suit in s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) are used in contradistinction to a friendly suit in which there is no contest. Every suit other than such a friendly suit by its origin and nature falls within the definition of a contentious suit. Jogen dra Ghani v Ghose v Fullumari Dasi I L R 27 Cal 77 followed. Krishna Kamini Devi v Datto Mony Chouthran I L R 31 Cal 653 and Upendra Chandra Singh v Mohri Lal Varma I L R 31 Cal 745 dissented from. Faiya Husain Khan v Prag Narain I L R 29 All 339 referred to. A point of law such as lis pendens which was argued before the first court and which required no further facts than those already on record must be considered by the Appellate Court though the defendants did not plead it in the written statement. KATHIR v MARTHADISA (1913) I L P 38 Mad 450

7 ———— Lis pendens—

Attachment before judgment—Claim to attach property by third party allowed—Sui by decree holder against claimant to establish his right to attach—Sui dismissed—Appeal by decree holder—Judgment not a party to suit or appeal—Sale in execution of another decree by another decree holder pending appeal—Decree on appeal—Subsequent sale in execution—Validity of prior sale. A decree holder had attached the property of his judgment debtor before decree in his suit and while he was seeking to establish his right to attach and sell such property as the property of his judgment debtor by suit against a successful claimant another decree holder attached the same property and brought it to sale during the pendency of the appeal in the claim suit. The judgment debtor was not made a party to the claim proceedings or the subsequent suit or appeal. The property was again sold in execution of the decree of the former decree holder who purchased it and sued to recover possession. Held that the auction purchaser in the prior sale was not affected by the doctrine of lis pendens and his purchase was valid as against the purchaser in the subsequent auction. Per WALLIS C J.—The doctrine of lis pendens was inapplicable on the ground that the judgment debtor was not a party to the claim proceedings or the subsequent suit and could not be considered to be represented in that suit by the plaintiff therein. Lala Mulji Thakar v Kashi Bai I L R 10 Bom 400 referred to. Even if the judgment debtor was a party thereto there is no lis pendens as the doctrine of lis pendens applies only to alienations which are inconsistent with the

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

■ 52—contd

right which may be established by the decree in the suit here as the sale in execution proceeded on the very footing that the property belonged to the judgment debtor the doctrine is inapplicable. Per NAPIER J.—The doctrine of lis pendens does not apply as the judgment debtor was not actually or constructively a party to the claim suit. Phul Kumari v Ghanshyam Misra I L R 35 Cal 20th explained. Krishnappa Chetty v Abdul Khader Sahib I L P 38 Mad 555 dissented from. PETRU ATYAR v SANKARANARAYANA PILLAI (1916) I L R 40 Mad 955

8 ———— Lis pendens doctrine of—Sui which is compromised and in which a consent decree is passed whether falls within the scope of the doctrine—Contentious suit significance of. In a suit for declaration of title to a certain zemindari certain mortgagees who too were impleaded as Defendants set up their title by purchase in execution of a mortgage decree. After being hotly contested for some time the suit was compromised with the said Defendants but was continued against the other Defendants. The suit was eventually decreed partly in terms of solennam and partly on contest. The purport of the compromise was that the compromising Defendants relinquished in favour of the Plaintiff whatever interest they had in the zemindari for a consideration of a sum of money which was secured by a mortgage on the zemindari as the Plaintiff was unable to pay the amount in cash. The present suit was subsequently brought to enforce a mortgage security executed by the Plaintiff in the previous suit after their institution of the said suit and the above mentioned Defendant who had compromised were also made parties. They set up the mortgage executed in their favour and contended that though subsequent in point of time it had priority over the mortgage in suit by the application of the doctrines of subrogation and lis pendens. Held—That the compromise and the mortgage executed in the previous suit constituted one entire and indivisible transaction and when the said decree gave effect to the compromise it validated the whole contract between the parties inclusive of the mortgage. The mortgage in suit executed after the institution of the previous suit was affected by virtue of the rule of lis pendens by the consent decree in the suit which incorporated and gave effect to the mortgage executed in connection with the said compromise. If a suit is not collusive it is a contentious suit. If it was so in its origin and nature and even if it is subsequently compromised. Faiya Husain v Prag Narayan L R 34 I A 10th s c I L R 29 All 339 II C W A 661 (1907) Bandon v Beecher [1855] 3 Cl & F 479 Annamalai v Malayandi I L R 29 Mad 426 (E B) (1906) and other cases referred to. Kailash v Fulchand 9 B L R 474 (1871) considered. Further unless a compromise is collusive the very fact that there is a compromise shows that the suit was in its origin and nature contentious otherwise there would be nothing to compromise. Hence a consent decree falls within the scope of the rule of lis pendens enunciated in sec 52 of the Transfer of Property Act. Landan v Morris [1857] 2

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

— s 52—contd

L J Ch 30, Sim 24 and other cases referred to BHARAT RAMANJ DAS MOHANTA & SRI NATH CHANDRA SAHOO

25 C W N 806

9 ————— Contentious suit—Suit decided ex parte but not fraudulent If a suit is neither fraudulent nor collusive it may be none the less a contentious suit within the meaning of s 52 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 no withstanding it was decided ex parte PAN BHAPORE & PAMPAL SINGH

I L R 42 All 319

— s 52 56 81—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 418

— ss 52 and 91—

S & CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ACT (V OF 1908) O XXI R 103 and O XXIV R 1 I L R 43 Mad 696

— s 53—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 44 Cal 662

S DECREE ASSIGNMENT OF I L R 37 Mad 227

See FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCE I L R 33 Mad 334 I L R 41 Mad 612

See MORTGAGE BY MISTAKE I L R 38 Mad 1071

1 ————— Subsequent creditors are within the rule in (1) of the section— Presumption in cl 2 of section applies to subsequent creditors Subsequent creditor are within the rule enunciated in the first clause of s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act and a titlement can be avoided at the instance of subsequent creditors Husain Bhai v Haji Ismail Sait 5 P W N 255 referred to. The presumption in cl 3 of the Transfer of Property Act applies in the case of subsequent creditors THOMAS PILLAI & MUTHURAMAN CHETTIAR (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 205

2 ————— Mortgage in fraud of creditors liability of A being in insolvent circumstances mortgaged certain property to B there having been a failure in payment of part of the consideration money C holding a money decree against A impeached the mortgage as fraudulent Held that the fact that the mortgage was for an amount larger than was really paid was no reason for not upholding it to the extent that it was supported by a debt existing at the date of the mortgage and that A was entitled to a decree for the amount actually paid by him Chidambaram Chettiar v Simi Aiyar I L R 30 Mad 6 distinguished Islan Chander Das Surcar v Bahu Sardar I L R 24 Cal 320 followed See CHITRA PITCHAI & PEDAKOTTAH (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 29

3 ————— Fraudulent transfer—Transfer voidable at the option of the person defrauded—Purchaser at Court sale not a subsequent transferee—Person having interest at the property transfers same having interest at the date of the transfer The plaintiff purchased certain lands in 1906.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

— s 53—contd

In execution of a money decree against the vendor the lands were sold at a Court auction and purchased by the defendant in 1909 with full notice of the sale of 1906. The defendant having been put into possession of the land the plaintiff sued to recover possession relying on the sale of 1906. The defendant contended that the sale was not genuine and was not supported by consideration and was made with the object of defeating the creditors of the vendor. The trial court negatived the contentions and decreed the plaintiff's claim. The lower appellate Court held that the sale of 1906 was bad under s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act as the consideration was grossly inadequate the sale was effected with the object of defeating and deluding the creditors of the vendor and the plaintiff participated in the fraud. The plaintiff having appealed—Held that the sale of 1906 could not be avoided under s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) at the option of the defendant who was not a creditor of the vendor or a subsequent transferee or a person having an interest in the property within the meaning of the section. Having regard to the presale as well as s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) a person who steps in by operation of law and not by any act of the owner is not a subsequent transferee or a person having an interest in the property within the meaning of s 53 means the person who has such interest at the time of the transfer objected to. VASUDEO PAGHUNATH & JANARDHAN SIDDAGHIV (1915) I L R 39 Bom 507

4 ————— Transfer to defraud or defeat single creditor validity of—Bond fide transfer effect of s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 is not limited in its application to cases where there is an intention to defraud or defeat the general body of creditors. The section is applicable where a debtor disposes of his property with the intention of defeating even a single creditor. But if the property of the debtor is transferred for consideration to a bond fide purchaser then even though such transfer has the effect of putting the debtor's property out of the reach of the creditors the transfer will be effective and the creditors will not be entitled to have the transfer set aside or declared void. FAKIRA SINGH & MAHMO SINGH 2 Pat L J 546

5 ————— A suit by the purchaser of property sold in execution of a decree for a declaration that a conveyance by the judgment debtor was fraudulent and for possession is not a suit on behalf of all the creditors within the meaning of s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. SRI THAKURJI & NARSINGH NARAY SINGH 6 Pat L J 43

6 ————— Fraudulent alienation to defeat and delay creditors—Attachment of alienated property—O XXI r 63 suit under—Plea of attaching creditor as fraudulent nature of alienation validly of In a suit by an alienee who claims to property attached under a decree has been rejected to set aside the order and establish his title it is open to the attaching creditor to plead in defence that the transfer was in fraud of creditors. Subramania Aiyar & Muthia Chettiar (1918) I L R 41 Mad 612 (F B) and Pala

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 53—contd

Mani Chetty v Appar Chettiar (1916) 30 M I J 662 overruled RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR v MALLAPPA REDDIAR (1920)

I L R 43 Mad (FB) 760

7 ————— Debtor and Creditor—Suit to set aside deed as being void as delaying or defeating creditors—Deed made on good consideration—Preference by debtor to one creditor rather than another where debtor retains no benefit for himself In this appeal their Lordships of the Judicial Committee upheld the decision of the High Court which was reported in I L R 34 Cal 999 at page 1003 The transfer which defeats or delays creditors is not an instrument which prefers one creditor to another but an instrument which removes property from the creditors for the benefit of the debtor The debtor must not retain a benefit for himself He may pay one creditor and leave another unpaid In re Moroney L J 21 Ir 27 and Uddleton v Pollock L F 2 Ch D 104 followed When it was found that the transfer impeached was made for adequate consideration in satisfaction of genuine debt and without reversion of any benefit to the debtor it followed that no ground for impeaching it lay in the fact that the plaintiff (appellant) who also was a creditor was a loser by payment being made to the preferred creditor—there being in the case no question of bankruptcy MUSAHAR SARKI v JALAL HAKIM LAL (1915)

I L R 43 Cal 521

8 ————— Mortgage in fraud of creditors The first defendant mortgaged two properties 1. a parcel of land and a hut on second parcel to the plaintiff Subsequent to the mortgage the second defendant a creditor of the first defendant purchased the hut in execution of a decree for money obtained by him against the first defendant prior to the mortgage In a suit by the plaintiff to enforce the mortgage security the lower appellate Court made a decree for realisation of the mortgage money by sale of the first property alone although it found that at the date of the mortgage which was for an antecedent loan and an alleged cash payment which was not proved the plaintiff was not aware of the decree obtained by the second defendant nor of its impending execution against the first defendant and that there was no evidence to show that there were other creditors of the mortgagor at the time of the mortgage transaction who were intended to be defrauded or defeated Held that the facts found were not sufficient to bring the case within the scope of s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act That even assuming the mortgage to be within the mischief of s 53 the second defendant was under that section which rendered the transaction only voidable at the option of the person defrauded entitled to question the mortgage only in so far as it affected the property acquired by him and therefore the Court's order directing the sale of the first property was not open to exception That the Court in proceeding to grant relief by way of avoidance of the transaction would do so only on equitable consideration and would apply the principles of justice equity and good conscience and as it appeared that the second defendant acquired the hut subject to the lien of the plaintiff

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1880)

—contd

s 53—contd

he should be granted relief only on condition that he satisfied the lien The plaintiff was therefore entitled to a decree for his dues also as against the second property in the hands of the second defendant KRISHNA KUMAR NANDY v JAI KISHINA NANDY (1915) 21 C W N 401

9 ————— Transfer to strangers for value in fraud of creditors—Knowledge of intention to defraud is sufficient A transferee who is not himself a creditor and who takes the transfer with full knowledge of the fraudulent intention of the transferor to defeat his creditors is not a transferee in good faith and such a transfer is void as against a creditor even if the transferee has paid full value of the property purchased by him Such a transfer cannot be held to be valid on the ground that a portion of the consideration money was applied by the transferor in payment of some debts which he owed to third persons ATTABUDDIN CHAUDHURY v BANARSA KUMAR SUDHAPADHAYAYA (1916) 22 C W N 427

10 ————— Transfer made with intent to defeat or delay the creditor—Whether the transfer void in toto or void in so far as there is no consideration One J mortgaged his property with the plaintiff for Rs 4000 in 1911 In the same year the defendant a creditor of J brought a suit against him and obtained a decree in execution of which the property mortgaged to the plaintiff were attached The plaintiff having failed to raise the attachment sued for a declaration that the defendant was not entitled to attach the properties Both the lower Courts found that out of the consideration of Rs 4000 the only sum for which the plaintiff's action was of J at the time of the mortgage transaction was Rs 1000 and dismissed the plaintiff's suit on the ground that the plaintiff and J had an intention to defeat or delay the creditors of J in effecting the transfer On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the plaintiff was entitled to a declaration that he had a lien to the extent of the debt existing at the time of the mortgage Held that it being found that both the transferor J and the transferee plaintiff had the intention of defeating or delaying the creditors of the transferor and the consideration of the mortgage being treated as one and indivisible under s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act the document was set at the option of the person defeated or delayed in the transaction as void in toto and not merely as void in so far as there was no consideration Ex parte Chaplin In re Sinclair 96 Ch D 319 and Holm Lal v Mohd Saif Sahu I L R 34 Cal 999 at p 1071, relied on BRITANNIA MILLINAR v PANACHAND (1918) I L R 43 Bom 707

11 ————— Transfer in fraud of creditor—Attaching decree holder—Claim resisted by transferee allowed—Right of suit of a decree holder and an ordinary creditor—Form of suit—Whether representative suit on behalf of all creditors necessary—English and Indian Law—Statutory right of suit under O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code—Objection to form of suit isgermissible on appeal for the first time An attaching decree holder whose attachment has been raised on the claim petition of a transferee of the attached property is not bound to bring a representative

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

§ 53—contd

suit on behalf of all the creditors of the judgment debtor to set aside the transfer as fraudulent under § 53 of the Transfer of Property Act but is competent to institute a suit to establish his right to proceed against the property under O XXI r 63 of the Civil Procedure Code Subramania Ayyar v Muthia Chettiar I L R 41 Mad 612 and Palaniandi Chetty v Ayyaru Chettiar 50 M L J 560 explained and distinguished English and Indian cases reviewed Quare Whether an ordinary creditor who seeks to set aside an alienation as fraudulent under § 53 Transfer of Property Act is bound to sue in a representative capacity on behalf of all the creditors of the transferor? Per MAHESWARAN J There is no rule either in English or Indian Law justifying the dismissal of a suit brought under § 53 Transfer of Property Act because it is not brought in a representative capacity and objections to the form of the suit should not be allowed to be taken for the first time in appeal Adopting the English rule an attaching decree holder has a personal right to sue by himself to avoid the transfer Further as the defeated party in a claim petition the attaching creditor has a statutory right of suit given to him under O XXI r 63 Civil Procedure Code and that suit must necessarily be one brought by him (if alone and is not a representative suit such right of suit cannot be defeated by any rule of practice which has no statutory basis POKKEPILLAI v HAMAD (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 143

§ 54—

See § 4 I L R 38 Mad 1158

See § 5 I L R 35 Bom 403

See ESTOPPEL IN CONDUCT
I L R 40 Mad 1134See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM) 18/9
s 74 I L R 41 Bom 170See MORTGAGE I L R 48 Cal 509
I L R 4 Cal 542See OFFICIAL RECEIVER
I L R 46 Cal 887

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 11 Lah 199

See REGISTRATION ACT s 1
25 C W N 985See SALE I L R 41 Cal 148
I L R 43 Cal 790Compromise in suit for land—whether a sale—See LUNACY (DISTRICT COURT) ACT 1859 I L R 1 Lah 109—oral sale followed by—registered sale—

See SALE I L R 44 Bom 588

1 — Pre-emption—

Whether sale is complete before registration Defendant No 4 sold the property in dispute to defendant No 2 by a Kohala dated the 14th July 1911 The Kohala was registered on the 1th At 6 AM

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

§ 54—contd

on the 17th plaintiff heard of the sale At 3 P M he went to the Registration Office and put in a petition praying that the registration of the sale deed might be stayed Held that the petition to the Sub Registrar was not a sufficient compliance with the rules of Muhammadan Law with regard to the performance of the Talabi maua ibat and the Talabi mubashad Per MULLICK J A sale is not complete till legal ownership passes no matter whether there has been payment and delivery and a pre-emptor's title in the case of property worth more than Rs 100 does not arise until after registration KHEVALI PRASAD v MULLICK NARUL ALUM I Pat L J 174

2 — Sale of mortgaged property by mortgagor—Institution of suit by mortgagor—Registration of sale deed—Purchase by mortgagor in execution of decree—Suit by mortgagee against vendee for possession whether maintainable Where an instrument which purports to transfer title to property requires to be registered the title does not pass until registration has been effected Therefore where a mortgagee instituted a suit on the mortgagor on the 7th November and the mortgagor had sold the property on the 11th August by a deed which was registered on the 24th November and the mortgagee purchased the property in execution of his decree but was resisted in taking possession by the mortgagor's vendee held that in a suit by the mortgagee against the vendee the mortgagee was entitled to decree for possession and not a decree for sale only TILAKDHARI SINGH v GOUR NARAIN 5 Pat L J 716

3 — Sale—Compromise—Land worth less than Rs 100—Registration of deed or delivery of possession not necessary The terms of a compromise affecting a claim to land of the value of less than Rs 100 were reduced to writing The document was not registered nor was the transaction accompanied by delivery of possession The material provisions of the deed were as follows—You and we are co-sharers in your and our land Survey No 20 there is a well Therein you and we have a joint share Partition is to be made including it After the said (survey) number is divided we shall give 8 pands more from our share and both of us should put up a bundh (embankment) in the middle of the well and possession and enjoyment should be earned on according to our respective shares According to this condition we should not cause obstruction to each other One who will act in contravention of this agreement will be able to reimburse loss which may be caused The lower Appellate Court regarded the transaction as a sale which under the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) required delivery of possession in order to validate it Held that the terms of the deed did not bring the transaction within the category of a sale as defined in the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) Held further that the document in question merely embodied a compromise between the parties and was in effect an acknowledgment of existing right and that therefore no delivery of possession was necessary Per VERA KUMAR v PARI HULAS KUMAR I P 11 A 15 followed KRIHNA TANHAJI v ABA SHETTI PATIL (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 179

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

■ 54—co 1d

4 Indian Registration Act (III of 1877) s 17 (b) (c) and 49—Agreement of sale—Registration—Possession given subsequently—Deed operating as transfer The plaintiff a guardian executed in favour of the defendants a registered agreement of sale and received Rs 100. The agreement provided that in consideration of the defendants helping the plaintiff a guardian with money to carry on litigation to recover possession of certain property the latter agreed to sell half of the property to the defendants when recovered. The suit was brought the property recovered and the defendants were put in possession of the moiety. No registered conveyance accompanied the delivery of possession. Subsequently the plaintiff brought a suit to eject the defendants alleging that in the absence of a registered conveyance the title to the property was still in him. Held dismissing the suit that the transaction was intended to operate as a sale on the recovery of the property and that the deed operated as a transfer on the fulfilment of the condition. KONDU BIN KANHOJI v. VISHNU MORESHWAR (1012) I L R 37 Bom 53

5 Sale compulsorily registrable to defendant by unregistered kotala—Part performance—Payment of purchase money and delivery of possession—Subsequent sale by registered kotala to plaintiff with notice of defendant's rights—Plaintiff if may recover—Equity—Specific performance—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) ss 17 and 49 Where a purchaser of immovable property under an unregistered kotala paid Rs 500 the agreed price to his vendor and was placed in possession. Held that in the absence of circumstances showing that such purchaser was not entitled to sue his vendor for specific performance a subsequent purchaser of the property under a registered conveyance could not succeed in a suit to recover possession of the property from the former purchaser. The defendant is entitled apart from the provisions of the Registration Act to resist such a suit and to permit such a defence to be taken does not amount to an invasion or evasion of the Registration Act. Walsh v Lonsdale L R 21 Ch D 9 followed. PUCHHA LAL v. KUNJ BHARY LAL MONDAL (1913) 18 C W N 445

6 Sale—Condition attached to the payment of the purchase money—Public policy Where a deed purporting to be a sale deed contained a stipulation that the price should be paid within one year provided that possession was obtained within that time if possession was not obtained then the payment of the price should be postponed and further that in the event of the vendee not getting the property the price should not be paid at all. Held that the transaction amounted to a sale within the meaning of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act and the condition postponing the payment of the consideration was not contrary to public policy. KAULSHAR PRASAD MISRA v. ANADI BIRI (1915) I L R 37 All 631

7 Sale—Agreement to reconvey—No bar to recovery of possession—Contract on of statute An agreement by the plaintiff to reconvey the property to the defendant made

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

■ 54—contd

contemporaneously with the sale deed cannot be pleaded in bar of plaintiff's right to recover possession under the deed of sale. The provisions of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act are imperative. The express words of an Indian Statute are not to be overridden by reference to equitable principles which may have been adopted in the English Courts. Kurri Ferrariddi v. Kurri Bipreddi I I R 29 Mad 336 followed. TRINAGOWDA v. BEVERGOWDA (1915) I L R 39 Bom 42

8 Agreement to sell land not creating any interest therein—Rule of perpetuities not offending—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 27 (b)—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 37 A contract to convey or reconvey immovable properties whenever demanded for a certain amount is only a personal contract and does not create any interest in immovable property and is therefore enforceable and not void as contravening the rule against perpetuities. South Eastern Railway v. Associated Cement Manufacturers Limited (1910) 1 Ch 12 33 followed. Kolihis Aygar v. Ranga Vadhvar I L R 33 Mad 114 distinguished. Per CURTAM—The contract is also enforceable according to s 37 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) against the representatives of the contracting parties. CHABAVATI v. RAGHAVULU (1915) I L R 39 Mad 462

9 Sale deed of property in possession of tenants—Deed should be registered A house which was in the possession of defendants as tenants was sold to them by the owner in 1909 for Rs 50 by an unregistered deed of sale. It was again sold in 1916 by the owner to the plaintiff by a registered sale deed. The plaintiff having sued to recover possession. Held that the defendants were entitled to set up their claim for the sale deed to defeat the plaintiff's claim for the deed though earlier in point of time required registration as the only interest which the vendor had at the date of the sale was a reversion in the house within the meaning of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). BEHARAN GOPAL v. PADMAN HEMA (1915) I L R 40 Bom 313

10 Transfer of immovable property of less than Rs 100 in value to mortgagee with possession on failure to pay off mortgage—Oral transfer—Delivery of possession necessary—Formal delivery Where immovable property of less than Rs 100 in value was first mortgaged to A with possession and then on mortgagee's failure to pay up the mortgage amount the latter on 5th March 1907 orally sold the property to B and at the same time formally delivered possession by pointing out boundaries by endorsement on the back of the mortgage bond the fact of the sale and by handing it over to A and the mortgagee later on on 6th June 1906 sold the property to B by a registered deed. Held that every thing that could be done to deliver possession to B gave effect to the sale of 5th March 1906 was done and the requirements of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act having thus been satisfied title from A must fail. Sibendrapada Panigrahy v.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

—s 54—contd

Secretary of State for India I L R 34 Cal. 87 distinguished SONAI CHUTIA v SONARAH CHUTIA
(1915) 20 C W N 195

11 ——— Agreement for sale of immovable property—Possession taken under the agreement—No registered conveyance—Suit by vendor to recover possession—Agreement for sale which is a valid defence to the suit—Agreement capable of specific enforcement at the date of the suit—Specific Relief Act (II of 1877) s 3 Illustration (g) and s 1 and 2—Indian trusts Act (II of 1882) ss 41-45 Where the plaintiff being the owner of certain immovable property seeks to recover possession of that property and there are no facts operating to his prejudice it is a valid defence to the suit that the plaintiff has agreed to sell the property to the defendant the agreement being at the date of suit still capable of specific enforcement but there being no registered conveyance passing the property to the defendant who has taken possession under the agreement for sale and is willing to perform his part of it with the plaintiff BAPU ARAJI v KASHINATH SADOBA (1917) I L R 41 Bom 438

12 ——— Indian Registration Act (XII of 1908) ss 17-59—Sale of land below Rs 100 in value by unregistered deed of sale and delivery of possession—Sale valid on proof of sale and delivery of possession—Secondary evidence of unregistered deed of sale which is admissible On the 10th May 1899 defendant No 1 sold the land in dispute to the plaintiff's father for Rs 40 and delivered possession thereof to him At the same time defendant No 1 executed a sale deed in favour of the plaintiff's father which was not registered The plaintiffs remained in possession till 1911 when they were dispossessed by defendant No 1 In the suit to recover possession of the lands the plaintiffs having lost the unregistered deed of sale adduced secondary evidence of its contents The lower Courts accepted the evidence and decreed the suit The defendants having appealed Held that the appeal failed inasmuch as the plaintiff's title was based on a contract of sale accompanied by delivery of possession which was proved Per BEAMAN J— I am clearly of opinion that neither the original unregistered deed of sale of 1899 nor secondary evidence of it was admissible in the present case to support the plaintiff's allegation that in 1899 there was a complete and valid sale of the property in suit effectuated by delivery of possession Per MACLEOD J— In my opinion in cases of transfer of property under the value of Rs 100 if the transfer is effected by delivery of possession accompanied by an unregistered document that document can be adduced in evidence in order to show what was the character of the possession given by the vendor of the land to the purchaser DAWALIRANSHAN v DHANVIA RAJAKANI (1917) I L R 41 Bom 553

13 ——— Sale of immovable property of less than Rs 100 in value—Delivery accompanied by an unregistered conveyance—Conveyance if admissible in evidence—Oral evidence to prove sale if admissible When the property sold is less than Rs 100 in value and the sale is effectuated or completed by delivery of possession there is no reason why the transaction should not be evidenced by a writing in the terms of a conveyance even though the document is not registered The document does not confer title and is merely evidentiary but having regard to s 91 of the Evidence Act it may be the only admissible evidence of the nature and terms of the transaction though that section would not exclude proof of the fact of delivery of possession JUMAN SNEIKH v MOHAMMAD NOBHOODAT (1917) 21 C W N 1149

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

—s 54—contd

14 ——— Effect of section on doctrine of part performance where vendor has paid full purchase money and obtained possession The plaintiff sued to recover possession of land which originally belonged to him and was purchased by D at a sale in execution of a decree for money against him Symbolical possession was taken by D who agreed to convey the lands to the plaintiff in consideration of a certain sum and actually executed a conveyance which however was not registered for non payment of the whole of the consideration money Thereafter the land was sold in execution of another money decree against the plaintiff who remained in possession and purchased by the defendant Subsequent to this the plaintiff obtained a second khobla from D which was duly registered It was found that the whole of the purchase money was paid by the plaintiff to D before the purchase by the defendant and he was in possession at that time Held that the plaintiff at the date of the purchase by the defendant had acquired a right to the property and as D could not at that date enforce any right against the plaintiff he could not contend that he had no interest in the property which could be purchased by the defendant that in Maung Su Koh v Maung Lwin I L R 41 Cal 54 21 C W N 700 the Privy Council only pointed out that s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act differs from the rule of English law to this extent that it expressly lays down that a contract for the sale of immovable property does not of itself create any interest in or charge on such property The question whether the equitable doctrine of part performance which arises from the fact that the vendor has paid the full purchase money and has obtained possession of the property agreed to be sold is inapplicable by reason of the provisions of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act was not considered nor decided by their Lordships JYAN CHANDRA DAS v HARI MOHAN SEN (1917) 22 C W N 522

15 ——— Sale of equity of redemption by unregistered document—Admissibility of document to show satisfaction of mortgage Two plots of land were mortgaged to the defendant stipulating that he should keep possession of them for a fixed period in satisfaction of the debt and interest Subsequently the mortgagor sold one plot to the defendant and thus paid off the mortgage and took back the other plot The conveyance of sale was by an unregistered document In a suit by the mortgagor for recovering possession of the plot sold Held per CHITTY J That the property being in the possession of the mortgagor the sale was of the equity of redemption and being a sale of an intangible thing could under s 54 Transfer of Property Act only be effected by a registered document The conveyance was therefore inadmissible to prove the sale or to show

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

53 54 55—ca 10' d

to be a lien let into possession if on a sale directed by it for enforcement of his lien the property is found unsaleable at an adequate price. The right of the purchaser to obtain possession under s 55 (1) (f) of the Transfer of Property Act and the right of the vendor to realise the unpaid balance of the purchase money under s 55 (4) (b) may be enforced in one action. In this suit by the purchaser for recovery of the land sold he was directed to depout in Court the unpaid balance of the purchase money within a time specified failing which the suit was directed to be dismissed. Certain persons to whom the vendor had again sold the property for consideration having been joined as parties to the suit were given liberty to withdraw the unpaid balance of the purchase money to be deposited by the purchaser. The purchaser/plaintiff was made liable for the costs of the litigation as he had come to Court with a false plea that the whole of the purchase money had been paid to the vendor. NIRMALDEB PARIKHA
HARA PRASAD PARIKHA (1913)

HARA PROSLAD PABRI (1913) 17 C W N 1161

-- ss 54 and 118--Unfructuary Mortgage
--Oral arrangement that mortgagee should give up possession of the mortgaged property in part--Sale or reconveyance of the equity of redemption in part--Sole or Exchange -- Price meaning of--Evid nce Act (I of 1872) s 92--Adverse possession by mortgagee A 1872 + 92--Adverse possession by mortgagee A had been redeemed item 4 alleging that item B had been previously redeemed by him The defendant pleaded that more than 12 years prior to suit the mortgage had been extinguished by an oral arrangement by which the mortgagor orally sold item A to the mortgagee in consideration for the latter surrendering item B to the mortgagor freed from the mortgage lien The defendant also contended that the possession of the mortgage became adverse from the date of the arrangement and that the suit was barred by limitation Per CURRIE Held that the transaction pleaded was not merely a compromise in acknowledgment of existing right but amounted to an exchange of property within s 118 of the Transfer of Property Act if it was not a sale and was invalid for want of a registered instrument Per MILLER J The transaction could not be proved for showing the change of the mortgagee's possession into adverse possession since the intention to make certain transfers involved the intention to discharge the mortgages and it could not be said that if those transfers failed both the parties nevertheless intended to discharge the mortgages Per KAR SIVA AYYAR J All transfers by conveyance if they are not settlements or declarations of trust were intended by the Legislature to come within the scope of the Sales Exchange or Gift Acts of 1896 and 1908 and the Transfer of Property Act 1882 Thiruvengadam v Ranganatha Aiyangar 13 Mad L J 500 dissented from Price means not only money in current coin but includes money due on debt and the words price paid will cover uses when the vendor's claim to the receipt of the price is satisfied by giving him what he accepts in tantamount to such payment A mortgagee in possession as such cannot by mere assertion of his position as owner under an invalid sale convert himself into adverse possessor so as to

See ■ 118 I L R 48 Md 519

See MINOR I L R 38 All 154

See SALE OF LAND
I L R 43 Md 712

Purchase money non payment of portion—Sale of nevertheless complete—Registration of complete conveyance—Non delivery to purchaser—Intention—Vendor a lien if may be given effect to in purchaser's suit for possession—Equities—Subsequent purchaser's rights—Cos s—False allegations in plaint Where it was found that there was no intention on the part of the vendor or the purchaser to postpone the operation of a conveyance till consideration had been actually paid and the conveyance was executed and registered but not delivered to the purchaser and a part of the purchase money remained unpaid Held that the conveyance was completed and title in the property passed to the purchaser That the vendor had a lien on the land for the unpaid balance of the purchase money and though the lien does not entitle him after execution of the conveyance to resume possession of the land sold, it gives him the right to keep the title deeds until payment A Court of equity can direct it to vendor

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—*contd.*ss 111 and 118—contd.

pre-cribe for a title under the Limitation Act
Bhai v Pottanna I I R 14 Mad 30 Bhagyan
Gownd v Kordirajad Vahadu I I P 14 Bom
219 Pamunni v Kerala Varma Vala Raja I L R
15 Mad 106 and Khairiyah v Dam I L R
37 Cal 96 applied. A mortgage created by a registered instrument may be proved to have been discharged by a lawful evidence (including oral evidence) of payment of the mortgage amount or by admission of evidence of any other transaction which operates as mode of payment. Pamaralar
v Tulu Prosad Singh I L R 517 Kattika Expansamma v Kallala Krishnamma I L R 30
Mad 231 Karampalli Unni Arup v Tellich Patil Mulhoralatti I L R 26 Mad 195 and Gosai Suba Pow v Varagonda Narayanaiah I I P 27 Mad 373 referred to. But oral evidence of an invalid oral conveyance (of which evidence is legally inadmissible) of the equity of redemption in a portion of the mortgaged property in dis charge of the mortgage debt is inadmissible.
ANIRAPUTHIPPA v MUTHUKOMARASWAMI (1912)
I L R 37 Mad 423

Mutual sales of property effected by registered deeds—Subsequent agree ments to exchange portions of the property sold—Agreement acted upon but without execution of so often instrument—Legal position of parties. In 1901, A by means of a duly registered deed sold property X with other property to B and B simi larly sold property Y with other property to A.
Possession of items X and Y was however not transferred and shortly afterwards A and B agreed to exchange the two properties. No deed of exchange was ever executed but the parties remained in possession of the properties in ques tion from 1901 onwards. In 1913 some of the heirs of B sued to recover property X from A in virtue of the sale deed of 1901. Held that in the cir cumstances the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover. A. v. V. v. V. v. V. v. V. v. V. v. V. v. V.
I L R 29 Mad 337 and Chidambaram Chettiar
v Vaidyanatha I L R 38 Mad 519 discussed from. Mahomed Musa v Agbore Kumar Ganguli I L P 40 Cal 501 Maddison v Alther
301 S 4 C 467. Sumudra Choolara Hussein v
Abdul Hussein Kalimuddin I L R 31 Bom 165
Karalia Danutha Mohamedh v Mansultram
1 Lakshmi I L R 94 Bom 400 Ravi Baksh v Vughlani Khanam I L P 96 All 966 Begam
v Mhammed Yakub I L R 16 All 344 Muham med Talib Hussain v Inayat Jan I I R 33 All 613 Jhampal v Kutramani I L R 39 All 696 and Maung Shwe v Maung Inn I L P 14 Cal 512 referred to. SALAMAT LEZAMIN BEGAM v
MASHA ALI KHAN (1913)

I L R 40 All 187

s 55—

See (1) K. v. FIGHT

R 42 Cal 28

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.

I L R 1 Lah 350

Lender's lien for unpaid purchase money—Consideration paid in part—Bond executed by vend promising to pay balance of purchase money by instalments. The acceptance by a vendor of immovable property of a separate bond given by the vendee to secure payment

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—*contd.*s 55—contd.

by instalments of the balance of the purchase money does not in any way imply an intention on the part of the vendor to relinquish the lien given to him by s 55 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. Hebb v Macpherson I L R 31 Cal
9 referred to. BASHIR AHMAD KHAN v NAZIR
ABDUL KHAN I L R 43 All 544

Sale of land—Covenant of title—Failure of consideration—Warranty implied—Absence of express covenant to the contrary —Mortgage for balance of unpaid purchase money if may be enforced on failure of consideration for sale—Idem claim compromised by purchaser—Vendor of bound—Notice of compromise. A con veyed a property to D and D executed a mortgage bond for a part of the purchase money yet remain ing due. At the time of the sale there was some dispute between A and some other persons relating to some part of the lands sold. Subsequently after D's purchase a suit was instituted by one P for a part of these lands and the suit was ulti mately decreed in the first Court. Against that decree D appealed to the High Court where it was compromised on terms by which D gave away 133 bighas of the lands. Held that A's legal repre sentative who required in the decision of the original Court could not contest the validity of the compromise made in the appeal Court in her pre sence and without any protest on her part that it was improvident. The law relating to compromise of an adverse claim by the purchaser with or with out notice to the vendor as affecting the vendor's covenant of title discussed. That the purchaser was entitled to a reduction of the price settled because the vendor had failed to convey all that he had agreed to sell and the consideration for the mortgage being unpaid purchase money the liability under it could be reduced pro tanto That D was entitled to the benefit of s 55 of the Transfer of Property Act although there was no active fraud on the part of A as there had been a failure of consideration with reference to 133 bighas. Any express covenant to the contrary relied on as a bar to the plaintiff's claim to be indemnified under s 55 of the Transfer of Property Act must be in plain and unambiguous language.
DIGAMBAR DAS v NISHIBALA DEBI (1910)

15 C W N 655

s 55 Sub s (1) cl (b)—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

I L R 41 Cal 852

s 55 (1) (g)—

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER.

I L R 38 Cal 458

Sale free from incum brances of property subject to mortgage charges—Incumbrances discharged by purchaser—Right of purchaser to be indemnified—Payment of incum brances by purchaser if voluntary—Ind on Contract Act (IX of 1882) sec 69—Arrangement by vendor with a third party to pay off incumbrances if en forced by purchaser when not so created. Where a deed of sale of properties which in fact were subject to mortgage charges contained an express declaration that the property was sold free from incumbrance the vendor was under sec 51
(1) (g) sub cl (2) of the Transfer of Property

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—*concl'd*s 55 (1) (g)—concl'd

Act liable to the purchaser for moneys paid by the purchaser either for redemption of the mortgages existing on the property purchased at the date of the purchase or for purchase of the properties on sales under such mortgages or to prevent such sales. Semle—It is difficult to accept the view that purchasers of a property are not compelled to pay off mortgagees who have obtained decrees for sale even though a sale is not immediately threatened. Where after the sale the vendor sold another item of property to a third person and it was agreed between them that the latter should discharge the incumbrances on the property which the vendor had sold to the first purchaser free from incumbrances. Held—That a suit by the first purchaser against the second purchaser for recovery of the amount of incumbrances was misconceived the former being no party to the latter's purchase deed and no trust having been thereby created in his favour. NATHU KHAN v. THAKUR BURTONATH SINGH (P O) 22 C W N 514

s 55 (2)—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 73

I L R 40 Mad 338

See CROSS OBJECTION 5 Pat L J 328

See SALE DEED I L R 38 Mad 1171

s 55 (4) (b)—

See DRBT I L R 42 Cal 849

Vendor has no a solute title to interest in all cases irrespective of equities—Right of vendor in possession to interest s 55 cl (4) of the Transfer of Property Act does not give the vendor an absolute title to interest in all cases irrespective of equities. It only provides that the vendor shall have a lien for interest when it is payable. Interest on the purchase money cannot be claimed so long as the vendor remains in possession of the property sold. MUTHIA CHETTI v. SINNA VELLIAN CHETTI (1912) I L R 35 Mad 625

Sale of land—Vendor and purchaser—Vendor's direction to pay purchase money to a third party on his behalf—Existence of vendor's lien in spite of a contract to forego the vendor's charge for unpaid purchase money is not to be necessarily inferred when the whole or part of the consideration for the purchase of immoveable property is agreed to be paid by the purchaser to a third party on behalf of the vendor. Abdulla Beary v. Mammali Beary I L R 33 Mad 416 and Sivabramania Mudal v. Gnana Sambanda Pandaraj Sannadhi 21 Mad L J 359 overruled. Webb v. Macpherson I L R 31 Cal 57 referred to. Sivabramania Ayyar v. Subramania Ayyar (1916) I L R 39 Mad 997

Sale—Consideration therefor—Covenant by purchaser to discharge liabilities of seller—Breach of covenant gives rise to action for damages only—Statutory charge under cl 4 (b) negated by contract to the contrary arising by implication. When a purchaser of immoveable property covenants in consideration of the transfer on such property to him to discharge certain liabilities of the seller and further stipulate that upon his

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—*concl'd*s 55 (4) (b)—concl'd

failure to do so he shall be liable for any damage resulting from such default. Held that upon breach of such a covenant the seller is entitled to be compensated in damages but has no charge upon the property in the hands of the purchaser under s 55 cl 4 (b) of Act IV of 1882. To negative the statutory charge afforded by s 55 it is sufficient if a contract to the contrary arises by implication. Webb v. Macpherson I L R 30 I A 438 referred to. In re Albert Life Assurance Company v. Western Life Assurance Society 11 Eq 164 followed. Pamakrishna Ayyar v. Subramania Ayyar I L R 29 Mad 305 distinguished. Abdulla Beary v. Mammali Beary (1910) I L R 33 Mad. 446

Sale—Vendor's lien—

Lien not enforceable against subsequent purchaser without notice. The vendor's lien for unpaid purchase money provided for by s 55 (4) (b) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 cannot be enforced against the property in the hands of subsequent transferees for value without notice of the lien. Webb v. Macpherson I L R 31 Cal 57 distinguished. GUR DAYAL SINGH v. KARAN SINGH (1916) I L R 38 All 254

On a sale of immoveable property a suit for preemption was brought and succeeded. At the time of the sale part of the purchase money had been left in the hands of the purchasers to pay off incumbrance of which the preemptors had notice. As a matter of fact however owing to a suit for preemption the incumbrance was not paid off. Held that the vendor had a lien on the property in the hands of the preemptors to the extent of the unpaid purchase money. RAMA NAIDU LUANTI v. SINDO DAS I L R 43 All 314

s 55 (6) (b) 123—Registration Act (III of 1877) s 17—Exemption of assessment in lieu of services rendered or to be rendered—Document granting exemption not stamped or registered—Gift—Hindu Law—Mandha. In consideration of services already rendered or thereafter to be rendered by the defendant to the predecessor in title of the plaintiff the latter executed two documents whereby he released the defendant from payment to him of the assessment on certain land. Those documents were not stamped or registered. The plaintiff sued to recover arrears of assessment from the defendant who pleaded exemption under the two documents. The lower Appellate Court found the transaction to be one of sale and applied s 55 (6) (b) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. The plaintiff paid to the defendant what the Court calculated to be the equivalent of purchase money before he (the plaintiff) could recover the assessment. Held that the transaction evidenced by the documents could not be regarded as a sale for the consideration could not be regarded as price and even if it could be assessed in money value it was vitiated by the fact that it was vague and uncertain as to future services. Held further that the transaction must be regarded as one of gift. It was a gift of the grantee a right to assessment and such a right is regarded as mandha in Hindu Law and therefore immoveable property. The documents not having been registered the gift did not operate. Held also that the plaintiff

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

§ 55 (6) (b) 123—contd

been no registered instrument in support of the defendant's title the right set up in defence must be negatived. MADHAVRAO v KASHINATH (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 287

§ 55 58 100—

S e RATES AND TAXES

I L R 42 Calc. 625

§ 56—Marshalling—Application of doctrine as between purchasers of different properties subject to the same mortgage—Act No III of 1907 (Provincial Insolvency Act) ss 16 and 34—Insolvency—Property of applicant sold in execution of decree before order of adjudication but after filing of application. The rule of equity stated in s 56 of the Transfer of Property Act 1899 does not apply to a case between purchaser and purchaser the section being limited in its operation to the case in which the party claiming marshalling is a purchaser and the party against whom it is claimed is the original mortgagor. Magniram v Mehd. Hosein Khan I L R 31 Calc 95 followed. Held also that s 16 cl. (6) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 does not control s 34 cl. (1) of the Act. But where property of the applicant in insolvency is sold in execution between the dates of the application and of the order of adjudication the property sold vests in the auction purchaser and not in the receiver. Sri Chand v Murari Lal I L R 44 698 followed. Basornal Anantmal v Khemchand Daryanomal 11 Indian cases 433 approved. DRY DAYAL v GUR SARKAR LAL

I L R 42 All 336

§ 56 and 81—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 418

§ 56 81, 88—

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 395

§ 57—

See MORTGAGES I L R 89 Mad 419

See MORTGAGE DEGREE 2 Pat L J 118

§ 58—

See s 6 I L R 39 All 196

See CONSTRUCTION OF DEED

L L R 40 Bom. 74 378

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 5 ART 132

25 C W N 57

See MORTGAGE 1 Pat L J 563

See RATES AND TAXES

I L R 42 Calc 625

Mortgage—Construction of document A bond was executed in the following terms — I have borrowed Rs 1000 from so and so and $\frac{1}{2}$ out of the entire 20 biswa zamindari property in belonging to me and have brought the same to my use. I therefore covenant and give in writing that I shall repay the aforesaid amount with interest etc. Until the repayment of the aforesaid amount I shall not transfer the aforesaid property. If I do so then such transfer shall be invalid. I have therefore executed these few presents by way of a bond (tamassuk). Held that the document did not constitute a simple mortgage as there was no transfer of a specific interest in im-

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

§ 58—contd

moveable property to the lender nor any power of sale conferred on him. Dalip Singh v Bahadur Ram I L R 31 All 416 referred to by PICCOOTT J. MOHAN LAL v INDOMATI (1916)

I L R 39 All 244

Mortgage by conditional sale—Sale and agreement to re sell same transaction whether a sale or mortgage—Construction—Intention of parties—Surrounding circumstances terms of instrument or oral evidence of intention whether can be considered—Decisions of Privy Council on transactions before Transfer of Property Act—Applicability of to those after the Act Where in one and the same transaction land is sold absolutely but with a right of repurchase to be exercised before a certain date the transaction does not necessarily become by virtue of s 58 of the Transfer of Property Act a mortgage by conditional sale whatever the intention of the parties might have been. The Privy Council have laid down that in transactions before the Transfer of Property Act not governed by Bengal Regulation XVI of 1806 instruments of the above kind are to take effect according to their tenor unless it appears from the terms of the instrument or the surrounding circumstances excluding oral evidence of intention as inadmissible that the intention was to effect a mortgage. Though such decision dealt with transactions before the Act they still govern transactions after the Act which has not effected any change in the pre existing law on this subject. Pattabhiram v Venkatarao Nair 13 Moo I 4 560 Thumburamy Moodelly v Hossein Routhier I L R 1 Mad 1 Situl Purshad v Luckmi Purshad I L R 10 Calc 30 Bhagwan Sahai v Bhagwan Din I L R 12 All 337 Bal kishen Das v W F Legge I L R 22 All 149 and Jhanda Singh v Bahadur Din I L R 38 All 570 relied on Palaniappan v Subbaraya Goundan I L W 80 overruled. MUTHUVELU MUDALIAR v VETHILINGA MUDALIAR (1910)

I L R 42 Mad. 407

§ 58 59 70 and 71—

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE

2 Pat L J 293

§ 58 59 68—

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 389

§ 58 60 98—Possessory mortgage in 1894 for one year from a covenant to treat it as sale in default of payment—Anomalous mortgage—No right to redeem after one year A document of 1894 which was described as a Swadina Tanaka Meddattu Sharatu Pattiram which may be translated as a possessory mortgage deed containing a condition for a period fixed contained among others the following terms within these limits a house site together with a thatched house thereon we have mortgaged that we have kept it as a possessory mortgage and have received Rs 10 from you. So having paid the principal and interest pertaining to these Rs 10 within the end of a year from the said date we shall take possession of our house and site. If we do not act according to the said condition we shall quit the land and house as if this is a sale. In a suit for redemption brought after the date fixed for redemption Held that the transaction was as an anomalous mortgage as described in s

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

ss 58 60 98—contd

98 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) that the rights of the parties were governed by the terms of the mortgage document and that accordingly the plaintiff had no right to redeem after the period of one year fixed by the document. The right of redemption given by s 60 of the Transfer of Property Act to every mortgagor has no application to cases governed by s 98 of that Act. Sreenivasa Iyengar v Radakrishna Pillai I L R 38 Mad 667 referred to Usman Khan v Dasanna I L R 37 Mad 645 distinguished. HAKEEM PATTE MUHAMMAD v SHAIK DAVOOD (1916) I L R 39 Mad 1010

ss 58 67 and 68—

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE. I
I L R 45 Bom. 523

Usufructuary mortgage

—Failure of mortgagor to deliver possession—Right of mortgagee to sue for sale Held by the Full Bench —Where a mortgagor fails to deliver possession to his mortgagee the mortgagee is not a usufructuary mortgage within the meaning of s 58 (d) of the Transfer of Property Act and the mortgagee is entitled to bring a suit for sale of the mortgaged property. Ss 58 (a) and (d) 67 and 68 (c) of the Transfer of Property Act referred to Ram Narayan Singh v Adhindra Nath Mukherji I L R 11 Cal 355 followed. Arunchalam Chetti v Ayyalayan I L R 21 Mad 476 overruled. SUBRAMMA v NARAYANA (1917) I L R 41 Mad 259

ss 58 100—

See MORTGAGE I L R 34 All. 448

Construction of document—Mortgage—Charge A deed commenced by reciting that the executant had borrowed a certain sum of money from certain persons and then proceeded to refer to certain share in a property and finally there was a clause by which the executant undertook that until repayment of the amount he would not transfer the property by sale mortgage gift or in any other way but there was in no part of the document any expression conveying the idea of mortgage or hypothecation, nor was there any reference to any right of sale in the property. Held by RICHARDS C J that it was the intention of the parties to make the property mentioned therein security for the loan and interest and that the document created a charge within the meaning of s 100 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. But as there was no transfer of any interest for the purposes of securing the loan, in the property mentioned in the deed it was not a simple mortgage without the meaning of s 58. PER BANERJI J (contra) The intention was that the persons who had lent the money should have a right to realize their money from the property by causing it to be sold. The document was therefore a simple mortgage within the meaning of s 58 of the Transfer of Property Act. Martin v Pureram N W P H C 124 referred to. JAWAHIR MAL v INDOMATI (1914) I L R 36 All. 201

s 59—

See ATTESTATION I L R 37 Cal 526

See ATTESTING WITNESS

I L R 48 Cal 61

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 59—contd

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE

I L R 38 Cal. 824
2 Pat L J 293

See EVIDENCE I L R 44 Cal 345

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 68
1 Pat L J 129

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 44 Mad. 344

See MORTGAGE

I L R 43 Cal 895
I L R 46 Cal 748

See MORTGAGE BOND

I L R 46 Cal 502

See NOTICE

25 C W N 49

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 s 17
25 C W N 49

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

I L R 39 Cal 227

1 ————— Executant if may attest so as to bind co-executants—Improperly attested mortgage bond if operates as a charge. A party to a document cannot under any circumstances be allowed to sign a document as an attesting witness and a person who has once signed as an executant of a mortgage bond and as one of the persons who were borrowing the money on the bond cannot be allowed to have his position altered from an executant of the bond to that of a witness for the purpose of rendering the document valid as a mortgage against the other executants. DEBENDRA CHANDRA POY v BEHARI LAL MUKERJEE (1912) 16 C W N 1075

2 ————— The attestation of certain mortgage deeds by two witnesses required by s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act is attestation of the actual fact of the execution. Ganga Das v Shyam Sundar I L R 26 All 89 overruled. SHAMU PATTAR v ABDUL HADID RAYU (1912) 16 C W N 1009
I L R 35 Mad 607

3 ————— Mortgage bond—Attestation by only one witness—Bond judicially found to be invalid and unenforceable—Government notification—Retrospective effect—Exemption of certain Districts from the operation of s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882)—Subsequent suit to enforce the mortgage—Res judicata—Rights vested under decrees not affected. In execution under a money decree certain property mortgaged to the plaintiff on the 8th September 1893 was attached and was about to be brought to sale. The plaintiff thereupon applied that the property should be sold subject to his mortgage lien. The Court rejected the plaintiff's application on the ground that the mortgage bond was invalid and not enforceable because it was attested by only one witness and not by two as required by s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). The plaintiff thereupon brought a suit in the year 1905 for a declaration that his mortgage bond was valid and operative according to law and, therefore enforceable. The suit came up in the second appeal to the High Court which on the 14th August 1909 finally decided that the plaintiff's mortgage was void and therefore inoperative.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—*contd.*s 59—contd

under s. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). In the meanwhile on the 4th June 1908 the Government of Bombay issued a notification exempting certain districts including the Poona District in which the mortgaged property was situate from the operation of s. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882). The notification was given a retrospective effect from the 1st January 1893. On the strength of the said notification the plaintiff applied to the High Court for review of judgment and his application being rejected he in the year 1910 instituted the present suit to enforce his mortgage and both the lower Courts having rejected the claim on the ground of res judicata the plaintiff preferred a second appeal. Held confirming the decree that the decree passed by the High Court in 1908 still subsisted and was not affected by the Government notification although the notification had retrospective effect. The notification could not abrogate rights which had been judicially declared and had been merged in decree Kay v Goodwin 6 Bing 576 and Lemm v Mitchell [1912] A C 400 followed. LAKSHMANRAO KRISHNAJI v. BALKRISHNA RANG WATHA (1912) I L R 38 Bom 617

4. — Where a deed was executed by two pardanashin ladies in the presence of their husband and the latter after seeing the execution of the document signed his name underneath but not where other witnesses signed and apparently just to notify his approval Held he was not an attesting witness. SRINATI DAB KUBBIN ALAK MAJARI KUBIN v. SREKAR BARNARD COMPANY 6 Pat L J 473

5. — Equitable mortgage—Deposit of title deeds of property situate in mofussil—Intention to create charge proof of—Registration The plaintiff deposited with the defendant in Bombay title deeds of his property situate at Nasik and borrowed a sum from the defendant. The defendant also at the same time executed in favour of the plaintiff a writing setting forth the clear intention of the defendant that the deposit of title deeds should be security for the loan from the plaintiff and binding the defendant to execute on demand a proper legal mortgage of the property covered by the title deeds deposited. This writing which was the only evidence available of the defendant's intentions in making the deposit of title deeds was not registered. Held that the deed required registration as it created a charge upon the property that in its absence there was no evidence whatever of intention to connect the deposit of title deeds with the debt and that the mere fact that there was a subsequent or contemporaneous loan was not sufficient in law to warrant a presumption apart from any other evidence that the contemporaneous or antecedent deposit of title deeds was necessarily made as security for the loan. BEHRAM RASHID v. SOHABJI RUSTOMJI (1913) I L R 38 Bom. 372

6. — Mortgage deed executed by pardanashin ladies attestation of—Requirements as to identity of executants and as to witnesses seeing signatures made—Waiver of right of priority by first mortgagee in favour of second mortgagee—Right to recover unsatisfied portion of claim in subsequent suit from purchaser of mortgagor's interest in other property comprised in mortgage In a suit on a mortgage executed by two pardanashin ladies the defendant objected that the deed had not been duly attested in accordance with the provisions of s. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) as in interpreted in the decision of the Privy Council in Shamu Patter v Abdul Kadir Ravathan I L R 35 Mad 607 L R 39 I A 218 and was therefore not operative as a mortgage. On this point the High Court differed Sir H G RICHARDS C J finding that the attestation was not complete because the attesting witnesses had not actually seen the signatures of the executants put on the deed and Sir P C BANERJI being of opinion that that requirements as well as all others necessary had been observed. Held (upholding the finding of BANERJI J) that the deed had been duly attested within the meaning of s. 59 of the Act. Two at least of the witnesses were well acquainted with the executants and though they did not see their faces they recognized their voices and saw them sign the mortgage deed. Held (affirming the decision of the High Court) that the plaintiffs (respondents) had not in a former suit insisted on their right as prior mortgagees but had waived it in favour of the second mortgagees and so left their claim only partly satisfied did not under the circumstances of the case disentitle them from recovering the unsatisfied portion of the debt in the present suit from the appellants (defendants) who were purchasers of the mortgagor's interest in other portion of the property comprised in the mortgage. PADA BATH HALWAI v. RAM NAY UPADHIA (1915) I L R 37 All 474

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—*contd*s 59—contd

7. — Attestation—Document attested by one witness only—Mortgage—Charge A document purporting to be a deed of mortgage bore the signature of one attesting witness and the name of another person was written on the margin by the scribe but there was no signature or mark made by his second person. In a suit brought upon the document after his death it was held that the document was not duly attested by two witnesses within the meaning of s. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act inasmuch as there was nothing to show that the person whose name appeared on the document as an attesting witness had authorised the scribe to sign it for him and therefore it could neither operate as a mortgage nor create a charge on immovable property. PARAM HANS v. RAJDEH SINGH (1916) I L R 38 All 461

7 (a). — Attestation of mortgage deed—Scribe who signs for and on behalf of the mortgagor if competent to become one of the attesting witnesses—Personal decree when allowable The executant of a certain mortgage deed was illiterate and she executed the instrument by the pen of the scribe of the document who also signed the document as one of the attesting witnesses. Held—That the document was not legally attested by the scribe according to the provisions of sec. 59 of the Transfer of Property Act. Where no mark seal or thumb impression of the mortgagor appears on the mortgage deed the scribe who executes the document for and on behalf of the mortgagor is not competent to become an attesting witness to attest the signature he himself has written out. Upadhyaya

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 59—contd

v Hulum I L R 46 Calo 522 s c 23 C W N 290 approved and followed A personal decree for the money is only allowable if the suit is brought within 6 years of the date of the Bond or for any payment within section 20 of the Limitation Act SRISTIDHAR GHOSH v RAKHYAKALI DAS

C W N 264

8

Mortgage bond—

Attestation—Person subscribing as scribe of attesting witness Per CHAMIER C J—To be an attesting witness within the meaning of s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act the witness must not only have seen the execution of the document but should have also subscribed as a witness Shamu Patter v Abdul Kadir L R 39 I A 218 s c I L R 35 Mad 607 16 C W N 1000 Raj Narain Ghose v Abdul Rahim 5 C W N 454 Dinanay Deb v Bon Behari Kapur 7 C W N 160 and Badri Prasad v Abdul Karim I L R 35 All 254 referred to Where a person who subscribed a mortgage bond as scribe was proved to have been present when the document was executed and the lower Appellate Court upon this and other evidence found that he had seen the document executed and held that he was an attesting witness within the meaning of s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act Held per CHAMIER C J—That although on the finding he must be held to have seen the mortgage deed executed the scribe was not an attesting witness as he did not subscribe as a witness Per JWALA PRASAD J—That in the absence of evidence showing that he had witnessed the execution it could not be presumed that he had A scribe of a deed who has witnessed the execution may sign the deed because he has done so and yet describe himself as a scribe RAM BANADUR SHAKH v AJODHYA SINGH (1916)

20 C W N 699

9

Deed of mortgage

Attestation—Execution—Mark by illiterate executant—Mark described by the scribe—Signature—General Clauses Act (V of 1897) s 3 cl 5° An illiterate person signed a deed of mortgage by putting his mark to it which mark was described by the scribe of the deed It was attested by two witnesses The deed was sought to be proved by the testimony of one of the witnesses and the scribe Held that the deed was duly proved for its execution was completed when the executant made his mark and the object of the scribe in describing the mark was to authenticate the mark that is to vouch the execution GOVIND BHAIKARI v BHAV GOPAL (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 384

10

Mortgage deed

executed by the scribe on behalf of the mortgagor—Attestation only by the scribe and one witness if sufficient Where the mortgagor not being able to sign his own name the mortgage-deed which contained no mark or seal or thumb impression of the mortgagor was executed by the scribe on behalf of the mortgagor Held that the scribe having executed the document for and on behalf of the mortgagor was not competent to attest his own signature as an attesting witness even in the view that the subscription of his own name as the

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 59—contd

scribe amounted to attestation within the meaning of s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act RAJANI KANTA BHADRA v PANCHAVANDA (1918)

23 C W N 990

11

Mortgage—Attestation—Execution—Scribe whether an attesting witness—Attesting witness meaning of Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 68 A mortgage bond was written and signed at the writer's house where one of the attestants put his attestation on the deed but the other witness attested the document in the Sub Registrar's office Both the lower Courts held that there was no proper attestation of the document as required by the Transfer of Property Act 1882 On appeal to the High Court it was contended that the scribe who signed the document should be treated as an attesting witness — Held that a writer of a document who put his signature at the end of a document could not be treated as an attesting witness within the meaning of s 68 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872 unless he actually signed as an attesting witness in the document Attesting witness is a witness who has seen the deed executed and who signs it as a witness Govind Bhikaji v Jodhpur Gopal (1916) 41 Bom 384 distinguished Ramu v Laxmanrao (1903) 33 Bom 44 followed DAST CHAND SHIVRAM v LOTU SAKHARAM (1918)

I L R 44 Bom 405

12

Validity of mortgage *gag bond when scribe who executed the deed on behalf of the mortgagor attested his own signature—Evidence Act (I of 1872) sec 69 and 70 proof of the deed by the scribe who also acted as an attesting witness is sufficient where execution of the deed is admitted In a suit upon a mortgage bond but pleaded mitted the execution of the bond not be regarded inter alia that the bond should not be regarded as a mortgage bond The first Court held that the execution of the bond being admitted the necessity of its proof did not arise and decreed the suit On appeal it was held that the scribe having executed the deed on behalf of the Appellant was not competent to attest his own signature and there being no other evidence dismissed the suit *Held—That the validity of a mortgage bond and the proof of its execution are two different questions The question of the validity of a mortgage bond with reference to the provisions of section 59 of the Transfer of Property Act can arise even though the document might be proved according to law or is not required to be proved by the attesting witness under sec 68 of the Evidence Act by reason of the execution of the document being admitted by the executant as laid down in sec 70 of the Evidence Act Where in the above circumstances the Plaintiff produced only the scribe who executed the deed on behalf of the executant to prove the deed although the names of other persons appeared as attesting witnesses in the document *Held—That instead of dismissing the suit the plaintiff should be given an opportunity of producing evidence that the document was duly executed PATAK HANU v BADAL SARNAL

26 C W N 950

—s 59 100—Mortgage—Charge—Attestation—Document attested by one witness only Held that a document which purported to be a mortgage but which was attested by only one witness

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

s. 59 100—contd.

ness, could not operate either as a mortgage or as creating a charge on immovable property within the meaning of s. 100 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. Shamu Pater v Abdul Kadir Raru than I L R 35 Mad 607 referred to COLLECTOR OF MIRSAPUR v BHAGWAN PRASAD (1913) I L R 35 All 164

s 60—

See s 60 I L R 38 Mad 1010

See s 98 I L R 43 Mad 589

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Bom 334
I L R 43 Mad 37

1.

Mortgage—Re

demption—Tender of mortgage money as a condition precedent to a suit for redemption S 60 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 does not necessarily mean that before a suit for redemption can be instituted the amount due on the mortgage must be paid or tendered and this would obviously be impossible when, the mortgage being usufructuary the plaintiff's case is that the debt has been liquidated by the profits of the property mortgaged Bansi v Giridhar Lal Weekly Notes 1894 p 143 Narasingh Singh v Achhaib Singh I L R 36 All 36 Muhammad Ali v Baldeo Pande 14 A L J 56 Mewa Ram Singh v Ganga Pam 17 A L J 910 and Muhammad Mushtaq Ali Khan v Daulat Lal I L R 42 All 420 referred to HET SINGH v BHARAT LAL.

I L R 43 All 95

2.

Mortgage—

R demption—Mortgages to remain in possession so long fruit bearing trees remain on land—Whether the term operated as a clog on equity of redemption—Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (11 of 1879) s 13 A mortgage deed of 1867 provided that on payment of the principal sum on the expiry of twenty one years the mortgagor shall be entitled to recover the land and trees free of all charges and that if the money was not so paid the mortgagor will be allowed to develop the land by growing fruit bearing trees on it and will not be required to give up possession until the trees had ceased bearing fruit The mortgagor did not redeem at the expiry of the stipulated period of twenty one years The mortgagees who remained in possession planted a number of fruit bearing trees on the land In 1913 the mortgagor sued for redemption of the mortgage of 1867 under the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act contending that the stipulation in the deed postponing the mortgagor's taking possession so long as there were fruit bearing trees on the land was a clog on the equity of redemption Held that the provision in the deed postponing the mortgagor's taking possession so long as there were fruit bearing trees did not operate as a clog on the equity of redemption Held further that the proper relief which the mortgagor was entitled to was that under s 118 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 namely the taking of an account from the beginning of the mortgage up to the date of the suit The words at any time after the principal money has become payable in s 60 of the Transfer of Property Act mean become payable according to the terms of the contract PER HEATON Acting C J—S 60 of the Transfer of

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

s 60—contd.

Property Act merely enacts that redemption is to be according to the terms of the mortgage contract and there is nothing in the Transfer of Property Act which says anything about clogs on the equity of redemption GFNU v NARAYAN (1920) I L R 45 Bom 117 3.

Suit by assignee of

Hindu widow's right to annuity charged on properties a portion whereof acquired by plaintiff—Apportionment of the plaintiff's claim between properties acquired by him and rest of charged properties—Widow's right whether personal or transferable A Hindu widow in consideration of releasing her life interest in her husband's properties obtained from her two brothers in law a deed of maintenance whereby she was entitled to receive Rs 100 per annum in cash and certain rice from them with the payment whereof certain properties were charged The plaintiff the assignee of this right of the widow subsequently purchased a portion of the properties not free from encumbrance created by the deed of maintenance The first Court partly decreed the plaintiff's suit to enforce the charge The lower Appellate Court decreed the whole of the suit against the properties not purchased by the plaintiff Held that the case was covered by the last few words of the final clause of s 60 of the Transfer of Property Act A mortgagor having become a partial owner of the equity of redemption is bound to apportion the money which he seeks to recover as between the properties acquired by him which were subject to the charge and the rest of the mortgaged properties Held also that this was not a personal right of the Hindu widow It was a claim which the widow had under a deed of covenant for which there was a charge on certain properties and it was capable of transfer in the same manner as in other cases The mere fact that the grantee of the deed of covenant happened to be a Hindu widow did not prevent her from transferring her interest if she thought fit so to do RAJAT KAMINI DEBI v RAJA SATYA NARAYAN CHAKRABARTY (1919)

23 C W N 824

4.

Mortgage—Suit

for redemption—Tender of mortgage money not a condition precedent—Usufructuary mortgagee planting trees—Improvement It is not necessary that a mortgagor who wishes to redeem should make a tender or payment of the money due on the mortgage before instituting a suit for redemption All that s 60 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 provides is what constitutes the right of redemption and there is nothing in the section which requires that a tender of the mortgage money should be made as a condition precedent to the institution of a suit for redemption The planting of trees on the mortgaged property by a mortgagee in possession is not such an improvement as entitles him to claim compensation from the mortgagor but he is entitled to remove those trees. RAJCHANDAN PANDIT I L R 47 All 19 5.

Mortgagors if may redeem unless they are in default of foreclosure without making any payment on the mortgaged properties party—RAJCHANDAN PANDIT

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 60—contd

deem that property only—English law and Indian law on the point of different It is not the law in India any more than it is in England that one of several mortgagors cannot redeem more than his share unless the owners of the other shares consent or do not object Subject to proper safeguarding of the right to redeem which these other owners may possess he is entitled to redeem the mortgage in its entirety, unless something had happened which extinguished the mortgage in whole or in part The concluding part of sec 60 of the Transfer of Property Act does no more than declare applicable what is but the law as established in England In English law the transferee of a part of the security is entitled to redeem the entire mortgage on the properties generally and correlatively cannot compel the mortgagees to allow him to redeem his part by itself MIRZA YADALI BEG v TUKA RAM (P C)

25 C W N 241

ss 60 61, 62—Mortgage with possession and charge on the same property in favour of the same person—Assignment of equity of redemption—Breach of contract by mortgagor—Loss to mortgagee—Right of assignee of equity of redemption to redeem mortgage with possession without paying amount due on the charge and the loss sustained by mortgagee A mortgagor has a statutory right under s 62 (b) of the Transfer of Property Act to redeem a usufructuary mortgage on property which is also subject to a simple mortgage without redeeming the latter also Therefore where a person mortgaged some of his properties with possession and regained possession of them by executing a rental agreement giving a charge thereon and on other properties for all arrears of rent held that the mortgagor could redeem the properties mortgaged with possession alone without being obliged to pay at the same time any amount due under the simple mortgage Tajjo Bibi v Bhagwan Prasad (1894) I L R 16 All 245 followed The losses which the mortgagee might have sustained by reason of breach of contract committed by the mortgagor and which were not specifically charged on the mortgaged properties are recoverable only from the mortgagor and not from the mortgaged properties in the hands of his assignee Bohra Thakur Das v Collector of Aligarh (1910) I L R 32 All 612 (P C) followed Per WALLIS C J—Quere whether in India a mortgagor has the right to redeem one mortgage on his property without at the same time paying off another mortgage on the same and other properties as well Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—Whatever may be the rights of a mortgagee in India to compel the mortgagor to consolidate mortgages upon the same property the rule is not applicable against purchasers of the equity of redemption The rule in Vent v Padget (1858) 2 De U J 611 s = 44 E R 1126 is not applicable to India. RAMARAYANINGAR v MAHA RAJAH OF VENKATAGIRI (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 301

ss 60 67—82—Suit for redemption—Previous suit by mortgagee for sale—Decree for sale—Decree in favour of mortgagor as defendant for redemption and recovery of possession in execution—Decree not executed by Mortgagee or mortgagor—Suit for redemption by mortgagor Maintainability

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

ss 60, 67—82—contd

of—Res judicata Where a mortgagee sued for sale on a mortgage bond of 1864 and obtained a decree in 1872 which contained a provision in favour of the mortgagor who was a defendant therein for redemption and recovery of possession of the mortgaged lands in execution of the decree but the decree was not executed by either party Held that a fresh suit instituted by the mortgagor for redemption of the mortgage was barred by the rule of res judicata Vedapurath v Val lappa Valiya Raja I L R 25 Mad 300 and Adipuram Pillai v Gopalasami Mudali I L R 31 Mad 354 referred to Pama v Bhagchand, I L R 39 Bom 41 dissented from. RAVIA ATTANGAR v NARAYANA CHARIAR (1915) I L R 39 Mad 896

ss 60 74 81—

See MORTGAGE I L R 34 Mad 115

ss 60 80 and 95—

See REDEMPTION 3 Pat L J 490

ss 60 and 91—Redemption suit for by the owner of a portion of the equity of redemption—Mortgagee in possession—Vendee from other co-owners of the equity of redemption—Payment by vendee of his share of mortgage amount to the mortgagee—Possession surrendered of by mortgagee to vendee of aliquot portion of lands—Objection by mortgagee and vendee to redemption of the whole mortgage and surrender of the whole mortgaged property—Redemption of plaintiff's share only on payment of his share of debt—Possession of lands right to by fair partition in a suit for redemption—Equities on partition—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 91 construction of Where the plaintiff (an owner of a half share in the equity of redemption) sued the mortgagee and the owner of the other half of the equity of redemption for who had redeemed one-half of the mortgage for the redemption of the whole mortgage and for the recovery of possession of the whole of the mortgaged property the High Court on Second Appeal passed a decree for redemption of the plaintiff's half share on payment of half the mortgage amount and for partition and delivery of possession of half the mortgaged lands in respect of such share The owner of a portion of the equity of redemption is not entitled as matter of right to redeem the whole of the mortgage and recover possession of the whole of the mortgaged property on payment of the whole of the mortgage amount against the will of the mortgagee in possession and of the vendee of another portion of the equity of redemption who was put in possession of some of the lands by the mortgagee on payment of an aliquot portion of the mortgage amount. The question whether the Court will allow redemption of the whole of the mortgage at the instance of a person entitled to a part only of the equity of redemption must depend on the circumstances of each case and the rights acquired by the mortgagor or by third persons subsequent to the mortgage Kuray Mal v Pura Mal I L R 20 All 565 Munshi v Daulat I L R 29 All 263 and Asad Azimul Ali Khan v Jankar Singh 13 No. 1 A 493 followed. Hutasanam Vambudri v Parameswaran Vambudri I L R 30 Mad 27

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

— ss 60 and 91—contd

dissented from. S 91 of the Transfer of Property Act explained. RATHNA MUDALI v PERUMAL RIZDY (1912) I L R 38 Mad 310

— ss 90 and 98—

See s. 89 I L R 39 Mad 1010

Mortgage deed simple and usufructuary combined—No anomalous mortgage—Redeemable—Mortgagee to be vendee on mortgagor's failure to pay at the stipulated time—Whether mortgage by conditional sale Where the usufructuary mortgage deed provided that if the mortgage amount was not paid on the stipulated date the mortgage was to work itself out as a sale for the principal amount and further contained a covenant that the mortgagor would pay to the mortgagee the costs of the construction of earth work, etc on the date fixed for redemption as per the accounts of the mortgagee. Held that it was not an anomalous mortgage as defined in s 98 of the Transfer of Property Act the word not in s 98 governing equally the words a combination of the first and third or the second and third of such forms in the section and that therefore it was redeemable. Amarchand v Kila Marar I L R 27 Bom 600 and Ammanu v Gurusuri I L R 16 Mad 64 dissented from. Perayya v Venkata I L R 11 Mad 403 and Ankinedu v Subbiah I L R 35 Mad 744 followed. Per Sadasiva Ayyar J It is a combination of a simple mortgage and a usufructuary mortgage clogging the equity of redemption. A mortgage deed which begins as a mortgage transaction cannot be called a mortgage by conditional sale though it is a mortgage giving the mortgagee after a certain time and on breach of certain conditions a right to claim title as vendee. Per Srinivas J It is either a usufructuary mortgage deed with a clog on the equity of redemption or a usufructuary mortgage combined with a mortgage by conditional sale and in either case redeemable under s 60 of the Transfer of Property Act. Go palasami v Arunachella I L R 16 Mad 304 referred to. Kangaya Gurukul v Kalmuthu Annam I L R 27 Mad 326 distinguished. Srinivasa Ayyangar v Radhakrishnam Pillai (1913) I L R 38 Mad 667

— s 61—

See MORTGAGE 25 C W N 129
I L R 1 Lah 105

— ss 61 and 62—

See s 60 I L R 44 Mad 301

— ss 81 85 and 99—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIV rr 1 and 14—Mortgagee holding two mortgages—Suit on the second mortgage subject to his interest in a prior mortgage—Maintainability It is open to a mortgagee to bring a suit for the recovery of his debt by sale of the properties mortgaged to him subject to his interest in a prior mortgage. SUBRAMANIAM v BALASUBRAMANIAM (1916) I L R 36 Mad 927

— s 63—Accession to mortgaged property mortgagor's right to if depends on special advantage of mortgagee as such in acquiring the accession—Mortgagee also co-owner of the property—acquisition by mortgagee of rayats holdings in the Property—Mortgagee's right on redemption of

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

— s 63—contd

mortgage Where the plaintiff's share in a mehal was mortgaged to the co proprietors of the mehal and the mortgagees during the continuance of the mortgage bought in some of the rayati holdings of the mehal from the tenants and obtained possession thereof separating the lands purchased from those in the possession of the tenants. Held that on redemption of the mortgage, the plaintiff was entitled to get khas possession of the lands to the extent of the share in the mehal on payment to the mortgagees of the proportionate share of the expenses incurred in acquiring them. Per N R CHATTERJEE J—The purchases were accessions to the mortgaged property within the meaning of s 68 of the Transfer of Property Act. The mortgagee's right to the accessions to the mortgaged property under s 68 of the Act does not depend upon whether the mortgagee had any special advantage by reason of his position as mortgagee in acquiring the accession. Kishen datt v Mumtaz Ali I L R 5 Calc 198 referred to. S 63 of the Act applies to a case where the mortgagee holds the property both as co proprietor and as mortgagee. RAM BRICK NARAIN SINGH v AMBIKA PRASAD SINGH (1913)

17 C W N 586

— ss 63 72 78—

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 43 Bom 69

— s 65—

See s 68—

2 Pat L J 490

See MORTGAGE

I L R 35 All 48
I L R 38 Mad. 19

Duty of a mortgagor in possession to pay public charges purely personal—Acquisition of equity of redemption by trespasser—Non payment of public revenue and purchase by trespasser in revenue sale—Extinguishment of mortgage The implied covenant on the part of the mortgagor in possession mentioned in s 65, cl (c) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882), to pay all public charges is in the nature of a personal covenant and is not one arising by virtue of his being in possession of the mortgaged property. Hence if after the creation of a simple mortgage a stranger acquires the equity of redemption by adverse possession as against the mortgagor the acquirer is under no duty towards the mortgagee to pay the public revenue payable on the property and therefore if after allowing it to be sold for arrears of revenue he buys it himself he holds it free from the mortgage. The rule that no man can take advantage of his fraud does not apply to a case like this where the party charged with fraud does not stand in any fiduciary relation to or has a joint interest with, the person defrauded and is under no duty to protect his interests. Narab Sudhee Narur Ally Khan v Raja's Gopodhyaram Khan 10 Moo I A 640 distinguished. Quere Whether an assignee for value from the mortgagor is affected by the mortgagor's covenant to pay the public charges? SUBBIAH v RAMI RIZDY (1916)

I L R 39 Mad. 959

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 67—

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 175
I L R 39 Mad 17

Usufructuary mortgage

—Date payable within a fixed period—Expiry of the period—Mortgagee's right to an order for sale Where under a usufructuary mortgage the mortgage debt is made payable within a fixed period, the mortgage is not purely a usufructuary mortgage and the mortgagee has, in the absence of a contract to the contrary the right to an order under s 67 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) that the property be sold after the debt has become payable Mahadaj v Joti I L R 17 Bom 425 and Krishna v Hari 10 Bom L R 615 explained DATTAMBHAT RAMBHAT v KRISHNABHAT (1910) I L R 34 Bom 462

—Right of puisne mortgagee to sue for sale subject to prior mortgages—Suit for sale by first mortgagee without impleading subsequent mortgagee—Purchaser in execution rights of—Right of puisne mortgagee to sue for sale against purchaser—Purchaser in puisne mortgagee's suit right of Where a prior mortgagee sued for sale on his mortgage without making a puisne mortgagee a party to his suit and obtained a decree and in execution of the decree the property was sold and purchased by a third person the puisne mortgagee is entitled to sue for sale on his mortgage subject to the prior mortgage after making the purchaser a party to his suit Mulla Fittil Seethi v Achuthan Nair 21 Mad L J 213 followed Venkatagiri v Sadagopa Chariar 22 Mad L J 129 and Venkatanarasammah v Ramiah I L R 2 Mad 108 dissented from Muhammad Usan Routhan v Abdulla I L R 24 Mad 171 Venkataramana Iyer v Gompert I L R 31 Mad 425 and Rangayya Chettiar v Parthasarathi Naicker I L R 20 Mad 120 referred to Case law on the subject reviewed. Rights of purchasers in the prior or subsequent mortgagee's suits discussed CHINNU PILLAI v VENKATASAMY CHETTIAR (1915) I L R 40 Mad 77

—Mortgage—Suit by one mortgagee to recover his individual share in the mortgage debt—What amounts to a severance of the interests of the mortgagees Certain property was mortgaged by K to B and J Then other property was mortgaged by G (K's brother) also to B and J Subsequently A and G made a usufructuary mortgage of both properties in favour of B alone ostensibly in lieu of the former mortgages and B purported to give the mortgagors a discharge of those mortgages Held that in these circumstances it was competent to J to sue the mortgagors for the recovery of his share in the mortgage debts due in respect of the two earlier mortgages the action taken by B amounting in law to a severance of the interests of the mortgagees with the consent of the mortgagors Gobind Ram v Sundar Singh 1899 All Weekly Notes 246 distinguished. JATILAKI SINGH v GARGA SARAI (1919) I L R 41 All 631

—Mortgagee's right to a decree for sale when the mortgage is an English mortgage—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) Or XXIV r 6—Mortgagee's right to a personal decree against the mortgagor when after the transfer and redemption clauses in the mortgage

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 67—contd.

deed there is a covenant for payment of the mortgage debt—Appellate Court's power to pass a personal decree in the appellate stage Under the provisions of sec 67 of the Transfer of Property Act a decree for sale may be made in favour of the mortgagee when the mortgage is an English mortgage When the mortgagor covenants to transfer the hypothecated properties indefeasibly to the mortgagee with the usual clause of redemption and further covenants to pay the mortgage debt with interest to the mortgagee his heirs and assigns the latter clause is a personal covenant to pay out of properties other than the hypothecated properties as the latter clause would be entirely superfluous if the parties had no intention that the mortgagor should be personally liable to pay to the mortgagee the money due to him Therefore in such cases the mortgagee is entitled to a decree for sale as also to a personal decree against the mortgagor A personal decree may be made against the mortgagor at the appellate stage ASHARAN BAID v GOBORDHAX ROZIA 26 C W N 318

ss 67 and 68—

See s 68 I L R 41 Mad 259
I L R 45 Bom 523

ss 67 83—

See s 60 I L R 33 Mad 599

ss 67, ss 100—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXIV
RR. 4 5 14 AND 15 2 Pat L J 53

s 68—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXIV r 14 I L R 39 All 36See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Cal 389
3 Pat L J 168

Usufructuary mortgage

—Dispossession of mortgagee—Right of mortgagee to sue for debt A usufructuary mortgagee who has failed in a suit by a subsequent mortgagee to take a defence which would have pre-erred to the security is not entitled to sue for the mortgage money under s 68 DUVIA LAL CHOWDHURY v MUSAMMAT NOWRATAN KOER 2 Pat L J 490

2 Mortgage with possession—Dispossession by person having better title than mortgagor—Right to sue for mortgage money Dispossession of the mortgagee by a person holding a better title than the mortgagor comes under the provisions of s 68 (c) of the Transfer of Property Act and entitles the mortgagee to sue for the mortgage money Kalchodji Fim v Ram Chariar Pail, Weekly Notes 159, p 14 referred to RAM SURAT MISRA v GUR PRASAD I L R 31 All 454

3 Lawfructuary mortgage created for want of title—Dispossession of possession not by mortgagor but by title partition mount—Suit for mortgage money whether maintainable S 68 of the Transfer of Property Act does not entitle a person who takes a usufructuary mortgage which is invalid for want of attestation and who is deprived of his possession by title partition

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 68—contd

mount and not by any act of his mortgagor to sue for the mortgage money. The default referred to in s 68 (b) as entitling the mortgagee to sue for the mortgage money is one anterior to the deprivation of possession and failure of the mortgagor to establish the possession when called upon as against the strangers dispossessing the mortgagee as no default within s 68 (b). Ram Narayan Singh v Abhintra Nath Mukherjee 1 L R 44 Cal 338 distinguished. KUTPIER v PERIARATNA KAVUN DAN (1919) 1 L R 42 Mad 578

s 69—Sale by mortgagee—Surplus proceeds retained by mortgagee—Whether attachable under warrant under Criminal Procedure Code (I of 1898) s 386—Priority of Crown over attaching creditor. A mortgagee sold the mortgaged property under a power of sale and after discharging his own dues retained the surplus sale proceeds for payment to the mortgagor. The mortgagor was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine which if recovered was directed to be paid to the complainant. A warrant for recovery of the fine was issued under s 386 of the Criminal Procedure Code against the funds in the hands of the mortgagee who paid the amount to the bailiff. The plaintiff who had attached the mortgaged property in execution of a decree against the mortgagor disputed the right of the Crown to proceed against the fund or at least in preference to him and sued the Secretary of State for India and the complainant to whom the amount was paid. Held (i) that the surplus amount retained by the mortgagee was money held in trust by him for the mortgagor under s 69 of the Transfer of Property Act (ii) that a warrant could be issued for the levy of the fine by distress on the amount in the hands of the mortgagee under s 386 of the Criminal Procedure Code and (iii) that the fine was a Crown debt which had priority over the plaintiff's debt though the fine if recovered was directed to be paid to the complainant. PICOT v ADRIAN THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)

1 L R 40 Mad 767

s 70—

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE

2 Pat L J 293

Mortgage of mukarrari right Where a mukarrarid mortgaged his mukarrari right and the mortgagee obtained a decree on the mortgage for sale of the mortgaged property. Held that the decree holder was not entitled in execution of the decree to sell the brahmottar right in the property which had been acquired by the mortgagor subsequent to the passing of the decree. HARADHAN CHAKRIVARTY v HARGOBIND DUTTA 6 Pat L J 347

s 70 and 71—

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE

3 Pat L J 293

s 72—

See MORTGAGE

1 Pat L J 589

1 L R 46 Cal 448

1 L R 38 Mad. 18

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

1 L R 43 Bom 69

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 72—contd

Mortgage—Redemption—Purchase by mortgagee of portion of mortgaged property—Right of mortgagee to put whole burden of mortgage debt on remainder—Enhancement of revenue assessed on mortgaged property whose mortgagor makes himself liable for it and mortgagee pays it—protect property In 1669 a village named Kachaura was mortgaged to the predecessors of the respondent (defendant) and in 1870 the same mortgagor mortgaged 11 biswas of Kachaura and 6 biswas of another village called Agrana to the same mortgagee. Under the terms of the later mortgage the mortgagee was to have possession of the mortgaged properties, realize the rents and profits and pay therewith the Government revenue which was separately assessed on the two shares out of the balance he was to retain the interest of the loan and pay the mortgagor a yearly sum as malikana. As a fresh settlement was in progress the mortgage further provided that if at the recent settlement the Government revenue is enhanced or decreased to some extent I (the mortgagor) shall be entitled to and liable for it and the mortgagee shall have nothing to do with it. The revenue on the two properties was enhanced on Kachaura by Rs 895 and on Agrana by Rs 469. In 1873 the equity of redemption in Agrana was purchased by the predecessor of the appellants (plaintiffs) who afterwards sued and obtained a decree for the apportionment of the malikana due in respect of his share of Agrana which amount they subsequently received annually less the enhanced amount of the Government revenue assessed on it. In 1878 the mortgagee purchased the whole of Kachaura in execution of a decree obtained by him on the mortgage of 1868 but he only obtained possession of an 11 biswas share of it. The mortgagee had from the date of the enhancement up to the time of his purchase paid the enhanced revenue assessed on Kachaura for which the mortgagor had made himself liable on the terms of the mortgage. In a suit by the appellants to redeem their 11 biswas share of Agrana on payment of a proportionate amount of the mortgage money and for surplus profits if any. Held by the Judicial Committee (affirming the decree of the High Court) that Agrana was liable for the whole mortgage debt and the applicants could not therefore redeem on payment of only a proportionate amount. Held also (reversing the decree of the High Court) that in calculating the amount to be paid on redemption the mortgagee was not entitled to tack on to the mortgage debt the amount he had paid for the enhanced revenue on Kachaura. The mortgagee was on the terms of the mortgage liable to pay the Government revenue. The clause as to the enhanced revenue could not be construed as meaning that the mortgagor agreed to pay every year separately the enhanced revenue nor did it alter the liability of the mortgagee to meet the demand for the Government revenue. In the case of Agrana he had protected himself by deducting the enhanced revenue from the malikana but he had omitted to do so in the case of Kachaura and could not now be allowed to throw the burden of his laches on Agrana. It was not the mortgagor who was seeking to redeem the property and any equity that might have been invoked against him, did not in their Lordships' opinion arise as against the appellants.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 76—contd

Mortgagee in possession obligations of—Mortgagee in possession as lessee obligations of— There is a difference between the case of a mortgagee who enters into possession of the mortgaged property by virtue of a lease under which a rent is payable to the lessor and the case of a mortgagee who enters into possession of the mortgaged property by virtue of a lease under which the rent is appropriated by the lessee towards the reduction of the mortgage debt. In the former case he is not chargeable as a lessee in possession under s 76 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 and in the latter case he is so chargeable. KISHUNDATAY v MAHABIR BHAGAT
 5 Pat L J 492

ss 76 82—

See LIMITATION ACT s 23 SCH II
ARTS 36 115 116

I L R 33 Mad 71

s 76—

See MORTGAGE L R 43 Cal 1052

s 81—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 418

ss 81 and 82—

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 395

s 82—

See MORTGAGE (CONTRIBUTION)

Mortgage—Contribution—Principle upon which contribution is to be assessed Where of two properties belonging to the same owner one is mortgaged to secure one debt and then both are mortgaged to secure another debt for the purpose of apportioning the liability of the respective properties in regard to the subsequent mortgage the value of the two properties must be taken into account and credit given for the amount due upon the earlier mortgage out of the value of the property comprised in the subsequent mortgage. Where the amount due upon the earlier mortgage exceeds the value of the property comprised in that mortgage the necessary result is that the whole of the amount of the second mortgage is recoverable from the other property comprised in the latter mortgage. GHULAN HAZRAT v GOBARDHAN DAS (1911)

I L R 33 All 387

Mortgage—Contribution—

Principle upon which contribution should be assessed—Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXI r 89 Where a co mortgagee is suing the other co mortgageors for contribution upon the allegation that the portion of the mortgaged property in which he is interested has been made to discharge more than its proper share of liability under the mortgage the Court in assessing contribution has first to ascertain the values of the various items of property in question as they stood at the date of the mortgage next the rateable liability of each item for the amount payable under the decree next how much each item has contributed to the payment of the decretal amount disregarding any purchase money which any of the purchasers has paid or retained and it should then proceed to apportion the liability between the different items. BHAGWAN SINGH v MAHAR ALI KHAN (1914)

I L R 36 All 272

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 82—contd

Mortgage—Contribution—Charge In the year 1830 one Tikam Singh who with several sons constituted a joint Hindu family executed a mortgage of a village forming part of the joint family property. In 1889 he with five of his sons executed a second mortgage of the same village. In 1891 he with two of his sons executed a third mortgage of the same village. Tikam Singh died and the sons partitioned the village amongst them into several mahals. The first mortgagee brought a suit for sale on his mortgage and having obtained a decree brought to sale the share of Het Singh one of the brothers and the mortgage was discharged. Thereafter Het Singh brought a suit for contribution and obtained a decree. After the satisfaction in this manner of the mortgage of 1880 the other brothers discharged the later mortgages of 1889 and 1891 and then brought the present suit for contribution against Het Singh. Held that in these circumstances the plaintiffs were not entitled to a decree against Het Singh. Har Prasad v Raghunandan Prasad I L R 31 All 166, referred to. HASMI RAM v HET SINGH (1914)
 I L R 37 All 101

ss 82 and 86—

Mortgage—Contribution—Principle upon which contribution is to be assessed Part of mortgaged property passing to auction purchasers at a court sale—Mortgage money realized from property remaining in hands of the mortgagor—Mortgagor's right of contribution against the auction purchasers. Some out of several properties covered by a mortgage were sold subject to the mortgage in execution of a simple money decree against the mortgagor. The mortgagee then brought to sale in execution of his decree on the mortgage a village L which still remained in the possession of the mortgagor and the proceeds of the sale of this village being insufficient to satisfy the decree subsequently caused a share in another village D in the possession of the mortgagor to be sold. In this way the mortgage decree was fully satisfied. Thereafter the mortgagor brought a suit for contribution against the auction purchasers of the villages above referred to upon the ground that the village L had been made to contribute more than its rateable share of the mortgage debt. Held that the suit would lie and the plaintiff after the sale of L was entitled to get contribution from the other villages which had been sold subject to the mortgage in execution of the simple money decree. Magnam v Mehdi Hossain Khan, I L R 31 Cal 95 and Ibn Hussain v Brij Lal Saran I L R 96 All 407 distinguished. Har Prasad v Raghunandan Prasad I L R 31 All 166, referred to. PAMA BHATTAR PRASAD v LAL RAM HUSAIN
 I L R 42 F 11 273

ss 82 100—

Mortgage—Contribution—Principle upon which contribution should be assessed—Limitation—Indian Law with an Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 22 161 and 162 The owner of a property which is mortgaged with other properties to secure a simple money decree by virtue of the provisions of ss 82 and 100 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 is a creditor against such other properties as in the property has been sold in execution of a decree in the mortgage and has contributed more than its rateable share of the mortgage debt and is entitled to a contribution against such property as has been sold in the execution of the mortgage.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

s 82, 100—contd

gaged property nor has the sale of his property alone discharged the mortgage decree. A claim to enforce such a charge is governed by Art 132 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 Ibn Hasan v Brybhukan Saran I L R 26 All 407, Muhammad Yahya v Rashid ud-din I L R 31 All 65 Rajah of Vizianagram v Rajah Satruchera Somasekharavar I L R 26 Mad 686 and Bhagwan Das v Har Des, I L R 26 All 227, referred to Per BANERJI and CHATTER JJ (dubitante RICHARDS O J)—If property against which a charge for contribution would otherwise have accrued has been sold and has realized more than the amount remaining due on the mortgage an equitable lien on the surplus sale proceeds arises in favour of the person entitled to contribution. A suit to recover contribution in virtue of such a lien is governed by Art 62 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 if not, perhaps by Art 120 Berhamdeo Pershad v Tara Chand I L R 23 Cal 92 Gosto Behary Pyne v Shih Nath Dutt I L R 20 Cal 241 Kamala Kant Sen v Abul Barkat I L R 27 Cal 180 Mahomed Wahid v Mahomed Ameer I L R 32 Cal 527 The Rajputana Malwa Railway Co operative Stores Limited v The Ajmere Municipal Board I L R 32 All 491 and Guru Das Pyne v Ram Narain Sahu, I L R 10 Cal 860 referred to BHAGWAN DAS v KARAM HUSAIN (1911)

I L R 33 All 708

s 83—

1 ——— Deposit paid to mortgagee—Balance of mortgage debt promised—Mortgage not discharged. The consequences resulting from a payment into Court under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 only occur when the amount paid in is found to be or is accepted by the mortgagee as being equivalent to the full amount due under the mortgage in suit HAN DAYAL v PIRTHI SINGH (1909)

I L R 32 All 142

2 ——— Tender under s 83 in one Court subsequent to suit by mortgagee in another Court to enforce his mortgage invalid—Where mortgagee entitled to possession mortgagee must be put in possession before deposit under s 83—Costs right of mortgagee to. Where after the institution of a suit by the mortgagee to enforce his mortgage in one Court the mortgagor deposits the amount in another Court under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act the deposit is not a valid one and cannot have the effect of stopping the running of interest on the amount deposited. Where the mortgagor proposes to take action under s 83 of the Act he must have a valid right to redeem under his contract with the mortgagee. No deposit can be made if the mortgagee being entitled to possession is not put in possession Pam Sonji v Ariahajaj, I L R 26 Bom 312 followed. A mortgagee is entitled to his costs unless there are special reasons disentitling him to them. DAYYA SAO v NARASINGHA MAHAPATRO (1911)

I L R 35 Mad 209

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

s 83—contd

that if the mortgagor wished to redeem the mortgage he could do so on the last day of Jeth in any year. The mortgagor filed a suit for redemption and paid the mortgage money into court on the last day of Jeth 1910. Held that it was no reason for dismissing the suit that notice could not be given to the mortgagee within the time limited. Even if the tender was not enough to warrant the Court in passing a decree for redemption from the date of the deposit it was certainly proper and legal for the Court to pass a decree from the last day of Jeth next succeeding the date of the deposit. Het Singh v Bihari Lal I L R 43 All 95 referred to SAYYID AHMAD BEG v DHANU RAI.

I L R 43 All 424

4 ——— Usufructuary mortgage—Hypothecation—Deposit of usufructuary mortgage amount only—Refusal by mortgagee—Subsequent deposit of hypothecation amount—Compound interest at enhanced rate—Penalty—Deposit of compound interest at the original rate only sufficiency of—Acceptance by Court as reasonable compensation effect of—Mene profits claimed for by plaintiff from date of deposit if sustainable. The plaintiff as the vendee of certain lands which were subject to a usufructuary mortgage as well as a hypothecation in favour of the defendant sought to recover the property on payment into Court of the amount due under the usufructuary mortgage under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act. The defendant claimed that the plaintiff should deposit the sum due under the hypothecation bond also. The plaintiff paid subsequently into Court an amount as due for principal and interest on the latter bond, but calculated compound interest at the original rate and not at the enhanced rate after default as mentioned in the bond disputing the provision as penal. The Court held the provision to be penal and accepted the amount paid as reasonable compensation. The for interests as reasonable profits from the date of his plaintiff claimed mene profits from the date of his first deposit but the defendant disputed his right to any mene profits as the plaintiff did not deposit the full amount specified in the bond. Held (i) that the plaintiff was bound to deposit the amounts due under both the bonds and (ii) that the plaintiff was not bound to deposit the amount rate of interest but that the payment of an amount as reasonable compensation which was accepted by the Court as proper was legally sufficient to entitle the plaintiff to mene profits from the date of the second deposit. ATYAKTITI MAR KONDAN v PERITASWAMI KAYANDAN (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 579

s 83 s 84—

withdrawal by mortgagor effect of—Interest on mortgage amount does not cease to run—Costs of mortgage in redemption suit. Where the mortgage amount deposited by the mortgagor under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act has been withdrawn by the mortgagor on the mortgagee's refusal to accept it interest in such amount does not cease to run under s 84. The continuance of the deposit is necessary to justify the claim to the cessation of interest. The mortgagee is entitled to his costs in a redemption suit. It will be for felty by some improper defence or misconduct

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

ss 85 90—

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Cal 342

ss 85 91—Mortgage suit—Parties

—Non joinder of attaching money decree holder—Sale, validity of. Where after attachment by a money decree holder of certain property previously mortgaged by the judgment debtor the mortgagee brought a suit on the mortgage without impleading the attaching decree holder as a party obtained a decree for sale and himself bought the property in execution of his decree. Held that the order for sale and the sale held thereunder were not binding on the attachment decree holder and that the latter was entitled to bring the properties to sale under his attachment. An attaching decree holder has under s 91 Transfer of Property Act an interest in the mortgaged property entitling him to redeem the mortgage and is a necessary party in a suit on the mortgage. Ghulam Hussain v Dina Nath I L R 23 All 467 referred to. VENKATA SEETHARAMAYYA v VENKATARA MATTA (1912) I L R 37 Mad 418

ss 85 99—

See s 61 I L R 32 Mad 927

See MORTGAGE I L R 41 Cal 727

ss 86 to 90—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908 O XXXIV

ss 86 88 and 90—Mortgage decree for sale—Decree silent as to costs whether costs recoverable against mortgagor personally. In a mortgage decree for sale costs are part of the amount due upon the mortgage and are recoverable from the mortgaged property and not personally from the debtor unless the decree itself so directs. Such a direction cannot be presumed where the decree is silent on the point. Per ATKINSON J—Costs awarded by a decree prepared under the joint provisions of ss 86 and 88 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 can only be realised from the mortgaged property. MATUKDHARI SINGH v RAMDAS SINGH ■ Pat L J 51

■ 88—

See s 86 2 Pat L J 51

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 395

See MORTGAGE DECREE 4 Pat L J 213

ss 88, 89—

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Cal 913

See MORTGAGE DECREE 4 Pat L J 213

Joint decree for sale—

Application for order absolute made by some of the decree holders after the coming into force of the Civil Procedure Code 1908—Civil Procedure Code 1908 O XXXIV—General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 6. A decree for sale under the provisions of s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 was passed jointly in favour of B and K. B died before any order absolute for sale was passed. On 30th April 1909 the sons of B made an application for an order absolute for sale under s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act. K was not made a party to it. Held that the application would lie inasmuch as the sons of B being joint decree holders with K were entitled to apply for an order for sale (whether or not such order be in fact a final decree) their right to do so being inherent in the decree under s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act. The subsequent repeal of the section could not affect any right acquired or liability incurred thereunder. GARGA SINGH v BANWARI LAL (1911) I L R 34 All 72

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

ss 88 89—contd.

Application for order absolute for sale—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II, Art 179. Where a preliminary decree for sale on a mortgage was passed on 28th September 1898. Held that an application for order absolute made more than three years after that date was barred by limitation—such an application being a proceeding in execution. Kista Bar v Banamoy Debta 19 C W N 470 reversed. Munna Lal v Sarat Chandra Mukerjee 21 C L J 118 s 19 C W N 561 referred to. Batuk Nath v Munni Das I L R 36 All 284 s c 18 C W N 740 and Abdul Majid v Jawahir Lal I L R 36 All 350 s c 18 C W N 263 followed. KISTA BAR v BANAMOTI DEBTA (1915) 19 C W N 649

Civil Procedure Code

(Act XIV of 1882) s 244—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch. II Arts 178 179—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 97 O XXXIV rr 1 and 5—Order passed under s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act if not appealed against cannot be questioned in an appeal from the decree absolute for sale. In 1907 a suit was filed to recover the mortgage amount by sale of the mortgaged property. A preliminary decree was passed on the 30th of June 1910 as contemplated by O XXXIV r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) and ordering among other things defendants Nos 1 and 2 to pay the mortgage amount within six months to the plaintiff and in default directing a sale of the mortgaged property. The payment was not made and a final decree for sale was made on the 16th March 1912. Defendant No 1 appealed against the decree of 1912 and raised substantial points against the decree of 1910. The lower Appellate Court held that the defendant not having appealed against the preliminary decree within time was precluded by s 97 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) from disputing its correctness in an appeal preferred from the final decree. The defendant appealed to the High Court contending that the suit having been filed in 1907 the right of appeal which he had under the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 was not taken away by the Civil Procedure Code of 1908. Held that whether an order absolute for 1908 was treated as an order falling under s 244 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XV of 1882) or not it was and appealable on that footing or not it was quite clear that even under the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 the correctness of the decree under s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) corresponding with O XXXIV r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 could not be questioned in an application for an order absolute made under s 89 or in an appeal from an order absolute made on such an application. MULLIHAN NARAYAN v VISHNUPADA (1915) I L R 40 Bom 321

■ 89—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXXIV r 5 I L R 42 All 517

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

s 89—contd

See MORTGAGE I L R 42 All 364

I L R 37 Cal 897

See PRIVITY COVENANT—PRACTICE OF

I L R 36 All 350

See REDEMPTION 3 Pat L J 490

Execution of a decree—

Benamidar Held that in an application under s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act the fact that the Court came to the conclusion that the applicants transferees were benamidars was no bar to its granting an order absolute. A benamidar is competent to take out execution of a decree. Intikhab Husain v Rafi un nissa All Weekly Notes (1907) s 39 Yad Ram v Umrao Singh I L R 21 All 350 Nand Kishore Lal v Ahmed Ala I L R 18 All 69 Bochha v Gajadhar Lal I L R 28 All 44 Parmlwar Datt v Anardani Datt I L R 37 All 113 referred to KAMTA PRASAD v INDOMATI (1915)

I L R 37 All 414

Suit on prior mortgage

—Second mortgagee not made a party—Sale of property and purchase by decree holder—Subsequent suit by second mortgagee on his mortgage—

First mortgagee purchaser if may claim to be paid on the foot of mortgage contract or the amount decreed—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 89 An order made under s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) for the sale of the mortgaged property has the effect of substituting the right of sale thereby conferred upon the mortgagee for his rights under the mortgage and the latter rights are extinguished. Where a first mortgagee obtained a decree for sale upon his mortgage in a suit in which he did not make the second mortgagee a party and purchased the mortgaged property at such sale. Held in a suit by the second mortgagee upon his mortgage that the first mortgagee purchaser had no greater rights than any stranger would have had who had purchased the property under the mortgage decree and paid cash for it and the latter was entitled to set up only the amount of the decree made in his suit. Hei Ram v Shadi Lal I L R 45 I A 130 22 C W 1033 (1918) followed Umesh Chunder Sircar v Musummat Zahoor Fatima L R 17 I A 201 (1890) distinguished LALA MATHU MAL v MUSAMMAT DURGIA KUNWAR (P C)

25 G W N 397

s 90—

See s 80 2 Pat L J 51

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47

I L R 35 Bom 452

See MORTGAGE 47 Cal 370

See SUIT TO SET ASIDE A DECREE

I L R 38 All 7

1

Civil Procedure

Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss 43 and 50—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 90—Suit to recover mortgage-debt by sale of mortgaged and unhyponothecated property—Decree against mortgaged property alone—Sale—Amount realised not sufficient—Application for supplemental decree to recover balance by sale of other property—Limitation—Putting forward allegations at a late stage In a

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 90—contd

suit upon a mortgage dated the 18th April 1887 the plaintiff claimed on the 18th April 1899 to recover the mortgage debt by sale of the mortgaged property and the balance if any from the non hypothecated property of the mortgagor. The decree was passed in plaintiff's favour against the mortgaged property alone. The amount realized by the sale of the mortgaged property being insufficient to satisfy the decree the plaintiff applied under s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) for a supplemental decree against the other property of the mortgagor. The first Court found that the claim for a personal decree against the mortgagor was time barred. On appeal by the plaintiff he attempted to prove that the claim was within time owing to an intermediate payment by the defendant but the Appellate Court found that the plaintiff failed in his attempt and confirmed the decree. On second appeal by the plaintiff Held confirming the decree that the mortgage in suit being of the year 1887 and the suit of the year 1899 the plaintiff's right to a personal decree against the mortgagor was time barred the plaintiff having failed to show the ground on which exemption from the law of limitation was claimed. Held further that the plaintiff could not be allowed at a late stage of the suit to bring forward for the first time allegations which it was necessary to prove in order to show that he was entitled to a further decree against the defendant personally. GULAM HUSSEIN v MAHAMADALI IBRAHIMJI (1910) I L R 34 Bom 540

2 ——— Mortgage—Sub mortgage—Purchaser from mortgagor—Mortgage money forming part of consideration for sale—Personal liability of purchaser—Sale of mortgage rights In this case it was held (affirming the decisions of the Courts in India in Jamna Das v Ram Autar Pande I L R 31 All 350) that the purchaser of the mortgaged property was not a person from whom the balance of the mortgage debt was legally recoverable within the meaning of s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act IV of 1882. JAMNA DAS v RAM AUTAR PANDE (1911) I L R 34 All 63

3 ——— Mortgage decree —Decree for costs of a personal decree A decree had been passed on appeal in a mortgage suit upholding the mortgage and ordering that the appellant who was a transferee of a portion of the mortgaged property from the mortgagor do pay costs to the respondents the mortgagees. The mortgaged property having been sold in execution of the decree the decree holder applied for execution of the decree for costs against the transferee personally. Held on a construction of the decree that there was a personal liability imposed by the decree. In such cases regard should be had to what decree was passed rather than to what decree ought to have been passed. MOHANYA OJHA v RAM BHADUR SINGH (1912) 16 G W N 731

4 ——— One decree on mortgage for sale as also on personal covenant for sale of other properties if mortgaged properties fail to satisfy decree of legal—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 316—Sale set aside before confirmation—Second sale before former sale set aside if passes title—Delay in litigation The words of

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 90—contd

s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act are satisfied when the Court in passing a decree in a mortgagee's suit granting him the necessary relief under the mortgage proceeds in addition to provide that if the proceeds of the sale be not sufficient to cover the amount secured by the mortgage with interest till the date of realisation the balance should be recovered from the other properties of the mortgagor. Where property previously sold in execution of another decree was before confirmation of such sale sold again and the sale was never confirmed by reason of its being subsequently set aside. Held that under s 316 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1832 which was in force at the date the property remained the property of the judgment debtor notwithstanding the sale and passed by the second sale. Excessive delay in bringing litigations to a final hearing condemned. JEUNA BAHU & PARNESHWAR NAPA YAN MATHA (1918) 23 C W N 490

s 91—

See s 90 I L R 118 Mad 310

See s 85 I L R 37 Mad 418

See ATTACHMENT I L R 37 Mad 418

I L R 44 Mad 232

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XXI R 103 I L R 43 Mad 696

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 43 Mad 393

See MORTGAGE I L R 36 Mad 428

I L R 34 Mad 115

1 ———— Redemption mortgage of fixed rate tenancy—Death of tenant without heirs—Right of zamindar to redeem—Escheat to Crown—Agra Tenancy Act (Local II of 1901) ss 5 18 20 57 Held that on the death of a fixed rate tenant without heirs his tenancy does not escheat to the Crown but reverts to the zamindar. Bam Dihal Rai v The Maharaja of Vizianagram I L R 30 All 488 overruled. Ramee Sonet Kowar v Mirza Hummat Bahadur L R 31 A 92 I L P 1 Cal 391 distinguished. TULSHI PAM SAHU v GUR DAYAL SINGH (1910) I L R 33 All 111

2 ——— Mortgage suit—Attaching creditor if necessary party—Right of purchaser in execution of money decree to redeem mortgage pending attachment in execution of mortgage decree—Attachment effect of. Although an attaching creditor is entitled to redeem a mortgage under s 91 Transfer of Property Act he has no interest in the mortgaged property. A purchaser at the sale in which the attachment culminated has no right to redeem the purchaser at the mortgage sale or to resist his getting possession of the property. Ghulam Hussain v Dina Nath I L P 23 All 467 430 commented on. Frederick Peacock v Madan Gopal I L R 29 Cal 478 and Motilal v Karabulduin I L R 25 Cal 179 referred to. SHANTANDA CHANDRA PAL & SRI NATH RAY CHOWDHURY (1912) 17 C W N 871

3 ——— Mortgage—Right to redeem—Attaching creditor. Certain property was mortgaged on the 4th of April 1899. One

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 91—contd

N K obtained a simple money decree against the mortgagor on the 25th of May 1899. Before judgment N K had attached the property and it was subsequently sold by auction and purchased by L R on the 28th of September 1902. In 1897 the mortgagees sued on their mortgage without impleading either N K or L R. In execution of their decree the property was sold and purchased by defendant's father who obtained possession on the 25th of April 1900. L R brought suit for recovery of possession or in the alternative for redemption. Held that under s 91 (5) of the Transfer of Property Act N K was entitled to redeem and the plaintiff as a person claiming under him is also entitled to redeem. LAKSHYAT RAI & FAKHR UD DIN (1917) I L R 90 All 536

s 92—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 23 SCH II APT 36 I L R 33 Mad 71

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 317

——— ss 92 and 93—Power of mortgagor to apply for sale of mortgaged properties. In a suit for redemption of a mortgage (the mortgage not being a simple mortgage or a mortgage by way of conditional sale) where the mortgagor fails to pay the mortgage amount according to the decree he may apply for sale of the mortgaged properties. Paragraph 2 of s 93 Transfer of Property Act while giving the defendant mortgagee a right to apply for sale does not take away such right from the plaintiff mortgagor. GOVINDA TIRAGAVI & VEERAN (1913) I L R 36 Mad 32

s 93—

See s 60 I L R 39 Mad 696

s 95—

See s 53 I L R 118 Mad 1010

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH.

I ARTS 134 144

I L R 118 All 135

14 C W N 817

3 Pat L J 490

See MORTGAGE

See REDEMPTION

ss 95 100—

See LIMITATION I L R 46 Cal 111

See MORTGAGE (REDEMPTION)

6 Pat L J 660

s 96—

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 662

s 98—

See s 60 I L R 39 Mad 1010

I L R 38 Mad 667

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 44 Mad 344

——— ss 98 and 60—Anomalous mortgages—Mortgages defined in s 58 and combined mortgage under s 98—Clog on equity of redemption void under s 98—Applicability of provisions of the Act to ordinary and anomalous mortgages—Terms of the deed and local usage. How far binding—Construction of deed. Where the mortgagee was put in possession of the lands mortgaged under a deed executed in 1900 which provided that the principal with interest at a specified rate should be repaid on a

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

ss 98 and 60—contd

certain date eleven years thereafter and that in default the mortgagor should give up the lands as sold to the mortgagee and execute a proper sale-deed and further that the latter should enjoy the property paying the revenue due to Government and where the mortgagor sued in 1914 to redeem the mortgage and the mortgagee pleaded that the former could not redeem after the time limited under the deed. Held (by the Full Bench) that the transaction evidenced by the deed was not a mortgage by conditional sale or an anomalous mortgage under s 98 but a combination of a simple mortgage and a usufructuary mortgage and that consequently the stipulation in the deed which fettered the equity of redemption was invalid as opposed to s 60 of the Act. Held (by WALLIS C J and SETHAGRI AJAYAR J).—In the case of anomalous mortgages referred to in s 98 the provisions of s 60 as to the right of redemption do not apply when there is a contract or local usage to the contrary. KANDULA VEYIAH v DOVOI PALAYA (1900) 1 L R 43 Mad (FB) 589

s 99—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXXI—

B 4 2 Pat L J 55
B 14 1 L R 35 Bom. 248

See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION

2 Pat L J 587

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 47 Cal 377
14 C W N 579
1 L R 42 Cal 780

Civil Procedure Code

(1901) O XXXIV v 14—Hendulac—Joint Hindu family—Mortgage by father alone—Suit on mortgage ending in money decree—Sale of mortgaged property in execution—Suit by sons for redemption. One N S the father and managing member of a joint Hindu family executed a simple mortgage of joint family property in favour of R L R L brought a suit for sale on this mortgage against N S alone not impleading his son, but in that suit he released the security and took a simple money decree against N S in execution of which he attached and brought to sale the mortgaged property and purchased it himself. The sons of N S neither objected to the passing of the decree against their father nor to the sale of the property but subsequently filed a suit against R S for redemption of the mortgage. Held that the mortgagee could not by taking a simple money decree for his debt and bringing the property to sale in execution of such decree direct himself of his character as a mortgagee and that the sons of the mortgagor not having been made parties to the original suit for sale were still entitled to sue for redemption of the mortgage made by their father. Moyan Pathul v Pakuran 1 L R 42 Mad 347 Mariand Balakrishna Bhat v Dhondo Damodar Kulkarni 1 L R 42 Bom 674 Pancham Lal Chaudhary v Kishan Pershad Mitter 14 C W N 579 and Kharajmal v Daim 1 L R 32 Cal 296 referred to. Debi Singh v Jia Ram 1 L R 25 All 214 Tara Chand v Imdad Husain 1 L R 18 All 345 Pormanand v Dzulal Ram 1 L R 23 All 549 Banhi Dal v Manni Lal 1 L R 27 All 450 Muhammad Abdul Rashid Khan v Dilshukh Rai 1

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd—

s 99—contd

1 L R 27 All 517 Kishan Lal v Umrao Singh 1 L R 30 All 146 and Muthu v Koruppan 17 Mad L J 163 distinguished. SARDAR SINGH v RATAN LAL (1914) 1 L R 33 All 518

—Sale of mortgaged property in contravention of terms of section—Right of repurchase of mortgagor to redeem. If a mortgagee brings the mortgaged property to sale in contravention of the provisions of s 99 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 such sale is not void but merely voidable. If such a sale is confirmed the auction purchaser whether he be an outsider or the mortgagee bidding with the leave of the Court obtains an indefeasible title and the right of the mortgagor and those who represent him to redeem is absolutely extinguished. Ta a Chand v Imdad Husain 1 L R 16 All 325 Muhammad Abdul Rahid Ejan v Dilshukh Rai 1 L R 27 All 517 Madan Mahomed Lal v Jamma Kavalapuri 2 All L J 123 and Mangli Prasad v Patis Ram 1 All L J 60 followed. Jhabba Lal v Chhappu Mol 4 All J J 787 overruled. Sardar Singh v Ratan Lal 1 L R 36 All 518 Ashutosh Suddar v Behari Lal Arlamia 1 L R 35 Cal 61 and Pancham Lal Choudhary v Kishan Pershad Mitter 14 C W N 579 referred to. LAL BAWADER SINGH v ABHARAN SINGH (1913) 1 L R 37 All 185 —Held that where a mortgagor in contravention of s 99 has attached the mortgaged property and brought it up to sale and purchased it himself the mortgagor or his transferee cannot successfully maintain a suit for redemption of the property without first getting the sale set aside. Assuming that upon purchase by the mortgagee himself the equity of redemption in contravention of s 99 the mortgagee merely becomes a trustee for the mortgagor in respect of it. Held by the majority of the Court that the mortgagor's right to recover the property cannot be enforced by a suit for redemption within art 148 of the Limitation Act 1908. UTTAM CHANDRA DAW v PAJ KRISHNA DALAL 22 C W N 230

s 100—

See s 58 1 L R 36 All 20
See s 59 1 L R 35 All 164
See s 62 1 L R 33 All 708
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXXIV B 4 2 Pat L J 55
See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Cal 121
See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (1 OF 1908) s 3 1 L R 42 Mad 114
See MORTGAGE 1 L R 33 All 446
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT s 23 and 23 5 Pat L J 243
See PATES AND TAXES 1 L R 42 Cal 625

—Construction of document—Charge created where words though used are definite. Where by a document the properties of one of the parties are made liable and it appears on the construction of the document that the word properties does not mean the properties of such party generally but certain specific properties a

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 100—contd

charge will be created on such specific properties alone. A distinction must be drawn between wideness and indefiniteness of language. Bheri Dorayya v Moddi Patu Ramayya 1 L R 3 Mad 35 considered. MANICKAM PILLAI : AUDINARA YANA PILLAI (1910) 1 L R 34 Mad 47

A document which is imperative as a mortgage by reason of its not being properly attested cannot take effect as creating a charge under s 100. Transfer of Property Act DEBENDRA CHANDRA ROY : BEHARI LAL MUKERJEE (1912) 18 C W N 1075

s 101—J

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 38 Bom 24
1 L R 38 Mad. 18

Prior and subsequent mortgages.—Purchase of mortgaged property by prior mortgagee.—Suit for sale by subsequent mortgagee. Held, that a prior mortgagee who had in the exercise of a right of pre-emption purchased the property mortgaged to him had a right to be repaid the money due in respect of his mortgage before a subsequent mortgagee could bring such property to sale in execution of a decree on the mortgage held by the latter. BALDEO PRASAD v UMAN SHANKAR (1907) 1 L R 32 All 1

Purchase.—Satisfaction of mortgage on property purchased.—Intention of purchaser to keep mortgage alive for his benefit.—Presumption. In considering the question whether an incumbrance should be deemed to continue to subsist on the ground that the continuance of it was for the benefit of the person who has acquired the property the point of time to be regarded is the date of the acquisition of the property. If an intention to keep alive a charge on property is inconsistent with the real intention of the parties to the deed by which the purchaser of the property takes an assignment of it the charge cannot be treated as still subsisting simply because the purchaser afterwards finds that it would have been better for him to have kept the charge alive. Liquidation Estates Purchase Co v Willoughby [1898] A C 321 followed. Bundeswars Singh v Pandit Balraj Sahai 10 Oudh Cases 49 and Mohesh Lal v Bawda Das 1 L R 9 Cal 361 referred to. JUGAL KISHORE v RAM NARAIN (1912) 1 L R 51 All 288

Extinction of charge.—Mortgagee having two charges.—Purchase by mortgagee at the sale under the first mortgage.—Second mortgage cannot be enforced. G took a mortgage of certain lands in 1886. They were mortgaged to him again in 1894. In 1895 he sued on his first mortgage and obtained a decree. In execution of the decree the lands were sold subject to the mortgage of 1895 and purchased by G with the permission of the Court. In 1900 a partition took place between G's heirs at which the certificate of sale went to the share of the defendant and the mortgage deed of 1895 went to the share of the plaintiff. The plaintiff next sued the defendant to enforce the mortgage against her. Held, that the plaintiff could not sue the defendant on the mortgage for after what had occurred in 1895 G could have had no right to sue himself in a double capacity as mortgagee under the

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 101—contd

mortgage of 1894 and mortgagee under the sale certificate of 1895 that is he could have had no cause of action against himself and the plaintiff as his heir could have no higher rights. LAXMAN GANESH : MATHURARAY (1913) 1 L R 38 Bom 365

s 105—Lease—Proof—Kabuliyat executed by alleged lessor if sufficient. A Kabuliyat by itself does not prove a lease being only an undertaking by the prospective tenant to take the lease. Nand Lal v Hanuman Das 1 L R 6 All 368. Kasha Qir v Jogendra Nath Ghose 1 L R 27 All 136. Turof Sahib v Esuf Sahib 1 L R 30 Mad 322, approved. NUMANUD SAKKAR v BOUL DAS (1909) 14 C W N 73

s 105 and 107—

See COMPROMISE 3 Pat L J 255
See KABULIYAT 1 L R 3D Cal 1016

Agreement to let land in reliance on agreement.—Construction of building in reliance on agreement.—Licence.—Remedy of licensee for wrongful eviction. The defendant's father gave the plaintiffs permission to build a gola or market place on a certain plot of land the latter agreeing to pay Rs 8 a year as ground rent but no lease was executed. The plaintiffs began to build the gola but before it was finished they were evicted by the owner of the land. Held on suit by the plaintiffs for possession and for an injunction to prevent the defendant from interfering with the gola that the plaintiffs were not lessees but merely licensees and that their remedy was for damages for the wrongful revocation of their licence. BASPRO RAI v DWARKA RAM (1915) 1 L R 38 All 178

s 105 and 109—Whether lease can give notice to quit a monthly tenant who has not been informed of the lease. One H P I leased his house to the plaintiff on the 1st October 1917. The defendants were in possession of the house as the monthly tenants of H P. The plaintiff on the 16th February 1918 gave the defendants notice to vacate the house before the 15th March. The defendants replied that they had no knowledge of the plaintiff's lease and did not recognize him as the landlord. Then at the plaintiff's request H P also sent a notice to the defendants on the 23rd March to quit within a week. As the defendants did not comply with the notice the plaintiff brought the present suit for ejectment and for Rs 750 a month as account of rent. The only question was whether the plaintiff's notice to the defendants of the 16th February 1918 was valid. No notice had been given by the owner to the defendants of the lease in favour of the plaintiff. Held that it was not necessary for the landlord to inform the defendants that he had leased the house to the plaintiff. Gour's Law of Transfer 4th Edn p 1701 referred to. Held also that the plaintiff as lessee was a transferee of a part of the lessor's interest in the property and under s 103 of the Transfer of Property Act possessed all the rights of the lessor as to the property transferred and was consequently entitled to serve the defendants with a notice to quit. Manikam Pillai v Pailanarai Nadar (43 Indian Cases 100) approved. PANU RAM v TEK CHAND 1 L R 1 Lab 241

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 106—

See EJECTMENT I L R 40 Calc 858

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 46 Calc 458

ss 106 107—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 44 Calc 403

Land held not for agricultural or manufacturing purpose on oral settlement at an annual rent—Presumption that tenancy annual—Contract to the contrary not valid because not registered—Notice length of Where there being no written lease the tenants were found to have been holding the land on an annual rent of Rs 15 and not for an agricultural or manufacturing purpose Held that from the fact that the rent was an annual rent the presumption ought to be drawn that the tenancy was an annual tenancy That in the absence of anything to rebut the presumption s 106 of the Transfer of Property Act if it stood alone would be inapplicable there being a contract to the contrary within the meaning of that section This contract however not being in writing and registered was invalid under s 107 That the tenancy was therefore terminable under s 106 on fifteen days notice expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy Durga Narayan v Gobardhan Das 19 C W N 69 s c 20 C L J 438 439 referred to AXLOO v ENAKOR (1916)

I L R 44 Calc 403

20 C W N 1005

Lease without registered instrument for purposes other than agriculture or manufacture at a fixed rent a year without any settlement as to duration of tenancy—Effect of holding over with acceptance of rent by landlord—Notice necessary to terminate tenancy—nature of—Notice signed by an mukhtar of valid—Fifteen days from date of notice calculation of The defendant took the premises in suit for a stationery shop as a tenant from the commencement of the Bengali year, the rent being fixed at a certain amount a year but the period during which the tenancy was to continue was not settled The tenant continued in occupation after the end of the year and the landlords accepted rent for the next year The plaintiff landlords subsequently served a notice to quit by registered post The notice was signed by an mukhtar and was dated the 16th Baisakh and called upon the defendant to vacate the premises within the 31st Baisakh The registered cover which was addressed to the defendant at his place of business was returned to the sender by the Postal authorities with an endorsement that the addressee had refused to accept it There was no oral evidence to show where the cover was posted or when and where it was tendered to the defendant On the cover were the seals of the office of posting and the office of destination as also an endorsement that the letter was returned as the addressee refused to receive it the seals and the endorsement bearing date corresponding to the date of the notice Held that under s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act which was in force at the time a lease of immovable property from year to year or for any time exceeding one year or reserving a yearly rent could be made only by a registered instrument and consequently the

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

ss 106 107—contd

defendant became a tenant for one year only and in the absence of an agreement to the contrary within the meaning of s 116 of the Act the effect of his holding over was that after the expiry of the year in which the tenancy took effect it was renewed from month to month and was terminable by the lessors by fifteen days notice expiring with the end of a month of the tenancy That the notice was a fifteen days notice and was properly signed It was not intended to lay down in Subadans v Durga Charan I L R 28 Calc 118 s c 4 C W N 790 that in calculating the 15 days the day on which the notice was served as also the date on which the notice expired were both to be excluded GOBINDA CHANDRA SHAHA v DWARKA NATH PATTA (1914) 19 C W N 489

Notice to quit—Construction of—A notice of ejectment served by a landlord on his tenant contained besides the usual terms of a notice to quit a further statement that if the tenant did not vacate the house by the time specified the landlord would hold him liable from that date to rent at an enhanced rate The tenant did not attempt to treat this latter statement as an offer to renew the tenancy at the enhanced rate Held that the notice was a good notice and the landlord was entitled to a decree for ejectment SHANKAR LAL v BABU PAM

I L R 43 All 330

s 107—

See s 4 I L R 44 Mad. 55

See s 105 I L R 38 All 178

See COMPROMISE 3 Pat L J 255

See HANULIYAT I L R 39 Calc 1016

See LEASE 25 C W N 225

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 AND

90 I L R 36 All 176

See TENANCY AT WILL

I L R 44 Calc 214

1 Lease exceeding one year—Registration—Unregistered lease cannot be received as evidence—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 91—Oral evidence of the lease cannot be given—Tenant admitting landlord's title—Amount of rent can be proved by other evidence—Parties—Admission—Estoppel—Practice The plaintiff owned a one third share in certain salt pans which share was during her minority leased by her guardians for a period of three years at an annual rental of Rs 500 The plaintiff having attained majority she at the expiration of the period let her share to the same lessees for a further period of two years at the rent of Rs 1000 a year The new lease though in writing was not registered The plaintiff sued to recover the rent for the two years at the rate of Rs 1000 a year and also Rs 6.3 for rent due on the first lease The defendants admitted the plaintiff's ownership and their tenancy under her but disputed the amount of rent Held that the plaintiff could not be allowed to rely on the lease set up by her because it was not registered (s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act) nor could she be allowed to give oral evidence of the lease (s 91 of the Indian Evidence Act) Held further that the defendants having admitted the ownership of the plaintiff and that they were in possession of her

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—*contd.*s 108—contd

to whom the property had been given for her maintenance for life by the former proprietor. The deed did not contain any express provision authorising the grantee to open new mines and to appropriate the minerals therefrom. The plaintiff who was a proprietor by right of purchase sued for a declaration that these four defendants had no right to open new mines and to raise minerals therefrom on the disputed property also for a perpetual injunction to restrain them from opening and working new mines and from further working the new mines which they had opened. Held that s 108 of the Transfer of Property Act which defines the rights and liabilities of lessor and lessee provides in cl (a) that in the absence of a contract or local usage to the contrary the lessee must not work mines or quarries not open when the lease was granted and no question of local usage arising in the present case and there being no express provision authorising the grantee to open new mines and to appropriate the minerals therefrom in the deed which was one for maintenance for the life of the grantee the grantee had no right to grant a mining lease for the purpose of opening and working new mines. Circumstances under which a mine may be said to be open considered. CHRISTIAN v NARBADA KOERI (1914)

19 C W N 786

4 ——— Fixtures—Right of tenant to remove—Acquisition of land with building by Government—Tenant if only entitled to price of material Held (as to the contention that under s 108 of the Transfer of Property Act the right of the tenant to remove fixtures must be exercised during the continuance of the lease) that the provisions of s 108 of the Transfer of Property Act are subject to local usage and in the present case the leases not being determined by any notice to quit and the decree in the mortgage suit under which the respondents lost their right not having given them an opportunity to remove the building they should be allowed to remove them unless the appellants chose to take them on payment of compensation. In the circumstances of the case the respondents were given one half of the amount awarded on account of the building. KANAIAL JALAN v PASIK LAL SADBURNAY (1914)

19 C W N 361

——— s 108 (a) and (e)—Lease—Disturbance of possession by paramount title holder—Lessor's liability to indemnify—Lessor's defective title if a material defect in the property with reference to its intended use R the registered proprietor in possession of the estate left by her husband granted a zurgeshgi lease of certain properties to the plaintiff and others. C the brother of the husband of R instituted a suit against R and obtained a declaration that on the death of P's husband he became the rightful owner of the estate and R had no title in it. The plaintiff remained in possession till he was dispossessed by C. The plaintiff sued P for the recovery of his share of the zurgeshgi money and for damages for loss sustained by him in consequence of his possession. There was no evidence to warrant a finding that the defect in R's title was one which the plaintiff could have with ordinary care

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—*contd*s 108 (a) and (e)—contd discovered. Held that s 108 cl (c) of the Transfer of Property Act is wide enough to include disturbance of possession by a person with a paramount title. A defect in the lessor's title is not a material defect in the property with reference to its intended use within the meaning of s 108 cl (e). Those words have reference to the nature and condition of the property demised. Held further that s 108 cl (a) is inapplicable to the present case and the defendant is liable for damages for the interruption of the plaintiff's possession under the provisions of s 108 cl (e). MUKHTAR AHMED v SUNDAR KOER (1913)

17 C W N 980

s 108 (e)—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 43 Mad 132

——— Lease of colliery—Destruction by fire—Notice by lessee to determine lease if should be 15 days' notice A notice by the lessee under s 109 (e) of the Transfer of Property Act avoiding the lease on the ground of destruction of the leased hold property by irresistible force takes effect immediately on service. S 108 of the Act has no application to such a notice. DAMODA COAL COMPANY LIMITED v HURMOOK MARNAPT (1915)

19 C W N 1019

s 108 (h)—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM

ACT V OF 1879) s 63

I L R 38 Bom 716

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 10 Mad 710

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT 1908

s 3 I L R 37 Mad 1

s 108 (j)—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Cal 377

See LEASE

1 Fat L J 1

——— Lease or licensee—Agricultural land left for building purposes under special agreement and afterwards included in neighbouring town Some fifty years ago by an agreement between the Government the zamindars and certain butchers a certain area of cultivated land adjoining the city of Allahabad was let in plots to the butchers for building purposes at a uniform rent of Rs 10 per bigha. There was also a proviso against arbitrary enhancement of the rent. Subsequently the land upon which the butchers had settled was included in the municipal limits of the city of Allahabad and was called Muhalla Atala. One of the butchers having sold his house the zamindars sued him and his vendee under the terms of the wajib ul arz claiming either one fourth of the price or in the alternative that the site might be cleared and possession made over to them. Held that in the circumstances these sites were not subject to the ordinary law with reference to village sites occupied by agricultural tenants but the butchers must be taken to be lessees and in the absence of a contract to the contrary their rights as such were transferable without reference to the zamindars. ABDUL HAQ v DATTA LAL (1914)

I L R 37 All 144

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 108 (j)—contd

Lessor and lessee—Mortgage with possession by lessee—Mortgagee not liable to the lessor for rent—Privity of estate meaning of A mortgagee with possession from the lessee is not liable to the lessor for rent as there is neither privity of estate nor of contract between them. Per WALLIS C J—Privity of estate is a technical term of English Law and under that law such privity arises only where the whole of the lessee's interest is assigned over and not where a subsidiary interest is carved out of the lessee's interest. The Transfer of Property Act in enacting s 108 (j) does not seem to have introduced any departure from the English Law. English and Indian cases reviewed. THETHALAN : THE ERALPAD RAJAH CALICUT (1917) I L R 40 Mad 1111

Lease from year to year in existence from before 1882—Transferability—Custom—Onus—sublease transfer by way of—Landlord if may recover khas possession A lease of homestead land from year to year which was in existence before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act is not governed by that Act and s 108 cl (j) of that Act does not make it transferable absolutely or by way of sublease. Such leases are not transferable except by custom the burden of proving which is on the party who sets it up. Whether a tenant from year to year had power before the Transfer of Property Act to transfer the holding by way of sublease or not where it appeared that the tenant had abandoned the lands without arranging for payment of rent and no rent had been paid by him since the year and that the transaction was in substance though not in form an assignment. Held that the landlord was entitled to recover khas possession of the land. AVANDA MOHA SAHA & GORINDA CHANDRA RAY CHOUDHURY (1915)

20 C W N 322

s 108 cl (o)—Principle applicable to agricultural lease—Mulgani tenant has no right to fell timber standing at time of grant Although Ch V of the Transfer of Property Act does not apply to agricultural leases the principles embodied therein may be applied to such leases. The rules contained in s 103 (h) (o) will apply to mulgani leases and a mulgani tenant is not entitled to cut trees standing at the date of grant. The law applicable to occupancy tenants will not apply to such leases as the former is not a tenant but one holding divided ownership. CARGAMMA : BHON MARKA (1909) I L R 33 Mad 253

ss 109 117—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Calc 723

s 109—

See s 108 I L R 1 Lah 241

ss 109 and 111—

See s 6 I L R 43 Bom 28

s 111 (d) (f)—Merger doctrine of—Application to tenures in India—Equitable considerations The predecessors of the defendants who held a malgu tenure directly under the Mis as zamin afterwards took a malgu lease from the put dar under s 1 of the maliks. Held that the condition which would make s 111 cl

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 111 (d) (f)—contd

(d) or s 111 cl (f) of the Transfer of Property Act applicable did not exist in the case and the malgu interest did not merge in the malgu tenure either under these provisions or under the general law. The English doctrine of merger has never been held to apply to land tenures in India in their entirety. On the other hand very eminent Judges have doubted that it does. Woomes v Chandra Gopio v Ray Narain Ray 10 W R 15 and Jibanti Nath Khan v Gocool Chandra Choudhuri I L R 19 Calc 760 referred to. Raja Krishen Datt Ram v Raja Mumta Ali I L R 5 Calc 198 was not decided on the ground of merger. In Promatho Nath Mitter v Kals Prasanna Choudhury I L P 23 Calc 741 Surya Narain Mandal v Danda Lal Sinha I L R 33 Calc 1212 and Ujjat Hussain v Gayan Das I L R 36 Calc 802 apart from the application of s 111 cl (d) of the Transfer of Property Act there was no equitable consideration to prevent the merging of rights whereas in the present case there was no equitable consideration to attract the application of the doctrine of merger. In deciding whether there is a merger in equity what must be first looked at is the intention of the parties and if that be not expressed then the Court looks to the benefit of the person in whom the interests coalesce. Gokaldas Gopal Das v Puran Mal I L R 10 Calc 1035 referred to. AMATOO & SRIKISHAN MUK UD ALI (1914) 19 C W N 435

s 111 (g)—

See s 6 I L R 33 Bom 98

See EJECTMENT I L R 45 Calc 469

See KROD KAST JOTES

I L R 48 Calc 359

See LEASE 1 Pat L J 1

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 41 Mad 699

I L R 42 Mad 659 654

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 39 Mad 445

Suit for khas possession on breach of covenant of lease—Over-act of lessor determining lease as condition precedent—Period of limitation and point of time whence period runs A lease provided that the lessee was to enjoy the land from generation to generation for purpose of residence without any power of alienation and that in the event of such alienation the lessor would be entitled to khas possession. The lessor sold the land and the lessor sued to recover possession. Held—Act 143 was applicable and the period of limitation was 12 years and time began to run from the date of alienation and not from the date when the lessee surrendered possession to the transferee. That under cl (g) of s 111 of the Transfer of Property Act it was necessary for the plaintiff to establish that the lessor had prior to the institution of the suit done some act showing an intention to determine the lease. Where the rights and obligations of the parties are regulated by cl (g) of s 111 of the Transfer of Property Act there is no determination of lease by forfeiture immediately on breach of covenant but such breach must be followed by an

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 111 (g)—contd

overt act on the part of the lessor before the institution of the suit for ejectment the institution of the suit cannot be rightly regarded as the requisite act because the forfeiture must be completed and the lease determined before the commencement of the action Yowrang v Janardan I L R 45 Calc 469 s c 22 C W N 312 27 C L J 277 (1917) approved. A suit for ejectment does not lie in respect of a portion of the lands of a tenancy which has been forfeited or a condition whereof has been broken Gopalram Mohuri v Dhukeshwar Pershad Narain Singh I L R 35 Calc 807 (1908) and Syed Ahmad Sahib Shullari v Magnesite Syndicate Ltd I L R 39 Mad 1043 (1915) referred to MOTILAL PAL CHAUDHURY v CHANDRA KUMAR SEN

24 C W N 1064

Landlord and tenant

—Denial of title—Suit for ejectment of tenant—Landlord's intention to take advantage of denial of title to be expressed before suit. The denial of his landlord's title by a tenant in order to work a forfeiture under s 111 (g) of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 must be an unequivocal and unambiguous denial mere non payment of rent or even the mortgaging of the premises as belonging to the tenant does not necessarily constitute such a denial. A landlord wishing to take advantage of his tenant's denial of title to determine the lease must do some act showing his intention to do so before he can file a suit for ejectment PRAG NARAIN v KADIR BAKSH (1913)

I L R 35 All 145

Landlord and tenant

—Forfeiture—Ejectment—Cause of action—Intention to determine the lease—Whether institution of the suit to eject a sufficient manifestation of intention. A landlord sued to eject his tenant on the ground that the lease was determined by the tenant's disclaimer of the landlord's title. The tenant contended that the landlord had no cause of action inasmuch as he had never before filing the suit done any act showing his intention to determine the lease as required by cl (g) of s 111 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. Held that the mere institution of the suit and the assertion in the plaint as to the repudiation of the landlord's title constituted a sufficient manifestation of the landlord's intention to determine the lease ISABALI TAVASALI v MAHADU EKOTA (1917)

I L R 42 Bom 195

s 114—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 39 Mad 834

I L R 42 Mad 654

I L R 44 Mad. 629

See LEASE I L R 45 Bom 300

s 116—

See s 116 19 C W N 525

See s 106 19 C W N 489

See s 107 18 C W N 858

See PENAL CODE s 341

I L R 43 Bom 531

s 117—

See KROD HAST JOTES

I L R 43 Calc 359

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd

s 117—contd

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Calc 723

I L R 42 Mad 654

See UNDER RAYATI HOLDING

I L R 42 Calc 751

s 118—

See s 54 I L R 77 Mad 423

I L R 40 All 187

See ESTOPPEL BY CONDUCT

I L R 40 Mad 1184

ss 118 119 120 54 and 55 cl (b)—

Exchange of lands of the value of one hundred rupees or upwards—No registered instrument—Oral transfer invalid—Parties placed in possession of the lands—Sale by one of the parties of lands obtained on exchange—No estoppel against the transferor or his creditor—No estoppel against statute—A charge for the value or price of the lands on the date of the transactions. An exchange of immovable property the value of one hundred rupees and upwards can be made only by a registered instrument under ss 118 and 54 of the Transfer of Property Act. No estoppel can be pleaded against the directions and the prohibitions enacted by the statute law and against the rights accruing to any party by reason of such directions and prohibitions. A party to an exchange which is not valid in law is not entitled to a charge on the property obtained by him in exchange for the price of such property on the date of the exchange under ss 120 and 55 cl (b) of the Transfer of Property Act. Kurri Veerareddi v Kurri Bapireddi I L R 29 Mad 336 followed. Ram Baksh v Mughlani Khanam I L R 26 All 266 dismissed from Karalia Anandhaji v Mansukham I L R 24 Bom 400 distinguished. Muthu Venkatchellappathy v Pynda Venkatchellappathy 23 Mad J 650 referred to CHIDAMBARA CHETTIAR v VAIYDI LINGA PADAYACHI (1913) I L R 38 Mad 519

s 119—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ARTS.

113 AND 143 I L R 42 Mad 690

ss 122 123 126—

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 45 Calc 434

s 123—

See s 3 I L R 44 Mad. 198

See s 55 I L R 34 Bom 687

See s 55 I L R 43 Bom 287

See GIFT

See LIMITATION I L R 43 Mad 244

I L R 46 I A 285

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869) ss.

18 16 AND 17 I L R 32 All 227

Gift of land—Oral gift

—No registered deed of gift—Gift inoperative—

Unauthorized occupation and use of land—Owner of land making an oral gift of land—Acquiescence

—Estoppel—Indian Evidence (1st I of 1870)

s 115 In 1903 the defendant Municipality took plaintiff's land into its p.c. possession and used it for making a new road through it. After a major portion of the road was constructed the plaintiff's

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

s 123—contd.

father objected to the unauthorised occupation and use of his land but he was prevailed upon to give the land in gift to the Municipality. The gift was orally made and no writing was made or registered. The plaintiff's father died in 1906. The plaintiff sued in 1914 to recover possession of the land from the Municipality. Held decreeing the suit that the absence of a registered deed of gift invalidated the gift owing to the provisions of s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 and that the mere consent of the plaintiff's father to make the gift was not sufficient to vest the land in the Municipality. Held further, that the plaintiff was not estopped under s 115 of the Indian Evidence Act 1872, from denying the gift because the defendant had occupied the land and laid out a substantial part of the road before the plaintiff's father was prevailed upon to make the gift. KUVFRI KAVASI v MUNICIPALITY OF LOVAVALA (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 164

Gift—Attestation—Meaning of attested. A deed of gift was attested by two witnesses. At the trial of the suit only one witness was examined and he deposed that he was at some distance when the deed was being written and that he did not see the executant making his mark on the deed. Held, that the deed of gift was not properly executed within the meaning of s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. The word attested in s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 meant the witnessing of the actual execution of the document by the person purporting to execute it. Shamu Patter v Abdul Kadir (1912) 14 Bom L R 1034 relied to ANABAPPA v RAOHAVA (1919)

I L R 44 Bom 231

ss 123 129—Gift—Validity of gift of immovable property—Mahomedan law. Where a Mahomedan had made a gift of immovable property which was valid according to Mahomedan law it was held that the gift was none the less valid because the donor had executed a deed of gift purporting to convey the property to the donee which owing to a defect in the attestation, was invalid according to the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act 1882. KARAM ILAHI v SUARF UD DIN (1910) I L R 38 All 212

s 126—

See GIFT I L R 39 Calc 933

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 45 Calc 434

s 127—

See s 11 I L R 38 All 62

s 129—

See s 123 I L R 38 All 212

s 130—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 60 I L R 37 Bom 471

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Mad 803

See SECTE 1104 ACT (V OF 1865) s 190 I L R 38 Bom 618

s 130—Actionable claim.—Claims to proceeds of policy of insurance by depositor of policy and by assignee of policy by an

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)

—contd.

s 130—contd.

instrument in writing—Transfers by way of security. The appellant and the respondent were rival claimants to the proceeds of the policy of insurance on the life of their debtor which had been paid into Court by the Insurance Company as a defendant in a suit brought for the money in which the appellant was also a defendant. The appellant relied on an assignment by the debtor of the policy by an instrument in writing and the respondent based his claim on a deposit of the policy with him by the debtor unaccompanied by any written instrument. Held (reversing the decision of an Appellate Bench of the High Court) that the case was governed by s 130 sub s (1) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882 as amended by Act II of 1900) which precluded the application in India of the principles of English Law and the title of the appellant as being based on an instrument in writing and so conforming in all respects with the provisions of that section was absolute as against that of the respondent who acquired no right to the policy or its proceeds by reason of the deposit. The right to the proceeds was an actionable claim and s 130 covered transfer by way of security as well as absolute transfers as appeared from illustration 2 to the section. VIJAY KUMAR v VISWANATH PRABHAKAR VADYA (1912) I L R 37 Bom 188 ss 130 131 134—Transfer of debt notice of—Duty of debtor on receiving notice from transferee. Where a creditor hypothecates a debt due to him and authorises the person to whom the debt is hypothecated by power of attorney in the writing to recover the debt from the debtor the debt is absolutely transferred to the transferee under s 130 of the Transfer of Property Act. Notice of the transfer is not necessary to perfect the title of the assignee but until the debtor receives notice of the assignment in accordance with law his dealings with the original creditor will be protected. The notice of transfer need not necessarily be free from any condition or qualification. A debt was assigned absolutely and the debtor received notice of assignment from the transferor who at the same time requested the debtor to pay only if the liability formed the consideration for the transfer was not discharged. The debtor also received notice of the assignment from the transferee who claimed payment. The transferee did not represent that he had discharged the claim on account of which the transfer was made. The debtor after receiving the above notices refusing to recognise the assignment paid the amount to the transferor. Held that the payment was inoperative and that the transferee was entitled to recover from the debtor. If the fact of the assignment or its validity is disputed the only safe course for the debtor who has received notice of the assignment is not to pay either party but to ask them to interplead. William Brandt & Sons & Co v Buxton Fuller & Co (1905) A C 404 referred to CORALTA KRISHNA IYER v CORALAKRISHNA IYER (1903) I L R 33 Mad 103 ss 130 and 134—Effect of notice of a promissory note—As signers of a promissory note. By virtue of s 130 and 134 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) a mortgage in writing of a promissory note executed in favour of the mortgagor by a third party creates an assignment of the promissory note in favour of the mortgagee even without an endorsement and as the right of the promisee to sue on the note becomes vested in the mortgagee the mortgagee alone is entitled to sue on the note and in taking accounts he is liable to be debited with the amount of the note if he without any justification allows the recovery of debt barred by limitation. Uday Khataw v. Venu Nath Prabhuram I L R 31 Bom 198 followed. Shyam Amari v. Pameswar Singh I L R 32 Cal 97 followed. MUTHURISHNIER v. VEERABAGAVAT IYER (1913)

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—concl'd— ss 130 and 134—*concl'd

I L R 33 Mad. 297

— s 132,

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1852) ss 268 278 283

I L R 38 Bom 631

Where a mortgage is transferred without the privity of the mortgagor the transferee takes subject to the state of accounts between the mortgagor and mortgagee at the date of the transfer but not subject to any independent debt in no way connected with the mortgage. SUBRAMANIA AYYAR v. SUBRAMANIA PATTAR.

I L R 40 Mad. 683

— s 134—

See s 130

See DEBT HYPOTHECATION OF

I L R 34 Mad 53

— s 136—

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 1879

s 13

I L R 37 Mad 238

— s 137—

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Cal 670

See CONTRACT ACT (IV OF 1872) ss 4 61 103

I L R 38 Bom 255

See VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR

I L R 53 Cal 127

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (AMENDMENT ACT (III OF 1885))— s 3—

See KADULITAT I L R 80 Cal 1016

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY (VALIDATING ACT (XXVI OF 1917))— s 3 proviso 5—

Review of judgment—
Judgment reviewed that of appellate court—
Former Court Where action is taken by an appellate court on an application for review presented in accordance with the provisions of Act No XXVI of 1917 and an appeal which had been dismissed is restored the former court mentioned in proviso (3) to the section is not the court of first instance but the appellate court. KAMPA DEBI v. KISHORI LAL
 I L R 42 All 430

TRANSFER OF SHARES

See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882) ss 58

147 I L R 40 Bom 134

See COMPANY I L R 36 All 365

TRANSFER OF SUIT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 24

I L R 41 All 381

5 Pat L J 588

Transfer of a suit under s 92 Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) from the Court of a District Judge to that of the Additional District Judge— Authority of Additional District Judge to try such suit—Civil Courts Act (XII of 1887) s 8 sub s (2)—Convenience. An Additional District Judge by virtue of the assignment of all the functions of a District Judge under the provisions of sub s (2) of s 8 of Act XII of 1887 is empowered to exercise the same powers as the District Judge in suits under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code. Semle. Any other Court empowered in that behalf by the Local Government in s 92 of the Code probably refers to Courts such as the Subordinate Judges Courts. Transfer of the suit was ordered in this case on the ground of convenience the opposite party being compensated by payment of his costs. MOHAMMAD FAHMAN v. HAZI ABDUR RAHIM (1920) I L R 48 Cal 53

TRANSFERABILITY

See BUILDING LEASE

I L R 37 Cal 377

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 45 Cal 434

I L R 48 Cal 184

I L R 42 Cal 172

I L R 44 Cal 272 720

See OFFERINGS TO A TEMPLE

I L R 43 Cal 22

See PALAS OR TOWN OF WORSHIP

I L R 42 Cal 455

See UNDER PAITYATI HOLDING

I L R 42 Cal 751

TRANSFERABLE RIGHT

See SABBARAKARI TENURE

I L R 46 Cal 378

TRANSFEREE

See DEPOSIT IN COURT

I L R 44 Cal 100

— from benamidar right of to sue—

See MORTGAGE I L R 41 Mad 435

— from execution purchaser—

See PARTIES I L R 39 Cal 681

— of trust estate liability of—

See TRUSTEE I L R 39 Mad. 115

TRANSIT

— duration of—

See SALE OF GOODS ACT (V AND 5th VIC c 71) ss 45 AND 47

I L R 34 Bom 640

TRANSMISSION BY POST

See SEDITION I L R 39 Calc 522

TRANSPORT

See EXCISEABLE ARTICLES

I L R 39 Calc 1053

TRAVELLING WITHOUT TICKET

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Calc 279

TREASURY OFFICER

— appropriation in payment by—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 38 Calc 537

TREATY

See EXTRADITION I L R 48 Calc 328

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
(X of 1876) s 12

I L R 45 Bom 463

TREES

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 All 545

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 83

I L R 38 Bom 716

See TIMBER

— overhanging ones land—

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 164

— right of removal of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Calc 815

— partition of—

See JURISDICTION (CIVIL AND REVENUE)

I L R 42 All 574

— whether temporary right to take
fruit of is immovable property—

See PUNJAB PRE EMPTION ACT 1913

I L R 1 Lah 567

— growing on boundary between 2
fields—

See EASEMENT I L R 44 Bom 605

— Growth of sandalwood trees on occupancy lands subsequent to survey settlement—

See FOREST ACT (VII of 1878) s 75

CL. (c) n 2 I L R 45 Bom 110

— Trees planted after lease

— Right of removal of trees by tenant—Fixtures doctrine of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)
s 23—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 2 108 (h) In the absence of any special provision in a lease granted before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) came into force the property in the trees planted by the lessee after a koms lease had been granted does not vest in the landlord. The rule laid down in s 108 cl (h) of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) has no application to such a case. The lease in the present case not being for agricultural or horticultural purpose s 23 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application. The doctrine of the

TREES—contd

English Law of Fixtures cannot be appropriately extended to this country on equitable grounds
Bain v Brand 1 App Cas 762 Mears v Callender (1901) 2 Ch 388 Elves v Mau 2 Smiths Leading Cases 189 3 East 38 Ness v Pacard 2 Peters 137 referred to. The Law of Fixtures is not recognised under the Hindu or Mahomedan laws
Thakoor Chunder Paramanick v Ramdhone
Bhuttacharyee 6 W R 228 B L R F B 595
Secretary of State v Charlesworth Pilling & Co
I I R 26 Bom 1 Khodeeram Serma v Trilochan
1 Mac Sel Rep 35 Jankee Singh v Bukhoote
Singh (1856) Beng S D A 1517 Bri Bhootun
toollah (1855) Beng S D A 1517 Bri Bhootun
v Dabee Dyal (1863) 2 Agra S D A 480 Kalee
Pershad Dutt v Gourree Pershad Dutt 5 W P 103 relied upon. Before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act the doctrine of the English Law of Fixtures did not prevail in this country and the provisions of that Act substantially reproduced the law on this subject as recognised by Hindu and Mahomedan jurisprudence Jemas Kani Routhan v Nazarali Sahib I L R
27 Mad 211 referred to Moriz Sheikh v
Rasik Lal Ghose (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 815

TREE PATTI

Effect of cancellation of on land pattadar—No resumption or grant to the latter—Right of tree pattadar for the trees even after cancellation as against land pattadar—Possessory right protection of as against trespassers
A person who was in possession until dispossessed by defendants who having no title as owners were mere trespassers is entitled to rely on his possession and succeed in a suit to eject them Aaroy and Rao v Dharmachar I L R 96 Mad 514 and Subbaraya Chetty v Ayyar I I R 39 Mad 86 followed. In the absence of proof to the contrary a cancellation of patta is used by the Government in favour of the plaintiff in respect of trees standing on certain lands for which lands the patta was being used in favour of defendants does not amount to a resumption of possession of the trees by the Government or to a grant of them by the Government to the defendants
The only effect of cancellation of the patta for the trees was that the Government no longer made any demand on the tree pattadar for revenue in respect of the tree. The facts that when both pattas were in existence the land pattadar was credited with whatever revenue was collected from the tree pattadar and that on cancellation of tree patta the whole revenue was payable by the land pattadar to the land pattadar. On to a grant of the trees to the land pattadar the rights of the tree pattadar and land pattadar
Reference under s 39 of Madras Forest Act I L R 12 Mad 203 and Therai Panditani v Secretary of State for India I I R 21 Mad 433 referred to KESGODA GOUDAN v VAPADAPPAN (1913)
I L R 38 Mad 145

TRESPASS

See ARREST OF SUIR I L R 42 Calc. 85

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS.

See EASEMENT I L R 47 Bom 481

TRESPASS—contd

See FOOTING I L R 38 Calc 687

See GRAVEYARD I L R 40 Calc 548

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Calc 942

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCH I ARTS I O 144

I L R 42 Bom 333

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV of 1860)
§ 297 I L R 33 All 773

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 164

— suit for declaration by Trespasser—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 42
1 Pat L J 95

— when supported by Land lord—suit
by tenant—A

See EJECTMENT 1 Pat L J 430

1 ———— what constitutes—The foundation of the pass is the doing of an illegal act forcibly and without legal authority as against the property of another To sustain trespass the illegality and the wrongfulness of the act must be established by proof If the act is not illegal no right is infringed DANAI DAS v GOVINDA GUDI

1 Pat L J 533

2 ———— Suit for damages—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) Art 31
Sch II Jurisdiction under Where the plaint alleged that the defendants had trespassed upon plaintiff's land and removed his crop and assessed damages at the profit thus wrongfully obtained by defendants Held that the suit was one for damages for a single act of trespass and not exempted from the jurisdiction of the Provincial Small Cause Courts by Art 31 Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) ANNARAO v SUBRAMANYAN I L R 15 Mad 293 followed and VENKOBBA PAO v MUTHU AIYAR 18 Mad L J 88 dissented from *PANAIYAN v SAMINATHA
AIYAR* (1912) I L R 33 Mad 728

3 ———— Right of Magistrate to order search for arms—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 94 96 100 Sch III (5)—Jurisdiction to issue search warrant—Arms Act (XI of 1878) s 25—Provision as to recording grounds for belief in s 25 whether mandatory or directory—Protection of Judicial Officers—Directing search where offence has been committed as judicial action—Charge of want of bona fides and malice reprobated For some time prior to 21th April 1907 much illfeeling existed in and about Jamalpore a sub division of Mysnasingh between the Hindu and Mahomedan communities and much excitement and resentment had been aroused on account of the action of the Hindus in attempting some days before that date to enforce a boycott of Bideshi or foreign goods On 27th April at night a Mahomedan was wounded by a revolver shot fired by one of a party of Hindus dressed as Mahomedans who after the occurrence took refuge in some cutcherries belonging to the leading zamindars of the neighbourhood who were active sympathisers with the action of the Hindus A crowd of Mahomedans at once collected and proceeded to the cutcherries but were prevented from attacking them by the District Superintendent of Police and the Sub divisional Officer who hearing of what had occurred proceeded to the cutcherries and restrained the mob thereby

TRESPASS—contd

averting a serious riot A large number of Hindus some of them with arms had collected in a temple close by and having bolted and barred the doors refused admittance which was demanded by the District Superintendent of Police and the Sub divisional Officer Shots were fired from inside the temple and a man in the crowd outside was wounded The District Magistrate was then sent for and on his arrival on the morning of 28th
April he decided in consultation with the District Superintendent of Police and the Sub divisional Officer that it was necessary to search the cutcher-ries to obtain possession of the arms used on the 27th and others which it was reported to them were concealed there and also for the purpose of and in connexion with the investigation of the offences committed The cutcherries were found locked and as no officer or servant of the zamindars could be found they were broken open under the District Magistrate's orders and instructions and a search was made therein by the District Superintendent of Police and the men acting under his orders No arms of any kind were found In a suit for the pass against the District Magistrate instituted by one of the zamindars whose cutcherry had been searched—Held (reversing the decision of the first Court and of the majority of the Appellate Court and upholding the decision of BRETT J) that the search was warranted by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) A serious offence had been committed against the public tranquility into which it was the duty of the District Magistrate to enquire and by virtue of his superior rank he was at Jamalpore the proper person to conduct the enquiry By s 36 Sch III and s 96 of the Code the power of issuing a search warrant was among his ordinary powers and therefore under s 105 he had power to direct a search to be made in his presence if he thought it advisable to do so That being so it was unnecessary to decide on the other defences set up but semble (agreeing with the majority of the Court of Appeal) that the District Magistrate not having complied with the preliminary condition prescribed by s 25 of the Arms Act (XI of 1878) could not defend his action under that Statute Also (agreeing with BRETT J) that the District Magistrate in directing a general search of the plaintiff's cutcherry in view of an enquiry under the Criminal Procedure Code, was acting in the discharge of his judicial functions and had it been necessary might have appealed for protection to Act XVIII of 1860 The charge of personal misconduct advanced and reiterated without any shadow of proof deserved the severest reprobation CLARKE v BRAJENDRA FISHER POX CHOWDERY (1912)

[I L R 39 Calc 953

4 ———— Who may sue for—tenant or owner—Title by adverse possession not pleaded if may be alleged in the Court of Appeal—Civl Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XII s 94—
Adverse possession against Municipality or the Crown Per SANDERSON G J and MOOKERJEE J—The tenant is the proper plaintiff to sue for trespass committed in re feet of the land the reversioner can only sue for the alien-the pass is injurious of land and to the
C J—Even though t.

TRANSMISSION BY POST

See SEDITION I L R 79 Cal 522

TRANSPORT

See EXCISEABLE ARTICLES
I L R 39 Cal 1953

TRAVELLING WITHOUT TICKET

See RAILWAY PASSENGER
I L R 44 Cal 279

TREASURY OFFICER

appropriation of payment by—
See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
I L R 38 Cal 537

TREATY

See EXTRADITION I L R 48 Cal 328
See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
(V of 1876) s 12
I L R 45 Bom 463

TREES

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 34 All 345
See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 83
I L R 38 Bom 716

See TIMBER

overhanging ones land—

See FORT I L R 43 Bom 184

right of removal of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Cal 815

partition of—

See JURISDICTION (CIVIL AND REVENUE)
I L R 42 All 574

whether temporary right to take

fruit of is immovable property—

See PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT 1913
I L R 1 Lah 567

growing on boundary between 2

fields—

See EASEMENTS I L R 44 Bom 606

Growth of sandalwood trees on occupancy lands subsequent to survey settle-

See FOREST ACT (VII OF 1878) s 76
cl. (c) r 2 I L R 45 Bom 110

—Right of removal of trees by tenant—Fixtures
doctrine of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)
s 25—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 2
108 (h) In the absence of any special provision in a lease granted before the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) came into force the proprietor's lease had been granted does not vest in the landlord. The rule laid down in a 108 cl (h) has no application to such a case. The lease in the present case not being for agricultural or horticultural purpose s 23 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application. The doctrine of the

TREES—contd

English Law of Fixtures cannot be appropriate extended to this country on equitable grounds.
Bain v Brand 1 App Cas 762 Meares v Callender (1901) 2 Ch 333 Ellice v Mar 2 Smiths Leading Cases 189 3 East 35 Yeas v Foca d 2 Peter 1st, referred to. The Law of Fixtures is not recognised under the Hindu or Mahomedan laws.
Thaloor Chunder Paramanick v Pamdhon
Bhattacharjee 11 B R 205 B L R F B 595
Secretary of State v Charlesworth Pilling & Co
1 J R 26 Dom 1 Akhdecram Serma v Trilochan
1 Mac Sel App 35 Jankee Singh v Bukhoor Singh (1886) Beng S D A 761 Pogose v Nyamu toolah (1858) Beng S D A 1317 Brij Bhawan
v Dabee Dyal (1863) 2 Agr S D A 450 Kulu
Perash Dutt v Couree Perash Dutt 5 B R
103 relied upon. Before the passing of the Transfer of Property Act the doctrine of the English Law of Fixtures did not prevail in this country and the provisions of that Act substantially reproduced the law on this subject as practised by Hindu and Mahomedan jurisprudence.
Ismat Kani Roushan v Aarabi Sahib 1 L P
27 Mad 211 referred to. MORIS SMITH
RASHI LAL GHOSH (1910)

I L R 37 Cal 815

TREE PATTA

Effect of cancellation
of on land pattadar—No resumption or grant to the latter—Right of tree pattadar for the trees etc
after cancellation as against land pattadar—Possibility right protection of as against trespassers.
A person who was in possession until he possessed by defendants who having no title as owners were mere trespassers is entitled to rely on his possession and succeed in a suit to eject them. Arav ana Rao v Dharmachar 1 L P 96 Mad 514 and Subbaraya Chetty v Arumugam Swar 1 L R 20 Mad 86 followed. In the absence of proof to the contrary a cancellation of patta is used by the Government in favour of the plaintiff in respect of trees standing on certain lands for which licence the patta was being issued in favour of defendants does not amount to a resumption of possession of the trees by the Government or to a grant of them by the Government to the defendants.
The only effect of cancellation of the patta for
the trees was that the Government no longer made any demand on the tree pattadar for revenue in respect of the trees. The facts that when both pattas were in existence the land pattadar was credited with whatever revenue was collected from the tree pattadar and that on cancellation of tree patta the whole revenue was payable by the land pattadar cannot amount to a grant of the trees to the land pattadar. On the rights of the tree pattadar and land pattadar
Reference under s 32 of Madras Forest Act 1 L R 12 Mad 203 and Thevar Pandiyan v Secretary of State for India 1 I R 21 Mad 433 referred to. YESHODA GOUNDAN v VARADAPPAN (1911)
I L R 38 Mad 149

TRESPASS

See ARREST OF SHIP I I R 42 Cal 85

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS—

See FARMING I L R 37 Bom 491

TRESPASS—contd

See FOOTING I L R 58 Calc 687

See GRAVE YARD I L R 40 Calc 548

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Calc 942

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I
ARTS 120 144

I L R 42 Bom 333

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 297

I L R 118 All 773

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 164

— suit for declaration by Trespasser—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 42

1 Pat L J 95

— when supported by Land lord—suit
by tenant—J

See EJECTMENT] 1 Pat L J 430

1 ———— what constitutes—The foundation of trespass is the doing of an illegal act forcibly and without legal authority as against the property of another To sustain the trespass the illegality and the wrongfulness of the act must be established by proof If the act is not illegal no right is infringed. DANAJ DAS v GOVINDA GUDI

1 Pat L J 533

2 ———— Suit for damages—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) Art 31 Sch II Jurisdiction under Where the plaintiff alleged that the defendants had trespassed upon plaintiff's land and removed his crop and assessed damages at the profit thus wrongfully obtained by defendants Held that the suit was one for damages for a single act of trespass and not exempted from the jurisdiction of the Provincial Small Cause Courts by Art 31 Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) Annarajah v Subramanyan I L R 15 Mad 298 followed and Venkoba Rao v Vithu Aiyar 18 Mad L J 88 dissented from RAMAIAH v SANTINATHA AYYAR (1912) I L R 35 Mad 726

3 ———— Right of Magistrate to order search for arms—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 96 94 96 105 Sch III (8)—Jurisdiction to issue search warrant—Arms Act (XI of 1878) s 25—Provision as to recording grounds for belief in s 25 whether mandatory or directory—Protection of Judicial Officers—Directing search where offence has been committed in judicial action—Charge of want of bona fides and malice rebutted For some time prior to 27th April 1907 much illfeeling existed in and about Jamalpore a sub division of Mymensingh between the Hindu and Mahomedan communities and much excitement and resentment had been aroused on account of the action of the Hindus in attempting some days before that date to enforce a boycott of British or foreign goods On 27th April at night a Mahomedan was wounded by a revolver shot fired by one of a party of Hindus dressed as Mahomedans who after the occurrence took refuge in some cutcherries belonging to the leading zamindars of the neighbourhood who were active sympathisers with the action of the Hindus A crowd of Mahomedans at once collected and proceeded to the cutcherries but were prevented from attacking them by the District Superintendent of Police and the Sub divisional Officer who hearing of what had occurred proceeded to the cutcherries and restrained the mob thereby averting a serious riot A large number of Hindus some of them with arms had collected in a temple close by and having bolted and barred the doors refused admittance which was demanded by the District Superintendent of Police and the Sub divisional Officer Shots were fired from inside the temple and a man in the crowd outside was wounded The District Magistrate was then sent for and on his arrival on the morning of 28th April he decided in consultation with the District Superintendent of Police and the Sub divisional Officer that it was necessary to search the cutcherries to obtain possession of the arms used on the 27th and others which it was reported to them were concealed there and also for the purpose of and in connexion with the investigation of the offences committed The cutcherries were found locked and as no officer or servant of the zamindars could be found they were broken open under the District Magistrate's orders and instructions and a search was made therein by the District Superintendent of Police and the men acting under his orders No arms of any kind were found In a suit for trespass against the District Magistrate instituted by one of the zamindars whose cutcherry had been searched—Held (reversing the decision of the first Court and of the majority of the Appellate Court and upholding the decision of BRETT J) that the search was warranted by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) A serious offence had been committed against the public tranquillity into which it was the duty of the District Magistrate to enquire and by virtue of his superior rank he was at Jamalpore the proper person to conduct the enquiry P s 36 Sch III and s 96 of the Code the power of issuing a search warrant was among his ordinary powers and therefore under s 105 he had power to direct a search to be made in his presence if he thought it advisable to do so That being so it was unnecessary to decide on the other defences set up but semble (agreeing with the majority of the Court of Appeal) that the District Magistrate not having complied with the preliminary condition prescribed by s 25 of the Arms Act (XI of 1878) could not defend his action under that Statute Also (agreeing with BRETT J) that the District Magistrate in directing a general search of the plaintiff's cutcherry in view of an enquiry under the Criminal Procedure Code was acting in the discharge of his judicial functions and had it been necessary might have appeal d for protection to Act XVIII of 1850 The charge of personal misconduct advanced and reiterated without any shadow of proof against the severest reprobation CLARKE v BRIDGE, KISHORE POY CHOWDRY (1912)

TRESPASS—contd

[1 L R 27 Cal 27

4 ———— Who may sue for trespass by owner—Title by adverse possession—If it may be allowed in the Court of Appeal in the Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 211 s 212 Adverse possession against the owner—If the owner is the proper plaintiff—If the owner is committed in respect of the land and the trespasser can only sue for trespass if the land is the pass is injurious to the owner's interest in the land and to the person who is in possession of it—Even though the land is in the possession

TRESPASS—concl

by a claim of right it is not necessarily injurious to the reversionary estate Barter v Taylor 4 Barn & Ad 72 referred to Per Woodroffe J—It is not sufficient for the plaintiff in an action in ejectment to prove possession. He must show title Per Mookerjee J—More previous possession will not entitle a plaintiff to a decree for recovery of possession except in a suit under a 9 of the Specific Relief Act Purnu Shuar v Broyolal 1 L R 17 Calc 256 Ashchand v Kanchuram 1 L R 26 Calc 579 s c 3 G W N 563 Shama Charan v Addool 3 C W N 155 and Manil Borai v Banicharan 13 C L J 619 referred to. The plaintiff may be allowed to succeed on a title by adverse possession pleaded for the first time in the Court of Appeal provided such a case arises on the facts stated in the plaint and the defendant is not taken by surprise Sundari Dassee v Modhu Chunder 1 L R 14 Cal 593 Lauderia v Meguni 1 L R 23 1 A 81 88 s c 5 C W N 513 Vajlal v Thambuswamy (1914) Mad N 784 Soma sundaram v Vndelus 1 L R 51 Mad 631 Shirokumari v Gouind Shaw 1 L R 2 Calc 413 Joytara v Mahomd Mobarrack 1 L R 9 Calc 975 and Bijoya v Dadonath 24 N R 444 referred to. To establish a title by adverse possession the plaintiff must prove enjoyment possessing the same characteristics as are necessary for presumption of a lost grant and consequently that the possession was adequate in continuity, in publicity and in extent to extinguish the title of the true owner Subramanya v Secretary of State 21 Mad L J 132 and Iadhamany v Collector of Khulna 1 L R 27 Calc 943 s c 4 C W N 593 690 referred to Per Woodroffe J—Where in a suit for declaration of title and possession the plaintiff did not in the alternative plead title by adverse possession the plaintiff cannot ask the Court to frame such an issue on appeal except by amendment and O L X 24 which authorises the Court to remodel the issues does not apply to such a case RAM CHANDRA SIL v RAMAKRANT DAS (1916)

20 C W N 773

TRESPASSER

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 102
14 C W N 812

See EJECTMENT 1 L P 37 Mad 282

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 EXCISE

1 L R 18 Mad 843

See MISFE PROFIITS 4 Pat L J 301

See PUBLIC PEJICIOUS TRUST
1 L R 41 Calc 749

purchase by—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 65 (c)

1 L R 39 Mad 959

tenant as—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 28
ART 47 1 L R 38 Mad 432

Tenants settled by trespasser—Principle of Binad Lal Pakrashi's Case of applies when tenant never got possession—Dond fides The principle of the Full Bench case of Binad Lal Pakrashi v Kolu Pramanick 1 L R

TRESPASSER—costs

20 Calc 708 is an encroachment upon the ordinary rule of law that a grantor is not competent to confer upon the grantee a better title than what he himself possesses and must be cautiously applied and is not to be extended. In order to make the principle available it is essential that the lessee should be in possession of the disputed property as de facto landlord and that in good faith he should have inducted into the land a cultivator who has accepted the settlement in good faith. Want of good faith either on the part of the lessor or the lessee makes the rule inapplicable. The principle could not be applied in favour of the plaintiff who took a lease from the owner after his interest had been sold in execution of a decree who never obtained juridical possession of the disputed property and who had to be bound down by a Criminal Court to prevent him from interfering with the possession of the defendant KRISHNA NATH CHAKRAVARTI v MANOHAR WAST (1915) 21 C W N 83

TRIAL

See CONTENT OF COURT
1 L R 45 Calc 169

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 235
AND 342 1 L R 38 Mad 303

s 369 1 L R 42 Bom 292

See JOINT TRIAL

See SUMMARY TRIAL
1 L R 39 Mad 942

a new demand for—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 367
1 L R 40 Mad 108

conduct of—

See PRESIDENTIAL MAGISTRATES
1 L R 42 Calc 313

Reduction in Bench of Magistrates during—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 16
1 L R 44 Bom 400

of an offence with the aid of assessors—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 238
1 L R 43 Bom 619

Trying cases piecemeal
—Practice condemned—Grant Firman—Leo or License—Construction—Practice Cases ought not to be tried piecemeal such a method may facilitate the disposal of a case but certainly does not conduce to the administration of justice MORIPAL SING v LALJI SING (1917)
17 C W N 166

TRIAL BY JURY

See EVIDENCE 1 L R 4 Calc 671

See JURY, TRIAL BY

See REFERENCE
1 L R 42 Calc 799

TRIAL BY JURY—contd

Charge to the Jury—
Misdirection—Omission to explain the law as to abetment—Uncertainty in the meaning of the Judge's direction relating to a confession—Omission to direct the Jury upon the evidentiary value of a retracted confession Where one accused was charged under s 52 of the Post Office Act (VI of 1898) and s 380 of the Penal Code and the other under s 52 read with s 70 of the Post Office Act and s 317 of the Penal Code and the Judge omitted to direct the Jury to consider what evidence there was of abetment and to explain the law in connection therewith—Held that the law was not adequately explained and that the omission of any explanation with regard to the charge of abetment constituted a misdirection. Abbas Padda v Queen Empress I L R 25 Cal 736 referred to. Where it did not appear clear in the charge to the Jury whether the Judge intended to require them to consider how far the statements of the accused amounted to admissions of guilt or how far they believed them to be true—Held that the uncertainty in the meaning of the charge when the statements formed a large part of the evidence against the accused was a misdirection. The omission to direct the Jury that a retracted confession should have practically no weight as against a peer on other than the maker and that the very fullest corroboration was necessary far more than was required for the sworn testimony of an accomplice on oath, held to be a serious misdirection. Fazim v King Emperor I L R 28 Cal 689 followed. HEMANTA KUMAR PATHAK v EMPEROR (1919)

I L R 47 Cal 46

Charge to the Jury—
Record of heads of charge—Directions on the law actually given to be embodied in the record—Verdict of Jury justified by the evidence—Petrial not ordered—Criminal Procedure Code (Act 5 of 1898) s 387 (5) proviso A mere statement by the Judge in the record of the heads of charge that he referred to certain sections of the Penal Code and explained the law relating thereto is insufficient. The record must itself embody the directions on the law actually given so as to enable the High Court on appeal to determine whether the constituent elements of the offence or offences charged were correctly and fully explained to the Jury. The Court however refused to direct a new trial for such defect in the record when the Jury were justified in convicting on the evidence in the case. KASIMUDDIN NASTA v EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 47 Cal 795

The law requires the Judge to record only the heads of charge to the jury but this record should be sufficient to enable the High Court to ascertain what was actually said to the jury. ABDUL GOFUR v KING EMPEROR 20 W N 596

Jury trial by—Misdirection on points of law and improper direction on facts The three accused were found guilty by the unanimous verdict of the jury two under secs 302 34 Indian Penal Code and one under ss 302 149 Indian Penal Code and further all under ss 364 148 I P C. The Sessions Judge in charging the jury said—See 34 provides that where it is doubtful which of several persons has taken the chief part in any given crime committed in furtherance of the common intention of all of them each of such persons is severally liable as if he alone had done the deed. Held—That it is necessary for the Judge to read the very words of the section itself to the Jury if he purports to give them what are the provisions of the section and then if necessary to explain what is the meaning of the section and the direction with regard to s 34 was not a proper direction. In charging the Jury as to what constitutes murder the Sessions Judge said—Murder is the intentional killing of another human being with malice aforethought. Held—That it is not the way in which Judges ought to charge the Jury in this country. It is usual to refer to the sections which relate to culpable homicide and to direct the Jury as to what is culpable homicide and in what circumstances culpable homicide amounts to murder. As to the charge under ss 302 149 the Sessions Judge charged the jury as follows—This charge is to some extent redundant and strictly applies only to one accused A for the other accused are supposed to have been the actual murderers. By s 140 A becomes a constructive murderer and liable for the substantive offence. Just as by s 34 all the accused are equally liable for the murder as though each of them had committed it single handed. Held—That this was a misdirection. Held further—That the Sessions Judge was in error in not drawing the attention of the jury to some material evidence and to the fact that many of the prosecution witnesses were related to a person who was the prime mover in the prosecution or to one another and to the discrepancies in the evidence and his direction on the evidence in one instance was not borne out by the record. That the attention of the jury should have been directed to the individual cases of the three accused. On the point of misdirection the High Court set aside the verdict of murder as regards all the accused and held that there was no misdirection as to the conviction under s 364 Indian Penal Code up to the conviction of two of the accused on that charge. It set aside the conviction of two of the accused under s 143 and upheld the conviction of the other KING EMEROR v BERAHI

TRIAL BY JURY—contd

22 C 3 N 364

TRIBAL COMMUNITY, FLATTS

See CUSTOM I L R 46 Cal 134

TRIBUNAL OF APPEAL

See BOMBAY CITY SUPR 1111, 1112, 1113, 1114, 1115, 1116, 1117, 1118, 1119, 1120, 1121, 1122, 1123, 1124, 1125, 1126, 1127, 1128, 1129, 1130, 1131, 1132, 1133, 1134, 1135, 1136, 1137, 1138, 1139, 1140, 1141, 1142, 1143, 1144, 1145, 1146, 1147, 1148, 1149, 1150, 1151, 1152, 1153, 1154, 1155, 1156, 1157, 1158, 1159, 1160, 1161, 1162, 1163, 1164, 1165, 1166, 1167, 1168, 1169, 1170, 1171, 1172, 1173, 1174, 1175, 1176, 1177, 1178, 1179, 1180, 1181, 1182, 1183, 1184, 1185, 1186, 1187, 1188, 1189, 1190, 1191, 1192, 1193, 1194, 1195, 1196, 1197, 1198, 1199, 1200, 1201, 1202, 1203, 1204, 1205, 1206, 1207, 1208, 1209, 1210, 1211, 1212, 1213, 1214, 1215, 1216, 1217, 1218, 1219, 1220, 1221, 1222, 1223, 1224, 1225, 1226, 1227, 1228, 1229, 1230, 1231, 1232, 1233, 1234, 1235, 1236, 1237, 1238, 1239, 1240, 1241, 1242, 1243, 1244, 1245, 1246, 1247, 1248, 1249, 1250, 1251, 1252, 1253, 1254, 1255, 1256, 1257, 1258, 1259, 1260, 1261, 1262, 1263, 1264, 1265, 1266, 1267, 1268, 1269, 1270, 1271, 1272, 1273, 1274, 1275, 1276, 1277, 1278, 1279, 1280, 1281, 1282, 1283, 1284, 1285, 1286, 1287, 1288, 1289, 1290, 1291, 1292, 1293, 1294, 1295, 1296, 1297, 1298, 1299, 1300, 1301, 1302, 1303, 1304, 1305, 1306, 1307, 1308, 1309, 1310, 1311, 1312, 1313, 1314, 1315, 1316, 1317, 1318, 1319, 1320, 1321, 1322, 1323, 1324, 1325, 1326, 1327, 1328, 1329, 1330, 1331, 1332, 1333, 1334, 1335, 1336, 1337, 1338, 1339, 1340, 1341, 1342, 1343, 1344, 1345, 1346, 1347, 1348, 1349, 1350, 1351, 1352, 1353, 1354, 1355, 1356, 1357, 1358, 1359, 1360, 1361, 1362, 1363, 1364, 1365, 1366, 1367, 1368, 1369, 1370, 1371, 1372, 1373, 1374, 1375, 1376, 1377, 1378, 1379, 1380, 1381, 1382, 1383, 1384, 1385, 1386, 1387, 1388, 1389, 1390, 1391, 1392, 1393, 1394, 1395, 1396, 1397, 1398, 1399, 1400, 1401, 1402, 1403, 1404, 1405, 1406, 1407, 1408, 1409, 1410, 1411, 1412, 1413, 1414, 1415, 1416, 1417, 1418, 1419, 1420, 1421, 1422, 1423, 1424, 1425, 1426, 1427, 1428, 1429, 1430, 1431, 1432, 1433, 1434, 1435, 1436, 1437, 1438, 1439, 1440, 1441, 1442, 1443, 1444, 1445, 1446, 1447, 1448, 1449, 1450, 1451, 1452, 1453, 1454, 1455, 1456, 1457, 1458, 1459, 1460, 1461, 1462, 1463, 1464, 1465, 1466, 1467, 1468, 1469, 1470, 1471, 1472, 1473, 1474, 1475, 1476, 1477, 1478, 1479, 1480, 1481, 1482, 1483, 1484, 1485, 1486, 1487, 1488, 1489, 1490, 1491, 1492, 1493, 1494, 1495, 1496, 1497, 1498, 1499, 1500, 1501, 1502, 1503, 1504, 1505, 1506, 1507, 1508, 1509, 1510, 1511, 1512, 1513, 1514, 1515, 1516, 1517, 1518, 1519, 1520, 1521, 1522, 1523, 1524, 1525, 1526, 1527, 1528, 1529, 1530, 1531, 1532, 1533, 1534, 1535, 1536, 1537, 1538, 1539, 1540, 1541, 1542, 1543, 1544, 1545, 1546, 1547, 1548, 1549, 1550, 1551, 1552, 1553, 1554, 1555, 1556, 1557, 1558, 1559, 1560, 1561, 1562, 1563, 1564, 1565, 1566, 1567, 1568, 1569, 1570, 1571, 1572, 1573, 1574, 1575, 1576, 1577, 1578, 1579, 1580, 1581, 1582, 1583, 1584, 1585, 1586, 1587, 1588, 1589, 1590, 1591, 1592, 1593, 1594, 1595, 1596, 1597, 1598, 1599, 1600, 1601, 1602, 1603, 1604, 1605, 1606, 1607, 1608, 1609, 1610, 1611, 1612, 1613, 1614, 1615, 1616, 1617, 1618, 1619, 1620, 1621, 1622, 1623, 1624, 1625, 1626, 1627, 1628, 1629, 1630, 1631, 1632, 1633, 1634, 1635, 1636, 1637, 1638, 1639, 1640, 1641, 1642, 1643, 1644, 1645, 1646, 1647, 1648, 1649, 1650, 1651, 1652, 1653, 1654, 1655, 1656, 1657, 1658, 1659, 1660, 1661, 1662, 1663, 1664, 1665, 1666, 1667, 1668, 1669, 1670, 1671, 1672, 1673, 1674, 1675, 1676, 1677, 1678, 1679, 1680, 1681, 1682, 1683, 1684, 1685, 1686, 1687, 1688, 1689, 1690, 1691, 1692, 1693, 1694, 1695, 1696, 1697, 1698, 1699, 1700, 1701, 1702, 1703, 1704, 1705, 1706, 1707, 1708, 1709, 1710, 1711, 1712, 1713, 1714, 1715, 1716, 1717, 1718, 1719, 1720, 1721, 1722, 1723, 1724, 1725, 1726, 1727, 1728, 1729, 1730, 1731, 1732, 1733, 1734, 1735, 1736, 1737, 1738, 1739, 1740, 1741, 1742, 1743, 1744, 1745, 1746, 1747, 1748, 1749, 1750, 1751, 1752, 1753, 1754, 1755, 1756, 1757, 1758, 1759, 1760, 1761, 1762, 1763, 1764, 1765, 1766, 1767, 1768, 1769, 1770, 1771, 1772, 1773, 1774, 1775, 1776, 1777, 1778, 1779, 1780, 1781, 1782, 1783, 1784, 1785, 1786, 1787, 1788, 1789, 1790, 1791, 1792, 1793, 1794, 1795, 1796, 1797, 1798, 1799, 1800, 1801, 1802, 1803, 1804, 1805, 1806, 1807, 1808, 1809, 1810, 1811, 1812, 1813, 1814, 1815, 1816, 1817, 1818, 1819, 1820, 1821, 1822, 1823, 1824, 1825, 1826, 1827, 1828, 1829, 1830, 1831, 1832, 1833, 1834, 1835, 1836, 1837, 1838, 1839, 1840, 1841, 1842, 1843, 1844, 1845, 1846, 1847, 1848, 1849, 1850, 1851, 1852, 1853, 1854, 1855, 1856, 1857, 1858, 1859, 1860, 1861, 1862, 1863, 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1870, 1871, 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, 1876, 1877, 1878, 1879, 1880, 1881, 1882, 1883, 1884, 1885, 1886, 1887, 1888, 1889, 1890, 1891, 1892, 1893, 1894, 1895, 1896, 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2101, 2102, 2103, 2104, 2105, 2106, 2107, 2108, 2109, 2110, 2111, 2112, 2113, 2114, 2115, 2116, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2120, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2124, 2125, 2126, 2127, 2128, 2129, 2130, 2131, 2132, 2133, 2134, 2135, 2136, 2137, 2138, 2139, 2140, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2145, 2146, 2147, 2148, 2149, 2150, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2154, 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 2166, 2167, 2168, 2169, 2170, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2174, 2175, 2176, 2177, 2178, 2179, 2180, 2181, 2182, 2183, 2184, 2185, 2186, 2187, 2188, 2189, 2190, 2191, 2192, 2193, 2194, 2195, 2196, 2197, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2202, 2203, 2204, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2208, 2209, 2210, 2211, 2212, 2213, 2214, 2215, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2221, 2222, 2223, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2227, 2228, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2233, 2234, 2235, 2236, 2237, 2238, 2239, 2240, 2241, 2242, 2243, 2244, 2245, 2246, 2247, 2248, 2249, 2250, 2251, 2252, 2253, 2254, 2255, 2256, 2257, 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2264, 2265, 2266, 2267, 2268, 2269, 2270, 2271, 2272, 2273, 2274, 2275, 2276, 2277, 2278, 2279, 2280, 2281, 2282, 2283, 2284, 2285, 2286, 2287, 2288, 2289, 2290, 2291, 2292, 2293, 2294, 2295, 2296, 2297, 2298, 2299, 2300, 2301, 2302, 2303, 2304, 2305, 2306, 2307, 2308, 2309, 2310, 2311, 2312, 2313, 2314, 2315, 2316, 2317, 2318, 2319, 2320, 2321, 2322, 2323, 2324, 2325, 2326, 2327, 2328, 2329, 2330, 2331, 2332, 2333, 2334, 2335, 2336, 2337, 2338, 2339, 2340, 2341, 2342, 2343, 2344, 2345, 2346, 2347, 2348, 2349, 2350, 2351, 2352, 2353, 2354, 2355, 2356, 2357, 2358, 2359, 2360, 2361, 2362, 2363, 2364, 2365, 2366, 2367, 2368, 2369, 2370, 2371, 2372, 2373, 2374, 2375, 2376, 2377, 2378, 2379, 2380, 2381, 2382, 2383, 2384, 2385, 2386, 2387, 2388, 2389, 2390, 2391, 2392, 2393, 2394, 2395, 2396, 2397, 2398, 2399, 2400, 2401, 2402, 2403, 2404, 2405, 2406, 2407, 2408, 2409, 2410, 2411, 2412, 2413, 2414, 2415, 2416, 2417, 2418, 2419, 2420, 2421, 2422, 2423, 2424, 2425, 2426, 2427, 2428, 2429, 2430, 2431, 2432, 2433, 2434, 2435, 2436, 2437, 2438, 2439, 2440, 2441, 2442, 2443, 2444, 2445, 2446, 2447, 2448, 2449, 2450, 2451, 2452, 2453, 2454, 2455, 2456, 2457, 2458, 2459, 2460, 2461, 2462, 2463, 2464, 2465, 2466, 2467, 2468, 2469, 2470, 2471, 2472, 2473, 2474, 2475, 2476, 2477, 2478, 2479, 2480, 2481, 2482, 2483, 2484, 2485, 2486, 2487, 2488, 2489, 2490, 2491, 2492, 2493, 2494, 2495, 2496, 2497, 2498, 2499, 2500, 2501, 2502, 2503, 2504, 2505, 2506, 2507, 2508, 2509, 2510, 2511, 2512, 2513, 2514, 2515, 2516, 2517, 2518, 2519, 2520, 2521, 2522, 2523, 2524, 2525, 2526, 2527, 2528, 2529, 2530, 2531, 2532, 2533, 2534, 2535, 2536, 2537, 2538, 2539, 2540, 2541, 2542, 2543, 2544, 2545, 2546, 2547, 2548, 2549, 2550, 2551, 2552, 2553, 2554, 2555, 2556, 2557, 2558, 2559, 2560, 2561, 2562, 2563, 2564, 2565, 2566, 2567, 2568, 2569, 2570, 2571, 2572, 2573, 2574, 2575, 2576, 2577, 2578, 2579, 2580, 2581, 2582, 2583, 2584, 2585, 2586, 2587, 2588, 2589, 2590, 2591, 2592, 2593, 2594, 2595, 2596, 2597, 2598, 2599, 2600, 2601, 2602, 2603, 2604, 2605, 2606, 2607, 2608, 2609, 2610, 2611, 2612, 2613, 2614, 2615, 2616, 2617, 2618, 2619, 2620, 2621, 2622, 2623, 2624, 2625, 2626, 2627, 2628, 2629, 2630, 2631, 2632, 2633, 2634, 2635, 2636, 2637, 2638, 2639, 2640, 2641, 2642, 2643, 2644, 2645, 2646, 2647, 2648, 2649, 2650, 2651, 2652, 2653, 2654, 2655, 2656, 2657, 2658, 2659, 2660, 2661, 2662, 2663, 2664, 2665, 2666, 2667, 2668, 2669, 2670, 2671, 2672, 2673, 2674, 2675, 2676, 2677, 2678, 2679, 2680, 2681, 2682, 2683, 2684, 2685, 2686, 2687, 2688, 2689, 2690, 2691, 2692, 2693, 2694, 2695, 2696, 2697, 2698, 2699, 2700, 2701, 2702, 2703, 2704, 2705, 2706, 2707, 2708, 2709, 2710, 2711, 2712, 2713, 2714, 2715, 2716, 2717, 2718, 2719, 2720, 2721, 2722, 2723, 2724, 2725, 2726, 2727, 2728, 2729, 2730, 2731, 2732, 2733, 2734, 2735, 2736, 2737, 2738, 2739, 2740, 2741, 2742, 2743, 2744, 2745, 2746, 2747, 2748, 2749, 2750, 2751, 2752, 2753, 2754, 2755, 2756, 2757, 2758, 2759, 2760, 2761, 2762, 2763, 2764, 2765, 2766, 2767, 2768, 2769, 2770, 2771, 2772, 2773, 2774, 2775, 2776, 2777, 2778, 2779, 2780, 2781, 2782, 2783, 2784, 2785, 2786, 2787, 2788, 2789, 2790, 2791, 2792, 2793, 2794, 2795, 2796, 2797, 2798, 2799, 2800, 2801, 2802, 2803, 2804, 2805, 2806, 2807, 2808, 2809, 2810, 2811, 2812, 2813, 2814, 2815, 2816, 2817, 2818, 2819, 2820, 2821, 2822, 2823, 2824, 2825, 2826, 2827, 2828, 2829, 2830, 2831, 2832, 2833, 2834, 2835, 2836, 2837, 2838, 2839, 2840, 2841, 2842, 2843, 2844, 2845, 2846, 2847, 2848, 2849, 2850, 2851, 2852, 2853, 2854,

TRUST—contd

- See CONTRACT I L R 38 Mad 788
 See COURT FEES ACT 1870 SCH III
 (ART) 2 Pat L J 611
 See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
 L R 46 I A 204
 See KHOJA MAHOMEDAN'S
 I L R 36 Bom 214
 See LIMITATION ACT (I) OF 1908 s 10
 SCH I ARTS 14 120
 I L R 39 Bom 572
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT
 I L R 28 All 627
 I L R 41 Bom 372
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST
 I L R 34 Bom 604
 See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF
 I L R 42 Calc 933
 See MORTGAGE I L R 38 All 209
 See PUBLIC TRUST
 I L R 42 Mad 335
 See RESULTING TRUST
 I L R 40 Bom 341
 See SUCCESSION ACT (I) OF 1865 s 190
 I L R 38 Bom 618
 See TATQPAN I L R 33 All 125
 See TRUSTEE
 See TRUSTS ACT (II) OF 1882 s 88
 I L R 34 All 308
 See TRUST FUND
 See WILL I L R 38 All 214

1 ——— Deed of trust construction of —Uncertainty—Gift for religious acts (dharma karmarthi) and for religious purposes (dharma d'she)—Works of public good—Discretion of trustee A settler by a deed of trust in the Bengali language after declaring that for religious acts (dharma karmarthi) with a desire for the spiritual benefit of the deceased forefathers and to please Vishnu she made over the properties covered by the deed for religious purposes (dharma d'she) proceeded to direct that certain Thaloors should be worshipped and maintained and the annual Durgotsab performed out of the income of the trust estate and further by the sixth clause of the trust deed provided that out of the income which should remain after incurring the expenses aforesaid a sum not exceeding one thousand rupees should be applied in supporting the poor the blind and the destitute and in imparting education in upanayan (assumption of the sacred thread ceremony) in removing marriage difficulties (getting girls married) or in works of public good It was to be paid at the discretion of the trustee towards dispensaries hospitals charitable societies schools or any students' education feeding of the poor etc marriage upanayan etc excavation and consecration of tanks etc in villages having a dearth of water or in the construction and consecration of ghats and maths The trustee for the time being had under the deed discretion to render assistance beyond a thousand rupees and had also full power to decide where or for whose education upanayan or for whose daughter's marriage the same should be applied Held that such directions as were contained in the sixth clause of the trust deed were void and inoperative for vague and uncertainty Trikumdas Damodhar v Haridas Morari I L R 31 Bom 583 Grimond (for Macintyre) v Grimond (1905) A C 124 Bel Chadunba v Dady Nusserwanj Dady I L R 26 Bom 632 Williams v Kerehaw 5 Cl & F 111 Surbomungola Dabey v Mohendranath Nath I L R 4 Calc 508 and Runchordas Chandras v Paratibai I L R 23 Bom 725 L P 261 A 71, referred to SARAT CHANDRA GHOSE v PRATAP CHANDRA GHOSE (1912) I L R 40 Calc 239

TRUST—contd

2 ——— Scheme of management of a temple made by the High Court—Provision in its decree for modification of scheme by itself and for lower Court carrying out modification so made—Application to lower Court for directions involving modification of scheme—Competence of lower Court to entertain such application Under a decree of the High Court the petitioner was appointed High Priest of a temple and the opposite party and another person members of a committee thereafter on the application of one of the members of the committee the High Court amended its decree in so far as it gave liberty to any person interested to apply to the High Court for any modification of the scheme that might appear necessary or convenient and to apply to the District Judge with reference to the carrying out of the directions of the High Court on such application Subsequently the members of the committee applied to the District Judge for such directions on the petitioner as involved a modification of the scheme Held that the application could be entertained only by the High Court UNESHWANANDA DUTTA JHA v RAYANESWAR PRASAD SINGH (1912) 17 C W N 841

3 ——— Deed of trust construction of—Scheme of Management—Superintendent of—cestus que trust—Trustee's power of dismissal by—Contract of service—Perpetual injunction—Specific Relief Act (I) of 1877 s 21 (b) and 54 A donor by an arpanama or deed of trust transferred certain property to trustees for religious and charitable uses The deed provided inter alia that there should be a superintendent of the trust properties subject to the control of the trustees It was further provided that the superintendent should be the executive band of the trustees should supervise the management of the property which were to be registered in his name in the Collectorate summon meetings of the trustees and keep accounts and submit them to the trustees The first superintendent was to be appointed by himself and after his death or relinquishment of office the superintendent was to be appointed by the trustees No express power of dismissal was given to the trustees by the deed Held that a superintendent appointed by the trustees under the foregoing power was not a cestus que trust but was the servant of the trustees and that if dismissed by them he had no right to an injunction restraining the trustees from interfering with his enjoyment of the rights and privileges of such superintendent as in the deed of trust provided Dean v Bennett L R 6 Ch App 489 Wills v Child 13 Bear 117 Attorney General v Magdalen College Oxford 10 Bear 402 and Whiston v Dean and Chapter of Poche 10 Bear 532 referred to Davgers v River 15 Bear 233 distinguished The position of each a superintendent is not analogous to that of a shebait or mutawil. Nanabhai v Shriman Govaram Girdhary, 1 L R 12 Bom 331. Govaram Shri Girdhary v Vadkordas Premji, 1 L R 17 Bom 600 and Gulam Hussain v Ali Ajam & Mad H C 40 referred to Held further that the contract of service between the superintendent and the trustees was governed by s 21 (b) of the Specific Relief Act and an injunction should therefore not be granted in respect of it under s 54. A power of appointment ordinarily involves a power of dismissal. RAM CHANDR BHATTAI v RAKHAL DAS MOOKELIFE (1913)

TRUST—contd

I L R 41 Cal 19
17 C W N 1045

4 ———— Trust charitable—construction of conditional gift—cyprus doctrine—To determine the true construction of a deed of settlement regard must be had to the object and scope of the instrument judged if necessary by surrounding circumstances. Where a charitable gift is made upon a condition precedent the gift fails if the condition is not satisfied. To attract the cyprus doctrine an absolute declaration of intention to give a charity must be established. SHEEMATTY SANTOYA ROY v THE ADVOCATE GENERAL BENGAL
25 C W N 344

5 ———— Court's power to sanction sale of trust property—Voluntary settlement—Sale of trust property—Trustees having no express power to sell immovable property—Remainder estate in favour of issue of the tenant for life—Trustees contracting to sell immovable property with the consent of beneficiaries living—Such consent not sufficient as issue may include unborn children or grand-children of the tenant for life—Sanction of Court to a sale by trustees under its extraordinary jurisdiction—Sanction given in a case of emergency—The Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882) ss 40 36 40 An immovable property in Bombay was settled in trust in February 1896 by a Parsee lady since deceased the trustees being her two daughters S and R. The trusts were for the settlor for life with remainder as to one moiety for R for life with remainder for the issue of the body of the said R in the shares prescribed by law as if the said R had died possessed of the said share in estate leaving such issue only as her right heirs and in default of such issue upon the trusts hereinafter declared in regard to the other half. The other moiety went to the other daughter S for life with a limitation over to her issue similar to that contained as regards P's moiety. There was an ultimate gift over of all the property to charity in case there should be no person living entitled to take the said premises under the trusts herebefore declared. In March 1918 the trustees entered into an agreement of sale of the property at a fairly advantageous price. All the beneficiaries living at the date of the agreement namely A S and her six children had consented to the sale. The trust instrument itself did not contain a power of sale and the purchasers did not accept the title without the sanction of the Court. The trustees accordingly presented a petition to the Court asking for sanction. It was urged that ss 40 and 36 of the Indian Trusts Act II of 1882 enabled the trustees to effect such a sale or in the alternative that the case was one of emergency not foreseen by the author of the trust. The property stood at the corner of two streets and was liable to a set back under Municipal Regulations and if the set back arose it would be very seriously depreciated. The property further needed heavy repairs and was defective in regards sanitary conveniences. The trustees apprehended that they might be served any moment with a sanitary notice which might result in a set back being enforced. Held (i) that the proposed sale could not be said to have been consented to by all the beneficiaries interested under the trust instrument appearing before the Court inasmuch as it was possible that when the settlement came finally to be construed and the trusts wound up some child or grandchild born hereafter might be entitled to a share in the property (ii) that the present case however was one of emergency not foreseen or anticipated by the author of the trust and the sale though not provided for by the trust instrument ought in the interests of all the beneficiaries concerned to be sanctioned by the Court in the exercise of its extraordinary jurisdiction (iii) that the extraordinary jurisdiction of the Court to sanction a sale of immovable property in the absence of a power of sale in that behalf in the trust instrument is of an extremely delicate character and should be exercised with the greatest caution. In re New (1901) 2 Ch 534 and In re Tollemache (1903) 1 Ch 457 955 referred to. In re SHIRINBAI MERWANJI (1918)

TRUST—contd

I L R 43 Bom 519

TRUST DEED

See STAMP ACT 1899 s 2 (24) SCH I
ART 7 I L R 35 Bom 444

TRUST ENDOWMENT

Held that possession of a portion of endowment property by other persons who pay over and apportion revenue to different purposes of the trust is not incompatible with the position of general trustee but may be adverse to him. AMBALARANA PANDARA SAUNDHI AVERAL v SRI MEENAKSHI SUNDARESWARAL DASAR PANDAM
25 C W N 1

TRUST PROPERTY

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

L R 46 I A 250

See TRUSTEE

I L R 38 Mad 71

Permanent lease not void ab initio A permanent lease of trust lands is not void ab initio it is only voidable. KADIE MASTAN POWTHER v SENGUMMAL (1906)
I L R 43 Mad 433

Suit for account by trustee against trustee de son tort—Intermeddling when there is a personal representative—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 10 applicability to suit for accounts in respect of trust property—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 100—Continuous obligation The Plaintiff and another person as executors and trustees appointed by the Will of a Hindu lady took out probate but the estate was administered by the latter alone during his life time and on his death in 1900 by his son and by his grandsons the Defendants on the death of his son. In 1910 the Plaintiff sued the Defendants for accounts. Held—That the Defendants were in the position of a trustee de son tort.

TRUST PROPERTY—contd

and it was not open to them to deny their liability as such or to contend that they were trespassers and could not therefore be liable to render accounts. The rule of English law that no liability as executor de son tort can arise where there is a personal representative did not apply in this case where Plaintiff the rightful executor took no part in the administration when the Defendants were intermeddling with the estate Aaravanasami v Eia Abbay I I A 23 Mad 301 (1905) referred to. That the trustee represents the cestus que trust and the suit for accounts at the instance of the Plaintiff was maintainable against the Defendants. That under the present Limitation Act a suit for accounts in respect of trust property comes under s 10 and a trustee de son tort stands in the same position as an express trustee. That the claim for accounts for six years prior to the institution of the suit would be saved by Art 120 of the Limitation Act of 1877. The obligation of a trustee to account being continuous Hell. That the suit was barred as to the Defendants dealings with the trust property from 1900 to 1903 but was not barred as to their dealings from 1904. Dhanraj Simon Khettry v Monesh Nath Tewari

24 C W N 752

TRUSTEE

See CHURCH I L R 38 Mad 418

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s 92 I L R 37 Mad 184
I L R 40 Bom 439See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) s 10
I L R 35 Bom 49

SCH II ART 120

I L R 38 Mad 280

See MORTGAGE 14 C W N 579

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) s 11 I L R 38 Mad 1176

See TRUSTS AND MORTGAGES POWERS ACT I L R 35 Bom 380

— alienation by—

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 231

— alienee of—

See PARTIES I L R 42 Calc 1185

— appointment of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 43 Calc 1085

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT ACT (XX of 1863) s 11 14 C W N 1104 — compromise of suit by—

See TRUSTEE I L R 39 Mad 116

— death of pending appeal—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) ss 92 and 93
I L R 35 Mad 1064

— liability of on hand—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT s 26 27 28 I L R 41 Mad 815

— line of failure of—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT
I L R 40 Mad 612TRUSTEE—contd

— loan by—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 37 Calc 1, 9

— of a temple in Malabar—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1908) Sec
I Art 124 I L R 41 Mad 4

— of charitable inams—

See CHARITABLE INAMS
I L R 40 Mad 839

— power of dismissal by—

See TRUST I L R 41 Calc 19

— suit against—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1908) s 10
I L R 41 Mad 319

— suit by against co trustee—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s 92 I L R 40 Bom 439

— suit for recovery of office of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act XII of 1882) s 530
I L R 38 Mad 384

— suit to remove—

See PARTIES I L R 42 Calc 1185

— transfer by—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT
I L R 47 Calc 886

1 — Powers of investment of—
Investment by trustees, who are members of a firm in the firm under direction of cestus que trust—
Firm does not hold the money in a fiduciary capacity—
Indian Trusts Act s 51 Where the settlor appoints the members of a banking firm as trustees and directs them to invest the trust funds with the firm in deposit account without any directions which would constitute the firm a trustee such funds are when invested, held by the firm as its own property and the relation between the firm on the one hand and the trustees and settlor on the other is merely that of debtor and creditor. On the bankruptcy of the firm such amount cannot be recovered in full but can only be proved as a debt. The doctrine cannot be used in the Trusts Act that a trustee cannot use trust funds for his own profit does not apply where the settlor directs such use. In re Estate of Corbridge L R 4 Ch D 416 referred to. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS & KARAIKAL NAIDU (1909) I L R 33 Mad 134

2 — Trustee mixing trust money with his own—Indian Insolvent Act II s 10 Act c XXI s 21—Voluntary payment. By a resolution dated 31st July 1906 the Directors of the Madras Equitable Insurance Company resolved that a sum of Rs 25,000 standing to the credit of the company with Messrs Arbutnot & Co its secretaries and Treasurers should be invested in Government promissory notes. Messrs Arbutnot & Co purchased for the Insurance Company Rs 25,000 of Government promissory notes on 7th August 1906 Rs 25,000 on 20th October 1906 and Rs 10,000 on 20th October 1906 the securities being credited to the Insurance Company. On 2nd October 1906 Arbutnot & Co failed. Hell that Arbutnot & Co failed.

TRUSTEE—contd

the securities as trustees for the Insurance Company which was entitled to rank as a secured creditor Held also that the fact that Arbuthnot & Co before purchasing the Government promissory notes mixed up the Insurance Company's money with their own and used it in their banking business did not amount to misappropriation of the money the trust having a lien on the aggregate amount in the hands of the trustee and any sum which may have been drawn for the trustee's own use being deemed to have been taken out of his own money Held further that even if Arbuthnot & Co could be held to have misappropriated the trust money a subsequent payment in reparation by them would not amount to a voluntary payment within the meaning of s. 24 of the Indian Insolvency Act (1843) 11 & 12 Vict Cap XVI RANSAI & Co v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNOR of MADRAS (1912) I L R 35 Mad 712

3 ——— Breach of trust—Liability in damages—Failure to trust invest funds in authorised securities—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1832) s 20—Failure of unauthorised security—Degree of care and prudence—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1832) ss 15 and 20—Fund to be applied immediately or at an early date—Construction of—Fund payable to minor if payable to guardian—Liability of trustee for interest—Interest on damages—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1832) ss 41 and 23 A testator appointed certain persons as trustees and directed them to realise an amount payable by the Oriental Life Assurance Company and to pay a sum of Rs 200 to his brother another sum of Rs 400 to his daughter for her bride's jewels and the remainder to his minor son. The trustees realise the amount due from the Insurance Company and after paying Rs 200 to the testator's brother invested the balance on one year's fixed deposit with Messrs Arbuthnot & Co who were then believed to be in very good credit. After the deposit had been renewed several times Messrs Arbuthnot & Co became insolvent and the trust fund was lost. The plaintiff who was appointed by the Court as trustee in the place of the defendants (who were the previous trustees appointed under the will) brought this suit against the latter for damages for loss of the trust funds by reason of their breach of trust. The District Judge decreed damages against the defendants who preferred a Second Appeal to the High Court. Held that the defendants were liable in damages for breach of trust. As regards the amount payable to the minor son it could not be applied for the purposes of the trust immediately or at an early date as the trustees could not pay the money to the minor until the attainment of his majority nor could it be paid to the guardian of the minor during minority. § 41 of the Trusts Act permits payment to the guardian only of the income of the property. The specific provisions contained in the other sections of the Indian Trusts Act are as obligatory as the general provisions of s 15 of the said Act. The defendants were bound to invest the trust moneys in the securities specified in s 20 of the Indian Trusts Act and having failed to do so they must be held to have committed a breach of trust although they had acted honestly and with the prudence which an ordinary man would exercise in the conduct of his own affairs. A trustee guilty of breach of trust by not investing trust funds as required by s 20 of the Indian Trusts Act is not exempted by s 15 thereof from liability in damages. The Indian Courts have not been given the power (conferred by statutes in England) to protect trustees in any case where a clear breach of trust has been committed. Where a trustee invests money in an unauthorized security this must be treated as tantamount to failure to invest within the terms of s 23 cl (c) of the Trusts Act and he is liable to pay interest under that section. It may be doubted whether the rule disentitling the beneficiary to interest except in the cases enumerated in s 23 could be applied where the trust money has been lost in an unauthorized investment. The Court should have power in such cases to award interest as damages. TRIVIPATRAYUDU NAIDU v LAKSHMINARASANA (1912) I L R 38 Mad 71

TRUSTEE—contd

4 ——— Powers improperly and unreasonably exercised—Liability of transferee of trust estate—Compromise of suit by trustee—Decree ordering party benefiting by breach of trust to repay benefit—Compromise where minor is party to suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 462 In the suit out of which this appeal arose the plaintiff (respondent) was the minor Raja of Ramnad. The first defendant (appellant) was a creditor of the late Raja and the party in whose favour the three instruments which the suit sought to set aside were made. The second defendant was the trustee appointed under a deed of settlement executed by the late Raja on 12th July 1895. The suit was brought for a declaration that an agreement of 16th January 1899 between the appellant and the trustee and two mortgages of 6th and 13th July 1899 executed by the trustee in favour of the appellant were invalid and for an order that a sum of Rs 43,000 paid under those instruments should be repaid by the appellant to the credit of the trust estate. The validity of the deeds was largely dependent on the consideration of whether the trustee under the voluntary settlement of 12th July 1895 had power to give a mortgage bond for four lakhs of rupees on the security of a suitable portion of the Ramnad estate to the then Raja of Ramnad. Held by the Judicial Committee (upholding the decision of the High Court) that on the evidence and the construction of the settlement and under the circumstances of the case the power of the trustee was not exercised properly and reasonably and in the interest of the trust estate that the deed of compromise was therefore not valid and that being so the mortgages could not be regarded as valid and binding on the properties therein comprised. Their Lordships concurred in the conclusions of the High Court both as to the validity of the deed of compromise and of the two mortgages and as to the amount of the payment ordered to be made by the appellant to the credit of the trust estate. Even if the deed of compromise could be supported on other grounds it was invalid as not complying with the condition imposed by s 462 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 in that one of the parties to the suit being a minor the sanction of the Court to the making of the compromise had not been obtained. Manohar Lal v Jodh Nath Singh I L R 28 All 555 559 L R 33 I A 198 131 Per Lord MACGREGOR and Concedo Per v

TRUSTEE—contd

Tuljaram Row I L R 36 Mad 295 L R 40 I A 132 followed SUBRAMANIAN CHETTIAR & PAJA RAJESWARA DORAI (1916)

I L R 39 Mad 115

TRUSTEES AND MORTGAGEES POWERS ACT (XXVII OF 1866)

— § 3—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 37 Calc 870

— ss 8 20 32—

See RECEIVER I L R 43 Calc 124

— § 43—

Trust deed—Application by trustees to divert funds to other objects—Trusts opinion—Cypres doctrine The surviving trustees of a fund founded with the object of distributing food amongst such poor persons as might assemble at certain stated times and places petitioned the Court under s 43 of the Trustees and Mortgagees Powers Act to divert the fund to more useful purposes on the grounds that in their opinion the charity tended to pauperise the recipients thereof and to encourage thriftlessness and laziness and vagrancy and to produce other undesirable results that the donor's intention was to benefit the poor of Bombay and the best way to carry out his intention would be to devote the trust funds to the education of poor boys Held that the application was entirely misconceived so far as the Act was concerned as the word trustees has been deleted in s 43 of the Trustees and Mortgagees Powers Act of 1882 Even if the Act applied the Court could not under s 43 do more than give advice or directions It could not pass any order which would in any way alter the duties of the trustees under the trust deed Held further on the merits of the application that the trustees had no justification for coming to the Court to try and get their duties under the trust deed altered according to their ideas of what was fit and proper In re Weyr Hospital (1910) 2 Ch 124 referred to In re CURIMBOY EBRAHIM BART (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 380

— § 45—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 37 Calc 870

TRUSTEE DE FACTO

See TRUSTEE OF A TEMPLE

I L R 40 Mad 456

TRUSTEE IN BANKRUPTCY

See INSOLVENCY I L R 38 Calc 542

TRUSTEE OF TEMPLE

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT ss 42

I L R 38 Mad 452

See TRUSTEE

— and Temple Committees respective rights of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 I L R 40 Mad 212

1 ———— Delegation of powers of trustee—Power to appoint and dismiss hereditary temple servants—Delegation of such

TRUSTEE OF TEMPLE—contd

power to an agent whether valid—Dismissal of archaka by agent whether valid A trustee of a temple cannot appoint an agent to do acts which involve the exercise of judicial discretion by himself He cannot therefore delegate to an agent his power of appointing and dismissing hereditary temple servants who cannot be dismissed without sufficient cause being established Krishnamachari v Rangachari (1893) I L R 16 Mad 73 referred to PARASURAMA UDAYAR & THIRUMAL ROW SAHIB (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 636

2 ————

Trustees of Temple powers of suspend hereditary archakas—Suspension otherwise a justifiable not bad for want of previous notice—Archaka a servant subject to the disciplinary power of trustees—Power of interim suspension incidental to trustee's power to enquire and dismiss for misconduct The position of the hereditary archaka of a temple is that of a servant subject to the disciplinary power of the trustee The trustee of a temple has power to inquire into the conduct of such servants and dismiss them for misconduct The right of interim suspension pending such inquiry is incidental to such power and no notice is required for an ad interim suspension pending enquiry Even if such notice is deemed necessary the order of suspension will not be set aside if misconduct is proved at the enquiry be set aside if misconduct is proved at the enquiry by the hereditary archaka can be dismissed by the trustee but only for good reasons on which are liable to examination by a Court of Justice See HADEI ARYANGAR & RANGA BHATTAR (1919)

I L R 35 Mad. 631

3 ————

Transfer of management—Void or voidable—Setting aside if necessary—Suit by trustees to recover temple properties and for account—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 91 or 124 applicability of—Some trustees joined as defendants—Denial of their title by plaintiffs—Abandonment of the denial—Decree in favour of plaintiffs and defendants if can be given—De facto trustees—Expenses during management—Right for reimbursement—Right to retain possession of trust property—Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882) s 3—Decree for possession and for account—Provision for account of expenses incurred in the final decree The plaintiffs who were the hukdars (trustees) of a temple brought the suit on the 30th January 1911 to recover the possession of the temple properties from the defendants to whom the trustees had made over the management of the temple under an agreement dated 21st June 1901 The plaintiffs alleged in the plaint that the ninth and the tenth defendants (who were also originally hukdars) had lost their right to the office owing to their neglect to discharge its duties and that they were joined as defendants merely because they asserted a right to it But at the trial in the original Court the plaintiffs abandoned this contention The defendants contended inter alia that the suit was bad for non joinder of all the trustees as the plaintiffs and was barred under art 91 of the Limitation Act and that the defendants were entitled to be reimbursed out of the trust properties for expenses properly incurred by them during their management and to retain possession of the properties until they were reimbursed The lower Court passed a decree in favour of the

TRUSTEE OF TEMPLE—contd

plaintiffs and the ninth and the tenth defendants for possession and a preliminary decree for accounts against the defendants Held that the objection as to non joinder was not sustainable, but that a decree could be passed in favour of the plaintiffs and the ninth and the tenth defendants as trustees with the consent of the latter and the other defendants Kokilasari Das v Mohuni Rudranand Goswami 5 C L J 577 distinguished. The transfer to the defendants being void did not require to be set aside. Art 91 of the Limitation Act did not apply to the suit but Art 124 was the Article that was applicable and under that Article the suit was not barred Malkarjun v Varhari 1 I L R 5 Bom 337 followed Gnanasambhanda Pandara Sannadhi v Velu Pandaram 1 I L R 23 Mad 371 explained Sidhu Sahu v Gopucharan 17 C L J 233 referred to. A trustee of a public charitable endowment like a trustee of a private trust is entitled to reimburse himself all expenses properly incurred in connection with the trust and has a first charge enforceable only by prohibiting any disposition of the trust property without previous payment of such expenses—not that it is to say in the ordinary way by sale of the property subject to such charge. It is the duty of the Court specially in the case of a public charitable trust to take the trust property out of the possession of persons not entitled to hold it while making due provision for any claims that they may have in respect of expenditure properly incurred in connection therewith Held consequently that the defendants were not entitled to retain possession of the suit properties but that the preliminary decree should direct that accounts should be taken as to what was due to the defendants from the trust leaving it to be determined by the final decree how such claim if established should be enforced NARAYANAN LAKSHMIANAN (1916)

1 I L R 39 B.L. 456

4

Suspension from office of an hereditary archaka—Order passed without notice in archaka or previous inquiry whether valid—Order ad interim continued for an unreasonable long time whether legal—Punitive order of suspension whether valid without notice Where the trustees of a temple suspended an hereditary archaka of the temple from his office on account of certain imputations of misconduct made against him without giving him notice or making any inquiry previous to passing such order and no subsequent inquiry was made by them for fourteen months after the date of the order whereupon the latter brought a suit to recover his office and damages for wrongful suspension Held that the order of suspension pending inquiry into alleged misconduct should not have been continued in force for a longer period than was reasonably necessary that in this case the delay of fourteen months between the date of the order and the institution of the suit being unreasonable the order as an ad interim order ceased to be valid before the date of the suit and that the order viewed as a punitive order was invalid as having been passed without notice and inquiry whatever the merits of the case might be Thiru ramdasa Desaiar v Manikarachala Desaiar 1 I L R 40 Mad 177 and Venkatarayana Pillai v Ponnuvanni Nadar 1 I L R 41 Mad 357 followed Willis v Sir G Gifford & Moore 379

TRUSTEE OF TEMPLE—contd

applied Seshadri Iyengar v Ranga Bhattar 1 I L R 35 Mad 631 distinguished Held further that out of the temple funds the plaintiff was entitled to recover damages due to him as the trustees in passing the order of suspension and continuing it acted in their capacity as trustees and in what they conceived to be the proper discharge of their duties on behalf of the temple JAGANNATHA ACHARIAR v SESHU BHATTACHARIAR (1919) 1 I L R 42 Mad 618

TRUSTEES OF CASTE FUNDS

See TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1889) s 5 AND 6
1 I L R 84 Fcm 467

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1889)

----- s 3 and 6—

See MORTGAGE 24 C W N 769

----- s 5—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 60 1 I L R 37 Fcm 41

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) SCH I ART 22 1 I L R 38 Fcm 676

----- Trust declared outside British India—Proceedings in British Indian Courts—Decreed mortgagee retaining mortgaged share as trustee for mortgagee—Notice of assignment by mortgagee—Death of mortgagee before registration of transfer in assigree—Validity of trust—Completion of gift though her agent T mortgaged a share in the Bank of Bombay with P. Later she directed T to redeem it and have it transferred by way of gift to her two nephews. It was redeemed and a transfer form was signed by P in favour of the nephews but the Bank declined to register it on the ground that the transferees were minors. A thereupon directed that it should be transferred to the names of T and M jointly as trustees for the minors. A transfer was accordingly signed by P in favour of T and M and this was duly registered by the Bank. The day before it was lodged with the Bank for registration A died. It was contended that the gift was imperfect and the trust in favour of the nephews invalid. Held that as the trust was set up in a British Indian Court the Indian Trusts Act applied although both A and P were living and domiciled in British India (i.e. outside British India) when A declared her wishes regarding the share. Held further that A had an equitable interest in the share and that the mortgage having been discharged P the registered proprietor held the legal title as trustee and was bound to deal with it as T or his principal. A should direct. Held further that the share had passed out of the control of A before her death the certificate as well as the transfer being in the hands or under the control of T to whom her desire to benefit the minors had been communicated and that the legal holder P having notice and having signed a transfer in favour of the minors before A's death could only convey for their benefit and had subsequently done so to the trustees desired by A. Held therefore that the trust was valid and the gift complete. MAHOMED DEVECHAND v THEOMAN VINCAND (1911) 1 I L R 26 Fcm 306

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882)—contd

ss 5 and 6—

See DEPOSIT I L R 35 Bom 403

Ca to fund—Trustee of caste funds—Extent of right to inspect documents—Demand and refusal—Jurisdiction of Civil Courts in caste questions—Application of Indian Trusts Act (II of 1882) ss 5 and 6 to creation of trusts of caste funds—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) s 151 As a result of dissensions in a Hindu caste a suit was filed by the plaintiff a trustee of certain caste funds and member of the Managing Committee, against the defendant a co trustee and the President of that Committee. The plaintiff prayed for a declaration that he had the right to inspect all books and documents of the Mahajan Managing Committee Sub Committee and Trustees and for an injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with him in the exercise of such right. The only two documents about which there was any real controversy were the minutes of the Sub Committee and the correspondence file of the Mahajan. Held that as trustees of the Derasar and Sadharan funds, the plaintiff had no right either in law or by virtue of any caste rules to the roving inspection claimed. Bank of Bombay v Suleman I L R 32 Bom 466 474, referred to. Held further that the Mahajan fund of this caste being a purely secular fund the Indian Trusts Act applied and the plaintiff could not claim to have been made a trustee of that fund merely by virtue of a caste resolution and his own letter of acceptance. Held further on the evidence that there had been no express demand addressed by the plaintiff to the proper quarter and no refusal by the defendant such as would be necessary to enable a suit of this character to succeed. Held further that where rights to property are not involved all matters of internal management must be left to the decision of the caste. The question in dispute was in reality a question between the caste and a section apparently a small section of the caste led by the plaintiff and as such it was outside the Court's jurisdiction in accordance with the decision in Nemchand v Savaschand I L R 6 Bom 84 F N, Lalji Shamji v Walji Wardhaman I L R 19 Bom 507 referred to and distinguished. Held lastly that when according to well established principles certain questions have been removed from the jurisdiction of the Court they cannot be brought within the jurisdiction under s 151 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). JETHABHAI NARSAY CHAPSEY COOPERJI (1903) I L R 34 Bom 467

s 10—

See TRUST PROPERTY

24 C W N 752

ss 15 and 20—

See TRUSTEE I L R 38 Mad 71

ss 30 and 40—

See TRUST I L R 43 Bom 519

See TRUSTEE I L R 38 Mad 71

s 22—

See TRUSTEES OF A TEMPLE.

I L R 39 Mad 456

s 36—Lease by trustee—Lease by trustee for term exceeding twenty years not void but only voidable. A lease by a trustee for a term

TRUSTS ACT (II OF 1882)—*contd*s 36—contd

exceeding twenty years is not void and illegal under s 36 of the Indian Trusts Acts, but only voidable at the instance of the cestui que trust. KADR IBRAHIM POWTNEY v ARUNACHELLAM CHETTIAR (1903) I L R 33 Mad. 387

ss 38 and 40—

See TRUST I L R 43 Bom 519

ss 41 and 42—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 54 I L R 41 Bom 439

s 42—

See CHARITABLE TRUST I L R 39 Mad. 597

s 51—

See TRUSTEE POWERS OF INVESTMENT OF I L R 33 Mad 154

ss 80 to 86—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 Art 91 I L R 38 Mad. 321

s 83—

See SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN OR TRUSTS I L R 40 Bom 341

ss 88, 89, 90, 91 and 96—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 91 I L R 3 Mad. 310

s 88—

See IVAN I L R 42 Mad 181
See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT I L R 41 AU. 635

*Trust—Trustee entering into dealings in which his own interest may come into conflict with his duty as trustee—Purchase of mortgaged deed comprising property belonging to the trustee of purchase to the trust. A member of a body of trustees purchased for a very low price at an auction sale in execution of a simple mortgage bond held by the trustees as such a mortgage bond comprising amongst other property a village of which two thirds had been previously purchased by the author of the trust and formed part of the trust property. Further the purchaser nor the trustees had obtained the leave of the Court to purchase. The auction purchaser claimed the mortgage by for himself and sought to enforce the mortgage. Held that the auction purchaser could not be allowed to do this but must on the contrary be taken to have made the purchase for the benefit of the trust. All that he was entitled to pay for be repaid the actual sum which he himself paid for the mortgage deed at the auction sale. Giri Narain v Anand Behari L.R. (1917) I L R 34 AU. 308*

Sole d in favour of uncle—Fiduciary relationship of contracting parties—Undue influence—Voidable contract—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 19 and 19A—Hindu Law—Marriage—Adura form—Succession—Two sisters M and S executed a sale deed in favour of their uncle A in the death of M S acted for a declaration that the sale deed was obtained by the uncle through fraud misrepresentation and the undue influence and to recover possession of the property from him. S claimed the property both in her own right and also as the heir of M. The lower Courts allowed the plaintiff's claim holding that the uncle was in a fiduciary relation to his nieces and the consideration paid under the sale deed was invalid. On appeal to the High Court two contentions were raised: (i) that S was not the heir of M and (ii) that claiming through M, S had no right to exercise the option to avoid the deed as to one moiety of the property since M in her lifetime did not exercise the option. Held that S was heir of M as M's marriage was performed in Asura form. Held further that on the facts found the case fell within the scope of s. 88 of the Indian Trusts Act 1882 and the sale deed was therefore null and void. GOVIND RAMAJI v SAVITRI (1918)

TRUST ACT (II OF 1882)—contds. 88—contd

I L R 43 Bom 173

s. 90—

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (VII OF 1879)

I L R 40 Bom 483

See HINDU LAW—(WIDOW)

I L R 43 All 374

Co owner right of to appropriate rents collected by him towards his share. A co owner who has collected as rent more than sufficient to pay the Government peshkash and has paid it is not entitled to sue another co owner for contribution to the peshkash. S. 90 of Trusts Act (II of 1882) referred to. SIVANARASA REDDI v DONAISAM PEDDI (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 861

s. 91—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s. 40

I L R 40 Bom 498

s. 95—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s. 54

I L R 41 Bom 438

TURN OF WORSHIP

See PALAS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP

See USEFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

I L R 39 Calc 227

UUBAYAKAR

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM

I L R 40 Mad 1108

ULTRA VIRES

See ASSESSMENT I L R 37 Calc 374

See LEGISLATION ULTRA VIRES

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) SCH 1 ART 14

I L R 39 Bom 494

See MERCHANT SEAMEN ACT (I OF 1859) s. 31 CL (4)

I L R 39 Bom 558

See PROSECUTION—BYE LAWS.

I L R 37 Calc 545

ULTRA VIRES—contdOrders—

See BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE ACT s. 42
I L R 38 Bom 504

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART 14

I L R 30 Bom 325

Rules—

See ADEN SETTLEMENT REGULATION (VII OF 1900) s. 13

I L R 40 Bom 446

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s. 72
47

I L R 39 Bom 465

See SCHEDULED DISTRICTS ACT (XIV OF 1874) s. 7

I L R 41 Bom 657

Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s. 101 cls. 1 (a) and (3).—A large proportion of landlords meaning of—Order passed by Local Government under s. 101 cl. 2 (a) at the instance of landlords having large proportion of interest effect of—Jurisdiction of Civil Court to question validity of the order after issue of Notification under the section. The words a large proportion of the landlords in s. 101 cl. 2 (a) of the Bengal Tenancy Act mean a large proportion of the landlords as determined by the interests they hold in the estates. Where therefore an application was made by landlords having a large proportion of interest in an estate to the Local Government for the issue of an order under the said section and an order was accordingly issued by a Notification in the official Gazette. Held that the order was not ultra vires. Held further that it was with the Local Government the discretion rested to determine whether the application was in due form under the provisions of s. 101 cl. 2 (a) of the Act and after the Local Government had decided that point and had issued the Notification the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to interfere with the order was barred by cl. 3 of the same section. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v PURNENDU NARAYAN ROY (1912)

I L R 40 Calc 123

A Calcutta landlord was tried by the President of the Tribunal appointed under the Calcutta Improvement Act 1911, for cutting off water connection and was fined. On a rule to set aside. Held that the provision of s. 20 of the Act was not ultra vires but rule framed under s. 23 was GORESDHON DAS DEORA v DOOLICHAND SETHIA

I L R 48 Calc 955

UNALIENATED VILLAGE

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879)—

Ss 83 216 I L R 44 Bom 566

S 216 I L R 45 Bom 994

UNANIMOUS VERDICT

See CRIMINAL TRIALS

I L R 41 Calc 662

UNAUTHORISED ACT

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 38 Calc 511

UNCERTAIN EVENT

See WILL I L R 38 Calc 327

UNCERTAIN POSSESSION

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Mad 883

UNCERTAINTY

See CUSTOM I L R 45 Calc 475

See DEDICATION I L R 48 Calc 951

See RELIGIOUS TRUST
I L R 43 Calc 232

UNCERTIFIED PAYMENT

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 630

UNCHASTITY

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 36 Bom. 138

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE
I L R 34 Bom. 278
I L R 39 All 234

UNCONSCIONABLE BARGAIN

See CONTRACT ACT ss 16 AND 74

See INTEREST I L R 42 Calc 652
I L R 43 Calc 632

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L R 38 Calc 805

UNDEFENDED SUIT

See EX PARTE DECREE
I L R 43 Calc 1001

UNDER BROKER

dismissal of—
See DAMAGES I L R 47 Calc 290

UNDER ESTIMATION OF VALUE OF PROPERTY

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 40 Calc 635

UNDERGROUND RIGHTS

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Calc 723

See MINERAL RIGHTS

UNDER PROPRIETOR

See BIFT I L R 43 All 358

UNDER RAIYATS

See EJECTMENT I L R 40 Calc 858

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 43 Calc 164

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
I L R 44 Calc 272

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT
I L R 46 Calc 43

See ODISHA TENANCY ACT 1913 s 57
3 Pat L J 112

UNDER RAIYATS—contd

1 ————— Erection of occupancy raiyat under decree for rent—Position of under raiyat Where an occupancy raiyat in Chota Nagpur has been evicted in execution of a decree for rent obtained against him by the landlord as under raiyat holding under him becomes a trespasser and is liable to be evicted by the landlord by a suit in the Courts of ordinary civil jurisdiction. In a suit for eviction by the landlord under such circumstances the under raiyat has no locus standi under the Bengal Rent Act 1859 to contest the validity of the decree obtained by the landlord against the occupancy raiyat. Bishun Narayan Das Poddar v Chandra Kanta Aask
1 Pat L J 543

2 ————— The heir of an under raiyat has no heritable right to continue as such. NADIRAM CHANDRA SIL v SERVATIA CHAKRA VARTI
24 C W N 93

3 ————— Bengal Tenancy Act (Act I of 1885) s 43—Holding of Under raiyat s 48 of the Bengal Tenancy Act applies to cases in which the land held by the raiyat is co-tenanted with the land held by the under raiyat. ANIL CHAND SAHA v JOY CHANDRA DATH (1910)
I L R 39 Calc 839

4 ————— Notice for a period of indefinite duration—Ejectment—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1880) s 49 cl (b) The case of an under raiyat holding under a notice executed before the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act and not expressly providing for the period of its duration comes within cl (b) of s 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and the notice must be as provided thereunder. Madan Chandra Kapali v Joti Karikar 6 C W N 377 overruled. Raj Kumar DEBI v BARATULLA MAHDAL (1911)
I L R 39 Calc 278

5 ————— If may acquire occupancy right—Transferability of under raiyat interest The provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act show that an under raiyat may under certain circumstances acquire an occupancy right. If he does acquire such a right that right may be transferable by custom or local usage but there is no authority for the proposition that the interest of an under raiyat is ipso facto transferable. AKHIL CHANDRA BISWAS v HASAN ALI SADAGAH (1913)
19 C W N 246

6 ————— Acquisition of status of A person in whose favour a permanent sub lease has been granted by a raiyat acquires on payment of rent to his grantor the status at least of an under raiyat if he is shown to have been in possession of the holding from before the lease. JAYAKINATH HORE v PRADESHINI DAS (1915)
19 C W N 1077
I L R 43 Calc 143

7 ————— Permanent lease by of valid—Suit by lessee to recover possession from lessor As between grantor and grantee a permanent lease granted by an under raiyat is a valid document and the grantee can recover possession of the land from the grantor on the strength of such a lease. Gurudas Das v Kal Das Chandra 18 C W N 830 followed. PRESIDENTIAL SULTAN v SITAL CHANDRA DAS (1915)
19 C W N 1112

UNDER RAIYATS—concl'd

8 ———— *Status of under raiyat where raiyat evicted from occupancy holding for non payment of rent in Chota Nagpur—Interest of under raiyat void or voidable—Distinction between proceedings with respect to a tenure holder and a raiyat—Right of under raiyat to contest the validity of the decree against his lessor Where a holding of an occupancy raiyat is sold the interest of an under raiyat is not void but voidable But when the occupancy holding has been destroyed by eviction of the raiyat for non payment of rent s 22 of Act X of 1859 provides that the decree holder shall be put in physical possession of the land There is a clear distinction between proceedings in regard to a tenure holder and proceedings in regard to a raiyat Where the proceeding has been with regard to a tenure holder or under tenant the decree is to take the form of an order to all raiyats to pay rent to the decree holder and the decree holder cannot be put into actual physical possession of the land An under raiyat cannot contest the validity of the decree against his lessor as a defence to a suit in which it is sought to declare him a trespasser BISUN NARAIN DASS PODDAR v CHANDRA KANTA NAIK (1916)*

20 C W N 1240

9 ———— *Under raiyat to whom permanent sub lease granted suit for khas possession against—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 35—Defendant in possession—Notice to quit under s 49 (b)—Whether defendant can rely upon any subsisting tenancy In a suit for khas possession of the disputed land from the defendant an under raiyat to whom a permanent sub lease had been granted after the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act in contravention of s III it was found that a notice to quit under s 49 (b) had been duly served upon him Held that the defendant could not rely upon any subsisting tenancy and the plaintiff was entitled to khas possession NAVIR ALI SHIKDAR v BAN BI BADAN PATWARI (1917)*

23 C W N 435

10 ———— *Suit for ejectment of defendant an under raiyat after notice to quit under s 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)—Defendant setting up permanent sub lease by plaintiff's vendor—S 35 (2)—Lease whether valid—Whether the tenancy can be put an end to by the notice—Whether defendant can rely upon previous possession Where in the plaintiff's suit to eject the defendant an under raiyat after service of a notice to quit under s 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the defendant set up a permanent sub lease granted by the plaintiff's vendor and pleaded that he could not be ejected on the principle that such a lease should be held to be binding on the lessor on the ground of estoppel Held that the lease being invalid according to the provisions of cl. (2) of s 35 the tenancy could be put an end to by a notice under s 49 and the defendant not having a subsisting tenancy could not rely upon his previous possession Held that the principle of estoppel cannot be invoked to defeat the plain provision of a statute If the contention were given effect to the provisions of cl. (2) of s 35 would be defeated in every case ALI MUDDI DEBARI v CHINTANARAN MICKHAPADHYA (1918)*

23 C W N 437

UNDER RAIYATI HOLDING—concl'd

See UNDER RAIYAT

Transferability—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 117—Agricultural lands—Relinquishment or abandonment what constitutes An under raiyat holding is not transferable What is relinquishment or abandonment depends on the substantial effect of what has been done in each case When a tenure or holding apart from the Transfer of Property Act is not transferable it cannot become so unless it is expressly made so by some other statute If it had been intended to make holdings transferable which were before non transferable the Legislature in framing the Bengal Tenancy Act would have said so S 117 of the Transfer of Property Act excludes agricultural land from the operation of the rule which makes leasehold property transferable Hiramoti Dassya v Annada Proad Gho v C L J 555 followed AMINAT S v JINAT ALI (1914)

I L R 40 Calc 751

Transferability—Purchase by landlord in execution of a money decree with objection by tenant—Title and possession Where an under raiyat holding was without objection on the part of the under raiyat sold successively in execution of two money decrees and purchased at the first sale by a stranger and at the second by the landlord who was the decree holder Held that the title of the landlord purchaser should prevail PRAMATHA BHUSAN DEB v RAM CHARAN MONDAL (1917)

22 C W N 124

UNDER TENANT

See BENGAL RENT ACT 1880 s 39

2 Pat L J 70

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 45 Calc 756

UNDER TENURE

See HOMESTEAD LAND

I L R 42 Calc 638

See REVENUE SALE

I L R 37 Calc 559

Act VIII of 1865 B C s 15—Court sale of under tenure if collusive and fraudulent does not destroy incumbrances—Second appeal—Findings of fact If a Court sale of an under tenure under Act VIII R C of 1865 had been the result of a corrupt agreement between the under tenure holder and the purchaser at the sale the purchaser would lose the benefit of s 16 of the Act specially if the default in payment of rent had been deliberately incurred in furtherance of such an agreement The findings of fact of the Court of first appeal in this case (which did not result from the mis construction of a document or the mis application of law or procedure but depended upon the evidence in the case) being that there had been no fraud or collusion the High Court had no authority to go behind them in second appeal The MIDNATH ZEMINDARI COMMISSIONERS v LAL CHARAN MADDAL

24 C W N 501

Effect of sale of under tenure by co-sharer landlord for arrears of rent—Non registration of purchase in execution sale by the whole body of landlords—Locus standi to maintain a suit—Rent Recovery Act (V of 1860) ss 27 105 106 108 109 and 110—Civil Procedure Code (VIII of 1859) s 29—Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act (Beng VIII of 1865) While under

UNDER RAIYATI HOLDING

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

UNDER TENURE—contd

■ 105 of Act X of 1859 which contemplates a decree by the landlord or the whole body of land lords for an arrear of the entire rent due in respect of an under tenure it is the tenure that is sold under s 103 which does not contemplate a decree for an arrear of rent but a decree for money due on account of a share of rent and a suit for it by only a sharer in a joint undivided estate it is only the right title and interest of the judgment debtor in the under tenure that passes Doolar Chand Sahoo v Lala Chabel Chand L R 6 I A 47 3 C L R 561 and Shamchand Kundu v Brojonath Pal Chowdhury 12 B L R 484 21 W R 94 followed in principle The purchaser of an under tenure under

■ 105 of Act X of 1859 is entitled to maintain a suit for possession against a subsequent purchaser under s 103 though he has not got his name registered in the landlords' sherista Kristo Chunder Ghose v Raj Kristo Bandyopadhyay I L R 12 Calc 24 followed Luckhnarain Mitter v Khetro Pal Singh Roy 13 B L R 146 20 W R 380 referred to Patil Shahu v Hari Mahanti I L R 27 Calc 789 distinguished Bhiktrananda Roy v Behari Lal Pandit 5 O L J 89 questioned The mere fact that a person cannot succeed in a suit does not mean that he has no locus standi to maintain the suit It is only where the Legislature distinctly or in effect provides that certain conditions must be fulfilled to entitle a person to maintain a suit and those conditions precedent are not fulfilled that the person has no locus standi to sue NILADRI MAHANTI v BICHITRANAND ROY (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 823

UNDERTAKING

— unconditional to pay—

See VARTHAMANAM

I L R 38 Mad. 660

UNDervaluation OF SUIT

See JURISDICTION I L R 38 Calc 639

UNDISCHARGED BANKRUPT

— Vesting order under the Indian Insolvency Act 1848 (11 & 12 Vict C 21) s 7—Subsequently acquired property title to—Right of stranger to dispute title without alleging or proving intervention by the Official Assignee. At the trial of this suit it appeared according to the admissions made by the plaintiff's witnesses and according to the original documents produced that the plaintiff's predecessor in title one J had a vesting order made against him on two occasions under s 7 of the Indian Insolvency Act 1848 viz on the 2nd December 1899 and on the 4th May 1905 In case of neither insolvency did J get his final discharge On the 1st August 1911 J acquired the premises in dispute from one D by means of a conveyance bearing that date After J's death one P took a conveyance of the said premises from the administrator appointed by the Court to J's estate P was alleged by the plaintiff to be a mere denamidar for himself and on the 26th May 1916 a deed of relinquishment was executed by P in favour of the plaintiff The issue in the case broadly speaking was whether the plaintiff could prove his title There was no reference in the written statement of the defendant to the fact of either of the two insolvencies of J which were apparently brought to the notice of

UNDISCHARGED BANKRUPT—contd

the defendant's advisers at a late stage if not actually during the conduct of the plaintiff's case In this state of things at the close of the plaintiff's case the defendant's counsel took the point that the plaintiff's suit should be dismissed without calling on the defendant to enter on his defence the ground being that the title to the said premises had been shown to be vested in some one else according to the plaintiff's evidence Held on the authority of Herbert v Sayer 5 Q B 365 that the action must go on as the point raised was not available to a stranger (as distinct from the Official Assignee or his assign) as a complete defence unless he had pleaded and was able to prove that the Official Assignee had intervened In the circumstances of this case leave was given to the defendant to amend his written statement in order to state the fact of each of the said insolvencies and to aver and prove if he could, that at any date down to the institution of this suit the Official Assignee had intervened DA ARATHY SINGHA v MAHANULTYA ASH (1900)

I L R 47 Calc 661

UNDISCLOSED PRINCIPAL

See HUNDI SUIT ON

I L R 46 Calc 663

See KUMAON RULES (1894) R 17

I L R 42 All 642

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 39 Calc 502

UNDIVIDED FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 38 Mad. 177

UNDIVIDED INTEREST

— purchase of—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 39 Calc. 353

UNDUE ADVANTAGE

See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

I L R 41 Calc 408

UNDUE INFLUENCE

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 9

1 Pat L J 76

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act X of 1908) O XXII R 3

I L R 38 Mad. 550

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872)—

S 16

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 39 Bom 441

See INTEREST

I L R 42 Calc 652 690

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) s 11 ART 91

I L R 38 Mad 401

See PANDANASHIN LADY

I L R 43 All 595

See SUCCESSION ACT 1860 s 2

See TRUSTS ACT (II of 1882) s 58

I L R 43 Bom 153

See WILL

I L R 38 Calc 355

UNDUE INFLUENCE—contd

1 ————— Contract—Illegal composition of non compoundable offence—Stifling prosecution—Suit for refund—Contract Act (IX of 18.2) ss 16 19 No refund of money or return of security given under agreement not to prosecute a criminal case will be allowed unless circumstances disclose pressure or undue influence. Mere fear of punishment in a criminal case does not constitute undue influence Jones v Merrett & Co Building Society [1892] 1 Ch 173 referred to ANJADYNESHA PIRI & RAHIM BUCKSH SHIEDAB (1914) I L R 42 Cal 286

2 ————— The Judicial Committee did not approve of the idea that in India the law would make the possession of reputation or high standing an element of suspicion BAL GANGADHAR TILAK & SHRI SHRINIVAS PANDIT (1915) 10 O W N 729 I L R 90 Bom 441

UNHYPOTHECATED PROPERTY

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 90 I L R 34 Bom 540

UNENTRANCED PERSONAL INAM OF LANDS

————— Attachment in execution of decree validity of Unentranced inam lands granted not for future public or private services but as a matter of favour for the maintenance of the donee and his heirs are liable to attachment and sale in execution of a decree against the holder of the inam A Vissappa v A Ramajogi (1865) 2 M H O R 31^o and Bhanappa Gura v Ramanna S A No 1397 of 1918 (unreported) followed VENKATARAMA AYYAR v CHANDRASAGARA AYYAR (1921) I L M 44 Mad 632

UNITED PROVINCES AND OUDH ACTS.

See NORTH WEST PROVINCES AND OUDH ACTS

————— 1869—I—

See OUDH ESTATES ACT

————— 1873—VIII—

See NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE ACT

XXVIII

See NORTH WEST PROVINCE RENT ACT

XIX

See N W P LAND REVENUE ACT

————— 1876—XVII—

See OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT

————— 1881—XII—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES RENT ACT

XVIII

See CENTRAL PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT

————— 1886—XXII—

See OUDH RENT ACT

————— 1898—XI—

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT

UNITED PROVINCES AND OUDH ACT—contd

————— 1899—III—

See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT

————— 1900—I—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH ACTS

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT

X

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES ACT

————— 1901—II—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT

XI

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT

————— 1903—II—

See BUNDELKHAND ALIENATION OF LAND ACT

————— 1904—I—

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT

————— 1910—IV—

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT

————— 1912—IV—

See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT

VI

See UNITED PROVINCES PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION ACT

————— 1916—II—

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT

UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT (III of 1899)

————— ss 2 & 3 34—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT 18.3 s 184

I L R 42 All 509

————— ss 10 and 37—

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT 1873 s 184

I L R 42 All 509

————— ss 16 20—Claim not notified—Main liability of suit—Admissibility of documents S 20 of the Court of Wards Act 1909 applies only to cases where persons who have notified their claims under s 16 of the said Act have failed to produce their documents Where the property of the debtor was taken over by the Court of Wards at a time when the Court of Wards Act of 1899 was in force and the creditor did not notify his claim under s 16 but brought a suit upon his bonds after the property was released by the Court of Wards held that the bonds were admissible in evidence and the suit was maintainable Collector of Ghazipur v Balbhaddar Singh 10 All L J 234 overruled A HAFIZ & KALYAN DAS (1915) I L R 37 All 585

————— ss 16 19 49—Decree on contract made while debtor was a ward of Court—Collector not a party—Execution of decree C obtained a decree

UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT (IV OF 1912)—contd

16 19 49-confd

8 and 11—cont'd

to money against M based upon a contract entered into by the latter after he had become a ward of the Court of Wards. In execution of the decree certain movable property belonging to M was attached. Upon objection taken that a certificate that the claim was notified under s. 16 of the Court of Wards Act 1839 should be obtained from the Collector Aell that the decree was had inasmuch as the suit and proceedings in execution were a fraud upon the Court and that as soon as it was brought to the notice of the Court that it was a debt of a debtor was a ward of Court the Court should have of its own motion then and there made the Collector a party and waited for such defence as the Collector might put forward. MCAZZAM ILY SIKH v. CHUNNI LAL (1911) ment of India—1 validity of decree Where a mortgagor has been declared a disqualified proprietor under the United Provinces Court of Wards Act 1912 and a final mortgage decree is made against the Court of Wards during its superintendence of the estate the decree is binding upon the mortgagor after the Local Government acting under an order of the Government of India has discharged the estate from superintendence in the absence of proof that the proceedings of the Court of Wards were a nullity MAHENDRA BHABHAT SINGH v. THE ORISSA COMMERICAL BANK LD

I L R 43 All 478

48-

ILR 33 AU 791

1 L. R. 43 All 47
UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV OF 1910)

pty of any ward — Notice of suit— Pro of a decree held by a ward Held that the execution property of any ward as used in s 48 of the term United Provinces Court of Wards Act 1899 does not include property attached in execution of a decree held by a ward No notice is therefore required of a suit brought by a person claiming title to such property for a declaration of his title Lal Singh v The Collector of Etah (1914)
 I L R

ILR 38 AN 331

notice of plaint—If either fresh notice rendered necessary by amendment Certain persons who intended bringing a suit against a ward under the Court of Wards upon a promissory note of date the 20th of November 1909 served upon the Collector by way of notice under s 48 of the Court of Wards Act 1893 a copy of the proposed plaint in which they stated— For a long time there were money dealings between the shop of the plaintiffs and Kunwar Pohkar Singh caste Thakur resident of mauza Changheal Accordingly the said Pohkar Singh having adjusted his account under the former promissory note dated the 15th of November 1907 executed a promissory note on the 20th of November 1909 In the course of the suit the plaintiffs discovered that they could not succeed on the promissory note of the 20th of November 1909 inasmuch as Pohkar Singh was already a Ward of Court at the date of its execution and accordingly asked and obtained leave to amend their plaint and base their claim entirely on the promissory note of the 15th of November 1907 Held that in these circumstances no fresh notice to the Court of Wards was rendered necessary by the amendment of the plaint McInery
The Secretary of State for India I L R 38 Cal
97 referred to BALDEO PRASAD & THE COLLEC-TOR OF PILIBHIT (1914)

Y L R 37 AM. 13
T OF WARDS ACT

ss 2, 8, 9 10 and 34—
V W P L

See V W P 11: PLANNED ACT 1873
8 194
ss 8 and 11—decree of from super L R 42 AL 509
Chf Proprietor—
We de—Discharge
Order by Governor

ss 8 and 11—
Wort 130 decree 11
1st 1st from super 1 1c

§ 40—Poles framed under Act—Transfer or sub lease of licence—Agreement to share profit
The plaintiff entered into an agreement with the defendant who was a drug contractor in consideration of a sum money advanced by him to the defendant that he would be entitled to a share in the profits or responsible for the losses of the drug business to an extent there set forth Held that such an agreement was neither a transfer nor a sub lease of the drug contractor's licence and did not constitute a violation of r 82 of the rules framed under the United Provinces Excise Act 1910 SHIAM BHARTI LAL v MALHI (1916)
I L R 39 All 107

I L R 39 AN 107

article—Search warrant—Indian Oaths Act (X of 1873) s 13—Presumption that oath was duly administered An excise inspector searched the house of a person suspected to be in illicit possession of an excisable article namely cocaine and cocaine was found in the house. Held that the subsequent conviction of the person in possession of the said house was not rendered illegal by the fact that the excise inspector had not previously obtained a search warrant. Emperor v Alloted Khan 11 All L J 442 1 L R 35 All 358

Emperor v Bargarbada 1 L R 35 All 1 referred to. Held also that it is a reasonable presumption that an oath has been duly administered to a witness appearing before a Court although the record of the Court may contain no reference to that fact. Emperor v Sayed Mahmud (1913)

I L R 35 AIL 575

§ 63-Criminal Procedure Code s 537
 Unlawful possession of excisable article - Search warrant - Conviction not invalidated owing to absence of warrant Where the superintendent of police and a sub-inspector searched the house of a person suspected of being in illicit possession of a excisable article and such articles were found in the house searched it was held that the conviction of the owner of the house under s 63 of the United Provinces Act 1910 was not rendered invalid by the fact that no warrant had been issued for the search, though it was pre-emptible that in section 63 where a signature that in a case under s search was necessary to search a house a warrant had to be obtained beforehand.

I L F 35 APR 35

UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV OF 1910)—contd

— s 64 (c)—Breach of conditions of licence — Breach committed by servant—Penal liability of master In order to establish an offence under s 64 (c) of the United Provinces Act 1910 against a licence holder in respect of the alleged keeping of incorrect accounts by a servant it must be shown that the licence holder himself allowed the offence to be committed by his servant or was cognizant of what his servant was doing. FIRAZER v PAM DAS (1918) I L R 40 All 523

UNITED PROVINCES GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (U P ACT I OF 1904)

S GENERAL CLAUSES ACT

UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901)

— s 4—Mahal—Partition—Uncultivable land—Jurisdiction—Civil and Revenue Courts Land such as roadways uncultivated plots and over abadi sites of villages are all within the boundaries of a mahal although no revenue may be derived from them. Thus land forming the site of a parao but bearing a khasra and khata number in the revenue records must be considered as part of the mahal in which it is situated and can only be partitioned by a Court of Revenue. MAMMUD JAHAN BEGAN v GOBIND PAM

I L R 43 All 45

— s 18—Suit for rent before Assistant Collector—Sanction to prosecute granted by him—Officer at the time of granting sanction placed in charge of another sub division of the same district—Jurisdiction An Assistant Collector tried a suit under the Agra Tenancy Act in the course of which a question as to the genuineness of a certain document tendered in evidence by the defendants arose. Subsequently to the decision of that suit the Assistant Collector was put in charge of the work of another sub division in the same district. Held that such a transfer of work did not deprive him of jurisdiction to grant sanction for a prosecution in respect of the forging of the document so tendered. DALIP SINGH v NAVAL (1917)

I L R 39 All 297

— s 33 (d)—Mahal—Land held revenue free by Government not of necessity excluded from the mahal Held (i) that s 3 clause (d) of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 shows that there may be in a mahal persons holding land revenue free and the land so held yet forms part of the mahal and (ii) that a finding as to whether such land does or does not form part of the mahal is not a pure finding of fact but a mixed finding of fact and law. ABDUL RAHIM KHAN v AHMAD KHAN (1914) I L R 36 All 231

s 34—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 108 I L R 30 All 689

s 36—Agra Tenancy Act (II of 1901)

— s 41—Ex proprietary tenant—Enhancement of rent The tenant of an ex proprietary holding who's rent had been fixed by the Collector under s 36 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act entered into an agreement with the zamindar to pay an enhanced rent. The agreement was

UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901)—contd

s 36—contd

effected by means of a registered instrument and the enhanced rent was not in excess of the beneficial rate mentioned in s 10 of the Act. But it was made within the period of ten years from the fixation of rent by the Collector. Held that such agreement was not open to any legal objection. BHAIROO PRASAD v SOMWARTTI (1917)

I L R 39 All 318

— ss 51 52 99—Assignment of Government Revenue—Right of Government to enhance or remit revenue An assignee of Government revenue takes the assignment subject to all the rights of Government to assess enhance reduce remit or suspend the revenue. BENI MADHO v BHAGWAN PRASAD (1911) I L R 33 All 556

— ss 56 and 86—Cess—Gaonkharch

—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction In a permanently settled portion of the Mirzapur district the tenants were in the habit of paying to their zamindars an addition to their rent of 5 to 4 pias per rupee under the name of gaon kharch. This additional payment however was not recorded under s 56 or s 86 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act and it did not appear from the evidence that it could be regarded as part and parcel of the contract of rent. Held that whether or not a suit might be in a Civil Court for the recovery of the payment known as gaon kharch no such suit would lie in a Court of Revenue. RADHA MADHO LALJI v RAM SEWAK

I L R 43 All 422

— Market—Pight to levy toll—Cess Held that the levy by the owner of a private market of market dues at so much per head for every beast sold and of rent for land occupied by stalls is not illegal. Sukhdoo Prasad v Ayal Chand I L R 29 All 740 distinguished. SADANAND LALDE v ALI JAN (1910)

I L R 38 All 163

— Cess—Rent—Rent payable partly in cash and partly in kind Certain tenants holding under a gabuliat agreed to pay as rent a fixed sum in money and also certain quantities yearly of blusa chari grain and sugarcane described in the gabuliat as rasum zamindari. Held that notwithstanding that the payments in kind were described as rasum zamindari they were nevertheless part of the rent and could be recovered by the lessor and did not fall within the purview of s 56 or s 86 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901. Sri Pam v Angkar Ali I L R 35 All 19 distinguished. RANGI LAL v JASSA (1916)

I L R 38 All 286

ss 56 233—

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS
I L R 34 All 358

s 99—

See s 51 I L R 33 All 556

— ss 106 and 233 (1)—Partition of isolated plot in abadi—Owners not co sharer—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction Held that a suit for partition of an isolated plot in the abadi of a village the parties not being co sharers in the mahal but merely the purchasers of the plot from the zamindar lies in the Civil Court and not in the Revenue Court. Pam Paton v Mamaz

UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901)—contd

ss 107 and 233—contd
Ahmad 16 Indran Cases 876 followed Pam Dayal v Megu Lal I L R 6 All 452 (454) referred to Narain Das v Bhup Narain I L R 31 All 330 distinguished RANTU LAL v BAIDE
SIRAI I L R 43 All 454

s 107—
See Partition Act (IV of 1893) ss 1
2 AND 3 I L R 35 All 387
ss 107 111—

1 Hindu family—Claim for partition by widow in possession in lieu of maintenance merely though recorded solatu maud as a co sharer Held that the widow of a member of a Hindu family who is in possession of a portion of the family property under a family arrangement is not a co sharer and merely is not a co sharer and cannot in virtue of such possession enforce a claim for partition of the share of which she is so in possession even though her name may be recorded solatu maud as a co sharer Kailash Awar v Badri Prasad S A & Co
344 of 1913 decided 17th July 1913 and Bhoop
Singh v Phool Kuar N W P H C Rep 368
and Jhanna Awar v Chain Sukh I L R 3 All 400 followed Bhupat Sukh v Mohan Singh I L R 19 All 324 referred to Habibullah v
Kushimba 3 All L J 481 distinguished PRWA
v Jas Kunwar (1913) I L R 25 All 527

2 Hindu family—Hindu widow—Claim for partition by widow in possession in lieu of maintenance merely though recorded solatu maud as a co sharer Held that the widow of a member of a joint Hindu family who is in possession of a portion of the family property under a family arrangement in lieu of maintenance merely is not a co sharer and cannot in virtue of such possession enforce a claim for partition of the share of which she is so in possession even though her name may be recorded solatu maud as a co sharer Bhoop
Singh v Phool Kuar N W P H C Rep 368
and Jhanna Awar v Chain Sukh I L R 3 All 400 referred to KAILASHI KUNWAR v BADRI PRASAD (1913) I L R 35 All 548

ss 110 111 and 112—Partition—Question of proprietary title One of the co sharers in a village applied in a Court of Revenue for partition whereupon another of the co sharers raised the objection that the village had already been partitioned privately and could not again be divided Held that this objection raised a question of proprietary title in respect of which the Court of Revenue had jurisdiction to refer the parties to the Civil Court RAM NARAIN v JAGAN NATH PRASAD (1915) I L R 38 All 115

s 111 (1) (b)—

cont required to file suit in Civil Court—Non applicance with order—Appeal A Collector trying a case made an order under s 111 (1) (b)
of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 against the non applicant He failed to comply with this order but alleged that in a civil suit between the parties to the partition case it had been decided in respect of certain non revenue paying property that both sides were members of a

UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901)—contd

s 111 (1) (b)—contd joint Hindu family The Collector however overruled his objection finding that the ruling did not apply to revenue paying property Held that no appeal lay to the District Judge from this order HAR PRASAD v MUKAND LAL (1915) I L R 38 All 90

—Question of proprietary title—Partly raising question ordered to file civil suit—Suit filed beyond time allowed—Suit barred Where an order has been made by a Court of Revenue under s 111 (1) (b)
of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 requiring a party to partition proceedings to institute within three months in the Civil Court a suit for the determination of a question of proprietary title raised in such proceedings the Civil Court has no jurisdiction to entertain a suit if it is not filed within the time limited BARNAR Lal v Gopi 4 A L J 713 followed HANDHRI Singh v Bhagwan Das I L R 35 All 481 referred to TAIKUR ALI SHAH v SHAH MUHAMMAD KHAN (1918) I L R 41 All 211

ss 111 112—Private partition—Lands held under a private partition claimed by non applicant—No question of proprietary title—Appeal
When in a suit for partition of revenue paying lands one of the non applicants alleged that under a private partition he was in possession of certain lands and claimed the lands for himself and the Collector in appeal ordered those lands to be given to him Held that no question of proprietary title was raised and no appeal lay to the District Judge against the order of the Collector FATEH RAI v Gale Ram All W N (1904) 293 followed
Muhammad Jan v Sadanand Pandey I L R 28
All 394 distinguished MUHAMMAD NAB KHAN v LILAN KHAN v MUHAMMAD ISHAQ KHAN (1910) I L R 32 All 523

ss 111 112 233 (b)—

Partition—Hindu law —Joint Hindu family—Minor—No necessity for minor to be specially represented in partition proceedings Where a partition of the property of a joint Hindu family in which one of the members was a minor was found to have been properly carried out with due regard to the interests of the minor it was held to be no ground for upsetting the partition were such a course possible having regard to s 233 (1) of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 that the minor was not represented in the partition proceedings by a formally appointed guardian In such circumstances a minor member of the family is suitably represented by the managing member or members
BHAGWATI PRASAD v BHAGWATI PRASAD (1917) I L R 35 All 128

(1908) s 11 O II r 2—Partition—Suit for possession of property the subject of partition A person who was really entitled to one half of a four biswa zamindari share but was recorded only in respect of a 3½ biswa share applied for partition of the latter share After the date fixed for filing objections the person who was recorded in respect of the remaining one fourth biswa share came in and asked for partition of that one fourth biswa share The partition was completed but sub

UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901)—contd

— 111 112, 238 (k)—contd.

sequently the original applicant brought suit to remove the one fourth biswa share Held that the suit was not barred by s 233 (k) of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act (1901) neither was it barred by O II r 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure inasmuch as that rule did not apply to proceedings under the Land Revenue Act nor by the rule of res judicata KALKA PRASAD v MAHMOHAN LAL (1916) I L R 38 All 302

— s 118—Partition—Co sharers—Effect of order allotting to one co sharer land upon which are standing buildings belonging to another co sharer Where a partition has been effected under the provisions of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 and the site of the house of one co sharer has been allotted to the share of another co sharer the presumption is that the owner of the house is to retain possession of the house The mere fact that ground rent has not been assessed cannot deprive the owner of the house of his right to it Iswar Prasad v Jagan Nath Singh All Weekly Notes 1906 194 followed Nandan Pat Tewari v Radha Kishun Kaluar 5 Indian Cases 664 distinguished SABUR LAL v LALA (1917) I L R 39 All 707

— s 121—Plaintiff referred to Civil Court—Suit filed within time but subsequently withdrawn—Second suit filed after prescribed period Where a Revenue Court acting under s 111 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 required a party to the case before it to institute to a suit in the Civil Court within three months and the plaintiff did so but for some technical reason had to withdraw it with permission to bring a fresh suit which was in fact filed without delay but after the three months had expired Held that the second suit must be considered to be a continuation of the first suit and it could not therefore be held that the plaintiff had not complied with the order of the Revenue Court PANDITA SIVOH v BHAGWAN DAS (1913) I L R 35 All 541

— ss 142 143 146—

See REVENUE CODE (Act XLV of 1860)
s 275B I L R 32 All 116

— ss 203 to 207—Agri Tenancy Act (II of 1901) s 95—Arbitration—Decision of Revenue Court based on award—Dispute between rival tenants as to possession of land—Suit for possession—Jurisdiction—Civil and Revenue Courts Held that s 207 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 does not bar a separate suit on title independently of the decision of the Revenue Court based on the award, to recover possession of property which has been the subject of arbitration proceedings under ss 203 to 206 of the Act Girdhari Chaurhe v Pam Bharam Year 14 All L J 85 approved and followed Held further that a suit between the rival tenants adjoining holdings to determine the question whether a certain parcel of land appertains to the holding of the one or of the other is cognizable by the Civil Court Bhaw Pam v Ram Lal I L R 33 All 795 and Jagannath v Ajudha Singh I L R 35 All 14 referred to TARSI SIVOH v HAR DEO SIVOH (1917) I L R 39 All 711

UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901)—contd

— s 233—

See s 106 I L R 43 All 454

See s 311 I L R 35 All 126
I L R 38 All 302

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS
I L R 34 All 358

— Partition—Land belonging to plaintiff's mahal allotted to defendants and a different plot to plaintiffs—Civil and Revenue Courts—Jurisdiction By a mistake of a partition amiri a plot belonging to the defendants was allotted to the plaintiffs and two plots belonging to the plaintiffs were allotted to the defendants Held that no suit would lie in a Civil Court to rectify this error Kishan Prasad v Kaddher Mal All W N (1900) 11 distinguished TIBBETI SAHAI v GOKUL PRASAD (1911) I L R 38 All 440

— Revenue Court irregularly entertaining an application for allotment of a share to applicant—Suit in Civil Court for declaration of title as to share so allotted—Jurisdiction Some of the co sharers in a mauza applied for partition H one of the non applicants came in within the time limited in the proclamation issued under s 110 of the Land Revenue Act 1901 and asked for his share also to be partitioned off After the time for objecting to the partition had expired L filed an application claiming a share in the portion alleged by H to be his share and without notice to H this application was granted and part of the share allotted to him was given to L H then sued in the Civil Court asking for a declaration of his title to the plots so allotted to L Held that however erroneous the procedure of the revenue authorities might have been H's suit was barred by s 233 (k) of the Land Revenue Act 1901 Muhammad Sadiq v Lavie Ram I L R 33 All 91 followed Khasay v Jupia I L R 38 All 432 and Muhammad Jan v Sadananda Pande I L P 98 All 394 distinguished Per Curiam—We can only repeat here what was laid down in the full bench case of Muhammad Sadiq v Lavie Ram (I L R 33 All 291) in which it was held that any exercise of jurisdiction of a Civil Court which would disturb or in any way affect the distribution of land made by partition is barred by s 233 of Act III of 1901 whatever question is raised LACHMAN DAS v HANUMAN PRASAD (1910) I L R 33 All 169

— Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 11—Res judicata—Joint mahal formed on partition—Suit by one co sharer against the other for exclusive possession of entire mahal A and B applied jointly as against the other co sharers to have certain revenue paying property made into a joint mahal in their names and this was done Thereafter A sued B on title for exclusive possession of the entire mahal Held that this suit was not barred either by the principle of res judicata or by s 233 (k) of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act 1901 In the partition proceedings no question of title as between the present plaintiff and defendant had been raised and in his suit the plaintiff did not seek to alter the constitution of the mahal as it had been formed by the revenue authorities LAL BIRAJI v PAK KALI KUTWAR I L R 42 All 309

UNITED STATES LAND REVENUE ACT
(U P ACT III OF 1921)-cc'd
S 233-cord

233-133

Civil a d Parent
L E 35 411 283

[illegible]

LLR 39 All 469

(Faint, mostly illegible handwritten notes)

Гос. арх. 41 АД 26

I R 41 AL 00
 Part was - For was the purchase and land of the United Provinces Land Revenue will not operate so as to bar a sub-

(4150)
UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (U P ACT III OF 1901) - correct

23-10000

(4150)

REVENUE AC of 1901 - cont'd
- 233 - cont'd
quent suit in a Civil Court having for its object the splitting of a partition when the last adversity is the allegation that the partition was made by the Revenue Court was due to a fraud, I ad even that Court and upon the same by the defendant. RICHMOND, the MADON AMM (1914)

ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 01-11-01 BY 1043

[illegible]

254

See CONTRACT ACT (17 of 1902), s. 23.
I. L. R. 19 AD. 51 58

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPAL ACCOUNTS

See UNITED PROVINCES GENERAL CLERK
4-1 of 1904 = 23

ILL. 40 41 105

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT
(1 OF 1900)

201-202-203-204-205-206-207-208-209-210-211-212-213-214-215-216-217-218-219-220-221-222-223-224-225-226-227-228-229-230-231-232-233-234-235-236-237-238-239-240-241-242-243-244-245-246-247-248-249-250-251-252-253-254-255-256-257-258-259-260-261-262-263-264-265-266-267-268-269-270-271-272-273-274-275-276-277-278-279-280-281-282-283-284-285-286-287-288-289-290-291-292-293-294-295-296-297-298-299-300-301-302-303-304-305-306-307-308-309-310-311-312-313-314-315-316-317-318-319-320-321-322-323-324-325-326-327-328-329-330-331-332-333-334-335-336-337-338-339-340-341-342-343-344-345-346-347-348-349-350-351-352-353-354-355-356-357-358-359-360-361-362-363-364-365-366-367-368-369-370-371-372-373-374-375-376-377-378-379-380-381-382-383-384-385-386-387-388-389-390-391-392-393-394-395-396-397-398-399-400-401-402-403-404-405-406-407-408-409-410-411-412-413-414-415-416-417-418-419-420-421-422-423-424-425-426-427-428-429-430-431-432-433-434-435-436-437-438-439-440-441-442-443-444-445-446-447-448-449-450-451-452-453-454-455-456-457-458-459-460-461-462-463-464-465-466-467-468-469-470-471-472-473-474-475-476-477-478-479-480-481-482-483-484-485-486-487-488-489-490-491-492-493-494-495-496-497-498-499-500-501-502-503-504-505-506-507-508-509-510-511-512-513-514-515-516-517-518-519-520-521-522-523-524-525-526-527-528-529-530-531-532-533-534-535-536-537-538-539-540-541-542-543-544-545-546-547-548-549-550-551-552-553-554-555-556-557-558-559-560-561-562-563-564-565-566-567-568-569-570-571-572-573-574-575-576-577-578-579-580-581-582-583-584-585-586-587-588-589-590-591-592-593-594-595-596-597-598-599-600-601-602-603-604-605-606-607-608-609-610-611-612-613-614-615-616-617-618-619-620-621-622-623-624-625-626-627-628-629-630-631-632-633-634-635-636-637-638-639-640-641-642-643-644-645-646-647-648-649-650-651-652-653-654-655-656-657-658-659-660-661-662-663-664-665-666-667-668-669-670-671-672-673-674-675-676-677-678-679-680-681-682-683-684-685-686-687-688-689-690-691-692-693-694-695-696-697-698-699-700-701-702-703-704-705-706-707-708-709-710-711-712-713-714-715-716-717-718-719-720-721-722-723-724-725-726-727-728-729-730-731-732-733-734-735-736-737-738-739-740-741-742-743-744-745-746-747-748-749-750-751-752-753-754-755-756-757-758-759-760-761-762-763-764-765-766-767-768-769-770-771-772-773-774-775-776-777-778-779-780-781-782-783-784-785-786-787-788-789-790-791-792-793-794-795-796-797-798-799-800-801-802-803-804-805-806-807-808-809-810-811-812-813-814-815-816-817-818-819-820-821-822-823-824-825-826-827-828-829-830-831-832-833-834-835-836-837-838-839-840-841-842-843-844-845-846-847-848-849-850-851-852-853-854-855-856-857-858-859-860-861-862-863-864-865-866-867-868-869-870-871-872-873-874-875-876-877-878-879-880-881-882-883-884-885-886-887-888-889-890-891-892-893-894-895-896-897-898-899-900-901-902-903-904-905-906-907-908-909-910-911-912-913-914-915-916-917-918-919-920-921-922-923-924-925-926-927-928-929-930-931-932-933-934-935-936-937-938-939-940-941-942-943-944-945-946-947-948-949-950-951-952-953-954-955-956-957-958-959-960-961-962-963-964-965-966-967-968-969-970-971-972-973-974-975-976-977-978-979-980-981-982-983-984-985-986-987-988-989-990-991-992-993-994-995-996-997-998-999-1000-1001-1002-1003-1004-1005-1006-1007-1008-1009-1010-1011-1012-1013-1014-1015-1016-1017-1018-1019-1020-1021-1022-1023-1024-1025-1026-1027-1028-1029-1030-1031-1032-1033-1034-1035-1036-1037-1038-1039-1040-1041-1042-1043-1044-1045-1046-1047-1048-1049-1050-1051-1052-1053-1054-1055-1056-1057-1058-1059-1060-1061-1062-1063-1064-1065-1066-1067-1068-1069-1070-1071-1072-1073-1074-1075-1076-1077-1078-1079-1080-1081-1082-1083-1084-1085-1086-1087-1088-1089-1090-1091-1092-1093-1094-1095-1096-1097-1098-1099-1100-1101-1102-1103-1104-1105-1106-1107-1108-1109-1110-1111-1112-1113-1114-1115-1116-1117-1118-1119-1120-1121-1122-1123-1124-1125-1126-1127-1128-1129-1130-1131-1132-1133-1134-1135-1136-1137-1138-1139-1140-1141-1142-1143-1144-1145-1146-1147-1148-1149-1150-1151-1152-1153-1154-1155-1156-1157-1158-1159-1160-1161-1162-1163-1164-1165-1166-1167-1168-1169-1170-1171-1172-1173-1174-1175-1176-1177-1178-117

100

... and David ... a ... of ...
... to be ... in ...
... a ... Board, as ...
... of ... Board which ...
... for a ...
... protected were ...
... for damages ...
... the maker of the ...
... defendant was ... to the ...

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900)—contd

s 49—contd

by s 49 of the Municipalities Act 1900 Muhammad Sadiq Ahmad v Panna Lal I L R 36 All 290 distinguished JUGAL KISHORE v JUGAL KISHORE (1911) I L R 33 All 540

s 57 152—Municipal Board—Refusal of permission to erect a building—Remedy open to applicant special appeal not suit When a Municipal Board refuse permission to erect or re-erect a building the proper way to contest such refusal is to appeal in the manner provided for by 152 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1900
The applicant for permission cannot maintain a civil suit for an injunction to restrain the Board from interfering with the plaintiff's building
ABDUS SAMAD v THE CHAIRMAN MUNICIPAL BOARD MEERUT (1914) I L R 36 All 329

Held that s 152 does not apply when the prohibition notice or order issued by the Board is ultra vires and that s 84 (5) applies only to buildings of the kind referred to in the preceding sub-sections that is new buildings in respect of which notice should have been given under sub-section (1) EMPEROR v PAM DAYAL
I L R 33 All 147

s 88 and 91—Municipal Board—Power of Board to order demolition of structure overhanging a public road—Compensation—Offer to pay compensation not a condition precedent to order for demolition The owner of a house to which was attached a balcony overhanging a public road repaired the balcony which had become dilapidated and made it serviceable but without obtaining the permission of the Municipal Board thereto The Board thereupon issued notice to the house owner under s 88 of the Municipalities Act 1900 to remove the balcony and in default of compliance prosecuted him Held that the Board had power under s 88 cl (2) of the said Act to order the removal of the balcony without assigning any reason and that it was not necessary for the Board in the case of a notice issued under s 88 to tender or express its willingness to pay compensation in respect of the structure the demolition of which was ordered EMPEROR v NANNA MAL (1913) I L R 35 All 375

s 123 (A) (1)—Municipal Board—Power of Board to make rules—Rule regulating use by hawkers of parties of public roads Held that the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1900 did not empower a Municipal Board to make rules regulating the sale or exposure for sale of goods in streets or public places under the control of the Board EMPEROR v IMAMI (1912)
I L R 35 All 24

s 130—

In order to render a person liable to punishment for breach of the rule made under cl (e) of s 130 by reason of the continuance of the rule of certain articles on premises then used for such purpose it is necessary that 6 months notice in writing should have been served upon him EMPEROR v GHANMAN
I L R 33 All 455

s 14—

1—*Municipal Board
Jurisdiction—Prosecution in respect of matter concerning which a civil suit was pending* The

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900)—contd

s 147—contd

plaintiff to a suit against a Municipal Board was permitted by the Court to erect certain structures as specified in the decree of the Court Subsequently a dispute arose as to whether the structures which the plaintiff had erected were within or in excess of the powers given to him by the decree and the Court decided and the Board did not contest its decision that the plaintiff had exceeded his rights under the decree and that some portion of the said structures must be demolished The Board meanwhile took action against the plaintiff under s 147 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1900 Held that it was not open to the Board to prosecute the plaintiff in respect of the structures pending the decision of the Civil Court and to continue the prosecution after its decision EMPEROR v BALDEO PRASAD
(1910) I L R 32 All 820

2—Conviction for disobedience to notice—Continuing breach After a conviction under s 147 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act the person convicted cannot be permitted to challenge the correctness of that conviction as often as he is prosecuted for continuing disobedience of the order of the Board ETAL PRASAD v THE MUNICIPAL BOARD OF CANNORE
(1914) I L R 36 All 430

3—Prosecution for disobedience to notice—Validity of notice to be considered Before anyone can be convicted of an offence under s 147 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act the Court must be satisfied that what he had disobeyed was a notice lawfully issued by the Board under the powers conferred upon it by the Act EMPEROR v PIARI LAL (1914)
I L R 36 All 185

ss 147 and 152—Notice—Disobedience to lawfully issued notice—Competence of accused to challenge validity of notice Held that s 152 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1900 does not prevent a person who may be prosecuted for disobedience to a notice issued by a Municipal Board from establishing the defence that the notice in question was not a matter of fact the Board's notice inasmuch as it was not signed by any one legally authorized to sign such notices on behalf of the Board EMPEROR v HAZARI LAL (1914)
I L R 36 All 227

s 152—
See s 87

I L R 36 All 111

s 187—

See U P GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (I OF 1904) s 23 I L R 34 All 111See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND ODISH MUNICIPALITIES ACT s 10

I L R 35 All 108

Municipal election—Rules framed by Local Government for regulation of elections—Petition by defeated candidate—Appeal—Procedure—Decree—Order Held on a construction of s 42 of the rule framed by the Local Government under a 187 of the Municipalities Act 1900 for the regulation of municipal election that the term "competent Court" as used in r 42 means a civil Court of competent jurisdiction with reference to the valuation given by the petitioner in his petition Gur Charan Das v Har Sarup

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900)—contd

s 187—contd

I L R 31 All 391 followed. Held also that no appeal lies from the order of a competent Court passed on an election petition under r 42 above referred to. Sundar Lal v Muhammad Faig 16 Oudh Cases 36 approved. Raghunandan Prasad v Sheo Prasad I L R 35 All 308 and Sabhapati Singh v Abdul Ghajur I L R 24 Calc 107 referred to. KHUNNI LAL v RAGHUNANDAN PRASAD (1913) I L R 35 All 450

Municipal election—Rules framed by the Local Government for regulation of elections—Validity of rules—Petition against successful candidate—Appeal Held (i) that the provisions of s 187 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act which gave power to the Local Government to make rules generally for regulating all elections under the Act were wide enough to include rules for the filing and decision of election petitions and (ii) that no appeal lies from the order of a competent Court passed on an election petition under r 42 of the rules framed by the Local Government under s 187 (1) cl (h) of the Act. Khunni Lal v Raghunandan Prasad I L R 35 All 450 followed. Sundar Lal v Muhammad Faig 16 Oudh Cases 36 approved. NAND RAM v CHOTE LAL (1913)

I L R 35 All 578

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (U P ACT II OF 1916)

s 19 to 28—Election petition—Petition presented by unsuccessful candidate against several respondents It is not a valid objection to a petition filed by an unsuccessful candidate at a municipal election under s 19 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 having as respondents more than one of the successful candidates that the petitioner cannot be himself declared elected in the room of more than one of the respondents. ABDUL BAZI KHAN v SIRAJ UL HASAN (1919) I L R 41 All 646

s 185 186—Erection of building without sanction of Municipal Board—Prosecution—Notice for demolition of building not to be issued before prosecution Where it is found that a building for which the sanction of a Municipal Board is required has been erected either without such sanction or in contravention thereof it is not necessary for the Board to direct the demolition of the building before it can prosecute the person who has erected it. EMPEROR v HASHTM ALI (1917) I L R 39 All 482 ss 209 210—Erect a structure—Movable planks placed across a public drain in front of a shop Held that the placing without the permission of the Municipal Board of movable planks over a municipal drain outside a shop the planks being put out in the morning when the shop was opened and removed at night did not amount to an offence under the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916. The expressions used in s 209 of that Act indicate that it refers to something of a permanent nature. Kamla Yath v The Municipal Board of Allahabad I L R 33 All 196 referred to. EMPEROR v MUHAMMAD YUSUF (1917) I L R 39 All 388

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (U P ACT II OF 1916)—contd

s 233—

See s 111 I L R 35 All 126
I L R 38 All 302

s 263—

See s 267 I L R 42 All 485
s 267—

Notice to construct a cesspool—Appeal—Prosecution for failure to comply Power of trying Court to question reasonableness of Board's order on the merits—Procedure in case of continuing breach indicated. No appeal will lie from a notice legally issued under section 61 (b) of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 requiring the owner of premises to construct a cesspool. The effect of section 321 read with section 318 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 is that certain orders, directions or requirements of a Municipal Board or of the Committee of a notified area only can be called in question as regards their reasonableness or practicability but the legality of any such orders, directions or requirements can be questioned in any Court in which penal proceedings are brought in respect of any alleged breach for non-compliance therewith. Emperor v Ram Dayal I L P 33 All 147 Municipal Board of Etawa v DEVI PRASAD I L R 42 All 435 Pam Pratap Marwari v Emperor 18 A L J 229 and Emperor v Mannu I L R 43 All 295 referred to. EMPEROR v KASHMIRI LAL I L P 43 All 644

s 267 and 268—Municipal Board—Distinction between order issued to protect public from physical danger and order issued to protect it from insanitary conditions A Municipal Board issued an order purporting to do so under s 267 of the Municipalities Act to a person living within the municipal limits requiring him to fill up a certain cesspool and to build another with a proper cover to it. The order being issued because the cesspool was without a cover and passers by were likely to fall into it at night. Held that the order was a bad order, inasmuch as the only order which could be legally made under s 267 was an order which was based on sanitary grounds. Municipal Board of Etawa v DEVI PRASAD I L R 42 All 485

s 274—Occupier Held that a person of whom no more could be said than that he was held responsible for the upkeep and cleanliness of a temple by the former adhkari was not an occupier of the temple and could not be convicted as such under s 274 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 for throwing rubbish on to the street. EMPEROR v PIANI LAL (1917) I L R 39 All 309 ss 298 and 318—Dangerous or offensive trades—Licence—Power of Municipal Board to refuse licence—Remedy of person whose application for licence has been refused In matters to which s 298 last 1 Heading G of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 relates a Municipal Board is not bound to grant a licence to any one who is prepared to abide by the prescribed conditions unless it be found that the necessary licence cannot be granted in respect of the particular site in question without prejudice to the health, safety or convenience of the inhabitants of the municipality. If an application for such a licence is refused, the remedy of the applicant = by way of appeal under s 318 of the Act Moran v Chairman of Motihari Municipality I L R 17 Cal 329 and Queen Empress v Mukunda Ghunder Chatterjee I L R 20 Cal 654 referred to EMPEROR : MANNU

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (U P ACT II OF 1916)—contd

— s 298 and 318—contd

I L R 42 All 294

— s 307—Disobedience to notice lawfully issued by a Municipal Board—Recurring fine—Procedure necessary to imposition of daily fine A Magistrate convicting an accused person of an offence under s 30 (b) of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 cannot by the same order further sentence him to a recurring fine in the event of non compliance with the order of the Board. The liability to a daily fine in the event of a continuing breach has been imposed by the Legislature in order that a person contumaciously disobeying an order lawfully issued by a Municipal Board may not claim to have purged his offence once and for all by payment of the fine imposed upon him for neglect or refusal to comply with the said order. The liability will require to be enforced as often as the Municipal Board may consider necessary by the institution of a second prosecution in which the questions for consideration will be how many days have elapsed from the date of the first conviction under the same section during which the offender is proved to have persisted in the offence and secondly the appropriate amount of daily fine to be imposed under the circumstances of the case subject to the maximum prescribed EMPEROR : AMIR HASAN KHAN (1916)

I L R 40 All 569

— ss 318 and 321—

See s 207 I L R 43 All 644

— s 324—Suit for damages by lessee of land against a Municipal contractor for causing obstruction to the use of his land Held that section 324 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 does not apply to a suit by lessee of land for damages against a contractor of the Municipal Board who stacks building materials upon that land and thereby prevents the lessee from using it MUHAMMAD GHAFAR ULLAH : BABU LAL

I L R 43 All 614

— s 326 (4)—Suit for establishment of title and injunction—Notice—Suit filed before expiration of prescribed time The Municipal Board of Benares in June 1916 served notice on the plaintiff requiring him to remove a certain chabutra which it was alleged encroached on a public way. The plaintiff replied by giving the Board notice of a suit in which the reliefs to be claimed were (i) a declaration of the plaintiff's title to the land upon which the chabutra stood and (ii) an injunction restraining the Board from ordering its demolition. The suit was however filed before the expiration of the period of two months provided for by s 306 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916. Upon objection taken by the Board as to want of a proper notice the plaintiff amended his plaint but still left the suit as a suit which asked for further relief than a bare injunction and which therefore could not come within the exception provided for by cl (4) of s 306: Held that the suit could not

UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (U P ACT II OF 1916)—contd

— s 326 (4)—contd

be maintained MUNICIPAL BOARD OF BENARES : CAJADHAR (1918)

I L R 41 All 162

— Suit to obtain refund of octroi duty—Limitation Held that the special rule of limitation laid down by cl (3) of s 326 of the United Provinces Municipalities Act 1916 applies to a suit against a municipal board wherein the plaintiff claims refund of octroi duty which the board has refused to pay him MAHMAN LAL : THE MUNICIPAL BOARD OF AGRA

I L R 42 All 207

UNITED PROVINCES PREVENTION OF ADULTERATION ACT (VI OF 1912)

— ss 4 & 6—Commission agent exposing adulterated article of food for sale Held that a commission agent who expo ed for sale (but did not sell adulterated goods) was liable to punishment under s 4 of the United Provinces Prevention of Adulteration Act 1912 and could not claim the benefit of s 6 of the Act EMPEROR : KEDAR NATH (1918)

I L R 40 All 661

UNITED PROVINCES PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (I OF 1917)

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT III OF 1887

ss 3 AND 10

I L R 42 All 470

UNITED PROVINCES RENT ACT (XII OF 1881)

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCE AND OUDH RENT ACT I L R 41 All 356

UNITED PROVINCES TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)

See AGRA TENANCY ACT

UNITY OF OBJECT

See MISJOINDER I L R 42 Cal 760

UNIVERSITIES ACT (VIII OF 1904)

See INDIA UNIVERSITIES ACT

See UNIVERSITY LECTURESHIP

I L R 41 Cal 518

— ss 21 (1) (c) and (f) ss (1) and 2 (m)—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1888) ss 140 (c) 143 (2) (a) AND (2) (d) I L R 43 Bom 281

— s 25 and regulations thereunder—cheating at examination—disqualified student—not competent to sue the University Held that the Senate of a University is under s 25 of the Indian Universities Act empowered to make rules disqualifying a candidate who cheats at an examination from passing it and from appearing at any University examination for a period of two years from the date of his disqualification and that a candidate against whom the rule has been enforced has no remedy of Civil action against the University. In the matter of Darasia Pustak, (I L R 93 Bom 465) distinguished. Taj Ahmad v University of the Punjab

I L R 2 Lah 197

UNIVERSITY LECTURERSHIP

Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45—Universities Act (VIII of 1904)—Appointments to Professorships and Lecturerships in the University of Calcutta—Provisional appointment—Sanction by Governor General in Council—If remedy lies against refusal to sanction—Mandamus—University Regulations Chap XI, s 12 The five conditions laid down in the proviso to s 45 of the Specific Relief Act are cumulative and all have to be fulfilled. The Senate of the University is only bound by its Resolutions. It cannot be held bound by representations made by any individual officer without the sanction or authority of the University. Where a person deals with a corporation whose rights are defined by statute he must be deemed to have informed himself of those rights. In this case the Resolution of the Senate cannot be interpreted as having appointed the applicant without the sanction of the Governor General or even that it was intended to appoint him without such sanction. No legal right can be said to exist because the petitioner had lectured the previous year. A rule cannot be granted to try the title to an appointment. Such title can only be tried in a properly constituted suit. The existence of a legal right is the foundation of every writ of mandamus. The principle underlying the jurisdiction in these cases is that the proceedings can confer no title not already existing though they may affect the consummation of the relator's title if he had one but it gives him none. Whether the sanction required under s 12 Chapter XI of the University Regulations for the appointment of a University lecturer is ultra vires or not cannot be determined in summary proceedings of this nature. The personal right referred to in s 45 of the Specific Relief Act is not a right in rem, such as every human being in civilized society possesses independently of any act of his own. The above dictum in In re Rustum Jamshed Irani 3 Bom L R 653 dissented from. He alone is a competent relator who has some interest other than that of the community at large in the question to be tried. York & North Midland Railway Co v Th Queen I El & B 858 and Ex parte Browning In re Marks L R 9 Ch 4p 593 discussed. In re Abdul Rasul (1913)

I L R 41 Calc 518

UNIVERSITY OF MADRAS

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)
s 45. I L R 40 Mad 125

UNIVERSITY REGULATIONS

Chap XI s 12—
See UNIVERSITY LECTURERSHIP
I L R 41 Calc 518

UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY

See JUDGMENT OF APPELLATE COURT
CONTENTS OF I L R 37 Calc 194

UNLAWFUL RECRUITMENT

See EMIGRATION I L R 37 Calc 27

UNLIQUIDATED DAMAGES

See EX PARTE DECKEN
I L R 43 Calc 1001

UNNECESSARY MATTER

printing of—
See COSTS L R 46 I A 239

UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

1 ———— Pleader as litigant
—Letter to Munsif threatening legal proceedings to recover costs in execution proceedings incurred owing to the negligence of the Court officer—Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879) ss 13 (b) and 14—Anonymous communication—Contempt of Court Where a pleader who was a decree holder in a certain suit associated himself with his co decree holder in a notice to the Munsif threatening legal proceedings to recover costs in an execution proceeding incurred owing to the negligence of the Court officers though the pleader did not sign the notice. Held that what was done by the pleader was done by an individual in the capacity of a suitor in respect of his supposed rights as a suitor and of an imaginary injury done to him as a suitor and it had no connection whatever with his professional character or anything done by him professionally and that this case was not one within s 13 (b) of the Legal Practitioners Act. In re Wallace L R 1 P O 283 In the matter of Jogendra Narayan Bose 5 C W N 48 In re a Pleader 18 Mad L J 14 In the matter of a first grade Pleader I L R 24 Mad 17 and In the matter of Sarat Chandra Guha 4 C W N 663 matter of Sarat Chandra Guha & O W N 663 referred to. In re POORNA CHANDRA ADDY (1915)
I L R 43 Calc 885

2 ———— Unprofessional conduct—Rules as to receiving instructions and accepting vakalatnamas compliance with—Judges duty to enforce compliance and take disciplinary measures on breach—One pleader appearing for another—Plea to Court to be informed Where a pleader who was charged with having filed a petition for revival of a suit without authority alleged in defence that he had been instructed to appear by a clerk of the Muktear of the party and that it had been the (erroneously) represented to him that the vakalatnama filed in the original suit contained his name. Held that the pleader had acted in contravention of s 13 cl (a) of the Legal Practitioners Act in the matter of receiving instructions. That even if the vakalatnama did contain the pleader's name mere verbal acceptance of it would not be in compliance with cl (c) r 45 Ch XI of the High Courts General Rules and Circular Orders. Where a pleader appears for another pleader who is unable at the moment to attend Court he ought to let the Court know that he is so appearing. Per RICHARDSON J The rule in regard to the acceptance of vakalatnamas should be strictly and scrupulously observed in the Subordinate Courts. In connection with the enforcement of the rules it is always open to a Judge to refuse to hear a pleader or to refuse to allow a pleader to act who has not accepted a vakalatnama in the prescribed manner. It is also the duty of the Judge to take such action as may be appropriate in regard to infractions of the rule which escape notice at the time and are brought to light subsequently. In the matter of JOGESH CHANDRA GUPTA (1913)
20 C W N 253

3 ———— Pleader—Attorney
Court's record to conceal error due to carelessness
Where a property to be sold in execution of a

UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT—contd decree was through the carelessness of the pleader for the decree holder and his clerk misdescribed in the application for execution in the warrant of attachment and in the sale proclamation and after they had been presented to Court the clerk actuated by a desire to conceal his and his master's carelessness from the decree holder altered the descriptions and the alterations were initialled by the pleader. Held (ordering the pleader's suspension for three months) that to tamper with the Court's records is at all times a serious matter and the pleader had acted without due care and caution and without that sense of responsibility which should govern the conduct of all officers of the Court in matters of such importance. In the matter of A PLEADER (1916)

20 C W N 1069

UNREASONABLE DELAY

See COSTS I L R 47 Calc 974

UNRECORDED CONFESSIONS

See MISDIRECTION I L R 45 Calc 557

UNREGISTERED DOCUMENT

See LIMITATION L R 46 I A 285

See REGISTRATION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT I L R 44 Mad 55

UNSETTLED PALAYAM

*Alienability of for debts of holder for the time being—Lands held on service tenure alienability of—Enfranchisement of service tenure effect of on alienation prior and subsequent—Regulation XXV of 1802 effect of—Private Police service abolition of by legislation—Military service imposition of on landed proprietors—Abolition of—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch II Art 120 II, and 144—Madras Regulation XI of 1816—Madras Regulation VI of 1831—Madras District Police Act XXIV of 1839—Madras Act III of 1895 Lands held on service tenure are even apart from statute inalienable by the Common Law of India beyond the life time of the holder for the time being. Papaya v Pama I L R 1 Mad 83 and Palkiam Pillay v Seetharama Iyadhar 14 Mad L J 131 followed. Abolition of service prior to the alienation renders the alienation valid. Kustoor Koomaree v Monohur Deo (1864) 11 R 39 Rajioyirav bin Tamayirav v Balwantrao Venkataiah 1 L R 5 Bom 437 and Radhadas and Pama chandra Konker v Anantur Bhagavat Deshpande 1 L R 9 Bom 198 212 followed. Enfranchisement of the land from service subsequent to an alienation thereof will not validate the alienation. Palapa v Swamirao I L R 1 Bom 536 and Sannamma v Radhabhaya I L R 41 Mad 418 followed. An unsettled palayam in the Presidency of Madras resembles a zamindari is hereditary in its character and is alienable for the debts of the previous holders and of the holder for the time being so as to bind the successors. The only difference between an unsettled palayam and a permanently settled zamindari is that in the latter the Government is precluded for ever from raising the revenue and in the former the Government may or may not have that power. Olagappa Chetty v Arubhnot L R 11 A 63 306 followed. Held on a review of the facts of the case that the*

UNSETTLED PALAYAM—contd

palayam of hanmivad in Madras district which was permanently settled in 1905 and which was in the eighteenth century liable to render military and police service to the Government of the day was as a fact unconditionally released from such services prior to 1895 and that accordingly a mortgage executed by the grandfather and father of the present zamindar in 1895 for debts incurred by the grandfather prior to that date and a decree and a Court sale held to satisfy the mortgage debt were binding upon the present zamindar and precluded him from recovering the zamindari from the auction purchaser. That the East India Company had by its Proclamations of 1799 and 1801 suppressed military service once imposed on landed proprietors in Southern India and police service similarly imposed was abolished pursuant to Regulation XXV of 1802 Regulation XI of 1816 Act XXIV of 1839 Act XVII of 1862 and Madras Act III of 1895 as services other than those of village officers had become long ago obsolete. Quere Whether if the plaintiff's father had debared himself from suing art 190 of the Limitation Act was the article applicable in which case the plaintiff would not be barred. MIDNAPORE ZEMINDARI COMPANY v APPATA AND NAICKER (1918) I L R 41 Mad 749

I L R 44 Mad 575

USAGE

See CUSTOM

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT

I L R 46 Calc 43

See USAGE OF THE PROFESSION

I L R 44 Calc 741

*Usage evidence of—Admissibility—Adding to the terms of a written contract—Repugnancy—Whether such usage makes the contract insensible inconsistent or unreasonably—Due date falling on a Sunday—Contract if may be performed on Monday following—European importer Evidence of well known trade usage is admissible to add to the terms of a written contract when such usage does not make the written contract insensible or inconsistent or unreasonable. In a contract to which both parties were Indian for the sale of piece goods imported by a European firm the due date fell on a Sunday. Held that according to the well known usage in the market the due date would be the Monday following. *HASIRAM PANTIA v HERNUND POY FEL CHAND

26 C W N 355

Held that various words in written documents which prima facie present no ambiguity may be interpreted by extrinsic evidence of usage and their peculiar meaning when found in connection with the subject matter of the transaction fixed by parole evidence. RAJA JOYE KUMAR MUKERJEE v JADUNATH BOSE

26 C W N 1022

USAGE OF THE PROFESSION

See BARRISTER I L R 41 Cal 741

USER

See TRADE NAME I L R 40 Calc 570

See USING AS GENUINE A FORGED DOCUMENT I L R 39 Cal 453

USING FALSE TRADE MARKSee TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 281*USING FORGED DOCUMENTSee FORGERY I L R 38 Calc 75

Handing over of a forged rent receipt by accused in the course of a criminal trial to his mukhtear—Examination by the mukhtear of a witness thereon—Receipt filed by the Magistrate with the record though not proved—Grant of sanction to landlord's agent not a party to the criminal case—Sanction by successor of Magistrate before whom the forged document was used—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 471—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 195 Where the accused, during the course of a criminal trial against him of rioting and theft of crops handed over to his mukhtear a forged rent receipt bearing a counterfeit seal of the landlord to prove his possession and the latter put the same to a witness and questioned to him as to its genuineness but on the witness alleging that it was a forgery the trying Magistrate took it initialled it and placed it on the record. Held that there was a user of the document within s 471 of the Penal Code. Ambica Prasad Singh v Emperor I L R 35 Calc 820 distinguished. A sanction granted to the agent of the landlord whose seal was forged is valid though neither was a party to the criminal case in which the forged document was used. A sanction granted by the successor of a Magistrate before whom the forged document was used is good in law. RATI JHA v EMPEROR (1911) I L R 39 Calc 463

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGESee AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) ss 142 199 I L R 41 All 369See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXXIV R 14 I L R 41 All 399See INTEREST I L R 40 Calc 514See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 40 Calc 870See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I ART 109 I L R 39 All 200See MORTGAGESee SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE I L R 44 Calc 573See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882—ss 65 AND 68 2 Pat L J 490See ss 54 118 I L R 37 Mad. 423See ss 68 (a) AND (d) 67 68 (c) I L R 41 Mad 259See S 53 I L R 39 Mad 579

— construction of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 388

1 — Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42—Usufructuary mortgage—mortgagee recorded as tenant—suit by mortgagor for declaration of right of redemption and that mortgagee is not a tenant Where a usufructuary mortgagee of land had him self recorded as the tenant of the land covered by the mortgage held in a suit by the mortgagor (i) for a declaration that the defendant was not a tenant of the land and (ii) for a declaration that the plaintiff was entitled to redeem the mortgage on repayment of the mortgage debt that the plaintiff was entitled to the first declaration prayed for but not to the second. A mortgagor is not entitled to a declaration of the terms on which he may redeem the mortgaged property when it is open to him to bring a suit for redemption of that property. PAN DOOR RAI v MAHANTH HARNAM DAS 3 Pat L J 71

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE—contd

2 — Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882), s 67—Usufructuary mortgage—Debt payable within a fixed period—Expiry of the period—Mortgagee's right to an order for sale Where under a usufructuary mortgage the mortgage debt is made payable within a fixed period the mortgage is not purely a usufructuary mortgage and the mortgagee has in the absence of a contract to the contrary the right to an order under s 67 of the Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) that the property be sold after the debt has become payable. Mahadaya v Joti I L R 17 Bom 475 and Krishna v Hari 19 Bom L R 615 explained DATTABHAT RAMBHAT v KARI N NABHAT (1910) I L R 34 Bom 482

3 — Turn of worship in a temple—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 59—Mortgage bond creating right to worship whether requires attestation A turn of worship is not an interest in immoveable property. There fore an usufructuary mortgage bond creating an interest in a turn of worship does not require attestation by witnesses under s 49 of the Transfer of Property Act. Eshan Chunder Roy v Monmohini Das I L R 4 Calc 633 referred to JATI KAR v MURUNDA DEB (1911) I L R 39 Calc 227

4 — Dispossession of mortgage by a stranger adverse to mortgagor from the time of his knowledge Where a trespasser dispossesses a mortgagee in possession and continues in possession asserting a title adverse to the mortgagor also such dispossession will be adverse to the mortgagor from the time the mortgagor has knowledge of the assertion (though he may not be then entitled according to the terms of the mortgage to recover possession from the trespasser to prove gagee). The onus is on the party adverse to the mortgagor but also that the latter knew it. SACHINDRASEKARAN PERIYA AIYA ANBALAM v SACHINDRASEKARAN (1913) I L R 40 Mad 903

5 — Lease of mortgaged property by mortgagee to mortgagor—Sale of equity of redemption to a third party in execution of a decree for arrears of rent—Liability of the lender for rent Defendant being the owner of a zemindari share made a usufructuary mortgage of it in favour of the plaintiff. On the same date the plaintiff executed a lease of the same property for the term of the mortgage. Defendant fell into arrears with his rent and plaintiff sued him and obtained a decree in execution of which he brought to sale defendant's equity of redemption under the mortgage and it was purchased by a third party. The purchaser however did not obtain mutation of names in his favour. Held on a fresh suit brought by the lender for arrears of rent accruing due after the sale of the equity of redemption that the defendant was still liable for payment of rent as the lender. MITHAN LAL v CHHAJJI SINGH (1914) I L R 40 All 429

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE—concl'd

6 ———— When a puisne usufructuary mortgagee whose bond provides that if he is dispossessed he shall be entitled to sue for repayment of the loan has been dispossessed by purchaser at an execution sale of a prior mortgagee he is entitled to proceed against mortgagee personally on the bond although he has made no attempt to redeem the prior mortgage. RAMJANAN SINGH v. KUNJ BEHARI SINGH

6 Pat L J 670

7 ———— Possession by mortgagee as such for more than 12 years—Acquisition of title as mortgagee—Suit for redemption—Liability of mortgagee to account for the whole period of possession. A person in possession of a property as usufructuary mortgagee under a void mortgage for more than 12 years acquires by prescription the rights of a mortgagee and is as much accountable to the mortgagor for the rents and profits not only of the last three years preceding the suit for redemption but for the whole period of his possession. Vadkai v. Varajana (1886) 1 L R 9 Mad 244 and Sundara Gurusahal v. Subramaniya Archakar (1912) 16 I C 960 followed. CORALA DASU v. RAMI (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 946

8 ———— Suit for redemption of an usufructuary mortgage and for recovery of surplus profits from the mortgagee—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 148 and 105 applicability of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) Or 34 rr (7) and (9) scope and effect of. A mortgagor brought a suit for redemption of an usufructuary mortgage and alleged that if accounts were taken a large sum would be found due from the mortgagee. The mortgagee contended that the claim for recovery of the surplus profits received by him was barred under Art 120 of the Limitation Act. Held—That having regard to the provisions of Or XXXIV rr (7) and (9) of the Civil Procedure Code the claim for recovery of the surplus profits received by the mortgagee is a relief which is a part of the suit for redemption itself for which the limitation is provided by Art 148 of the Limitation Act. Therefore the claim for recovery of the surplus collections was not barred by limitation. Art 105 of the Limitation Act applies to cases where the mortgagor has not to bring a suit for redemption but has to sue only for recovery of the surplus collections. This was an appeal against the decrees of Babu Aparajit Prasad Mukherjee Subordinate Judge 3rd Court of Zillah 24 Pergannas dated the 2nd of April 1919 affirming the decree of Babu Probodh Chandra Poy Munshi 2nd Court at Basirhat dated the 2nd of April 1918 and 10th May 1918 respectively. PROBODH KUMAR MONDAL v. NILANBAR MONDAL

26 C W N 121

USURIOUS INTEREST

See INTEREST I L R 42 Calc 690

USURIOUS LOANS ACT (X OF 1918)

— 3 —

See INTEREST I L R 44 Bom 775

USURY

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Calc 116

See SOUTHERN PARGANAS.

L R 41 I A 187

UTTARAYAN

Abuab of liable to be taxed. Income derived from illegal abwabas such as Uttarayan is not agricultural income and is not exempt from assessment but must be taxed as income from whatever source derived within the meaning of s 3 of the Income Tax Act 1918. MAHARAJA BIRENDRAJISHOI MANIKYA BAHADUR v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

25 C W N 91

VVACATION

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Bom 656

VAKALATNAMA

S CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (OR II PAPA 1 25 C W N 832

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—

O III R 4 M Pat J J 259

O XII R 10 I L R 36 All 46

LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT s 13
28 C W N 589

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 5

I L R 33 All 392

*Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXIII r 1—Withdrawal application for—Pleader's authority—Vakalatnama—Plaintiff if may object to order as made on insufficient grounds. A vakalatnama executed by the plaintiffs which authorised their pleader to choose arbitrators prefer objections to awards file solenamah or rafanamah when necessary and do all necessary acts in connection with the suit that will be for our benefit gave the pleader authority to make an application under O XXIII r 1 for the withdrawal of the suit. Quare Whether it is open to the plaintiff to take exception to an order permitting him to withdraw a suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit on the ground that the grounds set out in the application for withdrawal were insufficient. KALASH CHANDRA DAB v. HARADHAN CHATTERJEE (1912)*

16 C W N 932

*Practice—High Court—Mofussil Courts—Vakalatnama acceptance of by pleaders—Endorsement if necessary—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O III r 4—High Court General Rules and Circular Orders 1910 Vol I Ch XI s 45 (e). It is not necessary that the acceptance of a vakalatnama should be in writing but the High Court General Rules and Circular Orders 1910 Vol I Ch XI r 45 (e) should be fully complied with by the pleader who accepts the vakalatnama. Per D CHATTERJEE J—An appearance or act by a pleader named in the vakalatnama (without his accepting it in writing) would if allowed by the Court expressly or by implication be valid and operative. The High Court rule however was made to be followed and is a salutary rule prescribed for safeguarding the interests of litigants and should certainly be followed in the mofussil in the manner indicated by the court.*

VAKALATNAMA—contd

tion placed on the same in the answers to the several references made to this Court. It must be fully complied with by the pleader who first accepts the vakalatnama and all subsequent acceptances must be made by endorsements made in the presence of the Court or the Sherristadar or the Bench officer and dated, provided of course all the pleaders so accepting a vakalatnama are named in it. Courts in the mofussil must be specially careful in enforcing this rule in cases of compromise and withdrawal of cases and withdrawal of money and documents. Per BEACHROFT J.—There can be an acceptance by the pleader other than in writing. But if this Court has in the exercise of its powers framed certain rules which must be observed by pleaders a pleader who does not conform to those rules ought not to be heard. Quere Whether after the first endorsement by a pleader accepting a vakalatnama a mere endorsement of acceptance by those appearing on the strength of the original vakalatnama at subsequent stages of the case is sufficient. MAHESWARI CHANDRA ADDY v. PANCHU MUDALI (1915)
1 L R 43 Cal 384

Containing name of pleader who does not endorse and accept it—Whether the pleader can act—Vakalatnama authorising pleader to withdraw or give up claim of Plaintiff and to do all acts on behalf of Plaintiff—Whether Plaintiff would be bound by the pleader placing a Defendant on special oath and agreeing that his client should be bound by the answers—Indian Oaths Act (X of 1873) ss 8 and 9. One of the Plaintiffs in a suit for recovery of money died and her heirs were substituted in her place. On behalf of the original plaintiffs three pleaders A, B and C were engaged. The substituted plaintiffs presented a second vakalatnama on which only two junior pleaders B and C made a formal endorsement of acceptance though it contained the name of A also. Held that assessor pleader of the three to A was entrusted the management of the case on behalf of all the plaintiffs. The two vakalatnamas were similar in terms and authorized the pleaders amongst other things to withdraw the suit or to give up the claim of the Plaintiffs to cite and examine witnesses or to refuse to examine the same and provided that all acts done by the pleaders for the benefit of their clients would be accepted by the parties as their own acts. At the hearing the Plaintiff No. 1 was examined and he stated that he and other Plaintiffs would be bound by the answers given to certain questions by Defendant No. 2 on the said Defendant taking a special oath in the manner provided under ss 8 and 9 of the Indian Oaths Act. Thereupon the senior pleader A presented an application on behalf of all the Plaintiffs offering this special oath to Defendant No. 2 and agreeing on their behalf to be bound by the answers given by the said Defendant to the questions set forth in his application. The Defendant No. 2 was thereupon examined on special oath and he answered the questions. Upon this the Plaintiffs declined to examine any further witnesses and accordingly the suit as a whole was dismissed. On appeal the District Judge set aside the decree of the lower Court in so far as it related to Plaintiffs other than Plaintiff No. 1. Held—That the powers given to the pleader were very wide and when the vakalatnama authorized him even to withdraw the suit or to give up the claim

VAKALATNAMA—concl'd of the plaintiffs the authority given and the words used were comprehensive enough to include also the step taken by the pleader in placing one of the defendants on special oath and agreeing that his clients should be bound by the answers given by the witness on such oath. MEHREJAN BIBI v. SYED KAUREDDIN 24 C W N 385

VAKIL

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

1 L R 40 Mad 69

— duty and status of—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
1 L R 44 Bom 418

— power to enter into compromise—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII R 3 AND S 96 (J)
1 L R 41 Mad 233

— Right of audience in references under s 51 of Income Tax Act—

See INCOME TAX ACT s 5
25 C W N 80

Vakil's right to appear before a Judge sitting on the Original Side of the High Court—Application to file warrant of attorney—Extraordinary Civil Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1859) s 605—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 119 109. A vakil of the High Court applied before a Judge sitting on the Original Side of the Court claiming a right to file a warrant of attorney in respect of a suit pending before the Madras District Court, in which a rule had been issued calling upon the plaintiffs to show cause why the suit should not be transferred to the High Court in its Extraordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. Held that having regard to the long continued course of practice during which vakils never appeared on the hearing of such applications the present application should be refused. Held further that the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 has nothing to do with a matter governed by old rules in force before 1909. In re A VAKIL'S APPLICATION (1910)
1 L R 37 Cal 853

Vakil right of audience of at hearing of application against order of Presidency Small Cause Court refusing sanction to prosecute before Division Bench appointed for the purpose. An application for sanction to prosecute the plaintiffs was rejected by the Judge of the Court of Small Causes at Calcutta who tried the suit. Against this the defendants applied to the Judge of the High Court sitting on the Original Side who remanded the matter to the trial court. On an appeal under the Letters Patent the order of remand was set aside and the application was remitted to a divisional bench appointed for the purpose for disposal. At the hearing the opposite party was represented by a vakil. Held 1st TRIVON J (CHAUDHURI J. dissenting) that the vakil had the right of audience. Per TRIVON J.—That the Presidency Small Cause Court is an inferior or subordinate court and in dealing with its judgments or orders the High Court is a superior court exercising not original but appellate or revisional jurisdiction. From this and the provisions of s 4 of the Legal Practi tioners Act it follows that the vakil was entitled to be heard. Per CHAUDHURY J—That the power of superintendence direction and control which was possessed by the Supreme Court over the Presidency Small Cause Court appertains to the Original Side of the High Court and all such powers when exercised by the Original Side are exercised in its Original Jurisdiction within the meaning of s 4 of the Legal Practitioners Act. BUDHU LAL v CHATTU GORE (1917)

VAKIL—contd

21 C W N 654

—Pight of audience in references under s 51 of the Income Tax Act 1918 established MAHARAJA BIRENDRAKISHOR MANI KYA BARADUR v SECRETARY OF STATE

25 C W N 80

—Suit on the Original Side of the High Court—Fees non payment of—Duty of vakil to take necessary steps in the suit—Written statement not filed in time—Refusal of vakil to file because his fees was not paid—Refusal of vakil to consent to transfer of case to another vakil—Application for change of vakil—Order of Court—Delay in filing written statement whether excusable—Rules of Practice Original Side of the High Court rule 48 A vakil engaged in a suit on the Original Side of the High Court is not entitled to refuse to take a neces ary step in the suit on the ground that his own fees had not been paid and at the same time refuse his consent to a change of vakilat to another vakil Delay in filing a written statement within the time fixed by the rules of the High Court caused by such refusal on the part of the vakil on the record was excused MUTRU KRISHNA YACHENDRAI NURSE (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 978

VALATDANAIPATTA

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872), s 6.

I L P NE Bom 249

VALIDITY OF WAKF

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

L R 44 I A 21

VALUABLE CONSIDERATION

See LITIGATION I L R 43 Calc 34

VALUABLE SECURITY

See PENAL CODE ss 30 AND 471

S Pat L J 386

—Title page of account book—Semble : A title page in an account book containing the names of the partners and the amount of the capital contributed by each is if signed by them a valuable security within s 30 of the Penal Code HARI CHANAY GOKAIT v GIRISH CHANDRA SADRUKHAN (1910)

I L R 23 Calc 68

VALUATION OF APPEAL.

See APPEAL

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL.

I L R 44 Calc 119

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 110

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1873) s. 7 CL. (4) I L R 39 Mad. 25

VALUATION OF APPEAL—contd

See PRIVY COUNCIL.

14 C W N 651 872

See SUITS VALUATION ACT

—Court fees Act (VII of 1870) s 5 Sch I Art I and Sch II, Art I cl (6)—Valuation of appeal when no amount claimed, but liability of certain properties disputed—Memo randum of appeal—Taxing Officer—Acceptance of court fee by Deputy Registrar finality of Where the appellant in an appeal against a mortgage decree does not dispute the amount decreed but raises the question of the liability of certain properties the value of the appeal for the purpose of the court fees is the value of such properties Sch II Art 17 cl (6) of the Court fees Act (VII of 1870) has no application to such a case Kesava rapu Ramakrishna Reddi v Kotla Kola Reddi I L R 30 Mad 96 Bunwari Lal v Daya Sunler Master 13 C W N 815 referred to A memo randum of appeal was admitted by the Deputy Registrar of the High Court and no question was raised as to the sufficiency of the court fees At the hearing of the appeal it was objected on behalf of the respondents that the court fee was insufficient Held that there having been no decision under s 5 of the Act by the Taxing Officer who was the Registrar of the High Court it was open to the respondents to raise the objection at the hearing of the appeal Kasturi Chel v Deputy Collector Bellary I L R 21 Mad 969 referred to JEGAL PERSHAD SINGH v PABHU NARAIN JHA (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 914

VALUATION OF LAND

See ASSESSMENT I L R 42 Bom 692

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 41 Calc 967

I L R 33 All 733

See MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENT

I L R 39 Calc 141

See MUNICIPALITY

I L R 46 Calc 784

See RESUMPTION OF LAND

I L R 42 Bom. 668

VALUATION OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)—Compensation—Valuation of residential property—Elements to be considered—Evidence before Acquisition Officer—Practice The income of a property whether actual or imaginary is no doubt one of the recognized starting points for a valuation but it is a mistake to think that it is the only element to be taken into consideration In the case of residential property to endeavour to arrive at the market value solely on the basis of an hypothetical rent may work grave injustice to the owner There are commodities which may possess a value in the market not for the return they give on capital invested but for the advantages and enjoyment which accrue from their possession Residential property—in the sense of property which a purchaser wishes to acquire for his own residence—is such a commodity The first question to determine is whether there is a demand and if there is a demand the original cost is the most important element for consideration. It is the duty of legal practitioners attending before the Acquisition Officer to assist him in arriving at a

VALUATION OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

—contd

valuation by putting before him all the information and materials at their disposal In the matter of LAND ACQUISITION ACT In the matter of GOVERNMENT AND SURNAME (1903)

I L R 31 Bom 486

VALUATION OF SUIT

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 890

See ADOPTION I L R 37 Calc 860

See APPEAL 14 C W N 343

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 115 I L R 39 All 723

O XXI R 63 I L R 38 All 73

R 60 I L R 40 All 505

See COURT FEES

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870)

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III of 1873) ss 12 13

I L R 38 Mad 447

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Mad 420

See PLAINT I L R 48 Calc 110

See SUITS VALUATION ACT

—For purpose of Privy Council Appeal

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 110

I L R 2 Lah 297

—suit to enforce right to share in joint family property

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 2

I L R 2 Lah 114

—suit for injunction—

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870) s

7 (ii) (a) I L R 45 Bom 567

1 —Valuation in plaint contested—

Duty of court—to decide correct valuation suit for declaration method of valuation—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s 11 If the valuation of a suit put in the plaint for the purpose of jurisdiction is contested it is the duty of the court to decide what the correct valuation is. In a suit for a declaration the value of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction must be the value of the property in respect of which the declaration is sought. MONIY MORAN MISSEY & GOUR CHANDRA RA

5 Pat L J 337

2 —Partition suit—basis of value for jurisdiction The value of a suit for partition for the purpose of jurisdiction is the value of the share claimed by the plaintiff and not the value of the whole property of which partition is sought. DUKHI SINGH & HARIBH SHAN

s Pat L J 540

3 —Suit to set aside adoption—Munsif jurisdiction of—Forum—Practice According to a long standing practice a suit to set aside an adoption is for the purposes of jurisdiction incapable of valuation and it is competent to the plaintiff in such a suit to value the relief claimed, and that valuation determines the forum to decide the suit. Allemanssa Bibi v Mahomed Hatem I L R 31 Calc 849 commented on Jan Mahomed Mandal v Mathar Bibi I L R 34 Calc 352 referred to PRABH CHANDRA DAS v DWARKA NATH GHOSE (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 860

VALUATION OF SUIT—contd

4 —Suit for possession of land and mesne profits—Value changed in the course of the suit—Appeal to the District Court heard and entertained at earlier stage on the basis of original valuation—Application for assessment of the mesne profits—Total claim beyond District Court & appellate jurisdiction—Objection as to jurisdiction not taken in District Court—Objection if may be taken in High Court by way of appeal—Civil Procedure Code (I of 1908) s 99—Appeal if lies—Jurisdiction objection to transfer of—Return of memorandum of appeal—Presentation in proper Court out of time—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 5—Costs A suit for recovery of land with mesne profits instituted in the Court of a Subordinate Judge was originally valued at Rs 2 100 Rs 1⁰⁰ for the land and Rs 375 as the approximate amount of mesne profits for three years antecedent to the suit. The suit was decreed by the Subordinate Judge and the decree affirmed on appeal by the District Judge. Plaintiff thereafter appealed for assessment of mesne profits valuing his claim at Rs 549. The Subordinate Judge having allowed only Rs 90 the plaintiff appealed to the District Judge valuing his claim in the memorandum of appeal at Rs 27.8. His appeal was allowed whilst the defendant a cross appeal against the Subordinate Judge's decree for Rs 962 was dismissed. The defendant appealed to the High Court inter alia on the ground that the appeal to the District Judge was incompetent. Held that the real value of the suit was Rs 5415 (Rs 1725 and Rs 41 and Rs 210) and the appeal from the order of the Subordinate Judge lay to the High Court and not to the District Judge. That the defendant was not precluded from raising the question of jurisdiction on appeal by the fact that he had omitted to take exception to the fact that he had omitted to file an appeal and had District Judge's jurisdiction in his Court and had himself filed a cross objection. The principle that parties cannot by consent or by stipulation invest a Court with jurisdiction is applicable to cases wherein the jurisdiction is dependent upon the value of the subject matter in controversy. Verrill v Petty 16 Wallace 338 relied on. Where there is a total want of jurisdiction over the subject matter in controversy the objection cannot be waived. In re Aylmer 9 Q B D 933. Jones v Owen 5 D & L 669 18 L J Q B 3. Mayor of London v Cox L R 2 H L 939 relied on. That an appeal to the High Court lay against the decree made without jurisdiction by the District Judge. Where jurisdiction is usurped by a Court in passing an order against which an appeal would lie if it had been passed with jurisdiction an appeal against the order cannot be defeated on the ground that the order was made without jurisdiction. Bhinderwar Charan v Lalpat Nath 15 C W N 72. That the principle that no appeal lies where the Court has been constituted an arbitrator by the parties had no application to the present case. The High Court directed the memorandum of appeal to the District Judge to be returned for presentation in the High Court but as the memorandum of appeal was already in the High Court it was ordered that the memorandum be treated as presented in the High Court on that date and it was ordered under exercise by the High Court of its discretion under s 5 Limitation Act that the time between the presentation of the appeal in the District Judge's Court and the order for return made by the High

VALUATION OF SUIT—contd

Court be deducted. As the objection to jurisdiction was not raised before the lower Appellate Court each party was directed to pay his own costs RAMJI MESSER v RAMANOR BIRGH (1912)
127 C W N 116

5 ——— Investigation as to amount of value of subject matter of suit—Competence of Court of first instance to remit investigation of dispute to some other officer—Civil procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XLII s 5—Practice R 6 O XLV of the Code of Civil Procedure does not empower the Court of first instance to remit the investigation as to amount or value of subject matter of suit to some other officer it must be carried out by that Court HANSMAN JHA v BHARUJI JHA (1915)
I L R 43 Cal 225

6 ——— Suit for declaration of title without consequential relief—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) Sch II 17 (iii)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s 3—Objection to jurisdiction not taken in First Court—Illegal and misconceived practice of valuing suit The plaintiff (respondent) brought a suit against the appellant for moveable and immovable property left by one V of whom he claimed to be the adopted son. The property was stated in the plaint to exceed Rs 60,000 and to be in the hands of the Collector (with the exception of a house worth Rs 250) at the instance of the appellant who claimed to be the nearest heir of the deceased. The plaint prayed for a declaration (valued at Rs 130) of the respondent's title and for an injunction (valued at Rs 5) to prevent obstruction by the appellant to the property in the respondent's possession. The appellant denied the adoption but he made no objection either in his written statement or in his memorandum of appeal to the District or the High Court to the jurisdiction of the First Class Subordinate Judge to try the suit. That Court decided the suit in favour of the respondent. From that decision the appellant appealed both to the District Judge and to the High Court and the latter appeal stood over until the former had been decided by the District Judge who on the ground that the valuation of the suit was less than Rs 5,000 reversed the decision of the District Court and made a decree in favour of the appellant but that decree was reversed on appeal to the High Court by the respondent and it was held that the appeal lay not to the District Judge but to the High Court which then heard the appellant's appeal from the original decision of the First Class Subordinate Judge and affirmed his decision. By order in Council leave was granted to the appellant for a special appeal to his Majesty in Council on the hearing of which the appellant raised the contention that the value of the subject matter of the suit was a sum not exceeding Rs 5,000 and therefore the decision of the First Class Subordinate Judge had been without jurisdiction and the appeal to the High Court was not competent. Held that the value of the subject matter of the suit exceeded Rs 5,000 and it was rightly instituted in the Court of the First Class Subordinate Judge in the exercise of his special jurisdiction and the appeal from his decision properly lay to the High Court. If any part of the Court fee payable and paid was a fixed fee under s 2 of the Court Fees Act the national value of the property could not displace its real value for the purposes of jurisdiction.

VALUATION OF SUIT—contd

The objection of the appellant to the First Class Subordinate Judge not having been raised in his Court could not be made at any subsequent stage of the suit. A practice of valuing a prayer for a declaratory decree at Rs 130 as being the value on which the fee nearest to Rs 10 would be leviable deprecated as being illegal and misconceived. It was contrary to the scheme of the Court Fees Act that there should be any valuation of such a suit RACHAPPA SUBPAO v SHIDAPPA VENKATPAO (1918)
I L R 43 Bom 567

VALUE OF PROPERTY

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 44 Cal 119

See VALUATION OF LAND

See VALUATION OF SUIT

VALUE PAYABLE POST

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 20

I L R 42 All 619

See POST OFFICE ACT (VI of 1898) ss 35

64 74 I L R 43 Mad 511

VARTHAMANAM (OR LETTER)

———Not stamped—Unconditional undertaking to pay—Promissory note in admissible in evidence—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 91—Suit on original liability not maintainable A varthamanam or letter which says "Amount of cash borrowed of you by me is Rs 300. I shall in two weeks time returning this sum of rupees three hundred and fifty with interest thereon at the rate of Rupee one per cent per month get back this letter amounts to an unconditional undertaking to repay borrowed money and is therefore a promissory note and not merely an offer to borrow or an acknowledgment of indebtedness" Bharata Pi Parodi v Vasudevan Namuduri I L R 27 Mad 1 distinguished. Tirupathi Goundan v Pama Peddi I L R 21 Mad 49 doubted. When such a document is inadmissible for want of a stamp to allow a suit on one account for money had and received concealing the real contract of loan which had been reduced to the form of a document would nullify s 91 of the Indian Evidence Act (I 1872). Pothu Peddi v Palayudasan I L R 10 Mad 94 followed. Chinnappa Pillai v Muthuraman Chettiar 9 Mad L T 231. Mallaya v Ramayya 91 Mad L. Krishnaji v Pajmal I L R. Bay Nath Das v Salig Pam 10 from Doctrines of English C not to be imported into the a document. Per SPEAKER the word varthamanam will not deprive the document of promissory note if its such MUTHU SASTRICAL v KASANKADHI (1913)

VATAN

See BOMBAY (BOMBAY ACT

See

VALUATION OF RESIDENTIAL PROPERTY

—contd

valuation by putting before him all the information and materials at their disposal In the matter of LAND ACQUISITION ACT In the matter of GOVERNMENT AND SUKHANAND (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 488

VALUATION OF SUIT

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 44 Calc 890

See ADOPTION I L R 37 Calc 860

See APPEAL 14 C W N 343

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 115 I L R 40 All 723

O XXI B 63 I L R 40 All 72

R 66 I L R 40 All 505

See COURT FEES

See COURT FEES ACT (VI of 1870)

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III of 1873) ss 12 13

I L R 39 Mad 447

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Mad 420

See PLAINT I L R 48 Calc 110

See SUITS VALUATION ACT

—For purpose of Privy Council Appeal

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 110

I L R 2 Lah 297

—suit to enforce right to share in joint family property

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 2

I L R 2 Lah 114

—suit for injunction—

See COURT FEES ACT (VI of 1870) s

7 (iv) (a) I L R 45 Bom 567

1 — Valuation in plaint contested—

Duty of court—to decide correct valuation suit for declaration method of valuation—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1887) s 11 If the valuation of a suit put in the plaint for the purpose of jurisdiction is contested it is the duty of the court to decide what the correct valuation is. In a suit for a declaration the value of the suit for the purpose of jurisdiction must be the value of the property in respect of which the declaration is sought. MOHINI MOHAN MISSEER v GOUR CHANDRA RA

5 Pat L J 337

—Partition suit—basis of value of, for jurisdiction. The value of a suit for partition for the purpose of jurisdiction is the value of the share claimed by the plaintiff and not the value of the whole property of which partition is sought. DUEHI SINGH v HARINAR SHAM

5 Pat L J 540

3 — Suit to set aside adoption—

Munsif jurisdiction of—Forum—Practice According to a long standing practice a suit to set aside an adoption is for the purposes of jurisdiction incapable of valuation and it is competent to the plaintiff in such a suit to value the relief claimed and that valuation determines the forum to decide the suit. Allemannessa Bibi v Mahomed Haleem I L R 31 Calc 849 commented on Jan Mahomed Mandal v Masrah Bibi I L R 34 Calc 352 referred to. PRABHU CHANDRA DAS v DWARKA NATH GHOSE (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 860

VALUATION OF SUIT—contd

4 — Suit for possession of land and mesne profits—Value changed in the course of the suit—Appeal to the District Court heard and entered at earlier stage on the basis of original valuation—Application for assessment of the mesne profits—Total claim beyond District Court's appellate jurisdiction—Objection as to jurisdiction not taken in District Court—Objection if may be taken in High Court by way of appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 99—Appeal of lies—Jurisdiction objection to waiver of—Return of memorandum of appeal—Presentation in proper Court out of time—Limitation Act (I of 1908) s 5—Costs A suit for recovery of land with mesne profits instituted in the Court of a Subordinate Judge was originally valued at Rs 2100 Ps 17½ for the land and Rs 37½ as the approximate amount of mesne profits for three years antecedent to the suit. The suit was decreed by the Subordinate Judge and the decree affirmed on appeal by the District Judge. Plaintiff thereafter appealed for assessment of mesne profits valuing his claim at Rs 7540. The Subordinate Judge having allowed only Rs 96½ the plaintiff appealed to the District Judge valuing his claim in the memorandum of appeal at Rs 27 s his appeal was allowed whilst the defendant's cross appeal against the Subordinate Judge's decree for Rs 96½ was dismissed. The defendant appealed to the High Court inter alia on the ground that the appeal to the District Judge was incompetent. Held that the real value of the suit was Rs 5415 (Rs 1725 and Rs 462 and Rs 978) and the appeal from the order of the Subordinate Judge lay to the High Court and not to the District Judge. That the defendant was not precluded from raising the question of jurisdiction on appeal by the fact that he had omitted to take exception to the District Judge's jurisdiction in his Court and had himself filed a cross objection. The principle that parties cannot by consent or by stipulation invest a Court with jurisdiction is applicable to cases wherein the jurisdiction is dependent upon the value of the subject matter in controversy. Merrill v Petty 16 Wallace 335 relied on. Where there is a total want of jurisdiction over the subject matter in controversy the objection cannot be waived. In re Aylmer 20 Q B D 933 Jones v Owen 5 D & L 663 18 L J Q B 8 Mayor of London v Cox L P 2 H L 239 relied on. That an appeal to the High Court lay against the decree made without jurisdiction by the District Judge. Where jurisdiction is usurped by a Court in passing an order against which an appeal would lie if it had been passed with jurisdiction an appeal against the order cannot be defeated on the ground that the order was made without jurisdiction. Binderwar, Charan v Lalpat Nath 15 C W 725 That the principle that no appeal lies where the Court has been constituted an arbitrator by the parties had no application to the present case. The High Court directed the memorandum of appeal to the District Judge to be returned for presentation in the High Court but as the memorandum of appeal was already in the High Court it was ordered that the memorandum be treated as presented in the High Court on that date and it was ordered in the exercise by the High Court of its discretion under s 5 Limitation Act that the time between the presentation of the appeal in the District Judge's Court and the order for return made by the High

VALUATION OF SUIT—contd

Court be deducted. As the objection to jurisdiction was not raised before the lower Appellate Court each party was directed to pay his own costs. RAMJI MANSER = RAMADOR SINGH (1912)
117 C W N 116

5 ——— Investigation as to amount of value of subject matter of suit—Competence of Court of first instance to remit investigation of dispute to some other officer—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XL 1 s 5—Practice R 5 O XLV of the Code of Civil Procedure does not empower the Court of first instance to remit the investigation as to amount or value of subject matter of suit to some other officer it must be carried out by that Court. HANSMAN JHA v BAHUJI JHA (1915)
I L R 43 Cal 225

6 ——— Suit for declaration of title without consequential relief—Court Fees Act (VII of 1837) Sch II 17 (iii)—Suits Valuation Act (VII of 1837) s 8—Objection to jurisdiction not taken in First Court—Illegal and unconcerned practice of valuing suit. The plaintiff (respondent) brought a suit against the appellant for moveable and immoveable property left by one of whom he claimed to be the adopted son. The property was stated in the plaint to exceed Rs 60,000 and to be in the hands of the Collector (with the exception of a house worth Rs 200) at the instance of the appellant who claimed to be the nearest heir of the deceased. The plaint prayed for a declaration (valued at Rs 130) of the respondent's title and for an injunction (valued at Rs 5) to prevent obstruction by the appellant to the property in the respondent's possession. The appellant denied the adoption but he made no objection either in his written statement or in his memorandum of appeal to the District or the High Court to the jurisdiction of the First Class Subordinate Judge to try the suit. That Court decided the suit in favour of the respondent. From that decision the appellant appealed both to the District Judge and to the High Court and the latter appeal stood over until the former had been decided by the District Judge who on the ground that the valuation of the suit was less than Rs 5,000 reversed the decision of the First Court and made a decree in favour of the appellant but that decree was reversed on appeal to the High Court by the respondent and it was held that the appeal lay not to the District Judge but to the High Court which then heard the appellant's appeal from the original decision of the First Class Subordinate Judge and affirmed his decision. By order in Council leave was granted to the appellant for a special appeal to his Majesty in Council on the hearing of which the appellant raised the contention that the value of the subject matter of the suit was a sum not exceeding Rs 5,000 and therefore the decision of the First Class Subordinate Judge had been without jurisdiction and the appeal to the High Court was not competent. Held that the value of the subject matter of the suit exceeded Rs 5,000 and it was rightly instituted in the Court of the First Class Subordinate Judge in the exercise of his special jurisdiction and the appeal from his decision properly lay to the High Court. If any part of the Court fee payable and paid was a fixed fee under s 2 of the Court Fees Act the nominal value of the property could not displace its real value for the purposes of jurisdiction.

VALUATION OF SUIT—concl'd

The objection of the appellant to the First Class Subordinate Judge not having been raised in his Court could not be made at any subsequent stage of the suit. A practice of valuing a prayer for a declaratory decree at Rs 130 as being the value on which the fee nearest to Rs 10 would be leviable deprecated as being illegal and misconceived. It was contrary to the scheme of the Court Fees Act that there should be any valuation of such a suit. RACHAPPA SUBRAO v SHIDAPPA VENKATRAO (1918)
I L R 42 Bom 507

VALUE OF PROPERTY

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 44 Cal 119

See VALUATION OF LAND

See VALUATION OF SUIT

VALUE PAYABLE POST

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 20
I L R 42 All 619

See POST OFFICE ACT (VI of 1898) s 35
64 74 I L R 33 Mad 511

VARTHAMANAM (OR LETTER)

——— Not stamped—Unconditional undertaking to pay—Promissory note inadmissible in evidence—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 91—Suit on original liability not maintainable. A vartthamanam or letter which says "Amount of cash borrowed of you by me is Rs 350. I shall in two weeks time returning this sum of rupees three hundred and fifty with interest thereon at the rate of Rupee one per cent per month get back this letter amounts to an unconditional undertaking to repay borrowed money and is therefore a promissory note and not merely an offer to borrow or an acknowledgment of indebtedness." Bharata Pusharodi v Vasudevan Aam Budri I L R 27 Vad 1 distinguished Tiru pathi Goundan v Rama Reddi I L R 21 Mad 49 doubted. When such a document is inadmissible for want of a stamp to allow a suit as one on account for money had and received concealing the real contract of loan which had been reduced to the form of a document would nullify s 91 of the Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872). Pathi Peddi v Valayudaman I L R 10 Mad 94 followed. Chinnappa Pillai v Muthuraman Chettiar 9 Vad L 2 281 and Mallaya v Ramayya 21 Mad L J 466 approved. Krishnaji v Pajmal I L R 24 Bom 360 and Dary Nath Das v Salga Ram 16 I C 33 dissented from. Doctrines of English Courts of Equity are not to be imported into the construction of such a document. Per SPENCER J—The mere use of the word vartthamanam in stead of promissory note will not deprive the document of its real character of promissory note if its terms show that it is such. MUTHU ASTRIGAL v VISWANATHA PANDA RASANADHI (1913)
I L R 38 Mad 660

VATAN

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM ACT III of 1874) s 15
I L R 44 Bom. 237

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT s 2 EXPL (8)
I L R 36 Bom. 151

VATAN—contd

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Box III of 1874)—

s 2 I L R 43 Bom. 323

ss. 4, 53 I L R 41 Bom. 677

s 11 I L R 37 Bom. 37

ss 25, 36, 63 and 64

I L R 41 Bom. 23

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 34 Bom. 321

See INAM LANDS I L R 36 Bom. 272

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 22 23

I L R 34 Bom. 91

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCR I ART 152 I L R 43 Bom. 376

See RES JUDICATA

I L R 37 Bom. 224

See SANAD CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 36 Bom. 639

See VATAN DESHMUKHI

—Mortgage of Vatan lands—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 20

I L R 44 Bom. 500

1 —Regulation XI of 1827—Transfer of Property Act (I) of 1882 s 43 —Deshyat Vatan—Mortgage—Subsequent enlargement of the mortgagor's estate—Private property—Mortgagee's claim to hold the property against the mortgagor's heir A mortgages of Deshyat Vatan know that the property which was mortgaged to him was land appurtenant to an hereditary office and inalienable beyond the life time of the incumbent Subsequently to the mortgage the estate of the mortgagor was enlarged so as to be alienable in the life time of the holder After the enlargement, the mortgagee having claimed to hold the property against the heir of the mortgagor Held that the mortgagee took only such estate as the holder of the Vatan property was capable of conveying to the mortgagee at the time of the mortgage and that the mortgagee could not claim to retain the property in virtue of the mortgage after the death of the mortgagor GANGARAI v BASWANT (1909) I L R 34 Bom. 175

2 —Patil's Vatan—Court sale of the vatan lands in execution of decree against holder of vatan—Levy of full assessment by Collector—Character of vatan land not changed by the levy—Suit by next holder of vatan within twelve years of the death of his predecessor—Limitation The plaintiff's father held the land in dispute as patil's vatan which were sold in 1875 to the defendant at a Court sale held in execution of a decree The Collector thereupon levied full assessment on the land and assigned the assessment for remuneration for service The plaintiff's father died in 1905 In 1909 the plaintiff brought a suit against the defendant to recover possession of the land The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the grounds that the land had ceased to be vatan and that the suit was brought beyond time The plaintiff appealed Held that the land did not lose its character as vatan merely because the Collector levied full assessment and altered the mode of remuneration Held also that the plaintiff's suit was in time since on the death of the plaintiff's father in 1905 the plaintiff became entitled to the land as the next holder of the vatan and the defendant's interest in the land as the vendee of the right title and interest of the plaintiff's father came to an end SHIVRAM NARSINGRAO v NARAYAN KULKARNI (1912) I L R 37 Bom. 81

VATAN—contd

3 —Suit to recover a share in the profits of vatan—Suit for money had and received—Amount of the claim under Rs 500—Small Cause Court nature—No second appeal A suit for the recovery of a share in the profits of a kulkarni vatan is a suit for money had and received by the defendant for the use of the plaintiff and the claim being under Rs 500 it was of a Small Cause nature in respect of which no second appeal lay BRUKAJI HARI v PADHARAI (1913) I L R 37 Bom. 700

VATANDAR

See CURATOR'S ACT 1841 s 3 4 14

I L R 34 Bom. 115

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT BOMBAY

ss 25 26 I L R 34 Bom. 101

s 67 I L R 36 Bom. 420

—mortgage by—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Box

III of 1874) s 5

I L R 39 Bom. 587

—title against by adverse possession—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Box Act

III of 1874) ss 10 AND 13

I L R 35 Bom. 146

VATANDAR BARBERS

—A Vatanbar Barber has the right to perform services as a barber on ceremonial occasions. He is entitled to recover customary fees from another barber who has acted in violation of his rights BRAGORI QANU v BABU BALU I L R 44 Bom. 723

VATANDAR JOSHI

—Right to officiate at marriages—Fajman—Ceremony in Pan Na Kalas Lingayat form—Claim for fees in respect of part of the ceremonial in Hindu form—Ceremony cannot be split up The question raised in this appeal was whether the ceremonial observed by Lingayets in whether the ceremonial observed by Lingayets in whether or not the village Gramopadhyas is entitled to perform the ceremony or whether the ceremony to perform the ceremony and if it is found that can be split up into parts and if it is found that some part of the ceremonial is similar to the Brahmin ritual the Gramopadhyas can in suit upon the payment of fees in respect of such part of the ceremonial as may have been performed by another Held that if the ceremony performed was not a Hindu marriage ceremony as a whole the Joshi or Gramopadhyas had no right to demand the fees RANGAPPA v VENKANBHAT (1916) I L R 40 Bom. 112

—Observance of non Brahmanical ceremonies—Fajman himself performing the ceremonies—Right to recover fees The defendants were non Brahmin residents of a village Defendant No 1's mother having died he with the assistance of defendant No 2 performed over the body certain non Brahmanical ceremonies No fees were paid to the defendant No 2 and the whole conduct of ceremonies was with the defendant No 1 himself. The plaintiff a Vatandar Joshi of the village having sued to recover damages for loss of his customary fees. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover damages as the ceremonies performed were other than Brahmanical ceremonies and there was no ground upon which the plaintiff could lawfully exact the payment of his fees. Vatani Krishna Joshi v Anant Panchandra II Bom H C R 6 Dinanath Abaji v Sadaniv Hari Madhavi I L P 3 Bom 9 Pajavali Shrivaya v Krishnabhat I L P 3 Bom 23 distinguished. BALA GENCJI v BALWANT LAKHAN (1918) I L R 42 Bom 613

VATANDAR JOSHI—contd

VEHICLE

See BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE ACT (BOM IV of 1890) s 61 cl (b)
I L R 41 Bom 464

VENDEE

— payment by—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 60 and 91
I L R 43 Mad 310

VENDOR

— liability of—

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 38 Calc 458

— Duty of vendee to protect vendee's title caveat emptor. Where in a suit brought by a third party against a vendor and vendee of immovable property the former admits the claimant's title and the suit is decreed upon that admission he cannot in a subsequent suit for the recovery of the purchase money paid to him by the vendee plead that the former suit was wrongly decided. Per Imam J.—In vernacular conveyancing the expression gati saf means a flawless title. SHATTA RAM v GANGA PRASAD GORE 3 Pat L J 258

VENDOR AND PURCHASER

See AGREEMENT I L R 41 All 417

See CONTRACT I L R 38 All 325

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 63
I L R 42 All 7

See LEASE I L R 42 Bom 103

See PREVIEW I L R 40 Calc 140

See SALE OF GOODS

See SALE OF IMMOVABLE PROPERTY

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
I L R 43 Calc 990

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

— s 41—

— ss 41 to 57
I L R 43 All 263

— rights of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 542

— vendor's death before completion of sale—

See CONTRACT I L R 45 Bom 434

— Sale of property in possession of a third person—Person in possession claiming

VENDOR AND PURCHASER—contd

to be owner—The vendor a benamidar—Negligence. The plaintiff purchased a house from a person who had the title deeds of the house made out in his name. The house was in the defendant's possession who claimed to be its owner and it appeared that the plaintiff's vendor was only a benamidar for the defendant. The plaintiff sued to recover possession of the house from the defendant. Held that the plaintiff could not succeed because he omitted to make the inquiries which he was bound to make to perfect his own title and by his own negligence exposed himself to the risk of purchasing property which in reality belonged not to his vendor but to the defendant. YANEA PACHARYA v YAMANASANI (1911) I L R 35 Bom 269

— Mortgage—Contract of Sale—Breach by Vendor—Loss of bargain—Liability of Vendor—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 65 (1)(g)—Measure of damage. The owners of certain immovable property which was under a mortgage entered into a contract for the sale of the property but subsequently declined to complete the sale on the ground of the existence of the mortgage. Thereafter the property was acquired under the land acquisition Act by the Local Government and the compensation paid to the owners including the statutory allowance of 15 per cent far exceeded the contract price. On a suit brought by the purchaser for damages for breach of the contract of sale. Held that the vendors were bound to convey the property free from incumbrances and the existence of the mortgage was no defence to the purchaser's action. Engell v Fitch L R 4 Q B C 9 Day v Singleton (1899) 2 Ch 320 Jones v Gardner (1904) 1 Ch 190 referred to. Flureau v Thornhill 2 B Bl 108 Bain v Fothergill L P 7 E & I App 108 distinguished. Sebble. The ruling in Bain v Fothergill L R 7 E & I App 158 does not apply to India and there is no exception to s 73 of the Indian Contract Act in the case of sale of immovable property. Ranchhod v. Marmohan Das I L P 32 Bom 165 and Pitamber Sundari v Cassibai I L P 11 Bom 212 referred to. The measure of damage was the difference between the contract price and the compensation allowed to the vendors excluding however the statutory allowance of 15 per cent inasmuch as the breach had occurred before the acquisition. HARICHANDRA SAHA PARAMANICK v KRISHNA BARANA DAS (1911) I L R 38 Calc 458

— Sale to raise funds for litigation—Transfer whilst vendor was out of possession—Agreement depending on success of litigation—Transfer of undivided share in joint ancestral property—Interest in property giving right to sue—Vendee and provider of funds made co plaintiffs. The original plaintiffs in the two suits out of which these appeals arose were in one suit the sons and in the other the grandson of the heads and managers of two distinct joint Hindu families, owners of an estate in Oudh by whom alienations of the joint ancestral property had been made in favour of the appellant whom they sued in ejectment to set aside those alienations on the ground that the managing members had no power to make them. As they required funds to enable them to prosecute the suit they entered into agreements with a third person (who was made a co plaintiff in the suits and was now respondent) to the effect that in the share of each of them in property he will be a co sharer of a one half share and the remaining one half share will belong to us. He will bear the entire expenses in connexion with the suit and in case of success he will be entitled to proprietary possession of the above mentioned one half share or one half of the share which may be decreed which can remain joint or be partitioned by him as he pleases. In the course of the litigation the original plaintiffs compromised the suits with the appellants and withdrew from them leaving the respondents to prosecute them alone. Held (reversing on this point the decision of the Courts in India) that the agreements (which constituted his only right to sue) conferred upon the respondent no present right to the possession of any share in the property in suit. He would only have the right to possession in case of success and success had not been achieved. Until then he was merely a co owner in a certain undivided share of the property. There was no present grant or assignment to him of any separate share of the property divided or undivided and he could not therefore maintain the suit. Achal Prasad v. Kaum Husein Khan I I R 27 All 271 L R 32 I A 113 distinguished. Basant Singh v. Mahabir Prasad (1913) I L R 35 All 273

VENDOR AND PURCHASER—contd

Conveyance by executor—is beneficial owner—Construction of deed of sale—Inconsistency between recitals and operative part of deed—Omission to state expressly that he was conveying the property sold in his capacity of executor. Held (reversing the appellate decision of the High Court and restoring that of the first Court) that on the construction of a deed of sale and on the evidence in and under the circumstances of the case the title vested in an executor passed to the appellants under the deed by which he together with other vendors purported to convey all his estate right title claim and demand whatsoever in the property sold although he did not expressly state therein that he was conveying the property in his capacity as executor. The plain legal interpretation of the deed should not be allowed to be affected by speculations as to what particular rights existing in the various vendors were present to the minds of some or all of the parties to the conveyance at the date of its execution. The deed stated plainly that whatever right or title the vendors possessed was to go to support the conveyance and it was a settled rule that the meaning of a deed is to be decided by the language used interpreted in a natural sense. Bhujaj Nopani v. Pura Sundary Dasee (1914) L R 41 I A 189

I L R 42 Cal 56

OVER RULING

I L R 37 Cal 382

Conveyance of property by an administratrix—having a beneficial interest therein—No words of limitation in the agreement to convey specifying whether it was qua administratrix or qua beneficial owner—Principle to be applied in ascertaining in what capacity the administratrix acted. Where a person has two estates one larger and the other smaller and purports to convey the entire property without any words or limitation he must be taken to be conveying the highest estate he has that is to say if an executor having a one third personal beneficial interest in the estate purports to convey the whole of it without qual-

VENDOR AND PURCHASER—contd

ification or limitation he must be taken to be conveying in his character as executor and not in that of one having a beneficial interest only in a fraction of the whole estate purported to be conveyed. In re Venn & Furter's Contract [1894] 1 Ch 101 followed. No distinction can be maintained in principle between actual conveyance and agreements to convey for the purpose of applying this general rule. Ganabai v. Sonabai (1914) I L R 40 Bom 69

Title, proof of—Contract to give a marketable title free from all reasonable doubt—Evidence of discharge of mortgage—Recitals in release—Registration Act (III of 1817). The question in this appeal was whether a vendor had made out a marketable title free from all reasonable doubts which he had contracted to do by a written agreement dated 18th October 1913 to sell certain land in Bombay. There had been a mortgage effected on the property on 26th April 1892 in favour of two joint mortgagees by an agreement of charge duly registered under the Registration Act (III of 1817) and the deposit of the title deeds of the property with the mortgagees. To deduce a good title it became necessary to prove that the mortgage had been discharged. As proof of that fact the vendor produced a certified copy of a release dated 30th September 1902 which had been executed by only one of the joint mortgagees but which recited the death of the other mortgagee. The fact that his co mortgagee was his father and the redemption of the property from the equitable charge created by the agreement of 26th April 1892 was not one of the title deeds of the property was not produced by the vendor. Held (reversing the decisions of the Courts in India) that the recitals in the release were not evidence against the joint mortgagees and that the title contracted for had not been deduced. Srinivasadas Bavei v. Meherbai (1916) I L P 41 Bom 300

Sale of specific land—Vendor Evicted from part—On 10th September 1907 C D and his son M B the predecessors of defendants 3 to 8 sold to the Plaintiff 9 of defendants 3 to 8 sold to the Plaintiff 9 the property Kanals and 4 moris of land. The property comprised several plots which formed different Khazra numbers specified in the sale deed. The price paid was Rs 1000 per Kanal. Plaintiff asserted that the portion of 2 Kanal and 4 moris Defendants 1 and 2 being the true owners of the rest. Held that under the deed the vendors had sold 79 Kanals 4 moris and it was the duty of the vendors either to make good the deficiency or to pay damages having regard to s 55 of the Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) as to the measure of damages being the price of the land at the time of eviction. Jai Kishen Das v. Arya Prate Nidhi Sarha I L R 1 Lab 360

VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR

Estoppel—Unpaid Vendor—Appropriation—Jute trade usage of—Pucca delivery order—Negotiability—Documents of Title—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 108—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 137—Damages. A delivery order is recognised as a document of title under s 108 of the Contract Act and a 137 of the Transfer of Property Act and under a delivery order the transferee acquires a title to the goods to which it relates. By the usage of the jute trade in Calcutta pucca delivery orders are issued only on cash payment and are passed from hand to hand by endorsement and are sold and dealt with in the market as absolutely representing the goods to which they relate. On the 1st March 1909 the defendant company sold to J & Co s principals certain Hessian cloth on the terms that payments were to be made in cash in exchange for delivery order on sellers and delivery of the goods was to be given and taken ready payment against pucca delivery order. A pucca delivery order was issued on the 2nd March by the defendant company in favour of J & Co s principals or order embodying the term ready shipment. On the 3rd March J & Co requested the plaintiffs to advance money on the security of the delivery order. The plaintiffs on making enquiries at the mills were informed the delivery order was all right. On the 4th March J & Co obtained an advance of money from the plaintiffs on the pledge of the delivery order and duly endorsed the delivery order to the plaintiffs. On the same date J & Co handed the defendant company a cheque in payment of the goods comprised in the delivery order. On the 8th March the defendant company presented the cheque for payment but it was dishonoured. The defendant company thereupon refused to give delivery of the goods to the plaintiffs under the delivery order. The plaintiffs obtained an absolute release of all J & Co s interest in the delivery order and brought an action against the defendant company for delivery of the goods or their value or damages for conversion. Held that the defendant company were estopped from denying that cash had been paid for the goods to which the delivery order related and they could not claim to be entitled to a lien as against the plaintiffs. The defendant company were further estopped from denying that they had appropriated goods of the required quantity and description to the delivery order and that they held these goods for the plaintiffs. Goodwin v Robert L P I A O 476 referred to Anglo India Jute Mills Co v Osadenull (1910) I L R 118 Calc 127

VENDOR AND SUB VENDOR—contd

VENDOR'S LIEN

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1880
s 50
s 55 (f)

VENDOR'S MARK.

See TRADE MARK I L R 37 Calc 204

VENEREAL DISEASE

See DIVORCE I L R 48 Calc 283

VENUE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 10—21

See JURISDICTION I L R 41 Calc 305
I L R 42 Calc 942

See RAILWAY COMPANY
I L R 41 All 488

— transfer of from one Court to another after decree—

See JURISDICTION I L R 37 Mad 477

VERBAL APPLICATION

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 40 Calc 423

VERBAL NOTICE

See EJECTMENT I L R 40 Calc 558

VERDICT OF JURY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1899) ss 297 303 304

I L R 36 Mad 585

— by casting lot —

See JURY TRIAL BY

I L R 40 Calc 693

— Reference to High Court
— Power to question the jury as to their reasons for the verdict—Grounds of reference—Mere disagreement with a verdict not perverse—Interference by High Court when the verdict is not in defiance of the probabilities of the case. It is open to the Judge when he disagrees with the verdict of the jury and intends to make a reference to the High Court under s 307 of the Criminal Procedure Code to question the jury as to the reasons for their verdict. Emperor v Annada Charan Thakur I L R 36 Calc 679 referred to. It is not in every case of doubt nor in every case in which a view different from that of the jury can be entertained on the evidence that a reference under s 307 of the Code is to be made to the High Court but when the verdict is manifestly wrong. The High Court will not interfere under s 307 in every case of doubt or in every case in which it may with propriety be said that the evidence would have warranted a different view. Queen v Sham Bagdi I L R 40 Ap 19 approved. The High Court refused to interfere where the fact on a reasonable hypothesis were not inconsistent with the innocence of the accused and the verdict was not in defiance of the probabilities of the case. EMPEROR v SWARNA MOYEE BISWAS (1913) I L R 41 Calc 621 — Juror speaking to an outsider without the leave of the Court after their retirement to consider the verdict—Legality of the verdict—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1899) s 300. The verdict of the jury is vitiated by the mere fact of one of them having without the leave of the Court and after their retirement to consider the same spoken to or held any communication with a person not a juror. It is not necessary for the Court to enquire into the nature of the subject matter of the conversation or communication. Pex v Ketteridge [1915] I K B 467 referred to. BEVI MADHAB KUNDU v EMPEROR (1918) I L R 46 Calc 207

VERIFICATION

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR.

I L R 38 Calc 559

— of plaintiff—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 43 Calc 1001

See PLAINT

VERNACULAR GOVERNMENT GAZETTE

See PREVENTIVE SALL.

I L R 41 Calc 278

VESTED INTEREST

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—TRUST

I L R 34 Bom. 604

VESTED INTEREST—contd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s 19

See WILL I L R 43 Bom 88

VESTED RIGHT

See LIMITATION I L R 41 Calc 1125

VESTING ORDER

See UNDISCHARGED BANKRUPT
I L R 47 Calc 961

effect of—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 72

VEXATIOUS CHARGE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT
V OF 1898) s 20

I L R 37 Bom 376

VIEW OF PREMISES

See PRACTICE I L R 45 Bom 317

VILLAGE

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF
1908) s 1 I L R 35 Mad 891

change of from one district to another—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1803) I L R 39 Mad. 949

*Proprietors of who are —Persons who do not pay land revenue but only turns (grazing) charges s/ entitled to share on partition of shamsiat land Persons who merely paid turns (grazing dues) to the Government and who did not pay any land revenue assessed on the village were not proprietors of the village and were not as such entitled to a share on partition of the shamsiat land of the village BAOGA v SALEH
(1915) 19 C W N 1023*

VILLAGE CHAUKIDARI ACT (BENG VI OF 1870)

See CHAUKIDARI ACT

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

Held that the words otherwise than under a temporary settlement in the definition of Chaukidari Chakran Lands refer to a settlement by Government SRI RAJA KRISHNAN BHUPATI HARI CHANDAN WAPATRA s SECRETARY OF STATE.

15 C W N 300

ss 1 48 to 52 58—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS
I L R 42 Calc 710

s 49—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LAND
I L R 37 Calc 598

s 50—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS
I L R 44 Calc 841

ss 50 51—Legal effect of resumption of chaukidari chakran lands and subsequent transfer thereof to the zamindars whether in such a case the zamindar acquires a new title thereto and whether it is incumbent on the putnidar to ask for a fresh settlement thereof Where chaukidars chakran

VILLAGE CHAUKIDARI ACT (BENG VI OF 1870)—contd

ss 50 51—contd

land forming part of lands settled in putns was resumed by Government under the provisions of the Village Chaukidars Act and was subsequently transferred to the zamindar who thereupon settled such lands with the plaintiffs who were third parties Held that the zamindar was not competent to make a settlement with the plaintiffs and that under the grant which the plaintiffs obtained they had acquired no right as against the putnidars The putnidars were not bound to take a fresh settlement from the zamindar after resumption Held also that the transfer of the lands by Government subsequent to resumption did not create a new estate in the zamindar but the estate thus taken by him was in confirmation and by way of continuance of his existing estate SURENDRO MOHAN SINHA s RAJENDRA NATH ROY (1917) 22 C W N 660

s 51—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS
I L R 45 Calc 515 655
I L R 46 Calc 173

ss 58 59 60 61—Determination by a Commissioner under s 61—Fraud—Review by subsequent Commissioner—Civil Suit An order by Commissioner appointed under s 58 of the Village Chaukidari Act determining that certain lands are chaukidari chakran lands is final and conclusive Such orders cannot be reviewed by a second Commissioner even if the previous order was fraudulently obtained An order under s 61 of the Village Chaukidari Act may be set aside on proof of fraud or of non compliance with the provisions of the law if at all only in a regular suit by a Civil Court SARADINDU NARAYAN ROY v BENODIN BEHARY MONATA (1913) 18 C W N 143

s 60—Enquiry nature of—Notice persons entitled to—Notice absence of effect of—Commissioner's report of final and conclusive—Reg VII of 1827 s 21 Held that s 60 of the Village Chaukidari Chakran Act (VI of 1870 B O.) lays down that in chaukidari chakran enquiries the procedure shall be in accordance with Reg VII of 1822 and the absence of notice would render the proceedings of the Commissioner of no effect against a person who was entitled to notice and for such defect the order of the Commissioner would be final and conclusive SARAT CH. RAY v SECRET-ARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) 21 C W N 238

VILLAGE COMMUNITY

See PROFIT A PREVENDE
2 Pat L J 893

VILLAGE MAGISTRATE

information to—Effect of giving—

See BAILABLE OFFENCE
I L R 39 Mad. 1006

Power to confer—

See REGULATION XI OF 1818 (Mad).
I L R 44 Mad. 113

VILLAGE POLICE ACT

See BOMBAY VILLAGE POLICE ACT 1867

VILLAGE ROAD

Held that non joinder of parties in a suit for a declaration of right on a village Road may be fatal HARAN SRIKIH v RAMESH CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE
25 C W N 249

VINCHUR COURT

See SPECIAL APPEAL

I L R 28 Bom 340

VIS MAJOR

S BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES

ACT (Bo. II of 1901) ss 40 & 41

I L R 35 Bom 492

VOIDABLE CONTRACT

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 37 Calc 81

See TRUSTS ACT (II of 1883) s 88

I L R 43 Bom. 173

VOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION

See COMPANIES ACT 1913 s 207

I L R 39 All 407

Examination of Directors and Managers—

See COMPANIES ACT 1913 s 215

I L R 44 Bom 459

VOLUNTARILY OBSTRUCTING PUBLIC SERVANTS IN THE DISCHARGE OF PUBLIC FUNCTIONS

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 186

I L R. 37 Calc 122

VOLUNTARINESS

See CONFESSION I L R 40 Calc 873

VOLUNTARY PAYMENT

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT s 2

(I L R 34 Mad 295

Suit to recover money paid under decree—Wrongful interference of defendant—Coercion—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 15 69 70 72 Illus (b)—Civil Procedure Code 1882 s 278 et seq—Claims to attached property—Money paid under compulsion—Money paid under process of decree against third person The appellant (plaintiff) stated in his plaint that he was the proprietor of the Delhi Cotton Mills against which the respondent Bank (defendant) had an unsatisfied decree that the respondent on 15th August 1902 applied for the attachment of the property and premises of the mills wrongfully stating that they were the property of the Delhi Cotton Mills Company attached the property on 20th August 1902 knowing that it belonged to the plaintiff and dispossessed him that he has suffered considerable damage by the said acts of the defendant and as he was by such acts practically ousted from all the machinery and mill and could not work them and the whole of such damage would be very considerable and part of it most difficult to prove and it was probable that by objection to such attachment under the Civil Procedure Code a considerable time would elapse before he could obtain an order setting aside the attachment the plaintiff was compelled to pay the balance due to the defendant under the decree

VOLUNTARY PAYMENT—contd

against the Delhi Cotton Mills Company under protest on 24th August 1902 In a suit brought for a return of the money so paid and damages for the alleged illegal acts of the defendant the defence (inter alia) was that the suit as framed would not lie and the case was argued on a preliminary issue the proceedings being of the nature of a demurrer Held (reversing the decision of the Courts in India) that the plaintiff was entitled to recover the money so paid as being an involuntary payment produced by coercion namely the wrongful interference of the defendant with his full and free enjoyment of his own property Dulichand v Ram Kishan Singh I L R 7 Calc 618 L R 9 I A 93 followed The fact that the sale was not inevitable in the present case was not relevant The greater or less probability of a sale taking place did not affect the ratio decidendi in that case which is that the payment was made under the force of the execution proceedings and that in India as in England such a payment is regarded by the law as being made under compulsion The procedure provided in the Civil Procedure Code referring to claims to attached property (s 278 et seq) is merely permissive being analogous to the procedure by interpleader in England But the fact that such a procedure is open to him if he chooses to adopt it in no way interfered with the plaintiff's right to take any other lawful alternative S 72 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872) is not exhaustive The meaning of the word coercion used in that section is not controlled by the definition in s 15 but is used in its general and ordinary sense The definition in s 15 is expressly inserted for the special object of applying to s 14 et seq to define what is the criterion whether an agreement was made by means of a consent extorted by coercion and does not control the interpretation of coercion when the word is used in other surroundings Ss 69 and 70 of the Contract Act do not refer in any way to remedies against the wrong-doer and are therefore irrelevant to the question raised in this appeal. KANNAYA LAL v NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA LTD (1913)
[I L R 40 Calc 598]

VOTERS list of—

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 40 Calc 132

I L R 39 Calc 598, 7th 4

qualifications of—

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 45 Calc. 950

I L R 33 Calc 501

VRITTI

Recitation of Purans—

Conferring hereditary office and granting lands for performance of office—Grant of lands burdened with the performance of service—Resumability of lands Where an hereditary office eg of vrutti for the reciting of Puran is created and bestowed hereditary upon the grantee from generation to generation and lands are assigned as remuneration therefor the lands so granted are not resumable Where there is an interest in land coupled with a duty and the grant is not forthcoming so that its actual terms may be known, it must always be a matter of great difficulty and no more than a mere conjecture to decide whether the interest was so coupled with the duty that the latter could confidently be said to have been the sole motive and condition of the former. In such a case the interest in land is resumable on failure or refusal to perform the duty. In cases of grants burdened with service resumable for failure or refusal to perform that service the Court would ordinarily require very strong and conclusive evidence before disturbing the practice which has persisted for a long time. MADHAWACHARYA & SHRIDHAR NARASINKA (1913) I L R 37 Bom 409

VRITTI—contd

Alienation in special cases under special conditions—Local usage and custom. As a general rule vritti are inalienable. They may be alienated in special cases and under special conditions provided that such alienations can be supported by local usage and custom. Rajaram v Ganesh I L R 23 Bom 131 referred to MANJUNATH SUBRALABHAT & SHANKAR MANJAYA (1914) I L R 30 Bom 26

Hereditary priest of caste—Right to office—Caste panchas preventing the priest from giving his ministrations—Suit by priest for an injunction—Laches—Civil Court—Jurisdiction. The plaintiff was an hereditary priest of Patidar Gujarathis of Koola. In 1906 the defendants who were Panch of the caste called upon the plaintiff to distribute the emoluments of the office amongst the members of the priestly family and on the plaintiff's refusal to do so issued an order to their castemen not to allow the plaintiff to officiate in his vritti and pay perquisites to him. In 1916 the plaintiff having sued for an injunction restraining the defendants from prohibiting plaintiff from officiating Held that an hereditary office of a priest was in the nature of immovable property and therefore the plaintiff would ordinarily be entitled to an injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with that immovable property. Ghelabhai Gaurishankar v Hargovan Ramji (1911) 36 Bom 94 relied on Held however that on the facts of the case the plaintiff having acquiesced in the action of the defendant's interfering with his right for over ten years had debarred himself from getting the preventive relief of injunction. GIRJASHANKAR DASI & MURLIDHAR NARAYAN (1920) I L R 45 Bom 234

VYAVAHARA MAYUKHA

See HINDU LAW—MITAKSHARA
I L R 40 Bom 621

See HINDU LAW—STYEDHAN
I L R 41 Bom 618

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 33 Bom 120

VYAVAHARIKA

See HINDU LAW—DEBT
14 C W N 659

WWADHWAN CIVIL STATION

British India—Bombay Abkari Act (Bombay Act V of 1878) s 43—Bhang—Importation—Carrying bhang by rail from Wadhwan Civil Station to Viramgam. The accused was charged with having imported into the Presidency of Bombay bhang (an intoxicating drug) an offence punishable under s 43 of the Bombay Abkari Act (Bombay Act V of 1878) inasmuch as he carried with him twenty tolas of bhang from Wadhwan Civil Station to Viramgam by rail. Held that the Civil Station at Wadhwan was not a part of British India, and the accused was guilty of the offence with which he was charged. Triccam Panachand v The Bombay Baroda and Central India Railway Company I L R 9 Bom 244 not followed. Queen Empress v Abdul Latib volad Abdul Rahman I L R 10 Bom 186 followed. EMPEROR & CHIMANLAL (1912)

WADHDAN CIVIL STATION—contd

I L R 37 Bom 152

WAGERING

Defence of—

See INTERROGATORIES
I L R 37 Bom 347

See PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTIONS

Defence of wagering in the case of transactions apparently genuine—Access to the defendant to prove that both parties entered into the transaction with the intention of treating it as a wager—Teji mandis transactions. The defendant dealt to a large extent in silver with the plaintiffs buying silver for forward delivery and afterwards settling the plaintiffs' claims by selling an equal quantity of silver to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs sued the defendant for balances due on these transactions and also for moneys due on certain teji mandis transactions between the parties that is transactions in which the purchaser buys the option to buy or sell goods at a future date but the plaintiffs afterwards relinquished their claim in respect of the teji mandis transactions. Held that the Court will not lightly favour gambling defences. In order that a transaction apparently genuine may be set aside as a wagering transaction it must be shown that it was known to be a wager by both the parties to it who acted upon that knowledge with no intention of treating the transaction as anything but a wager. Held further the general rule in this country is that teji mandis transactions must be regarded as wagering transactions and the onus of proving that they are not such would lie heavily on the party so alleging. Kesarichand v Merwanji I Bom L R 63 followed. JR 37 AN JUGGONATH & TULSIDAS DANODAR (1914)
I L R 37 Bom 264

WAGERING CONTRACT

See CONTRACT I L R 43 All 555
22 C W N 625
I L R 33 All 555

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 30

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 30
See PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTION
I L R 39 Bom 1
I L R 45 Bom 386

Common intention to wager essential—Speculation not equivalent to wagering—Pakki Adat—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 10—Bombay Act III of 1865 ss 1 and 2. Speculation does not necessarily involve a contract by way of wager and to constitute such a contract a common intention to wager is essential. Even if one party to a contract were a speculator who never intended to give delivery and the fact was known to the other party yet in the absence of any bargain or understanding express or implied, that the goods were not to be delivered that would not convert a contract otherwise innocent into a wager nor would the mere fact that as to the greater part of the goods there was no delivery but an adjustment of claims vitiate the transaction Palit Adat dealing are well established as a legitimate mode of conducting commercial business in the Bombay market Held (reversing the decision of the appellate High Court) that the contracts in suit were not wagering contracts BHAGWANDAS PARASHRAM v. BURJORJI RUTTOVJI (1917) I L R 42 Bom 373

WAGEPING CONTRACT—contd

Gambling" and "Wagering" distinction between—Calcutta Police Act (Bengal) of 1866 as amended by Beng Act III of 1897) s 44—Common gaming house—Instruments of gaming—Gotton gambling not a game of contest Betting must always be on an uncertain event and betting in itself apart from stakes being laid on a particular game or instrument of gaming in a public place is not penal Playing with cards dice or money = penal if done in a public place The offence as created by the Calcutta Police Act is a purely technical one and nothing has ever been done on this side of India to include any form of betting or wagering without instruments in the offence except in the single case of rans gambling without a machine and in order to include this extraordinary legislation has had to be undertaken to make the books and registers in which rans gambling wagers are entered and all other documents containing evidence of such wagers instruments of gaming Gaming is playing in any game sport pastime or exercise lawful or unlawful for money or any other valuable thing which is staked on the result of the game i.e. which is to be lost or won according to the success or failure of the person who has staked Reg v. Ashton 1 El & Bl 286 Lockwood v. Cooper (1903) 2 K B 498 referred to Wagering which includes betting is making a contract on an unascertained event past or future (in which the parties have no pecuniary interest other than that created by the contract) by which the parties are to gain or lose according as the uncertainty is determined one way or the other Carlill v. The Carbolic Smoke Ball Co (1892) 1 Q B 484 referred to Cotton gambling is betting pure and simple Hars Singh v. Jada Nandan Singh 1 L R 31 Calc 512 8 O W N 453 referred to PAM PRATAP NEMANI v. EMPEROR (1912)

I L R 39 Calc 988

WAGING WAR

See CONSPIRACY TO WAGE WAR

I L R 38 Calc 550

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Calc 467

See PENAL CODE ss 107—121A.

I L R 34 Bom 394

See PENAL CODE ss 101A 123

1B N W N 1105

WAIVER

See BOND

I L R 43 All 33

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 86 I L R 38 Mad 675

See CONTRACT ACT 1879

s 65 s Pat. L J 520

ss 56 (a) & I L R 40 Bom. 570

WAIVER—contd

See CROSS EXAMINATION

I L R 37 Calc 236

See EJECTMENT I L R 45 Calc 469

See ESTOPPEL

See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 56

See INSTALLMENTS

I L P 35 Bom 511

See JURY RIGHT OF TRIAL BY

I L R 37 Calc 467

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 Mad 161

I L R 37 Calc 449

I L R 46 Calc 552 1079

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 38 Mad 445

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 374

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III OF 1873) s 17 I L R 38 Mad 531

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

I L R 41 Calc 943

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Calc 770

See NOTICE I L R 40 Calc 503

See RESUMPTION I L R 39 Bom 279

—Evidence of required—

See SALE I L R 43 Calc 780

—acceptance of rent—

See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS) ACT II OF 1918 ss 3 9 AND 12

I L R 35 Bom 535

—by conduct—

See PRE EMPTION I L R 1 Lah 51

—of claim to interest—

See BOND I L R 43 All 33

—of objection to jurisdiction of

Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 105

I L R 1 Lah 54

—of notice—

See COMMON CARRIERS

I L R 38 Calc 80

—of right of priority in favour of second mortgagee—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s. 59 I L R 37 All 474

—on behalf of minor—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 897

—Ejectment suit.—With claim for rent whether constitutes waiver The institution of a suit in ejectment is an unequivocal declaration of an intention to determine the tenancy The mere fact that after service of notice to quit the plaintiffs claimed arrears of rent due prior to the ejectment proceedings does not constitute a waiver of the notice to quit But where future rent is claimed and accepted after the notice to quit has been served and the ejectment proceedings instituted then the claim and acceptance of future rent amounts to waiver of the initial step and the proceedings upon which the right to eject depend.

SHAH WALI AHMAD v. MUHAMMAD HUSAIN BHOAM

2 Pat L J 565

WAIVER—contd

Enhancement of rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 43 103—Chur lands—Right of Occupancy A took a lease of a certain Government khaz mehal and executed a kabuliat in favour of the Collector by which he (1) covenanted not to raise the rents or rayats beyond the amounts mentioned in the settlement jamabandi. The tenants, however subsequently agreed to pay rent at an enhanced rate on the ground that the fertility of the land had been increased. Upon a suit for arrears of rent at the enhanced rate against the tenants the defence was that 1 was bound by the kabuliat executed in favour of the Collector and as such he was not entitled to a decree at the rate claimed. Held that inasmuch as the tenants voluntarily agreed to an enhancement of rent they deliberately waived the benefit of the said covenant and they could not impeach the validity of their own agreement on this particular ground. Zamir Mandal v Gopi Sundari Das I L R 32 Cal 463 (note) referred to. Under s 180 of the Bengal Tenancy Act a rayat holding a chur land but who has not acquired a right of occupancy is liable to pay such rent for his holding as may be agreed on between him and his landlord irrespective of the provisions of s 43 of the Act. JAHAN DAR BAKSH MALLIK v RAM LAL HAZRAN (1910) I L R 37 Cal 449

Instalment decrees—Default—Instalments subsequently paid with interest accepted—Waiver—Question of law—Second appeal An instalment decree provided that on the failure of the judgment debtor to pay any instalment the decree holders would be entitled to realise the whole sum with interest at 12 per cent per annum by the sale of the mortgaged property. Default was made in the payment of one of the instalments and an application for execution was made but was dismissed for non prosecution. Subsequently the judgment debtors by petition put in the sum due on the defaulted instalment with interest and also the sum due on the next instalment specifying the instalments for which the different sums were paid. The decree holder withdrew the money. Several other instalments specifying the instalment in respect of which each deposit was made were similarly deposited and withdrawn. On an application by the decree holder for execution of the entire decree with interest at 12 per cent from the date of the default crediting the amounts received as merely part payments on account of the decretal debt. Held that the circumstances constituted a waiver of the default and it was no longer open to the decree holder to execute the decree on account of the default. The payments made were payments on account of instalments and not part payments of the entire decree. Two useful tests may be applied to determine whether there has been an actual waiver: (1) whether the payment subsequently accepted may be looked upon as a valuable consideration for the renunciation of the decree holder's rights (2) whether the decree holder has by his conduct intentionally caused the judgment debtors to believe that he had renounced his right. The question of waiver is a mixed question of law and fact and the High Court can interfere on this ground in second appeal. FASLY KHAN v ABDUL WAHAB SIKDAR (1910) 15 C W N 10

Waiver what is a waiver must be an intentional act with knowledge. A person cannot be barred of his remedy on the ground of waiver unless at the time of the alleged waiver he is shown to have been fully cognizant of his right and of the facts of the case. SYAMA CHARAN BAISYA v PRATULLA SUNDARI CUPPA (1915) 19 C W N 852

WAIVER—contd

Letters Patent 1865 cl 12—Estoppel Where the plaintiff in his plaint alleges that portion of the cause of action arises outside the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction of this Court and fails to take leave under cl 1st of the Letters Patent, the defendant may by appearing and pleading waive the objection to the jurisdiction. Where however the plaintiff alleges that the whole cause of action arises within the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction thus setting up a complete jurisdiction in the Court and the defendant is called upon to plead to this and does plead but it turns out at the trial that the Court had not complete jurisdiction as portion of the cause of action arose within and portion outside the local limits of the Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction the defendant cannot be held bound on the doctrine of estoppel on the ground that he waived the objection of want of jurisdiction. King v Secretary of State for India I L P 35 Cal 394 and Surban v Weiner 17 T L R 491 referred to. SHAMA KANTA CHATTERJI AND COMPANY v KUSUM KUMARI (1916) I L R 44 Cal 10

Decree for ejectment—Suit for rent falling due before right to eject accrued whether constitutes waiver On the 8th April 1911 the landlords obtained a decree against the tenant for arrears of rent for the years 1314 to 1317 ams. The decree directed that if the arrears were not paid by the 8th May 1911 the tenant should be ejected. The decree was executed on the 13th July 1911. On the 30th April 1911 the landlords also instituted a suit for rent for the year 1318 (i.e. September 1910 to September 1911) which was payable in advance. The tenant had deposited part of the rent in Court on the 10th April 1911. On the 29th January 1910 the tenant instituted the present suit for recovery of possession of the land from which he had been ejected on the ground that the suit instituted on the 30th April 1911 and the proceedings on the matter therewith amounted to a waiver of the landlords' right to eject. Held that the institution of the suit on the 30th April 1911 coupled with the acceptance of the money deposited for the year 1318 constituted a complete waiver and estopped the landlords from proceeding in ejectment in execution of the decree of the 8th April 1911. Quære Whether the tenant having failed to plead waiver in the proceedings in execution of the ejectment decree was entitled to plead it in a separate suit? MIDNAPORE FARMING CO LTD v JOYRAM SANKAL 1 Pat L J 185

WAJIB UL-ARZ

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 183 54
584 585 I L R 31 All 579

See CESTON (SUCCESSION)
I L R 1 Lab 234

See EVIDENCE I L R 40 All 86

See GROVE LAND I L R 42 All 634

See HINDU LAW (CESTON)
I L R 31 All 363

WAJIB UL-ARZ—contd

See LETTERS PATENT CL 10

I L R 34 All 15

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 All 545

See MAHOMEDAN LAW

See PENSIONS ACT (XIII OF 1871)

ss 3 4 6 AND 9

I L R 93 All 580

See PRE EMPTION—CUSTOM—RIGHT OF PRE EMPTION—WAJIB UL ARZ value of—

See CUSTOM (ADOPTION)

I L R 2 Lah 346

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869) ss

8 10

I L R 38 All 552

Contract or custom.—The pre-emptive clause of a wajib ul arz ran as follows—Koi muqadma huj shafa ka dair nahin hua atwanda ko jari rakha huj shafa ka ham ko man ur hai. Held on a construction of the wajib ul arz that these words did not denote a record of a custom but merely of a contract to take effect in the future. Ta addug Husain Khan v Ali Husain Khan 41 Weekly Notes (1908) 121 followed. Hazari Lal v Durga Prasad I L P 30 All 157 distinguished. KANCHAN SINGH v MANI PANDI (1910) I L R 32 All 201

Value of as evidence as record of traditions. A wajib ul arz in a village administration paper prepared by a village official in which are recorded the statements of persons possessing interests in the village relative to existing rights and customs. As such they are of considerable value in the determination of such rights and customs. But statements which merely narrate traditions and purport to give the history of devolution in certain families not even of the narrators stand in no better position than any other tradition. MUFTAZA HUSAIN KHAN v MAHOMED YAH ALI KHAN (1916) 21 C W N 410

I L R 38 All 552

Authority of as evidence.—Its importance in settlement proceedings.—Presumption as to its correctness & until successfully impugned though not a document creating a title.—Dispute between proprietors of two adjacent villages as to the ownership of the common lands.—Limitation. The authority of a wajib ul arz or record of rights which is described by Sir Henry Maine in his Village Communities page 7, as a detailed statement of all rights in land drawn up periodically by the functionaries employed in settling the claims of the Government to their shares of the rental and as the most important object of the Settlement Operations not second even to the adjustment of Government revenue is universally recognised. Lal v Yuridhar I L P 33 All 488. I L R 33 I A 31 referred to. Though a wajib ul arz does not create a title it gives rise to a presumption in its support which prevails until its correctness is successfully impugned. In a dispute between the proprietors of two villages Mouzah Dirakki and Mouzah Sher Ali of which the former belonged to the plaintiffs and the latter to the defendants as to the ownership of village common lands measuring upwards of 7989 acres the plaintiffs contended that these lands belonged to them jointly with the defendants in proprietary right by virtue of the ownership of the two villages and the defendants maintained that they were the exclusive proprietors. Their Lordships held that the final determination of the case depended on the interpretation to be placed on the wajib ul arz in which the final result of the settlement proceedings was recorded and on that document together with the facts of the case the plaintiffs claim to joint ownership failed. The statements in the other documentary evidence adduced were ambiguous and not immutable. The laches of the plaintiffs in failing to assert their claim after it had been repeatedly and consistently challenged as long ago as 1883 was a circumstance among others very unfavourable for its success apart from the bar of limitation. DAKAS KHAN v CHULAM KASIM KHAN (1918) I L R 45 Cal 793

WAJIB UL ARZ—contd

WAKF

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 30 AND 39

I L R 33 All 660

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 66

I L P 43 All 416

s 92

I L R 40 Bom 541

I L P 35 All 88 459

I L R 37 All 86

SCH II AND s 92

I L R 32 All 503

See KHOJA MAHOMEDANS

I L R 80 Bom 214

See LIMITATION ACT 187 SCH II ART 123

I L R 33 Bom 111

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WORSHIP

I L R 35 All 197

See THE ALMAH WAKF VALIDATING ACT (VI OF 1913) s 3

I L P 39 Bom 563

See FELICIOUS ENDOWMENT

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 18 79)

s 4

I L R 32 All 631

See WAKF VALIDITY OF

See WAKF

by dedication or user—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 80 Cal 297

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 30 All 88

See WAKF

See WAKF

23 C W N 138

contingent dedication—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 1 Lah 317

delivery of possession whether essential—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW (WAKF)

I L R 80 All 487

illusory gift to charity—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

21 C W N 306

WAKE—confd

principle of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 47 Calc 866

_____ Residue of income retained by settler effect of—

See PELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

6 Pat L J 218

_____ suit for declaration of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 11

I L R 36 All 424

_____ validity of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 42 Calc 933

See P ■ JUDICAT.

I L R 44 Calc 698

Settlement in perpetuity for aggrandisement of the family if valid.—Deed of agreement subsequently entered into between mutawalli and members of the family regulating payment of allowances to them under such deed of wakf if enforceable.—Musliman Wakf Validating Act (VI of 1913) if a declaratory statute having retrospective effect. A wakf was created for the maintenance of the members of the family of the settlor generation after generation and for the performance of worldly and religious affairs and of charitable acts. A suit was subsequently brought against the mutawalli by some members of the family which was however withdrawn on the execution of a deed of agreement between the parties specifying the amount of monthly allowance payable to each member of the family out of the income of the wakf. The beneficiaries sued to recover arrears of maintenance on the basis of this agreement. Held.—That the gift to charity being illusory and the chief if not the sole object of the settlor being to create a settlement in perpetuity for the aggrandisement of the family the wakf was invalid according to the decisions of the Judicial Committee. The test to be applied in cases of this character is whether there is a substantial dedication of the property to charitable uses at some period of time or other. Abdul Fata Mahmud v. Pasamoy L. R. 22 1 A 76 s. c. 1 L. R. 22 Cal. 619 (1894). Muyibunnissa v. Abdur Rahim L. R. 28 1 A 15 s. c. 1 L. R. 93 All. 223 5 C. W. N. 177 (1900) and Mahomed Manwar Ali v. Razvi Bibi L. R. 32 1 A 86 s. c. 1 L. R. 27 All. 300 9 C. W. N. 625 (1905). That the Musliman Wakf Validating Act 1913 is not even in terms a purely declaratory statute in reality it effects a vital alteration in the law and it is not retrospective in operation and wakfs invalid in their inception have not been validated by this legislation. Statutes which are properly of a merely declaratory character have a retrospective effect because if the statute is in its nature declaratory the argument that it must not be so construed as to take away pre-existing rights ceases to be applicable. The nature of the statute must be determined from its provisions and the mere fact that the expression it is declared has been used is by no means conclusive as to the true character of the legislation. That the wakf being pronounced to be invalid the entire scheme relating thereto embodied in the agreement must of necessity be of no avail. The assertion of the parties or of their representatives cannot validate illegal walifs and the Court cannot be utilised for the enforcement of a scheme elaborately devised to carry out a plan of family aggrandisement in contravention of the whole policy of the law. That the agreement provided for a succession of allowances the amount of which could be varied by the family council from generation to generation in favour of unborn persons and a scheme for family allowances so framed apart from a scheme of valid walif is not recognised by Mahomedan law. NAWAB KHAJER HABIBULLAH SAEED v. KHAJER SOLEMAN QUADEF 24 W N 15

WAKE—cont'd

—Mahomedan Law—Private trust —Gift—Essential elements for validity—Power of

In 1903 a Shia Mahomedan by deed conveyed certain immovable property to himself and other trustees for himself for life and after his death for the payment of annuities to his widow and daughter and the balance to certain charities. Further clauses provided that on the death of his widow her annuity was to go to certain other charities and that on the death of his daughter a lump sum was to be given to her son. A further proviso reserved power to the settlor at any time to revoke all or any of the above trusts. In 1908 he revoked the trust and executed a mortgage of the property. In 1909 he died and receivers of his estate were appointed. His daughter then filed a suit for a declaration inter alia that the revocation and subsequent mortgage were invalid and that the original trusts still subsisted. Held that the conveyance in 1907 was invalid. Looked at from the standpoint of the Mahomedan law giver a private trust would be no more than a private gift inter vivos through the medium of the third party and therefore subject to all the conditions of a valid gift but quære if other private trusts were known to Mahomedan law. Banoo Begum v Mir Abed Ali 1 L R 30 Bom 172 discussed and distinguished JANABAI v R. D. SETHNA (1910) 1 L R 34 Bom 804.

R D SETHNA (1910) Y L R SETHNA

Possession—Relations of—Mutawalli —Inheritance—Invalidity of wakf—Evidence —Prescription—Prescription—Prescription with beneficiaries Act (I of 1870) ss 115 and 116—Estate of S A under will—Trust—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 10—Life estate—Shaffer Mahomedans On 16th June 1891 F a Shaffer Mahomedan lady executed a deed in the nature of a will whereby she settled certain immovable property in trust for her grand daughter M for life and thereafter on her de cendants from generation to generation and in default thereof on the settlor's husband's relatives and their descendants from generation to generation in perpetuity and in default with an ultimate trust for the education of Mahomedan youth The settlor's husband was appointed first trustee or Mutawalis and provision was made in the deed for a due succession of Mutawalis The first Mutawali and after his death his executors acting as Mutawalis during the minority of his eldest son S A paid the rents and profits to M and after her death to her son M H and her daughter A in equal shares In 1897 S A attained his majority and took over charge as Mutawali and in or about 1893 handed over charge of the property to the beneficiary retaining possession of the tract deed M H died in 1892 leaving one son M A who in his turn shared the rents with A until her death in 1901 when he took the whole rent he died in 1906 leaving him surviving his mother and two widows In 1906 the mother and the widow being in possession filed a suit praying for a declaration that the trust deed was void and that they with certain others were entitled to the property. The trust deed was held to be invalid and a concord was eventually passed to the effect that the property should be divided subject to a small provision for a certain charitable purpose in equal shares between the Mutawali on the one hand and the plaintiffs and others on the other. The present plaintiff however who was one of the parties to the above proceedings proved to have been insane at the time and subsequently having regained his sanity filed the present suit claiming the same relief as that claimed by the plaintiffs in the suit in 1906 and upon the same ground namely that M was entitled absolutely to the settled property. The suit having been dismissed the plaintiff appealed and the heirs of the original settlor F were brought on the record under cover of the Administrator General who took out letters of administration to F's estate and consented to be bound by all proceedings. Held that the trust deed was void as being an attempt to create a perpetuity in the nature of a family settlement under the guise of a wakfnama. Held further that the claimant M had obtained possession of the property from the Mutawali in the guise of beneficiaries and on the footing that the wakfnama was a valid document and thus under ss 115 and 116 of the Evidence Act (I of 1872) could not be permitted to deny that the person from whom the possession was claimed had a title to such possession when it was handed over. In re Anderson (1905) 2 Ch 70 distinguished. Held therefore that for the purposes of this suit as between the parties other than the administrator of F's estate the wakfnama must be considered as a valid document and thus when the limitations in favour of M's descendants came to an end on the death of M in 1906 the remainder for the benefit of the settlor's husband's descendants took effect and the present Mutawali (a direct descendant of the settlor's husband) was entitled to the property both as trustee and as beneficiary. Held finally that the administrator of F's estate could only claim under a resulting trust in favour of the settlor and as such trust did not in the circumstances fall within the scope of s 10 of the Limitation Act (I of 1908) the claim had long been barred. See Doorgamoney Doss v Doorgamoney Doss 1 L R 4 Cal 455 and Unduraitanias v Cursondas 1 L R 21 Bom 646 discussed and followed. See expressed in Cassa mally Jayapthas v Sir Gersimthoy Ebrahim 1 L R 36 Bom 214 not approved. Quare Whether the principle that Mahomedan law does not recognize life estates applies to Shaffer Mahomedan? MAHOMED ISFAHIM v ABDUL LATIFF (1912)

WAKF—contd.

[1 L R 37 Bom 447]

Application to be appointed Mutawali —District Judge whether has powers of a Kazi—Petitioner whether to proceed by application or by suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908). An application was made by a person to the District Judge to be appointed Mutawali of an wakf property but the District Judge refused to deal with the matter on application on the ground that the petitioner's only course was to proceed by suit under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code. Held that it may be conceded that the District Judge has the powers of a Kazi but it does not necessarily follow that the petitioner is entitled to proceed by application or that the District Judge has no power to relegate her to a suit. JAMILA KHATUN v ABDUL JALIL MIRA (1918)

WAKF—contd.

23 C W N 138

Res Judicata—Precedence due to previous decision of High Court as authority—Mussalman Wakf Validating Act (I of 1913) title preamble and s 3 whether retrospective or prospective only—Privy Council decisions and pronouncements on Indian Legislature. Where there had been a previous adjudication by the High Court on the invalidity of a certain wakf based on legal grounds (in a subsequent suit between the same parties). Held that (i) ordinarily that Court should feel bound not on the principle of res judicata but out of the deference which was due to a previous decision of the High Court to follow that authority and (ii) that the previous conclusive decision had not been affected by the remedial operation of the Mussalman Wakf Validating Act of 1913 which was not retrospective in effect but prospective only. Palamunssa Bibi v Shaiikh Munir Jan 19 C W N 76 approved. It is doubtful whether the Governor General in Council would make a legislative pronouncement that the repeated decisions of the Privy Council were erroneous though from its knowledge of the requirements of the country the Legislature may think that in future the law should be otherwise administered. MAHOMED BUKH MAUMDAR v DEWAN AJMAN REJA (1915)

1 L R 33 Cal 158

Mutawali—Right of inheritance—Although a descendant of the founder of a wakf property has a preferential claim to the office of the Mutawali he does not become Mutawali by right of inheritance but has to be appointed such by the Qadi who may supersede him if he is not so qualified—No right of inheritance attaches to a religious endowment. ATTIYATZ SA LIZI v ABDUL SOBHAN

1 L R 43 Cal 467

Suit by mutawali to recover possession of wakf property mortgaged by previous mutawali—Limitation Act (I of 1908) Art 133—Date from which limitation to be reckoned—Date of transfer or date of delivery of possession under the transfer—Nature of suit within the scope of article—Mutawali appointment of stranger as—Transfer of wakf property by mutawali transference without notice of trust if protected—Registration if sufficient notice of trust created by registered document—Res judicata. The founder of a wakf appointed his sister and brother and the male descendants of the latter mutawalis in succession after him. On his death the sister who was the then mutawali and the brother regreting themselves to be the secular heirs of their father and the founder joined in executing a mortgage of the wakf property. The mortgage was ultimately foreclosed and possession was delivered by the Court to the Defendant who was the assignee of the mortgage decree. Thereafter on a suit being brought under s 92 C P the District Judge removed the sister from the office of mutawali and no one of the founder's family being available appointed the Plaintiff a stranger. Within 12 years from the delivery of possession by the Court under the mortgage decree the Plaintiff sued the

WAKF—contd.]

Defendant to recover the property. Held—That the appointment of the Plaintiff as mutawalli was entirely within the decision of the District Judge as Kazi and in the circumstances of the case it was not without Jurisdiction although the Plaintiff was a stranger. Ismail Arief v Moola Dawood L R 43 I A 127 s c I L R 43 Calc 1085 20 C W N 1118 (1916) referred to. Held on a consideration of the wakfnama—That as there was a substantial dedication of the corpus and income to charitable uses within the test laid down by the Privy Council in Mujibunnissa v Abdul Rahim L R 28 I A 15 s c 5 C W N 177 (1900) and Muta Ramanadan v Iain Levas L R 44 I A 21 s c I L R 40 Mad 116 21 C W N 621 (1916) the wakf was not invalid as being illusory. Held further—That in the mortgage suit the sister of the founder who executed the mortgage was not in the language of a li C P C litigating under the same title as that under which the Plaintiff was litigating for she was sued in her secular capacity not as trustee and that suit did not create the bar of res judicata. Held per RICHARDSON J—That the suit was governed by Art 134 of the Limitation Act and was barred by limitation having been brought more than 12 years from the date of the mortgage from which time limitation began to run and not from the date when the Defendant obtained possession of the property. Per SHAMSUL HUDA J—That the onus to prove that the suit was within time was on the Plaintiff who failed to discharge that onus and show that the mortgage was not followed by possession and in that view of the case the suit was barred by limitation under Art 134 of the Limitation Act. Per RICHARDSON J—A suit to which Art 134 applies must be a suit to recover possession. The Plaintiff must be out of possession and the Defendant in possession. The transfers chiefly contemplated are apparently transfers for value in excess of the limited powers of the trustee or mortgagee. In terms the article would apply to a transfer within those powers but in such a case the true defence to a suit to recover possession would be title and not limitation though in some cases limitation might be useful as an alternative defence. The date of the transfer is the date on which the property or the title was transferred by the transferor to the transferee and where the transfer is effected by a registered instrument that date is the date of the instrument. To construe the date of the transfer as the date on which the transfer is followed by possession is to import into the article words which are not there. Where the possession of the trustee is that of a mere manager under a duly constituted trust it is immaterial under the present law whether the transferee takes with or without notice of the trust. Under Art 134 of the present Limitation Act the transferee without notice and the transferee with notice are on the same footing. Where the transferee is a mere manager he is not the ostensible owner nor has the transferee anything corresponding to the English legal estate to set over against the prior equity of the beneficial owner the legal ownership and the prior equity are generally speaking both in the beneficiary. The element of hardship in the case of a transferee without notice is minimized by the system of registration. The mutawalli of a wakf estate is not the ostensible owner of the estate but a mere manager and in the case of a public charitable endowment the legal ownership is in the Divine Being or in the charity created in His name. A transfer by a mutawalli who assumes to deal with the trust property as if he were the true owner in breach of her duty and in fraud of the trust reposed in him is ultra vires and may be avoided by timely proceedings properly taken for the purpose. The vice in the transaction is title whether he takes with or without notice of the trust can only be cured by lapse of time. NARAIN DAS v KAZI ABDUR RAHIM 24 C W N 690

WAKF—concld

WAKF VALIDATING ACT (VI OF 1913)

If would operate retrospectively The Wakf Validating Act (VI of 1913) has no retrospective effect. PANIMI v A BISI : SHAIKH MANIK JAN (1914) 19 C W N 78

3-Act if operates retrospectively The operation of the Mussalman Wakf Validating Act of 1913 is prospective and not retrospective and it did not affect a previous conclusive decision of the Court declaring a wakf to be invalid. MARUMUD BAKTH MAJUMDAR v DEWAN AJMOU RAJA (1915) 19 C W N 987

Mutawalli—Matters

connected with wakfs being religious matters—D s c nant of the founder—Preferential claim to mutawalliship—No right of inheritance—Qadi under the Mahomedan law exercising jurisdiction in relations to wakfs—His equivalent in the British Indian system of law—Position of the Subordinate Judge—District Judge jurisdiction of. Though a descendant of the founder of a wakf property has a preferential claim to the office of the mutawalli he does not become mutawalli by right of inheritance but has to be appointed such by the Qadi who may supersede him if he is not so qualified. No right of inheritance attaches to a religious endowment. Majeed Salimullah v Abdul Khair M. Yousaf I I R 37 Calc 263 Sayad Abdulla v Sayad Zain I I R 13 Bom 555 Mookhummud Sadiq v Mookhummud Ali 1 Mac Sel Rep 29 and Shahur Eanoor v Aga Mohamed L I 31 I A 40 I L P 4 Calc 118 followed. Shama Charan v Adil Kabir 3 C W N 153 In re Nooratunnesa I L P 3 Calc 36 Calc 21 In re Haima Khalun I L R 3 Calc 870 Amas Chand v Golam Hassan I L R 1 Bom 633 H C R 18 Jamal v Jamal I L R 1 Bom 633 Daud Sha v Ismail Sha I L R 3 Bom 19 Baba v Nassaryddin I I R 18 Bom 103 A C v Abdul Kadir I L R 18 Bom 401 Kudratull v Mohini Mohan 4 B L R 134 Mahammed v Ahmed Bhai I L R 25 Bom 37 Sayid Ali v Ali Jan I L R 35 All 98 Muhammad Abdul Majid v Ahmed Saeed II All L J 633 referred to. Under the Mahomedan law that Qadi alone was competent to exercise authority in his wakfs who was so expressly authorized in his letters patent. There was some difference of opinion upon the question whether such express authority was needed where a person was explicitly appointed the Chief Qadi but even here the balance of opinion of jurists favours the view that power should be expressly conferred on the Chief Qadi to validate the administration of wakfs by him. There is also authority to show that the supreme authority in the State is whom the Qadi

WAKE VALIDATING ACT (VI OF 1913)— contd

is appointed, need not be a Mahomedan and although there is some divergence of opinion there is also authority to show that the office of Qadi may be held by a non Muslim for the decision of disputes between non Muslims under Muslim protection. As this is a matter regarding religious usages and institutions within the meaning of s 10 of Regulation IV of 1793 the rights of the parties must be determined with regard to the provisions of the Mahomedan law on the subject. It follows accordingly that a Subordinate Judge who has not been expressly authorised by the Government to exercise functions in connection with the administration of wakfs is not competent to act in that behalf. Whether a District Judge has implied authority to exercise the functions performed by a Qadi under the Mahomedan law is doubtful. In respect of wakfs which may be described as trusts created for public purposes of a religious nature within the meaning of sub s (1) of s 9 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 the District Judge may be assumed to have been authorised to discharge the functions of a Qadi. The real difficulty arises in the case of private wakfs. It is desirable that the Local Government should to cover such cases authorise either District Judges or Subordinate Judges or even Judicial officers of a lower grade if necessary to exercise the functions of a Qadi. ARIMANFSA BIRI v. ABDUL SOBHAN (1915) 1 L R 43 Cal 467

WAKF

See WAKF

WAKF NAMA

Grantor claiming proprietary possession to that of a mutawalli—Appointment of trustees without transfer of ownership—Possession as managers and superintendents to protect waqf property—Injunction by Deputy Commissioner in respect of property out of his jurisdiction—Disqualification of registering officer as having interest in objects of endowed property who has acted in good faith—Defect in procedure—Punjab Court of Wards Act (Punjab Act II of 1903) ss 11 and 12—Registration Act (III of 1877) ss 17, 57 and s 174 of rules made under s 69. A Muhammadan landholder with property partly in Karnal and partly in Muzaffarnagar on the 25th of August 1903 executed a waqfnama or deed of charitable trust dedicating specific property to religious purposes. The terms of the deed were—

I was the lawful owner of the property. I had power in every way to transfer the same. By virtue of the said power I divested myself of the connection of ownership and proprietary possession thereof and placed it in the proprietary possession of God and changed my temporary possession known as proprietary possession into that of a mutawalli (superintendent). The grantor resided at Karnal in the Punjab. But finding that the Deputy Commissioner was about to place him and his property under the Court of Wards he went to Muzaffarnagar out of the jurisdiction of the Deputy Commissioner of Karnal who on the 30th of August 1903 under ss 11 and 12 of the Court of Wards Act 1903 issued an injunction restraining him from executing any deed of alienation of his property. The waqfnama was not withstanding on the 1st of September 1900 registered by the Sub Registrar of Muzaffarnagar. On the 9th of November 1908 the grantor executed a further document appointing trustees to be superintendents after his death of the charity to which his property had been dedicated under the deed of the 25th of August 1908. The grantor died on the 26th of December 1908 and on the 8th of July 1912 the respondents who were the trustees brought a suit against the appellants the grantor's heirs who had obtained entry of their names in the Revenue Register as defendants alleging that the deceased had duly dedicated his property to the charity and claiming to be the parties named to execute the trust. Held that the waqfnama inasmuch as it did not purport to transfer to the trustees named in it the ownership of the waqf property but made them merely mutawallis or superintendents for its management and protection did not require registration under the Registration Act III of 1877. The injunction issued by the Deputy Commissioner of Karnal under ss 11 and 12 of the Punjab Court of Wards Act (Punjab Act II of 1903) in respect of property which together with the grantor was at the date of issue not within his jurisdiction was held to be invalid and inoperative. The Sub Registrar who being a trustee of one of the objects of the waqf nama entitled to the benefit of the trust had registered the deed but in so doing had acted in good faith though personally connected with and interested in the document within the meaning of s 174 of the rules made under s 69 of the Registration Act III of 1877 was held by his action not to have invalidated its registration as it was a defect in the procedure which s 87 of the Act was intended to remedy. MUHAMMAD RUSTAM ALI KHAN v. MUSHTAQ HUSAIN 1 L R 42 All 609

WAKF NAMA—contd

WAR

See WAGING WAR

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

See TRADING WITH ENEMY

----- effect of—

See BILLS OF EXCHANGE

1 L R 46 Cal 584

See CONTRACT 1 L R 41 Mad 225

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 50

1 L R 40 Bom 570

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR

1 L R 44 Bom 1

See SALE OF GOOD

1 L R 40 Bom 11

1 L R 45 Cal 23

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

1 L R 42 Cal 1094

----- effect of, on contracts of affrighment—

See C I F CONTRACTS

1 L R 44 Bom 473

----- effect of on contracts entered into by a manager of an Indian branch of enemy firm prior to war—

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

1 L R 44 Bom.

WARRANT OF ARREST—contd

official designation and not by name validity of—Omission to explain to accused the contents of warrant effect of—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898) ss 75 77 79 80 537 and 554—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 224 225 and 353 Where the Magistrate issuing a warrant for the arrest of an accused person signed the endorsement on the warrant directing that if the accused gave bail for Rs 100 he was to be liberated but only initialled that part of the warrant which directed the arrest of the accused held that it was gross carelessness on the part of the Magistrate not to have signed his name in both places but that the omission to do so was not in itself an illegality which vitiated the arrest The Illustration to s 37 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 covers a case in which the illegality of the warrant itself is a fact in issue and does not relate merely to a case in which the defence to the substantive charge is that the accused have not been properly brought before the Court A warrant directed in the first place to a police officer by his official designation and without inserting the officer's name is not illegal but where the officer originally entrusted with the execution of a warrant directs it to another officer s 79 of the Code requires the name of the latter officer to appear upon the endorsement Omission on the part of an officer executing a warrant to explain to the accused the particulars of the warrant after showing him the warrant does not invalidate the arrest All that s 80 requires is that the accused shall have a reasonable opportunity of knowing on what charge he is being arrested and before what Court he is to appear so that he may take steps to arrange for his defence Where the constable executing a warrant of arrest showed the warrant to the accused and informed him that he would take bail if it was offered and the accused asserted that no warrant had been issued against him and the constable thereupon took him into custody held that the terms of s 80 of the Code had been substantially complied with BANKEE BEHARY SINGH
v KING EMPEROR 3 Pat L J 493

WARRANT OF ATTACHMENT

Signature of Sheristadar and not of Court issuing it effect of—Evidence (Act (1 of 1870) s 114 (e)—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XXV s 24 Where a warrant of attachment was signed not by the Munif using it but by the Sheristadar and did not bear the seal of the Court and the accused were charged with rioting with the common object of illegally rescuing the attached property held (1) that the onus of providing that the Sheristadar had no authority to sign the warrant was on the party contesting the validity of the warrant (in this case the accused) (2) that in such a case it is not for the prosecution to prove the authority of the officer signing the warrant (3) that the provisions of O XXV s 24 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 being mandatory the omission of the Court's seal on the warrant rendered the attachment illegal (4) that therefore the common object charged was not an unlawful common object and consequently the charge of rioting was not sustainable KURUPA DIX v KING EMPEROR

3 Pat L J 636

WARRANT OF ATTORNEY

application to file—

S e PRACTICE I L P 37 Calc 853

WARRANT OFFICER

of the British Army—

See ARMY ACT (44 & 45 Vic c 58) s
145 190 I L R 43 Bom 368WARRANTYSee CONTRACT I L P 117 Calc 324
15 C W N 981See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 55
15 C W N 655sale of goods—Delivery to be given on arrival of steamer—

See CONTRACT I L R 45 Bom 1222

sale and purchase of goods to be manufactured by a Mill—

See CONTRACT I L R 44 Bom 907

WASTE

ownership of—

See MIRASI VILLAGE
I L R 40 Mad 410

Gift by a life tenant—
Bhog property—Interest taken by widow of Maho-midan Bhogdar—Gift by Mahomedan widow for spiritual benefit of her husband—Intention of widow to make gift of her husband's property—Danger to reversion—Receiver appointment of The gift of a portion of the property of which the donor is a life tenant constitutes waste unless some necessity can be set up by the person making the alienation A Mahomedan widow who according to custom is only a life tenant of the Bhagdari property which belonged to her husband cannot make gifts of the estate as if she were in the position of a Hindu widow who is entitled to make alienations to secure spiritual benefit to her husband The fact that a life tenant is anxious to get the lands transferred to the name of another person does not by itself constitute waste but it might constitute a danger to the interests of the reversioner which a Court might take into consideration on the question whether his interests should be protected by appointing a Receiver ABDUL AMAL v BAI
BINI (1919) 1 I L R 44 Bom 727

WASTE LANDSSee MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (1 of 1908) s 8 I L R 44 Mad 891

ownership of kudevaram—

See LIMITATION ACT (Act VI of 1907)
22 I L R 40 Mad 422WASTE LANDS ACT (XXIII OF 1863)

s 18—

Procedure with respect to Act—Sale by Government of land under the Act —Error in advertisement of sale—Effect of of proclamation ousting jurisdiction of civil Courts and constituting a Special Court for years limit for claims only 3 years before before Special Court—Act 33 of 1911 s 10

WASTE LANDS ACT (XXIII OF 1863)—contds 18—contd

than those only held by Government. Great weight had always been given by the Judicial Committee to the accuracy of survey maps they were not conclusive but in the absence of evidence to the contrary they were presumed to be accurate. This appeal arose out of a suit by the Maharajah of Tipperah to recover possession of certain plots of land in Sylhet from the Government and from certain Tea Companies who in virtue of leases granted by the Government were in possession of the lands in suit. There were concurrent findings of fact by the Courts in India that the lands in question were de facto in the possession of the plaintiff and his predecessors since the beginning of the 19th century and that the dispossession had taken place within 12 years before suit so as to exclude the plea of limitation and the Judicial Committee substantially upheld the decision of the High Court in favour of the plaintiff. One plot however had been sold by the Government as waste land and the sale was not in any way stopped or interfered with by the Rajah and more than three years had elapsed from the date of delivery to the purchaser which was the period provided by s 18 of the Waste Lands Act (XXIII of 1863) after which no claim to any land or to compensation or damages in respect of any land sold as waste land could be received and it was contended that the suit was barred by s 18 as to that plot. Held that the Act was one which was drastic in its character and made great invasion on private rights. The defendant who pleaded it must therefore bring the matter strictly within its provisions which clearly pointed to the necessity of proper intimation being given by Government as to the proposed sale and where they had given a misleading notice and had advertised a sale of lands in one district when they were situated in another district the whole of the sale proceedings failed for want of a proper basis. When a claim was allowed under the Act procedure was provided for the issue of a proclamation which ousted the jurisdiction of the ordinary Courts and constituted a Special Court and no proof had in this case been given that any proclamation was issued. The provision as to three years in s 18 was clearly applicable to the proceedings before the Special Court and that Court alone. The procedure under the Waste Lands Act is not applicable only to lands belonging to the Government. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. BIFFANDRA KISHORE WATKIA (1916)

L R 43 I A 303
I L R 44 Calc 328

WATAN

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT
(BOM III OF 1874) ss 2, 36

I L R 40 Bom 55

See WATAN

WATANDAR

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT
(X OF 1876) s 4 (a)

I L R 45 Bom 1141

WATER

See EASEMENT 15 C W N 259
I L R 42 Calc 164

See FISHERY

I L R 42 Calc 489

WATER—contd

See GRANT CONSTRUCTION OF
I L R 48 Mad 424

See PIPAFIAN RIGHTS

flowing right to—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VI OF 1860) s 1 AND PROVISIONS 1 AND 2
I L R 40 Mad 886

for wet lands—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1860) s 1 I L R 38 Mad 997

proprietary rights in—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1860) I L R 37 Mad 322

right to the flow of—

See EASEMENTS ACT (I OF 1882) ss 2 (c) AND 17 (c) I L R 42 Bom 288 rights respective flow of—

See EASEMENT I L R 33 All 619

WATER CESS

See MADRAS WATER CESS ACT (VII OF 1865) I L R 48 Mad 67

WATER CONNECTION

See MUNICIPALITY I L R 47 Calc 426

WATER DUTIES

See NAVIGABLE RIVER I L R 46 Calc 390

WATER COURSE

See MADRAS IRRIGATION WATER CESS ACT

See RIPARIAN RIGHTS

WATERFLOW

Agricultural lands upper and lower owners of—Right of upper owner to drain his water naturally on lower land—Indian Easements Act (I of 1882) s 11 (a) and (v)
The ruling in Mahamatopadhyaya Rangachariar v. The Municipal Council of Kumbakonam I L R 29 Mad 539 distinguished. An owner of upper agricultural land is entitled to let his water flow in its natural course without any obstruction by the owner of the lower land and the lower owner is not entitled to raise any bond on his land which will have the effect of seriously interfering with the upper owner's cultivation and submergence. Ayyar v. Pamachandrarau I L R 1 Mad 330 and Abdul Halim v. Ganesh Dutt I L R 1 Calc 373 followed. Sangana Paddiar v. Perumal Reddhar (1910) Mad W D 545 distinguished from RANASWAMY v. RASI (1913) I L R 38 Mad 148

WATER PASSAGE

See DISPUTE CONCERNING EASEMENT
I L R 39 Calc 560

WATER RATE

Madras Board of Port new Standing Orders Edition 1908 Ch 1 App of s D rr 2 and 3— Full water rate meaning I The words full water rate in r 2 of the Standing Order of the Madras Board of Revenue Ch 1 App I s D (Ed 1900 p 91) mean full water

WATER RATE—contd

rate in respect of wet cultivation and not full water rate in respect of the crop actually raised
SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v SUBHA ROW OF KURNOOL (1910) I L R 34 Mad 436

WATER RIGHTS

See EASEMENTS I L R 37 Mad 304

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT 1863
 s 1
 I L R 40 Mad 886

Surface water—Right of owner of higher land to discharge surface water over adjacent lower land—Inability of the owner of servient tenement to discharge same owing to rise of bed of adjacent stream by silting—Hastened—Dominant owner's right is affected It is well settled in this country that the owner of higher land is entitled to discharge surface water over adjacent lower land. Where owing to the silting up of a stream into which the water thus discharged ultimately flowed the level of the bed of the stream became higher than the adjacent lower land to the inconvenience of the owners thereof. Held that the increase of burden to the servient owners not being due to anything done by the dominant owners the latter were still entitled to exercise their rights and it was for the servient owners to take such steps as might be advisable to deal with the difficulties created by the rise in the bed of the stream. KASRISWAR MUKHERJEE v JYOTI KUMAR MUKHERJEE (1917)
 22 C W N 686

WAY

See RIGHT OF WAY

Public way—Public drain when filled up it becomes public way A public drain does not become a public way merely because it is filled up. RAM CHANDRA SIL v PARAMANANI DAS (1910)
 20 C W N 773

Suit for declaration of—Whether it is necessary to locate the exact position or to show whether any definite track was used—Plaintiff to establish the termini from and to which the way runs—Plaintiff to enjoy the right in the way pointed out by owners of servient tenement—If not the nearest route In a suit for a declaration of the plaintiffs right of way it is not necessary to locate the exact position in which the way was enjoyed over the compound of the defendants nor is it necessary to show that any definite marked pathway over the compound was always used. If the plaintiffs establish the termini from which and to which the way runs the plaintiffs would be entitled to have the right of way and that right would be enjoyed in the way that the owners of the servient tenement point out as being the track over which the way should be enjoyed and if not then the plaintiffs would be entitled to enjoy the way by the nearest route. LAKSHI KANTA ROY v RAJ CHANDRA SHANU (1918)
 22 C W N 922

Held that a suit for a declaration that a pathway is a village pathway can succeed without proof of special damage HARISH CHANDRA SANA v PRANATH CHAKRA BARTI
 26 C W N 587

WEEKLY SITTING LIST

notes to the—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) ss 491 233 537
 I L R 39 Mad 527

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

bye law for—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1888) s 418 461 cl (o)
 I L R 41 Bom 590

WELL

See EASEMENTS ACT (V OF 1882) ss 13 AND 47
 I L R 45 Bom 80

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 35 All 292

WHIPPING

sentence of—

See WHIPPING ACT (IV OF 1909) s 3
 I L R 35 Bom 137

WHIPPING ACT (IV OF 1909)

s 3—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 56.—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 7—Sentence of whipping only passed on accused—Order to accused to notify his residence—Validity of the order. S 363 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) must be strictly construed. The order contemplated by the section can only be made at the time of passing sentence of transportation or imprisonment upon a convict. It cannot be made where the Court instead of passing that sentence passes a sentence of whipping. EMPEROR v FULJI DITIA (1910)
 I L R 35 Bom 137

WIDOW

See BABUANA GRANT
 I L R 42 Calcutta 582

See FRAUD I L R 30 Bom 185

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—DEBT
 I L R 39 Bom 113

See HINDU LAW—GIFT
 I L R 42 Bom 136

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 38 Bom 138
 I L R 42 Calcutta 1179

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NEXT OF KIN
 I L R 38 Bom 68

See HINDU LAW—REVERSIONER

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

HINDU WIDOW'S REMARRIAGE ACT 1856

See HINDU LAW—WILL
 I L R 37 All 422
 I L R 35 Bom 279

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1909) SCH. I ARTS 141 144
 I L R 42 Bom 714

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

See MAINTENANCE
 I L R 33 Bom 278
 I L R 36 Bom 131, 333
 I L R 43 Bom 66

WIDOW—contdSee PES JUDICATA

I L R 38 Bom 127

See WILL

I L R 35 Bom 279

adoption by—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 33 Mad 406

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

adoption by minor—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 44 Bom 327

I L R 40 Mad 925

adoption by of her brother's son—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 37 All 359

adoption by widow on condition—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 45 Bom 1167

adoption by widow succeeding as heir to unmarried son—

See HINDU LAW (ADOPTION)

I L R 44 Bom 297

adoption by widow of a Shudra—

See HINDU LAW (ADOPTION)

I L R 45 Bom 459

adoption where more than one

widow—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 44 Bom 508

adoption by widow under direction

in Husband's Will—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 47 Calc 1012

adoption by during life time of son adopted by husband—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 44 Bom 627

adoption by widow of co parcnor

after death of survey co parcnor—

See HINDU LAW (ADOPTION)

I L R 44 Bom 433

alienation by—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad 406

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION*See* HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 1 Lah 588

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 41 Bom 43

See LIMITATION

L R 41 I A 267

brother's not an heir—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

I L R 37 Mad. 293

decree against for husband's debt—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 39 Mad 565

WIDOW—contd

devise to—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 42 Calc 561

execution of deed by—

See DECLARATORY DECREE

I L R 45 Calc 510

extent of power of representation—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 42 Bom 69

gift by to daughter—

See HINDU LAW—GIFT

I L R 37 Calc 1

See HINDU LAW—PERVERSIONER

I L R 44 Bom 255

gift voidable by reversioners—

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 45 Bom 105

gift by Mahomedan widow with life interest for spiritual benefit of husband—See WASTE I L R 44 Bom 727 maintenance of—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 38 Mad 153

minor adoption by—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 40 Mad 925

I L R 44 Bom 327

of a joint owner—whether entitled to claim partition—See SECOND APPEAL

I L R 2 Lah 348

powers exercised by surviving—

See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

I L R 37 Mad 199

power to to adopt—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 46 Calc 749

power of general disposition of life estate by Will—See WILL 25 C W N 890prior right of adoption between widows—See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 39 Calc 89

representative of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc. 925right of to retain husband's pro perty for dower—See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 38 Calc 475

right of residence under Hindu Law—See HINDU—LAW WIDOW

I L R 45 Bom. 337

share taken by—

See HINDU—LAW PARTITION

I L R 48 Calc 1059

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WIDOW

I L R 44 Bom. 947

WIDOW—could exclusion of—

See HINDU LAW—CUSTOM
I L R 42 Cal 582

WIDOW'S ESTATE

See HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
I L R 41 Cal 870

alienation of by Court of Wards—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 40 Mad 846

WIFE

See DIVORCE

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
I L R 36 Bom 138

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE
I L R 39 All 234

See HUSBAND AND WIFE

See PESTITION OF CONJUGAL RIGHT

co is of—

See DIVORCE I L R 41 Cal 863
I L R 44 Cal 35

gift by to husband—

See MALABAR LAW
I L R 38 Mad 79

Interest taken by—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW
I L R 38 Mad 79

—insisting to live with her parents under an agreement—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PESTITION OF CONJUGAL RIGHTS
I L R 1 Lah 597

rights of—

See JEWISH LAW I L R 38 Cal 708
I L R 40 Cal 286

WILL—

Col

CONSTRUCTION 4920

DEBATTAR³ 4240

DEMONSTRATIVE LEGACY 4241

EXECUTION 4241

EXECUTOR 4243

PROOF 4247

REVOCATION 4252

VALIDITY 4253

See BHAGDARI ACT (Bom 1 of 1862)
s 3 I L R 40 Bom 207

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188^o
s 320 A I L R 33 All 233

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 33 All 665
I L R 39 All 311
I L R 41 All 666

See COURT FEES ACT 180 s 19 (c)
5 Pat L J 36

See CATCH MEMOIRS
I L R 41 Bom 181

See DOCTRINE OF SATHI FACTION
I L R 37 Bom 211

WILL—could

See ENDOWMENT ACT s 13 AND 147
I L R 45 Bom 89

See ESTOPPEL I L R 44 Cal 145

See EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1872)—
ss 38 AND 45 I L R 41 All 248

ss 40 41 42 AND 44
I L R 38 Bom 427

s 41 I L R 38 Bom 309

See GUARDIAN I L R 42 Cal 953

See GUARDIANS AND WARDS ACT (VIII OF 1890) ss 38 AND "
I L R 40 Mad 672

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 40 Bom 688
I L R 44 Mad 189

See HINDU LAW—MINOR
I L R 38 Mad 166

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW'S ESTATE
I L R 46 I A 259

See HINDU LAW—WILL

See HINDU WILLS ACT XVI OF 180
ss 2 AND 5 I L R 82 Bom 566

See INAM LANDS I L R 38 Bom 272

See JOINT HINDU FAMILY
I L R 39 Bom 245

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1817) s 5
AND 7 I L R 34 Bom 589

s 10 I L R 35 Bom 49

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAFQ
I L R 43 All 508

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL

See NAIKINS I L R 37 Bom 116

See NORTH WEST PROVINCES RENT ACT
(XVIII OF 1873) s 9
I L R 41 All 356

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
I L R 42 Cal 254

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (1 OF 1860)
s 13 16 AND 17 I L R 32 All 227

See PROBATE I L R 39 Cal 245

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT
s 51 I L R 34 Bom 459

See REGISTRATION
I L R 38 Bom 227

See SUCCESSION ACT (X OF 1865)
I L R 37 Bom 644

ss 8 AND 187 I L R 33 Mad 91

s 244 I L R 35 All 448

See WILL AND CODICIL
22 W N 305

See WILL OF PARS

—Bequest of income without corpus—
See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 11
I Pat L J 16

—bequest to daughter—
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 40 Mad 1122

WILL—contd

by Hindu widow—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 1 Lah 588

Bequest to women—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 115

1 Pat L J 16

construction of—

See CONSTRUCTION OF WILL

See HINDU LAW—ADDITION

I L R 42 All 266

I L R 37 Bom 107

See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

I L R 37 Mad 199

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 47 Cal 466

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 40 Cal 274

I L R 38 All 446

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 34 All 213

execution of—

See SUCCESSION ACT (I of 1865) s 50

I L R 40 Mad 550

executed before Hindu Wills Act—

See HINDU LAW—WILL 23 C W N 826

in favour of Hindu female—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 1 Lah 415

in favour of son with gift over on death—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL

I L R 1 Lah 302

in favour of a woman—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 2 Lah 175

joint Will—1

See PROBATE I L R 45 Bom 987

nomination by—

See MUTT I L R 40 Mad 177

of occupancy rights which have ripened into ownership—

See COLONISATION OF GOVERNMENT LANDS (PUNJAB) ACT 1912

I L R 1 Lah 500

of Hindu widow—possession of Husband's estate—1

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 38 All 446

revocation of—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 38 Mad 369

statement in—

See HINDU WIDOW

I L R 40 Cal 555

WILL—contd

setting aside a—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)

s 42

I L R 41 All 15

signed by some other person by direction of testator—

See SUCCESSION ACT (I of 1865) s 50

I L R 45 Bom 989

signed by two persons—

See PROBATE I L R 45 Bom 987

validity of—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

I L R 47 Cal 838

See PROBATE I L R 42 Cal 480

CONSTRUCTION

1. ———— Bequest to take effect after deaths of testator and his wife—Legatee surviving testator but predeceasing wife—Vested or contingent interest One S executed a will whereby he gave all his property after the death of himself and his wife V to his daughter B and his nephew D. D survived the testator but predeceased M. Held that D took a vested interest in the property which was transmissible to his sons. Bhogabati Bar manya v Kals Charan Singh I L R 33 Cal 468 3 All L J 433 followed. BILASO v MURVI LAL (1911) I L R 33 All 558

2. ———— Clause for maintenance of daughters—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 111 157—Uncertain extent—Marriage of daughters—Legatee, right of to sue—Succession Act s 5—Probate of will obtained only after institution of suit—Grant of Probate modified by High Court on appeal A Hindu died in 1879 leaving a will whereby (among other things) he made provision for his wives and his daughters who survived him. The clause providing for the daughters was: "When they will be married and if they desire to live in separate houses the person in whose management my property will be at the time will make separate houses for them in the vicinity of my house from the income of my property. For the maintenance of my daughters I fix an allowance of Rs 600 a year for Srimati Prasanna and Rs 600 for Srimati Sarat. As long as the daughters will live in the separate houses in this place they will get the fixed allowance respectively but if the daughters do not live in this place they will get Rs 10. The daughters married in 1883 and 1893 respectively and lived in separate houses. In suits for their allowances it was contended that the bequests to them were given in the event of their marriage and as that event did not happen until after the death of the testator the bequests were void by reason of s 111 of the Succession Act (X of 1865) and never took effect. Held on the construction of the above clause that the payment of maintenance was not contingent on the daughter's marriages and that therefore s 111 was not applicable. At the time the suits were instituted no letters of administration had been granted but pending the suits the widow obtained from the District Judge a grant of letters of administration with the will annexed. The grant was on appeal modified by the High Court by limiting it to the realisation of the main tenance allowance provided by the will for the widow but before the letters of administration could be recalled and altered the widow died and the letters were never formally altered. It was contended that the suits could not be maintained with reference to s 187 of the Succession Act which requires that before the right of a legatee can be established probate of the will shall have been granted. Held that the grant of administration with the will annexed was within the meaning of s 3 of the Act a grant of probate which was a compliance with the provisions of s 187. The subsequent limitation of the grant was immaterial. So long as the compliance with the section was prior to decree the fact that it was after the institution of the suits made no difference and the Court was fully competent to deal with the suits. CHANDRA KISHORE ROY v PRASANNA KUMAR DAS (1910) 1 L R 38 Cal 327 15 C W N 121

WILL—*contd*CONSTRUCTION—contd

3 ——— Rules for devolution of trust if constitutes a will—Probate—if may be granted of an instrument laying down rules for devolution of trust—Partial probate if may be given—Residuary bequest effect of Where a Mohunt made a will the main body of which simply laid down rules for the devolution of trust property but there was a clause in the following terms "the said I shall get and shall be entitled of his own accord to make a gift or sale of any other property that I may earn during my life time." Held that whether or not there was any such residuary property there was here a valid testamentary disposition which may be admitted to probate though the main body of the will being a deed merely evidencing a devolution of trust would not by itself be testamentary or admissible to probate. Held further that in the circumstances probate must be granted of the will as a whole leaving it open to any party to establish his title by suit to any property in respect of which there may be a declaration of trust ineffectual as a will and vesting the whole estate in the executor pending determination of title to such property. BAISAV CHAFAN DASS BAIKATI v KISHORE DASS MOHANTA (1911) 15 C W N 1014

3(a) The term Malik when used in a will or other document as descriptive of the position which a devise or donee is intended to hold includes full proprietary rights unless there is something in the context or surrounding circumstances to restrict this meaning. MUSAMMAT SASIMAN CHOWDHURAN v SHRI NARAYAN CHOWDHURY ■ ■ W N 425

4 ——— Will or family arrangement—Immediate operation—Irrevocability—Pegistation—Pegistration Act (III of 18) s 1—Leading inconsistency in—Costs—Success full party deprived of all costs A document executed by the owner of an estate on 3rd May 1883 which was plainly intended to be operative immediately and to be final and irrevocable was held to be a non testamentary instrument e.g. a family arrangement which in regards immovable property failed of effect because it was not registered as required by s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 18). The appellants in who e favour the above decision was given having set up a will of a later date had started with the case that the instrument in question was a will but the will propounded by them being found not proved they later on attacked the document on the ground stated above. Similar inconsistency appeared in the pleadings of their opponents. Held that in the circumstances the Judicial Committee was not precluded from giving effect to the real character of the instrument but the appellants were deprived of their costs in all the Courts. UMRAO SINGH v LACHMAN SINGH (1911) 1 L R 33 All 344 15 C W N 497 18 C 38 I A 104

WILL—*contd*CONSTRUCTION—contd

4 (a) ——— Signature—Proof of—Handwriting Expert The Propounder of a will should prove to the satisfaction of the court beyond all possible doubt that the will was executed by the alleged Testator. The opinion of a hand writing expert when he was not called as a witness was held inadmissible. MUSAMMAT PADMA PRIYA DEBI v DEAR TA DAS DASARMA 15 C W N 728

5 ——— Bequest dividing self acquired property—between testator's two sons with gift over to survivor—Survivorship whether limited to survivorship during testator's life or extending to period after his death—Period of distribution—Hindu Law A Hindu resident of Surat in the Presidency of Bombay made a will dated 20th August 1899 by which after appointing his two sons executors heirs and owners of the whole of his property (which was self acquired) and directing them to divide and take equal shares in it with certain exceptions gave each of them a half share of his estate not especially disposed of by the will. By clause 9 he made the following bequest "I have divided between and given to my two sons the whole of my property as mentioned above. But should either of the two sons die without having had (leaving) any male issue the survivor of the said two sons is duly to take the whole of the property appertaining to the share of the deceased son who may have (leave) no male issue (behind him) after undertaking (to defray) the expenses in connection with the maintenance of his widow and marriage of his minor daughter. But under the circumstances the heirs of my deceased son Surjalal shall not get any right whatever." The testator died on 4th July 1901 leaving him surviving his two sons. The elder son died on 2nd January 1903 leaving a widow and a daughter. In a suit by the surviving son to enforce the provisions of clause 9 of the will the High Court held that the period of distribution contemplated by the testator was the period of his death at which time half of his estate became vested in each of his sons absolutely and that clause 9 should be read as if the survivorship there provided was limited to survivorship at the death of the testator. Held (reversing that decision), that the words of clause 9 were not limited to survivorship during the testator's life but clearly pointed to survivorship whenever it then occurred and that the surviving son was a such survivor entitled to the estate covered by the clause subject to the obligation imposed upon him of maintaining his brother's widow and daughter. CHUNILAL PAVATI HANPATI v BAI SAMRATI (1914) 1 L R 38 Bom 399

6 ——— Direction to carry on testator's business—Loss suffered in the course of the business

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

annulled. Held that the consent decree did not operate as res judicata to prevent the High Court construing the bequest. BALTHAZAR v BALTHAZAR (1917) 21 C W N 992

10 ——— Construction of will—Absolute words and limiting words occurring in one sentence—Intention of the testator A testator made the following provision in his will I appoint by this testament my brother Joaquim Serpes as my only and universal heir of all the immovable property which I possess and which may hereafter in any manner belong to me with the strict obligation to him not to sell exchange or hypothecate it but only to enjoy the usufruct thereof and at his death to pass over the same to his male children preserving the same as a patrimony of the house The question being raised whether upon a proper construction of the will Joaquim was merely a life tenant or whether he took absolutely Held that Joaquim was a mere life tenant ROSE D SOUZA v JOSEPH (1916) I L R 41 Bom 70

11 ——— Wills by Hindu—fundamental principle common to Hindu and English wills—Court's duty to give effect to intention as expressed not in add to will—Surrounding circumstances to be looked at as aid to interpretation only—Religious opinion and race in what way relevant—Liberal construction of native wills meaning of Contemporaneous deed referred to in will and interpretation by persons interested if may be referred to—English rules of construction if inapplicable In construing a will a Court must consider the surrounding circumstances the position of the testator his family relationships the probability that he would use words in a particular sense and many other things including the race and religious opinions of the testator and influences and aims arising therefrom—but all this solely as an aid to ascertain the meaning of the language used by the particular testator in the particular will Once the right construction is settled the duty of the Court is loyally to carry out the intentions as expressed and none other This duty is universal and is true alike of wills of every nationality and every religion or rank of life The Court is in no case justified in adding to testamentary dispositions If they transgress any legal restrictions they must be disregarded If any eventuality arises which the will leaves unprovided for there will be intestacy This fundamental principle does not clash with the principle that the Court will not necessarily apply English rules of construction to a will of a Hindu like the present nor does it clash in any way with what is sometimes called giving liberal interpretation to native wills That native testators should be ignorant of the legal phraseology proper to express their intentions or of the legal steps necessary to carry them into effect is one of the most important of the "surrounding circumstances" which the Court must bear in mind and it is justified in refusing to allow defects in expression in these matters to prevent the carrying out of the testator's true intentions But the intentions must be ascertained by the proper construction of the words he used and once ascertained they must not be departed from It is legitimate in construing a will to look at contemporaneous document referred to in the will which the testator wrote or caused to be written with

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

the express intent to render clear his wishes with regard to his succession The interpretation placed on the power by the testator a widow was referred to for what it was worth NARASIMHA APPA ROW v PAPHASARATHY APPA ROW (1913) 18 C W N 554

I L R 37 Mad 189

12 ——— Republication—Succession Act (X of 1865) ss 105 153—Codicil—Death of testator within one year—Repair of graves—Charitable bequest—Conditions Elections of Deacons Communion Service—Gift over to another charity—Perpetuities The testator died on the 8th July 1909 leaving as next of kin a nephew and leaving a will dated the 14th April 1884 and four codicils The testamentary dispositions included certain charitable and religious bequests The last two codicils dated the 15th December 1906 and the 19th December 1908 respectively were not deposited according to the provisions of s 105 of the Succession Act they did not however purport to revoke the will but in effect republished the will Held that in the circumstances the will as modified by the codicils was operative Hopwood v Hopwood 7 H L Cas 798 In re Moore Long v Moore (1907) 1 Ir Rep 315 referred to A direction that the will shall not have any effect (beyond proving the same) for at least two years from the arrival of the news of the testator's death operated merely as a postponing clause, and did not invalidate the will. A direction to trustees to look after and keep in proper repairs certain graves and to pay for the expenses of such repairs in perpetuity out of the estate was not for charitable uses and was void and inoperative Hoare v Osborn L R 1 Eq 555 Melick v The President and Guardians of the Asylum (18-1) Jac 150 In re Vaughan Vaughan v Thomas L R 33 Ch D 157 In re Pogerson Bird v Lee (1901) 1 Ch 715 referred to In re Tyler Tyler v Tyler (1891) 3 Ch 35 distinguished A bequest in favour of the Lower Circular Road Baptist Church was subject to inter alia the following conditions (a) that no ordained minister or missionary be ever elected as a deacon of the church or be allowed to canvass for votes (b) that at communion two cups one of fermented one of unfermented wine should be provided (c) that the deacons do not introduce any innovation into the practice of the church In the event of the non-fulfilment of the conditions there was a gift over in favour of the Howrah Baptist Church and other charitable and religious institutions Held that there was nothing illegal or impossible in the conditions and inasmuch as the conditions had not been fulfilled the gift over came into operation In re Robinson Wright v Tugwell (18-1) 1 Ch 90 distinguished An immediate gift to a charity for charitable uses with a gift over on an event which may be beyond the ordinary limit of perpetuities to another charity is not invalid Christie v Hoopes v Granger 1 Mac & G 469 In re Tyler Tyler v Tyler (1891) 3 Ch 35 followed In re Fowen Lloyd v Hull & Co (1893) Ch 191 In re Strathell and Campbell (1894) 3 Ch 465 Chamberlaine v Brockell 1 L R 5 Ch App 96 dictum of Lord Atkinson GENERAL OF BENGAL v HUGHES (191)

I L R 40 Cal.

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

13 ——— Rule of justice equity and good conscience—Devise to eldest son and his lawful male children—according to law of inheritance—Mortgages made by testator as full owner and mortgages made by son with an estate for life only—Rights of mortgages—Alternative case set up on appeal—Costs T S a domiciled resident of the North Western Provinces of India died on the 9th of November 1864 leaving a will dated the 22nd of October 1864 [and therefore before the Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) came into force] where by he made provisions that certain villages houses and other property should at my demise descend to my eldest son T B S and to his lawful male children according to the law of inheritance and in the event of my eldest son T B S dying with out lawful male children to my female children or in the event of their death to the female children born in wedlock of my sons in succession. The testator had in 1863 mortgaged his property to the extent of Rs 50 000 with interest and his son T B S, after he succeeded to the property further mortgaged it in 1867 1869 and 1872 and in execution of decrees obtained against him on those mortgages the property was sold and his interest therein was acquired by the various auction purchasers T B S died in 1900 without lawful male children and was succeeded by the second son of the testator the present appellant who in 1890 and 1906 brought the present suits for ejectment against the auction purchasers in which he prayed for decrees for full proprietary possession and the suits were dealt with on that footing in the Courts in India, the High Court however only dismissing the suits because there was no specific claim for redemption. On his appeal part of the appellant's case was that the High Court instead of dismissing the suits should have made decrees for possession conditional upon payment of the debts binding on the estate of the testator and during the hearing it was conceded by counsel that on the construction of the will the appellant was only a life tenant of the property. Held that the regulation of the succession under the will was to be determined by the rule of justice equity and good conscience that the bequest was to be read in its entirety and together and that so read there was in it no intention that his son T B S should have an absolute ownership the testator intended to regulate the succession after the death of T B S and settle the mode of the subsequent enjoyment of the property and such detailed regulations were only natural necessary and entirely in place if T B S was intended to be merely a tenant for his life. Held therefore that the rights under mortgages granted by T B S ceased at his death and that the appellant as the next male heir was entitled to the enjoyment of the estate for life free from any rights so acquired. The case however was very different with regard to the rights acquired under mortgages granted by the testator himself. Even if T B S renewed such mortgages the right of the mortgagees would not be prejudiced thereby the renewal of a mortgage by a person with a limited interest in the estate not operating as a discharge of debts effectually secured upon the radical right. The appellant accordingly was not entitled to possession until full satisfaction had been made of rights of all mortgagees and their successors under mortgages granted by the testator. The appeals were allowed and the suits remitted to the High Court on that footing. The alternative case set up by the appellant on appeal was only permitted by their Lordships to be the ground of judgment because it seemed possible in that way to construct the material for a just decision of the true rights of the parties concerned which would be best for the interests of all and prevent further litigation. SKINNER & NAUTHIAL SINGH (1913)

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

I L R 35 M 211

14 ——— Bequest creating a succession of life interests to illegitimate son and his issue (aulad)—Whether aulad includes illegitimate issue—Marriage of son by birth a Mahomedan to Hindu caste ladies—Intention of testator—Mahomedan brought up as orthodox Hindu. The question in this appeal was as to the construction of a codicil to the will of the late Maharaja of Balrampur who was a Hindu of the Chattri caste by which he purported to make provision for J B his son by a Mahomedan mistress who as held by the Courts below was by birth a Mahomedan. He afterwards however, became as far as was possible a Hindu. The appellant (plaintiff) was the eldest son of J B by a Mahomedan woman and the second third and fourth respondents were his brothers and there were concurrent findings of both Courts in India that there was no valid marriage between J B and their mother and that they were consequently illegitimate. The first respondent was the son of J B by a Hindu lady of the Chattri caste with whom he had admittedly gone through a marriage according to the strict Hindu rites and when that lady died his father got him married to other lady of the same caste. On the death of J B in 1899 the first respondent obtained possession of the property in suit and the appellant sued for it the question being whether the appellant was an issue of J B within the meaning of the word aulad as used in the codicil and as such entitled to inherit J B's property. The first respondent contended that the appellant being illegitimate could not take under the terms of the codicil that J B had been a Hindu from his boyhood to his death and that he (the first respondent) being the only son of the first Hindu marriage which was a valid one was the heir of his father and on the true construction of the codicil entitled to the property in suit. By the codicil dated the 15th of March 1878 the testator after reciting that his son J B being not born of Khas Mahal was not capable of the gaddishashin and the proprietorship of the riasat continued — But he also being born of my loins it is incumbent on me that such means be provided as would enable him and his issue (aulad) to support themselves well and with respect. Accordingly the settlement is made as follows Rs 4 000 per mensem or Rs 48 000 per annum (the income derived from certain villages named) shall be continued to be paid by the proprietor of the riasat the locum tenens of the gaddishashin for the time being and that amount shall be paid to J B and his issue (aulad) for generation after generation so long as the family (khandaan) of J B and his issue (aulad) remain in existence. (3) for his life time J B has a right to spend their money but after his death from among his issue (aulad) one person (jisko ha? pahuncha hove) to whom the right may go shall be considered proprietor of this maintenance allowance without division as a res. The other issue of the family of J B shall be entitled to get food raiment and other necessities out of the monthly allowance. (4) When there remains no descendant of the family of J B at any time the monthly allowance of Rs 4 000 will be resumed and remain in proprietary possession of the proprietor of the riyat the gaddinashin. The Court of the Judicial Commissioner held that aulad primd facie meant legitimate issue and dismissed the suit. Held (upholding the decision) that the case was not one where a gift is made by will of the corpus of a fund or a life interest in a fund to the children of the testator or of another as a class. There might be good reason in some such cases for holding that in India the word "children" includes illegitimate children. But here a succession of life interests from generation to generation is intended to be set up the successor or proprietor in each instance being vested with an absolute control of the income subject only to the duty of maintaining the issue (aulad) of the family (khandan) of the first proprietor J B. There was nothing on the face of the codicil to suggest that a meaning should be given to the word aulad different from its primd facie meaning. To include illegitimate issue would bring into the line of succession not only the testator's illegitimate grand children but their illegitimate issue from generation to generation. Such a construction would render condition No 4 rather unnecessary and would also defeat the whole purpose and object of the testator in establishing the succession of life interests. Nor was there any reason for extending the meaning of the word khandan which ordinarily refers to the group of descendants who constitute the family of the proprietor so as to include illegitimate offspring who from the necessities of the case cannot share in the family life or its worship or ceremonials. Held also that the fair result of the evidence was that J B did his utmost to become an orthodox Hindu and to pass as such in the society in which he lived and that his father from boy's youth upwards aided and encouraged him in those efforts. The testator treated his marriages with the two Chattri ladies as lawful marriages and desired that others should so treat them and consequently resolved to regard and treat the offspring of those unions as legitimate and desired that they should be so treated and regarded by others and that it was in this frame of mind he made the testamentary disposition in dispute. Having regard to all the evidence in the case and the provisions of the codicil itself the intention of the testator plainly was to treat the marriages of J B with the two women of the Chattri caste as valid marriages and the issue of those marriages as legitimate issue. SHER BAHADUR v GANOA BAKESH SINGH (1913)

WILL—*contd*CONSTRUCTION—contd

I L R 38 All 101

14(a) — One P died leaving a will by which he directed that certain legacies should be paid out of a fund of Rs 10 000 invested in fixed deposit in the Delhi and London Bank. The Bank had during P's lifetime advanced certain sums to his daughter on an undertaking by P that he would stand surety for the loan. P was also himself indebted to the Bank. Held on a suit by the legatees that the executor of P's will was perfectly justified on being satisfied

WILL—*contd*CONSTRUCTION—contd

as to the fact of P's relations with the Bank above described in permitting the Bank to realise from the fund in question both the amount of loan to P's daughter and the amount of his own indebtedness. HERBERT ARCHIBALD POCOCK v THE DELHI AND LONDON BANK LTD

I L R 38 All 219

15 — Money belonging to the testator but not known to him—Residuary clause not binding by—Rule of construction of residuary clause in a will made in the town of Madras. A testator in the town of Madras after stating in the preliminary clauses the properties moveable and immoveable to which he was entitled and which he by subsequent clauses in the will bequeathed to various beneficiaries and legatees finally made a bequest in the following terms: the sum which may be left after deducting the above mentioned legacies and such other expenses shall be utilised in my name for pooja and other charities in Vytheenar temple. Unknown to the testator there was a sum of Rs 4 000 lying to his credit with the Registrar of the High Court which after his death was paid to his executor on his application. In this suit by the widow of the testator for administration of the estate. Held that the sum of Rs 4 000 was not disposed of even under the above residuary clause of the will that the plaintiff was entitled to it as on an intestacy and that the executor was liable to account for the same from the date of the testator's death on the footing of a wilful default. The residuary clause in the form in which it appears in English wills is practically unknown to the ordinary testator in Madras and the rules of construction which have been laid down by English Courts are not applicable. KUNTHALANNAI v SURYA PRASADROYA MUDALIAR (1914)

I L R 40 Mad. 1096

16 — Will of Parsi—Devise to two sons in equal shares—Gift over to son of elder son if he should have one—Failure of male issue to elder son—Provision for adopted son on failure of natural son—Adoption after testator's death and according to Parsi custom three days after death of father—Gift over to grandson on attaining majority—Elder son surviving testator—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 111. A Parsi having two sons P and J made a will in 1866 in the following terms:—Cl 2 stated: The said two sons are proprietors half and half alike and in equal (shares) of my whole estate outstanding debts title and interest and both the heirs living together are duly to enjoy the balance which may remain after the Sarkar's assessment. In this my testamentary writing I the testator have appointed my two sons as (my) heirs. Cl 5 said that P the elder son being in a confused state of mind the management of the estate was entrusted to the younger son J by his true and pure integrity and both the heirs are to equally enjoy half and half alike the whole estate with equanimity with my elder son P in such a way as not to injure his (P's) rights. At present my elder son P has no male issue of his body (He) has only a daughter. Therefore if my elder son P gets a male issue half of the estate is to be made over to him on his attaining his full age. Cl 11 after prohibiting any alienation of the property continued, my son P does not get to give as P's palak (or) All the

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—con d

20 ——— Bequest to brother's widow and on her death to her daughter.—Succession Interest—Absolute estate—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 111 Where in a will a legacy was given in the following words On my death my youngest brother's widow the said Bama Sundari Dehya and when she is dead her daughter my niece Kusum Kamini Debi will get one fourth share of all the self acquired immovable properties which I have other than my aforesaid immovable properties Held upon a construction of the will that the effect of the will was to give to Bama Sundari an interest for life in the self acquired properties of the testator with a gift over on her death of an absolute interest to her daughter Kusum Kamini The gift to Kusum Kamini was not a substitutional gift in the event of her mother Bama Sundari predeceasing the testator but it was one of successive interests and s 111 of the Indian Succession Act had no application to it HARENDRA CHANDRA LAHIRI v BASANTA KUMAR MOITRA (1918)

22 C W N 689

21 ——— Malek Mukhtyar for life.—Existence indicated in will of special oral direction—Terms of the trust not ascertained or ascertainable—Power executed in professed compliance with authority given—Parol evidence admissible to prove the trust as to prevent a fraud—Onus of proof—Undistributed share of the property of an intestate—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 193 A Parsi testator by his will made his wife Malek Mukhtyar as to all his property during her life just as the testator was the owner free from question by any of his other heirs representatives relatives and kinsmen with directions that she should protect the children as he had protected them according to their means declaring that if any of his children should not act according to her orders then during her life time the child should not have any claim to any of the testator's property Cl 7 of the will provided that agreeably to what was written above the wife was during her life time to carry on Yahivat (management) in respect of every kind of property and make expenses on auspicious and inauspicious occasions as the testator had been doing The clause further provided and in her life time keeping God and Mehar Davar (the Dispenser of Justice) before her mind my wife shall duly as I have directed her orally and according to the times (i.e. as circumstances demand) make her will and all my heirs and the heirs of my heirs shall duly and agreeably to the same Cls 8 and 10 of the will provided for interests contingent upon the testator's widow and executrix dying without making a will as mentioned in cl 7 The testator died in 1872 and thereafter his widow as executrix administered the estate until her death in 1906 By her will she purported to dispose of all property both her own and what she had received from her husband and appointed her surviving son her executor The latter died in 1915 leaving a will whereby he appointed his daughter the 1st defendant his executrix The plaintiff a daughter of the original testator's son (who predeceased his mother) filed the suit on the 18th of May 1916 praying inter alia that the estate of the testator might be administered by the Court and that it might be declared that the

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

testator's widow had no power to make a will disposing of any part of the testator's estate The 1st defendant contended that the will of the testator's widow was valid and that the plaintiff's claim was barred by limitation Held (i) that the testator's widow took only a life estate under the will (ii) that the words shall duly as I have directed her orally and according to the times (i.e. as circumstances demand) were not consistent with a general testamentary power but indicated the existence of special directions as to the objects in which a favour the power was to be exercised (iii) that there being no direct evidence as to the testator's directions the will made by the widow should not be given effect to and that on her death there was an intestacy as regards all the property of the testator (iv) that Art 123 of the Indian Limitation Act applying to every suit where the plaintiff seeks to recover an undistributed share in the estate of an intestate the suit was not barred by limitation Per SCOTT C J The Court will not try to compel the execution of a trust where the terms of the trust are not ascertained or ascertainable but where a power in the nature of a trust has been executed in professed compliance with the authority given the onus as it seems to me, of proving that the execution was a fraud on the power should lie on those who seek by challenging the execution to get possession of property in the hands of those benefiting by the act of the donee of the power Helley v Helley (1902) 2 Ch 866 referred to Mawng Tun Tha v Ma Thi L R 44 I A 40 followed SHRIDHAR v RATANBAI (1918) 1 L R 43 Bom 645

21 (a) ——— Equitable estoppel.—Oudh Estates Act—S by his will bequeathed his taluqdari estate to his great grand son J subject to a provision under which J was to select particular villages yielding net incomes of stated amounts and grant them in under proprietary right to S's three grandsons J made the selection and the grantees accepted Held this did not constitute a transfer within s 16 of the Oudh Estates Act and did not require registration and that in any case J had no equitable claim to recover the villages from the grantees after delivery of possession and receipt of rent by the grantor LAL JAGADI S BANADIR SINGH v MAHABIR PRASAD 24 C W N 529

22 ——— Trust for charitable purpose as—Gifts over to another charity.—Rule of remoteness—Vesting of the gifts over—Perpetuity rules against how far applicable—English Law—Res Judicata—Proceedings in prior suit—Issue reserved in decree—Heard and finally decided—Succession Act (X of 1865) ss 101 and 10—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909) s 11 By a will dated the 14th April 1884 and four codicils the testator provided inter alia that certain annuities be paid out of his residuary estate and after the death of the last surviving life tenant a charitable and religious bequest be created in favour of the Lower Circular Road Baptist Chapel subject to certain conditions contained in cl 7 of the 2nd codicil In the event of the said conditions being unfulfilled it was directed in the said codicil that there would be a gift over in favour of the Howrah and the Lall Bazar Baptist Churches The testator died on the 8th July 1909 and the last survivor of the

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

annuitants was still alive. In a previous suit Administrator General of Bengal v. Hughes, 1 L. R. 40 Cal. 192 for the construction of the said will and codicils and for other reliefs it was admitted that the Lower Circular Road Baptist Chapel had not complied with the said conditions and was not in a position to do so and the Court on the 10th July 1912 held that the gifts over to the Howrah and the Lall Bazar Baptist Churches were valid and that there was no intestacy but in the decree the determination of these questions was expressly reserved. The last surviving annuitant having died on the 10th April 1917 a fresh application for the further construction of the said will and codicils was made. On this application it was declared that the gifts over were valid that there was no intestacy and that the question could not again be raised. On appeal—Held that the question of the validity of the gifts over to the two Churches could not be said to have been finally decided within the meaning of s. 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure so as to prevent the Court considering the point raised in the subsequent suit in respect of s. 101 of the Succession Act and that the decree of 1912 did not finally decide all matters raised in the suit. Held also that the language of s. 101 was clear and unequivocal and applied to all bequests whether they were of a charitable nature or not. Held also that the bequests to the Howrah and Lall Bazar Churches would not vest in them until the Lower Circular Road Baptist Chapel had failed to perform the specified conditions that they were within s. 101 and that they were not valid on the ground that the vesting of the funds bequeathed to those Churches might be delayed beyond the lifetime of one or more persons living at the testator's decease. Held also that as regards the corpus and income of the residuary funds in question after the death of the last surviving annuitant there was an intestacy. J. H. JONES v. THE ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL (1918)

1 L. R. 46 Cal. 485

23 ——— Cutchi Memons—Mahomedan law—Document in the nature of instructions as to the disposition of property operating as a will under Mahomedan law—Probate—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s. 3 A widow of a Cutchi Memon applied for probate of a document in Gujarati as being the last will and testament of her deceased husband the document according to the official translation being in the following terms:—May it be known to Bhai Abdullahbai as follows:—In the will which you will get made to-morrow and give me be kind not to forget (to add) my Mukhatyari as long as I am alive and after me my wife s. Mul hatyari. Whatever costs may be incurred I will pay you. Written by your servant Mahomed Hassam Haji. On the other side of the document were the words Bhai Abdullahbai Mukhatyari in the document meant absolute ownership or full power. The document was unattested but was written by the deceased, and given to his brother in law Abdullahbai at a time when the deceased was lying on his death bed suffering from cancer of the tongue and unable to speak properly. The deceased died two days after the date of the document. Held (i) that the document in question was in the nature of instructions by the deceased to his legal advisers or to his relative as to the instruction to be given to the legal adviser as to the disposition of his property (ii) that under the Mahomedan law which governed the execution of wills of Cutchi Memons no attestation was necessary and the document operated as a valid will which might be admitted to probate. In re Aida Salar 7 Bom. L. R. 558 and Mahomed Allaf Ali Khan v. Ahmed Buih 25 B. P. 191 referred to SARABAI AMIRAT v. MAHOMED CASSIM (1918)

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

1 L. R. 43 Bom. 641

24 ——— In a Will the testator provided that after his death his daughter would be malik vested with the power to transfer by sale and gift the entire properties and would enjoy and hold possession of the same down to her son son's son and so on. The Will next provided that the daughter should live in the testator's ancestral dhita and perform the pujas inaugurated by him otherwise she would not be entitled to hold possession or transfer any portion of the property. The Will also provided that she would be entitled to transfer the property only if it was unavoidably necessary for the education of her son or if they fell into great calamity. In a suit for possession by the son of the daughter the Court of first instance held that the Will conferred an absolute estate on the Plaintiff's mother who having left a maiden daughter still living the Plaintiffs have no title to the property. On the appeal the Lower Appellate Court held that the questions raised should be decided after taking evidence and remanded the case for trial upon the merits. Held that the words in the earlier part of the Will without anything to qualify them would no doubt create an absolute estate and there was power of alienation expressly given. There is no doubt that if an estate conferred by a Will is held to be absolute the conditions as to the mode of its enjoyment are void. But considering all the terms of the Will it is clear that the provisions made in the earlier part of the Will are qualified by the provisions made in the other parts of it. Three things appear to have been uppermost in the mind of the testator that his daughter and her sons etc. should reside in his dhita that power of alienation should be given only for meeting the education expenses of her son or in case of great calamity and that she should hold subject to performance of pujas. She had not an absolute estate. SURENDRA NATH CHATTERJEE v. SAPOJBANDHU

25 C. W. N. 893

25 ——— Bequest of estate for life—no express disposal of corpus—Prohibition against alienation—Law of perpetuity—her born of the womb meaning of—Hindu Law—Contingent remainder after woman's estate effect of—Adverse estate whether Hindu can create by Will—Adverse possession under doubtful Will effect of—No necessary proof of by recitals in a conveyance A will recited that if a daughter or son was born to the testator during his life time such son or daughter will be the owner of all the testator's property but if there were no son or daughter his niece S was to take a bequest of a lakh of rupees and the rest of the movable and immovable property was to remain in the possession of his wife

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

until her death. After her death it was to remain in the possession of his niece. The remainder was disposed of in the following words— 'if on the death of my wife and my niece there be living a son and a daughter born of the womb of my said brother a daughter then two thirds of the movable property will belong to the son and one third to the daughter. But as regards the immovable property none shall have the least right of alienation. They will of course be entitled to enjoy the balance left after payment of rent etc.' Held (i) That the Will purported to convey an absolute estate ultimately to the son and daughter of the niece and the fact that the corpus was not expressly mentioned was not sufficient to justify the interpretation that the corpus did not pass. (ii) That the failure of the bequest of the remainder in favour of the niece's son and daughter on the ground that they were unborn at the testator's death did not make the Will itself invalid. (iii) That the disposition in favour of the niece's son and daughter was a bequest of the remainder to them and was not a mere description of an estate of inheritance in S. The words 'born of her womb' could not be interpreted to be a description of an estate of ordinary inheritance. (iv) That under the Will there was no interest vested in any person other than the widow in the first place and after her the niece. The Will therefore contemplated that the estate should be represented first by the testator's widow and thereafter by his niece. (v) That the estate taken by S was an estate such as a woman ordinarily acquires by inheritance under the Hindu Law which she holds in a completely representative character but is unable to alienate except in case of legal necessity. (vi) That by the provision against alienation the testator had in his mind the ordinary recognised restriction upon alienation which would apply independently of any provision in the Will and that he had not in his mind the eventuality of an alienation becoming necessary either for the purpose of providing maintenance for the niece or for the preservation of his estate. Where a mere contingent remainder is created after the woman's estate (as in this case) and not a vested remainder this is an indication that the estate created was a woman's estate in the technical sense and not merely a life estate. An estate of the kind that a Hindu widow inherits in the case of an intestacy can be created by a Will. Where such an estate has been created by Will a condition prohibiting alienation absolutely is void for repugnancy. Obiter dictum—A Hindu can by Will create an estate for life in the English sense but his intention to do so must be made clear by the terms of the Will itself without any importation of English ideas. It is doubtful whether where a person enters into possession of an estate under a Will of uncertain construction an absolute title can be quered by adverse possession in the absence of an express claim to hold an absolute estate. Where a conveyance had been executed twenty five years before the institution of the suit the title made at or about the time of the conveyance were accepted as proof of the existence of legal necessity. PAN BHANER v JAGAR NATH PRASAD 3 Pat L J 199

Gift to wife for life—Direction to wife to make will—As I have directed her

WILL—contd

CONSTRUCTION—contd

orally—General power of appointment. A Parsi by his will after giving to his wife a life interest in his property directed as follows: 'And in her life time keeping God and Meher Darer (the Dispenser of Justice) before her mind my wife shall duly as I have directed her orally and according to the time make her will and all my heirs shall duly act agreeably to the same'.—Held that the clause did not mean that the testator's wife should dispose of the estate according to oral directions given by the testator but according to her own discretion and accordingly that the wife had a valid general power of appointment. In re Helley (1902) 2 Ch 555 distinguished. SHIRIVAI v RATANAI (1921)

I L R 43 Bom 88

I L R 45 Bom 711

25 C W N 898

27—Construction—Accumulation provision for—Hindu Law. R in his will gave and devised the rent and residue of his property to B his widow and executrix for life thereafter to his five sons in equal shares with a direction to make certain payments and for accumulation of the surplus income during the life time of the widow for the benefit of the sons. Held that the provision for accumulation of the surplus income is not invalid. A direction to accumulate with a gift of the accumulation is not fundamentally bad. It fails only if it offends some independent rule of Hindu Law. Watkins v Administrator General of Bengal I L R 47 Cal 88 (footnote) followed. In re Poulitney Poulitney v Poulitney (1902) 2 Ch 541 referred to. Saunders v Vautier (1841) Cr & Ph 410 distinguished. RAM LAL SEN v BIDHUNATH DAS (1918)

I L R 47 Cal 76

28—Request to two brothers without specification of shares—Tenancy in common. Held that a devise of separate property made by a maternal grandfather in favour of two grandsons without specifying what share each was to take has the effect of creating a tenancy in common and not a joint tenancy. Mankamna Kunwar v Balkishan Das I L R 28 All 38 distinguished from Kishori Dubain v Munda Dubain I L R 30 All 665 followed. Jageswar Agrawal Dio v Pam Chandra Dutt I L R 35 Cal 670 and Gordhandas Soonderdas v Bai Ramcooter I L R 36 Bom 449 referred to. RAM PRASAD v KRISHNA PRASAD I L R 43 All 600

29—Absolute estate or life interest. A testator by cl 3 of his Will gave his share in an estate to his wife on account of her maintenance and other absolute use and provided that she was to be at liberty to enjoy the same with powers of alienation by sale etc. By cl 4 of the Will he gave his property in general terms to the infant sons of a brother. Held—That cl 3 gave an absolute interest in the property to the testator's wife. A VAKADA PILLAI v JEEVAPATHY MANAL 24 C W N 346

31—Described as such if necessarily so—Construction of document—Will or gift or a mere statement of an intention to adopt. On the question whether a document was a Will or a non testamentary disposition intended to operate de presents. Held—That it was not a Will. The only words contained in the document

WILL—*contd*DEBATTAR—contd

a direction for accumulation of surplus income and then continued with a provision that out of the income of such fund the sheban should have power to celebrate religious ceremonies the words such fund included the added accumulations and was not confined to the original debutter fund. The decisions which assign a particular meaning to any word in a Will only a sign that meaning in connection with the terms of the Will and that meaning is always capable of modification and alteration if it be seen that the limited meaning was not intended. Sembie—The word cash in cl. 1. of the Will might have a wider meaning than it ordinarily bears. Held on the construction of the Will that no portion of the estate of the testator was undisposed of there being valid residuary gifts in favour of specified persons. GAYENDRO NATH DAS : SURENDRA NATH DAS

24 C W N 1228

DEMONSTRATIVE LEGACY

*Succession Act (X of 1865) s 311-312—Demonstrative legacy—Interest whether payable on a demonstrative legacy—Where no time for payment fixed by will the time from which interest runs—Where a testator had bequeathed legacies to several grand children named in the will to be paid from the sale proceeds of certain house property after the death of a daughter and the marriage of a grand daughter and it was contested that inasmuch as there is no specific provision in the Succession Act for the payment of interest on demonstrative legacies no interest was payable. Held (a) that interest is payable upon demonstrative legacies and (b) that where there is no time for payment fixed although the amount is expressly made payable out of a particular fund the case is governed by the principle laid down in Lord v Lord L R 2 Ch App 8 and s 311 of the Succession Act applies. Held also that the rate of interest is 4 per cent per annum. Lord v Lord L R 2 Ch App 782. Chinnam Payamannar v Tadikonda Ramachandra Rao I L R 29 Mad 155. Mullins v Smith 1 Drew & Sm 64 and In re Walford Kenyon v Walford (1919) 1 Ch 219 referred to and followed. ADMINISTRATOR GENERAL OF BENGAL : A D CHRISTIANA (1910)*

I L R 43 Cal 201

EXECUTION

1.—*Execution of Will—Proof of capacity of testator to execute Will—Undue influence—Evidence of exercise of such influence—Absence of evidence of any coercion—Question of fact whether property was ancestral or acquired—Concurrent decisions on fact—In this case the question was as to the capacity of a testator to execute a will propounded by the appellants and it was alleged that they had exercised undue influence over him in the matter of the execution whilst he was admittedly very seriously ill though the evidence was to the effect that he was in possession of his senses and understood what he was doing when he signed the will. Held (reversing the decision of the Chief Court of the Punjab) that so far as the charge of exercising undue influence was concerned all that was shown by the respondents who were attacking the will was that there was motive and opportunity for the* exercise of such influence by the appellants and that some of them in fact benefited by the will to the exclusion of other relatives of equal or nearer degree. Circumstances of that character might suggest suspicion and would certainly lead the Court to scrutinise with special care the evidence of those propounding the will. But in order to set it aside there must be clear evidence that the undue influence was in fact exercised of that the illness of the testator so affected his mental faculties as to make them unequal to the task of disposing of his property. Such evidence was not only lacking in this case but in the opinion of their Lordships of the Judicial Committee the circumstances attending the making and execution of the will were not reasonably consistent with it. Held also that under the circumstances the evidence as to capacity was not displaced by mere proof of serious illness and of general intemperance and that the appellants had discharged the onus which lay on them of proving that the will was duly executed by the testator while in his proper senses. The question whether property was ancestral or not was held to be substantially one of fact and therefore subject to the usual practice of their Lordships not to interfere where two Courts had concurrently found it was not ancestral but self-acquired. BUN SINGH : UTTAM SINGH (1910)

WILL—*contd*EXECUTION—contd

I L R 35 Cal 355

2.—Signature proof of—Hand writing expert opinion of without examination in Courts is admissible—Will proof of—The propounder of a will should prove to the satisfaction of the Court beyond all possible doubt that the will was executed by the alleged testator and that it was executed in accordance with the law and that the testator at the time of execution was in a fit state of mind and body to execute the will and so fully appreciated what he was doing as to the disposition of the property. The opinion of a hand writing expert on a signature when he was not called as a witness and not subjected to cross examination was inadmissible in evidence. PADMA PRASAD DEBIA : DHARMA DAS DEB SARKA (1911)

15 C W N 728

3.—Execution of will—Proof of genuineness of will—Status of attesting witnesses—Will natural reasonable and proper in its terms—Presumption of will being genuine—Grounds of suspicion not valid—Admission of additional evidence by appellate court—Civil Procedure Code (1882) s 563—In the case of a will reasonable natural and proper in its terms it is not in accordance with sound rules of construction to apply to it those canons which demand a rigorous scrutiny of documents of which the opposite can be said namely that they are unnatural unreasonable or tinged with improbity. On the question whether a will made by a Hindu in which he left all his property moveable and immovable after the death of his widow to his sister's son (one of the appellants) to the entire exclusion of the respondent (a remote relation), was genuine as held by the Subordinate Judge or a forgery as held by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner there were concurrent findings of both courts that the testator had been for years in amity and on the worst of terms with the

WILL—*contd*EXECUTION—contd

respondent but had regarded the appellant with affection and treated him as his son. The will was found to have been duly executed and properly attested by respectable servants in the testator's house whom it was natural to employ for that purpose. Held that the will was in every respect a natural one and in accordance with the testator's feelings and tenor of life and the presumptions of law were in favour of its being maintained. A comment by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner which regarded the will with suspicion to the effect that the witnesses might have been of a better class, had no force except upon something on a much higher level than mere suspicion, namely proof which would thoroughly satisfy the mind of a Court that those persons had committed both forgery and perjury. Chotey Narain Singh v Ratan Aker I L R 22 Cal 519, L R 22 I A 13 per Lord Watson followed. Another ground of suspicion was that the paper on which the will was written appeared to be old instead of fresh which was supported by proof that paper was official paper in general use together with evidence that some other people had been in the habit of having forms which they signed in blank and forms were produced signed by people other than the testator and with none of which he had any thing to do. Held that such evidence was inadmissible as being not relevant to the case and should not have been admitted. Held further that the course followed by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner during the hearing of the appeal in sending for and (purporting to act under s 568 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882) admitting additional evidence (proceedings of the Municipal Board at Lucknow) to discredit one of the witnesses on a particular point without calling him and affording him an opportunity of making an explanation of the matter and on the ground that his evidence appeared untrue on that point disbelieving all the rest of his testimony as to the will was an improper procedure and not in accordance with s 568 of the Code. Their Lordships declined to conclude in the absence of his own evidence on the point that the rest of his testimony otherwise quite unimpeachable was perjury. JAGANNATH KUNWAR v DURGA PRASAD (1913) I L R 36 All 93

4 — Held that there is a presumption of due execution of a will where there is a proper attestation clause although no evidence of its due execution is forthcoming. WOOLMER v MRS DALI I L R 1 Lah 173

EXECUTOR

— Executor acting under
— Executor setting up adverse title—Estoppel An executor under a will who has accepted the office of executor and acted as such is estopped thereby from setting up an adverse title to property disposed of by the will. Srinivasa Moorthy v Venkata Varada Ayyangar I L R 29 Mad 239 followed. PER ARNOLD WHITE C J—The fact that an executor has not taken out probate (at any rate where the law does not require him to do so) is immaterial. PER WALLIS J—An executor is not at liberty to set up an adverse title to property which has come to his hands as executor any more than a trustee is entitled to set up an adverse title to property which he has taken possession of as trustee. The plaintiff's position was altered by his looking on and not opposing the first defendant in the steps taken by the latter to get possession of the assets. The fact that an executor has not taken out probate is immaterial. PER MILLER J (dissenting)—It is not clear in this case as it was in Srinivasa Moorthy v Venkata Varada Ayyangar I L R 29 Mad 239 that the executor was let into possession under the will nor in this case was the plaintiff induced to alter his position. The principles of estoppel do not therefore apply. MUNISAMI CHETTI v MARUTHAMMAL (1910) I L R 31 Mad 211

WILL—*contd*EXECUTOR—contd

— Executor—Powers of executor in dealing with the estate of his testator One P died leaving a will by which he directed that certain legacies should be paid out of a fund of Rs 10,000 invested in fixed deposit in the Delhi and London Bank. The Bank had during P's life time advanced certain sums to his daughter on an undertaking by P that he would stand surety for the loan. P was also himself indebted to the Bank. Held on suit by the legatees, that the executor of P's will was perfectly justified on being satisfied as to the fact of P's relations with the Bank above described in permitting the Bank to realize from the fund in question both the amount of the loan to P's daughter and the amount of his own indebtedness. Pocock v THE DELHI AND LONDON BANK LTD (1914) I L R 36 All 217

1 — Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 103 if applies to probate proceedings—Probate and Administration Act (P of 1881) s 83—Dismissal of application for probate for default—Executor if may propound Will again—Res Judicata—Detriment costs sufficient remedy against vexatious conduct A refusal to admit a will to probate is conclusive of the facts necessary will to support the decision. But if probate has been refused not on the merits but merely by reason of the insufficiency of some matter of form or procedure there is no adjudication that the instrument is not entitled to probate and therefore it may be again propounded. If therefore an application for probate by the executor of a will has been dismissed for default that fact itself cannot be set up in application by any other person claiming an interest under the will and therefore necessarily also, by the executor himself. An executor presenting an application for probate of a will cannot be regarded as a plaintiff who brings a suit in respect of a cause of action. S 103 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) would therefore be inapplicable to such an application. Ganesh Jagannath v Ram Chandra I L R 21 Bom 563 relied on. PANDHARI DESAI v BHIMJI BHANDAR MOOKERJEE (1910) 14 C W N 924

2 — Probate application for—Onus—Testamentary capacity what is—Probate granted by Trial Court reversed by Appellate Court—Appellate Court when should differ from Trial Court's estimate of evidence—Signature genuineness of proof of—Witnesses of competency opinion of value of—Witness important but expected to be hostile how to be examined Where there appeared a striking resemblance between the signatures on the will and certain admitted signatures of the alleged testator but not that absolute identity which in many instances may furnish indications of deliberate imitation by the careful forger the High Court agreed with the Trial Court on the evidence in finding that the signatures were genuine. Where from the evidence it appeared that the illness of the testator had caused serious anxiety to his relations at least three days before his death and that on the day of his death his condition was such as to necessitate the attendance of three physicians on five occasions and the will was alleged to have been executed about two hours before his death. Held that in the circumstances the Court was bound to scrutinize with care and caution the evidence as to his testamentary capacity at the time when he was said to have executed the will. That the burden was upon the propounders of the will to show that the testator had testamentary capacity i.e. capacity to comprehend the nature and effect of his act to discharge this burden it was not enough to show that the testator was conscious when he executed the will or that he was able to maintain an ordinary conversation and to answer familiar and easy questions. It must be shown that he was able to dispose of his property with understanding and reason that he was able to realize his position to appreciate his property and to form a judgment with respect to the parties whom he decided to benefit. The opinion of witnesses as to competency is entitled to little regard unless supported by good reasons founded on facts which warrant them. Where the propounders of a will had reason to suppose that an important witness could not be trusted to tell the truth they might have asked the Court to summon him with liberty to both parties to cross-examine him if necessary. A Court will not reject a will merely because its terms appear extraordinary against clear evidence of due execution by a competent testator. But where the terms are unusual and the evidence of testamentary capacity doubtful the vigilance of the Court will be roused and before pronouncing for the will the Court will require to be satisfied beyond all reasonable doubt that the testator was fully cognizant of its contents and in a position to exercise and did exercise, thoughtful judgment and reflection respecting the act he was doing. Bulla Kumar v Bhagwati 2 C B A 649 Sefson v Hopwood 1 F F 579 Marish v Tyrrell Hogg Ecc Rep 84 1st Dufaur v Croft 3 Moo P C 136 and Harwood v Paker 3 Moo P C 28 referred to. The principle that a Court of Appeal should be extremely slow to disagree with the primary Court on a question of appreciation of oral evidence embodies a general rule but is not of universal application. Where the Trial Court had found in favour of the will but its decision was vitiated by its failure to test the evidence from the standpoint of the fundamental principle that the testator must be of sound and discerning mind and memory so as to be capable of making a disposition of his property with sense and judgment in reference to the situation and amount of such property and to the relative claims of different persons who were or might be the objects of his bounty the High Court on appeal reversed that decision not so much because it formed a different estimate of the credibility of the witnesses for the propounders but because it differed in its estimate of the effect of their statements on the assumption that they had spoken the truth. This evidence in the opinion of the High Court was insufficient to discharge the onus that rested on the applicants for probate. The nature of this onus discussed. Baker v Pitt 2 Moo P C 317 and Panton v Williams 2 Curt 330 21 Notes of Cases Sup 21 referred to. Susil Kumar Banerjee v Arsari Devi (1914)

WILL—contd

EXECUTOR—contd

WILL—contd

EXECUTOR—contd

18 C W M 826

3 ————— Probate—Issue of citation object of—Citation of infant effect of—Citation to infant and his mother a minor—No opposition to grant of probate—Competency of infant for revoking probate—Testator testamentary capacity of—Onus of proof upon the executor—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) Where one J died in 1901 leaving a widow S aged 14 years and a son D aged 3 months and it was alleged that J executed a will on the day previous to his death by which his three brothers G B and M were appointed successive executors and on G's application for probate of the will citations were issued on B and M as also upon S and D and there was no opposition and probate was granted to G in 1902 and in 1911 D still an infant applied through his mother S for the revocation of the probate on the ground that the alleged will had not been executed by his father J and the District Judge without formally revoking the probate called upon the executor to prove the will in the presence of the objector and held upon the evidence that the original grant should not be revoked. Held that service of notice upon the infant D and his mother S a minor was no proper service upon them and was useless for the protection of the interest of the infant and as such D was competent to apply for revocation of probate through his mother. The object of the issue of the citation is that all persons whose interests are or may be adversely affected by the decree of the Probate Court shall have notice of the proceedings and an opportunity should they choose to avail themselves of it of intervening for the protection of their interests. Held that this purpose was not achieved merely by issue of citations to infants and that in the circumstances of the present case the appointment of an officer of the Court as guardian of the infant would not have afforded him any protection. Rebells v Rebells 2 C W V 100 Shorohibala v Ananda moeye 2 C W V 6 and Mortimer on Probate p 530 referred to. A party who is cognizant of the proceedings and might have intervened is bound by their result and cannot be allowed to reopen them. Konol Lorkan Datta v Viltruttan Mandle 1 L R 4 Cak 360 Brinda Choudhuran v Radhika Choudhuran 1 L R 11 Cal 49 Vistaram Datta v Ibrahimom 1 L R 18 Cal 45 In the goods of Luggubully Dax 1 L R 77 Cal 2nd Durgagati Debti v Sourabini Debti 10 C W V 990 etc 1 L R 100 Cal 1001 Verhelst v Weeks 2 Phill 1 Ratcliff v Barnes 9 St & Tr 456 McJereley v Andrews 1 P 2 I D 3 and Bell v Armstrong 1 Id. 3rd referred to. Held that this rule of law did not apply to the circumstances of the present case. Even in cases where a party has upon notice failed to appear and contest the proceedings the Court may for sufficient reason, allow the proceedings to be reopened. Young v Halpenny (1895) P 57,

WILL—contd

EXECUTOR—contd

Peters v Tilly 11 P D 140 and Ridchie v Malcolm (1902) 21 R 403 referred to Held also that the District Judge ought to have revoked the grant in the first instance and then called upon the executor to prove the will Brindaban v Sureswar 10 C L J 263 and Durganati v Sourabini 10 C W N 995 s c I L R 33 Cal 1001 relied on Held further on the evidence that the testator had no testamentary capacity at the time when he was alleged to have executed the will The High Court in this view revoked the grant on the probate. Held also that the onus was upon the executor to establish that the deceased had sound and disposing mind at the time when he was said to have executed the will Haring v Haring 6 Moo P C 325 referred to DWIJENDRA NATH SARMA PURKAYASTHA : GOLOKE NAT SARMA PURKAYASTHA (1914) 19 D W N 747

4 ——— Grandfather's daughter's son : on if has locus standi to contest grant when propounder a stranger to family—Dayabhaga law of inheritance—Sakulyas and Samanodakas who are—Mitakshara principles of application to cases not provided for by Dayabhaga—Order that caveator has no locus standi if appealable—Civil Procedure Code (Act 5 of 1908) s 115 An application for the probate of a Will was opposed by the daughter's son's son of the grandfather of the testator while the propounder was a perfect stranger to the family The District Judge held that the caveators had no locus standi. Held—That the order of the District Judge was not appealable but could be revised by the High Court under s 115 C P C That in the circumstances the caveators had some interest in appealing and opposing the application for probate and it should be disposed of in their presence Quare —Whether grandfather's daughter's son's son is an heir under the Hindu law RADHIA RAVAN CHOWDHURY : GOPAL CHANDRA CHUCKERBUTTY 24 C W N 316

5 ——— Legatee long in possession in terms of will Where a will has been propounded and proved the Probate Court should grant probate even though it should appear that there were no debts due to or by the testator and other legatees have been in possession in accordance with the direction of the will for a long time it being absolutely necessary for the legatees to establish their title by proving the will The Probate Court cannot go into the question whether the legatees have acquired independent title by adverse possession ADWAIT CHARAN MONDAL v KRISHNADHAR SIKHAN 21 C W N 1129

PROOF

1 ——— Will of which probate has not been taken whether can be proved—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 187—Proper representation of testator's estate where no probate taken Sarbanmogola Devi v Mahendro Nath Nath I L R 4 Cal 509 is authority for holding that a will of which probate has not been taken may be proved in a proceeding other than a proceeding under the Probate Act But a will uncovered by a probate or letters of administration cannot prove that anybody named therein has title to the estate of the testator A legal heir of a testator in possession of his general estate can maintain a suit for the benefit of the estate so long as any other claimant

WILL—contd

PROOF—contd

does not establish his right to the same under the will Prosunno Chandra Bhattacharya v Kriha Chaitanya Pal I L R 4 Cal 347 Choony Lal Bho v Osmond Bibee I L R 30 Cal 1044 referred to BASUNTA KUMAR CHUCKERBUTTY v GOPAL CHANDER DAS (1914) 18 C W N 1196

2 ——— Proof of execution and due attestation—Attesting witnesses turned hostile—Court may find execution proved from other evidence—Proof that testator saw all attesting witnesses sign and latter saw testator sign if necessary where will regular on its face—Presumption of due execution The mere fact that attesting witnesses to a will have repudiated their signature does not invalidate the will if it can be proved by evidence of a reliable character that they have given false testimony When the evidence of the attesting witnesses is vague doubtful or even conflicting upon some material point the Court may take into consideration the circumstances of the case and judge from them collectively whether the requirements of the Statute were complied with in other words the Court may on consideration of the other evidence or of the whole circumstances of the case come to the conclusion that their recollection is at fault that their evidence is of a suspicious character or that there are willfully misleading the Court and accordingly disregard their testimony and pronounce in favour of the will It is no necessary under the law that affirmative evidence should be forthcoming that the testator did as a matter of fact see the attesting witnesses put their signatures or that the attesting witnesses did actually see the testator sign the document It is enough if the circumstances show that their relative position was such that they might have seen the execution and the attestation respectively Every presumption will be made in the case of a will execution and attestation in the case of a will regular on the face of it and apparently duly executed BRAHMADAT TEWARI : CHATDAY BIBI (1914) 20 C W N 192

3 ——— Proof—Execution in unusual circumstances—Will not inofficious—Witnesses such as were reasonably to be expected to be available in the circumstances not to be believed merely because their position socially inferior—Beneficiary under will recited as being testator's adopted son—Caveator if may question adoption—Judge if may refuse to frame an issue as to adoption whilst admitting evidence thereon—Prevalency on the question of genuineness of will—Vote of evidence to be given by witness refusal to produce if should prejudice party—Privilege K a Hindu gentleman went means and resident of a place called Sarwan and accompanied by his two wives and some of his servants and dependants to attend the bathing fair at Sonapur on 10th November 1900 Cholera having broken out at the fair it was broken up by Government order but K who had been suffering from dysentery and had been made nervous about the state of his health by the outbreak of cholera (it was alleged) executed the disputed will on 11th November 1900 and died at 3 a m of 16th November 1900 The will was proved by such of the attesting witnesses as were available and other witnesses The genuineness of the will was challenged inter alia on the ground that the witnesses to the execution were not of a superior position The will however appeared to be one which a Hindu gentleman in K's position might reasonably and naturally have made and the attesting witness was such as one would reasonably expect to be available on the occasion. Held that there being nothing in the case to suggest that the evidence as to the preparation and as to the execution of the will had committed perjury the contention that the will should not be accepted as genuine because the witnesses to its execution were not of a superior position was not sound and was contrary to the view of the law as expressed in Chetty v. Ramalinga Pillai (1916) 1 L. J. 411 A. 50. C is 15 C. 151 A. something more than mere suspicion is necessary in such a case to make convincing an argument based on the social position of the witnesses. One of the beneficiaries and the will was C a boy to Hindu rites by K as his son. The executor questioned the factum of the adoption. Held that the trial Judge was right upon an application for probate in declining to frame an issue as to the alleged adoption though the matter had to be considered as bearing on the question of the genuineness of the will and the executors were not precluded from questioning the adoption and were rightly allowed to cross examine the propounder and witnesses on that subject and to call evidence to prove that C was not adopted. For the purpose of the propounder a brief note had been obtained from a witness (subsequently examined at the trial) of the evidence that he could give. Held that the notes was privileged from production and the executors should not have allowed their minds to be influenced in considering the evidence by the fact that the note was not produced in Court for the information of the court. (20 C. W. N. 617) HAIRYANDAN SIVON (1916)

PROOF—contd

Proof of genuineness

4. Clear and trustworthy evidence of attesting witnesses is to be rejected because appearance of document is suspicious. Court if in such a case may speculate as to what would have been a proper will for the testator. Proof of the genuineness of a will depends mainly on the testimony of a will deponent who attested on the last page of the will the signature of the deceased and who deposed that at the time the will was executed the deceased was perfectly capable of understanding a business transaction. The will on examination showed that the writing on the last page was inconveniently crowded above the signature of the testator and was so placed as to lend colour to the suggestion that the page had been filled up after the signature had been attached. Upon this the Trial Judge built the theory that the will had been written in black ink over erasures of the test or previous signatures and which the Judicial Committee did believe. Held that the doctor's evidence (which) completely destroyed this theory and in favour of the genuineness of the will. That it would be most unsafe and most undesirable in circumstances such as these to try to pull out from the peculiar form in which a document is written in the vernacular appears a hypothetical answer to the clear distinct and trustworthy evidence.

PROOF—contd

denre of the doctor who witnessed the will. Where a will has once been made and is apparently in perfect form and the evidence of the attesting witness is to be trusted few things can be more dangerous than to attempt to re-create the kind of will that the man ought in the opinion of the Court to have made. Once the man's mind is free and clear and is capable of disposing of his property the way in which it is to be disposed of rests with him and it is not for any Court to try and discover whether a will could not have been made more consonant either with reason or with justice. ANDRACAPILLAY CHITTY v. RAMASWAMI CHETTI (1916) 20 C. W. N. 673

5. Proof of—Onus—serious illness and general interperance not a sufficient rebut prima facie case made out by evidence—Undue influence is not to be proved by evidence—Opportunity to use such influence and benefits derived not enough for rebuttal. The onus of proving testamentary capacity is on those who propound a Will. In this case they had discharged that evidence by obligation by evidence which went to establish a strong prima facie case in favour of the Will. Proof of serious illness and of general interperance was not enough to displace this evidence. It was shown on the part of those attacking the Will that there was motive and opportunity for the exercise of undue influence by the defendants and that some of them benefited by the Will to the exclusion of other relatives of equal or nearer degree. Circumstances of this character may sometimes suggest suspicion and in the present case would lead the Court to scrutinize with special care the evidence of those who propounded the Will. But in order to set aside there should have been clear evidence that the undue influence was in fact exercised or that the illness of the testator so affected his mental faculties as to make them unequal to the task of disposing of his properties. Held that in this case such evidence was not only lacking but the circumstances attending the making and execution of the Will were not reasonably consistent with it. BUR SIVON v. UTTAM SIVON 15 C. W. N. 177

6. Suspicion also a valid ground for refusing probate—Presumption against misconduct operation of Evidence Act (2 of 1877) as s. 45, 101, 135—Order in which will is to be tendered dissection of Court's power—Expert medical examination of handwriting—Expert medical examination of handwriting and signature—Right of opposing counsel to inspect will if a party alleges a circumstance in itself ought to call for suspicion of the Court and calls upon it to pronounce in favour of which it could not do so unless the suspicion is removed and it is judicially satisfied that the paper propounded does express the true will of the deceased. Curry v. Pullen—Moo P. C. 459 referred to and the rule in Threl v. Panton (1824) 1 D. 152 explained. Per JETTER C. J. The evidence which by itself would be grounds for the Court not pronouncing in favour of an alleged will was the

WILL—contd

PROOF—concl'd

inherent in the nature of the transaction it self and not the doubt that may arise from a conflict of testimony which becomes apparent on an investigation of the transaction Per WOODROFFE J the rule in Tyrell v Pantton (1891) P D 151 applies to cases where the circumstances of suspicion arise from the nature of the case as put forward by the propounder in which case the propounder must remove the suspicion. Where, however the alleged suspicion against a will arises from facts which form part of the impugnant case then the Court must see whether the facts which are said to give rise to suspicion are proved or whether the propounder's case is proved. The rule therefore does not apply where the question is simply which set of witnesses should be believed. In this case the trial Judge having decided against the genuineness of the will on the ground that the evidence of the witnesses whom the propounder had called to support her case was not so unimpeachable so absolutely trustworthy in itself as by its own merit to dispose of all objections and to allay all doubt and suspicion Held per JEVENS C J that the standard of proof required by the Judge was higher than the law (as contained in s 3 of the Indian Evidence Act) prescribes Per WOODROFFE J—A probate case is not singular as regards the application of the general principles of proof as contained in ss 3 and 101 of the Indian Evidence Act. Per JEVENS C J—The Evidence Act by which in matters of proof the Courts in this country must be guided has in conformity with the general tendency of the day adopted the requirements of the prudent man as an appropriate concrete standard by which to measure proof. The Evidence Act is at the same time expressed in terms which allow full effect to be given to circumstances or conditions of probability or improbability so that where as in this case forgery comes in question in a civil suit the presumption against misconduct is not without its due weight as a circumstance of improbability though the standard of proof to the exclusion of all reasonable doubt required in a criminal case may not be applicable. Cooper v Slade 6 H L Cas 746 and Deo d Devine v Wilson 10 Moo P C 502 531 referred to. This probability gains in strength where the character and position of the individual impugned is apart from the particular case above reproach. In the goods of GORES SIVA DUTT v BISSISSARA DUTT (1911)

16 C W N 265

7 A holograph Will executed in India by a person of Scotch domicile is a valid testamentary document. On such document being propounded the Court declined to admit in evidence a treatise on Scotch Law but accepted the opinion of a writer to the agent attested before a notary In re the goods of Mac Intyre I L R 41 All 248

8 Will proof of—Succession Act (X of 1865) s 60—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 68—Examination of one attesting witness in Probate Court is sufficient to prove will Under s 60 of the Indian Succession Act there must be two attesting witnesses to a will but under s 68 of the Evidence Act the will can be proved in the Court of Probate by one of the attesting witnesses. RAMMOH DAS KOCH v HAKOL KOLI KOCHIRI (1917)

22 C W N 315

WILL—contd

REVOCATION

1 Will in s 19 of the Probate and Administration Act is means original document—Existence of will up to testator's death if necessary to be proved—Revocation pleading and proof of—Presumption of destruction of will when arises—Loss of will if operates as revocation—Destruction of will when operates as revocation—S 24— Since the testator's death scope and effect of—Delay in applying for Letters of Administration with will annexed. Where the testator did not appoint an executor and the residuary legates applied for letters of administration with the will annexed 12 years after the death of the testator and the objector did not plead revocation but set up non execution of the will. Held that the execution of the will in the manner required by law having been proved it lay upon the objector to plead and prove revocation and no such plea having been taken it could not be held that the will was revoked. Per PAY J That the application for letters of administration was not liable to dismissal on the ground that the petitioner did not prove that the will was in existence up to the time of the testator's death. That in s 19 of the Probate and Administration Act the word will does not mean the original document but has been obviously used to mean the disposition. When a will is shown to have been in the custody of the testator and is not found at his death the well known presumption arises that the will has been destroyed by the testator for the purpose of revoking it. This rule of law bears only on revocation when it is an issue in the suit and then the presumption may be rebutted by the facts. The loss of a will does not operate as revocation to establish which destruction of the will by the testator must be shown. In s 24 of the Probate and Administration Act the words since the testator's death qualify the word lost or to the such no reference to the word lost. The delay in proceeding clause of the sentence. The delay in making the application under s 19 was not a material fact in this case. SARAT CHANDRA BASAK v GOLAP SUNDARI DASTA (1913)

18 C W N 527

2 Revocation—Will lost—Presumption that it has been revoked how to be applied in India—Finding that will was revoked based on presumption upon in second appeal—Proof of will by copy taken from Registrar's office without objection in the first Court—Objection on appeal that conditions for admission of secondary evidence not fulfilled if admissible. In view of the habits and conditions of the people of India the rule laid down in Welch v Phillips 1 Moo P C 299 that when a will is traced to the possession of the deceased and is not forthcoming at his death the presumption is that he has discharged it must be applied with considerable caution. Where in such circumstances the first Appellate Court held that the will had been revoked or cancelled but on second appeal the Chief Court held that there was no sufficient evidence of revocation and that the more reasonable presumption was that the will was mislaid or lost or else stolen by one of the defendants after the death of the deceased. Held that it was perfectly within the competency of the Chief Court to come to that finding. There was nothing definite to show that deceased who was a very old man and towards the end of his life imbecile had any motive to destroy the will or was mentally competent to do so whilst on the other hand there were circumstances which favoured the view that the will was either mislaid or stolen. Held also that the first Appellate Court should not have treated a copy of the will taken from the Registrar's office which was filed and admitted in evidence in the first Court without objection as inadmissible on the ground that no sufficient foundation was laid for the admission in the first Court of secondary evidence—as if such objection had been taken in the first Court that Court would probably have seen that the deficiency was supplied. PADMAN : HANWANTA (1912) 19 C W N 929

WILL—contd

PEVOCAATION—contd

Will revocation of —Locus standi of persons seeking revocation. A person who is entitled to a much greater benefit under a will alleged to have been revoked by another will has locus standi as having sufficient interest to oppose grant of probate and to apply for revocation of the probate of the later will on the ground of non service of citation. It is not necessary to obtain probate of the earlier will in order to be competent to apply for revocation of the probate of the later will. DRAUPADI DASSYA v RAJESWARI DASSYA (1917) 22 C W N 564

Mutual and joint wills.—Power of survivor of joint will to revoke.—Survivor can revoke unless he derives some benefit under the will. Where two persons agree to make mutual wills and one of them dies the survivor can revoke his will unless he has taken some benefit under the will of the deceased testator. Stone v Huskins (1905) P 194 referred to. MURKENT ALMAL v VISWANATHA AIYAR (1909) I L R 33 Mad 406

Will in testator's possession—Will not forthcoming on testator's death.—Presumption of revocation. When a person who is known to have executed a will and to have had that will in his possession dies and the will is not found after his death a presumption arises that he has revoked the will during his life time. Allan v Morrison (1900) A O 604 relied on. Anwar Hossein v Secretary of State for India (1904) 31 Cal 885 disapproved. ADITHAN v BAPULAL (1920) 45 Bom 906

VALIDITY

rules for dissolution of a trust to constitute a will—

See WILL (CONSTRUCTION)

15 C W N 1014

what is sufficient for in the case of cutchi memons—

See WILL (CONSTRUCTION)

I L R 43 Bom 641

Test—Signature on one page out of several pages of a Will. If an instrument is on the face of it a testamentary character the mere circumstance that the testator calls it irrevocable does not alter its quality the principle test as to whether the instrument is a will is whether the disposition made takes effect during the life time of the executor of the deed or whether it takes effect after his death. Rammoni v Ramgopal 12 C W N 949 relied on. Sita Koor v Deonath 8 C W N 611 Chaitanya v Dayal 9 C W N 1021 distinguished. One signature made with the intention of authenticating the whole instrument is sufficient though a will be contained in several sheets of paper. SAGORE CHANDRA MOY DOL : DIOAMBAR MOYDOL (1909) 14 C W N 174

WILL—contd

VALIDITY—contd

2—Caveat—Caveators withdrawing on proposers agreeing to pay an allowance—Personal liability of executors—Settlement of bond fide dispute—Enforcement of agreement if opposed to public policy—Registration. Where on the executors proposing a will the widows of the deceased entered caveat but before the case came on for hearing the parties settled their differences and the caveators withdrew their objections on the executors undertaking inter alia to pay them a fixed monthly allowance for performing religious acts although the will purported to provide for grants of money for purposes only out of the surplus income. Held affirming Do s J that the agreement having been entered into an order to settle a bond fide dispute was enforceable and as the liability which the executors undertook appeared to be a personal one the fact that the agreement was not registered or that the terms went beyond those of the will were no bar to its enforcement. SURJA PRASAD SIKUL : SHYAMA SUNDARI DEBI (1909) 14 C W N 987

3—Minor—Capacity to make will—Indian Majority Act (IX of 1875) s 3—Hindu Law. A Hindu minor who has not attained majority as provided in the Indian Majority Act, 1875 is not competent to make a will of his or her property. BAI GULAB : THAKORLAL (1912) I L R 36 Bom 622

4—Civil Courts jurisdiction to declare Mohamedan Will of which probate has been granted invalid—As opposed to Mohamedan law—Revocation of probate if may be made on such a ground—Decree for in such suit. The grant of probate of the will of a deceased Mohamedan does not preclude the Civil Court from making a declaration that one or more provisions of the will are inoperative as being opposed to the provisions of Mohamedan law. The Probate Court would have no jurisdiction to revoke the probate on such a ground and it is not one of the just causes set out in s 50 of the Probate and Administration Act. It is for the Probate Court to determine whether the will has been duly executed and it is for the Civil Courts to determine what effect is to be given to the will after probate has been granted. PATEL MIA : DABIDA KHATOON (1918) 23 C W N 658

5—Direction to pay fixed deposit to another after death of depositor—Whether a will. A person depositing money with a fund filled in a form provided by the fund whereby he nominated another as the person entitled to receive the money after his death. Held that this amounted to a will and if made in the town of Madras the nominee could not recover the deposit unless the nomination was duly executed and attested as a will and probate thereof obtained. PER KARNAN J—The direction created neither a charge nor a trust in favour of the

WILL—contd

VALIDITY—contd

nominee or a contract on which he could sue Towers v Hogan (1889) 23 I R Ir 53 and In re Williams (1911) 1 Ch 1 followed Florino Marlies v Pinto (1917) 33 M L J 476 distinguished NANA TAWER & BHAWANI BOYEE (1920) I L R 43 Mad 728

6 ———— Testator of sound mind when giving instructions for a will—presumption that he was when executing it—Testator must be of sound disposing mind—testator suffering from para-lysis—Medical certificate of soundness of mind 26 days after execution of will—whether admissible and relevant—Indian Evidence Act I of 1872 s 32 (2)—letters by testator speaking of his relations with his wife the sole legatee—whether admissible Held that there is a presumption of due execution of a will where there is a proper attestation clause although no evidence of its due execution is forthcoming Brahmadat Tewari v Chaudan Bibi (34 Indian Cases 686) and Halsbury's Laws of England Volume XXVIII page 505 Jarman on Wills 6th Edition page 100 and Abdur Rahim's Law of Undue Influence Chapter XXI on Wills referred to Held also that where a testator is of sound mind when he gives instructions for a will he must be deemed to be of sound mind when it is executed even though he is not able to follow its provisions then Susil Kumar Banerjee v Apsara Devi (7 Indian Cases 276 281) dictum of Lord Macnaghten in Perera v Perera quoted herein referred to Held further that a medical certificate of testator's soundness of mind made 26 days after the execution of the will is admissible in evidence under section 32 (2) of the Evidence Act and is relevant but that letters by the testator speaking of his relations with his wife in whose favour he subsequently made the will are not admissible Held lastly that a testator suffering with paralysis even if it has affected his mental capacity to some extent may still be able to execute a will of a simple character Sayid Ali v Ibad Ali (I L R 23 Cal 1 P C) Sayad Muhammad v Fateh Muhammad (I L R 22 Cal 324 334 P C) and Bur Singh v Utam Singh (21 P R 1911 P O) referred to also Halsbury's Laws of England Volume XXVIII page 532 Tayam mai v Sashu Challa Dairker (10 Moo I A 429) Larkho Bibi v Gopi Varan (I L R 23 All 472) Woomesh Chandra v Rash Mohini Dassi (I L R 21 Cal 278) Pandit Indar Daram v Pandit Onkar Lal (20 P R 1911) Musst Kewati v Chandu Lal (123 P R 1916) and Raj Bachan Singh v Shitranji (47 Indian Cases 963) distinguished Woolver v Mrs Daly I L R 1 Lah 173

7 ———— Execution of—Proof—Story of preparation of draft suspicious if ground for refusing probate when evidence of execution believed—Witnesses present but not examined by Court from recapture of work and not examined later on through no fault of propounder It is not safe to assume that a case must be a false case if some of the evidence in support of it appears to be doubtful or is clearly untrue There is on some occasions a tendency amongst litigants in India as else where to back up a good case by false or exaggerated evidence In this case the Judicial Committee held that the suspicion which attached to the evidence as to the preparation of the draft of the Will sought to be probated is that it had not been prepared beforehand but had been made from the Will itself did not destroy the evidence as to the execution of the Will The Judicial Committee did not consider the non examination of all the attesting witnesses as destructive of the case of the propounder of the Will most of them having been present to give their evidence on one or more of the dates fixed for the recording of evidence but were not examined owing to pressure of work in the Court none appearing to be persons living near the Court and there being nothing to suggest that any of them were intentionally kept out of the witness box by the propounder BANKIM BIHARI MAITI v SRIMATI MATANGINI DAS 24 C W N 628

WILL—contd

VALIDITY—contd

8 ———— Depriving heirs proof of—Onus—In a suit by legal heirs of a deceased Hindu for a declaration that a Will propounded by the Defendants as the Will of the deceased was a forgery the onus lay on the Defendants to prove without reasonable doubt that it was the Will of the deceased Held on the evidence that the Will in this case had not been satisfactorily proved BINDESHRI PRASAD v MUSSAMMAT BAIKARNA BIBI 24 C W N 874

9 ———— standard of proof requisite—Examination of attesting witnesses—Testamentary capacity appellate courts duty in respect of findings of fact Held upon the terms of the Will in question they were not inoffensive and unnatural and therefore were not calculated to excite suspicion as to the genuineness of the disposition It is not enough to suggest doubts as to the veracity of a witness The standard of proof to establish a will required by the Indian Statutes is that of a prudent man and not an absolute and conclusive one Also that it was a salutary rule that the findings of fact of the trial judge should not be lightly disturbed When the issue is simple but it is otherwise where the question depends not only on assertions of witnesses but upon surrounding facts and circumstances PRASANAMAYI DEBYA v BAIKANTHA NATH CHATTOPADYAY 25 C W N 719

10 ———— Hindu testator—Creation of estates unknown to Hindu law—Invalidity of bequests—Indian Succession Act (X of 1885) s 118 A Hindu made his will whereby he bequeathed his property successively to the three sons of his sister in the following manner In the first place it was to go to one of the sons absolutely subject to the condition that if he died without male issue surviving it was to go to the second The second son was also given an absolute estate similarly liable however to be defeated if he in his turn died without leaving male issue in which event the property was to go to the third son subject to a similar condition Ultimately the property was devised in favour of charity The first two sons having died without male issue surviving the third son sued for construction of the will and for a declaration of his right to the property in the events that had happened—Held that although the testator might have defeated the absolute estates which he gave to the first son by a gift over to the second son in accordance with the provisions of s 118 of the Indian Succession Act he could not attach a condition to the gift over and thus further restrict the disposition of the estate in a manner unknown to Hindu law

WILL—*contd*VALIDITY—contd

by directing that the second son was not to take an absolute estate but what would be in the language of the English law of real property an estate in tail male. Held further that the estates which were intended to be created by the testator being thus in fact a succession of estates in tail male the original gift over was bad in its creation and failed absolutely and the first son took an absolute estate which on his death would go to his daughter as his heiress. A Hindu may create a life estate or successive life estates. But a series of absolute estates defeasible in succession on the happening of an uncertain event cannot be considered as a succession of life estates. It can only be considered as an attempt to create a state of inheritance which is not recognised by Hindu law. BAT DHANLAXMI v. HARIPRASAD UTTARAI (1920) 1 L R 45 Bom 1038

11 — Execution—Probate—Testamentary capacity—Onus probandi—Attesting witnesses—Hostile animus—Discrediting testimony of adverse witness—Evidence on commission—Duty of commissioner—Effect of improper cross examination not remediable in the Trial Court—Unattested alterations in a will—Presumption of Law—Duty of Trial Court in respect of intervention with questions during examination and cross examination of witnesses—Counsel's duty not to anticipate opinion of Judge—Evidence Act (I of 187) ss 153 and 154 The onus probandi lies in every case upon the party propounding a will and he must satisfy the convenience of the Court that the instrument so propounded is the last will of a free and capable testator. Barry v. Butlin 2 Moo P C 480 referred to. The burden of proof cast upon the propounder is in general discharged by proof of capacity and the fact of execution and when these have been proved the Court will under ordinary circumstances assume from them the knowledge of and assent to the contents of the instrument by the deceased and without requiring further evidence will pronounce for the will. Mere ability to sign one's name does not necessarily imply the possession of the full mental powers requisite for a valid disposition of the property. Nor is it sufficient to show that the testator was conscious when he executed the instrument. It is sufficient that there is enough mental power left to enable the testator clearly to discern and discreetly to judge of all the things which enter into the nature of a rational fair and just testament. Earl of Sefton v. Haywood 1 F & F 378. Marsh v. Tyrrell Hag 84. Burdett v. Thompson L 1 3 P & D 70. Boughton v. Knight L R 3 P & D 64. Harwood v. Baler 3 300 P C 8. Hoomesh Chander Biswas v. Pashmohins Doss 1 L P 21 Cal 99. Rash Mohini Doss v. Umesh Chander Biswas 1 L R 95 Cal 84. Susil Kumar Banerjee v. Appeals Debts 90 C L J 501 19 C W 56. Marquis of Winchester's Case 3 Coke 3. Combe's Case Meo A B 739. Banks v. Goodfellow L P 50 B 567 and Ayre v. Hill 2 Add 96 referred to. S 154 of the Evidence Act provides that the Court may in its discretion permit the person who calls a witness to put any questions to him which might be put in cross examination by the adverse party. There is in this respect no distinction in principle between an attesting witness whom a party is obliged to call and any other witness whom he may cite of his own choice; but the Court may in the exercise of its discretion be more easily persuaded in the former case than in the latter case. Bowman v. Bowman 2 Mood & Rob 501. Jackson v. Thompson 1 B & S 745. Coles v. Coles L R 1 P & M 71. Gill v. Gill (1909) P 157. Jones v. Jones 24 T L R 839. Price v. Manning 42 Ch D 372 and Phillips v. Davis Times 13th December 1907 referred to. Two points must be borne in mind first that a witness is considered adverse where in the opinion of the Judge he bears a hostile animus to the party calling him and not merely when his testimony contradicts his proof and secondly when a witness is treated as hostile and cross examined by the party calling him this must be done to discredit the witness altogether and not merely to get rid of part of his testimony. Coles v. Coles L R 1 P & M 71 and Faulthorpe v. Brine 1 F & F 254 referred to. The principles laid down under s 153 of the Indian Evidence Act must be regarded in the examination and cross examination of witnesses on commission and the commissioner cannot exercise the discretion vested in the Court under s 154 of that Act. The mischief due to improper cross examination cannot be remedied in the Trial Court. Although where an instrument requiring attestation is subscribed by several witnesses it is in general sufficient to call only one of them (Indian Evidence Act s 68) in the case of wills it is desirable that all capable of being called should be examined to remove all suspicion of fraud. McGregor v. Topham 3 H L C 132. Andrew v. Motley 1 C B 514 and Hindson v. Kersey 4 Bur Ec L 116 referred to. Where unattested alterations occur in a will the presumption of law is that such alterations were made after the execution of the will and in the absence of evidence rebutting the presumption probate will be granted of the will in the original state omitting the alteration. Cooper v. Cooper 4 Moo P C 419. Greide v. Tylee 400 P C 30. In the goods of Sykes L R 3 P & D 96. In the goods of Adam on L R 3 P & D 93 and Pandurang Hore Vaidya v. Vinayak Vishnu Kane 1 L P 16 Bom 65 referred to. The presumption may be rebutted not merely by direct proof but also by internal evidence and by inference drawn from the condition of the will. In the goods of Hindmarsh L P 1 P & D 90. In the goods of Cady L P 1 P & D 513 and in the goods of Torge 66 L T 60 referred to. The intervention of the trial Judge with questions during the examination and cross examination of witnesses may lead to confusion and leaving him under the impression that the Court was not prepared to accept the statements made by the witnesses concerned is obviously not a matter which can be set right on appeal unless indeed it is established that the intervention of the learned Judge with questions with a view to clear up obscurities to fill up lacunae to supplement deficiencies and generally to elicit the truth exceeded the bounds of even the comprehensive provisions of s 160 of the Indian Evidence Act and so impeded the legitimate work of counsel engaged in the case as to amount to a miscarriage leading to a failure of justice. But it is manifest that during the progress of the trial it is not wise for counsel to anticipate the final opinion of the Judge even as to the veracity of a witness which may have to be judged not solely from his individual statements but from his testimony taken in conjunction with all the other facts brought out in the course of the litigation SURENDRA KRISHNA MONDAL v RANI DASSI (1920) I L R 47 Cal 1043

WILL—*contd*VALIDITY—contd

WILL—*concl'dVALIDITY—*concl'd

Where a Will is prepared under circumstances which raise a well grounded suspicion that it does not express the mind of the testator the Court ought not to pronounce in favour of it unless the suspicion is removed but this suspicion must be one inherent in the transaction itself and not the doubt that may arise from a conflict of testimony which becomes apparent on an investigation of the transaction SREENUTTY SAROJINI DASSI v HARI DAS GHOSE 26 C W N 113

WILL AND CODICIL

Oudh Talukdar's estate—As its partly taluk and partly personal property—Codicil raising the amount of legatee's allowance if should be construed as a textual amendment of the will—Codicil conforming to conditions fulfilled in the case of the will which would make it binding on talukdar's properties—Effect—Codicil directing allowance to be paid from this date if to be construed as a conveyance Where an Oudh Talukdar executed a will bequeathing inter alia a monthly sum of Rs 500 to his widow from the estate the said allowance being further made a charge upon the estate which the person in possession of the taluqa was bound to discharge and later on executed a codicil but without conforming (as he did in the case of the will) to the conditions which would make it binding on the talukdar's estate by which he purported to raise the amount payable to the widow from Rs 500 to Rs 1000 and it appeared that the talukdar had left other properties which would be bound by wills and other testamentary instruments made with regard to such conditions. Held that the codicil could not be construed as merely textually altering the terms of the will so as to indicate that the increment in the allowance was to be paid from the same source as the bequest in the will no source having in fact been indicated by the codicil. The direction in the codicil that the amount of Rs 1000 was to be paid to the widow from this date should be construed as a wish that the allowance should begin to run at once after death the idea that the donee was creating an annuity during his own life by inter vivos conveyance being opposed to the whole circumstances surrounding the execution of the document DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF KHURI v RANI BHAI RAJ KORB (1917)

22 C W N 305WINDING UP*See COMPANIES ACT (VI OF 1882)—*ss 38 45 61 I L R 36 Bom. 557*ss 45 AND 58 I L R 42 Bom. 595*ss 61 125 151 I L R 38 All. 347*See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)*s 153 I L R 41 All. 563*WINDING UP—*concl'ds 162*I L R 39 All. 331*s 169*I L R 33 All. 641*I L R 35 All. 177*See COMPANY*I L R 47 Cal. 651*I L R 35 All. 539*I L R 39 Bom. 16 47 331*I L R 40 All. 45*— examination of directors—See COMPANIES ACT 1913 s. 215— order passed in—*See CO-OPERATIVE SOCIETIES ACT 1912*s 42 I L R 34 Bom. 582

Sale in execution of decree pending winding up proceedings validity of A sale held in execution of a decree against a Company while the Company is being wound up is in contravention of s 171 of the Companies Act 1913 unless the leave of the court under which the winding up is proceeding has been obtained and is voidable at the instance of the official liquidator. Per CHAMBER, C J— If the court executing the decree becomes aware of the winding up proceedings before the sale in execution of the decree is confirmed it should refuse to confirm the sale until the leave of the court under which the winding up is proceeding has been obtained. BALDEO NARAIN SINGH v THE UNITED INDIA BANK LIMITED 2 Pat. L J 77

WINDING UP PETITION

Petitioner a creditor for amount not immediately payable—General financial position of company—Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) at ss 129 130 and 131—Scheme of arrangement—Practice The definition of debt in s. 130 of the Indian Companies Act (VI of 1882) is quite distinct from the meaning of the word creditor. A creditor is a person to whom money is owed by the Company. Whether he can claim immediate payment of that debt or his right to demand payment is deferred by his agreement with the Company to a future time he still remains a creditor. If the petitioners can satisfy the Court that the Company on a general perusal of its balance sheet cannot pay its debts in other words that its assets are not sufficient to satisfy its liabilities that will enable the Court to order its winding up. If an arrangement can be arrived at between the Company and its creditors it would be desirable that an attempt should be made to give effect to that arrangement. But any scheme or proposal by the Company to keep itself afloat cannot be discussed with any chance of success unless the winding up order is made. It is only after the winding up order is made that a three fourths majority of the creditors is able to bind the minority. Otherwise any one creditor can come in and upset any arrangement which has appeared satisfactory to the rest of his co-creditors. In the matter of INDIAN COMPANIES ACT In the matter of THE BOMBAY MANUFACTURING COMPANY and In the matter of PATILAL HARBOL DAS (1909) I L R 34 Bom. 533

WIRE-FENCE

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (BOM III OF 1901) s. 3 CL. (1)
I L R 41 Bom. 563

WITHDRAWAL OF CASE

See COMPANY I L R 46 Calc 854

WITHDRAWAL OF PARDONSee PARDON I L R 37 Calc 845
I L R 42 Calc 756WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION

Consent of Court given without recording reasons—Duty of the Court to give reasons and to examine the grounds of withdrawal stated by Public Prosecutor—Improper exercise of discretion in according consent—Permission—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 491 An order according consent under s 491 of the Criminal Procedure Code is a judicial one and the reasons therefor should be stated in order to enable the High Court on revision to determine the propriety of the exercise of its discretion by the lower Court. Umesh Chandra Pooj v Salish Chandra Roy 2 C IV N 69 followed. Where on a commitment under ss 344 and 366 I P C the Public Prosecutor sought to withdraw the case on the ground of absence of evidence of the use of force by the accused.—Held that the Sessions Judge should have before accepting and acting on the reason stated by the Public Prosecutor satisfied himself on the point by examining the commitment record. The consent of the Sessions Judge to the withdrawal of the prosecution was held to have been improperly accorded when there was evidence of the employment of force on the record sufficient for the consideration of a jury and further when he could have added charges under ss 497 and 498 I P C on the husband's complaint to the Magistrate and proceeded with the trial on such charges. IAJANIKANTA SHARMA v IDRIS THAKUR (1921) I L R 48 Calc 1105

WITHDRAWAL OF RIGHTSSee ART OF STATE
II L R 39 Calc 615WITHDRAWAL OF SUITSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 373
I L R 86 Mad 643

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

O O XXIII XLI R 11

I L R 85 Bom 261

O XXIII R 1

See JURISDICTION

I L P 48 Calc 138

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

I L R 44 Calc 454

See LETTERS PATENT 1863 (L 1)

I L R 45 Bom 377

See PRACTICE I L R 41 Calc 632

See RES JUDICATA

whether in ability to produce evidence justifies—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

O XXIII R 1 6 Pat. L J 113

Permission to institute fresh suit—No finding of formal defect—Power of High Court to interfere with order—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) s 115 and O XXIII

WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT—contd

r 1 In allowing a suit to be withdrawn with permission to institute a fresh suit it is not sufficient that the trial Court should say or suggest that there is a formal defect but the existence of such a defect is a condition precedent to the exercise of jurisdiction under O XXIII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. NATHUNI RAM v MUSANMAT SHEO KORE 3 Pat L J 460

Procedure—withdrawal with permission to bring fresh suit on payment of costs—costs of first suit paid after institution of second suit whether the second suit maintainable Where a plaintiff is allowed to withdraw a suit with permission to bring a fresh suit on payment of the defendant's costs in the first suit and no limit of time is provided within which such costs are to be paid the second suit is maintainable even though the costs of the first suit are not paid until after the institution of the second suit. The Court should therefore limit the time. Samble that the second suit would be maintainable even though the period of limitation expired before the institution of the second suit inasmuch as the first suit would be pending until the costs had been paid. KULDIR SING v KULDIR CHAUDHURY 3 Pat L J 44

Grounds for—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O XXIII r 1 A suit may only be withdrawn with permission to bring a fresh suit when the Court is satisfied that the suit must fail by reason of some formal defect or that there are other sufficient grounds for allowing the plaintiff to institute a fresh suit. The sufficient ground contemplated in the second clause of O XXIII r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 should be ground analogous to the ground given in the first clause. It is not sufficient for the Court merely to record a vague opinion that there is a defect which may materially affect the decision. MAHENDRA PAM v SINGI LAL 3 Pat L J 561

Duty of court to state reason for allowing withdrawal of suit—Power of High Court to interfere with order of withdrawal passed by Small Cause Court Judge Where a suit has been allowed to be withdrawn by a Small Cause Court and no reasons have been recorded for permitting such withdrawal the High Court will set the order aside in the exercise of its powers under s 107 of the Government of India Act 1915. LUCHI PAM v RAGHUBER DEBE 2 Pat L J 582

Suit for redemption—Permission to withdraw on condition fresh suit brought within 2 years The plaintiff filed a suit to redeem a mortgage but not wishing to proceed with the suit he was allowed to withdraw it with permission to bring a fresh suit provided it was brought within 2 years for the date of the order. The new suit was brought eight years after the order for withdrawal of suit. It was dismissed by the lower Courts on the ground that the plaintiffs had not complied with the conditions imposed by the order. On appeal to the High Court Held that the order for withdrawal of suit imposing a limitation of two years was erroneous and it would not affect the plaintiff's right to redeem during the period of limitation allowed by the Limitation Act. RANCHANDEA KOLAJI v HANMANTA (1920) I L R 44 Bom 939

WITNESS

- See ATTESTATION OF INSTRUMENT
I L R 37 All 350
- See BAR COUNCIL, RESOLUTIONS OF
I L R 40 Calc 898
- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O
ALI R 27 I L R 38 All 191
- See COMMITMENT I L R 42 Calc 608
- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 339 I L R 37 All 331
s 428 B Pat L J 632
- See DEPOSITION I L R 46 Calc 895
- See DISPUTE CONCERNING LAND
I L R 38 Calc 24
- See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872)—
ss 21 157 I L R 34 Bom 599
ss 118 to 134
s 132 I L R 43 All 92
I L R 40 All 271
- See FACT 15 C W N 717
- See LEGAL PRACTITIONER
I L R 44 Mad 911
- See PAUPER SUIT
I L R 46 Calc 651
- See PENAL CODE s 467
15 C W N 565
- See PERJURY I L R 42 Calc 240
- See POLICE DIARIES 3 Pat L J 568
- See PRIVATE DEFENCE 3 Pat L J 419
- See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR
I L R 42 Calc 422
- See WARRANT I L R 38 Calc 789
- Called by Court—CROSS EXAMINATION OF—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss
435 439 25 C W N 609
- commission to examine—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) O XVI s 1
I L R 42 Bom 136
- counsel accepting Retainer when likely to be a witness—
See BAR COUNCIL RESOLUTIONS OF
I L R 40 Calc 898
- CROSS EXAMINATION OF—See CHANGE I L R 42 Calc 957
- See CROSS EXAMINATION
I L R 37 Calc 233
- See MANDATORY LAW—GIFT
I L R 38 All 627
- evidence of deceased—
See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 33
I L R 42 All 24
- examination of—
See INSOLVENCY
I L R 3 Calc 1059
- See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 263 I L R 39 Calc 931
- See WILL I L R 47 Calc 1043

WITNESS—contd

- In insolvency proceedings—Costs
of—
See COSTS I L R 46 Calc 790
- privilege of—
See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 170
I L R 41 All 120
- prosecution of for contradictory statements—
See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 37 Calc 618
- questions put to by Court—
See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 33
I L R 42 All 25
- right of accused to summon—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 44
540 I L R 38 All 10
- statement of—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XVI of 1900)
s 499 I L R 36 Mad 216
- suit—whether an attesting—
See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 68
1 Pat L J 129
- 1 ——— Witness if party to suit—Witnesses examined in a suit or proceeding are not to be considered parties to the suit or proceeding Emperor v Chan Nam Sing I L R 30
All 74 referred to DEBI LAL & DHANADHAR
GASHAI (1911) 15 C W N 565
- 2 ——— Attendance of—A servant of the Municipality was summoned at the plaintiff's instance to produce certain document which the plaintiff maintained would support his case of adverse possession of the land in dispute but he failed or declined to attend and the plaintiff's application for a warrant to compel his attendance was rejected without good reason. The suit was dismissed on the ground amongst other that plaintiff was not in possession for 12 years. Held on second appeal that there should be a rehearing after compelling the witness to attend and produce the documents. UPENDRA NATH CHOPRA v
THE CHAIRMAN OF THE CALCUTTA CORPORATION
(1911) 16 C W N 116
- 3 ——— Competency of a person accused as witness against another implicated in the therein but separately tried—Admissibility of the deposition of a witness against himself on his subsequent trial—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 114
130—Oaths Act (V of 1830) s 5—Criminal Procedure Code Act (I of 1898) s 31 (1) s 34 (1) of the Oaths Act (V of 1873) and s 34 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code apply only to the accused actually under trial at the time. Such person cannot therefore be sworn as a witness for or against the co-accused. But when accused persons are tried separately each one though implicated in the same offence is a competent witness at the trial of the other.
Reg v Dargan Sunlar 5 Bom H C 117 and Empress v Durand 1 L R 23 Bom 13 followed. Banu Singh v Emperor 1 L R
33 Calc 1353 and Anurita Lal Harra v Emperor 1 L R 4 Calc 937 approved. Queen
Empress v Mona Puna 1 L R 16 Bom 661

WITNESS—contd

Subrahmanya Ayyar v King Emperor I L R 20 Mad 61 and Queen Empress v Hussein Haje I L R 25 Bom 42⁷ referred to. A previous deposition is admissible against the witness on his subsequent trial unless he has brought himself within the protection of the proviso to s 132 of the Evidence Act. King Emperor v Nanda Gopal Roy 29 C II V 1178 explained and distinguished. Akhoy Kumar Mookerjee v Emperor (1917) I L R 45 Cal 720

4 ————— Competency of accused as witness—Withdrawal of prosecution jointly by private rakil conducting the prosecution and the Court sub-inspector—Legality of the withdrawal and consequent discharge of the accused—Competency of accused as witness thereafter—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 494—Evidence of cocaine and gambling cases prior to the conspiracy charged—Statement of an accused made after arrest not amounting to a confession—Admissibility of statement—Evidence Act (I of 1877) ss 10, 30 and 54—Conspiracy to cheat—Penal Code (Act LV of 1860) ss 170 B and 490. Where the prosecution against an accused was withdrawn with the consent of the Court after the opening of the Crown case by an application purporting to be signed by the Court sub-inspector and a private rakil who was not appointed a public prosecutor by the Governor General in Council or the Local Government but was acting under the directions of the public prosecutor duly appointed for the district and the accused was thereupon discharged under s 494 (a) removed from the dock and examined as a prosecution witness—Held that the withdrawal was legal as the Court sub-inspector who was a public prosecutor within s 494 of the Criminal Procedure Code had signed the petition filed for the purpose. Akhoy Kumar Mookerjee v Emperor I L R 45 Cal 720 applied. Evidence that some of the accused ran cocaine and gambling dens long before the existence of the conspiracy which was the subject of the charge was held admissible the prosecution case being that some of the accused were first thrown together by frequenting or running such dens and that they continued to meet at such places for the purposes of the conspiracy charged. The evidence of an ex-cise sub-inspector of raids on the dens was amissible as leading up to the admissions made to him. The statement of an accused made after arrest and not amounting to a confession is not admissible in evidence against a co-accused either under s 10 or s 30 of the Evidence Act but only against himself. The error does not however affect the conviction when no stress was laid on such statement by the Trial and Appellate Court. Emperor v Aban Bhushan Chakrabarty I L R 38 Cal 169. Pulin Behari Das v King Emperor 15 C L J 517 followed. Sital Singh v Emperor (1915) I L R 46 Cal 700

5 ————— enforcing attendance of witnesses named in the list given to the Magistrate and summoned for the trial—Application made at the last moment after examination of defence witness is present—Refusal by the Judge of the application on the ground of delay—Materiality of the evidence of the absent witnesses—Proper course to be followed by the Judge—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 91. Where after the examination of the defence witnesses present had concluded and the case was ready for arguments an application was made to the Court to enforce the attendance of certain witnesses whose names had been entered in the list given by the accused to the Committing Magistrate and who had been summoned but failed to attend and it further appeared from the petition of appeal to the High Court that their evidence was material. Held that the refusal of the Judge to enforce the attendance of the witnesses based not on the ground of their evidence being immaterial but of delay in the application was not justifiable and that the conviction ought therefore to be set aside and a retrial ordered. Steps should be taken by the Sessions Judge to ensure an early application by the parties with regard to the attendance of their witnesses. Faiyaz Juddi v Emperor (1900) I L R 47 Cal 758

WITNESS—contd

6 ————— Hostile witness—A witness is considered adverse when in the opinion of the Judge he bears a hostile animus to the party calling him and not merely when his testimony contradicts his proof. When a witness is treated hostile and cross-examined by the party calling him this must be done to discredit the witness altogether and not merely to get rid of part of his testimony. Sreendra Krishna Mondal v Shy Panna Das 24 C W N 860

7 ————— Where a witness was called by Court not examined by it but cross-examined by both sides—Impropriety of procedure discussed. Ganadhat Coala v Reidwald Willie Lemon Peir 25 C W N 809

WOMEN

See PLEADER I L R 44 Cal 290

See HINDU LAW—WOMAN'S ESTATE

————— beneficiaries under will of a Hindu—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 1 Lah 415

I L R 2 Lah 175

————— disqualification of to perform duties of archaka—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII s 3

I L R 38 Mad 650

————— right to inherit—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII s 3

I L R 38 Mad 650

WORDS AND PHRASES

————— A large proportion of the landlords—

See ULTRA VIRES, BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 101 I L R 40 Cal 123

————— "Accused person"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 145, 56 I L R 34 All 533

————— "Act together"—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 168 I L R 33 Cal 270

————— "Addition to embankment"—

See EMBANKMENT I L R 33 Cal 413

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "Affected"—
 See LAND ACQUISITION
 I L R 44 C.J.C. 219
 I L R 47 Calc 500
 See RECOGNITION I L R 45 Calc 343
- Agaharam—
 See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT 1908
 I L R 41 Mad 1012
- "Aggregate sentences"—
 See CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE 1898
 s 3, and 403 3 Pat L J 138
- "Aggrieved person"—
 See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT s 38
 15 C W N 253
- "Agreement" or "memorandum of agreement"—
 See STAMP ACT (II of 1899)
 s 57 I L R 38 Mad 319
- "Agricultural tribe"—
 See BUDELEKHAND ALIENATION OF LAND ACT (II of 1903) ss 3 4 6 9
 I L R 41 All 294
- "Agriculturists"—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903
 s 60 (c) I L R 41 Bom 475
 See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT s 2
 I L R 35 Bom 268
 I L R 34 Bom 65
- "Alienated"— See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM V of 1879)—
 s 3 (19) I L R 35 Bom 462
 ss 3 (20) AND 217
 I L R 43 Bom 77
- "Alienation"—
 See BHAGDARI AND NAWAPDARI ACT (BOM ACT V of 1864) s 3
 I L R 40 Bom 207
- "All estate right and title"—
 See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
 I L R 42 Calc 56
- "Alteration of papers"—
 See COURT FEE STAMPS
 I L R 47 Calc 71
- "Ammunition"—
 See ARMS ACT s 4
 I L R 32 All 152
- "Annual net profit"—
 See CESS ACT 15 C W N 201
 See MINES I L R 38 Calc 372
- "Antecedent debt"—
 See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
 I L R 41 All 529
- "Any accused person"—
 See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 119
 I L R 35 Bom 401

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "Any interest therein"—
 See IMMOVABLE PROPERTY
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 1 3
 3 Pat L J 527
- "Any one individual person"—
 See MUNICIPAL ELECTION
 I L R 39 Calc 754
- "Any person within local limits"—
 See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
 I L R 46 Calc 215
- "Any trustees or trustee"—
 See TRUSTS I L P 39 Mad 597
- "Aparna is"—
 See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 48 Calc 643
- "Appeal"—
 See HIGH COURT ORIGINAL SIDE JURISDICTION OF
 I L R 37 Calc 74
- "Ascertained sum"—
 See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT SCH II ART 31 3 Pat L J 423
- "Assets come into his hands"—
 See ADMINISTRATION PENDENTE LITE
 I L R 41 Calc 771
- "Assets realised"— See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS
 3 Pat L J 456
- "At once"—
 See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Calc 19
- "Attested, meaning of"—
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 103 I L R 44 Bom 231
- "Attesting witness" meaning of—
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 59 I L R 44 Bom 405
- "Aulad"—
 See WILL I L R 38 All 101
- "Auras putra poutradik"—
 See BABUANA AND SONAG GRANTS
 L R 41 I A. 275
- "Authorized agent"—
 See HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS FOR CIVIL COURT CHAP XXI F I
 I L R 41 All 246
- "Auyavaharika"—
 See HINDU LAW—DETEST
 I L R 43 Bom 612
- "Awards"—
 See LAND ACQUISITION
 I L R 45 Calc 881
- "becomes due"—
 See LIMITATION ACT IV of 1908 SCH I ART 13.
 I L R 37 All 400
- "benefits to arrive out of land"—
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 13
 100 137 141
 3 Pat L J 522

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"betterment"—

See RECOUPMENT

I L R 85 Calc 343

"Bohras"—

See LABEL I L R 41 All 329

"building"—

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (BOM ACT III of 1901)—

s 3, CL (7) I L R 41 Bom 563

s 96 I L R 85 Bom 412

"business"—

See EXCESS PROFIT DUTI

I L R 48 Calc 844

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Calc 678

"by means thereof"—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

"Calcutta Gazette"—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 46 Calc 255

"Capable of instituting suits"—

See LIMITATION L R 43 I A 113

"Case"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

ss 16 AND 115 I L P 42 All 409

s 116 I L R 40 Bom 88

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 193

I L R 37 All 286

"Cause of Action"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O II

R 2 I L R 38 All 217

See PARTITION I L R 36 Mad 151

Caveat emptor —

See VENDOR 3 Pat L J 308

"Charitable purposes"—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BO : ACT III of 1888) ss 140 (c) 143 (1)

(a) AND 2 (d) I L R 43 Bom 281

"Child"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 493 (1)

I L R 37 Mad 565

"Christian"—

See CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE ACT (XV OF 1872) ss 3 AND 68

I L R 40 All 393

"Circumstances and Property"—

See MUNICIPALITY—ASSESSMENT

I L R 41 Calc 168

"Circumstances and Property within the Municipality"—

See ASSESSMENT I L R 88 Calc 443

"Claim arising under the mortgage"—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1908
O XXXIV R 14

I L R 41 All 399

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"Claim of right"—

See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION

I L R 46 Calc 1001

"Claiming under"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 679

"Collector"—

See MAMLATDARS COURTS ACT (BOM II
OF 1906) s 23

I L R 39 Bom 552

"Common carrier"—

See CONTRACT ACT s 56 AND 65

I L R 40 Bom 529

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 4 Calc 6

"Common gaming house"—

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III OF 1867)
ss 1 3 I L R 88 All 47

"Company's sicca Rupees"—

See SUIT FOR RENT

I L R 46 Calc 347

"Compelled to answer"—

See FALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 37 Calc 878

"Complaint"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 4 190 (1) I L R 35 All 8

ss 4 476 I L R 38 All 32

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 43 Calc 1152

See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT
ACT (VIII OF 1899) ss 1 AND 2

I L R 41 All 322

"Composition deed"—

See REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1871)
s 17 CL (c) I L R 38 Bom 576

"Compromise"—

See COMPROMISE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 48
345 20 C W N 1209

"Conclusive proof"—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 9 I L R 34 All 285

"Consideration"—

See DEBTOR OR CREDITOR.

I L R 41 Calc 137

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 423 I L R 37 Mad 47

"Contentious suit"—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 52 I L R 33 Mad 450

"Conveyance"—

See OFFICE ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF

I L R 37 Calc 24

"Costs to abide the result"—

"Costs to follow the event"—

See COSTS I L R 33 Mad 476

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"Court"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908,
O XXI, RR 89 92

I L R 40 All 425

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 195

I L R 37 Bom 365

See COURT

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 14

I L R 35 Bom 139

See PARTITION I L R 45 Calc 873

See PRESS ACT (I OF 1908) s 3 (1)

PROVISO I L R 39 Mad 1164

See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

I L R 44 Calc 639

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 45 Calc 585

"Credible information"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 54 (1)

I L R 36 All 6

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Calc 76

"Criminal case"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 145

26 I L R 34 All 533

See TRANSFER I L R 41 Calc 719

"Criminal trial"—

See LETTERS PATENT (24 AND 25 VICT

C 104) s 15 I L R 39 Mad 539

"Crops or other products"—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 ss 74 76

I L R 32 All 458

"Dasi"—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 48 Calc 643

"dāsyadīśudraputra"—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 48 Calc 643

"date of decree"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O XLV R 7 14 C W N 420

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 46 Calc 1032

"dayada"—

See HINDU LAW—STRIDAN

I L R 36 Bom 424

"debt"—

See CONTRACT ACT (I OF 1872) s 25

I L R 40 Mad 31

See SUCCESSION CERTIFICATE

I L R 42 Calc 10

"debtor and creditor"—

See WARDING UP PETITION

I L R 34 Bom 533

"debt and liability"—

See CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATE

ACT 1870 s 3 3 Pat L J 156

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"decision"—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT ss 106 107
18 C W N 604

"decree"—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Calc 160

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)—

s 2 I L R 39 All 393

ss 2 104 148 I L R 35 All 582

See SECOND APPEAL 3 Pat L J 645

"decree holder"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXI R 89

I L R 37 Bom 387

"decree in the suit"—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT I L R 34 Bom 158

"default"—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 38 Calc 482

"defaulter"—

See MADRAS REVENUE RECOVERY ACT

ss 3 35 I L R 33 Mad 41

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT 1908

s 140 I L R 44 Mad 534

"delay"—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 43 Calc 597

"denatured spirit"—

See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694

"deposit" (in art 60 of the

Limitation Act—

See LIMITATION ACT (I OF 1908) —

ARTS 59 AND 60

I L R 30 Mad 1081

"desperate and dangerous"—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I L R 46 Calc 215

"destined"—

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

I L R 42 Calc 1094

"directly over or indirectly under—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT

(BOM ACT III OF 1888) s 201 cl. (a)

I L R 34 Bom 496

"discharged"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 119

I L R 35 Bom 401

"Disciple"—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 44 Mad 704

"dishonestly and fraudulently"—

See FORGERY I L R 38 Calc 75

14 C W N 1076

"dishonour"—

See BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

I L R 46 Calc 584

"dispossession"—

See LIMITATION I L R. 41 Calc. 52

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"distributive"—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)
ARTS 123 144

I L R 45 Bom 519

"doctrine of feeding the estoppel"—

See EXPECTANCIES

I L R 39 Mad 554

"doubt"—

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

I L R 44 Calc 595

"due and reasonable diligence"—

See SUMMONS SERVICE OF

I L R 43 Calc 447

"due diligence"—

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 94

dues"—

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (IX of 1897) SCH II ART 13

I L R 39 Bom 131

"duly authorised agent"—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1874) s 20
I L R 37 Calc 461"dwell or carry on business or permanently work for gain"—

See JURISDICTION I L R 40 Calc 308

"dwelling house"—

See PARTITION I L R 45 Calc 873

"effectually and permanently rendered unfit"—

See EJECTMENT I L R 41 Calc 694

"emigrate"—

See EMIGRATION I L R 37 Calc 27

emoluments of an office—

See PENSIONS ACT (XIII of 1871)

s 4 I L R 36 Mad 559

"employed in the business"—

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (X of 1910) SCH II R 1

I L R 45 Bom 881

"encumbrances"—

See APPEAL

I L R 43 Calc 178

enforcing a right—

See PENAL CODE ACT (XVI of 1860)
s 141 143 17 C W N 1132enforcing and maintaining right"—

See RIOTING I L R 41 Calc 43

engagements with Government"—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT
L M 44 I A 166
L R 46 I A 302

"estate"—

See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS
L R 46 I A 38, 123See ORDINANCE ACT (I of 1909),
ss 2 3 8 10 22

I L R 35 All 391

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd"equity justice and good conscience"—

See HINDU LAW (MAINTENANCE)

I L R 37 Mad 396

"error omission or irregularity"—

See CHARGE I L R 40 Calc 108

"excepted business"—

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (X of 1910) I L R 45 Bom 1064

"excisable article"—

See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694

"existing embankment"—

See EMBANKMENT I L R 46 Calc 825

"explosive substance"—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

"Family"—

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (BOM
III of 1874) ss 4 53
I L R 41 Bom 677

Filing in court—

See ARBITRATION I L R 46 Calc 721

"Fiscal"—

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III
of 1904) s 287 (3)
I L R 38 Mad 41

"Finally decided"—

See ESTOPPEL I L R 44 I A 213

See PENDING LITIGATION
I L R 43 Bom 568
I L R 45 Calc 442

Final decree—

See ESTATES LAND ACT (Mad 1 of 1908)
I L R 36 Mad 439

"Final order"—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 47 Calc 918

Fire arms—

See MISJOINDER OF CHARGES
I L R 42 Calc 1153

Fixed or guaranteed—

See BOMBAY SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT
ACT ss 2 3 8 10
I L R 36 Bom 290

"Food"—

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III of 1904) B1 LAWS 109
I L R 39 Mad 362

"Forest Produce"—

See EASEMENT
2 Pat L J 323

Foreign State—

See EXTRADITION
I L R 47 Calc 37

"Fraudulently"—

See FABRICATION OF FALSE DOCUMENT
I L R 48 Calc 911

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "Full water rate"—
See WATER RATE I L R 114 Mad 436
- "Gambling" and "Wagering"—
See COTTON GAMBLING I L R 110 Cal 968
- "Gaming"—
See MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCE ACT (MAD III 1889) s 3 (10) I L R 40 Mad 556
- "Ghosis"—
See BUNDELKHAND ALIENATION OF LAND ACT (II OF 1903) ss 4 6 9 I L R 41 All 294
- "Good faith"—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 5 I L R 45 Bom 607
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) ss 52 101 AND 193 I L R 36 All 362
- "Government established by law in British India"— See PRESS ACT 1 OF 1910—
 ss 3 (1) 4 (11) 17 19 20 22 I L R 39 Mad 1085
 s 4 I L R 42 All 233
- "Grant of a definite share of a village"— See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) ss 83 216 (b) AND 217 I L R 44 Bom 566
- "hatred" or "contempt"—
See PRESS ACT (1 OF 1910) ss 3 (1) 4 (1) 17 19 20 22 I L R 39 Mad 1085
- "heir next in succession"—
See MATADARS ACT (BOM VI OF 1887) ss 9 10 I L R 39 Bom 478
- "heirs born of the womb"—
See WILL 3 Pat L J 189
- "Hindu"—
See SUCCESSION ACT s 2 15 C W N 158
- "holder"—
See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT ss 3 109 197 I L R 110 Bom 315
- "holder of alienated land"—
See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) ss 3 74 76 I L R 45 Bom 898
- "holder of Property"—
See CHOTA NAAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT 1876 3 Pat L J 186
- "holding"—
See ASSESSMENT EXEMPTION FROM I L R 37 Cal 897
- "holds office"—
See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IV OF 1894) ss 53 AND 60 I L R 38 Mad 879

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "immovable property"—
See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (X OF 1891) s 11 (25) I L R 35 All 150
- "import into Bengal"—
See EVIDENCE I L R 41 Cal 545
- "income"—
See INCOME TAX ACT (II OF 1886) PART IV, SCH II s 3 cl (5) I L R 38 Mad 885
- "injury to the person"—
See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT I L R 36 Bom 443
- "instrument"—
See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) s 2 (14) SCH I ACT 5 I L R 36 All 21
- "instrument of partition"— See STAMPS ACT (II OF 1899) s 59 I L R 35 Bom 75
- "integral"—
See PPE EMPTION I L R 33 All 104
- "investigation"—
See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT s 14 15 C W N 289
- "irreparable injury"—
See TEMPORARY INJUNCTION I L R 46 Cal 1001
- "irrigation by percolation"—
See MADRAS IRRIGATION CEAS ACT 180 s 1 I L R 40 Mad 59
- "jama abadharita and dharjya"—
See PENT I L R 47 Cal 133
- "judgment"—
See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 323
 I L R 42 Cal 735
 I L R 43 Cal 857
 I L R 45 Cal 818
 I L R 47 Cal 1104
- "judgment"—
See APPEAL RIGHT OF I L R 44 Cal 804
- "judgment"—
See ARBITRATION I L R 34 Bom 1
- "judgment"—
See LETTERS PATENT CL 10 I L R 44 Bom 272
 I L R 45 Bom 377
- "Judicial Act"—
See PRESS ACT (1 OF 1910) s 3 (1) PROVISIO I L R 39 Mad 1164
- "Judicial Proceeding"—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 193 476 I L R 34 All 605
- "Magistrate power of"—
See MAGISTRATE POWER OF I L R 37 Cal 72
- "Sanction for prosecution"— See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION I L R 43 Cal 1152
- "jurisdiction"—
See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 323
- "Just Antecedent Debt"—
See CUSTOM (LIGATION) I L R 1 Lab. 472

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "just cause"—
See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
I L R 40 Calc 50
- "just debts"—
See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
I L R 40 Calc 288
- "Justice Equity and Good Conscience"— See JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS
I L R 39 Mad 548
- See WILL
I L R 35 All 211
- See HINDU LAW MAINTENANCE
I L R 37 Mad 397
- "land"—
See AGRA TENANCY ACT (11 OF 1901)
s 4 CHAP X I L R 35 All 200
- See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (1 OF 1894)
s 3 (a) I L P 45 Bom 277
- "landlord"—
See BOMBAY (WAR RESTRICTION) ACT (11 OF 1918) s 2 (1) CL (a) (c) (d)
I L R 45 Bom 744
- ss 2 (c) 9
I L R 43 Bom 795
- "landlord and tenant"—
See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 148 A
14 C W N 1018
- "landlord of a holding"—
See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT
I L R 40 Calc 29
- "Landlord's interest"—
See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1880 s 148
I L R 40 Calc 462
- "Lands attached to Deur"—
See SANAD
I L P 36 Bom 639
- "lawful guardianship"—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 366 368 I L R 40 All 507
- "legal necessity"—
See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
I L R 39 All 485
- See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 41 All 523
- See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY
- "legal representative"—
See SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN OF TRUST I L R 40 Bom 341
- "liquor"—
See EXCISE
I L R 41 Calc 694
- "Machinery"—
See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT
26 C W N 761
- "mahabat"—
See MAHOMEDAN LAW
I L R 33 All 421
- "mahal"—
See PRE EMPTION I L R 32 All 351

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "mai hak hakuk"—
See LEASE CONSTRUCTION OF
I L R 48 Calc 87
- See MINERALS
L P 44 I A 246
- "major"—
See INSURANCE I L R 36 Bom 484
- "mahk"—
See HINDU LAW—WILL
14 C W N 458
- See WILL
I L R 35 Bom 279
- "managing officer"—
See GUJARAT TALUKDAR ACT
I L R 34 Bom 142
- "maupau"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 9 SCH II s 20
I L P 37 Bom 442
- "manufacture"—
See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694
- "marry"—
See ABDUCTION I L P 45 Calc 641
- "matter directly and substantially in issue"— See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 10 I L P 44 Bom 283
- See ENHANCEMENT OF RENT
I L R 40 Calc 29
- "misapplication"—
See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (BOM III OF 1901) s 42
I L R 40 Bom 186
- "misbehaviour"—
See BOMBAY REGULATION (11 OF 1877)
s 50 I L R 37 Bom 354
- "misjoinder" includes "non joinder"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 92
I L P 33 Mad 436
- "movable property"—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 403 AND 22 I L R 40 All 119
- "muakhiza"—
See MORTGAGE I L R 34 All 446
- "mutual dealings"—
See SET OFF I L R 45 Bom 1219
- "new and important matter"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1903
O XLVIII s 1
I L R 33 All 569
- "newspaper"—
See PRINTING PRESS FORFEITURE OF
I L R 38 Calc 202
- "nij chas"—
See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913
3 Pat L J 475
- "nij jote"—
See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913
3 Pat L J 475

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd.

"oath"—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 43 Calc 597

"obtaining"—

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
I D R 40 Mad 34

"occupant of the place—

See DACOITY I L R 41 Calc 350

"occupier"—

See BUSTEE LAND
I L R 41 Calc 164

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION
I L R 45 Calc 950

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (II OF 1916) s 274

I L R 39 All 309

"offence involving a breach of the peace"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 106
I L R 33 All 771
I L R 43 Bom 554

"offices or employments"—

See EXCESS PROFITS DUTY ACT (X OF
1919) I L R 45 Bom 1064

"Official Gazette"—

See REVENUE SALE L R 45 I A 205

"oil (other sorts)"—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III OF 1888) s 394 I L R 45 Bom 1078

"opposite party"—

See APPEAL I L R 43 Calc 178

"order"—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
ss 170 177 I L R 32 All 373

"other sufficient grounds"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXIII R 1 (c)
I L R 41 Mad 701

"otherwise transfer"—

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT
1888 3 Pat L J 88

"oversight"—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE
s 11 (1) I L R 36 Bom 315

"owner"—

See BEWAL MUNICIPAL ACT ss 6 AND
15 15 C W N 586

See BUSTEE LAND
I L R 41 Calc 104

See MADRAS ASSESSMENT OF LAND
REVENUE ACT s 2
I L R 38 Mad 1128

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION
I L R 38 Calc 501

"parjot"—

See EVIDENCE I L R 40 All 56

"partial performance"—

See HINDU LAW—ALIVATION
I L R 38 Mad 1187

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd.

"period of limitation prescribed"—

See DERKHAM AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879) s 48
I L R 42 Bom 367

"person"—

See CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE
1898 3 Pat L J 124

"person aggrieved"—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)—

ss 22 46 I L R 41 All 234
I L R 39 All 152

ss 43 (2) 46 I L R 39 All 171

"person in authority"—

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Bom 220

"persona designata"—

See NAKINS I L R 37 Bom 116

"personae incertae"—

See WILL I L R 39 Calc 87
15 C W N 945

"personally interested"—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 538
I L R 32 All 635

"place"—

See BOMBAY PREVENTION OF GAMBLING ACT (BOM II OF 1887) s 4 cls (a) (c)
I L R 37 Bom 651

See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT 1867 ss 1 3
I L R 38 All 47

"place of public resort"—

See MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1888) s 70 I L R 39 Mad 886

"plaintiff"—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1903)
ss 3 7 Sch I Art 14
I L R 40 Bom 561

"plantation"—

See BEWAL TENANCY ACT s 100
15 C W N 349

"positive evidence"—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT
I L R 41 Calc 173

"possession"—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957
See SHARES I L R 48 Calc 342

"premises"—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT
(III OF 1888) s 30
I L R 38 Bom 593

"presentation"—

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1903)
ss 31 32 s 87
I L R 35 All 34

"presumption of innocence"—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

"preservation of line of street"—

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III
OF 1888) s 30
I L R 38 Bom 593

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III
OF 1888) ss 297 299 301
I L R 42 Bom 462

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"price"—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 54 118

I L R 37 Mad 423

"proceeding"—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 47

I L R 39 All 267

"process"—

See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694

"produced"—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Calc 1002

"promulgated"—

See PENAL CODE s 188

I L R 80 Mad 543

"proper courts"—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ART 109 EXP II I L R 45 Bom 453

"property"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) O L R 4

I L R 80 Mad 584

See HINDU LAW—PEVENSIOVER

I L R 48 Calc 536

See MINOR I L R 48 Calc 802

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 180

I L R 3 All 128

"property of any ward"—

See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT s 48

I L R 36 All 331

"proprietor"—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) s 150

I L R 40 All 656

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OTHER LAND REVENUE ACT (XIV OF 1833) ss 146 148 167

I L R 35 All 180

"protected interest"—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 160

18 C W N 349

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 39 Calc 128

"public charitable and religious purposes"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188 s 539

I L R 34 All 468

"public place"—

See MADRAS CITY POLICE ACT (III OF 1885) s 75

I L R 39 Mad 886

See MADRAS TOWNS NUISANCE ACT (MAD III OF 1859) s 3 (10)

I L R 40 Mad 558

"public purpose"—

See PRESUMPTION I L R 39 Bom 279

"publication"—

See TORT I L R 39 Mad 433

"punyaha"—

See LIMITATION 23 C W N 336

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"purchaser" "certified purchaser"—

See REVENUE SALE LAW s 37

15 C W N 706

"putra"—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 37 All 604

"putra putradi"—

See JAGIR I L R 42 Calc 305

I L R 46 Calc 683

"railway"—

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Calc 279

"railway administration"—

See LOSS OF GOODS

I L R 44 Calc 16

"rayat"—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII OF 1880) ss 103B and 104H

I L R 46 Calc 80

"ready goods"—

See CONTRACT I L R 47 Calc 458

"reasonable suspicion"—

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Calc 76

"receipt"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) O L R 89 (b)

I L R 39 Mad 429

"recognised or authorised to act"—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 188

15 C W N 74

"erection"—

See BUILDING I L R 39 Calc 84

"refused to take"—

See PRACTICE I L R 35 Bom 213

"relates to the suit" construction of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 3 J

I L R 33 Mad 102

"release"—

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1889) s 59

I L R 35 Bom 75

"religious assembly"—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 296

I L R 34 All 78

"reside"—

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869) s 3

I L R 32 All 203

See LUNACY I L R 43 Calc 577

See SUBSTITUTED SERVICE

I L R 34 All 394

"resides"—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O L R 1

15 C W N 293

"Restraint of Princes and Rulers"—

See BILL OF LADING

I L R 41 Mad 14

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"rights to sue"

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 AND 93

I L R 38 Mad 1084

"rikhta"

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

I L R 38 Bom 424

"risk note"

See CONTRACT I L R 39 All 418

"river belonging to Government"

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1862) I L R 37 Mad 322

"rolling stock"

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Cal 279

"Samanodaka"

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 40 Mad 654

"same act or transaction"

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I

s 3 I L R 84 Bom 358

"same judgment-debtor"

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 295

I L R 33 Mad 485

"same transaction"

See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal 957

"sanctioned"

See BOMBAY DEVELOP AND SETTLEMENTS ACT s 25 I L R 38 Bom 290

"santan"

See HINDU WILL ACT 21 C W N 85g-

"sarkhat"

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 41 All 654

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) s 12 SCH I

ARTS I 5 I L R 41 All 169

"seaworthiness"

See BILL OF LADING

I L R 38 Mad 941

"secundum alia gata et probata"

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 39 I L R 39 Bom 149

"secured creditor"

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 11 I L R 37 All 383

"series of acts of transaction"

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I n. 3 I L R 34 Bom 358

"shwals"

See RAILWAY ACT 1890 s 75 SCH II(m)

I L R 39 Cal 1029

"single transaction"

See LOWER OF ATTORNEY

I L R 38 Mad 134

"slavery bond"

See CONTRACT 3 Pat L J 412

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"sole risk"

See LOSS OF GOODS

I L R 46 Cal 58

"son"

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 43 Cal 944

"standard rent"

See BOMBAY RENT (WAP RESTRICTIONS)

ACT (BOM II OF 1915) s 2 (1), cl 2

(a) (c) (d) I L R 45 Bom 744

"stating the grounds of the opinion"

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Cal 488

"sirsant"

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT s 3

I L R 34 Mad 290

"street"

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1888) s 30

I L R 43 Bom 123

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Cal 219

"strict proof"

See LIMITATION ACT (II OF 1908) s 5 14 I L R 42 Bom 295

See PVIEW I L R 42 Cal 830

"subject matter"

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909) O XXIII s 1

I L R 42 Bom 165

"submission to Court"

See ARBITRATION I L R 43 Cal 721

"subsequent transferee"

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 51 I L R 39 Bom 507

"succeeded by another Magistrate"

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Cal 781

"successor"

See AGRA TENANT ACT (II OF 1901) s 159 I L R 33 All 553

"sufficient cause"

See COURT FEES ACT 1860 s 46 29

3 Pat L J 74

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 45 Bom 725

See LIMITATION I L R 45 Cal 64

"suit for land"

See LETTERS PATENT (INVENTED) OF THE BOMBAY HIGH COURT CL 12

I L R 37 Bom 491

"suit for land or other immovable property"

See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Cal 842

"suit or other legal proceeding"

See PRESIDENCY TOWN INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909) s 1, 103 104

I L R 35 Bom 63

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"Talukdar"

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)

ss 2 3 5 10 22

I L R 35 All 391

"Talukdari Estate"

See GUJRAT TALUKDARS ACT s 31

I L R 34 Bom 55

"Talukdari Settlement officer"

See GUJRAT TALUKDARS ACT ss 28 29

I L R 34 Bom 142

"Talukdari Tenure"

See GUJRAT TALUKDARS ACT (Bom Act VI of 1883) s 31

I L R 35 Bom 97

"Tavazhi"

See MALABAR LAW

I L R 38 Mad 48

"tenant"

See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS) ACT (Bom II of 1918) s 2 (1) cls (a)

(c) (d) I L R 45 Bom 744

"tenure holder"

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII OF 1885) ss 103 Band 104 H

I L R 46 Calc 90

"trade"

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Calc 678

"trade mark"

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

ss 478 482 I L R 39 All 123

"trading"

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY

I L R 42 Calc 1094

"tried again"

See AUTREPOIS ACQUIT

I L R 41 Calc 1072

"true value"

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 75

(1) (2) AND (3)

I L R 43 Bom 386

"unable"

See GUJRAT TALUKDARS ACT (Bom Act VI of 1883 AS AMENDED BY Bom Act II of 1905) ss 29 29 B (1) (2)

(3) AND 20 E I L R 36 Bom 604

"unable to maintain self"

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 488

I L R 39 Mad 957

"unlawfully and judiciously"

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

"until"

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

I L R 45 Calc 431

"up to"

See CONTRACT FOR SALE

I L R 45 Calc 431

"useless or inoperative"

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

I L R 40 Calc 50

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

"using"

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 471 I L R 33 Mad 392

"value"

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 75

(1) (2) AND (3) I L R 43 Bom 386

"valuable security"

See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV OF 1860)

s 30 467 I L R 38 All 430

"violence"

See JURY TRIAL BY

I L R 40 Calc 367

"Wanted lands"

See GUJRAT TALUKDARS ACT (Bom Act VI of 1883) s 31

I L R 35 Bom 97

"where there has been an appeal or review"

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCR I Art 182

S Pat L J 119

"wilful default"

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 4

I L R 39 Mad 584

"withdrawal"

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 248

345 20 C W N 1209

"without issue"

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 43 Calc 944

"witnesses for the defence"

See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE

I L R 39 Calc 885

"words which are likely or may have a tendency directly or indirectly whether by inference suggestion allusion metaphor implication or otherwise" [m s 4, (1)]

See PRESS ACT (I OF 1910) ss 3 (1)

4 (1) 17 19 20 22

I L R 39 Mad 1085

"youthful offender"

See REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT (VIII OF 1897) s 31

I L R 39 All 141

WORK CALCULATED TO DEPRAVE MORALS

See OBSCENE PUBLICATION

I L R 39 Calc 377

WORKMAN

See WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859)

I L R 35 All 61 and 143

I L R 41 Mad 162

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859)

I

Special procedure under the Act not applicable to ordinary loans between master and workman. Held that the special procedure provided by Act XIII of 1859 for the recovery of money advanced in the circumstances therein described, is not applicable

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII of 1859)—contd

where money is advanced to a workman not for the purpose of assisting him to complete a specific piece of work but as an ordinary loan to be repaid out of the workman's wages. In the matter of Anusoori Sanyasi I L R 28 Mad 37 referred to GIGA : MUHAMMAD AMIN (1912)

I L R 35 All 61

2 ————— Magistrate not competent to take proceedings under unless moved by the employer. The provisions of Act XIII of 1859 can only be applied at the instance of the employer. A magistrate has no jurisdiction quo motu to pass orders under that Act as an alternative to taking action under the Indian Penal Code. CHHEDI : MUHAMMAD ALI (1913)

I L R 35 All 143

3 ————— Bandsman not an artificer labourer or workman. A bandsman is not an artificer labourer or a workman within the meaning of those words in the Workman's Breach of Contract Act (XIII of 1859). Re ROSARIO QUADROS (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 551

4 ————— Scope of the Act—Act applicable not merely to fraudulent breaches of contract. The provisions of Act No XIII of 1859 are not applicable merely to fraudulent breaches of contract but can and must be enforced in respect to any breach of a contract within the scope of the Act. Emperor v Bakhtawar I L R 40 All 282 followed AZIZ UR RAHMAN v HANSA (1918)

I L R 40 All 670

5 ————— Scope of the Act—Workman meaning of—Status of accused proof of—Duty of complainant to prove—Absence of proof. The accused received an advance of Rs 2500 and contracted to supply coolies to a rubber estate. Under the contract he was to receive a commission of 10 per cent on the wages of the coolies and coolies and an additional Rs 25 a month if he contracted he was proceeded against under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act. On a difference of opinion between SADASIYA AYYAR and PHILLIPS JJ as to whether the accused was a workman within the meaning of the Act. Held by AYLING J agreeing with SADASIYA AYYAR J—(i) That the accused was not a workman within the meaning of the Act and (ii) that the word workman means a person who engages in manual labour of some kind whether skilled or unskilled. Gilby v Subbu I L R 7 Mad 100 Calaram v Chengappa I L R 13 Mad 351 Manubears in re 27 M L J 392 and Re Rosario Quadros I L R 38 Mad 551 followed Powson v Hanama Meats I L R P 1 Mad 280 and High Court Proceedings dated 13th July 1867 3 Mad H O R App 111V disapproved. KUNHI MOHID : CHAKU NAIR (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 182

Compositor an artificer—Contract to gradually work out advance from wages a contract under the Act. A compositor is an artificer if not a workman within Act XIII of 1859. An agreement by which an advance given to an artificer is to be repaid by him by periodical deductions from his wages does not merely create a relation of debtor and creditor but is a contract between master and workman within the meaning of the Act. SOMAYAKA : CHELLAPATI PAO (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 53

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII of 1859)—contd

s 1—

See PENAL CODE s 211

I L R 43 Mad 443

1 2—Criminal Procedure Code s 250—Complaint of employer dismissed—Order for compensation to be paid to workman. It is not competent to a Magistrate when dismissing as groundless a complaint under s 1 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act 1859 to proceed under s 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and order the employer to pay compensation. JAMIL AHMAD : MUHAMMAD ISHAQ (1919)

I L R 41 All 322

ss 1, 2 4—Indefinite contract—Advance of money to workman to be paid off out of wages at employer's option—Slavery—Contract for term certain or for specified work or otherwise meaning of—Scope of the Act. Where an advance of money made by an employer to a workman was agreed to be repaid out of the workman's wages not when the borrower chose to pay but when the employer chose to realise it. Held that the contract was indefinite and sanctioned a species of slavery and was not enforceable under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. Proceedings 17th Dec 1873 7 Mad H C R R 222 and Ram Prasad v Dirigopal I L R 3 All 774 followed. The advance was made as a loan and not on account of work contracted to be performed within the meaning of s 1 of the Act. S 4 of the Act which purports to bring within its operation all contracts and agreements whether by deed or written or verbal and whether such contract be for a term certain or for specified work or otherwise is controlled by s 1 which provides that the advance should have been made to the workman on account of any work which he shall have contracted to perform. The Act does not cover breaches of all kinds of contract between (speaking generally) employer and workman. GOBINDA RAJWAR : H J APKAR (1910)

15 C W N 15

s 2—

Order under—Right of appeal from the order—Proper orders to be made under s 2. No appeal lies to the Sessions Court from the order of the Magistrate under s 2 of Act XIII of 1859. The Magistrate while making an order under s 2 of Act XIII of 1859 cannot make an order of imprisonment in default but such an order could be made after there has been non-compliance with the order of repayment or carrying out the contract. IVKIL CHAUDHARY

ROY : KAMAR ALI SIEDAR (1913)

18 C W N 1271

Advance given by employer on agreement by workman to work for him for a certain specified period—Breach of agreement. A workman living in Cawnpore took an advance of Rs 10 from his employer and entered into an agreement to work for him for ten months on the understanding that one rupee was to be deducted from his wages each month. Held that such a contract contained nothing repugnant to Act XIII of 1859 and was capable of being enforced under the provisions of ss 1 and 3 of that Act. Lucas v Imam Singh Criminal Revision No 23 of 1910 decided on the 21st July 1910 followed. LINGEOR : BAKHTAWAR (1918)

I L R 40 All 282

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT
(XIII OF 1859)—concl.— 2.—concl.

Summary trial—Offence
—Criminal Procedure Code s 260 4 (o) A case under s 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act 1859 is triable summarily under the provisions of s 260 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Queen Empress v Indarjit I L R 11 All 96^o referred to Emperor v Dhondu I L R 33 Bom 2^o and Emperor v Balu Salvi I L R 23 Bom 25 dissented from Pollard v Mathial I L R 4 Mad 231 and Queen Empress v Kattayan I L R 20 Mad 235 distinguished Andis SAMAD v LUTTY I L R 43 All 281

High Court's power to interfere under ss 435 and 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898)—Contract to carry logs of timber for long distances—Contract does not fall under the Act The High Court has power under ss 435 and 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 to revise an order passed by a Magistrate directing either return of the advance or specific performance of the contract under para 1 of s 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act 1859. The accused entered into an agreement with the complainant engaging to remove 100 logs of timber from a forest to a forest depot a distance of 2½ miles, and received an advance of Rs 440. The accused having failed to carry out the contract was tried under s 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act 1859 and was ordered to repay the advance. On application under criminal revisional jurisdiction—Held that the contract in question was not a contract of an artificer workman or labourer and did not fall within the purview of the Act EMPEROR v DEVAPPA PAMAPPA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 807

ss 2—3—Contract between master and workman containing covenant for compensation for breach of agreement by workman—Operation of Act not thereby excluded An employer of labour is not precluded from availing himself of the provisions of Act No XIII of 1859 merely because in the contract of service between himself and his workmen there is stipulated penalty capable of enforcement by a civil suit in the event of breach of the contract on the part of the workmen which penalty has admittedly not been enforced nor payment of the same tendered on the part of the workmen Queen Empress v Indarjit I L R 11 All 232 referred to Emperor v Muhammad Din 22 Indian Cases 74 and Emperor v Khuda Baksh 27 Indian Cases 901 not followed EMPEROR v RAM LAL (1919)

I L R 41 All 390

WORSHIP

— turn of—

See TURNS OF WORSHIPSee USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

I L R 39 Calc 227

— right to worship a deity according to one's own belief—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 9

I L R 44 Bom 410

— of image—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 41 Calc 57

WORSHIP—*concl.Worshippers' right of, suit of—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 9 I L R 40 Mad 212WRIST-WATCH BANDSee DESIGN I L R 45 Calc 605WRITSee HABEAS CORPUS I L R 44 Calc 459

— of possession—

See BAILEY I L R 42 Calc 313See LEGAL CODE s 323
19 C W N 273WRITTEN STATEMENTSee CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 143
14 C W N 80See LEGAL CODE s 80
19 C W N 1043

— refusing application to file—

See APPEAL I L R 43 Calc 818

— filing of by accused
The practice of filing written statements on behalf of accused persons continued. DAILY LEGAL REMEMBRANCE: MATLADHARI SINGH (1915)
20 C W N 129

— practice Though written statements may be accepted from the accused in accordance with the universal practice in the Courts under the Calcutta High Court they do not take the place of evidence nor of such examination of the accused as is contemplated by s 342 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Emperor v Inauja (1903) All N 1 dissented from AMRITA LAL HAZRA v EMPEROR (1915)
I L R 42 Calc 957

WRONGFUL ACTSSee MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 388WRONGFUL ATTACHMENTSee APPEAL I L R 37 Calc 426WRONGFUL CONFINEMENTSee REJOINDER OF PARTIES

I L R 42 Calc 760

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 343 I L R 42 Bom 181

— Detention of suspended police officer in lock up under an illegal Circular order of the Commissioner of Police published in the Calcutta Police Gazette—Mistake of fact and not of law—Good faith—PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) ss 76 79 a 341—Pecision of orders of acquittal—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 423 439 Where a Deputy Commissioner of Police sent a head constable placed under suspension to the lock up without malice and in conformity with a Circular order of the Commissioner of Police published in the Calcutta Police Gazette the property of the Government of Bengal and the medium of communication of all orders and regulations ordinarily having the sanction of law issued by the Commissioner for the guidance of police

WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT—could

officers and carried out by them which Circular order had been consistently followed for 15 months but was invalid as not having been approved of by the Bengal Government under s 9 of the Calcutta Police Act (Beng IV of 1866) of which fact however the accused Deputy Commissioner was not aware. Held that he was justified in assuming that the said Circular order had received the sanction of the Government of Bengal and that as he by reason of a mistake of fact and not of law in good faith believed himself to be bound by law to obey the instructions of the Commissioner of Police and to be justified by law in sending the head constable to such custody he was protected by s 46 and 79 of the Penal Code. The High Court does not on revision interfere with an order of acquittal unless such interference is urgently demanded in the interest of public justice. Faydar Thakur v. K. Choudhury 1 L R 42 Calc 612 referred to PRAMATHA NATH BARAT v P C LALMI (1920)

1 L R 47 Calc 818

WRONGFUL DISMISSAL

S & DISMISSAL

See DAMAGES 1 L R 46 I. A. 314

Suit for wrongful dismissal against Crown, if lies—Dismissal—Government service for commercial undertakings—Agreement of service—Notice in terms of agreement—Payment of wages for period under notice—Crown power of dismissal of Government servants civil and military—21 and 22 Vic c 106 s 65. A servant who had received his notice of dismissal and got his wages for the remainder of the term covered by the notice cannot maintain an action for wrongful dismissal. The Crown in the absence of Statutory provisions can dismiss any servant in its civil or military employ exactly as the East India Company could under s 3 of 3 and 4 Will IV Ch 83 and therefore a suit for wrongful dismissal at the instance of a dismissed servant does not lie against the Secretary of State for India in Council under s 65 of 21 & 22 Vic Ch 106. King v. Secretary of State for India (1908)

15 C W N 486

WRONGFUL POSSESSION

See SHERIFF 1 L R 42 Calc 244

WRONGFUL RESTRAINT

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860), ss 341 109 1 L R 43 Bom 531

WRONGFUL SEIZURE

See ARREST OF SHIP 1 L R 42 Calc 85

YYAJMAN

See HINDU LAW—HEREDITARY PRIEST 1 L R 36 Bom 94

See VATANDAR JOSHI 1 L R 40 Bom 112

YATI

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION 1 L R 40 Mad 846

ZZAMINDAR

S MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s 6 SUBS (5), 8.

1 L R 39 Mad 944

engagement by with Government—

S MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1860) s 1 PROVISOS 1 AND 2

1 L R 40 Mad 586

grant by—

S MINES AND MINERALS

1 L R 47 Calc 85

grant by to his wife and minor son—

S TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1855) s 10

1 L R 38 Mad 867

liability of, for unlawful acts of his servants—

S SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

1 L R 38 Calc 156

rights of—

S NAVIGABLE RIVER

1 L R 46 Calc 390

service to—

See MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1902) s 4

1 L R 38 Mad 620

ZAMINDAR AND INAMDAR

pre-emption as to—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905) s 8

1 L R 38 Mad 608

ZAMINDAR OR MITTADAR

right of, to a charge—assignment of Jodi—

S INAMDAR 1 L R 40 Mad 83

ZAMINDARI

impartible—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY 1 L R 41 Mad 78

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION 1 L R 38 Mad 1105

sale of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE 1 L R 38 All 89

settled in Permanent Settlement—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD VII OF 1860) s 1 AND PROVISOS 1 AND 2

1 L R 40 Mad 586

ZAMINDARI LANDS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1905), ss 6 SUBS (5), 8.

1 L R 39 Mad 944

See MADRAS WATER CESS ACT (VII OF 1863)

1 L R 39 Mad 67

ZAMINDARI RIGHTS

See KUPSTRA STATE OF 1 L R 39 Calc 711

ZAMINDARI SALE.

— in execution—Whether entire zamindars or only amindars life estates sold—Mixed question of law and fact depending on entire evidence in the case—State of then law as to the amindars interest therein not conclusive—Conduct of parties important evidence. A question as to whether the entire estate in a zamindari and not only the life interest of the zamindar was sold in execution and brought by the purchaser is a question of mixed law and fact to be determined by the evidence in each case. All that Abdul Khan v Appaya sams Vaicler I L R 27 Mad 131 142 decided in reference to the above question was that the state of the law as understood at the time of sale as to the rights of the zamindar in regard to the zamindari was evidence to be considered along with other evidence in the case it is not alone conclusive on the question. In determining the question of what the Court intended to sell and the purchaser understood he bought evidence as to how the parties affected by the transaction themselves viewed it at the time is of much greater value than evidence which may be procurable some twenty years after the transaction took place. On the evidence in the case their Lordships held that the sale which took place in 1830 was of the whole zamindari and that the purchaser bought the whole zamindari in execution. Veera chandra Aijar v Harudaga Na hiar I L R 34 Mad 183 referred to. Veera Soorappa Nayani v Errappa Vaidu I L R 29 Mad 481 490 explained. ALAGARAYA GOUNDER v RAMANUSJA VAIDU (1911) I L R 37 Mad 22

ZAMINDARS AND RAJAS

— rights of waters of rivers passing through their lands—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII of 1895) I L R 37 Mad 322

ZERAIF

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Cal. 432

ZINA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY
I L R 33 Bom 111

ZURPESHGI LEASE

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 5 (5),
15 C W N 345

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Cal. 432

See MORTGAGE 16 C W N 505

— Occupancy right rayats interest acquisition of—Previous possession as rayat—Subsequent urpeshgi lease effect of. The plaintiff's suit was for recovery of possession of land which had been given in zurpeshgi to the defendant for a term of 15 years from 1301 to 1315 F S the terms of the urpeshgi being as follows. It is desired that the said sahib ticca dar should take possession of the said land make proper cultivation himself or get it cultivated by others grow indigo seeds or any other indigo crop by using the land as his khas erant or by settling the same with tenants according to his own desire and shall continue appropriating the proceeds thereof till the term of the ticca. He shall year by year deduct the said fixed jama in payment of the principal and interest of his urpeshgi as per account given below and shall pay the remainder the amount of lessor's rights payable to us towards the end of the term of the ticca on talim receipts therefor from us. He shall conveniently cut and recover the indigo crops grown and standing on any quantity of land in 1315 F S when the term of the ticca pottah comes to an end and shall pay ten annas rent for 1910 F S at Rs 6 3 0 per bigha and shall give up possession of the said land. Held that the urpeshgi pottah did not create any rayati interest in the defendant far less a right of occupancy and on the expiry of the term of the pottah the plaintiff were entitled to get khas possession. That a rayat by taking a urpeshgi lease of land of which he was previously in possession as a rayat does not lose his rayati status or divest himself of his right to acquire a right of occupancy in the land. LAL BHADUR SAHNI v MACKENZIE (1913) 19 C W N 229

WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT

officers and carried out in order had been considered but was invalid as not sanctioned by the Bengal Government. Calcutta Police Act (B) fact however the accused was not aware. Hell assuming that the sanction of the Government as he by reason of a law in good faith believed to obey the instructions of Police and to be the head constable protected by ss 76 and 7. High Court does not give an order of acquittal. Urgently demanded in justice. Faujdar Thakur I L R 42 Cal 61 NATH BARAT P C LAL

WRONGFUL DISMISSAL

See DISMISSAL

See DAMAGE

Suit for Wages Crown, Hell—Dismissal for commercial service—Notice in terms of wages for period under dismissal of Government—21 and 22 Vict. 100 had received his wages for the remainder of the notice cannot maintain dismissal. The Crown in its provisions can dismiss military employ even if pay could under the law and therefore a suit for wages in instance of a dismissal by the Secretary of State for India 60 of 21 & 22 Vict. 100 TAPES OF STATE FOR INDIA

WRONGFUL POSSESSION

See SUEBATT

WRONGFUL RESTRAINT

See PENAL CODE (ss 341 100)

WRONGFUL SEIZURE

See ARREST OF SUSPECT

YYAJMAN

See HINDU LAW

See YATANDAR

YATI

See HINDU LAW

ZAMINDARI SALE.

in execution—Whether entire zamindari or only amindar's life estates sold—Mixed question of law and fact depending on entire evidence in the case—State of then law as to the amindar's interest therein not conclusive—Conduct of parties important evidence. A question as to whether the entire estate in a zamindari and not only the life interest of the zamindar was sold in execution and brought by the purchaser is a question of mixed law and fact to be determined by the evidence in each case. All that Abdul A. Khan v Appaya sami Vaidar I L R 37 Mad 131 142 decided in reference to the above question was that the state of the law as understood at the time of sale as to the rights of the zamindar in regard to the zamindari was evidence to be considered along with other evidence in the case it is not alone conclusive on the question. In determining the question of what the Court intended to sell and the purchaser understood he bought evidence as to how the parties affected by the transaction themselves viewed it at the time is of much greater value than evidence which may be procurable soon twenty years after the transaction took place. On the evidence in the case their Lordships held that the sale which took place in 1890 was of the whole zamindari and that the purchaser bought the whole zamindari in execution. Veera thadra Aiyar v Marudaya Na hiar I L R 33 Mad 188 referred to. Veera Soorappa Vajani v Errappa Vaidu I L R 20 Mad 493 490 explained. Atigahaya Gounder v Panayota Vaidu (1911) I L R 37 Mad 22

ZAMINDARS AND RAJAS

rights of waters of rivers passing through their lands—

S. v. Madras Irrigation Cess Act (VII of 1855) I L R 37 Mad 322

ZERAIF

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Cal. 432

ZINA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY
I L R 34 Bom 111

ZURPESHGI LEASE

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 5 (5);
15 C W N 345

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Cal. 432

See MORTGAGE
10 C W N 505

Occupancy right raiyats not rest acquisition of—Previous possession as raiyat—Subsequent zurpeshgi lease effect of. The plaintiff's suit was for recovery of possession of land which had been given in zurpeshgi to the defendant for a term of 15 years from 1301 to 1315 F S the terms of the zurpeshgi being as follow. It is desired that the said sahib ticcadar should take possession of the said land make proper cultivation himself or get it cultivated by others grow indigo seeds or any other indigo crop by using the land as his khas eras or by settling the same with tenants according to his own desire and shall continue appropriating the proceeds thereof till the term of the ticca. He shall year by year deduct the said fixed jama in payment of the principal and interest of his zurpeshgi as per account given below and shall pay the remainder the amount of lessor's rights payable to us towards the end of the term of the ticca on taking receipts therefor from us. He shall conveniently cut and recover the indigo crops grown and standing on any quantity of land in 1315 F S when the term of the ticca pottah comes to an end and shall pay ten annas rent for 1916 F S at Rs 6 30 per bigha and shall give up possession of the said land. Held that the zurpeshgi pottah did not create any raiyati interest in the defendant far less a right of occupancy and on the expiry of the term of the pottah the plaintiffs were entitled to get khas possession. That a raiyat by taking a zurpeshgi lease of land of which he was previously in possession as a raiyat does not lose his raiyati status or divest himself of his right to acquire a right of occupancy in the land. LAL BHADUR SARI v MACKENZIE (1913) 19 C W N 229

WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT—contd

officers and carried out by them which Circular order had been consistently followed for 18 months but was invalid as not having been approved of by the Bengal Government under s 9 of the Calcutta Police Act (Beng IV of 1866) of which fact however the accused Deputy Commissioner was not aware Held that he was justified in assuming that the said Circular order had received the sanction of the Government of Bengal and that as he by reason of a mistake of fact and not of law in good faith believed himself to be bound by law to obey the instructions of the Commissioner of Police and to be justified by law in sending the head constable to such custody he was protected by ss 76 and 79 of the Penal Code The High Court does not on revision, interfere with an order of acquittal unless such interference is urgently demanded in the interest of public justice Faujdar Thalur v Kasi Choudhury I L R 42 Cal 612 referred to: PRAMATHA NATH BARAT: P C LAHIRI (1920)

I L R 47 Cal 818

WRONGFUL DISMISSAL

See DISMISSAL.

See DAMAGES I L R 46 I A 314

Suit for wrongful dismissal against Crown if leg—Dismissal—Government servant for commercial undertakings—Agreement of service—Notice in terms of agreement—Payment of wages for period under notice—Crown power of dismissal of Government servants civil and military—21 and 22 Vict c 106 s 65 A servant who had received his notice of dismissal and got his wages for the remainder of the term covered by the notice cannot maintain an action for wrongful dismissal The Crown in the absence of Statutory provisions can dismiss any servant in its civil or military employ exactly as the East India Company could under s 75 of 3 and 4 Will IV Ch 85 and therefore a suit for wrongful dismissal at the instance of a dismissed servant does not lie against the Secretary of State for India in Council under s 65 of 21 & 22 Vict Ch 106 King v Secre- TARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1908)

15 C W N 486

WRONGFUL POSSESSION

See SHERATT I L R 42 Cal 244

WRONGFUL RESTRAINT

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
= 341 100 I L R 43 Bom 531

WRONGFUL SEIZURE

See ARREST OF SHIP

I L R 42 Cal 85

YYAJMAN

See HINDU LAW—HEREDITARY PRIEST
I L R 33 Bom 94

See YATANDAR JOSHI
I L R 40 Bom 112

YATI

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 40 Mad 846

ZZAMINDAR

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s. 6 SUBS (6) 8

I L R 39 Mad 944

engagement by with Government—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD- VII OF 1865) s 1 PROVISOS 1 AND 2

I L R 40 Mad 886

grant by—

See MINES AND MINERALS

I L R 47 Cal 95

grant by to his wife and minor

son—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 10

I L R 38 Mad 867

liability of, for unlawful acts of his servants—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR.

I L R 38 Cal 156

rights of—

See NAVIGABLE RIVER

I L R 46 Cal 390

service to—

See MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802) s 4

I L R 38 Mad 620

ZAMINDAR AND INAMDAR

pre-emption as to—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8

I L R 38 Mad 608

ZAMINDAR OF MITTADAR

right of to a charge—assignment of Jodi—

See INAMDAR I L R 40 Mad 93

ZAMINDARI

impartible—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 41 Mad 778

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 38 Mad 1105

sale of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.
I L R 38 ALL 89

settled as Permanent Settlement—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD- VII OF 1865) s 1 AND PROVISOS. 1 AND 2

I L R 40 Mad 886

ZAMINDARI LANDS

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss 6 SUBS (6) 8

I L R 39 Mad 944

See MADRAS WATER CESS ACT (VII OF 1863)

I L R 38 Mad 67

ZAMINDARI RIGHTS

See KUNGPURA STATE OF
I L R 39 Cal 711

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "Taluqdar"—
See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)
 ss 2 3 8 10 22
 I L R 35 All 391
- "Taluqdari Estate"—
See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT s 31
 I L R 34 Bom 55
- "Taluqdari Settlement officer"—
See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT ss 28 29
 I L R 34 Bom 142
- "Taluqdari Tenure"—
See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1888) s 31
 I L R 35 Bom 97
- "Tavazhi"—
See MALABAR LAW
 I L R 38 Mad 48
- "tenan"—
See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTION) s
 ACT (BOM. II OF 1916) s 3(1) CLS (a)
 (c) (d) I L R 45 Bom 744
- "tenure holder"—
See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII OF 1885) ss 103 B and 104 H
 I L R 46 Calc 90
- "trade"—
See RECEIVER I L R 40 Calc 678
- "trade mark"—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
 ss 478 482 I L R 39 All 123
- "trading"—
See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
 I L R 42 Calc 1094
- "tried again"—
See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT
 I L R 41 Calc 1072
- "true value"—
See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1860) s. 75
 (1) (2) AND (3)
 I L R 43 Bom 386
- "unable"—
See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT
 VI OF 1888 AS AMENDED BY BOM
 ACT II OF 1905) ss 29 29 B (1) (2)
 (3) AND 30 E I L R 35 Bom 604
- "unable to maintain 'self'"—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
 OF 1898) s 488
 I L R 39 Mad 957
- "unlawfully and judiciously"—
See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957
- "until"—
See CONTRACT FOR SALE
 I L R 45 Calc 481
- "up to"—
See CONTRACT FOR SALE
 I L R 45 Calc 491
- "useless or inoperative"—
See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
 I L R 40 Calc 80

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "using"—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
 s 471 I L R 33 Mad 392
- "value"—
See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1860) s 75
 (1) (2) AND (3) I L R 43 Bom 386
- "valuable security"—
See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV OF 1860)
 ss 30 467 I L R 38 All 430
- "violence"—
See JURY TRIAL BY
 I L R 40 Calc 367
- "Wants lands"—
See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT
 VI OF 1888) s 31
 I L R 35 Bom 97
- "where there has been an appeal
 or review"—
See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART
 182
 3 Pat L J 119
- "wilful default"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 4
 I L R 39 Mad 584
- "withdrawal"— See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 248
 345
 20 C W N 1209
- "without issue"—
See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
 I L R 43 Calc 944
- "witnesses for the defence"—
See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE
 I L R 39 Calc 885
- "words which are likely or may have a tendency directly or indirectly whether by inference suggestion, allusion metaphor implication or otherwise" (in
 s 4 (1))—
See PRESS ACT (I OF 1910) ss 3 (1)
 4 (1) 17 19 20 22
 I L R 39 Mad 1085
- "youthful offender"—
See REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT (VIII
 OF 1897) s 31 I L R 39 All 141
- WORK CALCULATED TO DEPRAVE MORALS See OBSCENE PUBLICATION
 I L R 39 Calc 377
- WORKMAN
See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT
 ACT (XIII OF 1859)
 I L R 35 All 61 and 143
 I L R 41 Mad 182
- WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT
 (XIII OF 1859)
 I. ———— Procedure—
Special procedure under the Act not applicable to ordinary loans between master and workman. Held that the special procedure provided by Act XIII of 1859 for the recovery of money advanced in the circumstances therein described is not applicable

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "rights to sue"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 92 AND 93
 I L R 38 Mad 1064
- "rikhta"—
See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
 I L R 36 Bom 424
- "risk note"—
See CONTRACT I L R 39 All 418
- "river belonging to Government"—
See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865) I L R 37 Mad 322
- "rolling stock"—
See RAILWAY PASSENGER
 I L R 44 Calc 279
- "Samanodaka"—
See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE
 I L R 40 Mad 654
- "same act or transaction"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I R 3 I L R 34 Bom 358
- "same judgment debtor"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 295
 I L R 33 Mad 465
- "same transaction"—
See CHAPOR I L R 42 Calc 957
- "sanctioned"—
See BOMBAY SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT ACT s 22 I L R 36 Bom 290
- "santan"—
See HINDU WILL ACT 21 C W N 854
- "sarkhat"—
See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 41 All 654
- See STAMP ACT (II OF 1890) s 12 Sch I Arts 1 5 I L R 41 All 169
- "seaworthiness"—
See BILL OF LADING
 I L R 38 Mad 941
- "secundum alia gata et probata"—
See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877) s 39 I L R 39 Bom 149
- "secured creditor"—
See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 31 I L R 37 All 383
- "series of acts of transaction"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I R 3 I L R 34 Bom 358
- "shawls"—
See RAILWAY ACT 1890 s 70 Sch II(m)
 I L R 39 Calc 1029
- "single transaction"—
See LOWER OF ATTORNEY
 I L R 33 Mad 134
- "slavery bond"—
See CONTRACT 3 Pat L J 412

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "sole risk"—
See LOSS OF GOODS
 I L R 46 Calc 58
- "son"—
See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
 I L R 33 Calc 944
- "stands d rent"—
See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS) ACT (BOM II OF 1918) s 2 (1) cls (a) (c) (d) I L R 45 Bom 744
- "stating the grounds of its opinion"—
See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Calc 466
- "stream"—
See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT s 2
 I L R 34 Mad 283
- "street"—
See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1888) s 303
 I L R 43 Bom 122
- See LAND ACQUISITION
 I L R 44 Calc 219
- "strict proof"—
See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) ss 5 14 I L R 42 Bom 295
- See REVIEW I L R 42 Calc 830
- "subject matter"—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII s 1
 I L R 42 Bom 155
- "submission to Court"—
See ARBITRATION I L R 46 Calc 721
- "subsequent transferee"—
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 63 I L R 39 Bom 507
- "succeeded by another Magistrate"—
See RIOTING I L R 39 Calc 781
- "successor"—
See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901) s 159 I L R 33 All 553
- "sufficient cause"—
See COURT FEES ACT 1870 ss 4 6 7
 3 Pat L J 74
- See LAND ACQUISITION
 I L R 45 Bom 725
- See LIMITATION I L R 45 Calc 94
- "suit for land"—
See LETTERS PATENT (AMENDED) OF THE BOMBAY HIGH COURT CL 12
 I L R 37 Bom 491
- "suit for land or other immovable property"—
See JURISDICTION I L R 42 Calc 912
- "suit or other legal proceeding"—
See RESIDENCY TOWN INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909) ss 17 103 104
 I L R 35 Bom 63

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "Taluqdar"—
 See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)
 ss 2 3 & 10 22
 I L R 35 All 391
- "Taluqdari Estate"—
 See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT s 31
 I L R 34 Bom 55
- "Taluqdari Settlement officer"—
 See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT ss 28 29
 I L R 34 Bom 142
- "Taluqdari Tenure"—
 See GUJRATH TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT VI OF 1888) s 31
 I L R 35 Bom 97
- "Tayazhi"—
 See MALABAR LAW
 I L R 38 Mad 48
- "tenant"—
 See BOMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS)
 ACT (BOM II OF 1918) s 2 (1) cls (a) () (d) I L R 45 Bom 744
- "tenure holder"—
 See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII OF 1885) ss 103 B and 104 H
 I L R 48 Calc 90
- "trade"—
 See PECKIVER I L R 40 Calc 678
- "trade mark"—
 See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
 ss 478 482 I L R 39 All 123
- "trading"—
 See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
 I L R 42 Calc 1084
- "tried again"—
 See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT
 I L R 41 Calc 1072
- "true value"—
 See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s. 75
 (1) (2) AND (3)
 I L R 43 Bom 386
- "unable"—
 See GUJRAT TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT
 VI OF 1888 AS AMENDED BY BOM
 ACT II OF 1905) ss 29 29 B (1) (2)
 (3) AND 29 E I L R 38 Bom 604
- "unable to maintain self"—
 See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
 OF 1898) s. 488
 I L R 39 Mad 957
- "unlawfully and judiciously"—
 See CHABOE I L R 42 Calc 957
- "until"—
 See CONTRACT FOR SALE
 I L R 45 Calc 431
- "up to"—
 See CONTRACT FOR SALE
 I L R 45 Calc 431
- "useless or inoperative"—
 See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
 I L R 40 Calc 50

WORDS AND PHRASES—contd

- "using"—
 See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
 s 471 I L R 33 Mad 392
- "value"—
 See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 75
 (1) (2) AND (3) I L R 43 Bom 386
- "valuable security"—
 See PENAL CODE ACT (XLV OF 1860)
 ss 30 467 I L R 38 All 430
- "violence"—
 See JURY TRIAL B1
 I L R 40 Calc 367
- "Wants lands"—
 See GUJRAT TALUQDARS ACT (BOM ACT
 VI OF 1888) s 31
 I L R 35 Bom 97
- "where there has been an appeal
 or review"—
 See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART
 182 3 Pat L J 119
- "wilful default"—
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL P 4
 I L R 39 Mad. 584
- "withdrawal"—
 See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 248
 245 20 C W N 1209
- "without issue"—
 See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
 I L R 43 Calc 844
- "witnesses for the defence"—
 See JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATE
 I L R 39 Calc 885
- "words which are likely or may have a tendency directly or indirectly
 whether by inference suggestion, allusion metaphor implication or otherwise" [in
 s 4 (1)]—
 S PRESS ACT (I OF 1910) ss 3 (1)
 4 (1) 17 19 20
 I L R 39 Mad. 1085
- "youthful offender"—
 See REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT (VIII
 OF 1897) s 31 I L R 39 All 141
- WORK CALCULATED TO DEPRAVE MORALS See OBSCENE PUBLICATION
 I L R 39 Calc 377
- WORKMAN
 See WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT
 ACT (XIII OF 1859)
 I L R 35 All. III and 143
 I L R. 41 Mad. 182
- WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT
 (XIII OF 1859)
 I. ———— Procedure—
 Special procedure under the Act not applicable to ordinary loans between master and workman. Held that the special procedure provided by Act XIII of 1859 for the recovery of money advanced in the circumstances therein described, is not applicable

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859)—contd

where money is advanced to a workman not for the purpose of assisting him to complete a specific piece of work but as an ordinary loan to be repaid out of the workman's wages. In the matter of Anusoori Sanyasi I L R 28 Mad 37 referred to GIGA v MUHAMMAD AMIN (1912)

I L R 35 All 61

2 ————— Magistrate not competent to take proceedings under unless moved by the employer The provisions of Act XIII of 1859 can only be applied at the instance of the employer. A magistrate has no jurisdiction suo motu to pass orders under that Act as an alternative to taking action under the Indian Penal Code. CHHEDI v MUHAMMAD ALI (1913)

I L R 35 All 143

3 ————— Bandsman not an artificer labourer or workman A bandsman is not an artificer labourer or a workman within the meaning of those words in the Workman's Breach of Contract Act (XIII of 1859). Re ROSARIO QUADROS (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 551

4 ————— Scope of the Act—Act applicable not merely to fraudulent breaches of contract The provisions of Act No XIII of 1859 are not applicable merely to fraudulent breaches of contract but can and must be enforced in respect to any breach of a contract within the scope of the Act. Emperor v Baikhtawar I L R 40 All 282 followed. AZIZ UR RAHMAN v HANSA (1918)

I L R 40 All 670

5 ————— Scope of the Act—Workman meaning of—Status of accused proof of—Duty of complainant to prove—Absence of proof The accused received an advance of Rs 2500 and contracted to supply coolies to a rubber estate. Under the contract he was to receive a commission of 10 per cent on the wages of the coolies and coolies and an additional Rs 25 a month if he contracted he was proceeded against under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act. On a difference of opinion between SADASIVA AYYAR and PHILLIPS JJ as to whether the accused was a workman within the meaning of the Act. Held by AYLING J agreeing with SADASIVA AYYAR J —(i) That the accused was not a workman within the meaning of the Act and (ii) that the word workman means a person who engages in manual labour of some kind whether skilled or unskilled. Gilby v Subbu I L R 7 Mad 100 Calarum v Chengappa I L R 13 Mad 351 Mansuabari in re 27 M L J 392 and Pe. Rosario Quadros I L R 38 Mad 551 followed. Powson v Hanama Mestri I L R 1 Mad 280 and High Court Proceedings dated 13th July 1867 3 Mad H C R App XXV disapproved. KUCHI MOIDIK v CHANU NAIR (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 182

6 ————— Compositor an artificer—Contract to gradually work out advance from wages a contract under the Act A compositor is an artificer if not a workman within Act XIII of 1859. An agreement by which an advance given to an artificer is to be repaid by him by periodical deductions from his wages does not merely create a relation of debtor and creditor but is a contract between master and workman within the meaning of the Act. SOMANNA v CHELLAPATHI RAO (1921)

I L R 44 Mad 53

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859)—contd

s 1—

See PENAL CODE, s 211

I L R 43 Mad 443

ss 1 2—Criminal Procedure Code s 250—Complaint of employer dismissed—Order for compensation to be paid to workman It is not competent to a Magistrate when dismissing as groundless a complaint under s 1 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act 1859 to proceed under s 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure and order the employer to pay compensation. JAMIL AHMAD v MUHAMMAD ISHAQ (1919)

I L R 41 All 322

ss 1 2 4—Indefinite contract—Advance of money to workman to be paid off out of wages at employer's option—Slavery—Contract for term certain or for specified work or otherwise meaning of—Scope of the Act Where an advance of money made by an employer to a workman was agreed to be repaid out of the workman's wages not when the borrower chose to pay but when the employer chose to realise it. Held that the contract was indefinite and sanctioned a species of slavery and was not enforceable under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. Proceedings 12th Dec 1873 7 Mad H C R Rl xxx and Ram Prasad v Dirigopal I L R 3 All 774 followed. The advance was made as a loan and not on account of work contracted to be performed within the meaning of s 1 of the Act. S 4 of the Act which purports to bring within its operation all contracts and agreements whether by deed or written or verbal and whether such contract be for a term certain or for specified work or otherwise is controlled by s 1 which provides that the advance should have been made to the workman on account of any work which he shall have contracted to perform. The Act does not cover breaches of all kinds of contract between (speaking generally) employer and workman. COBINTA RAJWAR v H J AFKAR (1910)

15 C W N 15

s 2—

Order under—Right of appeal from the order—Proper orders to be made under s 2 No appeal lies to the Sessions Court from the order of the Magistrate under s 2 of Act XIII of 1859. The Magistrate while making an order under s 2 of Act XIII of 1859 cannot make an order of imprisonment in default but such an order could be made after there has been non-compliance with the order of repayment or carrying out the contract. ABDALL CHAKIFA ROY v KAMAR ALI SIRDAR (1913)

18 C W N 1271

Advance given by employer on agreement by workman to work for him for a certain specified period—Breach of agreement A workman living in Cawnpore took an advance of Rs 10 from his employer and entered into an agreement to work for him for ten months on the understanding that one rupee was to be deducted from his wages each month. Held that such a contract contained nothing repugnant to the Act XIII of 1859 and was valid. It is not covered by the provisions of s 2 and 3 of that Act. Juras v Jamas Singh Criminal Revision No 23 of 1910 decided on the 21st July 1910 followed. LAFREOR v BAKHTAWAR (1914)

I L R 40 All 252

WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT ACT (XIII OF 1859)—concl'd

— s. 2—concl'd

Summary trial—Offence
—Criminal Procedure Code s 260 4 (o) A case under s 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act 1859 is triable summarily under the provisions of s 260 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Queen Empress v Indarjit I L R 11 All 260 referred to Emperor v Dhondu I L R 33 Bom 29 and Emperor v Balu Saluja I L R 93 Bom 25 dis sented from Pollard v Mothial I L R 4 Mad 234 and Queen Empress v Kattayan I L R 20 Mad 235 distinguished ANDUS SAMAD v YUSUF I L R 43 All 281

High Court's power to interfere under ss 435 and 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898)—Contract to carry logs of timber for long distances—Contract does not fall under the Act The High Court has power under ss 435 and 439 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 to revise an order passed by a Magistrate directing either return of the advance or specific performance of the contract under para 1 of s 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act 1859. The accused entered into an agreement with the complainant engaging to remove 100 logs of timber from a forest to a forest depot at a distance of 23 miles, and received an advance of Rs 440. The accused having failed to carry out the contract was tried under s 2 of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act 1859 and was ordered to repay the advance. On application under criminal revisional jurisdiction—Held that the contract in question was not a contract of an artificer workman or labourer and did not fall within the purview of the Act EMPEROR v DEVAPPA RAMAPPA (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 607

ss 2 3—Contract between master and workman containing covenant for compensation for breach of agreement by workman—Operation of Act not thereby excluded. An employer of labour is not precluded from availing himself of the provisions of Act No XIII of 1859 merely because in the contract of service between himself and his workmen there is a stipulated penalty capable of enforcement by a civil suit in the event of breach of the contract on the part of the workmen, which penalty has admittedly not been enforced nor payment of the same tendered on the part of the workmen Queen Empress v Indarjit I L R 11 All 237 referred to Emperor v Muhammad Din 2 Indian Cases 749 and Emperor v Khuda Balshah 27 Indian Cases 901 not followed EMPEROR v RAM LAL (1919)

I L R 41 All 390

WORSHIP

— turn of—

See TURNS OF WORSHIP

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

I L R 39 Calc. 227

— right to worship a deity according to one's own belief—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 9

I L R 44 Bom. 410

— of image—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 41 Calc 57

WORSHIP—cont'd

Worshippers' right of suit of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 I L R 40 Mad 212

WRIST WATCH BAND

See DESIGN I L R 45 Calc 603

WRIT

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Calc 459

— of possession—

See BAILIFF I L R 42 Calc 313

See PENAL CODE s 323

19 C W N 273

WRITTEN STATEMENT

See CHARGE I L R 42 Calc 957

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 145

14 C W N 80

See PENAL CODE s 80

19 C W N 1043

— refusing application to file—

See APPEAL I L R 45 Calc 818

— filing of by accused

The practice of filing written statements on behalf of accused persons condemned DEPUTY LEGAL MEMORANDUM : MATTELDHARI SING (1915)

10 C W N 128

Practice Though written statements may be accepted from the accused in accordance with the universal practice in the Courts under the Calcutta High Court they do not take the place of evidence nor of such examination of the accused as is contemplated by s 342 of the Code of Criminal Procedure Emperor v Ansuya (1903) All W N 1 dissented from AMRITA LAL HAZI v EMEROR (1915)

I L R 42 Calc 957

WRONGFUL ACTS

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 388

WRONGFUL ATTACHMENT

See APPEAL I L R 37 Calc 426

WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT

See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES

I L R 42 Calc 760

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

s 343 I L R 42 Bom. 181

Detention of suspended police-officer in lock up under an illegal Circular order of the Commissioner of Police published in the Calcutta Police Gazette—Held that of fact and not of law—Good faith—Pe of Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 76 9 and 34—Peculiar of orders of acquittal—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1895) ss 4 3 439 Where a Deputy Commissioner of Police sent a head constable placed under suspension to the lock up without malice and in conformity with a Circular order of the Commissioner of Police published in the Calcutta Police Gazette the property of the Government of Bengal and the medium of communication of all orders and regulations ordinarily having the sanction of law issued by the Commissioner for the guidance of police officers and carried out by them which Circular order had been consistently followed for 18 months but was invalid as not having been approved of by the Bengal Government under s 9 of the Calcutta Police Act (Beng IV of 1866) of which fact however the accused Deputy Commissioner was not aware. Held that he was justified in assuming that the said Circular order had received the sanction of the Government of Bengal and that as he by reason of a mistake of fact and not of law, in good faith believed himself to be bound by law to obey the instructions of the Commissioner of Police and to be justified by law in sending the head constable to such custody, he was protected by ss 76 and 79 of the Penal Code. The High Court does not on revision interfere with an order of acquittal unless such interference is urgently demanded in the interest of public justice. Faujdar Thakur v Kazi Choudhury I L R 42 Calc 612 referred to PRANATHA NATH BARAT P C LAHRI (1920)

WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT—could

I L R 47 Calc 818

WRONGFUL DISMISSAL

See DISMISSAL

See DAMAGES L R 48 I A 314

Suit for wrongful dismissal against Crown, if lies—Dismissal—Government service for commercial undertakings—Agreement of service—Notice in terms of agreement—Payment of wages for period under notice—Crown power of dismissal of Government servants civil and military—21 and 22 Vict c 106 s 65 A servant who had received his notice of dismissal and got his wages for the remainder of the term covered by the notice cannot maintain an action for wrongful dismissal. The Crown in the absence of Statutory provisions can dismiss any servant in its civil or military employ exactly as the East India Company could under s 75 of 3 and 4 Will IV Ch 85 and therefore a suit for wrongful dismissal at the instance of a dismissed servant does not lie against the Secretary of State for India in Council under s 65 of 21 & 22 Vict Ch 106 KING SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1909)

15 C W N 480

WRONGFUL POSSESSION

See SHERAIT I L R 42 Calc 244

WRONGFUL RESTRAINTSee PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) ss 341 100 I L R 43 Bom. 531WRONGFUL SEIZURESee ARREST OF SHIP
I L R 42 Calc. 85Y*YAJMANSee HINDU LAW—HEREDITARY INTEREST
I L R. 36 Bom. 94See YATANDAR JOSHI
I L R 40 Bom. 112YATILSee HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 40 Mad. 846Z*ZAMINDAR

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss 6 SUBS (C) 8

I L R 39 Mad. 944

engagement by with Government—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD. VII OF 1865) s 1 PROVISOS 1 AND 2
I L R 40 Mad. 886

grant by—

See MINES AND MINERALS

I L R 47 Calc. 95

grant by, to his wife and minor son—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 10

I L R 38 Mad. 867

liability of for unlawful acts of his servants—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 38 Calc 156

rights of—

See NAVIGABLE RIVER

I L R 46 Calc 390

service to—

See MADRAS REGULATION (XXV OF 1802) s 4 I L R 38 Mad 829

ZAMINDAR AND INAMDAR

pre-emption as to—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8

I L R 38 Mad. 608

ZAMINDAR OR MITTADAR

right of to a charge—assignment of Jodi—

See INAMDAR I L R 40 Mad. 93

ZAMINDARI

impartible—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 41 Mad. 778See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 38 Mad. 1105

sale of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 38 ALL 59

settled at Permanent Settlement—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (MAD. VII OF 1865) s 1 AND PROVISOS 1 AND 2
I L R. 40 Mad. 856ZAMINDARI LANDSSee MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss. 6 SUBS (C) 8.
I L R. 39 Mad. 944See MADRAS WATER CESS ACT (VII OF 1865)
I L R 39 Mad. 67ZAMINDARI RIGHTSSee ANAPURA STATE OF
I L R 39 Calc. 711

ZAMINDARI SALE.

in execution—Whether entire zamindari or only amindar's life estates sold—Mixed question of law and fact depending on entire evidence in the case—State of then law as to the amindar's interest therein not conclusive—Conduct of parties important evidence. A question as to whether the entire estate in a zamindari and not only the life interest of the zamindar was sold in execution and brought by the purchaser is a question of mixed law and fact to be determined by the evidence in each case. All that Abdul Ali Khan v Appaya samsaiaier I L R 27 Mad 131 142 decided in reference to the above question was that the state of the law as understood at the time of sale as to the rights of the zamindar in regard to the zamindari was evidence to be considered along with other evidence in the case it is not alone conclusive on the question. In determining the question of what the Court intended to sell and the purchaser understood he bought evidence as to how the parties affected by the transaction themselves viewed it at the time is of much greater value than evidence which may be procurable soon twenty years after the transaction took place. On the evidence in the case their Lordships held that the sale which took place in 1830 was of the whole zamindari and that the purchaser bought the whole zamindari in execution. Veera shadra Aijar v Marudaga Narhar I L R 34 Mad 183 referred to. Veera Soorappa Vajani v Errappa Vaidu I L R 29 Mad 484 490 explained. ALAGARAYA GOUNDER v RAMANUJA VAIIDU (1911) I L R 37 Mad 22

ZAMINDARS AND RAJAS

rights of, waters of rivers passing through their lands—

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII of 1865) I L R 37 Mad 322

ZERAIT

See LANDLORD AND TENANT (I L R 38 Calc. 432

ZINA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY
I L R 34 Bom 111

ZURPESHGI LEASE

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 5 (5)¹
15 C W N 345

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 38 Calc 432

See MORTGAGE 16 C W N 505

Occupancy right rayat's interest acquisition of—Previous possession as rayat—Subsequent zurpeshgi lease effect of The plaintiff's suit was for recovery of possession of land which had been given in zurpeshgi to the defendant for a term of 15 years from 1301 to 1315 F S the terms of the zurpeshgi being as follow. It is decreed that the said sahib ticca dar should take possession of the said land make proper cultivation himself or get it cultivated by others grow indigo seeds or any other indigo crop by using the land as his khas erait or by settling the same with tenants according to his own desire and shall continue appropriating the proceeds thereof till the term of the ticca. He shall year by year deduct the said fixed jama in payment of the principal and interest of his zurpeshgi as per account given below and shall pay the remainder the amount of lessor's rights payable to us towards the end of the term of the ticca on taking receipts therefor from us. He shall conveniently cut and recover the indigo crops grown and standing on any quantity of land in 1315 F S when the term of the ticca pottah comes to an end and shall pay ten annas rent for 1916 F S at Ps 630 per bigha and shall give up possession of the said land. Held that the zurpeshgi pottah did not create any rayat's interest in the defendant far less a right of occupancy and on the expiry of the term of the pottah the plaintiffs were entitled to get khas possession. That a rayat by taking a zurpeshgi lease of land of which he was previously in possession as a rayat does not lose his rayat's status or divest himself of his right to acquire a right of occupancy in the land. LAL BAHADUR SAHNI v MACKENZIE (1913) 19 C W N 229

CALCUTTA
SUPERINTENDENT GOVERNMENT PRINTING, INDIA
8 HASTINGS STREET

